Bowdoin College, 1794-1946: a Historical Sketch

THE history of Bowdoin College, which is nearly co-extensive with that of the Republic, has its full share of stirring and picturesque episode but is singularly free from those dramatic crises which offer a ready means of division into "periods." Contemplating the development of the tiny seminary of learning which opened its single narrow door to students in 1802 into the vigorous and firmly established college of to-day, with its multifarious activity, we are impressed by the gradualness of the transformation, the continuity underlying change. One contributing factor has been the relatively long terms of the administrators; in the one hundred and forty-four years of its active history, Bowdoin has had but eight presidents. The terms of the present incumbent and his predecessor alone span sixty-one years. It is, then, largely for reasons of convenience that we may mark off three periods: the first from 1794, the year of incorporation, to 1839, extending through the terms of Presidents McKeen, Appleton, and Allen; the second from 1839 to 1885, including the terms of Presidents Woods, Harris, and Chamberlain; and the third from 1885 to the present time, comprising the terms of Presidents Hyde and Sills.

I.

The Founding of the College, 1794-1802

When Bowdoin College was founded, the District of Maine was still a part of Massachusetts. Its population was rapidly growing—from fewer than 100,000 in 1790 to 150,000 in 1800—and was made up largely of sturdy, hard-working, middle class people of English or Scottish ancestry engaged in farming, lumbering, fishing, ship-building, and trade. Among them, especially in the larger seaport towns like Portland with its 2,500 inhabitants, some families of accumulated wealth and of a considerable degree of culture had already attained political and social influence. The tradition of Maine, however, was (and has remained) distinct from that of Massachusetts; rank and wealth counted on the whole for less; the hold of Puritanism was not so strong; and popular movements, such as Republicanism in politics and evangelicalism in religion, found here a more fertile field. The ruggedness of the country itself; the distance from the seat of government in Boston; sea-borne commerce, which kept the scattered Maine settlements in touch with "foreign parts"; a fighting spirit evidenced by the proud record of Maine in the French and Indian wars—many such conditions, interests, and memories peculiar to Maine had produced by the end of the eighteenth century a strong sectional feeling. One natural result of this temper of mind was the recurrent demand, in the last two decades of the century, for a Maine college to train Maine youth.

In 1788 petitions were presented to the General Court of Massachusetts by the association of ministers and the justices of the peace in Cumberland County for the foundation and endowment of a college in their county. Various names for the new institution were considered; the choice of "Bowdoin" was dictated both by a desire to honor the late distinguished Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable James Bowdoin (1726-1790), and by intimations received from his son, to whom the matter had been broached, of some substantial gift toward endowment. Favorable action by the General Court upon the petitions was delayed by two circumstances: the rivalry among eight towns for the honor of nurturing the infant college, and the political antagonism which had existed between the late Governor and his successor in office, John Hancock. Not until the latter had been succeeded by Governor Samuel Adams was a bill "to establish a College in the Town of Brunswick and the District of Maine, within this Commonwealth" signed—on June 24, 1794.

By that act, the legal designation of the corporation is The President and Trustees of Bowdoin College. The government, however, after the pattern of Harvard's, is vested in two Boards: the Trustees, who initiate all legislation, and the Overseers, considerably larger in number, who concur or veto. Vacancies in each Board are filled by the Board itself, the Overseers exercising a right of veto on the choice of Trustees. Since 1870, by precedent which has now almost the force of law, one-half of the vacancies occurring in the Board of Overseers have been filled from nominations by the body of the alumni. Much of the important work of the Boards is done through committees composed jointly of Trustees and Overseers.

The Boards met at first in Portland. Naturally their chief pre-occupation for some years was the raising of the necessary funds for their enterprise. The unimproved lands bestowed upon the College in that same act of the General Court were assets not readily convertible into cash; gifts from individuals came in slowly and were at first almost wholly in books. The single munificent donor was the Honorable James Bowdoin (1752-1811), son of the Governor, who contributed £300 in money, some securities and apparatus, and still more tracts of uncultivated land. At his death — to anticipate what belongs later in this record — the College was to become his residuary legatee, inheriting the valuable library which he had collected during his residence in Europe as Minister to Spain and France and his priceless art collection. The friend of Washington, Jefferson, and Franklin, a princely figure in the democratic New World, a representative of the finest cultivation of his stirring period, this earliest patron of the College is fittingly commemorated every year by the exercises of “James Bowdoin Day” in recognition of scholarly achievement.

But these fair prospects were not discernible by the worthy Trustees and Overseers of 1794-1796 grappling with the immediate question — to build or not to build. Their first meeting in Brunswick, then a town of 1,600 inhabitants, was held on July 19, 1796, at John Dunning’s Inn, from which they walked along “Twelve Rod Road” (now Maine Street) and up the “hill” at one end of the village. Here they inspected a tract of thirty acres which had been offered as a site for the college — the present campus and grounds. Two years later, after prolonged planning and revising of plans, they voted to erect thereon a three-story building, fifty feet by forty, in which to house the new college. In 1800, a fortunate sale at a good price of some of the Boards’ holdings in wild land justified the decision and markedly improved their financial position.

The Boards selected as the first president the Reverend Joseph McKeen, a graduate of Dartmouth, who had taught for several years, studied mathematics and astronomy, and served for sixteen years as minister of a large congregation at Beverly, “a man of great ability and learning and of excellent judgment,” as he was to prove himself in the five years (1802-1807) of his presidency at Bowdoin. In a dignified ceremony on September 2, 1802, the President and the single Professor were inducted; the President delivered his inaugural address; on the following day eight candidates presented themselves for admission, were examined and duly enrolled; and the College was finally in operation.

II.

The Early Years, 1802-1839

President McKeen was succeeded at his death in 1807 by the Reverend Jesse Appleton, also graduated from Dartmouth, who held office for twelve years. He was a man of intellectual ability and elevated character, perhaps too other-worldly for the most skilful conduct of affairs or the most effective leadership of young men. After Appleton there came to the presidency the Reverend William Allen, a graduate of Harvard, recently President of the ill-starred, short-lived "Dartmouth University," and a storm-center in the controversy attending that experiment in state-controlled higher education — a person of abounding energy and excellent intentions with a genius for antagonizing both colleagues and students. His administration (1819-1839) is the most contentious period of Bowdoin's history, but, surprisingly, a period in which were installed some of the greatest teachers the College has known and in which were graduated many of its most eminent alumni. Nathaniel Hawthorne and Henry W. Longfellow were members of the famous class of 1825. Preceding them by a few years were Jacob Abbott, '20, the creator of "Rollo"; William Pitt Fessenden, '23, who risked his political career to vote in the Senate against the impeachment of Andrew Johnson; and Franklin Pierce, '24, fourteenth President of the United States. John Brown Russwurm, later Governor of Maryland, Liberia, was one of the first two Negroes to be graduated from American colleges — both in 1826. In the next decade came Cyrus Hamlin, '34, the founder of Robert College, Istamboul; Henry Boynton Smith, '34, Biblical scholar; John A. Andrew, '37, war. governor of Massachusetts; and the Reverend Elijah Kellogg, '40, author of stories with a background of Brunswick and Harpswell which delighted two generations of American boys.

President McKeen had set the same requirements for admission as were in force at Harvard — namely, a knowledge of Latin and Greek that would to-day be creditable to an upperclassman concentrating in classics, and an acquaintance with mathematics "as far as the rule of three." Throughout this early period, the undergraduate curriculum was rigidly prescribed: Latin, Greek, and mathematics almost continuously for the first three years; geography and logic in freshman and sophomore years respectively; and such authors as Locke, Paley, and Butler in junior and senior years. Exercises in rhetoric and oratory were interspersed throughout the course; as early as 1812 there were required themes, and a chair of rhetoric and oratory was established in 1824. Science was recognized by the establishment of a professorship of "natural and experimental philosophy" in 1805; Parker Cleaveland was lecturing on chemistry and mineralogy from 1808 on; and senior reading included books on "natural law." A charter granted in 1824 by the Yale Society of Phi Beta Kappa for a branch at Bowdoin is evidence of the reputation for sound scholarship which the young college already enjoyed. In the main, an intensely conservative spirit prevailed; in 1824, for instance, a professor was appointed to the chair of philosophy primarily to confute the reasonings of Kant and Coleridge, which were regarded as dangerous to orthodoxy. The only distinctly progressive step taken in the thirty-seven years under review, except for the attention given to mineralogy, was the provision made in 1825 for the introduction into the curriculum of French and Spanish, a brilliant undergraduate, Henry W. Longfellow, being designated for the future teaching of them.

Beginning in 1804 with the appointment of a tutor, there was a gradual increase in the number of instructors, some of them men of uncommon abilities. We hear of sporadic efforts to enliven classroom routine: President McKeen's use of "models" in mathematics, for instance, and Tutor Smyth's introduction of the blackboard. In general, however, instruction was conducted largely by daily recitations from textbooks, and must often have been a rather languid proceeding. At all events, the more inquiring minds soon found other means of satisfying their intellectual promptings, and formed the first of the two literary societies, the Peucinian and the Athenæan, which flourished for more than a generation, holding debates and literary exercises and maintaining collections of books, which now enrich the College Library. Similarly, by such devout spirits as found the required daily prayers insufficient, a "Praying Circle" was formed, to meet the members' religious needs and to bring Christian influences to bear upon the unregenerate majority. In short, there was much the same diversity of tastes, interests, and manner of life as is found on the campus of to-day. Prior to the erection of a dormitory in 1808, most of the students lived in the single college building, Massachusetts Hall, where, according to a treasured Bowdoin tradition, the President called them to morning prayers (at six o'clock) by rapping on the stairs with his cane. For the first twenty years, the College took virtually no responsibility for the physical exercise of the students. By Longfellow's time, to counteract "a very sickly term," the Faculty went so far as "to recommend a game of ball now and then," and the boys themselves set up a bowling alley; but lack of funds prevented any regular gymnastic instruction until much later. Supervision over the daily life of students was at first strict; efforts were made, with very incomplete success, to enforce regular study hours and a nine o'clock curfew. Faculty records are concerned to an inordinate extent with infractions of discipline ranging from depredations upon property to "frequenting the chambers of fellow-students in an idle and wanton manner." Ordinances of 1817 and 1824 show some relaxation of the earlier rigor, but the grotesque spectacle continued to be presented, of grave professors patrolling the campus by day and chasing miscreants through the pines at night. Especially the final term of President Allen's rule was marked by undergraduate turbulence.

The growing sectional sentiment, to which Bowdoin had owed its birth, led in 1820 to separate Statehood for Maine, and immediately the College found itself faced with a grave decision, which was in effect whether it should continue as a private or become a public institution. The political complexion of the Boards and the Faculty was predominantly Federalist; that of the majority party in the new State, Democratic. Federalists favored private, Democrats public control of educational institutions. An amendment to the Act of Separation had provided that no change should be made in the charter of the College except with the assent of the Boards and of the legislatures of both Maine and Massachusetts. Because the College was in acute need of a continuance of financial aid from public funds, the Boards acquiesced, in 1820, in a vote passed by the two legislatures to give to the Maine legislature alone the power to amend the charter — an enactment which, if it had been upheld, would have converted the College into a State-controlled university. Actually, by further maneuvers, the legislature for two years restrained President Allen from exercising his functions. He brought suit, attacking the constitutionality of the act under which he had been removed. In 1831 Justice Story, in a notable decision in the United States Circuit Court paralleling that in the historic Dartmouth College case, not only replaced Dr. Allen in the presidency but laid down such conditions as to make any future modifications of the charter, even with the two legislatures concurring, an extremely difficult undertaking. The status of the College as a private institution was permanently fixed.

One result of this agitation in its early stages was the establishment, in 1820, of the Medical School of Maine as a part of Bowdoin College. The School, never large but highly respected, sent a majority of its graduates into practice in Maine, and for over a century their record, like that of the minority settled elsewhere, added prestige to the Bowdoin name. From 1899 on, the work of the last two years of the course was done at Portland. In 1921, when the needed clinical facilities and technical equipment had become too complex and expensive for a small institution to supply, it was deemed expedient to discontinue the School. The Garcelon and Merritt Fund, derived from the School's endowment, is still administered by the College to aid Bowdoin graduates and undergraduates in their medical education.

III.

The Middle Years, 1839-1885

Upon Dr. Allen's resignation, the Boards elected to the presidency of Bowdoin, by that time a college of two hundred students, the Reverend Leonard Woods. He was thirty-one years old, a graduate of Union College and Professor of Biblical Literature in the Bangor Theological Seminary; a man of firm convictions, engaging personality, and ripe culture. It was he who suggested to the Boards that they assign to the President a larger share of teaching — a practice ever since maintained. Toward the end of his long term (1839-1866), Dr. Woods's naturally conservative tendencies were accentuated, especially his distrust of the contemporary scientific movement; and his extreme pacifism during the Civil War lessened his influence, for the College was ardent in its support of the Union cause, sending into the service a greater number of men in proportion to its size than any other college in the country. The chief memorial of President Woods on the Bowdoin campus is the Chapel, Romanesque and granite, which was built under his supervision and which in materials and architectural type is expressive of the man.

The previous administration, as has been noted, had gathered at Bowdoin a number of remarkable teachers. One of these, Samuel Phillips Newman, Professor of Rhetoric and the author of a pioneering textbook on political economy, had resigned in 1839. Others of the group continued to serve the College through and even beyond the term of President Woods, establishing a tradition of great teaching which the sons of the College like to regard as Bowdoin's chief distinction. The most eminent, with their dates of tenure, were: the redoubtable Parker Cleaveland (1805-1858), in chemistry and mineralogy; Alpheus Spring Packard (1819-1884), in ancient languages and literature; William Smyth (1823-1868), in mathematics; and Thomas Cogswell Upham (1824-1867), in philosophy. As representative of a group of gifted teachers of briefer tenure, who later rose to prominence elsewhere, may be mentioned

Daniel Raynes Goodwin, '32, and Charles Carroll Everett, '50, both in modern languages. Not only in the classroom but in the agreeable, self-contained life of Brunswick as well — at Town meetings, on the school committee, in the churches — the professors from “the hill” took their full part, as their successors do to-day. Parochial as that village existence may have seemed, it was never really isolated from world affairs. From here, Parker Cleaveland had corresponded with Davy, Cuvier, Berlioz, Goethe; from here, President Woods journeyed to Oxford, where he met the leaders of the Tractarian Movement, and to Rome, where he conversed in Latin with the Pope; here, in the home of Professor Smyth, was a station of the “underground railroad” for escaped slaves; and here, in another professorial household, was written the book that was to arouse the conscience of a nation, Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Instruction from such teachers bore its rich fruit in the achievement and character of the men they trained. In later years (1896-1898) three graduates of the Bowdoin of this middle period were presiding over branches of the national government: Melville Weston Fuller, '53, the Chief Justice, William Pierce Frye, '50, President pro tempore of the Senate, and Thomas Brackett Reed, '60, Speaker of the House of Representatives. A fourth alumnus, General Oliver Otis Howard, '50, was the head of the Freedmen's Bureau and the founder of Howard University. In this period also were graduated General Thomas H. Hubbard, '57, banker and promoter of Arctic exploration, and William J. Curtis, '75, lawyer, — both generous benefactors of the College; Edward Stanwood, '61, historian of the Presidency, and DeAlva S. Alexander, '70, Congressman and chronicler of the political history of New York State; Frederic H. Gerrish, '66, anatomist, and Edwin H. Hall, '75, physicist; and Edwin U. Curtis, '82, the Commissioner whose firm stand in the Boston police strike of 1919 was one in a train of circumstances that eventually sent to the White House an alumnus of the sister college, Amherst.

Over the curriculum conservatism still held sway. Toward the end of Woods's term, international law, German (in junior year), and some additional rhetoric made minor breaches in the Latin-Greek portion of the fortress, but the mathematics bastion, valiantly defended by “Ferox” Smyth, suffered hardly perceptible damage. This resistance to change was due in part to the tendencies of influential persons, such as Smyth and Cleaveland, on the Faculty, but also to the fact, stated bluntly by L. C. Hatch in his History of the College, that "the introduction of new subjects might cost money and Bowdoin was poor."

Its financial weakness, acute after the panic of 1837, caused the College embarrassment also in its relations with religious bodies. Although Bowdoin had been established through the efforts of Congregationalists, its charter contains nothing about church affiliation, and both Unitarians and Episcopalians had sat on its Board of Trustees, the majority of whom, like President Woods, were quite free from ecclesiastical narrowness. The temper of the students was pronouncedly liberal. Yet the fear of losing orthodox support and the power of the more conservative Overseers were constant threats hanging over the Trustees' heads and leading again and again to compromise, such as the hedging declaration of 1841 to the effect that Bowdoin was a Congregational college, committed to giving moral and religious instruction in harmony "with its denominational character as herein defined." By such means the College obtained some sizable bequests, concerning the proper use of which, in the later period of prosperity and complete intellectual freedom under Hyde, opinions of the Courts were solicited. Only in 1908, by the surrender of one fund to a residuary legatee, was the last (and purely nominal) sectarian restriction removed.

The twenty years following Woods's retirement in 1866 were the most critical in the history of the College, and this in spite of the fine qualities of the two presidents. Samuel Harris was the first graduate of Bowdoin to become president. Able and respected, he found the task of administration uncongenial and resigned after only five years (1866-1871). His successor was General Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain, '52, a former member of the Faculty, who had had a distinguished Army career and after the war had served for four terms as Governor of Maine. During these two administrations a needed modernization of the curriculum was partly effected by the introduction of economics and English literature and the strengthening of history and science; but the establishment in 1871 of a separate department or school of science, with courses in civil and mechanical engineering, was less fortunate; it carried the distinct threat of transforming a liberal arts college into a "people's university." Actually, for ten years, under the excellent Professor Vose, Bowdoin was graduating engineers; but the experiment proved too costly and was abandoned in 1881. Some of the men thus trained were later to occupy important posts; the most famous was Admiral Robert E. Peary, '77, discoverer of the North Pole.

Under the humane and enlightened influence of Leonard Woods, the more exceptionable features of attempted faculty control of undergraduate life were abandoned or modified. The first Bowdoin chapters of intercollegiate fraternities, established early in his administration, supplied the means of channeling off any excessive exuberance of youthful spirits and in time re-wove the social fabric of undergraduate life. The students' weekly newspaper, the Bowdoin Orient, was first published in 1871. Organized athletics in a mild form had begun a few years before. There was gymnastic instruction in Brunswick (for a year or two in private classes merely) from about 1860 on. From 1870 to 1875, when he took his bachelor's degree, Dudley A. Sargent was Director of the Gymnasium, and worked out the system of exercise based on individual measurements which he later employed at Yale and Harvard and which gave him a national reputation. Rowing became popular in the late sixties; and in the early eighties Bowdoin crews competed in regattas as far away as Lake Cayuga; we hear of baseball first in 1860 and of the first intercollegiate game in 1872. The first college track meet was held in 1868, and the first class game of football (English Rugby) was played in the next year. American Rugby came in in 1882; tennis began to be played about the same time.

Neither sports nor presidential edicts, however, availed to put an end to the long-standing custom of hazing, the jovial aspects of which are perpetuated for us in the song "Phi Chi," written by one Edward Page Mitchell, '71, later the distinguished editor of the New York Sun. Harris made a determined effort to abolish the practice; under Chamberlain there were continual outbreaks, sometimes involving danger to life and limb. "Town and gown" fracas also were not infrequent. The most serious and widely publicized collision between students and college authorities was the "Drill Rebellion" of 1874. President Chamberlain had instituted required military training two years before. Undergraduate opposition culminated in the refusal of three college classes to attend drill, whereupon they were suspended en masse and threatened with expulsion. Eventually, after negotiations permitting a certain amount of face-saving by the authorities, the students returned to college; drill was resumed on a voluntary basis, and in 1882 was discontinued altogether. The "Rebellion" was an instance of spirited resistance to a requirement which, as administered, was thoroughly objectionable. The action of the students, however injudicious, revealed an independence of mind and a seriousness of purpose which belied the impression frequently given by their rough manners.

But the College was confronted with graver dangers than those arising from a certain uncouthness in undergraduate life. President Chamberlain, for all his great services to College, State, and Nation, was unequal to coping with the difficulties now besetting the institution: inadequate endowment and equipment, a decreasing enrolment, dissension among the Faculty and the Boards. Probably no one else connected with either group could have succeeded in the circumstances. Chamberlain's resignation in 1883 provided an opportunity to secure from outside the College the vigorous leadership imperatively needed.

IV.

The Modern College, 1885-1946

The inauguration in 1885, after a two years' interregnum, of the Reverend William DeWitt Hyde marks the real beginning of another era. Not yet twenty-seven years old and virtually unknown except at Harvard and the Andover Theological Seminary, the new President brought to his task an athletic physique which impressed young men, a remarkable administrative capacity, an acute and sympathetic grasp of modern problems, and above all an energy which swept away accumulated scholastic dust like a fresh breeze from the Atlantic. The College which he took over may be compared to a deeply rooted tree which needed fertilizing and pruning. These life-giving processes Hyde instituted; the present vigorous new growths are due to him or to the successor whose apprenticeship was served under him. By numerous books published during his long term (1885-1917) President Hyde exerted also a nation-wide influence toward liberalism in politics, education, and religion.

At the College itself, his first cautious reforms were concerned with the requirements for admission and with the curriculum, which he found too largely a mere continuance of secondary school studies. He persuaded the Boards to adopt (1895) a substitute for the requirement of Greek for admission. Like Eliot of Harvard, whom he greatly admired, he extended the elective system for men in college. He created (1894) a chair of economics and sociology; he brought to the College (1904) instructors in psychology and education; he re-introduced (1901) the teaching of Spanish; he greatly expanded the work in debating; and he established (1912) the departments of art and music. He encouraged the teaching of literature not for philological information or aesthetic delight but for its interpretation of life and its inspiration to action. He advocated full and early participation by college graduates in organized politics and religion. In all his reforms he was guided by that conception of education, embodied in his "Offer of the College," as a many-sided preparation for rich and effective living in the world of the present, proprietorship of the world of the past. Nowhere was his quickening influence more fully experienced than in his own classroom, where year after year he expounded to practically the entire senior class the principles of great thinkers from Plato and Aristotle to Royce and James.

No small part of Hyde's success in the re-orientation of the curriculum and the invigoration of instruction was due to his discernment in the selection of younger men for teaching positions. "Anaemic persons do not get on well at Bowdoin," he once told a candidate, and he gave less weight to formal qualifications such as the possession of degrees than to intellectual breadth, character, and teaching ability. Thus around the nucleus he inherited he built up again a remarkably strong Faculty, remembered to-day with gratitude by all the older graduates. Only three from a numerous group of long tenure, and perhaps equal distinction, may here be listed—all graduates of the College: the courtly Henry Leland Chapman (1869-1913), in English literature; the stalwart Franklin Clement Robinson (1874-1910), in chemistry; and the scholarly Henry Johnson (1877-1918), in art and modern languages. Younger men who taught under Hyde for a brief period before going to larger fields elsewhere included Henry Crosby Emery, '92, in economics, and William MacDonald and Allen Johnson, in history.

This betterment of the instruction could not have been accomplished without a very considerable expansion both of the plant and of the endowment. The President, who had written a book entitled Practical Idealism, was not altogether lacking in the wisdom of the serpent; by good luck, he held office in an era of accumulation of large fortunes; and he succeeded in interesting in the College many affluent men and women. In increasing numbers alumni evidenced their support by sending back sons and subscriptions. The enrolment rose from 119 in 1885 to 400 in 1915; the endowment in the same period, from $378,273 to $2,312,868. Erected in the Hyde administration were eight buildings in use to-day, including Hubbard Hall, the Searles Science Building, and the Walker Art Building. Whittier Field was acquired and developed.

The impact of Hyde's personality upon the social aspects of undergraduate life was no less pronounced. Everywhere in America, student life outside the classroom was becoming richer in opportunities, more urbane in tone, more interesting. Such changes were always sympathetically watched, not seldom prompted, occasionally checked, by the President. In student government, for instance, experiments were made, which looked to the Student Council of the present; a literary magazine, the Quill, began publication in 1897; a dramatic club was organized in 1903, and in 1912 gave the first of its annual Shakespearean productions; and a young secretary of the Christian Association was brought to the campus. Most spectacular, of course, was the tremendous increase of interest in athletics, indissolubly associated in Bowdoin minds with the name of Dr. Frank N. Whittier, '85. Bowdoin's first game of intercollegiate football was with Tufts in 1889; the first meet of the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association, in 1895; the first golf club, in 1898. Within reasonable limits, President Hyde welcomed all such activities not only as healthful outlets for the abounding energy of youth but as integral parts of the educational process.

The last public appearance of President Hyde was at the presentation of colors to the student battalion, four weeks after the declaration of war in 1917. "For one hundred and fifteen years," he said on that occasion, "Bowdoin students have enjoyed study and leisure, work and play, under the protection of the nation and the state. . . . From science and art, from literature and history, from the track and diamond, these young men voluntarily and eagerly, in loyalty and duty are hurrying to the defense and support of their country." Like other colleges in those years, Bowdoin went through the stages, first of improvised military instruction, then of the R. O. T. C., and finally of the S. A. T. C. While, naturally, the numbers shrank, and the attempt to combine academic with military training worked to no one's complete satisfaction, the spirit held up remarkably well, and the response to the country's call of both undergraduates and alumni was all that Bowdoin's President could have desired. At the end of the war the stars on the service flag numbered 1,200; the names to be lettered in gold upon the War Memorial, 29. But Dr. Hyde had died on June 29, 1917, and the leadership of the College in war had devolved upon him who, twenty-five years later, was to be charged again with the same great responsibility.

Kenneth Charles Morton Sills, '01, graduate student and instructor for some years at Harvard and Columbia Universities, Winkley Professor of the Latin Language and Literature since 1907 and

14 Bowdoin College, 1794-1946: a Historical Sketch

Dean of the College since 1910, served for one year as Acting President, and in 1918 was made President. In full sympathy with Hyde's larger aims and with equal devotion to the ideal of the liberal arts college, President Sills has carried forward the program which his predecessor initiated, though with certain emphases of his own tending to correct the more extreme applications of the Eliot-Hyde educational philosophy. Throughout his twenty-nine years in office the President has had the able assistance of Dean Paul Nixon. Among the advances made during the present administration have been: the increase of the Faculty from thirty-one to sixty-six members, making possible smaller classes and more frequent conferences; the inauguration (1919) of the system of comprehensive examinations in the major field of study; the foundation (1928) of the Tallman visiting professorship; the conduct in alternate years (beginning 1923) of Institutes in various branches of learning; the establishment (1935) of Kent Island Scientific Station; the augmentation of endowment funds from $2,473,451 to $8,928,384; the erection of several needed buildings, notably the Moulton Union and Moore Hall, and the development of the Pickard playing-field; the more effective organization of the alumni through a central office, a Council, an alumni magazine, and a placement bureau. And even in this brief summary there must be grateful mention of that lively and very efficient company, first assembled in 1921 by Mrs. William J. Curtis and Mrs. George C. Riggs (Kate Douglas Wiggin), the Society of Bowdoin Women. Relations between townspeople and college people have grown steadily more cordial; to many a graduate, some of the pleasantest memories of college years are associated with the interesting, varied life of this State of Maine community.

The College itself, though serving now a wider constituency, has never ceased to be in a very real sense a Maine institution. Until well into the present century, Maine residents constituted nine-tenths of the undergraduate body, and not more than twenty-five years ago were still a majority. Of late, the proportion has tended to become stabilized at about one-third. Out of a normal enrolment of approximately 600, more than 100 come usually from outside New England. The presence in considerable numbers of young men from New York, Pennsylvania, and more distant states is a valuable corrective of provincialism in any community situated North of Boston. Yet in academic and other distinctions the Maine contingent clearly holds its own. The last Bowdoin Rhodes Scholar hailed from the small fishing village of Machiasport.

A full account of the part of the College in World War II has still to be compiled, but its more tangible contributions to the war effort and the more obvious ways in which its operation was affected may be briefly reviewed. A pilot training course, including both ground school and flight, was inaugurated in the spring of 1940 and carried on until June, 1942, when the Navy took over the Brunswick airport as a step preparatory to the development of the Naval Air Station. In these two years pilot training was given to about one hundred students, a large number of whom served later in the air forces. From June, 1941 (six months before Pearl Harbor), until October, 1945, the College provided classrooms and laboratories for a pre-radar school for Navy officers, under Commander Noel C. Little, U.S.N.R., on leave of absence from the College Faculty. About 2,500 officers completed the four months' course. In 1942 the College instituted for its own students the accelerated program, with summer session, which is still maintained. In February, 1943, a Basic Pre-Meteorological Unit of the Army Air Forces was organized, and until May, 1944, administered by the College; and for several months within the same period an Army Specialized Training Unit also was receiving instruction. Altogether, when at peak strength, the military, naval, and civilian student personnel made up a body of over 850 young men and for a while severely taxed the physical resources of the College. The completion or cancellation of these Army programs created the scarcely less embarrassing problem of reduced numbers, the undergraduate registration falling in 1945 to only slightly more than 150. About one-fourth of the Faculty, at one time or another, were away on military or governmental service, and many of those who remained at the College found themselves teaching unaccustomed subjects. Entering students eligible for induction were lucky if they were able to complete as many as three trimesters. Of course, with the collapse of Japan in 1945 this situation changed, if not overnight, at least within a very few weeks. Augmented by a stream of returning service men, the spring enrolment of 1946 reached 547, and in the summer trimester, when the doors were opened to veterans from four other colleges, the figure rose to 709. For the next few years Bowdoin has committed itself to the policy of facilitating to the limit of its capacity the completion of its own veterans' undergraduate programs interrupted by the war, at the same time serving in the fullest measure possible the younger students among its normal constituency. After these two obligations have been fulfilled, the College will, so far as it is able, serve veterans who have had no connection with Bowdoin.

The stars of the service flag hung in the Chapel number 2,748; those in gold, 94. To the "gallant unreturning," as they were called by an unreturning Bowdoin poet of the last generation, the debt that is owed can be paid only vicariously. With a profound sense of its accountability both to those who have gone and to those who are to come, and with an exhilarating conviction of the high importance of its mission, the College faces the urgent and complex demands of a new era.

Bowdoin: a Liberal College

FROM an outdoor platform built in a cleared space among the College pines, President Joseph McKeen, one hundred and forty-four years ago, delivered the chief address at the opening of Bowdoin College. Seeking an object for the new institution of which he was the first head, he found an answer in the desire of "the inhabitants of the District" to have their sons educated for "the liberal professions" and instructed "in the principles and practices of our holy religion. . . . It ought always to be remembered," he went on; "that literary institutions are founded and endowed for the common good, and not for the private advantage of those who resort to them. It is not that they may be able to pass through life in an easy or reputable manner, but that their mental powers may be cultivated and improved for the benefit of society." The insight and the breadth of this program was creditable for that day. But no one attending the ceremonies of 1802 could have foreseen that over a century later the College, once founded in a frontier community, would draw the greater share of its students from states other than the "District" and, while still preparing many for law, medicine, teaching, and theology, would be educating an equal or greater number who looked forward to government service or a business career.

Since economic and political changes have brought new occupations and callings to pivotal importance in the modern world, the task of the College has necessarily grown more complicated and diverse. As in President McKeen's time many of its courses, for instance, languages and sciences, give knowledge or skill useful in the practice of various professions and employments. But such training is merely incidental to a larger objective. Whether through its catholic subject matter — sciences, social studies, literature, philosophy, and the arts; whether through its required or elective courses; whether through its major work, with its insistence upon a more intensive study of some selected subject; the College aims always to give its students a knowledge of the culture of the western world. They must understand and appreciate its origins and traditions, the forces essential for its operation and progress, and the values which it seeks to realize. While an individual may remain ignorant of this heritage and still exist, "the common good" and "the benefit of society," which President McKeen asserted as the objectives of the College, are unattainable unless leaders and followers are alike acquainted with what civilization, in its broadest sense, implies.

The College still insists that the cultivation and improvement of its students' "mental powers" is its primary function. Perhaps in President McKeen's time, when community life was more homogeneous and simple, no other emphasis was required. But to-day the College cannot avoid a concern with the character as well as the mind of its undergraduates. On this point the whole of the College environment is an educator. The fraternity houses and dormitories, athletic and non-athletic activities, the constant association of students in a close-knit rather than a dispersed college community—all play their part. Such influences, however, can be duplicated outside college walls. The distinctive discipline of the College is that of the laboratory, the library, and the classroom. These are its unique possessions. Through the opportunities they offer comes the achievement of intellectual poise, disinterested opinion, and patient courage to pursue remote ends by choice rather than compulsion. These college-bred habits of mind are moral as well as intellectual qualities.

While the College seeks to develop the individual talent of its students, it rightly insists they must not limit their interests; they must at least sample the variety of opportunities the modern curriculum affords. The dreamer must encounter the stubbornness of facts and the practical man must realize that men are moved by visions: the esthete must appreciate the hard precision of scientific measurement and the materialist glimpse the insight and delight offered by the fine arts. Each present-minded generation has to learn anew that the experience of the past is in part a substitute for unnecessary and painful experiment and that a narrow focus upon vocational training breeds a dangerous irresponsibility. The liberal college must train whole men. To do otherwise would be to deprive its graduates of satisfactions and the community of profit.

No college can withdraw entirely from the world. Certainly Bowdoin has taken color from its traditional contacts with a vigorous environment and a self-reliant people. These associations, instead of impeding, have helped the College toward its goal. Fortunately, however, it is an independent college, supported in large measure by endowments and the generous annual gifts of its alumni; it is not bound, therefore, to any denominational creed, party platform, or government program. With more strength and freedom than in

President McKeen's administration, it still seeks to bring its students to a maturity of mind and character that through them it may serve "the common good."

From the College Charter (1794)

“... And be it further enacted . . . that the clear Rents, Issues, and Profits of all the Estate real and personal of which the said Corporation shall be Seized or Possessed, shall be Appropriated to the Endowment of said College in such a Manner as shall most Effectually Promote Virtue and Piety and the Knowledge of such of the Languages and of the Useful and Liberal Arts and Sciences as shall hereafter be Directed from Time to Time by the said Corporation. . . .”

The Offer of the College

To be at home in all lands and all ages; to count Nature a familiar acquaintance, and Art an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of one's own; to carry the keys of the world's library in one's pocket and feel its resources behind one in whatever task he undertakes; to make hosts of friends among the men of one's own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life; to lose oneself in generous enthusiasms and cooperate with others for common ends; to learn manners from students who are gentlemen, and form character under professors who are Christians — this is the offer of the college for the best four years of one's life.

College Campus and Buildings

BOWDOIN College is located in the town of Brunswick, Maine, which was first settled in 1628 on the banks of the Androscoggin River, a few miles from the shores of Casco Bay. The travelling time by rail from Boston is three hours, and from New York, eight hours. The present campus, which was originally a sandy plain covered with blueberries and pines, is now a spacious tract of one hundred and ten acres containing more than a score of buildings and several playing fields.

Of first interest to the incoming Freshman is Massachusetts Hall. Here are housed the offices of the President, the Dean, the Director of Admissions, and the Bursar. Here the new student will register for his courses, pay his college bills, sign his name in the century-old register book, and receive the welcome of the President. It is in this building that he will always find the administrative officers ready to answer his questions and to give him friendly counsel about the many problems of college life.

The Chapel, whose spires have come to be a symbol of Alma Mater to thousands of Bowdoin men, will be the scene of the first meeting of all members of the College on the opening day of each Trimester. Each week-day at noon, simple, brief devotional exercises are led by members of the Faculty. For one hundred and fifty years, attendance at daily chapel has been a tradition of Bowdoin life, a tradition which has given the sons of the College many of their most cherished memories.

The work of the College has its heart and center in Hubbard Hall, the library building, which contains the accumulations of a century and a half. The nucleus of its 212,000 volumes is the treasured collection of books and pamphlets bequeathed by the Honorable James Bowdoin, the earliest patron of the college. These "Bowdoin Books," rich in French literature, American history, and mineralogy, were supplemented by the same generous benefactor's gift of his art collection containing many paintings of old and modern masters. Among the paintings are the portraits of Thomas Jefferson and James Madison by Gilbert Stuart, and a notable collection of portraits by the distinguished colonial artist, Robert Feke. These and other treasures are exhibited in the Walker Art Building designed by McKim, Mead, and White. The resources of the Library and Museum are described in more detail elsewhere in this catalogue.

College classes are held in Memorial Hall, Adams Hall, Hubbard Hall, Rhodes Hall, and the Searles Science Building. The first of these buildings, which was built in 1868 in honor of the students and graduates who served in the Civil War, contains a large auditorium used for public lectures, concerts, recitals, and college assemblies. In this hall are bronze tablets bearing the names of two hundred and ninety Bowdoin men who were in the Union service in 1861-1865. This number is greater, in proportion to the size of the College, than that from any other college in the country.

The Searles Science Building, which stands on the western side of the quadrangle, contains laboratories, museums, recitation rooms, and lecture halls. The southern wing houses the Department of Physics; the central part of the building is occupied by the Department of Biology; the northern wing is the home of the Department of Chemistry. The College maintains a scientific station for special laboratory and field investigations on Kent Island, at the entrance to the Bay of Fundy. This island was presented to the College in 1935 by John Sterling Rockefeller.

When students are not engaged in the library, laboratories, and recitation rooms, they have at their disposal many admirably equipped facilities for recreation. These resources include the Moulton Union, the Sargent Gymnasium, the Hyde Athletic Building, the Curtis Pool, and the playing fields of the College. Special provision for intra-mural sports and informal games was made in 1926 by the gift of a tract of sixty-six acres by Frederick William Pickard, LL.D. Pickard Field contains facilities for tennis, baseball, soccer, football, and other sports. The Pickard Field House, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Pickard, stands at the entrance to the field. Another valuable adjunct for the health of the student body is the Dudley Coe Memorial Infirmary. This building is located in the pines to the south of the Gymnasium and Swimming Pool; its facilities and the services of the College Physician are available to the students without charge.

THE COLLEGE BUILDINGS

MASSACHUSETTS HALL, planned in 1798 and completed in 1802, was the first college building erected. The interior was redesigned in 1873 to house the Cleaveland Cabinet of Mineralogy named in honor of Professor Parker Cleaveland. In 1936 the entire building was remodeled to provide quarters for the administrative officers; in 1942, through a gift of Frank Herbert Swan, LL.D., of the Class of 1898, the third floor was restored and furnished as a Faculty Room.

MAINE HALL (1808), known originally as "the College," and named later to commemorate the admission of Maine to the Union; WINTHROP HALL (1822), named in honor of Governor John Winthrop of the Massachusetts Bay Colony; APPLETON HALL (1843), named in honor of the second President of the College; HYDE HALL (1917), named in honor of the seventh President of the College, and built from contributions from many of the Alumni; and MOORE HALL (1941), named in honor of his father by the donor, Hoyt Augustus Moore, LL.D., of the Class of 1895, are the five campus dormitories of the College.

THE CHAPEL, a Romanesque church of undressed granite, designed by Richard Upjohn, was built during the decade from 1845 to 1855 from funds received from the Bowdoin estate. The façade is distinguished by twin towers and spires which rise to the height of one hundred and twenty feet. The interior resembles the plan of English college chapels, with a broad central aisle from either side of which rise the ranges of seats. The lofty walls are decorated with twelve large paintings. The Chapel stands as a monument to President Leonard Woods, fourth President of the College, under whose personal direction it was erected. A set of eleven chimes, the gift of Franklin Conant Payson, of the Class of 1876, was installed in the northwest tower in 1924. In the Chapel is an organ given in 1927 by Cyrus H. K. Curtis, LL.D.

SETH ADAMS HALL was erected in 1860-1861. It was named in honor of Seth Adams, Esq., of Boston, who contributed liberally towards its construction. The building stands on the Delta. From 1862 until 1921, it housed the class rooms of the Medical School of Maine. The structure is now used for lectures, recitations, and conferences.

MEMORIAL HALL, built in 1868, is a structure of local granite in the Gothic style. It is a memorial to the graduates and students of the College who served in the Civil War. The auditorium on the second floor is used for convocations, lectures, recitals, and plays. The lower story contains class and conference rooms.

THE OBSERVATORY was erected in 1890-1891 with funds given by John Taylor, Esq., of Fairbury, Illinois. It stands on the southeast corner of Pickard Field, and is reached from the Harpswell Road.

THE WALKER ART BUILDING, designed by McKim, Mead, and White, was erected in 1892-1894. It was given to the College by the Misses Harriet and Sophia Walker, of Waltham, Massachusetts, as a memorial to their uncle, Theophilus Wheeler Walker, of Boston, a cousin of President Woods. The building, which is one hundred feet in length and seventy-three feet in depth, is surrounded on three sides by a paved terrace with supporting walls and parapets of granite. Granite and bronze sculptures adorn the front wall.

THE MARY FRANCES SEARLES SCIENCE BUILDING, designed by Henry Vaughan, was built in 1894. It is the gift of Edward F. Searles, Esq., in memory of his wife. With the Walker Art Building, it forms the western side of the quadrangle. The building contains lecture rooms, laboratories, museums, and libraries of the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

HUBBARD HALL, the library building, was also designed by Henry Vaughan, and erected in 1902-1903. It was presented to the College by General Thomas H. Hubbard, of the Class of 1857, and his wife, Sibyl Fahnstock Hubbard. The building, of brick and Indiana limestone, is one hundred and seventy feet in length and fifty feet in depth; the stack room occupies a wing eighty feet by forty-six feet. The library forms the southern end of the quadrangle.

THE HUBBARD GRANDSTAND was given to the College in 1904 by General Thomas H. Hubbard, of the Class of 1857. It is situated on WHITTIER FIELD, a tract of five acres, named in honor of Dr. Frank Nathaniel Whittier, of the Class of 1885, for many years the Director of the Gymnasium, who was largely instrumental in its acquisition for varsity football and track in 1896.

SARGENT GYMNASIUM and GENERAL THOMAS WORCESTER HYDE ATHLETIC BUILDING were erected in 1912. The Gymnasium was built from contributions from many of the students and Alumni, and named in honor of Dudley A. Sargent, M.D., Sc.D., of the Class of 1875; the Athletic Building was given by John Hyde, Esq., of Bath, in memory of his father, Thomas Worcester Hyde, of the Class of 1861, whose name it bears.

THE CURTIS SWIMMING POOL was given to the College in 1927 by Cyrus H. K. Curtis, LL.D. The Pool is housed in a separate wing attached to the Gymnasium; the Pool itself is of standard size, thirty by seventy-five feet, and is provided with every modern device for ensuring sanitation.

THE DUDLEY COE MEMORIAL INFIRMARY is a three-story brick building erected in 1916-1917. It was given by Dr. Thomas Upham Coe, of the Class of 1857, in memory of his son, and stands in the pines to the south of the Gymnasium and Athletic Building.

THE MOULTON UNION, designed by McKim, Mead, and White, was built in 1927-1928. It was given by Augustus Freedom Moulton, LL.D., of the Class of 1873, as a social center for the student life of the College. The Union contains a spacious lounge, game room, cafeteria, dining rooms, and an assembly room. Its facilities also include several comfortable guest rooms, and quarters for many of the undergraduate extra-curricular activities. The Union stands just outside the quadrangle, between Appleton and Hyde Halls.

THE PICKARD FIELD HOUSE stands at the entrance of Pickard Field. It was given in 1937 by Frederick William Pickard, LL.D., of the Class of 1894, and Mrs. Pickard. The building contains a pleasant lounge as well as lockers and showers. PICKARD FIELD, a tract of sixty-six acres, was presented to the College by Mr. Pickard in 1926. The Field contains the varsity baseball diamond, several spacious playing fields for football and soccer, and ten tennis courts.

RHODES HALL, formerly the Bath Street Grammar School, was purchased by the College in 1946 to provide additional facilities for instruction and administration. The building was named to commemorate the fact that three pupils of the School later achieved distinction as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University.

ALDERMAN, ELLIS, AND TAYLOR HALLS, situated at the Brunswick Naval Air Station, were leased by the College in 1946 to provide living quarters for undergraduates. The dormitories were named in honor of the three commanding officers of the Station: Captains John Clement Alderman, M.S. (Hon., 1944), Ezra Ellis, and Joseph Taylor, of the United States Navy.

OTHER MEMORIALS

THE CLASS OF 1875 GATEWAY, designed by McKim, Mead, and White, was erected in 1901 as a memorial to members of the Class of 1875. The Gateway is composed of white granite columns and pillars and forms the Maine Street terminus of the Class of 1895 Path.

THE CLASS OF 1878 GATEWAY, erected in 1903, is a memorial to members of the Class of 1878. It is one of the northern entrances to the campus and stands between Memorial Hall and the Congregational Church at the juncture of the Bath and Harpswell Roads.

THE WARREN EASTMAN ROBINSON GATEWAY, erected in 1920 at the southeastern entrance to the campus, is a memorial to Warren Eastman Robinson (1890-1918), of the Class of 1910.

THE FRANKLIN CLEMENT ROBINSON GATEWAY, erected in 1923, is a memorial to Franklin Clement Robinson, of the Class of 1873, for thirty-six years a teacher in Bowdoin College, and to his wife, Ella Maria Tucker Robinson. The Gateway forms the northwestern entrance to the campus.

THE CLASS OF 1898 BULLETIN BOARD, erected in 1924, is a memorial to the members of the Class of 1898. It is made of bronze, is double-faced and artificially illuminated. It stands just north of the entrance to the Chapel.

THE CLASS OF 1903 GATEWAY, erected in 1928, is a memorial to members of the Class of 1903. It forms the main entrance to the Whittier Athletic Field and stands at the southwestern corner.

THE MEMORIAL FLAG POLE, designed by McKim, Mead, and White, was erected in 1930 with funds given by the Alumni in memory of the twenty-eight Bowdoin men who lost their lives in World War I. The Honor Roll is engraved on the mammoth granite base surmounted by ornamental bronze. The flag pole stands in the southwestern corner of the campus between the Library and the Art Building.

THE PRESIDENTS' GATEWAY, erected in 1932, is a gift of the Class of 1907 in memory of William DeWitt Hyde, President of the College from 1885 to 1917, and "as a mark of the enduring regard of all Bowdoin men for the leadership of their Presidents." The gateway forms one of the northeastern entrances to the campus, and stands on Harpswell Street, opposite Adams Hall.

THE BOWDOIN POLAR BEAR, built in 1937, is a memorial to members of the Class of 1912. The base and life-size statue were carved from grey-white Westerly granite by the noted animal sculptor, Frederick George Richard Roth. The figure stands in front of the entrance to the Sargent Gymnasium.

THE HARRY HOWARD CLOUDMAN DRINKING FOUNTAIN, erected in 1938, is a memorial to Harry Howard Cloudman, of the Class of 1901, one of the outstanding athletes at the turn of the century. It is carved of marble and stands on the lawn between the Curtis Swimming Pool and the Sargent Gymnasium.

THE ALPHEUS SPRING PACKARD GATES, erected in 1940, are a memorial to Professor Alpheus Spring Packard, of the Class of 1816, who was a member of the Bowdoin faculty for sixty-eight years, from 1816 to 1884. The Packard Gates form one of the southern entrances to the campus.

THE CLASS OF 1910 PATH, a broad walk of composition gravel and asphalt edged with brick, was built in 1940 as a memorial to members of the Class of 1910 on the occasion of the thirtieth reunion of the Class. The path extends from the Harpswell Road on the north side of the campus to College Street on the south, running parallel to the four dormitories and in front of the entrance to the Chapel.

THE CLASS OF 1895 PATH, a broad walk of composition gravel and asphalt edged with brick, was built in 1945 as a memorial to members of the Class of 1895. The path extends from the Class of 1875 Gates to the front of the Chapel.

THE CLASS OF 1886 PATHWAYS, a network of walks of composition gravel and asphalt edged with brick, was built in 1945 as a memorial to members of his Class through the generosity of Walter Vinton Wentworth, Sc.D., of the Class of 1886. The pathways occupy the triangular area formed by Massachusetts Hall, Memorial Hall, the Class of 1878 Gateway, and the Harpswell Road.

THE CLASS OF 1919 PATH, built in 1945, is a memorial to members of the Class of 1919. It is a broad walk of composition gravel and asphalt edged with brick and extends from the north entrance of Winthrop Hall, past the entrances to Massachusetts Hall and Memorial Hall, to the Franklin Clement Robinson Gateway.

THE CLASS OF 1916 PATH, a broad walk of composition gravel and asphalt edged with brick, was built in 1946 as a memorial to members of the Class of 1916. The path extends from Massachusetts Hall to the Alpheus Spring Packard Gates.

General Information

TERMS AND VACATIONS: The College holds three sessions each year, beginning in October, February, and June. Commencement exercises are held at the close of each Trimester. The dates of the Trimesters, and the vacation periods, are indicated on the College Calendar on pages ix-xii.

REGISTRATION AND ENROLMENT: All students are required to register at the opening of each Trimester in accordance with schedules posted at the College and mailed to students registering for the first time.

OFFICES AND OFFICE HOURS: The offices of the President, the Dean, the Director of Admissions, the Treasurer, the Bursar, the Alumni Secretary, the Director of the Placement Bureau, and the Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings are in Massachusetts Hall.

The President will usually be in his office from 10:00 to 11:00 o'clock every week-day except Saturday. The offices in Massachusetts Hall are open from 8:30 to 12:00, and from 1:30 to 5:00 every week-day except Saturday (except that the office of the Treasurer and the Bursar closes at 4:30); 8:30 to 12:00 on Saturday.

The office of the Veterans' Adviser and of the Resident Training Officer of the Veterans' Administration are in Rooms 17 and 19 Winthrop Hall, respectively. The office of the Veterans' Adviser is open from 8:30 to 12:00, and from 1:30 to 5:00 every week-day except Saturday; 8:30 to 12:00 on Saturdays. The office of the Resident Training Officer is ordinarily open from 8:30 to 12:00, and from 1:30 to 3:30 every week-day except Saturday.

The office of the Resident Manager at the Naval Air Station is in Room 2 Taylor Hall.

COLLEGE BILLS AND FEES: At the opening of each Trimester a bill will be presented for tuition, room rent, board, and fees. At least one-half of the amount of this bill must be paid at the time of registration, and the balance shall be payable on or before the date indicated on the College Calendar. Bills for other charges may be presented at any time and shall be payable immediately.

Any student whose bill is not paid when due may be excluded by the Faculty from the privileges of the College and from credit for college work. No student shall be admitted to examinations of a Trimester if any college charges against him remain unpaid, except in special cases by permission of the Faculty.

No student shall be advanced in class standing until all bills of the previous Trimester have been paid, and no degree shall be conferred upon a student who has not paid all his dues to the College, including charges for room and board at a college dining hall. No student shall be dismissed from college on request unless he shall have paid all his college bills, including that of the current session. During the time that bills which are overdue remain unpaid, a student receives no credit for college work.

TUITION: The tuition fee for each Trimester is $200. Any student completing the number of courses required for the degree in less than eight Trimesters must pay tuition for eight Trimesters.

COLLEGE ROOMS AND BOARD: Freshmen should make applications for rooms to the Director of Admissions. All other students should make applications to the Assistant Bursar. An applicant may indicate with whom he wishes to share a room, and the College will attempt to honor this preference whenever possible. The suites consist of a study and bedroom which are provided with essential furniture. Students should furnish bed linen, blankets, pillows, pillow slips, and towels. College property is not to be removed from the building or from the room in which it belongs; occupants are held responsible for any damage to their rooms. Room rent is $5 a week, and board is about $11.50 a week.

OTHER COLLEGE CHARGES: All damage done to the buildings or other property of the College by persons unknown may be assessed equally on all the undergraduates. The College collects in each Trimester Student Activities fees amounting to $12.50. The cost of tuition, board, room, and fees amount to about $475 for the Trimester. To these items must be added the cost of textbooks, personal expenses (including travel), and fraternity expenses for members of these organizations.

REFUNDS: A pro-rata refund of tuition, room rent, and board will be made to students entering the armed services before the end of the Trimester.

Refunds to students leaving for other reasons will be made only in special cases at the discretion of the administrative officers.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE: The facilities of the endowed Dudley Coe Memorial Infirmary and the services of the College Physician are available to students without charge. If ill, students should immediately call upon or summon the College Physician.

STATISTICS: Approximately 14,588 students have been admitted to Bowdoin College, and 9,492 degrees have been awarded. Living Alumni include 4,291 graduates and 1,825 non-graduates.

RESOURCES

The interest-bearing funds of Bowdoin College, at the close of each financial year, for the last ten years were as follows (exclusive of undistributed net gains or losses on the sale of general investments):

June 30, 1937,	$8,144,067.60	June 30, 1942,	$8,630,618.00
June 30, 1938,	8,215,542.18	June 30, 1943	8,681,502.00
June 30, 1939,	8,341,186.13	June 30, 1944,	8,747,686.84
June 30, 1940,	8,436,039.85	June 30, 1945,	8,844,995.51
June 30, 1941,	8,590,458.41	June 30, 1946,	8,928,384.33

The estimated value of the college buildings and equipment is $3,883,928.37.

Admission to the College

ADMISSION TO THE COLLEGE: Application for admission to the Freshman Class should be addressed to the Director of Admissions. Satisfactory testimonials of sound character and personality must be presented by all candidates from the principals or headmasters of their preparatory schools or from other qualified persons. In the event that, for various reasons, it may be impossible or undesirable to accept all those who satisfy the academic requirements for admission as presented below, the College reserves the right to select those candidates who in its judgment will profit most by their admission. This general principle is of particular importance in these years when there is every indication that the College, for lack of educational facilities, must regretfully refuse admission to many well qualified candidates.

All accepted candidates will be charged an admission fee of ten dollars, which must be paid one month before the opening day of the trimester at which the candidate desires to enter. Unless the fee is paid, no place in the entering class will be guaranteed. This fee will be credited on the first trimester bill but is not otherwise returnable.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION: A college preparatory course should normally be four years in length and should be pursued at a school possessing adequate facilities and an adequate faculty. In preparation for a liberal arts curriculum such as Bowdoin offers, the subjects comprising the course should fall in the following three groups: (1) English and foreign languages, either ancient or modern, (2) mathematics and the natural sciences, and (3) history and the social sciences.

To facilitate the evaluation of a secondary school program, the college admission unit has been devised. This unit represents a course satisfactorily pursued in a secondary school four or five hours a week for a school year. Candidates for admission are required to present fifteen such units including specifically three units in English (which calls for four years' study), three units in one foreign language or two units in each of two different foreign languages, three units in mathematics including elementary and intermediate algebra and plane geometry, and one unit in history. In addition to these ten or eleven prescribed units, candidates should present additional units in these same fields or in the natural sciences to complete the total fifteen.

Subjects not falling in one of the three approved groups are considered of less value in preparation for work at Bowdoin; no more than one or two such courses are acceptable. Candidates desiring to present any such subject should request its approval by the Director of Admissions.

The attention of candidates is called to the following details. The study of English during the entire secondary school course is required, but only three admission units are assigned to this subject. In general, a single year of any foreign language is not an acceptable admission unit on the ground that one year does not give sufficient time for acceptable attainment. Candidates for the Bowdoin degree should study carefully the requirements in foreign languages as stated on pages 52-53, 53-54, and plan their secondary school program accordingly. In some schools the required mathematics is covered in two and one-half years, and in such cases an additional half unit in any field may be presented. It will be noticed that science is not required for admission to Bowdoin, but credits in various sciences are entirely acceptable.

ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES FROM SECONDARY SCHOOLS: Evidence of satisfactory attainment in his college preparatory course must be offered by each candidate. This evidence is best presented by a transcript of a candidate's school record showing grades in fifteen admission units of the standard required by his school for certification to college. At most schools certification is granted to students who have attained a grade substantially higher than the minimum passing level; it should be noticed, however, that each school sets its own standard for certification which a candidate may learn from his principal or headmaster.

In addition, a candidate should take the Scholastic Aptitude Test offered by the College Entrance Examination Board to demonstrate his general ability. Admission to the college will depend on the combined evidence presented by the ratings on this test and by the school transcript. A man standing in the highest seventh of his class may be excused from this test, although candidates for pre-matriculation scholarships should consult the conditions of award. (See pages 44-45.) A candidate whose school record is not satisfactory in all respects may be asked to take certain of the Achievement Tests offered by the Board in conjunction with the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Both the Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Tests are offered by the Board on Saturday, December 7, 1946, Saturday, April 12, 1947, Saturday, June 7, 1947, and Wednesday, August 27, 1947, at various places in the United States and abroad. Candidates for admission to Bowdoin in 1947 should plan for the tests of April, 1947. Early application for these tests should be made by mail to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. The Director of Admissions will be glad to offer suggestions and advice about these tests and assistance may be obtained from school authorities.

ADMISSION OF RETURNING SERVICEMEN: In considering applications from former members of the armed forces, evidence of ability to pursue a college course at Bowdoin is required. In order to act intelligently on such applications, the Director of Admissions desires to assemble all possible evidence, not only records of secondary school courses but also records of service training programs, particularly when these have been academic in character. Excellent work in such programs may offset deficiencies in earlier school work. Where the evidence of ability to do satisfactory work at Bowdoin as shown by educational records is not clear, it is strongly advised that the candidate take the General Educational Development Tests offered by the United States Armed Forces Institute or the Special Aptitude Test for Veterans of the College Entrance Examination Board. This latter test is administered at the same times and places as the regular tests described above and may be given more frequently in a few cities under special arrangements made by the Board. For information veterans should consult the Director of Admissions or the College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Returning servicemen should also consult the section on "Information for Veterans" in this catalogue.

Regretfully the College must announce that there are no vacancies in February, 1947. Any places in the undergraduate body at that date will be filled either by former Bowdoin men returning from the service to complete their college work or by those whose applications are on file at the time this catalogue is issued.

ADMISSION WITH ADVANCED STANDING: Candidates for admission to the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes are admitted only after the receipt of proper evidence of their qualifications to pursue the studies of the classes to which they seek entrance. A student from another college, before he can be admitted, must present a certificate of honorable dismissal. Returning servicemen interested in advanced credit for service programs should see pages 49-50.

At least one full year of residence is required for a degree. Application for admission to advanced standing should be addressed to the Director of Admissions.

SPECIAL STUDENTS: Persons who give evidence of maturity, earnestness of purpose, and adequate preparation may be allowed to pursue special studies in connection with the regular classes without becoming candidates for a degree; but no student shall continue in such special standing for more than two years. Special students wishing to become candidates for a degree must satisfy all the regular requirements for admission to the Freshman class. During his first year in residence no student in special standing is allowed to participate in intercollegiate athletics. Applications for admission as special students should be addressed to the Director of Admissions. Few such applications can be granted in years when the College is overcrowded with regular students who are candidates for the degree.

Information for Veterans

AS this Catalogue goes to press, a substantial majority of the student body is made up of former servicemen, and it is expected that veterans will constitute a large part of the enrolment for several years. The College welcomes the opportunity to serve these men and has given serious thought to the problems involved in their training.

Bowdoin College offers to the returning servicemen a sound, liberal education of high standard. For some men this will prove to be a valuable general background for civilian employment directly after college. For others the work at Bowdoin will constitute the pre-professional training necessary to enable them to go on to professional training in medicine, law, theology, and teaching. Because the individual needs of the veterans vary greatly as their individual experiences in service have varied, the College will endeavor to make its program sufficiently flexible.

The College believes that veterans will wish to take their places as regular members of the College and does not contemplate segregating them in any way. All courses, facilities, and activities of the College are equally open to all members of the student body. Under appropriate headings below, information is given which it is hoped will be helpful to servicemen and to those who have already been discharged.

ADMISSION AND RE-ADMISSION OF VETERANS

All Bowdoin men who left college before graduation in order to enter the service are eligible for re-admission on the same terms as in peace time. They need only notify the Dean's office concerning their intention. Men who have been granted certificates of admission in the past which they have been unable to use because of entry into service are also assured of places in the College and should inform the Director of Admissions of their plans as early as possible. According to the present schedule of the College, returning servicemen may enter at the start of any one of the three sessions of the college year.

Veterans who have not previously attended Bowdoin or been given certificates of admission will be accepted, provided they are properly qualified, in such numbers as the limited size of the College permits. These men will be selected after careful consideration of each individual case, but they will not be required to meet in every detail the formal standards for admission which customarily apply to men entering directly from secondary schools.

Educational experience of all kinds in the armed forces as well as previous school records will be given consideration in determining the applicants' qualifications for admission. Those whose formal school and service records do not constitute sufficient basis for admission may be required to take the General Educational Development Tests of the U. S. Armed Forces Institute or the SV tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. These tests may be used not only to determine admission but also as a basis for determining the level at which the veteran is prepared to work in college in particular fields.

Inquiries concerning admission should be addressed to the Director of Admissions, Massachusetts Hall. See also Section on Admission, pages 43-46.

EDUCATIONAL PROVISIONS OF VETERANS' LEGISLATION

Under existing legislation almost all veterans are entitled to generous educational benefits. In general this legislation provides college tuition, supplies, and fees at government expense for a period varying in individual cases from one to four years. In addition the veteran receives a monthly allotment which will cover most, though in many cases not all, of his living expenses while a student. These payments are increased if a man has dependents.

The G. I. Bill (Public Law 346) covers practically every man who has been in active service for at least ninety days and has a discharge other than dishonorable. Under its provisions a veteran is entitled to a year of education at an approved institution of his own choice. Additional education is based upon the length of his active military service. In addition to tuition and fees, the monthly allotment under this bill is $65, or $90 if the veteran has dependents.

Public Law 16 is designed primarily for the benefit of those men honorably discharged because of service-incurred or -aggravated disabilities who are judged to have a vocational handicap and found to be in need of vocational rehabilitation. Such men are eligible for a course of training to prepare them for a designated vocational objective, and this objective must be attainable within four years of training. The veteran chooses his course and the institution he will attend with the advice and consent of the Veterans' Administration. Under this bill the veteran receives, besides tuition and fees, a monthly allotment of at least $105 including pension if single, with additional allowances for dependents. Any veteran who is eligible under both bills should make his choice between them after careful consideration and with the advice of the Veterans' Administration.

An applicant wishing to enter Bowdoin under the G. I. Bill should Complete Veterans' Administration Form 1950 and send it with a certified copy of his discharge to the sub-regional office of the Veterans' Administration, Chapman Building, Portland, Maine, which will certify his eligibility. It will facilitate action if such an applicant records his address on this form as "Care Veterans' Adviser, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine." The veteran may make his application for admission direct to the College, which will communicate with the Veterans' Administration.

Applicants under Public Law 16 must deal directly with the Veterans' Administration in their home states.

COLLEGE CREDIT FOR SERVICE PROGRAMS

Many veterans have participated in formal or informal educational programs while in the service, and the College is prepared to evaluate this educational experience in terms of academic credit partially fulfilling the requirements for a degree. Men should, therefore, obtain and submit to the College all evidence and records of training in the service which they wish to have considered for credit. This will be much easier to do while men are still in service, and the College will preserve for them any records which they submit.

In awarding credit the College will follow the general recommendations contained in A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services, compiled by the American Council on Education, but it will apply these recommendations to particular cases in accordance with the Bowdoin curriculum and standards. Thirty-four courses are required for graduation. The following examples are cited of the college credits that may be awarded for service programs:

Completion of Army or Navy Flight Training	Four courses
Completion of O.C.S. or Midshipmen's School	Two courses
Navy or Marine V-12 Program	Course for course credit
ASTP Area and Language	Maximum of 13 courses for three terms
ASTP Basic Engineering	Maximum of 9 courses for three terms

Pre-Meteorology C Program Maximum of 14 courses for completion
Correspondence courses at college level in appropriate subjects taken under the auspices of the United States Armed Forces Institute will also be accepted for Bowdoin credit up to a maximum of one Trimester's work if end-of-course examinations have been taken.

To secure college credit for service programs the applicant should follow one of these procedures:

(1) In the case of a college-training program such as V-12, ASTP, or Meteorology, the applicant should request the Registrar of the college at which he studied to send a transcript of his record to Bowdoin.

(2) For other service programs the applicant, if still in service, should use Form 47 of the U. S. A. F. I., Application for Credit for Educational Achievement During Military Service. This form may be obtained from Bowdoin or from the United States Armed Forces Institute, Madison 3, Wisconsin. It should be filled out according to the instructions and mailed to Bowdoin College. In spite of the formidable title, the blank is quite simple and the College already has many of these sheets completed and on file.

(3) Service school certificates or other documentary evidence are also acceptable for consideration.

ADVANCED STANDING AND CURRICULUM

Veterans will be admitted with advanced standing when they have completed service programs for which they are given Bowdoin credits. The college may also recognize the results of certain subject-matter tests as constituting a basis for advanced standing in individual cases.

The college recognizes that returning servicemen will require individual programs of study. Some will have had long and others short interruptions in their education. Some will have continued their education in service schools, others not. Many will find it difficult and profitless to try to resume subjects in which they have done no work for a period of years. Others will need to refresh their knowledge in these same subjects because of the demands of professional schools for which they are preparing. Many servicemen will quite naturally be anxious to hasten the completion of their education and will not be able to afford the more leisurely approach which in other circumstances would be desirable.

For these reasons the College will attempt to adjust its program to the individual's needs. Certain subjects usually required may be waived in the case of veterans who have been out of contact with them for a long period of time. This relaxation will apply to returning Bowdoin servicemen as well as to other veterans. Thus the mathematics or modern language requirements could be modified in particular cases where it seemed desirable. On the other hand, in these and other subjects, every effort will be made to give review work which will enable men who have grown rusty in these fields to resume advanced work as rapidly as possible. Educational experience in the services will be considered not only for course credit but also in connection with major requirements.

See also Sections on Advanced Standing and Curricular Requirements, pages 45-46, 52-58.

MARRIED VETERANS

The College will make every effort to assist married veterans in finding suitable and reasonable living facilities. Many apartments in the town close to the College are becoming available now that the pressure for housing in Brunswick has decreased.

The Curriculum

IN accordance with the vote of the Governing Boards of Bowdoin College on June 6, 1946, graduating students will be granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The vote also provides that men who had already commenced their college courses before that date may petition that they be granted the degree of Bachelor of Science.

At the same time, certain changes in the curricular requirements were approved. These changes apply only to those students entering the College after June 1, 1946, whose Certificates of Admission date after January 1, 1946. For the men not affected by these changes, the old curricular requirements are summarized in Section I following. The new requirements are described in Section II.

CURRICULAR REQUIREMENTS

Acceptable English is required in both oral and written work, not only in English courses but in all courses. Any student whose work is unsatisfactory in the mechanical or rudimentary aspects of grammar, diction, and syntax, or in the broader aspects of clear expression, may be reported to the Committee on Remedial English; he then, along with those Sophomores whose work in English 1-2 was below standard, may be required to take a special corrective course, given during the three Trimesters* of the college year. Until he has satisfied the Committee, no student assigned to the course in Remedial English will be recommended for a degree.

SECTION I. Students who hold Certificates of Admission dated prior to January 1, 1946, or who entered the College prior to June 6, 1946, will obtain the degree by fulfilling the following requirements:

A. English 1-2 and English 4 (Public Speaking).

B. Hygiene and three years of Physical Education.

C. A reading knowledge of French or German:

1. If the language chosen was offered for admission, the re-

* The words Trimester and Semester are used as equivalents in this Catalogue. Both denote a college term of sixteen weeks. For various reasons, it seems well to use at times the pre-war word, Semester, for one of the two terms that, in some senses, still make up a "college year." A year course, for instance, is a course continued for two semesters or Trimesters, i.e., thirty-two weeks.

quirement may be fulfilled by passing one advanced year-course, such as French 3-4 or German 3-4.

2. If the language chosen was not offered for admission, the requirement may be fulfilled by passing two year-courses in that language.

D. One year or more, depending on the individual case, of work in Mathematics or Latin or Greek. For the exact amount, see the Dean or a previous catalogue.

E. A total of two years of study of the following subjects: History, Government, Economics or Sociology, and Philosophy. This work must be done in at least two of these subjects.

F. Either:

1. Two years of study in Literature,* and one year of study selected from the following: Physics, Chemistry, Advanced Mathematics,* Biology, Astronomy, and Psychology.

Or:

2. Two years of study in the sciences listed above, and one year of study in Literature.*

G. Completion of a Major: each student is required to pass six trimester-courses in some major field, and secure a grade of "C" or better in at least four of these courses.

H. Each student is required to secure a "C" or better in at least one half of the thirty-four courses necessary for graduation.

SECTION II. Students with Certificates of Admission dated after January 1, 1946, and entering after June 1, 1946, will obtain the B.A. degree by fulfilling requirements A, B, E, G, and H listed in SECTION I, and by substituting the following requirements for C, D and F:

C. 1. Completion before graduation of seven units of ancient or modern languages or both. A language unit for the purpose of these requirements shall be either an admission unit (usually one year of study of the language in a secondary school) or a semester course taken in college.

2. A reading knowledge of French or German, a requirement which may be fulfilled by taking appropriate courses, or by passing a reading examination set by the College, or by attaining a satisfactory rating from the College Entrance Examination Board. Such a reading examination would be approximately equal to the reading sections of the final examination in German 3-4 or French 3-4.

* The following courses do not contribute toward meeting this requirement: French 1-2, 3-4, 15, 16; German 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 15, 16, 17, 18; Greek 1-2, 17; Italian 1-2; Latin A, B, 1, 2, 11; Mathematics 1, 11, 12, 14, 23; Spanish 1-2.

D. A year's work in Greek or Latin or Mathematics. A course in Greek or Latin in satisfaction of this requirement must have as a prerequisite two language units either offered for admission or taken in college. Students who present three or four admission units either in Greek or in Latin may fulfill this requirement by taking a year course or by passing an examination in either Greek or Latin. Students offering Mathematics to fulfill this requirement may offer any one of the following combinations of semester courses: 1 and 11, 11 and 12, 11 and 14, 11 and 23. Course 1 is not open to those presenting plane trigonometry for admission.

F. Either:

1. Two years of study in Literature and one year-course (with laboratory training) in Biology or Chemistry or Physics. The science course must be taken not later than the student's junior year.

Or:

2. One year of study in Literature and two year-courses in science. One of the two science courses must be a laboratory course in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. The other may be another course in one of those fields or in Advanced Mathematics, Astronomy, or Psychology.

FRESHMAN YEAR

Freshmen are required to take English 1-2, English 4, Hygiene, and Physical Education. They must also take courses leading to the completion of requirements C and D above. Electives may be chosen from the following courses:

Biology 1, 2	Government 1, 2	Mathematics 1
Chemistry 1, 2	Greek 1, 2	Mathematics 11, 12
Economics 1, 2	Greek 3, 4	Mathematics 14
French 1, 2	History 1, 2	Philosophy 1, 2
French 3, 4	Italian 1, 2	Physics 1, 2
German 1, 2	Latin A, B.	Psychology 1, 2
German 3, 4	Latin 1, 2	Spanish 1, 2

ELECTIVE COURSES

In order to be eligible for a degree, a candidate must have completed thirty-four semester courses, or their equivalent (a year course is equivalent to two semester courses), in addition to Hygiene, English 4, and the required courses in Physical Education. These courses, except those mentioned above under Curricular Requirements which students must take at the times designated, are all elective, but subject to the following regulations:

1. Each student, whether in regular or special standing, is required to take four full courses each semester in addition to the required work in Physical Education, Hygiene, and English 4.
2. Each regular student not following the accelerated program is required to take a fifth course during each semester of the Sophomore year.

MAJORS AND MINORS

Definitions. A major is a subject pursued through six semester courses. A minor is a subject pursued through four semester courses in one department, or two semester courses in each of two departments.

Each student is required to have completed before graduation one major and one minor. He must choose his major by the end of his Sophomore year, and must submit the courses chosen for the approval of the department in which the major is to be taken. He must also choose a minor at the same time, and must submit it for advice to the department in which the major is to be taken.

Until further notice the major examinations are omitted.

The departments in which majors may be elected have designated the courses constituting majors as follows:

(In the following table a semester course is called a unit. A year course is equivalent to two units.)

Biology: Any six units.

Chemistry: Any six units.

Classics: Any six units drawn equally from the departments of Greek and Latin, excepting Greek 1-2 and Latin A, B.

Economics and Sociology: Any six units.

English: Any six units, excepting English 1-2 and 4, but not more than two units may be taken in Composition and Public Speaking.

French: Any six units, excepting French 1-2.

German: Any six units excepting German 1-2.

Government: Any six units.

Greek: Any six units, excepting Greek 1-2.

History: Any six units.

Latin: Any six units, excepting Latin A, B.

Mathematics: Any six units, excepting Mathematics 1.

Philosophy: Any six units; or any four units and either Greek 13, 14, or Greek 15, 16.

Physics: Any six units.

Psychology: Any six units.

EXAMINATIONS: The regular examinations of the College are held at the close of each Trimester. An unexcused absence from an examination entails a mark of zero. In the event of illness or other unavoidable cause of absence from examination, the Dean is empowered to suspend the action of this rule.

RANK: The rank of a student in each course is computed on a scale of 10, but is preserved on the college records in the letters A, B, C, D, and E. A signifies a rank from 9 to 10; B, a rank from 8 to 9; C, a rank from 7 to 8; D, a rank from 6 to 7; E, a rank lower than 6, and a condition.

REPORTS OF STANDING: A report of the ranks of each student is sent to his parents or guardian at the close of each Trimester. The report contains a statement of the standing of the student in each of his courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES: In order to be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a candidate must have been at least one year in residence at Bowdoin College and have complied with the regulations in regard to courses. He must, moreover, have attained a grade of C, or higher, in at least half his courses.

DEGREES WITH DISTINCTION: The degree of Bachelor of Arts with distinction is awarded in three grades:

Cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree cum laude who has obtained an average grade of B in all courses presented for a degree.

Magna cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree magna cum laude who has obtained a grade of A in three-fourths, and B in another eighth, of his courses.

Summa cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree summa cum laude who has obtained a grade of A in seven-eighths of his courses. A candidate for a degree summa cum laude must have been in residence at Bowdoin for at least three years.

HONORS IN MAJOR SUBJECTS: A department may recommend to the Faculty candidates for honors in that department, but no student shall be so recommended unless he shall have received A's in at least one-half, and B's in the other half of the six courses comprising his major subject. To such students the Faculty may, on recommendation from the department, grant "honors." A department may recommend to the Faculty as candidates for "high honors" or "highest honors" students who have at least met the course requirements as above described and have completed additional work—problems, theses, examinations—as evidence of their originality and initiative.

BOWDOIN-MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY DEGREES

Students desiring to enter the engineering profession may qualify for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts from Bowdoin College and Bachelor of Science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology by successfully completing three years at Bowdoin, or two years and two summer Trimesters, followed by two years at the Institute. The Bowdoin degree will be awarded to such students on notification from the Institute that they have received their degree from the Institute, provided that during their residence at Bowdoin they have satisfied the regular group and language requirements. To be recommended to the Institute under this plan, students must have attained honor grades in their courses in Mathematics and the Natural Sciences. Students wishing to avail themselves of this plan should notify the Dean of Bowdoin College at the beginning of their Freshman year, as it requires a very definite choice of courses, including, specifically, Mathematics and Physics in all three years, and Chemistry in Sophomore and probably Junior years, depending upon the course contemplated at the Institute.

PREMEDICAL STUDIES

Students contemplating the study of medicine are advised to arrange their undergraduate course, as early as possible, with this end in view. Requirements for admission to the College are the same for all students. Premedical students should take college courses in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, to satisfy the requirements for admission to medical schools.

Courses of Instruction

ARRANGEMENT: The departments of instruction in the following descriptions of courses are listed in alphabetical order.

TIME AND PLACE OF CLASSES: A schedule containing the time and place of the meeting of all courses will be issued before each period of registration. Roman numerals have been used to indicate in which of the terms of the Summer Trimester each course will be offered. In the Fall and Spring Trimesters, all courses (unless otherwise stated) meet for three periods each week. In the Summer Trimester, all courses (unless otherwise stated) meet for five periods each week.

YEAR COURSES: Courses marked by an asterisk are year courses, and, if elected, must be continued for two Trimesters.

Art

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR BEAM AND MR. ROE

1. General Introduction to Art. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. BEAM.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring 1947. MR. BEAM.

An elementary study of the nature and aims of art through the interpretation of representation, expression, and design in the Occident and Orient from ancient times to the present day. Architecture, sculpture, and painting are analyzed in their relations to fundamental principles and major historical trends.

Art 1 must be taken as a prerequisite to Art 2.

3. European Art and Culture of the Renaissance. Fall 1946. MR. ROE.

A survey of European architecture, sculpture, and painting during the Renaissance.

4. European and American Art and Culture of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries. Spring 1947. MR. ROE.

7. Modern Art. Fall 1946. MR. BEAM.

8. Continuation of Course 7.

An examination of the masters, masterpieces, and major movements in modern architecture, sculpture, and painting from the French Revolution to the present day.

Art 7 must be taken as a prerequisite to Art 8.

9. Principles of Drawing, Painting, and Design. Summer 1947. MR. BEAM.
10. Continuation of Course 9. MR. BEAM.
An elementary study of the principles of representation, expression, and design, primarily through actual practice in drawing and painting. Two hours daily in classroom and studio, with a minimum of outside work. No previous experience is required.
11. Interpretation of Works of Art. Summer 1947. MR. BEAM.
An introduction to the process of interpreting art and the history of art through an intensive chronological study of some of the masterpieces of architecture, sculpture, and painting. One hour daily with collateral assignments.

Astronomy

PROFESSOR LITTLE

1. Descriptive Astronomy. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947.
A non-mathematical course giving a general survey of our present knowledge of the celestial universe.
2. Practical Astronomy. Spring 1947.
The use of the sextant in aerial and marine navigation.
Prerequisite: Trigonometry.

Biology

PROFESSORS GROSS AND GUSTAFSON

- *1. General Biology. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. GUSTAFSON.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. GUSTAFSON.
An examination of fundamental biological phenomena, theories, and principles based upon material selected from both the plant and animal kingdoms. Special attention is given to the methods of scientific investigation, the relationship of biology to other fields of endeavor, and to man and his environment. Representative organisms and their functions are studied in the laboratory.

3. Comparative Anatomy of the Vertebrates. Fall 1946. MR. GROSS.

4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring 1947. MR. GROSS.

The morphology of vertebrates, and the evolution of animals from the fishes to the mammals. The classification of the chordates, theories of vertebrate structure, and the homologies of organs. The dogfish and Necturus are used as types of vertebrates for study and dissection. The second half of the course is devoted to laboratory study of the cat.

5. Microscopical Anatomy of Vertebrates. Summer and Fall 1947. MR. GROSS.

Practice in the technique of the preparation and study of animal cells and tissues.

Prerequisite: Biology 1-2.

6. Vertebrate Embryology. Summer 1947.

A survey of the earlier stages of development of the reproductive cells, maturation, fertilization, cleavage, formation of germ layers, primitive segments, and the formation of fetal membranes. Study of a series of preparations illustrating the early development of the chick and the pig.

Prerequisite: Biology 1-2.

7. Special Laboratory and Field Investigations. Fall 1946. MR. GROSS.

8. Continuation of Course 7. Spring 1947. MR. GROSS.

Original field and laboratory biological investigations under the direction of the instructor. For major students with requisite training.

9. Genetics, Eugenics, and Evolution. Fall. MR. GUSTAFSON.

A survey of the development of ideas on variation and heredity, the physical basis of inheritance, applications to plant and animal breeding, theories of evolution, inheritance in man, and eugenics. Laboratory work in experimental breeding.

Prerequisite: Biology 1-2.

10. Ornithology. Spring 1947. MR. GROSS.

A study of the behavior, migration, structure, adaptations, and economic significance of birds; and the origin, evolution, distribution, and classification of the group Aves. The laboratory work includes the identification and study of the College collection of North American birds. Field trips.

Prerequisite: Biology 1-2.

12. Biology of Plants. Spring 1947. MR. GUSTAFSON.
 A brief survey of the plant kingdom with emphasis on the fundamental principles and problems of botany.
 Prerequisite: Biology 1-2.

Chemistry

PROFESSORS ROOT AND KAMERLING AND DR. BOURNIQUE

- *1. General Chemistry. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. ROOT.
 2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. ROOT.

This course gives a survey of chemical phenomena and chemical substances, discusses the fundamental laws and theories of chemistry, and describes its more important applications in industry and everyday life. The laboratory work of Course 2 consists of work in inorganic qualitative analysis. Lectures, conference, and four hours of laboratory work each week.

3. Chemical Principles, including Quantitative Analysis. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. BOURNIQUE.
 4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring 1947. MR. BOURNIQUE.

A survey of those theories of chemistry which are essential to an understanding of chemical reactions and behavior of matter under varying conditions. Among the topics considered are the states of matter, solutions, rate of reaction, equilibrium, atomic structure, valence, oxidation and reduction, voltaic cells. The laboratory work of Course 3 completes the work in inorganic qualitative analysis. Quantitative analysis is begun with gravimetric determinations of chloride and sulfate, and with acidimetry. The laboratory work of Course 4 includes oxidimetry, and the analysis of limestone and brass. Lectures, conference, and eight hours of laboratory work each week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 1-2.

5. Physical Chemistry. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. BOURNIQUE.
 6. Continuation of Course 5. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. BOURNIQUE.

A general survey of the field of physical chemistry and its applications to organic chemistry, physics, and biology; including such topics as the states of matter, solutions, thermochemistry, equilibria, electrochemistry, etc. Lectures, conference, and three hours of laboratory work each week.

Prerequisites: Chemistry 3-4, Physics 1-2, and Mathematics 11, 12.

*7. Elementary Organic Chemistry. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. KAMERLING.

8. Continuation of Course 7. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. KAMERLING.

An introduction to the chemistry of the compounds of carbon. This course forms a foundation for further work in organic chemistry or biochemistry. Lectures, conference, and six hours of laboratory work each week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 1-2.

9. Advanced Physical Chemistry. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. ROOT.
A survey of elementary thermodynamics.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 5-6.

[10. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry.]

A review and extension of the facts and theories of inorganic chemistry.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 5-6.

11. Qualitative Organic Analysis. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. KAMERLING.

This course is intended for students desiring further laboratory work in organic chemistry. The first part of the trimester is spent in the study of qualitative organic analysis, the remainder in carrying out preparations of an advanced nature. Lectures and eight hours of laboratory work each week.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 7-8.

[12. Introduction to Biochemistry.]

A study of the chemistry of some compounds manufactured by plants and animals: carbohydrates, fats, proteins, vitamins, hormones, enzymes.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 3, 7-8.

Comparative Literature

PRESIDENT SILLS

1. Comparative Literature. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947.
A study of the more important literary works of classical and medieval periods, including the Bible, with particular emphasis on their influence upon later literature.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring 1947.
A study of the more important literary works of the Renaissance, from Dante to Shakespeare.
Elective for those who have passed eighteen trimester courses.

Economics and Sociology

PROFESSORS CATLIN AND CUSHING, ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS
ABRAHAMSON, BROWN, AND TAYLOR

Economics

- *1. Principles of Economics. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947.
MESSRS. CATLIN, CUSHING, ABRAHAMSON, AND BROWN.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947.
A study of the fundamental laws of the subject, with some of their practical applications to business and politics.
3. Money and Banking. Fall 1946 and Summer (I) 1947. MR. CUSHING.
The general principles of money and banking, and their application to current problems; Federal Reserve credit policy, control of the business cycle and of the price level, the gold standard, managed money, etc.
Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.
4. Corporation Finance. Spring and Fall 1947. MR. CUSHING.
An introduction to financial practices and problems of corporate enterprises, with emphasis upon the interpretation and analysis of their financial statements.
Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.
6. Public Finance. Summer (II) 1947. MR. BROWN.
The problems of local, state, and national revenue and expenditure from a social as well as from a fiscal standpoint.
Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

7. Statistics. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. ABRAHAMSON.

Beginning with the Fall Trimester of 1947 this course will form with Economics 8 an indivisible year-course.

Prerequisites: Economics 1-2, Mathematics 11.

8. Continuation of Course 7. Spring 1947. MR. ABRAHAMSON.

A survey of statistical material and techniques, with special reference to economic statistics. Attention is given to methods of collecting, tabulating, charting, and analyzing statistical data. Problem work in the laboratory occupies at least two hours a week.

Prerequisite: Economics 7.

9. Industrial Management. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. CATLIN.

The history and applications of scientific management in manufacturing industries, covering such matters as location, layout, equipment, power, purchasing, stores, operation, and job analysis.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

10. Labor Problems. Spring 1947. MR. CATLIN.

The selection and training of employees, unemployment, industrial health and safety, hours of labor, wages, unionism, and labor legislation.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

- *11. Principles of Accounting. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. BROWN.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

12. Continuation of Course 11. Spring 1947. MR. BROWN.

These courses aim to acquaint the student with accounting analysis as an important working tool for the business executive and the public administrator. After a brief survey of double-entry bookkeeping, consideration is given to such subjects as the preparation and interpretation of financial statements, the nature of income, the valuation of assets, depreciation, and reserves.

Prerequisite: Economics 11.

- [13. Progress of Economics.] MR. CATLIN.

A comparative study of the ideas of different writers living in different periods under varying economic conditions. The course presents a review of economic principles from the historical approach, and is strongly recommended to seniors majoring in Economics who need such a review or who are working for honors in the subject.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

[14. International Economic Problems.] MR. BROWN.

A study of the theory and practice of foreign trade, foreign exchange, international movements of capital, and governmental policies with reference to international economic affairs generally.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

55. Marketing. Summer (II) 1947. MR. CATLIN.

A study of selling from the viewpoints of producers and different types of dealers, and of buying from the viewpoint of the consumer. This involves such matters as sales management, packaging and shipping, price policies, advertising, chain stores, consumer movements, etc.

Prerequisite: Economics 1-2.

Sociology

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR TAYLOR AND MR. MENCHER

1. Introduction to Sociology. Fall 1946 and *Fall 1947.

Elective for those who have passed eight trimester courses.

2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring 1947.

A general study of the origin, development, and structure of society. The course involves such subjects as the rise and growth of culture, heredity and environment, geographic influences, race, family life, education, religion, play, class divisions, etc.

Prerequisite: Sociology 1.

3. Population. Spring and Fall 1947.

A study of the growth, distribution, and movement of populations in relation to geographic, economic, and social factors. Although major emphasis is placed on the population of the United States, conditions in other parts of the world are necessarily considered.

Elective for those who have passed eight trimester courses.

4. Social Welfare. Fall 1946 and Summer (I) 1947.

A study of dependency, delinquency, crime, disease, family disorganization, and other social problems of the modern community.

Prerequisite: Sociology 1.

5. Social Control. Summer 1947.

A study of the control of attitudes and behavior through such means as propaganda and censorship, reward and punishment, education and indoctrination.

Prerequisite: Sociology 1-2.

Education*

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR TURNER

1. The Foundations of Modern Educational Philosophies and Practices. Fall 1946, and Summer (II) 1947.

An evaluation of the theories and procedures of Old World educators. Their contributions to educational thought will be examined in the light of the social, economic, and religious life of their times.

Open to sophomores and upper classmen.

2. The History of Education in the United States. Spring and Fall 1947.

A study of the origins and evolution of education in this country from the establishment of the Massachusetts Bay Colony to the present day. The impacts of an expanding America on its educational institutions will be noted, and the influences on educational thought and practice of such men as Franklin, Jefferson, Horace Mann, Herbert Spencer, Edward Thorndike, John Dewey and William Kilpatrick, will be stressed.

Open to sophomores and upper classmen.

3. Educational Psychology. Spring 1947.

The data relating to physical, mental, and emotional development; the nature of intelligence and the use, and abuse, of intelligence tests; the learning process, and how it may be accelerated; the variety and worth of standardized tests; mental hygiene: these are a few of the topics that will be considered. Psychology 1-2, while not a prerequisite, is strongly recommended.

Open to upper classmen.

* The courses in Education, if taken in proper sequence and adequate number, will prepare students for teaching careers in the secondary schools of New England. Undergraduates who expect to become teachers should communicate their plans to Mr. Turner early in their college course in order that they may be guided in selecting those offerings that will best prepare them to meet the problems and requirements of their prospective profession.

4. The Organization, Administration, and Supervision of Secondary Schools in New England. Fall 1946 and Spring 1948.

A survey of the various types of secondary schools, and an appraisal of their strengths and weaknesses. The diverse responsibilities with which the modern school executive is charged will be discussed, and effective means for accomplishing them presented.

Prerequisite: Education 1-2.

- [5. The Practice of Teaching in Secondary Schools.]

A pragmatic treatment of the various problems that confront the inexperienced teacher. The establishment and the maintenance of discipline; lesson plans; the assignment; methods and techniques of teaching; testing; ranking; reports to parents; and the teacher's part in the extra-curricular program.

Prerequisite: Education 1-2.

6. Principles of Secondary School Education. Summer (II) 1947.

The student will be helped to discover for himself the purposes of secondary education in a democracy. He will be aided to determine why performance in the great majority of our secondary schools falls so far short of accepted theory. Recent surveys, particularly those of Harvard University and of the Educational Policies Commission, will be analyzed; and the current clamor in the press for positive changes in our educational fabrics and patterns will be given consideration.

Open to upper classmen.

English

PROFESSORS CHASE, BROWN, AND COFFIN, ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS
QUINBY AND THAYER, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR HALL,
AND MESSRS. STRATTON AND LYONS

Composition and Public Speaking

- *1. English Composition. Fall 1946, and Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. BROWN, QUINBY, THAYER, HALL, STRATTON, AND LYONS.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MESSRS. BROWN, QUINBY, THAYER, HALL, STRATTON, AND LYONS.

A review of the rudiments of written expression, followed by a study of exposition, the novel, drama, and poetry. Recitations, lectures, written exercises; outside reading, essays, and conferences.

4. Public Speaking. Fall 1946, Summer (II) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. QUINBY AND THAYER.

Informal lectures; drill in articulation, intonation, and gesture; short declamations, with criticism by students and instructor.

5. Advanced Public Speaking. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. THAYER.

Persuasive speaking approached through an analysis of examples; practice in parliamentary procedure, committee and panel discussions, and formal argument.

6. Advanced Public Speaking. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. THAYER.

Preparation and presentation of informal and formal speeches for special occasions. Individual instruction and recordings for corrective purposes.

7. English Composition. Summer (II) and Fall 1947. MR. HALL.

Written work on assigned subjects; attention focused upon the more elementary aspects of composition, with emphasis upon methods of exposition.

- [8. Advanced English Composition.] MR. HALL.

Study and practice in the more imaginative aspects of composition, with attention to special forms and individual interests.

31. Literary Composition. Fall 1946 and Summer (I) 1947. MR. COFFIN.

Prerequisite: consent of the instructor.

32. Continuation of Course 31. Spring 1947. MR. COFFIN.

Practice in writing verse, the familiar essay, the article, the book review, the tale, the novel, and the biographical sketch.

Prerequisite: consent of the instructor.

English and American Literature

9. Survey of English Literature, 700-1640. Fall 1946. MR. COFFIN.

10. Survey of English Literature, 1640-1900. Spring 1947. MR. COFFIN.

Lectures and readings covering the field of English literature as a whole, with particular emphasis upon a few representative authors or works; critical essays on outside reading.

11. The English Novel. Fall 1947. MR. BROWN.
- [12. Continuation of Course 11.] MR. BROWN.
The development of English fiction, 1700-1900, with special attention to the social and intellectual background: Richardson, Fielding, Smollett, Sterne, Austen, Scott, Eliot, Dickens, Thackeray, Meredith, and Hardy.
- 11A. The English Novel in the Eighteenth Century. Summer (II) 1947. MR. BROWN.
The development of English fiction in the eighteenth century, with special attention to the social and intellectual background: Defoe, Swift, Richardson, Fielding, Sterne, and Smollett.
Either 11 or 11A may be followed by 12 in the Spring 1948 Trimester, but both 11 and 11A may not be elected by the same student.
13. Shakespeare: the plays from 1590 to 1601, including Hamlet. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. CHASE.
14. Shakespeare: the plays from 1602 to 1613. Spring 1947. MR. CHASE.
The principal plays of Shakespeare—in each Trimester, two or three studied textually, and nine or ten others read more cursorily.
- 13A. Shakespeare. Summer (I) 1947. MR. CHASE.
Study of eight or more of the principal plays (including Hamlet) from various periods.
Either 13 or 13A may be followed by 14 in the Spring Trimester, but both 13 and 13A may not be elected by the same student.
15. English Literature of the Seventeenth Century. Fall 1947. MR. COFFIN.
- [16. Continuation of Course 15.] MR. COFFIN.
English literature, excluding the drama, from the end of the Elizabethan period through the time of Dryden, with special attention to Jonson, Bacon, Donne and the other metaphysical poets, Herrick, Milton, Browne, and Dryden.
19. Nineteenth Century Poetry and Prose. Fall 1946. MR. HALL.
A critical study of the Romantic Movement (1760-1832), with special attention to Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, and Keats.

20. Continuation of Course 19. Spring 1947. MR. HALL.
A critical study of the chief writers of the Victorian period (1832-1901), with special attention to Tennyson, Browning, Arnold, Carlyle, Mill, Ruskin, Newman, and Pater.
21. Chaucer and the Fourteenth Century. Fall 1946. MR. CHASE.
Practice in the oral reading of Chaucer's verse; study of fifteen of the Canterbury Tales, the Prologue, and all the connecting links; more rapid reading of the principal minor poems.
22. Continuation of Course 21. Spring 1947. MR. CHASE.
Chaucer's Troilus and Criseyde; Piers Plowman; works of the Pearl Poet, Henryson, and other English and Scottish contemporaries or followers of Chaucer; the development of poetry to 1500.
Prerequisite: English 21.
23. The Drama. Fall 1946. MR. BROWN.
A study of the most important plays of English dramatists, excluding Shakespeare, from medieval times through the seventeenth century.
24. Continuation of Course 23. Spring 1947. MR. BROWN.
A study of the most important plays of English dramatists since 1700 and of leading Continental and American dramatists of the modern period.
25. American Literature, 1608-1860. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. BROWN.
26. American Literature, 1860-1941. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. BROWN.
A broad survey of American literature in the main lines of its development.
27. Twentieth Century English and American Literature. Fall 1947. MR. COFFIN.
- [28. Continuation of Course 27.] MR. COFFIN.
Lectures and readings covering some forerunners of the modern schools and the most characteristic works of a considerable number of contemporaries.
- 27A. Twentieth Century English and American Literature. Summer (I) 1947. MR. COFFIN.
Lectures and readings covering some forerunners of the modern schools and some of the most important contemporary writers.
This course is for students who do not elect English 27 or 28.

29. Literary Criticism: Types. Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. CHASE.

Description and illustration of the various types; some problems of contemporary criticism; practice in the art of criticism.

Prerequisite: consent of the instructor.

- [30. Literary Criticism: History.] MR. CHASE.

The foundation of criticism in the classics; outline of critical theory to the present time; continued practice in the art of criticism.

Prerequisite: consent of the instructor.

Attention is called also to the following courses: Comparative Literature 1, 2, Greek 18, Latin 12, Philosophy 9, 10, Religion 1, 2, 5.

French

PROFESSORS LIVINGSTON AND DARBELNET, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
LEITH, AND MR. CAVARNOS

- *1. Elementary French. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. LIVINGSTON, LEITH AND CAVARNOS.

2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947.

Training in grammar, composition, and reading of simple texts.

- *3. Intermediate French. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. LIVINGSTON AND CAVARNOS.

4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring and Summer (II) 1947.

Reading and composition. Oral practice.

5. Advanced French. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. DARBELNET.

6. Continuation of Course 5. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. DARBELNET.

This course is designed to acquaint the student with some of the leading authors of the last three centuries and to develop an ability to read French accurately and fluently. Certain works are explained and discussed in the classroom, others are assigned for outside reading. One hour each week is devoted to composition and oral work.

7. French Literature from its Origins to the End of the Eighteenth Century. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. LIVINGSTON.

8. Continuation of Course 7. Spring 1947. MR. LIVINGSTON.
A general survey of French literature down to the Revolution, with a more detailed study of the leading authors and their principal works. Special consideration is given to the development of French classicism and to the literature of the Age of Louis XIV. Lectures, reading, written reports, and explanation of texts.
11. French Literature of the Nineteenth Century. Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. LIVINGSTON.
12. Continuation of Course 11. Summer (II) 1947. MR. LIVINGSTON.
A study of the development of Romanticism and Realism in the poetry, the novel, and the drama of the nineteenth century, with careful consideration of the leading authors of each school. Lectures, reading, written reports, and explanation of texts.
13. The French Novel. Fall 1946. MR. DARBELNET.
14. Continuation of Course 13. Spring 1947. MR. DARBELNET.
A study of the French novel from the seventeenth to the twentieth century with special reference to characteristic novels of the various periods, which will be discussed in class or assigned for outside reading and reports. The lectures will be in French.
15. Spoken and Written French. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. DARBELNET.
16. Continuation of Course 15. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. DARBELNET.
This course is designed to develop in the student the ability to understand and use oral and written French. It will be conducted in that language.

German

PROFESSOR KOELLN, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR RILEY, AND MR. SOLMITZ

- *1. Elementary German. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. KOELLN, RILEY, AND SOLMITZ.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MESSRS. KOELLN, RILEY, AND SOLMITZ.
Training in grammar, composition, and reading of simple texts.

- *3. Intermediate German. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. KOELLN, RILEY, AND SOLMITZ.

History

PROFESSORS VAN CLEVE, KENDRICK, KIRKLAND, AND HELMREICH, MR. STORR, AND DR. HECHT

1. History of Europe from the Fall of the Roman Empire to the Reformation. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MESSRS. VAN CLEVE, HELMREICH, AND HECHT.

A survey of the chief political, economic, and intellectual developments of European society; the heritage of classical antiquity, the expansion of Church and Empire.

2. History of Europe from the Reformation to the Twentieth Century. Spring 1947. MESSRS. VAN CLEVE, HELMREICH, AND HECHT.

Continuation of History 1, emphasizing the origin and growth of Nationalism and the Modern State, together with the evolution of present day political and social systems. Lectures, textbook, collateral readings, reports, and weekly conferences.

3. Cultural and Intellectual History of Europe in the Middle Ages to approximately 1300. Fall 1946. MR. VAN CLEVE.
4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring 1947. MR. VAN CLEVE.

The history of Medieval Institutions, with special emphasis on the cultural, intellectual and artistic development from the last century of the Roman Empire to the High Renaissance. Lectures, collateral readings, reports and weekly conferences.

5. History of Europe from 1500 to 1789. Fall 1946. MR. KENDRICK.
- Emphasizing especially the Renaissance and Reformation. Lectures, textbook, reports, conferences.

6. History of Europe from 1789 to 1815. Spring 1947. MR. KENDRICK.
The French Revolution and the Napoleonic Period. Lectures, textbook, reports, conferences.

7. History of England from its Origin to the Close of the Elizabethan Era. Fall 1947. MR. VAN CLEVE.

A survey of the cultural and intellectual, the political and constitutional, and the social and economic development of England.

8. History of England from the Beginning of the Seventeenth Century to the Present Day. Spring 1948. MR. KENDRICK.

Continuation of History 7, but emphasizing, in addition, the growth of the British Empire. Lectures, textbook, reports, conferences, etc.

9. History of Europe from 1815 to 1871. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. HELMREICH.

A study of the political and social reorganization of Europe after the defeat of Napoleon; how the development of nationalism and liberalism, the spread of industrialization and the rise of socialism affected European history in the nineteenth century.

10. History of Europe from 1871 to 1920. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. HELMREICH.

Political and social history of the states of Europe and of their imperialistic expansion, ending in a detailed study of the origins of World War I and the subsequent peace settlement.

Note: During the summer of 1947 History 9-10 will be given by Mr. Hecht.

11. History of the United States from 1783 to 1860. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. KIRKLAND AND MR. STORR.

12. History of the United States from 1860 to 1930. Spring and Summer (II) 1947, and Spring 1948. MR. KIRKLAND AND MR. STORR.

Although these courses (History 11 and 12) give attention to economic and social development, chief emphasis is upon political history and upon the fundamental factors—class interests and sectional alignments—that underlie it. Lectures, textbook, collateral readings, and conferences.

13. The History of Political Thought in the West from Greek Antiquity to the Reformation. Fall 1947. MR. VAN CLEVE.

A survey of political thought as illustrated in the writings of Plato, Aristotle, Polybius, Cicero, St. Augustine, John of Salisbury, St. Thomas Aquinas, Marsiglio of Padua, Dante, etc.

14. The History of Political Thought in the West from the Reformation to the Present Day. Spring 1948. MR. VAN CLEVE.
A continuation of History 13, emphasizing particularly the origin of the theory of sovereignty, the Divine Right of Kings, the Decay of Absolutism and the Rise of Democratic Thought, the Idealist School, Socialism, Communism, and Fascism. Lectures, readings from the sources, reports, conferences.
15. Recent European History. Fall 1947. MR. HELMREICH.
A rapid survey of World War I and the peace settlement as a background for a study of the states of Europe, particularly in their relation to world affairs, World War II, and current international problems.
17. Economic and Social History of the United States from the Revolution to 1850. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. KIRKLAND.
18. Economic and Social History of the United States from 1850 to the Present Time. Spring 1947. MR. KIRKLAND.
A historical and topical treatment of such subjects as agriculture, manufacturing, commerce, labor, urban growth, education, immigration, and the arts. These various factors are integrated to explain the civilization of the United States in the past and at the present time. Lectures, textbook, collateral readings, and conferences.
19. Cultural and Social History of Modern Russia. Spring and Fall 1947. Summer (I)* 1947, Fall 1947. MR. HECHT.
This course deals with the main economic, intellectual, literary, and religious trends from the accession of Alexander I through the Soviet regime. Lectures, collateral readings, reports, and conferences.
20. Cultural and Social History of Russia. Summer (I) MR. HECHT.
- 20A. Continuation of Course 20. Summer (II) MR. HECHT.
A study of the main economic, literary, religious, and intellectual trends from the earliest times through the reign of Paul I. Lectures, collateral readings, reports, and conferences.
- [23. History of Central and Eastern Europe.]
A study of the historic origins and development, with reference to present day problems, of the peoples of the Baltic states, Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary and the Balkans. Lectures, collateral readings, reports, and conferences.

* Continued in Summer II as Course 19A.

Hygiene and Physical Education

Hygiene

DR. HANLEY

Hygiene. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947.

Lectures on human anatomy, physiology, and personal hygiene. This course will be given informally in a series of illustrated lectures. Hours to be announced.

Required of freshmen.

Physical Education

MESSRS. MORRELL, MAGEE, MILLER, SHAY, MACFAYDEN,
HUETHER, AND SABASTEANSKI

Physical Education.

Under the direction of the College Physician, each student receives a medical and physical examination. Students with defects in posture are assigned to a special corrective class.

All students are required to take part in a supervised sport, or to attend classes in Physical Education.

Italian

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR LEITH

*1. Elementary Italian. Fall 1947.

2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring 1948.

Training in grammar, composition, and reading of simple texts.

3. Italian Prose Writers of the Renaissance. Fall 1946.

4. Dante's Divine Comedy. Spring 1947.

Latin

DEAN NIXON, PROFESSOR MEANS, AND DR. DANE

A. Ovid. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. DANE.

Readings in the Metamorphoses. Study of and practice in the scansion of hexameter verse.

B. Vergil. Spring 1947. MR. MEANS.

Selections chiefly from the Aeneid. Study of and practice in the scansion of hexameter verse.

1. Sallust and Livy. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. MEANS.

2. Plautus, Terence, and Horace. Spring 1947. MR. DANE.

3. Drama. Fall 1947.

The history of Latin drama will be examined with ample readings in the comedies of both Plautus and Terence and the tragedies of Seneca.

[4. Elegiac Poetry.]

Representative poems will be read from the works of Catullus, Propertius, Tibullus, Horace, and Ovid.

5. Catullus. Fall 1946. MR. MEANS.

All the poems of Catullus will be read with special attention to the meters.

6. Epistolary Literature. Spring 1947. MR. DANE.

Selected and representative letters will be read from the works of Cicero and Pliny, Jr.

N. B. The prerequisites for any of the following four upper-class courses are any two courses from 3 through 6.

[7. Roman Satire.]

Representative fragments, passages and poems will be read from the works of Lucilius, Horace, Persius, Juvenal, and Martial.

[8. Historians of the Empire.]

Selections will be read from the Lives of Suetonius and from some of the major works of Tacitus.

[9. Lucretius.]

The major portions of the De Rerum Natura will be read and studied both as poetry and philosophy.

[10. Literary Criticism.]

The readings will be equally distributed among the works of Cicero, Horace, and Quintilian.

[11. Prose Composition.] MR. DANE.

Weekly papers based on the different Latin masters of prose style will be required together with subsequent commission to memory of the originals. This course consists of a single hour of private instruction per week.

12. History of Latin Literature. Spring 1947. MR. DANE.

Outlines, lectures, various histories of literature and monographs together with wide readings in translations will constitute the method of instruction. No knowledge of the Latin language is required.

- [13. Preparatory School Pedagogy.]

Selecting any single author read in preparatory schools, the student reads certain representative blocs of the text, and secures an introduction to the sources, manuscripts, spirit of the times and the literature subsequently built up around the author.

Mathematics

PROFESSORS HAMMOND, HOLMES, AND KORGEN, ASSISTANT
PROFESSOR CHRISTIE, AND MR. CHITTIM

1. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry. Fall 1946, Spring, Summer (I), and Fall 1947. MESSRS. HOLMES, KORGEN, AND CHITTIM.
11. Analytic Geometry and Calculus. Fall 1946, Spring, Summer (I) and (II), and Fall 1947. MESSRS. HOLMES, KORGEN, AND CHITTIM.

Mathematics 1 and 11 satisfy the curricular requirement for Freshmen who do not present trigonometry for admission.

12. Continuation of Course 11. Fall 1946, Spring, Summer (I) and (II), and Fall 1947. MESSRS. HOLMES, KORGEN, AND CHITTIM.

Elements of analytic geometry and of differential and integral calculus.

Mathematics 11 and 12, 11 and 14, or 11 and 23 satisfy the curricular requirement for freshmen who present trigonometry for admission.

14. Elementary Mathematics of Statistics. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. KORGEN.

Mathematical and empirical tables; probability; topics from the mathematical theory of statistics, such as measures of dispersion, curve fitting, and statistical correlation.

Students should consider also Economics 7, 8.

21. Analytic Geometry and Calculus. Fall 1946, Summer (I), and Fall 1947. MR. CHITTIM.

22. Continuation of Course 21. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. CHITTIM.
 Analytic geometry of three dimensions; more complete treatment of calculus than Mathematics 11 and 12, including Taylor's series and elementary differential equations.
 Prerequisite: Mathematics 11, 12.
23. Algebra. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. CHRISTIE.
 Real and complex numbers, theory of equations, matrices and determinants.
 Prerequisite: Mathematics 11.
31. Advanced Calculus. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. KORGEN.
32. Continuation of Course 31. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. KORGEN.
 Partial differentiation and multiple integration; infinite series; differential equations.
 Prerequisite: Mathematics 21, 22.
- [33. Modern Synthetic Geometry.] MR. HAMMOND.
- [34. Continuation of Course 33.] MR. HAMMOND.
 Properties of triangles and circles, homothetic transformations, the nine-point circle, Simson line, harmonic section, Menelaus's and Ceva's theorems.
36. Modern Abstract Algebra. Spring 1947. MR. CHRISTIE.
 Groups, rings, fields, vector spaces and matrices, classification of bilinear, quadratic, and hermitian forms.
 Prerequisite: Mathematics 22 and 23, or the consent of the instructor.
41. Mathematical Analysis. Fall 1946. MR. HOLMES.
- [42. Continuation of Course 41.] MR. HOLMES.
 The material of the course is selected from such topics as the logical foundations of the calculus, functions of a complex variable, elliptic integrals, calculus of variations, partial differential equations.
 Prerequisite: Mathematics 31, 32, or the consent of the instructor.
43. Analytic Geometry. Fall 1947. MR. HAMMOND.
- [44. Continuation of Course 43.] MR. HAMMOND.
 Homogeneous coördinates, metric and projective treatment of conics and quadrics, general theory of curves, including Plücker's equations, cubic curves, vector methods.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 31, 32, or the consent of the instructor.

Philosophy 7, 8 should be considered by advanced students in mathematics.

Music

PROFESSOR TILLOTSON AND MR. NICHOLLS

*1. Listening to Music. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MESSRS. TILLOTSON AND NICHOLLS.

2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring 1947.

Although this course is devised for the student without musical background, it is, nevertheless, valuable for others as a means of enlarging their horizon. The ability to read music or to play an instrument is not necessary. Scores are used, but a student acquires the ability to read them by practice during the class period. The course treats music as a means of communication and hence as a language through which the student may arrive at the sense or meaning of music. The materials of music, tone color, rhythm, melody, and harmony are studied, after which the principal forms are considered. All styles and periods and the greatest masterpieces and composers are included.

*3. Fundamentals of Musicianship and Elementary Harmony. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. NICHOLLS.

4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring 1947.

A technical and practical course, leading to further studies in harmony and counterpoint. Emphasis is placed upon the materials of music, rhythm, tonalities, chords, their structure and progression, form, etc. Ear-training forms an integral part of the course. Course 4 will be devoted to harmonic analysis and elementary harmony.

*5. Harmony. Fall 1946. MR. NICHOLLS.

6. Continuation of Course 5. Spring 1947.

A sequel to Courses 3 and 4. A study of the structure and the treatment of chords and their voice movements with respect to the practice of composers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, continuing from Course 4 through inversions, sevenths and altered chords. Harmonization of given melodies. Harmonic analysis continued. Elementary composition.

Prerequisite: Music 3 and 4.

*7. Counterpoint. Fall 1947.

8. Continuation of Course 7. Spring 1948.

A study of the Gregorian Chant. Five species of modal counterpoint through three-part writing (textbook by Jeppesen). Analysis and imitative writing of the composers of the sixteenth century. Examination of the twelve-tone system of counterpoint of the twentieth century.

Prerequisite: Music 3 and 4.

*9. Individual Problems.

10. Continuation of Course 9.

This course is designed to provide a more thorough acquaintance with topics not treated comprehensively in other courses offered by the department. The problems studied will be selected to meet the needs of individual students.

Only for majors in music.

*11. The History of Music.

12. Continuation of Course 11.

A survey of musical literature, its history, style change, and social significance from plain-song to twentieth century modernism.

Required of all majors in music. If not being taken by music majors, the course will be offered only if elected by ten or more other students.

Prerequisite: Music 1-2.

S1. Contemporary Music. Summer (I).

Impressionism: atonality and polytonality; innovations in form and style; Debussy, Ravel, Stravinsky, Hindemith and modern Americans.

S2. Bach and Beethoven. Summer (II).

Stylistic characteristics and formal content of the important masterpieces of Bach and Beethoven.

Philosophy

PROFESSORS STALLKNECHT AND KORGEN, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR
BRUMBAUGH, AND MR. LEUE

1. Historical Introduction to Ancient Philosophy. Fall 1946, Fall 1947.
MESSRS. STALLKNECHT, BRUMBAUGH, AND LEUE.
An introduction to philosophy, based on the study of the history of ancient philosophy, with special attention to Plato. Plato's Republic will be read and discussed in conference.
2. Historical Introduction to Modern Philosophy. Spring 1947.
MESSRS. STALLKNECHT, BRUMBAUGH, AND LEUE.
An introduction to modern philosophy. Representative selections from modern thinkers will be read and discussed in conference.
3. Metaphysics. Spring 1947. MR. BRUMBAUGH.
A systematic study of general theoretical philosophy, including an examination of the fundamental problems from the point of view of each of the major schools of thought.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.
- 4A. Advanced History of Philosophy. Fall 1946. MR. BRUMBAUGH.
An intensive study of the philosophy of Plato.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.
- 4B. Advanced History of Philosophy. Fall 1947. MR. STALLKNECHT.
An intensive study of the philosophy of Kant.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 2.
- 4C. Advanced History of Philosophy. Fall 1947. MR. BRUMBAUGH.
The philosophy of Aristotle.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.
5. Recent Movements in Philosophy. Spring 1948. MR. STALLKNECHT.
The outstanding movements in recent European philosophy with special reference to Bergson and Whitehead.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.
6. Ethics. Summer 1947.
A systematic study of moral philosophy with reference both to the problems of individual or personal ethics and to those of social and political life.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.
7. Logic. Fall 1946. MR. LEUE.
Introductory study of the theory and techniques of classical and symbolic logic combined with study of the theory of systems.

Elective for juniors and seniors.

8. Semantics. Spring 1947. MR. KORGEN.

An introduction to semantics based on the study of the logical structure of language, with applications to the philosophy of science.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 7.

9. Aesthetics. Fall 1946. MR. STALLKNECHT.

A philosophical study of the aesthetic experience, from the historical point of view.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.

10. Philosophical Aspects of Literature. Spring 1947. MR. STALLKNECHT.

An examination of the emotional and intellectual "atmospheres" which determine the growth of literature and philosophy.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.

11. Philosophical Ideas in the United States. Summer 1947.

The development of American philosophy from Colonial times to the present. The thought of Edwards, Jefferson, Emerson, Peirce, James, and Dewey will be discussed.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 1 or 2.

Physics

PROFESSOR LITTLE, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR JEPPESEN, AND ASSISTANT PROFESSOR CHRISTIE

*1. General Physics. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. LITTLE, JEPPESEN, AND CHRISTIE.

2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MESSRS. LITTLE, JEPPESEN, AND CHRISTIE.

An introduction to the whole field of physics with laboratory work.

3. Mechanics. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. CHRISTIE.

4. Continuation of Course 3. Spring, Summer (II) and Fall 1947. MR. CHRISTIE.

An introduction to Newtonian dynamics using vector analysis. Applications to problems of atomic structure, kinetic theory, and acoustics.

Prerequisites: Physics 1, 2, and Mathematics 11.

5. Electricity and Magnetism. Fall 1946 and Fall 1947. MR. LITTLE.

6. Continuation of Course 5. Spring 1947. MR. LITTLE.

An exposition of fundamental principles, supplemented by problems and laboratory measurements.

Prerequisites: Physics 3, 4, and Mathematics 21, 22.

[7. Light.] MR. JEPPESEN.

Geometrical optics, instruments, principles of physical optics, interference, diffraction, polarization.

Prerequisites: Physics 3, 4, and Mathematics 21, 22.

9. Heat and Quantum Theory. Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. LITTLE AND CHRISTIE.

10. Continuation of Course 9. Summer (II) 1947. MR. LITTLE.

A non-laboratory course, extending the basic principles of thermal phenomena to the modern concepts of the quantum theory.

Prerequisites: Physics 3, 4, and Mathematics 21, 22.

11. Special Laboratory or Theoretical Studies.

12. Continuation of Course 11.

Original investigations under the direction of the instructors for students with requisite training. If the investigations concern the teaching of physics, this course satisfies certain of the requirements for the Maine State Teachers' Certificate.

Prerequisite: consent of the Department.

13. Electronics. Fall 1946 and Summer (I) 1947. MR. JEPPESEN.

14. Continuation of Course 13. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. JEPPESEN.

Characteristics of vacuum and gas-filled electronic tubes with applications to special devices. Emphasis is placed on the correlation of theory with laboratory technique.

Prerequisite: Physics 1, 2.

Psychology

PROFESSOR MUNN, DR. CLARK, AND MR. LEUE

1. General Psychology. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MESSRS. MUNN, CLARK, AND LEUE.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MESSRS. MUNN, CLARK, AND LEUE.

An introduction to problems, methods, facts, and principles. Emphasis upon the following topics: psychological development, learning processes, memory, thinking, motivation of behavior, feeling and emotion, perceptual experience, intelligence, aptitudes, and personality.

Required for all further courses in the department.

3. Abnormal Psychology. Fall 1946, Summer (I) and Fall 1947. MR. CLARK.

The psychology of abnormal people, with special emphasis upon the neuroses, psychoses, and mental hygiene.

4. Social Psychology. Spring and Summer (II) 1947. MR. CLARK.

A study of social influences in the development of personality, and such group phenomena as crowds, propaganda, and public opinion.

5. Experimental Psychology. Fall 1946. MR. MUNN.

Laboratory investigations of man's sensory, affective, and motor processes.

Open to psychology majors and to a limited number of other students who have done superior work in Psychology 1 and 2.

6. Continuation of Course 5. Spring 1947. MR. MUNN.

Laboratory investigations of learning and higher processes and individual research projects.

Open only to students who have done acceptable work in Psychology 5.

Religion

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR RUSSELL

1. Biblical Literature. Fall 1946 and Summer (I) 1947.
2. Continuation of Course 1. Spring and Fall 1947.

An examination of the religion and literature of the Old and New Testaments. This course is designed to acquaint the

The Library

THE Library of Bowdoin College is housed in Hubbard Hall, a modern, fireproof structure, forming the southern end of the campus quadrangle. It possesses 211,501 bound volumes and many thousands of pamphlets.

The main entrance hall contains the delivery desk and the card catalogue, which is arranged as both an author-title and subject catalogue. The printed catalogue cards of the Library of Congress are received and filed as issued, and this bibliographical implement of increasing value and service may be consulted by any investigator. Instruction in the use of the library is given all entering students. In the main entrance hall are held frequent exhibits of special interest in book making, the graphic arts, and the editions of authors of note.

Directly off the main entrance hall on the left is a spacious general reading room with seats for eighty readers, having on its shelves selected and standard works of reference and volumes reserved for use in connection with college courses. On the right of the entrance hall a corridor leads to the newspaper room, the art reference room, and the periodical room. The Library possesses many complete sets of American and foreign periodicals, and over four hundred titles are currently received by subscription and may be freely consulted in the periodical room. The collection of microfilms includes all of the periodicals printed in this country before 1800 and very full historical source material of the Southwest.

On the second floor, radiating from a central hall having on its walls the portraits of the presidents of the College, are a general conference room, special seminar rooms, and rooms housing special collections. The Alumni Room at the east end constitutes a large and comfortable reading room and contains a wide selection of volumes for the recreational reading of undergraduates during leisure hours.

Special libraries in biology, chemistry, music, and physics are maintained in college buildings occupied by those departments, and are under the supervision of the College Librarian.

The private library of the Honorable James Bowdoin, numbering about two thousand items, many of them rare and important works of the eighteenth century, was received after his death in 1811 and has been preserved as a unit. In 1880 the extensive collections of the Peucinian and Athenæan Literary Societies were added.

The Library has received many notable and considerable gifts in more recent times. The Carlyle Collection, the gift of Isaac Watson Dyer, of the Class of 1878, is rich in English and American editions of that author. The Longfellow Collection is distinguished by the number of editions of the poems in many languages and by interesting Longfellow manuscripts and historical material. Housed in the upper tower room is the Abbott Collection, which has as its nucleus the personal library and manuscripts of Jacob Abbott and the works of other members of the Abbott family. The extensive Huguenot Collection is especially noteworthy for the number and quality of works contemporary with the early periods of Huguenot history. Worthy of special mention also are the growing Arctic Collection and the Maine Collection, with its many rare items dealing with Maine history and antiquities.

The Rare Book Room, also located on the second floor, was the gift of an anonymous donor. It was formerly the library in a private residence in New York City, and was designed by the late C. Grant LaFarge. The most interesting features of the room are the antique ceiling and the mantelpiece, which are both fine examples of sixteenth-century Italian Renaissance art. The ceiling, which originally was in an old palace in Naples, is of an intricate and rich design, executed in carved and gilded wood, with five contemporary paintings of religious and allegorical subjects in the panels. The design of the antique central portion has been skilfully reproduced at the two ends. The mantelpiece is of Istrian stone, and the woodwork of the walls is French walnut. Set in the panelling over the mantelpiece is a portrait of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, of the Class of 1825, by Healy.

During term time, the Library is open weekdays from 8:30 to 12:30, 1:00 to 5:30, and from 6:45 to 10:30; Sundays from 2:00 to 4:55, and 6:45 to 10:30. In vacation it is open five hours daily, with the exception of Sundays and holidays.

Annual accessions, which average thirty-five hundred volumes, are made to the Library by means of an appropriation by the Boards for that purpose, by gifts, and from a part of the proceeds of the following funds:

TERMS OF FOUNDATION AND USE

The terms of foundation and restrictions as to the use of the income of the funds of the Library are listed in order of their establishment. Since 1933 the income of the John Hubbard Fund, which now amounts to $440,826, has been appropriated by the Boards for the uses of the Library.

HAKLUYT LIBRARY FUND. This fund of $1,100 was established in 1875 by Robert Waterston, for the purchase of books on exploration and travel.

SMYTH FUND. By the conditions of the Smyth Mathematical Prize Fund, given in 1876, the income over and above that necessary for paying the prize is devoted to the purchase of mathematical books.

SIBLEY BOOK FUND. This fund, now amounting to $7,094, was established in 1881 by Jonathan Langdon Sibley, A.M., Librarian of Harvard College, and is for the purchase of books relating to American history.

PATTEN LIBRARY FUND. A fund of $500 given in 1882 by Captain John Patten, of Bath, Maine.

SHERMAN BOOK FUND. This fund of $2,209 was established in 1882 by Mrs. John C. Dodge, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, in memory of her brothers, Joseph Sherman, LL.D., of the Class of 1826, and Thomas Sherman, M.D., of the Medical Class of 1828. Its proceeds are used for current literature.

AYER BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,020 was established by the Athenæan Society in 1887 from a bequest of the Honorable Samuel Hazen Ayer, of the Class of 1839.

BOND BOOK FUND. This fund, amounting to $7,220, was given by the Reverend Elias Bond, D.D., of the Class of 1837, for the purchase of books relating to religion and ethics.

PACKARD BOOK FUND. This fund, based on receipts from certain publications of the Library, is devoted to the purchase of books relating to the State of Maine, as a memorial of Professor Alpheus Spring Packard, D.D., of the Class of 1816.

WOOD BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,000 was given in 1890 by Dr. Robert Williams Wood, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, of the Medical Class of 1832. From its proceeds are purchased books on sociology.

HENRY LELAND CHAPMAN MEMORIAL FUND. A fund of $7,006, established in 1893, by Frederic Henry Gerrish, M.D., LL.D., of the Class of 1866, in memory of his classmate, Professor Henry Leland Chapman, D.D., LL.D. Its income is used for the purchase of books in English literature.

GEORGE SULLIVAN BOWDOIN BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,041, given in 1895 by the gentleman whose name it bears, is devoted to the maintenance of a collection of books relating to the Huguenots.

JOSEPH WALKER FUND. This fund, amounting to $5,351, was given in 1896 by the Trustees under the will of the late Joseph Walker of Portland. Its proceeds, in accordance with a vote of the Boards, are applied to the general uses of the Library.

PHILIP HENRY BROWN BOOK FUND. This fund of $2,040, the income of which is devoted to the purchase of books on rhetoric and literature, was given in 1901 by the executor of the estate of Captain John Clifford Brown in fulfillment of the latter's desire to establish a memorial of his father, Philip Henry Brown, Esq., of the Class of 1851.

CUTLER LIBRARY FUND. A fund of $1,020 given in 1902 by the Honorable John Lewis Cutler, of the Class of 1837. Its income is used for the purchase of books and periodicals.

DRUMMOND BOOK FUND. This fund of $3,045 is a memorial of the Reverend James Drummond, of the Class of 1836, and was given in 1907 by his widow and his daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Dole, of Boston, Massachusetts.

CLASS OF 1877 BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,033 is a class contribution, made for the most part in 1908.

CLASS OF 1882 BOOK FUND. This fund of $2,346 was given by the Class of 1882 as its contribution to the permanent funds of the College in 1908.

CLASS OF 1890 BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,020 is a class contribution, made in 1908.

CLASS OF 1901 BOOK FUND. This fund of $727 is a class contribution, made in 1908.

HUBBARD LIBRARY FUND. This fund, amounting to $106,268, was established in 1908 by General Thomas Hamlin Hubbard, LL.D., of the Class of 1857. Its income is used "for the maintenance and improvement of the library building and library."

FISKE BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,020 was established by the will of the Reverend John Orr Fiske, D.D., of the Class of 1837. Its income became available in 1910.

WILLIAM ALFRED PACKARD BOOK FUND. This fund of $5,000 was established in 1910 by the will of Professor William Alfred Packard, Ph.D., D.D., of the Class of 1851. Its income is used "preferably for the purchase of such books as illustrate the Greek and Latin languages and literatures."

APPLETON LIBRARY FUND. This fund of $10,053 was given in 1916 by the Honorable Frederick Hunt Appleton, LL.D., of the Class of 1864, in memory of his father, the Honorable John Appleton, LL.D., Chief Justice of Maine, of the Class of 1822. Its income is for the "general uses of the College Library."

LYNDE BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,487 was established in 1918, by the will of George Lynde, of New York, in memory of Frank Josselyn Lynde, of the Class of 1877.

CLASS OF 1875 BOOK FUND. This fund of $1,663 was established in 1918 by the Class of 1875. Its income is used for the "purchase of books relating to American history, in its broadest sense."

THOMAS HUBBARD BOOK FUND. A fund of $3,307 given in 1922 by the surviving children of General and Mrs. Hubbard — John Hubbard, Anna Weir Hubbard, and Mrs. Sibyl Hubbard Darlington — in memory of their brother, Thomas Hubbard.

STANWOOD BOOK FUND. A fund of $1,270 bequeathed by Edward Stanwood, Litt.D., of the Class of 1861, received in 1925. Its income is used “preferably for books in American political history.”

MORSE FUND. A bequest of $1,000 from Edward Sylvester Morse, Ph.D., received in 1926.

LEWIS PIERCE BOOK FUND. A fund amounting to $32,009, established in 1926 by Henry Hill Pierce, LL.D., of the Class of 1896, in memory of his father, a member of the Class of 1852. The income is used “preferably for the purchase of books.”

HENRY CROSBY EMERY BOOK FUND. A fund now amounting to $2,000 given in 1926 by the Class of 1899 in memory of one of their teachers, Professor Henry Crosby Emery, Ph.D., LL.D., of the Class of 1892. The income is used for the purchase of books in the social sciences.

CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND. A fund of $1,210 established in 1928 by the Class of 1888 on its fortieth anniversary. The income is for the “use of the Library, preferably for the purchase of books.”

DARLINGTON BOOK FUND. A gift of $1,000 from Mrs. Sibyl Hubbard Darlington, the “income to be used for the purchase of current books, preferably for the reading room.”

SAMUEL WESLEY HATCH BOOK FUND. A bequest of $1,000, received in 1928, from Miss Laura Ann Hatch, of Brunswick, as a memorial of her father, Samuel Wesley Hatch, of the Class of 1847. The income is used for the purchase of books.

CLASS OF 1904 LIBRARY FUND. A fund now amounting to $1,585 established in 1929 by the Class of 1904 on its twenty-fifth anniversary.

SOLON BARTLETT LUFKIN LIBRARY FUND. A bequest of $500 from Solon Bartlett Lufkin, of Brunswick, for the “purposes of the library,” received in 1931.

LOUIS CLINTON HATCH BEQUEST. The sum of $100 is provided each year by the will of Louis Clinton Hatch, Ph.D., of the Class of 1895, “for books on the subjects of history, government, and economics, decided preference to be given to large sets and to publications of learned societies, valuable for the purposes of investigation.”

ACHORN FUND. By the conditions of the fund of $1,500 established in 1932 by Edgar Oakes Achorn, LL.D., of the Class of 1881, for providing the College with American flags, any surplus income is used for the purchase of books for the Library.

FRANCIS FESSENDEN LIBRARY FUND. A bequest of $10,000, received in 1934, from John Hubbard, a son of General Thomas Hamlin Hubbard, LL.D., of the Class of 1857, to establish a library fund in memory of his father's friend, General Francis Fessenden, of the Class of 1858.

FULLER LIBRARY FUND. A bequest of $25,000, received in 1938, from Mrs. Hugh Wallace, a daughter of Chief Justice Melville Weston Fuller, LL.D., of the Class of 1853, in memory of her father.

ALBERT T. GOULD FUND. A fund amounting to $1,000, established in 1946 by Albert Trowbridge Gould, LL.D., of the Class of 1908. The income is used for the purchase of books in the fields of maritime history and exploration.

The Bureau for Research in Municipal Government

THE Bureau for Research in Municipal Government was established in September, 1914, by a generous contribution from the Honorable William John Curtis, LL.D., a member of the Class of 1875, and has been continued by gifts from interested alumni and appropriations from the Governing Boards. Since its establishment, the Bureau has been under the direction of Orren Chalmer Hormell, Ph.D., DeAlva Stanwood Alexander Professor of Government, and since 1925 Mr. Leroy D. Cross has served as Secretarial Assistant. The primary purpose of the Bureau is to provide adequate facilities for training students in the use of first-hand materials relating to local and state government. The second aim is to supply information upon application to citizens, civic organizations, and state and municipal officials.

The library of the Bureau includes approximately 10,000 volumes and pamphlets which are catalogued under the following subjects: municipal finance, charters and charter making, zoning, planning, municipal ordinances, personnel management, public utilities, and taxation. Town and city reports and most of the pertinent periodicals dealing with state and local government and public administration are also among the materials available in the Bureau library. During the thirty-two years of its existence, the Bureau has furnished students a carefully chosen yet comprehensive selection of source material on state and municipal government—information which has been of particular value in courses on Municipal Government and Public Administration.

The Bureau has also made significant contributions to public service by furnishing information and technical aid to many cities and towns in New England, and especially in Maine. It has given direct assistance in the drafting of charters and has encouraged improvements in administrative organization and management practices. In addition to the services and advice furnished to civic groups and to public officials, the Bureau has also published eleven monographs in the Municipal Research Series of the Bowdoin College Bulletin relating to various aspects of state and local government in Maine. The early numbers of the series, Municipal Accounting and Reporting (1915) and Budget Making for Maine Towns (1916), emphasized the problems of municipal finance while the more recent titles include Maine Towns (1932), Personnel Problems in Maine (1936) and a Zoning Manual for Maine Towns (1940).

100 Bureau for Research in Municipal Government

Through the Bureau, Bowdoin College is able to provide a public service available to both the citizens and public officials of the State of Maine; and, at the same time, offer to the student the necessary material to study government in action—a valuable supplement to the theories of the class room.

The Fine Arts

ART COLLECTIONS

THE Walker Art Building was presented to the College by the Misses Walker, of Waltham, Massachusetts, as a memorial to their uncle, Theophilus Wheeler Walker, of Boston, a cousin of President Woods. Designed in 1892 by Messrs. McKim, Mead, and White, the building, in simple Renaissance style, is one of the finest of its kind in the country, and houses certain collections which are preëminent of their type. The best known is the collection of portraits bequeathed by James Bowdoin, the first benefactor of the College, in 1811, with a matchless group of Colonial paintings by Robert Feke, and two famous likenesses of Presidents Madison and Jefferson by Gilbert Stuart. James Bowdoin also left to the College a group of drawings, including a masterpiece by Peter Brueghel. Edward P. Warren gave a collection of antiquities which is widely known, and Dr. Henry B. Haskell, Med. '55, provided the set of magnificent Assyrian reliefs which decorate Sculpture Hall. Also in Sculpture Hall are four celebrated tympana murals by Cox, La Farge, Vedder, and Thayer. The Baxter Collection of watches is a popular favorite, as is also the notable group of Chinese ceramics given by former Governor and Mrs. William Tudor Gardiner. In addition, there are paintings by such masters as Winslow Homer and Eastman Johnson, and displays of very fine European and American silver, given mostly by James Potter Kling and Mrs. Albert E. Davis. These are but a selection of the items in the permanent collections available for enjoyment and study.

The Museum also aims at providing a wider service to the College and community by supplementing its possessions with loan exhibitions. During the past seven years five old masterpieces by Cuyp, Hals, Gainsborough, Rembrandt, and Hogarth have been on loan from the late Sir Harry Oakes and Lady Oakes. Modern painters have also been displayed in a series of monthly exhibitions. In addition, the Student Loan Collection enables students and faculty to rent at a nominal sum the finest color reproductions available; this collection of framed examples of old and modern masters now numbers nearly a thousand pictures. The Museum also takes pride in one of the finest collections of color slides owned by any American institution.

The interest, during recent years, in courses in European, American, and Oriental art, ancient and modern, and in creative craftsmanship, has been a gratifying reflection of increased appreciation of the artistic offerings of the College, both in instruction and resources.

DRAMA AND STAGECRAFT

Like many other extra-curricular activities at Bowdoin, work in the theatrical arts originated in the fraternities. As early as the 1870's, fraternity records tell of burlesques of Shakespeare, but except for the brief experiment of a group called "The Dorics" in the late '70's, no college organization sponsored dramatics until 1903. In that year a group of students interested in acting organized the Bowdoin Dramatic Club. During the next twenty years the club averaged two productions a year, some of which were toured throughout the State. In 1909 the club changed its name to The Masque and Gown. Three years later an outdoor Shakespearean performance was played as one of the Commencement festivities. The Commencement Play has since been presented annually except in the war years of 1917 and 1918. Seventeen of the plays have been shown, one of them as many as five times.

In the late 1920's, with the demise of touring, a considerable interest in production developed. Largely because of the desires of scene designers and electricians, a movement for a Little Theatre was started, and part of the proceeds of all performances was put in a building fund. Ultimately the financial policy was changed to bring The Masque and Gown under the Blanket Tax. The desire for a Little Theatre has increased steadily, and since 1933 the Annual Report of the President has urged the need for such a building.

Meanwhile the organization of what production is possible under present conditions has been improved. In the year before Pearl Harbor a third of the one hundred and twenty-three students who signed for work with The Masque and Gown wished to be stage managers, scene designers, carpenters, painters, electricians, or property men. The production manager spreads the assignments so that each student may do the work he prefers. Because of the interest of these production workers, The Masque and Gown has been able to increase its output to an annual average, in the past thirteen years, of eight plays, many of which have been repeated or toured off campus.

Perhaps the most significant activity of the club in recent years has been its encouragement of play writing. For eleven years, in annual one-act play contests, student-written plays have been produced for prizes of $25 and $15. Winners of these contests have later written full-length plays, seven of which have been produced on campus, and two were played professionally in New York.

Until a theatre is available, it is unlikely that courses in play writing or the history of the theatre arts will be offered by the College. However, in 1935 a professional director was appointed to the faculty as Director of Dramatics. He acts as adviser and coördinator to the student Executive Committee, which controls the policies of the organization.

MUSIC

Musical activity is increasing phenomenally as the years go by. In its first post-war season, the sixty-man Glee Club, after an active and successful season which culminated in an appearance with the Boston Pops, resumed its custom of presenting joint concerts with prominent women's colleges and engaged in an extensive spring tour. Future plans for the Glee Club include concerts in Jordan Hall, Boston, and Town Hall, New York.

The Interfraternity Singing Contest, involving the entire student body, is one of the most popular events on the college calendar. Each Sunday the trained Chapel Choir presents a cappella music, and one chapel service weekly is devoted to musical performances by undergraduates.

In community service, the Mixed Choral Society, open to all undergraduates, includes also faculty and townspeople, and gives regular concerts. Fortnightly concerts of the finest recorded music are furnished, through the Simpson Memorial Sound System, in the Moulton Union.

Lectureships and Institutes

THE regular instruction of the College is supplemented each year by a series of ten or twelve major lectures, in addition to occasional lectures and panel discussions sponsored by the various departments of study and undergraduate campus organizations. A notable adjunct to the intellectual life of the entire college community is the series of Institutes which brings to Bowdoin every two years eight or ten distinguished authorities in Art, Literature, Music, Public Affairs, or Science.

LECTURESHIPS

ANNIE TALBOT COLE LECTURESHIP. This lectureship was founded in 1906 with a gift of $4,750 by Mrs. Calista S. Mayhew, of South Orange, New Jersey, in memory of her niece, Mrs. Samuel Valentine Cole. According to the terms of the gift, this lectureship was established to contribute "to the ennoblement and enrichment of life by standing for the idea that life is a glad opportunity. It shall, therefore, exhibit and endeavor to make attractive, the highest ideals of character and conduct, and also, in so far as possible, foster an appreciation of the beautiful as revealed through nature, poetry, music, and the fine arts."

FULLER MEMORIAL FUND. This fund of $3,821 was founded in 1911 in memory of Benjamin Apthorp Gould Fuller, A.M., of the Class of 1839, and provides for instruction in the broadest aspects of Social Hygiene.

MAYHEW LECTURE FUND. This lectureship was founded in 1923 by Mrs. Calista Mayhew. The income from the bequest of $5,000 is used to provide lectures on bird life and its effect on forestry.

THE DELTA UPSILON LECTURESHIP. This lectureship, an annual gift to the College from the Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon, was established at the suggestion of Avery Marion Spear (1904-1929), of the Class of 1925. Described by the President of the College as "a symbol of the growth of intellectual interest among the undergraduates," the lectureship has brought to the College for lectures and conferences a number of distinguished persons including: James Phinney Baxter, 3rd, Mary Ellen Chase, Ernest Martin Hopkins, George Lyman Kittredge, Austin Harbutt MacCormick, Alexander Meiklejohn, Eleanor Roosevelt, Norman Thomas, and Alexander Woollcott.

JOHN WARREN ACHORN LECTURESHIP. This lectureship was established in 1928 by Mrs. John Warren Achorn, as a memorial to her husband, a member of the Class of 1879. The income from the fund of $2,500 is used for lectures on birds and bird life.

TALLMAN LECTURE FUND. This fund of $100,000 was given by Frank G. Tallman, A.M., of Wilmington, Delaware, in 1928, as a memorial to the Bowdoin members of his family. The income is "to be expended annually upon a series of lectures to be delivered by men selected by the Faculty either in this country or abroad." In addition to offering a course for undergraduates, the Visiting Professors on the Tallman Foundation give a series of public lectures on the subjects of their special interest.

VISITING PROFESSORS ON THE TALLMAN
FOUNDATION: 1928-1946

THE INSTITUTES

Sponsored by the College, Institutes on subjects of broad, general interest were held biennially from 1923 to 1941 and resumed in 1944. The method of conducting these Institutes is to bring to Brunswick ten lecturers, each a distinguished authority in his field, for public lectures and round-table conferences. Although the lectures attract state-wide audiences, the conferences are given solely for undergraduates. Thus, every student, during his college course, has an opportunity not only to hear twenty notable authorities, but to participate in round-table discussions with those in whose subjects he is most interested. Institutes have been held in the following fields:

Modern History (1923)	Politics (1935)
Modern Literature (1925)	Philosophy (1937)
The Fine Arts (1927)	Music (1939)
The Social Sciences (1929)	Human Geography (1941)
The Natural Sciences (1931)	Liberal Education (1944)
Modern Literature (1933)

The subject of the Institute to be held in 1947 is World Politics and Organization.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES: Services are held each week-day at 12:10 P.M. in the College Chapel, and vesper services are held on Sundays at 4:30 o'clock. All students, unless excused by authority of the Dean, are required to be present. From time to time during the year, prominent clergymen of various denominations come to Brunswick to preach at the College.

SUNDAY CHAPEL SPEAKERS: OCTOBER, 1945 — MAY, 1946

CHARLES LINCOLN TAYLOR, JR., A.M., TH.D., Dean of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

RODNEY WILEY ROUNDY, B.D., Superintendent Emeritus of the Congregational-Christian Conference of Maine.

WILLIAM DUDLEY FOULKE HUGHES, M.A., B. LITT. (Oxon.), Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Luke, Portland.

HORACE AUGUSTINE HILDRETH, LL.D., Governor of Maine.

RICHARD WALTER RICKER, B.D., Chaplain, USNR, Brunswick Naval Air Station.

GEORGE ERNEST LYNCH, JR., B.D., First Parish Church, Portland.

ARTHUR ANDREW HAUCK, PH.D., LL.D., President of the University of Maine.

BRADFORD JOHNSON, B.D., St. Paul's Church, Brunswick.

HAROLD CHARLES BONELL, S.T.M., Central Square Baptist Church, Portland.

THOMPSON ELBRIDGE ASHBY, D.D., First Parish Church, Brunswick.

JOHN CHARLES SCHROEDER, D.D., LL.D., Master of Calhoun College, Yale University.

JOSEPH FRANCIS FLETCHER, S.T.D., Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

WALLACE WITMER ANDERSON, D.D., State Street Congregational Church, Portland.

ALFRED GRAHAM BALDWIN, B.D., School Minister of Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts.

BERYL DAVID COHON, B.A., Rabbi of Temple Sinai, Brookline, Massachusetts.

GEORGE LESLIE CADIGAN, B.A., Grace Church, Salem, Massachusetts.

Student Life and Activities

WITH victory achieved, Bowdoin is endeavoring to provide for her civilian students and returning veterans a campus life which retains most of its various traditional features, along with certain necessary and welcome innovations.

The physical equipment of the College, carefully tended throughout the war years and at the entire disposal of the military and naval units, is receiving increased attention today, and special committees have been appointed by the President to study prospects for future improvements. But along with the library, laboratories, art museum, dormitories, social center, infirmary, gymnasium, swimming pool, and playing fields, the less tangible—but more important—spiritual and intellectual resources of Bowdoin are being constantly examined and reinvigorated, as befitting a century-and-a-half-old college newly rededicated, through war as in peace, to the ideals of a liberal education.

The program in the humanities continues to provide courses in languages, literature, philosophy, art, music, history, government, and economics. Such subjects, which develop the qualities of intellectual poise, understanding, and imagination essential to effective leadership, are being continued and refreshed with a view to individual needs and mature participation in the work of peace and reconstruction.

LIVING AND DINING ACCOMMODATIONS: The College provides living and dining accommodations for its student body. Entering Freshmen will live in the dormitories and dine at the Moulton Union. The fraternity chapter houses furnish living and dining accommodations for their constituencies (the final arrangements being contingent upon the size of enrolment and other factors). These attractive quarters help to encourage the generous friendships and to promote the valuable give-and-take of opinion perennially associated with campus life.

THE MOULTON UNION: The Union continues to be the social center of the entire College: it provides a spacious home on the campus, primarily for all undergraduates, members of the Faculty, Alumni, and guests.

The hospitable Union lounge is available from early morning until midnight every day for leisure-time enjoyment. A generous number of newspapers and magazines are kept there for the use of the students and members of the college. This room is the scene of a great variety of college gatherings: smokers, lectures, recitals, and dances. No charge is made for the use of the pool, billiard, and ping-pong tables in the game rooms. The third floor contains several pleasant conference rooms for undergraduate activities together with comfortable rooms for guests of the college. The Union store provides sundries to members of the college at a nominal charge. Profits are used for general student social purposes under the direction of the Student Union Committee.

The facilities of the Union resemble those of a club in which there are daily opportunities for new students to meet and form friendships with other students and Faculty members. The donor's wish to provide a place where the fires of friendship may be kindled and kept burning has been amply realized.

FRATERNITIES: The Greek-letter fraternities first appeared on the Bowdoin campus in 1841. A century ago their functions were purely literary and social, but with the passing years they have become more and more an integral part of college life. In the early years, the meeting places of the fraternities were known only to their members. Later the members of the various chapters lived together in several of "the ends" of the college dormitories. A new era began in 1900 when two of the Greek-letter societies moved into houses of their own and took over the provision of living and dining facilities. Ordinarily, the upper-class members live "at the house," while all the members dine there.

During the war, under a "quota system," all fraternities survived and now continue their pre-war activities in full vigor. Membership in a fraternity provides much more than an attractive eating club, agreeable companionship, occasional house-parties, and competition in interfraternity track meets. To many graduates, such membership has meant a valuable training in the care of material property and in the maintenance of good relations with the town and with the other groups, coöperation with the Dean and the Faculty advisor in promoting scholarship and manly conduct among the younger brothers, and comradely association with alumni in the management of chapter affairs. At Bowdoin, loyalty to a fraternity has been found in practice to be an excellent means of developing loyalty to the College itself and to the larger interests which the College serves.

UNDERGRADUATE ACTIVITIES: The curtailment of undergraduate activities during the accelerated program of the war years has been relaxed and campus life has now returned to normal with counsel and leadership provided in many instances by students returned from the services. The College will continue to encourage and sponsor a full program of activities consistent with the needs of a wholesome campus life and adapted to changing conditions.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL: The control of student life at Bowdoin is entrusted in the fullest possible measure to the students themselves. Undergraduate self-government is vested in the Student Council, which makes recommendations about student affairs to the student body, and occasionally to the Faculty. The Council is composed of ten members of the Senior Class and two of the Junior Class, elected each term by the undergraduates.

Members for the fall term 1946-1947 are as follows:

STUDENT COUNCIL

William Andersen Dougherty, President

John Anderson Pidgeon, Vice President

Harry Thayer Kingsbury, Secretary and Treasurer

Harry Vincent Carey

Shepard Lifshitz

Donald Elwood Clark

Boyd Murphy

Willard Howard Cobb, Jr.

Alexander Robertson, Jr.

Howard Michael Kuh

Lennart Sandquist

Stanley Adams Lawry, Jr.

THE BOARD OF PROCTORS: The maintenance of order in the dormitories and houses, and the responsibility for their proper care are delegated to a Board of Proctors chosen by the Dean and appointed by the Faculty.

PROCTORS

Carl Gustaf Bergman

Martin Emery Robinson

Robert Wilson Clark, Jr.

Harold Morris Small, Jr.

Dean Crowley Cushing

Frederick Alexander Van Valkenburg

Harry Larchian

Colby Martin Ward

James Bernard Longley, Jr.

Lawrence Jacob Ward

THE ORIENT: The Bowdoin Orient, the college newspaper, is now in its seventy-sixth year. Publication was continued throughout the years of the war despite paper shortage, reduced circulation, and other handicaps. Opportunities for Freshmen as "cub" reporters, and for newcomers at the news desk and in the press room continue as in the past and advancement on the staff is rapid for those with a flair for journalism. Students interested in the business management of the newspaper will also find opportunities for work and advancement.

THE QUILL: The Quill is the college literary publication. Each issue contains articles in all fields of student literary interest: short stories, essays, poems and reviews. Contributions are welcomed from all members of the college.

THE BUGLE: The Bugle is the college year-book published by the Junior class. The board is composed of students and faculty members.

MUSIC AND RADIO: The most important musical extra-curricular activity is the Glee Club. Bowdoin continues to be a "singing college," with the Interfraternity Singing Competition, the a cappella choir (which in addition to Sunday vesper services makes joint appearances with near-by girls' schools and colleges), musical chapels, house singing, student recitals, and the "Meddiebempsters" double quartet. In addition, the Brunswick Choral Society, in which undergraduates participate, presents at least two major choral works a year, and the artist concert series of six concerts is open free to all undergraduates.

Through the facilities of Station WGAN in Portland, undergraduates present their own radio program, "Bowdoin-on-the-Air," bi-weekly whenever possible. Faculty and students have shared the task of participating in these broadcasts, which have included dramatic skits, musical recitals, panel discussions, and debates. This activity, managed and directed by undergraduates, is under the supervision of an expert instructor in public speaking, with clinical training in speech. A recording machine is used for auditions and training. Opportunities are afforded for script writers, directors, and announcers.

THE MASQUE AND GOWN: This college dramatic organization has for forty years provided undergraduates with opportunities to give practical expression to their interest in the theatre. Townspeople collaborate with the student members of Masque and Gown in many productions. The Executive Committee hopes to continue its policy of producing full-length and one-act plays written by students; the Committee also plans to use various experimental production techniques such as the "arena style" of presentation.

Under the direction of an expert, the Masque and Gown offers many opportunities for those interested in play writing, scene design and construction, acting, and business management and publicity.

THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION: The Bowdoin Christian Association is an undenominational organization, membership in which is open to every undergraduate for the purpose of helping students to find the place of religion in life. The Association conducts many lines of work, sponsors a Religious Forum, and often arranges informal conferences at which the undergraduates have opportunities to meet the college preachers.

ATHLETICS

The Department of Physical Education made physical fitness an important objective of Bowdoin's wartime program. Although varsity teams competed in baseball, basketball, track, swimming, and tennis, the squads were small and the schedules were informal. In 1946-1947 intercollegiate athletic competition will be resumed, the athletics-for-all program will be continued, and many of the valuable features of the wartime, physical-fitness training will be retained.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: With the exception of veterans who have received sufficient credit in the service, each student is required to attend classes in physical education or to participate in a supervised sports program for five days each week during his first six trimesters in college.* Credit will be given for actual participation in intramural competition.

The following requirements in Physical Education must be met by every student: (1) Participation for at least one season in a supervised varsity sport, (2) Demonstration of "a playing knowledge" of some sport such as tennis, golf, or swimming, and (3) Sufficient competence to satisfy the minimum tests formulated by the Department.

Tests in Physical Education are given every eight weeks throughout the year. Students who score over 70 points will be excused until the next test; students who score between 65 and 70 points will be required to attend classes in Physical Education three times a week; students who score between 60 and 65 points will be required to attend four times a week.

* During the Summer Trimester attendance at classes in Physical Education will be required three days each week instead of five, but more emphasis will be given to outdoor sports.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS: Bowdoin offers intercollegiate competition in the following sports: football, cross country, basketball, track, swimming, hockey, rifle shooting, fencing, winter sports, golf, tennis, baseball, and sailing. Varsity, junior varsity, and freshman teams will be maintained in most of these sports, enabling every undergraduate opportunity to try out for the sport of his choice.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS: Competition between fraternities is scheduled in softball, touch football, basketball, track, and swimming. Undergraduates not actively engaged in intercollegiate sports during a given season are eligible for intramural contests.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

MORE than $50,000 is available annually in scholarships and loan funds to aid meritorious students of slender means. The major awards are of three general kinds: (1) Prematriculation Scholarships for incoming Freshmen, (2) General Scholarships for members of all classes, and (3) Graduate Scholarships for students pursuing their studies in Medical Schools and in Graduate Schools of the Arts and Sciences.

PREMATRICULATION SCHOLARSHIPS: Bowdoin College offers many scholarships for incoming Freshmen. The State of Maine Scholarships, four competitive awards of six hundred dollars each, are offered annually to encourage students in the secondary schools of Maine to seek a college education. The Bowdoin Scholarships, five awards of five hundred and twenty-five dollars each, are offered to candidates for admission who reside outside the State of Maine. A number of Alumni Fund Scholarships with a basic stipend of four hundred dollars are also available. One-half of the stipend for any one of the above scholarships will ordinarily be paid at the beginning of each of the recipient's first two Trimesters. Application should be made to Professor Edward S. Hammond, Director of Admissions, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine.

GENERAL SCHOLARSHIPS: Awards are made at the beginning of each Trimester. Scholarships are not student honors, and should be sought only by students of good rank who cannot, unless so aided, meet the expenses of the college year.

Scholarships, which are awarded upon the basis of financial need and scholastic attainment, vary in amount from seventy-five to six hundred dollars. The average award for two Trimesters is approximately two hundred and fifty dollars. The Faculty Committee on Student Aid has formulated the following bases for awards: (1) financial need determined by letters and interviews; (2) the attainment of a rank equal to the minimum requirements for graduations, i.e., the applicant must have received a grade of "C" or better in at least half of his courses during the previous Trimester.

GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS: Description of the awards from the Garcelon and Merritt Fund for the study of Medicine; and the terms of award of the Everett, Longfellow, Moses, and O'Brien

Scholarships for graduate study of the Arts and Sciences are to be found on pages 134-135 of this catalogue.

Prematriculation Scholarships

STATE OF MAINE SCHOLARSHIPS. To encourage students in the secondary schools of Maine to seek a college education, the College offers four competitive scholarships of $600 each. For the distribution of these awards, the State is divided into four districts and usually an award is made to a candidate from each district. Candidates for these scholarships must be residents of Maine and also must attend school in the State. Special examinations in English, in either Latin or Mathematics, and in general information are set by the College for this competition.

BOWDOIN SCHOLARSHIPS. The College offers to candidates for admission who reside outside the State of Maine five scholarships of $525 each. Candidates for these scholarships are selected on a four-fold basis comprising scholastic attainment as shown by the school record, performance on a scholastic aptitude test, qualities of leadership as shown by extra-curricular activities both in and outside school, and character and promise for future success as established by recommendations from school authorities and others.

ALUMNI FUND SCHOLARSHIPS. A certain part of the receipts of the Alumni Fund is set aside annually to provide scholarships for incoming Freshmen. The number and size of these scholarships and the selection of recipients is in the hands of a committee of which the Dean of the College, the Director of Admissions, and the Chairman of the Alumni Fund are members.

JOHN JOHNSTON SCHOLARSHIPS. The John Johnston Fund was established to provide scholarship aid to some able and worthy candidate, preferably from rural Maine, for whom a college education would be quite impossible without very considerable financial assistance. Awards from this fund are made by a committee composed of members of the Governing Boards of the College and the Director of Admissions.

General Scholarships

The General Scholarships are derived from funds provided by many donors. Awards are made at the beginning of each Trimester by the Faculty Committee on Student Aid, which is presided over by the President of the College.

The following Loan Funds were established to assist students in unexpected circumstances to continue their college courses. Applications for loans should be addressed to the President or the Dean.

PRESIDENT'S LOAN FUND. Grants from a sum of $8,403 received from various donors are made at the discretion of the President of the College.

ALBION HOWE MEMORIAL LOAN FUND. A fund now amounting to $2,672 established by Lucien Howe, M.D., Sc.D., of the Class of 1870, of Buffalo, New York, in memory of his brother, Albion Howe, of the Class of 1861. (1903)

GEORGE PATTEN DAVENPORT LOAN AND TRUST FUND. A fund now amounting to $9,041 established by George Patten Davenport, A.M., of the Class of 1867, of Bath, Maine. (1908)

EDWARD PRINCE HUTCHINSON LOAN FUND. A fund of $236 given by Edward Prince Hutchinson, of the Class of 1927, to be administered by the Dean. (1939)

THE ANONYMOUS LOAN FUND. A fund of $1,141 to be administered by the Dean. (1941)

THE CUMMINGS LOAN FUND. A fund of $565 given by George Otis Cummings, M.D., of the Class of 1913, to be administered by the Dean. (1942)

FUND TO AID WORTHY STUDENTS. A fund of $10,486, to be administered by the President. (1945)

Graduate Scholarships: Medicine

GARCELON AND MERRITT FUND. About $7,000 from the income of this fund, established in memory of Seward Garcelon, of the Medical Class of 1830, and Samuel Merritt, of the Medical Class of 1843, is appropriated annually for medical scholarships. The larger part of the amount is awarded to students pursuing their studies in medical schools, and the remainder may be assigned to students in the College who are taking premedical courses; but, in the discretion of the Trustees, all of the income available may be assigned to students in medical schools.

Applications for medical scholarships must be made upon blank forms furnished by the President of the College, and must be received by the President before December 1st.

Graduate Scholarships: Arts and Sciences

CHARLES CARROLL EVERETT SCHOLARSHIP. Certain real estate in Brunswick, converted into a fund amounting to $13,993, bequeathed by Miss Mildred Everett, to found a scholarship in memory of her father, Charles Carroll Everett, D.D., of the Class of 1850, the net income of which is given to that member of the graduating class of Bowdoin College whom the President and Trustees shall deem the best qualified to take a post-graduate course in either this or some other country. (1903)

HENRY W. LONGFELLOW GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP. A fund of $10,057 given by the daughters of Henry W. Longfellow, of the Class of 1825 — Miss Alice M. Longfellow, Mrs. Edith L. Dana, and Mrs. Annie L. Thorpe — for a graduate scholarship “that would enable a student, after graduation, to pursue graduate work in some other college, or abroad if considered desirable; the work to be done in English, or general literature, and the field to be as large as possible — Belles Lettres in a wide sense. The student to be selected should be one not merely proficient in some specialty, or with high marks, but with real ability in the subject and capable of profiting by the advanced work, and developing in the best way." (1907)

GALEN C. MOSES GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP. A fund of $5,010 bequeathed by Emma H. Moses, the income "to be awarded and paid to the student most proficient in any natural science during his undergraduate course, who shall actually pursue a post-graduate course in such science at any recognized college or university; said income to be paid to such student for a period not exceeding three years, unless he sooner completes or abandons said post-graduate course." (1934)

O'BRIEN GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP. A fund of $20,000 given by Mrs. John Washburn, of Minneapolis, in memory of her uncles, John, William, Jeremiah, and Joseph O'Brien, for a "scholarship, preferably a graduate scholarship, for a student, or students, to be selected annually by the Faculty, who shall be deemed most suitable to profit by travel or advanced study, either in this country or abroad." (1937)

Alumni Placement and Student Employment

THE College offers assistance to students and graduates in solving the problem of employment, both during their undergraduate courses and afterward. Opportunities for undergraduates in part-time work at the College or in the community are usually available through the Placement Bureau. The Bureau assists undergraduates in establishing contacts for summer employment.

Students are encouraged to register during their Sophomore year and call upon the Director for vocational counsel and guidance if the work of the Bureau is to be most effective in placing men upon graduation in the positions for which they are best qualified. The interview is planned to broaden the student's vocational interest and to aid him in the choice of properly correlated courses best suited to furnish a foundation and background for his life's work. Students with a definite goal in mind usually approach their work with an earnestness of purpose. While the selection of a career must necessarily be left to the student, the Bureau has information available to help guide the applicant to an intelligent choice. Extensive literature, including occupational monographs, and recent books on business careers are at the disposal of the students. The candidate's complete undergraduate record—including classroom work, vocational aptitude tests and extra-curricular activities—are used to determine his availability for positions after graduation.

The Bureau continually expands its contacts with employers, acting as an intermediary for the exchange of vocational information between employers and registrants. Representatives of industry are invited to the campus to confer with students and to discuss not only the qualifications necessary for success in their special fields but to explain the opportunities offered to college men. The efforts of the Bureau are coordinated with the activities of the Alumni Placement Committees organized on a national basis in thirty-three strategic areas. These Committees greatly extend the range of opportunities for all registrants. The Bureau makes available to these Committees basic individual data for proper classification and placement of candidates referred to them.

Guidance and placement activities are closely allied. Therefore, it is desirable that students consult the Bureau periodically until graduation. Those planning advanced study in graduate schools should consult with the Chairman of their major department.

The Placement Bureau serves alumni as well as undergraduates. Mindful of the acute problems of placement during the period of demobilization, the Bureau continues to conduct a survey of Bowdoin men still in the Armed Forces. The information thus obtained will enable the Bureau to anticipate the desires of these men and provide prospective employers with an accurate record of the candidates' qualifications. No charge is made for services rendered to candidates or employers.

The Director devotes all of his time to the activities of the Bureau. He is a member of the Faculty as well as an Administrative Officer. All correspondence should be addressed to the Director of the Placement Bureau, 302 Massachusetts Hall, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine.

Prizes and Distinctions

THE BOWDOIN PRIZE

THE BOWDOIN PRIZE. A fund, now amounting to $23,324, established as a memorial to William John Curtis, LL.D., of the Class of 1875, by Mrs. Curtis and children. The prize, four-fifths of the total income, is to be awarded not oftener than "once in each five years to the graduate or former member of the College, or member of its Faculty at the time of the award, who shall have made, during the period, the most distinctive contribution in any field of human endeavor. The prize shall only be awarded to one who shall, in the judgment of the committee of award, be recognized as having won national and not merely local distinction, or who, in the judgment of the committee, is fairly entitled to be so recognized." (1928)

The first award of this prize was made in 1933 to Fred Houdlett Albee, M.D., Sc.D., LL.D., of the Class of 1899. The second award was made in 1938 to Harvey Dow Gibson, LL.D., of the Class of 1902, and Paul Howard Douglas, Ph.D., of the Class of 1913.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

DAVID SEWALL PREMIUM. The annual income of a fund of $238 is awarded to a member of the Freshman Class for excellence in English composition. (1795)

CLASS OF 1868 PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $1,081 contributed by the Class of 1868, is given to that member of the Senior Class who shall write and deliver the best oration. (1868)

BROWN COMPOSITION PRIZES. Two prizes, three-fifths and two-fifths, of the annual income of a fund of $1,431, established by Philip Greely Brown, of the Class of 1877, in memory of Philip Henry Brown, Esq., of the Class of 1851, are offered to members of the Senior Class for excellence in Extemporaneous English Composition. (1874)

SMYTH MATHEMATICAL PRIZE. A fund of $6,952, the gift of Henry Jewett Furber, of the Class of 1861, named by him in honor of Professor William Smyth. The income of the fund is given to that student in each Sophomore Class who obtains the highest rank in the mathematical studies of the first two years. The rank is determined mainly by the daily recitations, but the Faculty may in its discretion order a special examination, the result of which will be combined with the recitation rank. The successful candidate receives one-third of the income at the time the award is made. The remaining two-thirds is paid to him in installments at the close of each term during Junior and Senior years. If a vacancy occurs during those years, the next in rank secures the benefit of the prize for the remainder of the time. (1876)

SEWALL GREEK PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $778 given by Professor Jotham Bradbury Sewall, D.D., of the Class of 1848, formerly Professor of Greek in the College, is awarded to the member of the Sophomore Class who sustains the best examination in Greek. (1879)

SEWALL LATIN PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $778, also given by Professor Sewall, is awarded to the member of the Sophomore Class who sustains the best examination in Latin. (1879)

GOODWIN COMMENCEMENT PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $1,190 given by the Reverend Daniel Raynes Goodwin, D.D., of the Class of 1832, is awarded to the author of the best Commencement Part. (1882)

PRAY ENGLISH PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $1,288 given by Dr. Thomas Jefferson Worcester Pray, of the Class of 1844, is awarded to the best scholar in English Literature and original English Composition. (1889)

GOODWIN FRENCH PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $650 given by the Reverend Daniel Raynes Goodwin, D.D., is awarded to the best scholar in French. (1890)

NOYES POLITICAL ECONOMY PRIZE. The annual income of a fund of $1,190, established by Crosby Stuart Noyes, A.M., is awarded to the best scholar in Political Economy. (1897)

CLASS OF 1875 PRIZE IN AMERICAN HISTORY. The prize, consisting of the annual income of $4,545, was established by William John Curtis, LL.D., of the Class of 1875, and is awarded to the student who writes the best essay and passes the best examination on some assigned subject in American History. (1901)

BRADBURY DEBATING PRIZES. The annual income of a fund of $2,000, given by the Honorable James Ware Bradbury, LL.D., of the Class of 1825, is awarded for excellence in debating. (1901)

HAWTHORNE PRIZE. A prize of $40 given now by Professor Robert Peter Tristram Coffin, B.Litt. (Oxon.), Litt.D., of the Class of 1915, in memory of the original founders of the Hawthorne Prize, Nora Archibald Smith and Mrs. George C. Riggs (Kate Douglas Wiggin), Litt.D. It is awarded each year to the author of the best short story. The competition is open to members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes. (1903)

ALEXANDER PRIZE FUND. This fund amounting to $1,488 was established by Honorable DeAlva Stanwood Alexander, LL.D., of the Class of 1870, and furnishes two prizes, three-fifths and two-fifths of the annual income, for excellence in select declamation. Competition is open to Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors. (1905)

PHILO SHERMAN BENNETT PRIZE FUND. This fund amounting to $602 was established by the Honorable William Jennings Bryan from trust funds of the estate of the late Philo Sherman Bennett, of New Haven, Connecticut. The proceeds are used for a prize for the best essay discussing the principles of free government. Competition is open to Juniors and Seniors. (1905)

ALMON GOODWIN PRIZE FUND. This fund of $1,190 was established by Mrs. Maud Wilder Goodwin in memory of her husband, Almon Goodwin, of the Class of 1862. The annual income is awarded to a Phi Beta Kappa man chosen by vote of the Trustees of the College at the end of the recipient's Junior year. (1906)

HILAND LOCKWOOD FAIRBANKS PRIZE FUND. This fund of $2,385 was established by Captain Henry Nathaniel Fairbanks, of Bangor, in memory of his son, Hiland Lockwood Fairbanks, of the Class of 1895. One-half of the annual income is awarded for excellence in debating and advanced public speaking (English 5, 6); one-fourth is awarded as two prizes for excellence in declamation (English 4); and the remaining fourth is left at the disposal of the English Department for the promotion of interest in public speaking. (1909)

COL. WILLIAM HENRY OWEN PREMIUM. A fund of $668 established by Frederick Wooster Owen, M.D., in memory of his brother, Col. William Henry Owen, A.M., of the Class of 1851, the income of which is awarded at Commencement "to some graduating student recognized by his fellows as a humble, earnest, and active Christian." (1916)

STANLEY PLUMMER PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of a fund of $1,055, established by Stanley Plummer, of the Class of 1867, is awarded "for excellence in original and spoken composition in the English language on the part of the members of the Junior Class." (1919)

FORBES RICKARD PRIZE. A prize of $10 given by President Kenneth Charles Morton Sills, LL.D., of the Class of 1901, in memory of Forbes Rickard, Jr., of the Class of 1917, who lost his life in the service of his country, is awarded to the undergraduate writing the best poem. (1919)

LUCIEN HOWE PRIZE SCHOLARSHIP. A fund of $5,074 given by Lucien Howe, M.D., Sc.D., of the Class of 1870. Fifty dollars from the income is "awarded by the Faculty to that member of the Senior Class, who, during his college course, by example and influence, has shown the highest qualities of conduct and character, the award to be either in cash or in the form of a medal, according to the wish of the recipient." The remainder is expended by the President to improve the social life of the undergraduates. (1920)

HANNIBAL HAMLIN EMERY LATIN PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of a fund of $1,190, is awarded to a member of the Junior or Senior Class for proficiency in Latin. (1922)

NATHAN GOULD PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of $2,577, was established by Abba Gould Woolson, of Portland, in memory of her grandfather. It is awarded to that member of the "Senior Class who has, throughout his college course, attained the highest standing in Greek and Latin studies." (1922)

SUMNER INCREASE KIMBALL PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of $2,799, was established by the Honorable Sumner Increase Kimball, Sc.D., of the Class of 1855. It is awarded to that member of the Senior Class who has "shown the most ability and originality in the field of the Natural Sciences." (1923)

HORACE LORD PIPER PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of $1,373, was established by the Honorable Sumner Increase Kimball, Sc.D., of the Class of 1855, in memory of Major Horace Lord Piper, of the Class of 1863. It is awarded to that member of the Sophomore Class who presents the best "original paper on the subject best calculated to promote the attainment and maintenance of peace throughout the world, or on some other subject devoted to the welfare of humanity." (1923)

BERTRAM LOUIS SMITH, JR., PRIZE SCHOLARSHIP. A bequest of $4,059 from Bertram Louis Smith, in memory of his son, a member of the Class of 1903, to encourage excellence of work in English Literature. This premium is awarded by the Faculty to a member of the Junior Class who has completed two years' work in English Literature. Ordinarily it is awarded to a student majoring in English and performance of major work as well as record in courses is taken into consideration. (1925)

POETRY PRIZE. One-third the annual income of $284 is given each trimester for the best poem on Bowdoin written by an undergraduate. (1926)

EDGAR OAKES ACHORN PRIZE. This prize, consisting of the annual income of $1,214 bequeathed by Edgar Oakes Achorn, of the Class of 1881, is awarded for excellence in debating between members of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes; or for an essay by a Freshman or Sophomore on "Chapel exercises, their place at Bowdoin," or on any other subject on the place of religion in a liberal arts college. (1932)

PHILIP WESTON MESERVE FUND. Established with an anonymous gift of $500, in memory of Professor Philip Weston Meserve, of the Class of 1911, "the income to be used preferably to stimulate interest in Chemistry." (1941)

ANDREW ALLISON HALDANE CUP. A cup given by fellow officers in the Pacific in memory of Captain Andrew Allison Haldane, of the Class of 1941, awarded to that member of the Senior Class who has outstanding qualities of leadership and character. (1945)

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT CUP. A cup, furnished by the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity at the College, to be inscribed annually with the name of that member of the three lower classes whose vision, humanity, and courage most contribute to making Bowdoin a better college. (1945)

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Phi Beta Kappa Society, national honorary fraternity for the recognition and promotion of scholarship, was founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776. The Bowdoin Chapter (Alpha of Maine), the sixth in order of establishment, was founded in 1825. In addition to the nine charter members, 1459 men have been elected to membership, of whom 556 are living.

Election to the society is on the basis of scholarly achievement, in estimating which, consideration is given primarily to grades in courses, secondarily (at graduation) to departmental honors. Not more than fifteen members may be chosen from any one class. For the period of the three-part college year, elections may be held three times a year—in February, May, and October. Candidates must have completed twenty-five trimester units for college credit.

The officers of the Chapter for 1946-1947 are:

President, Hoyt Augustus Moore, 1895.

Vice-President, Herbert Ross Brown, Lafayette, 1924.

Secretary-Treasurer, Stanley Perkins Chase, 1905.

Literary Committee: Wilbert Snow, 1907, Chairman; Roscoe Henderson Hupper, 1907; Clarence Henry Crosby, 1917; Newton Phelps Stallknecht, Princeton, 1927; Dan Edwin Christie, 1937.

JAMES BOWDOIN DAY

Named in honor of the earliest patron of the College, James Bowdoin Day was instituted in 1941 to accord recognition to those undergraduates who distinguish themselves in scholarship. At a convocation of the entire College, the exercises consist of the announcement of awards, the presentation of books, a response by an undergraduate, and an address.

The James Bowdoin Scholarships, carrying no stipend, are awarded to undergraduates who have completed two trimesters' work, in recognition of a high average in their courses to date or of superior work in their major departments.

A book, bearing the plate of the Honorable James Bowdoin (1752-1811), is presented to every undergraduate who has maintained an "A" record throughout two consecutive trimesters—only one such award, however, being made to any one man in his college course.
