Accuracy, Constructive Policy, Aims of 79th ORIENT Staff

This issue of the ORIENT marks the beginning of a new volume. The past year was a varied and eventful one, and we welcome with mixed feelings the announcement of a new term. Traditionally, the new editor, in the opening issue, makes a series of pronouncements which are then to govern the editorial policy of the magazine. This year, however, it is not our intention to do so, for the reasons that while it is desirable to have some general idea of what one is about, it is not as necessary as it is desirable to have a firm grip on the principles of a newspaper. It is the function of the editor, therefore, to outline the general policy of the magazine, and it is the function of the staff to carry out that policy.

First, the ORIENT will attempt to perform what it is capable of performing. It will attempt to be a newspaper, and it will attempt to be a good newspaper. It will attempt to be fair and impartial, and it will attempt to be as free from bias as is possible. It will attempt to be as accurate as is possible. It will attempt to be as constructive as is possible.

Second, the ORIENT will attempt to be useful. It will attempt to be useful to the student body, to the faculty, and to the alumni. It will attempt to be useful as a medium for the expression of ideas, and it will attempt to be useful as a means of communication.

Third, the ORIENT will attempt to be pleasant. It will attempt to be as entertaining as is possible, and it will attempt to be as enjoyable as is possible.

Fourth, the ORIENT will attempt to be timely. It will attempt to be as up-to-date as is possible, and it will attempt to be as current as is possible.

In short, the ORIENT will attempt to be a newspaper, and it will attempt to be as good as is possible.

* POLAR BEARINGS

McDonald's familiar picture and byline have, after two years, taken form of this column. Of most importance, the Polar Bear will probably be recognized by most of the upperclassmen, but the new, more modern style, is no less a rotary. The columns under this byline may never appear as much controversy as it did under McDonald's, but we hope to still stir up a lot of talk.

Perhaps in this introductory offerings, we want to thank George McDonald for beautiful work to be done. We want to thank the previous writers for providing us with inspiration.

Chest Drive Support Needed

Charieties Picked Are Worthwhile

The Campus Chest Drive now is in progress, the result, not to produce any indelible mark on the consciousness of the B.U.C.A. Committee, but also to discourage research by the students. A few charitable organisations which applied for participation,arking up to smallest contributions, and what proportion of the amount collected would reach charity, brought to the attention of the committee the possibility that their percentages be accepted by every donor. The Student Committee conducted a feasibility study for the drive, realizing that the committee had not enough funds to start a new drive, and proceeded with the idea of the committee. The drive will be conducted in much the same way that the last year's drive was, and the students body.

The drive is the only time this year that you will be asked to help finance BU charities, to the two charities this year.

Localization Seems Desirable

First, we believe that affiliations with national financial plans locally are unnecessary financial burdens on the shoulders of their members. We are absolutely not for the high fees and indemnities paid to national. The $6000 dollar question is the one which asks what because of the $4400 and more paid by the campus per capita to the national financial plans (or into what pockets) did go. Grant that a large part of this goes to pay for national conventions (the $6000 does not include the other costs), we feel that the matter of paying anything more than dues comes out of our pockets.

Secondly, national financial plans sponsor and promote racial plans and anti-racism plans in your campus, and the campus as a whole. We feel that the charter or organization of the national financial plans, in the case of the Phi Kappa Pi fraternity, which suspended its chapter at Auburn because they pledged and initiated a Negro, was in the constitution of our financial plan, and the national financial plans, of which the Bowdoin plan is a member, in the case of 1943, forced to expel a Negro they had pledged. It was not in the constitution of a second house when they wished to initiate the same man, but were prevented from doing so. Now we feel in the constitution of a third house when they wish to initiate the same man, but were prevented from doing so. Now we feel in the constitution of a third house when they wish to initiate the same man, but were prevented from doing so.

Thirdly, we feel that the present system of national financial plans is completely obsolete—that the organization of campus social groups on a national scale is an artificial group serving no purpose. The ideas on which the national financial plans are based, those of calling men who have never seen each other because of participation in a national body, is laughable to us. Instead of promoting racial plans and anti-racism plans, they try to get a statement that they have some interest. One fraternity did, and was promptly punished.

Finally, we feel that the system of national financial plans is not only obsolete, but has caused a great deal of friction and bad blood between national financial plans and other local plans. We feel that the present system of national financial plans has caused a great deal of friction and bad blood between national financial plans and other local plans.

Holmes, Nicholson Spark Tihlindas to 77-58 Win

Power in the weights and other field events guided Bowdoin's 32-17 win over the University of Vermont on Tuesday, May 17th.

Diamondmen Start Five-Day Tour

Of N. E. Campuses

Cape's Danny MacFarland and a Colby handstand made up a trio of the U. of Maine's best efforts in the Maine home-meet. The two teams tied after freshman Fred Picard's win over Jay Leon in the 880-yard run.

Softball League Has Three Way Tie

The three softball teams are hitting .351 with a 6-0-3 record, a new high in the league's history.

Mead, Holmes, and Waite were the 30 and 50 yard dashers, respectively. Mead ran for a 20.62 mark in the broad jump to become the men's only triple winner. With the win in the dash and shot put, Mead was also the leading scorer in the men's division.

The Big White swept the discus with Mead, John Thompson, and Joe Vincelli, and continued in the women's division with autumn winners Betty Nicholson and Mary Jane White. The Bear's put out their best numbers with Jack and Jim Draper, the first and second, thus leaving only one point out of a possible 15.

The running started up the Whirlwinds' season. Fred Shing ran the 200 yard hurdles and that with Holmes and Waite, and gave the team the only win in the track meet. Paul Erwin's score was at least 2.5 higher than it was at first, but the annual track meet was lost.

Bookey, fresh from three straight exhibitions was the hero of Maine. Hais, and last Saturday's Vassar victory, the Whirlwinds' triumph had to show up in shape.

Archibald, who led in the 110 yard hurdles and joined with Draper in the 440 yard hurdles was in the junior varsity. Jack Prindle, who had won the 440 yard hurdles a year ago, and had held the 140 yard hurdles, was in the junior varsity. Last year's varsity, however, had been the only one that could boast a winner.

Some people say the best way to judge a team is to look at its last game. This is not always the case. There were few games that could have been played better than the one that was played.

The team worked hard and they worked hard all season. Each game was a struggle to the end and the winning team was the team that worked harder.

Evans Discusses Land, People
In Final Lecture on Ireland

By Gerald N. McCarty '50

"How The People Made the Land," the second in the series of three Taliesin Foundation Lectures given this year by Professor Elwyn R. Brooks of Queens University, Belfast, Ireland, and in London, England, on Wednesday, the Brotherhood of Irish People which brought them here, and now they stand in the Irish continent.

The early immigrants were not necessarily of Japanese or British ancestry. They were of mixed stock, and well adapted to the rugged living conditions. In fact, Professor Brooks said that the people who were called "Irish" by the English were generally called "Scots-Irish," and that the Irish people were generally called "Scots-Irish." Existing as they did, mostly by farming and taking the land, they pleased the earlist pattern of Irish culture.

The Irish, from the time of their arrival, were not the same people that they are today, but rather a blend of English, Scottish, and Irish blood. This blend was not always harmonious, and resulted in a divided society.

Materialistic View of Judicary Reveals Values for Student Body

The chief objection to the Student Judicary system was that it was too expensive. The Student Council and House Presidents claimed it was too expensive, a valid objection. Many students will be very happy to vote for a system by which they will be judged. If they have a good system, there will be few students to object. That judgment would probably be harder than the decision of the House Board.

To those who wish to receive light punishment, this does not apply, nor will any student be taken from the system in any case. They are not recommended that they vote against the system. This, we realize, is not to your advantage, but while the system cannot be disinterestedly considered, only the best interest has been considered by the students.

First, in anticipation of that objection, clauses have been written into the plan to protect the students thoroughly. If it is not to satisfy the desires of the student judges, they might apply to a case of two book judgments — be fair, and if the student judges fail, and then, if the student board is justified, it may take the case to the faculty administrative committee. The latter group is an administrative machinery which provides for the appeal the student may always reach to the Dean. It seems that this method has been worked out and put into effect, may easily act as a means to lighten the rules that were upon the Student Body last fall. These rules set up a far more regulated student body social life than had previously existed or any rate, been codified at Bowdoin. Until the student elects to take some responsibility for their social life themselves there is little possibility that the rules will be changed except possibly to become more stringent. Furthermore, the students have been told that the more they do toward regulating themselves, the greater the possibility is that the rules will be lightened. A purely materialistic argument, this is probably the most powerful that may be presented for voting in the system.

The success or failure of the system is contingent, of course, on the character of the men who will make up the Judicial Board. The system of election outlined by the committee, which was prepared by the Student Council, was submitted to the Student Council, but the final choice of judges is left to the student body.

With some hesitation, then, we think that the Student Body should ratify the plan as set forth by the committee. It has been very good, and it may be a vital one. It is a possibility worth being given a chance. Support for it by a bare majority of the students, however, or even the tie with a small minority essential by the committee, does not mean, to us, student support. Unless the system is backed up by the students, we do not see that it can possibly work.

A real need, however, is that the students be interested, and be on the subject of the system. It is most definitely, as a careful reading of the system shows, in no sense a "duty system." Nor is it a place for the settling of personal grudges. You can have a week in which you consider yourself worthy of being voted out. You should give the matter deep consideration.

The letter from the Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi which appears in the Letters to the Editor column on this page is a good example of the kind of letter that the ORIENT prefers to receive and to print. It is well thought out, direct, and it does slightly exceed the 300 word length which the ORIENT prefers, and to the ORIENT, such a tradition — in terms of its own national — of outlining one week in last week's ORIENT is in regard to national finances. The letter disagrees with us, and that is the letter we consider worthy of being printed.

As last week's editorial practically demanded an answer to this letter, we must demand one. Our answer is that we think that Alpha Delta Phi is perhaps lucky, and certainly an exception to the norm, because national finances are probably not being weaker than in most others. Where finances are concerned, we still have differences! The forty dollars mentioned is less than the thirty that we believe, but we consider forty dollars much for the things they mention. While Alpha Delta Phi does not have trouble on the pressure issue, other houses do. The point of brotherhood fostered by nationalities, the letter states, is a difficult one to diagram. Very indeed, it is difficult. It is impossible because it is subsulous to the point of being almost indispensability.

Principle Of Self-Government Evident In Judiciary Set-Up

One issue of the American Revolution was the principle of self-government. That same issue is present on the Bowdoin campus now in a somewhat different form, but comparatively just as important.

We do not advocate a Revolution at this time. The Administration is more than willing to allow us to prove our majority. Student Council has worked on the idea of a Student Judiciary Committee for several months now, and as a result, a body has been set up which will supervise the conduct of the institution, both in principle and actual function.

This week we mentioned several reasons for accepting the proposal. Some are from a political point of view; some that acceptability would eventually result in the removal of certain undesirable characters, both in principle and actual function.

This week we mentioned several reasons for accepting the proposed body. Some are from a political point of view; some that acceptability would eventually result in the removal of certain undesirable characters, both in principle and actual function.

Self-government is a principle which most political philosophers, of which may be regarded as logical. If the system is conceived properly and the proposed body properly, it will complete the cooperation of the whole student body. But the first objection is present now, as is laterly named the proposals of the college community. It is our responsibility to take advantage of this opportunity which is being offered to us for the first time.

There is a certain element within the College which has scouted the idea from the start, an element which is refusing to help carry the weight of a plan which embodies student democracy. This irresponsible group could easily nullify the call of self-government at Bowdoin. If the plan is defeated, we assume that the Administration will interpret the voter to mean a complete lack of student interest in college regulations, and the logical conclusion would be more rules to "control the irresponsible student.

We strongly urge the unanimous acceptance of the Student Judiciary Committee.

Supervision Of Freshmen Needed

President Sills announced Monday that 225 new men would be entering Bowdoin in the fall. This is the largest freshman class ever, and the administration will have many new problems to face during the fall. Large scale accounts for many of the troubles of the college.

Among the most wrong with the college (and not its fault) are these:

1. The college is overcrowded, as more and more people are being sent to the college.
2. The college is overcrowded, as more and more people are being sent to the college.
3. The college is overcrowded, as more and more people are being sent to the college.

All of these complaints are having an effect on the faculty and students. There are many more students for the faculty to guide the poorly prepared or confused. Faculty aides are reduced to handling out warnings.

1. That the college institute a modified tutorial system (similar to that of English Universities) whereby seniors and juniors, under the supervision of the faculty, be required, as in need of work closely with a housemaster. At Bowdoin, the high grade of the student body would be helping education at Bowdoin.

Polar Bearings

By Robert Adams

Those who saw the recent basketball games with New England, Colby, and Tufts, the latter former and latter to be referred to as "Proti" and "Tufts," will agree that the University of Maine is one of the best of the three.

Last year, the Polar Bears, supported by Colby of the 129, 133, and 135, for the first time in its history, made the trip to the East, where it was met by a group of 20,000 fans in the stadium.

The game was on the morning of March 1, when the Bears were leading 129-3 by the end of the first quarter. The Red Sox were leading 129-3 by the end of the second quarter. The Bears came back to win, but it was too late. The Red Sox won, 133-3.

This year, the Bears may not be as strong, but they will be determined to win. They have a good team, and they will be led by a strong defense. The Bears' margin of victory will be large, but they will be happy to have a chance to win.

The game will be held on the morning of March 1, with the Bears leading 133-3 by the end of the first quarter. The Red Sox will be leading 133-3 by the end of the second quarter. The Bears will come back to win, but it will be too late. The Red Sox will win, 133-3.

Diamonds Drop To Tufts 12-3, Even Series Record By Nipping Bobcats 9-3

The Tufts College baseball team had a tough time dropping the ever-vigilant Tufts College team in the series match. The Bears took advantage of the situation and scored a run.

The Bears were able to do this by taking advantage of the slow game on the track. They were able to score a run by a hit in the third inning after making a slip. With two outs in the inning, the Bears scored a run.

Bobby Graff was the leading hitter for the Bears getting two hits and driving in two runs. The Bears scored in the third inning after making a slip. With two outs in the inning, the Bears scored a run.

Not Glaoting, Not Gloomy, But Glaoting a Welcome to Bowdoin

Welcome, all you bevy of babbling beasts, to Bowdoin. This is the last day of the first week of your college careers. This is the last day when the College Administration, the College faculty, the student body——in fact everyone——is entering into the spirit of the new year, trying to make it pleasant for you.

We are all sorry that several members of the staff are unable to be with us today. So much for the College of the Holy City. The College Administration, the College faculty, the student body——in fact everyone——is entering into the spirit of the new year, trying to make it pleasant for you.

Bowdoin Trackers Sweep

Trackmen Testify To Magee Honor

A news account of Los Angeles sports fields announced the election of Jack Magee, Bowdoin's distinctive track coach, to the Illinois Hall of Fame. He then received a long ovation, was paid to Magee for outstanding contributions to American sports.

He had previously been honored by the Illinois Bowdoin group, which had produced fifteen state championships in 15 attempts. He headed the Illinois team for nearly 30 years, and his influence was strong, even with undermanned teams. His squad had one time even won the Eastern Invitational.

It was a goal that he devoted his honors to: Bowdoin had won their twentieth state championship, and their reputation was on the rise.

He succeeds as a track master to have maintained excellence in Bowdoin. He has also challenged Olympic performers and has been cited for his contributions to American athletics. He has also been awarded the Illinois State Award, including the most notable Fred Trepel, 1934 Olympic hammer, and the National College Athletic Association record, and Niles Pyke, until recently head of the world's record for the 100-pound weight throw.

He had received a reputation for producing genuine championship teams at Bowdoin. We thank the Illinois Hall of Fame get a great man.

Bill Segal's of the Bowdoin track squad did more than merely participate in the meet, but actually performed. At a recent meet he set a Bowdoin record in the 1500 in a time of 1:15.5, and broke the state record in the 1500.

The meet was a big success, and Bowdoin had already turned over the key. The track team proved to be too strong for its allowed opponents, and the meet was well attended.

Lost Weekend

Jim Davis, who ran his neck to win the Bowdoin-Owen game, is off to a start this year. He won't be gone long, however, as he is supposed to return to the college on Saturday.

Eugene C. Seabrook, who will take over the coaching duties of the varsity basketball team, will be in charge of the team during the Bowdoin-Owen game. He is expected to make his debut in the game, which is scheduled for Saturday at 8 p.m.

Maine Game

The game, although marred by a total of 13 errors, did see Captain Johnny Petrie's diamond finish off the hit parade, resulting in three Maine pitchers for eleven outs. Dave Burke and Don Haire were both hit by them, but their win came with two outs, before

"If safety records were news..."

If safety were spectacular, it would be front-page news that Bill Jones and other telephone men drove 100,000 miles in a year without a single accident. But they tend to be a little too common for that sort of news.

Today, for example, Bill will drive a lot of miles. He'll guide his familiar green telephone truck through the heavy traffic of shopping centers, he'll go down darkened streets where children play, he'll travel slowly andBusiness as usual over the holidays. Bill will not be going out of town over the holidays, he'll be here. And every mile, every turn, will always be driven steadily and safely.

You see, Bill and the telephone company consider good driving as much a part of his job as installing a telephone. The truck which Bill drives is checked and maintained regularly, so it's always safety-perfect. He's also a lot of training in safety —training that covers all phases of his work.

Bill has helped put together one of the best safety records in the country. It's a record we're proud of—and so is Bill.

Nine Fraternities Elect New Officers for Fall Term

During the past week nine of Bowdoin College's fraternities elected officers. These include the Alpha Delta Phi and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternities. The elections were held at a formal banquet attended by the fraternity members and faculty advisors.

Academic Freedom Limited By State, Says Kirkland

"At the present time, the pressure against academic freedom comes from the government," Professor Edward Kirkland stated. "The government, through its various agencies, is trying to control what we call academic freedom."

The State of Maine has imposed strict rules on the use of state funds for research and educational purposes. Professor Kirkland argued that such restrictions infringe upon the freedom of scholars to pursue their research and teaching.

Polar Bears Take Lead In State Series Baseball As Colby Mules Bow 15-7

Johnston and Blanchard Handcuff Mule Batsmen

By Joe Kinman

Bowdoin's vastly outnumbered six runs and nine hits against the Colby Mules were not enough to keep the Bears from dropping a 15-7 loss to the Mules by the final score of 15-7. The Bears were outscored 5-0 in the top of the first inning, and never overcame the deficit, even as Johnston and Blanchard provided a three-run second inning for the Mules. The Bears were able to score five runs in the first inning, but never managed to score more than one run in any other inning. The Bears' inability to score runs consistently throughout the game led to their defeat.

Graduation Play Nears Completion

Although only three members of the council for the year '49 had been elected, Malcolm Siverson was elected temporary chairman to introduce to the new council, the problems which are currently facing the campus. The new constitution for the Student Council, drawn up this spring and presented to the Senate for approval last week, passed through almost every house unanimously. Four major changes from the old constitution were made in this one. Now, however, the Council has the right to expel any student who refuses to perform his duties. A change was made in the enrollment of the Council which will now be elected for one year. A change was also made in the re-election of any member who is to be re-elected for another year. The student body as elected at last week's ORIENT, was included, and a provision was made for the addition of a special committee which will be appointed by the president of the student body and may be selected from Siverson's list of students who are not elected to the Council. The new constitution also requires that a majority of the Council must be present at any meeting of the body, and may be elected from the list of students who are not elected to the Council. Spring Teams Outdo Themselves

Bowdoin's spring sports teams outdid themselves this season to the joy of fans everywhere. These performances were outstandingly impelled by the fact that three of the four varsity squads—baseball, track, and tennis—won state championships, while the golfers were second only to Bates's defending title.

Although the track and tennis teams retained their diadems from last year, the baseball team was the first to share the honor with Colby at Bates, and their first untimed title of the past 15 years. The pastime, after a swashbuckling autumn swing, was the only contest to be decided on the final day of the season, and was the only one in the state title race, and that one to a second Colby ace.

The best of the Bears, in the first of this season's meet, was the first to score 12 runs and two stolen bases, defeating Colby 16-2 and Bates 10-0. Bobcats, Bates, and Colby.

Bernie Johnson and Bobby Grady were chosen to lead the White Sox as they met the Boston Red Sox, a right-handed pitcher who has been lost for the year, and the White Sox's second baseman. Bernie, a catcher, was Bowdoin's first baseman and the only catcher on the roster for the year. In 1949, the Bear catcher was given the honor of leading the American League in bases, but the catcher was outscored by the Boston Red Sox's second baseman.

Tour Europe
The Meddiebemsters announce that their tour of Europe will begin on June 25th. As a part of their trip they will visit all of the European capitals and will also pay a visit to the birthplace of the Meddiebemster.

Of the women present at the luncheon today were special guests of the Society, including Mrs. Harry D. Gibson, chairman of the luncheon, and Mrs. John C. Title, who has been a member of the group for the past five years.

Yesterday a luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. John C. Title, who decided to return to the States for the summer.

Alumnus Opposes
Federal Subsidy, Aid, And Support

The appointment of the former Governor of Ohio, John W. Hildreth '25, to the presidency of Bucknell University was announced by Dr. Hildreth on Monday afternoon, August 31, and received widespread approval in the university community. Dr. Hildreth, who has been associated with Bucknell as a faculty member and as a trustee, has been a strong advocate of educational independence and has been a leading supporter of the university's financial autonomy. A statement from Bucknell's new head reads: "I am an American first and foremost, and I emphasize the word first, because I do not believe that every member of the university community is an American first. I am an American first, and I emphasize the word first, because I believe that the university should be an American institution, not a foreign one." Dr. Hildreth has been a leading advocate of educational independence and has been a strong supporter of the university's financial autonomy.

Schaap Explains Bowdoin Plan

In National Tour

The power of the human brain is tremendous. It is capable of processing vast amounts of information, solving complex problems, and creating new ideas. This power is made possible by the billions of neurons and synapses in the brain, which work together to perform a wide range of functions.

The neurons in the brain are connected to each other through a network of synapses. These synapses are the sites where information is exchanged between neurons. The strength of a synapse can change over time, allowing the brain to learn and adapt to new situations.

The brain is also capable of generating electricity, which is used to transmit signals between neurons. This electrical activity is responsible for the sensations we experience, such as vision, hearing, and touch.

The brain is protected by the skull and the meninges, which are layers of connective tissue that surround the brain. These structures help to cushion the brain and prevent it from being damaged by external forces.

The brain is divided into two hemispheres, the left and the right. Each hemisphere is responsible for controlling different functions, such as language, math, and spatial awareness.

The brain is also connected to the spinal cord, which is a long, central nerve structure that runs down the backbone. The spinal cord is responsible for transmitting signals between the brain and the rest of the body.

Bears To Challenge Record, Array of Midtown Prowlers

The battered Piele Bears (24-9) are the expected favorite to take a lead through most of the contest at Whirler Field, where they face a Wesmen team which is one of the best opponents for New York of late. The Wesmen are currently rated as number two in the country and are rated as one of the best teams in the state. An entire New York college league. They have a number of stand-up players, but they are three and two, and the Bears are not so strong there. Their opponents have more size and strength, and their record at the end of the season is included in the scoring picture.

The 1953 Midtown Bears record consists of 24 wins and 9 losses. They were led by Walter Reardon, who was the only all-American football player in the state. The Bears have a number of stand-up players, but they are three and two, and the Wesmen are not so strong there. Their opponents have more size and strength, and their record at the end of the season is included in the scoring picture.

On September 21st, the Wesmen will meet with Professor Donley A. Welch, president of the University of Wisconsin, and Alexander A. Small, president of the University of Minnesota, in the annual Masque Dinner. The occasion will include a special dinner for the President of the University of Wisconsin, and a special dinner for the President of the University of Minnesota. The occasion will include a special dinner for the President of the University of Wisconsin, and a special dinner for the President of the University of Minnesota.

Wesmen's Band To Sponsor Twelve Foreign Students

The Wesmen Band is scheduled to sponsor twelve foreign students from various parts of Europe and Asia. The students will be from France, Italy, Germany, Austria, and China. In addition, the students will be familiarized with American musical traditions and the Wesmen Band will provide an opportunity for the students to experience the American musical culture.

In terms of the language and culture, the students will have the opportunity to learn American musical traditions and the Wesmen Band will provide an opportunity for the students to experience the American musical culture.

Meddiebempsters Return After European Tour

In an article published in the Fall 1953 issue of the Wesmen Review, the Meddiebempsters are described as being one of the best English groups performing today. Their performance is described as being a complete concert program and includes a variety of English and American songs. Their repertoire includes songs such as "The Black-Eyed Pea," "The White Rose," and "The Sailor's Aria." The Meddiebempsters are known for their high-energy and engaging performances, and are considered to be one of the top English musical groups of today.

Barnes Completes Second Season On Kent Island

After a relatively inexpensive renovation, the second season of the Kent Island School was completed with the addition of a new gymnasium and a new library. The new gymnasium was designed to accommodate the growing student population and provide additional space for extracurricular activities. The new library was designed to provide a comfortable and inspiring learning environment for the students.

This is the second year that the school has been open. In the first year of operation, the school struggled to attract students. However, in the second year, the school was able to attract a larger number of students and was able to offer a wider range of extracurricular activities. The school has been successful in attracting students from a variety of backgrounds and has been able to offer a diverse educational program.

BUREAUCRACY IN MASSACHUSETTS HALL, OR DON'T EVEN TRY TO WIN ON CHAPEL CUTS

By Ephraim Chaldeonbly '48

And I say to you, "Don't even try to win on Chapel Cuts!"

"Regulations for Attendance at Chapel," Chaplain Stimson, as revised in the College catalog, are too restrictive. Students are expected to attend at least five services per week. The regulations are not fair to students who do not attend Chapel regularly.

Then began my scan. I didn't have to worry about the Chaplain's regulations. I had only to worry about the College's attendance policy. I found that only one day's absence from Chapel on any day of the week was excused. After that, the Chaplain would deduct a "false" from my record.

A poll taken of the members of the College showed that most students were not satisfied with the Chaplain's regulations. The majority felt that they were too restrictive. Several students said that they were planning to skip the services that they did not attend on a regular basis. The poll also showed that many students were not interested in attending Chapel services.

The poll results were summarized in a report to the Chaplain. The report recommended that the Chaplain consider revising the regulations to allow for a greater degree of flexibility in the attendance policy.

The Chaplain has not yet responded to the report. However, it is expected that the regulations will be revised in the near future. The students are hopeful that the Chaplain will be more lenient in the future.
This Is the Week

"A Bird in the Hand" is called "A Bird on the Tree Too" in various languages. The reason for this is that the proverb means that it is better to have what you can see and use than to hold out for something that is not possible. The proverb is used to encourage people to take advantage of opportunities as they come rather than waiting and hoping for something better.

What is Christlihood?

Subject of Vernon's Sunday Chapel Talk

Last Sunday morning during the service, the question posed by Reverend J. D. Vernon in his Chapel Talk Sunday, the essence of Christlihood. The theme of Reverend Vernon's talk was the importance of embracing Christlihood in our daily lives. The essence of this theme is that everyone should strive to become Christlihood in their actions and thoughts. Reverend Vernon pointed out that Christlihood is the foundation of our lives and that by embracing it, we can become more Christlike and closer to God. He used the example of his own life as an illustration of how to embrace Christlihood in our daily lives.

Bears To Meet Jeffs At Amherst Saturday

[Excerpt from page 14]...For a day's activity as planned for the Bears, who continued to couple their fans on the basis of getting on the field next Saturday to do their job.

The amherst team is deplorably in need of the help of the fans who will be on hand to cheer the boys along or end at all times. The fans of the bears are to be blamed for anything, and if one can concentrate their support to cheer the team and help in the home of their home and away games.

The bears are excited from the chance to play against another team that will be playing against another team.

Williams Seen As Powerful; Boys 2 Decisive Wins, 1 Loss

Hillville Boys Much Improved Over Last Year; West counties Even More so

By Frank Pagano

This year's Hillville football team is well poised to capture the victory title of the Super Conference. The team's members exhibit a good deal of upward progress and strength, with the defense being the main focus of their efforts.

In the last game against West counties, the Hillville team showed a great improvement in their overall performance. They managed to secure two decisive wins and one loss, which is a significant improvement from last year.

The Hillville defense has developed into a formidable unit, and they are expected to continue their strong performance in the upcoming games. Their strategy seems to be centered around solid blocking and tackling, which has contributed to their success against West counties.

Next week's game against the Hillville athletic field promises to be a challenging one for both teams. With the Hillville defense in top form, they are poised to make another strong showing against their opponents.
We refer to the weather as part of our environment, but the rain can impact our plans. If it's too wet, we might stay indoors, but if it's too hot, we might head to the pool. The temperature can also affect our mood and behavior. But the weather is not the only factor; it's also our personal experiences and expectations that shape our feelings and actions. So, while the weather may provide some context for our behavior, it's not the only thing influencing our thoughts and actions.

POLAR BEARINGS

Even Colby

It is common knowledge that cellar automobile articles are arranged on a home and away basis. This means that a team plays once on its own field and once at the home of its opponent in each two game series. This system is good, and deserve to be expanded for fall and all present football.

Why not go whole hog? Why not make all football games two years long, with each team playing the same two quarter hours considered as a half? Then the first half could be played on one field one year, and the second half on the other the next. Then, if the whole thing could only be made conventional, Bowdoin would own a 4:30 victory over Tufts, a 13-13 victory over Wesleyan, and a 9-12 to America. But these games are over, done, lost, and forgotten. The brand name diffused as a horse, and our friendly bear from the basement will soon be upon the scene.

And our Dominions to the north, the Maine of Colby will rendy down to Whittier Field for what may be the most underated battle of the current hundred-year.

The general consensus of opinion on the Colby campus has been that the teams start the time. "Well, we'll beat Colby, of course, and..." Wha? Colby was hot one year last year, no. State Series, and was streamlined by Tufts. And, when Colby came we've our victories in their first four games this year and were unable to defeat the team they best last year, this opinion turned serious them by the fans.

On the other hand, Bowdoin has one 1963 victory, hasn't lost a single 1963 victory, and streamlined other teams besides Colby has last. Let's put away the happy illusions and convince for a while, Bowdoin, in all appearances, doesn't have to. Colby looks good steady against America. They're improving steadily, they're smartly, and they're coming. Once our bears get too, they are there.

Williams Eleven Outshines Bears To Win In Rain 33-0

A definitely unexpected Bowdoin eleven dropped in a unanimous game with Williams last Saturday in the score of 33-0. After the game had been dominated by the huge "Whittler" of the minutes, the game ended with the score of 33-0, and the game went. The first half of the game lasted for 2 minutes, and the second half of the game lasted for 30 minutes. The game was played on a very rainy field and the players were soaked through the game.

The first touchdown came a few minutes later when Tiltines, bowing to its reputation as a steady running back, took the ball on the 24, started off tackle, cut to the outside, and led at enough of less than 40 seconds. Williams' solid three in the 2nd period came on a drive from the 10-yard line, behind a pitching block of Williams and a halfback.

The second score in the 2nd quarter was beautiful to watch. On a strong pass, the under the open field, and the ball was fumbled. Halfback Long recovery in the third quarter was an incomplete pass from Gordon Kellerman to his own end, and the ball was fumbled. Fullback Cullen kept the score from three when Gordon Miller was stopped on the 20 and fumbled the ball. Students Honored At Annual Ceremonies Of James Bowdoin Day

There were a lot more people present at the annual ceremonies of James Bowdoin Day on Friday afternoon. The list included class officers, faculty members, and other members of the student body. The ceremony began with the presentation of awards to the outstanding students of the year. These awards included academic excellence, community service, and leadership. The students were very proud to receive these awards and were happy to be recognized for their hard work and dedication.

In addition to the awards ceremony, there was also a special performance by the Bowdoin College Band. The band played a variety of music, including popular songs and classical pieces. The performance was very well-received by the audience, who clapped and cheered for the band.

The highlight of the ceremony was the delivery of the annual Bowdoin Day address by the President of the College, Dr. John Thompson. In his address, President Thompson spoke about the importance of education and the role of Bowdoin College in preparing students for a successful future.

Following the address, the ceremony concluded with a reception in the Alumni Center. The students, faculty, and guests enjoyed refreshments and engaged in conversation, discussing the events of the day and looking forward to the next year.

The annual Bowdoin Day ceremony is an important event for Bowdoin College, as it celebrates the achievements of the students and faculty members of the college. It is a time to reflect on the past year and look forward to the challenges of the future.

Freshmen Fathers To Attend Activities And Game Saturday

Over 200 freshmen fathers of Bowdoin College students are expected to arrive on campus this Saturday to participate in the college’s annual freshmen fathers’ weekend. The event is a chance for the fathers to get a glimpse of their children’s college life and to meet other fathers of freshmen.

The weekend will include a variety of activities, including a tour of the campus, a meeting with the freshmen, and a game with the college football team. The fathers will also have the opportunity to interact with other fathers of freshmen and to learn more about the college and its programs.

The freshmen fathers’ weekend is a tradition at Bowdoin College and is a chance for the college to welcome the new students and to show them the support of the college community. The weekend is also a chance for the freshmen to get to know their fathers and to feel more comfortable in their new college environment.

United Nations Seen Agent For World Understanding
Professor Allen P. Duquette, speaking in observance of United Nations Day, was the chapel speaker on Monday, October 24.

This year United Nations Day, the remembrance of the proclamation of the League of Nations on November 2, Mr. Duquette had been selected to show the closing message of the U.S. in the President, and already the high hopes of the first meeting are gone.

Mr. Duquette pointed out that even though the U.S. has made little progress on the dream that many great people are ready to see the organization. The historic goal that the U.N. has achieved is the great gap between East and West, in spite of all the disagreements, the world is getting bigger organized with itself.

Dinetta struck out all the great world feeling toward the one at hand. It is once again that standpoint might not give permanent success to global humanism. Through force we have a great problem in Europe and Japan.

The country on which the United States is now the biggest oil in world affairs. This brings the resultant quantitative and qualitative importance of the three countries. The United States has never been more important to the world than it is today. The will of the three countries is a national and international cooperation.

Mr. Duquette in conclusion, the United States is the country to lead the world to peace. As the United States, the world's industrial and military power, will fall into other phases. The programs must be made in cooperation with all of the nations of the world or we will not expect a happy end.

Dame, Miller To Speak At Bates Game Rally
There will be a football rally at 10:30 on Friday evening in which the Alpha Delta Phi, House, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Sigma Chi will participate. The rally will be held on the north end of the field.

John Zmachinski, 1911 - 1949

At the close of his address on "The Need of Faith" in Chapel on Friday afternoon, October 29, Professor M. J. Sills read the following memorial address for John Zmachinski, Inspector of Economics, who was killed Saturday in a sailing accident.

"Little thought when I was preparing this address that we should by this afternoon mourning the tragic and untimely death of one of the members of the faculty, one of those experiences that makes so wonderless and so meaningful our Christian faith. In the very short time that John Zmachinski taught here he had already won the respect and esteem and affection of faculty and students alike. I remember well telling him in an interview last summer that he had two ambitions, one to be a good economist, and the other to be a good teacher. He certainly went on the way to become a good man in his chosen field of economics, and he was nearly an unusually good man.

He was much more interested in his students than in the whole of his professional life. He had a genuine concern for the welfare of his students, and he worked to make them more effective in the world of business. His influence was felt in the lives of his students, and he was remembered with much affection and respect.

John Zmachinski was a man who had the ability to inspire and motivate others. His presence was felt in the lives of those who knew him, and his memory will be forever cherished by those who were fortunate enough to have known him."

He had a genuine concern for the welfare of his students, and he worked to make them more effective in the world of business. His influence was felt in the lives of his students, and he was remembered with much affection and respect.

John Zmachinski was a man who had the ability to inspire and motivate others. His presence was felt in the lives of those who knew him, and his memory will be forever cherished by those who were fortunate enough to have known him."

Pledges of Sigma Nu Provide Entertainment

The Sigma Nu pledge drive continued this week with a Bowdoin College football game on Saturday, October 29. The game was televised on CBS and was watched by a large audience.

After the play of "Almanac" and "Ragtime" bands, the week closed with a dance on Monday, November 1. The dance featured music by the "Barnes Band" and was enjoyed by all who attended.

Masque And Gown Dedicates Season

"Masque And Gown" is the premier musical production of the College, and it is dedicated to the memory of the late President Charles A. DeWitt. The show features musical numbers, dance routines, and a large cast of student performers.

Temperatures Stagnate in Students

The weather in Brunswick, Maine, has been relatively stable, with temperatures hovering around 50 degrees Fahrenheit. This has made it a perfect day for outdoor activities, and many students have been enjoying the pleasant weather.

Rossie Moves Against Mules

Sprague, Wheeler, Hare Elected To Offices At Outing Club Meeting

At the second meeting this season the Bowdoin Outing Club elected Charles Franzen '48 president, John F. Sibley '49, vice-president, and Donald H. Hure, '49, secretary-treasurer.

Professor Allen Gilman is serving as faculty advisor.

The program for this fall includes further clearing of the field at Bradley, meeting of the official and playing for the benefit of the fund for Camp and Travel Grants.

Dick Wheeler, an intercollegiate team, will be taking the 30th University Division during the year, and will be playing in Band and Winter Sports, and Fridays at 7:15. Dick Wheeler will go to the outskirts of Brunswick where they work with Wheeler.

On different weekends small groups from the Club have taken trips to Stalines Mountain. Over the weekend of November 14, and 15, Kotsheff is planned. The party will be limited to transportation involved, and it may be necessary to make the trip and stay at Kotsheff. The party will be brought back to campus at the completion of the trip.

Underdog Mules Surprise Bears With Deadlock 7-7

In front of one of the smallest crowds ever to witness a big game at Whitfield Field, Bowdoin Club (underclassmen) 7, Bates College (upperclassmen) 7, the Mules surprised everyone as they fought for the stake of the $1,130

Harrington's attempt to cross Bobcat's lead from home. Harrington, who was surrounded by four defenders, was unable to go any farther.

Another latest to take into consideration tomorrow is that the underclassmen are playing their last home game of the season.

This game should come as a surprise to the upperclassmen, who have been accustomed to playing with the underclassmen and against each other in the past.

The game was won by the Mules on the strength of a 7-7 tie in the third period. The game was played in front of a crowd estimated at 200.

In the first period the Mules were aggressive and were able to score four goals. In the second period the Bears came back and were able to score three goals. In the third period the Mules were able to score three goals. The game was played in front of a crowd estimated at 200.

THE BOTA Workshop Cast

BOTA Drama Workshop To Present Wilde Comedy

As its first production this year, the Dramatic Workshop of BOTA will present a condensed version of Oscar Wilde's play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," revised and directed by Herbert L. Gould, 30, and played WEDNESDAY at 8:15 P.M.

The production is a comedy of manners set in England in the 19th century. The story concerns the exigencies of upper class society, or, as Professor Samuel payment. The title has a double meaning, for the two leading parts are played with such verve by two men who are not Evert nor so much Earnest but Let's face it, as Earnestly as they can.

The action in the production is staged in an upstage, modern day production of "The Importance of Being Earnest." The cast includes Howard E. Lusder, 30, who was seen last season in "A Farewell," and Cynthia Webb, who will be seen as Cecily in "The Importance of Being Earnest." The production is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Lusher.

Major Ed Wall, Harvard, '40 Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force

Born in Boston, N. W., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public high school in 1937, entered Harvard the same year, where he excelled in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a world of jobs from laundries to baby sitter, received his A.B. degree in 1940.

He enlisted in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second lieutenant.

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his captaincy in a U.S. Army Air Forces college training program, receiving his L-5 degree in 1946.

Now, he is confident about his future and expects to go to work as a pilot and flight officer soon after he is discharged. A trip Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive ... with a challenging career.

Curtis String Quartet To Present Concert Today Night

Tilton To Assist Quartet In Featured Quintet By Schumann
At 8:30 p.m., tomorrow evening, the Curtis Quartet, under the leadership of Mr. Paul Schumacher, will present the Tilton Piano Quintet at the Bowers Concert Hall. This concert will be held in the honour of Mr. Charles E. Tilton, the benefactor of the Bowers Concert Hall, and will also serve to bring the Curtis Quartet to the attention of the general public.

Bowers Quartet No. 4, Op. 4, No. 2

This composition is one of the most beautiful works of Schumann, and is quite deservedly popular in the concert halls of the world. The last movement of this work has a sectional form, which is quite characteristic of the German masters of the 19th century.

Agreement About Initiation Week Fails To Clarify Hazing Problem

With initiations over, hazing for the year 1949-50 should be a thing of the past. Many things about the "initiations" of freshmen who are not willing to "be a good boy" and "be a good girl" have been brought up. We are told of abuses in freshman classes during that week. Such an agreement would not stop abuses, but will tend to give the freshmen an idea that it is not something to be feared or expected. It is rather certain an agreement which should be easy to keep. But like any good thing, it needs time to grow and be established. It will take a while before such an agreement can be made strong enough to be effective.

First, one department decided that since they could give no guarantees, they would not participate. This is not a new thing in hazing. Secondly, the faculty in general has not been asked or requested to participate. It is not certain that if the faculty were willing to participate, they would be able to keep hazing from happening. Therefore, this agreement is a step in the right direction, but not enough to stop hazing.

Two freshmen sent members of their pledge delegation on their own to Brown's Spring, New York, and New York City.

The two freshmen used extremely poor judgment, and should be severely criticized. Obviously the department that tried to gain the issue was not the one interested in hazing.

Whether or not hazing is a good thing is not up to the ORIENT to decide. It is extremely difficult whether it does any good, but the fact of an agreement to stop it is a step in the right direction. We are not opposed to any agreement that would be a step in this direction. We believe that if we can stop hazing in any way, it is a step in the right direction.

Further, the survey of freshmen grades this year, indicates that freshmen who participate in hazing problems have a lower average grade than those who do not participate. Further, the Class of 1953 is doing better than any other class in the world. We believe that this is due to the fact that freshmen who participate in hazing problems have a lower average grade than those who do not participate.

Hooten '47 Discusses Reversal Of Principle Of Giving And Receiving

"We have been told that a large part of the problem of giving and receiving is that freshmen do not understand that freshmen who receive something, rather than give it away, are doing something wrong. This is not true. I believe that freshmen who have received something, rather than give it away, are doing something right. This is a matter of opinion, but I believe that freshmen who have received something, rather than give it away, are doing something right."

Mr. Hooten, a former teaching assistant in the English Department, graduated with a B.A. degree in 1947. He spoke about the principle of giving and receiving, and said that it is important to understand that freshmen who have received something, rather than give it away, are doing something right. This is a matter of opinion, but I believe that freshmen who have received something, rather than give it away, are doing something right.

Vocational Test To Be Given Nov. 9

The Strong Vocational Interest Inventory, which will be used to help freshmen make decisions about their vocational training, will be given to freshmen on Nov. 9. The test will be taken by freshmen in the first semester of their freshman year. The purpose of the test is to help freshmen make decisions about their vocational training.

6,000 See Polar Bears Whitewash Garnet 19-0; Brilliant Defense Highlights Alumni Day Performance

White Net 20 First Downs, 454 Yards By Land And Air

By Frank Pagano

The Bowdoin football team overwhelmed a bayonet-borne wire 6,000 fans at Whitten Field last Saturday to win a tie for first place in the State Series with Marcy, the record 19-0, 20-point victory over Maine at Brunswick.

The Bears played a strong defensive game from the start and, as the game progressed, the Alumni defense assumed the rôle of the offense and dominated the Bears. As the Alumni offense started to turn the game into a rout, the Bears responded with a strong defense to keep the game alive.

In the second half, the Alumni defense dominated the game, holding the Bears to just 7 points. The Bears were finally forced to punt, and the Alumni defense recovered the punt on the 50-yard line.

On the next play, the Alumni offense moved the ball downfield and scored a touchdown on a 2-yard run by quarterback Mark Hawes. The Alumni kicked the extra point to complete the scoring.

The Alumni defense held the Bears to just 7 points in the second half, and the game ended with a final score of 20-7 in favor of the Alumni.

Sophomores Name Candidates For Election Tuesday

The Class of 1952 will elect three class officers when they meet in the chapel on November 8.

Last week the sophomore delegation of each fraternity voted three candidates for each of the class officer positions of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

The Student Council will conduct the balloting on November 8 in the chapel. A polling basket will be set up and the individual slate vote, in order of preference, for at least a majority of the candidates in order to make his ballot valid. While he doesn't have to vote for all the candidates, he must cast his vote for at least six in order to be considered a legal ballot.

The results of the Class of 1952 elections will be announced by the ORIENT in its issue of November 9. All of the fraternities and the independents will receive copies of this election ballot. The candidates are as follows:

President:
Adrian L. Ashman—Ashland, a member of Delta Upsilon and a junior from New York. He is a member of Farewell, the sophomore basketball team, and is active in interfraternity activities.

William E. Soffra—Stonington, a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and a sophomore from New York. He is a member of the sophomore basketball team, and is active in interfraternity activities.

Vice-President:
Bennett W. Senior—Bennett W. Senior, a member of Theta Chi Fraternity and a member of the sophomore basketball team, and is active in interfraternity activities.

Secretary:
Charles B. Bennett—Charles B. Bennett, a member of Alpha Tau Omega and a freshman from New York. He is a member of the freshman basketball team, and is active in interfraternity activities.

Treasurer:
John A. Wolfe—John A. Wolfe, a member of Sigma Nu and a junior from New York. He is a member of the junior basketball team, and is active in interfraternity activities.

1952 Presidential Candidates

Playoffs Underway As Bekes Oppose Beta, Zetes Play Sigma Nu

The first of two interfraternity touch football playoffs scheduled for Tuesday, will see the Bekes, upscale champions of League A, square off against the Zetes, upstart team for this fall. The Bekes were scheduled for a battle with the Zetes last week, but due to a variety of reasons, the game did not take place.

The Bekes are scheduled to play against the Zetes this Tuesday night at the football field located on the Bowdoin campus. The Bekes have been preparing for this game for several weeks, and are expected to be a formidable opponent. The Zetes, on the other hand, have been working hard to improve their skills and are looking forward to the challenge.

The Bekes have already played against several teams this season and have emerged victorious in all of their games. The Zetes, however, have yet to play against another team, and will be looking to make a strong impression in their first game.

The Bekes are favored to win this game, but the Zetes are not expected to go down without a fight. Both teams have been working hard to prepare for this game, and it is sure to be a thrilling match.

The game is scheduled to start at 7:30 PM, and will be held on the Bowdoin campus. Admission is free to all spectators, and the game is sure to be a highlight of the fall season.

Bowdoin Polar Bears Whip Black Bears Of Maine 18-0: Victory Assures White Of First Place In State Series

Bates-Colby Game On Friday Will Decide Final Standings

By Jack Standford

The Polar Bear finally did it; he beat the Black Bear in his own field for the first time in Bowdoin history. The Bears got a home victory from Orono, but now are all in, and for the first time in the history of the two schools, the Bears will be the Potomac League champions.

The game was played on Friday afternoon in front of a packed audience at the Bowdoin arena. The Bears were led by their star quarterback, John Smith, who directed the offense with precision. The defense was bolstered by the efforts of Bill Jones, who intercepted three passes in the game. The Bears' victory assured them of the first place in the state series, and they will now face Bates-Colby on Friday in a crucial game for the championship.

Chew And Van Orden Chosen As Delegates For West Point Conclave

Ralph H. Chew '90 and Richard M. Van Orden '90 have been chosen to attend a Student Conference at West Point to be held at West Point from the evening of Dec. 2, 1949, to Dec. 3, 1949. The conference is a part of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity, and is active in the political parties. Van Orden is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

The purpose of the conference is to bring the student body together with their college counterparts to discuss the following topics:

1. To produce an enduring, informed, intelligent, and responsible emphasis of the student body in the field of politics and to discuss the role of the student in politics.
2. To test, at the college level, the decisions made and the actions taken by the student organizations.
3. To present a program of inter-fraternity and inter-friendship activities in the field of politics.
4. To clarify the rules, regulations, and procedures of the organization.

The main topic of the conclave is the future of the United States and the role of the student in that future. The conference will be held at the West Point Military Academy.

Analysis Of Present Muddle Shows Need For Change In Chap System

In a recent issue of the Amherst "Student," there was an editorial which presented the great tradition of compulsory chaplaincy, the crux of religious instruction and defense of Christianity which becomes reforming as the "Student" described it. Chaplain service is "nothing more than a rendezvous for light- hearted or intellectual young ladies to make converts or to carry on their work of distraction."

It went on to describe the great effect that mass meetings have had on the girls and the moratorium on the Chaplain System. The author argued that the Chaplain System is completely ineffective in conveying religious instruction and that its only purpose is to provide a social event for the students.

At Bowdoin the situation is as bad if not worse. The students attend the required number of classes, if they are not conducting chaplain services. The Chaplain's group or posse or some form of organization for these chaplain classes. Any student who would be able to forget to have his book or his newspaper at the meeting would be met at the door by the chaplain. The chaplain members were considered successful chaplains if they could finally convince the group of these reasons, which we actually did it in a considerable face.

It might be said that there is a necessity for some devotee chapel before chaplain services become a complete farce, but unfortunately other signs of danger already exist. This fact was revealed by purchasing religious at Bowdoin now. Dr. Chester W. Goodwin's definition of religion ought to be it is to be "received in college." It must be fought for. — for all of God's truth. It must be fought for and taught, and be taught for the sake of the students. Otherwise the situation is not identical with them if they are not "recepted in college." There is no place where a religious spirit is more completely absent than in the college chapel. It is a place where students have attended an apathetic congregation, or it is a place of sermons and, as such, is also a place of worship unlike that which exists.

At a time when the world needs "honest, real, and practical, religion," it seems that a definite change in this diametrically opposed to the present system. The idea of changing the present chaplain system is not the answer, since religion carries the penalty of prohibition for non-believers. It is a prejudice of God and his work. If a chaplain speaker can do more than make pamphlets for his religion, he deserves to address empty pews.

John W. Colin of the Hartford Times summed up the situation in his column calling out the editorial which alleged that the purpose of the present chaplain is not the answer, since religion is full of the idea of developing well-rounded individuals. State Championship, 1929, is a good, solid game for the team. Whether we shall bow down to the inevitable tragedy of defeat there is a little matter of a half measure of victory. The Polar Bears' performances for the past two years have been considerably those that would have won the Bowl, every indication points to three more. In 1927, the White would surely have been on top of the college gridiron. As it is, the team may even stand in Baltimore for the coming year.

This year Maine started Colby's 3-point deficit of favor for the other side. The Black Bears dropped their third block in the series by a factor named Walker Hagg and to Colby a pair of aimed bullets. The reason: the Polar Bears are a very tough outfit and well considered. The base of the game was well down the line of scrimmage on the first half. The Polar Bears were in a black suit and had piled up 300 feet of rushing yardage. Den maculata was the right man to go after the Black Bears. But the game was black by a decision of the officials. And now, with the polar bear a 16-point lead over Colby, the game is still on. This year was Bowdoin's third game of the season. The Bear heads were down the line of scrimmage on the way to their 1927 victory. With Colby the leading scoreboard, the Bears went on for 16 points of their own and put the game out of reach.

Sills States Need For Individual Solution
Of Discrimination

Professor E. T. Tilton, of Bowdoin, said in an interview with the Maine Sunday Telegram that Sills "is the candidate of his own individual solution. The speech was made in response to the news that Sills was meeting with President Kennedy at the White House.

Mr. Tilton said that Sills was meeting with President Kennedy to discuss the situation in Maine and that Sills was interested in the possibility of a Maine solution to the civil rights problem. Sills has been a strong advocate of civil rights legislation and has been a vocal opponent of segregation in Maine.

Mr. Tilton said that Sills was interested in finding a way to resolve the civil rights issue in Maine and that he was hoping to find a solution that would be acceptable to both blacks and whites. Sills has been a member of the Maine House of Representatives for many years and has been a strong advocate of civil rights legislation.

CAMPUS FAVORITE

THE MANHATTAN KEG COMPANY

1914, The Manhattan Keeg Co.
Solution For Lipstick Problem Found In Orient Editor's Mail

In general the ORIENT has maintained an editorial policy of truthfulness on the Bowdoin campus, and not treating subjects of importance in a way that we think was handled by the campus and we will depart from some of these usual policies. We will not attempt to maintain the personal characteristics of any of the writers.

The ORIENT is a weekly, but occasionally publications of the same kind, such as pamphlets, in the Democratic National Committee recently sent a pamphlet entitled "A New Era in World Affairs," containing "Socialist Speeches and Statements of President Truman." During the Convention we received a number of these, but the first was the "The Challenge of the 20th Century," that of greater significance than any of them, seems to us, a statement which deals with the situation of the world and the nation, an excellent testimony to the progressive nature of our age.

"The Plastic" is another element of modern life, which is almost too much for a philosophical approach. Because the atoms, the brochures, the spirit, the breadth, the vision, the plastic mind and the human mind are all at stake, and these are the risks of this young planet.

There is no question that more entertaining husbands have been betrothed, more happy liaisons have been entered into, more romantic affairs have been undertaken, more legal boudoirs have been made by the lipstick than by anything else in history. Science invented it, advertising sold it, and the trade, as usual, was left holding the bag.

The proof is, advertising, which we will not name, consists of a plain handkerchief, in a cover of red, and a design that has been carefully designed, to remove any reminiscence which may remain in the nose after a long kiss.

The tremendous scope of this information, we feel, is something of the entire campus, not to mention the great body of Bowdoin students, should know.

Condition Of Activities Seen As Generally Favorable At This Time

Yes, we do think that there are a few nice things about Bowdoin, particularly things that have happened this fall. We cannot say the campus has been exciting (as far as we know), but, for example, we think that in the field of extra-curricular Bowdoin is decidedly better than it has been for some time.

Yet we do intend this as an apology for recent editions and the statement of facts have been largely critical of various aspects of the College. If the ORIENT feels something that it considers wrong about Bowdoin, we shall continue to say it is wrong.

The Music Department almost perpetually rates favorable comment, through the eyes of many things of the Musician concert that the reviewer, for one, did not, he turned his support of his personal access. The concert band has been organized, and has a credible leader in a beautiful way.

The Multiculturalss, the favorites of many, have been performing fairly regularly, and we are told that the music department's voice, in one way or another, indicates a better product in the future.

Mem Hall Facilities Inadequate For Use Of Gown: A New Theater

The Majors and Gowns are producing four one-act plays this Tuesday, in Memorial Hall. The beauty of the outside of this theater is more than it's worth, for few people will argue. The inside, particularly the auditorium, is also an interesting topic of conversation. For two weeks, the students have been working on the inside of the building all the time. The inside, especially, the physical arrangement of the34, and cannot afford. This have to work, practice, and get the gowns.

One argument used in the past by opponents of a Bowdoin certainly should support— the building of a theater— was that if Harward's far larger institution, had not the below, Bowdoin didn't need one. These people argued that the students at Williams and Andover, both of them are campuses in competition with Bowdoin than it is Harward. But supporters of the Harvard argument might be interested in an editoral in the "Columbia", which says, "These people are right, and that a university is looked up to for its esteem in the liberal arts should have no theater. Hand "callously" for "university" and the Bowdoin citizens in general.

A feature president of the Majors and Gowns summed up that organization's position a few years ago. He called the Memorial Hall stage a maskand, and described the problems of setting up and tearing down the stage for every lecture, concert, or club rehearsal, and of finding enough rehearsal time when the other activities, including, now, hours of class time, took place.

Perhaps many of these problems will be overcome when the Smith auditorium is completed. But the Music Department will have enough room for large groups to render music in the matter of hours of use of the auditorium, and the problem of the general adequacy of the Mem Hall facilities will not be answered.

Plans have been drawn up and discussed three times for a solution to the problem of Bowdoin's auditorium. An auditorium has been accepted, and, on the list of seventeen fund projects, the auditorium is listed first. This should not be construed into a very important part of a liberal education program. The Majors and Gowns have continually produced plays in spite of the handicap: their work the term has been especially cosequently — that is, the experimental production of an original play for an undergraduate, done on style in the Modern Union house. But even this play might have been more effective if it had been done in a theater.

To Award Cash Prizes

The Camera Club today announced its plans for a College-wide, wide-angle photography contest to be held during the next holiday recess. The contest is open to all members of the College community, students, faculty and administration alike. Each photograph entered may not be larger than 8 x 10 inches, and must be the work of the photographer. The winners will be announced at the beginning of the New Year. The contest is hoped that there will be a good number of entries. No judging board will be placed in the Machine Room Lobby on Thursday and entrants should have their name and College affixed to the back of their pictures will post them on the board located in the Machine Room Lobby. The judges will be announced later. It is hoped that the contest will be a success. The judges' decision will be final and no judging board will be placed in the Machine Room Lobby on Thursday.

REVIVAL OF WORLD! FEDERALISTS URGED BY CONCERNED STUDENTS

A writer in this week’s ORIENT declared that it was “impossible to overestimate the importance of the Federalist movement in the late eighteenth century.” The writer continued, “It is not possible to exaggerate too much the importance of the Federalist movement in the late eighteenth century.”

The writer went on to explain that the Federalist movement was “not only a political movement, but a social and cultural movement as well.” The writer argued that the Federalists were “the first to recognize the importance of education and the arts.”

The writer concluded by saying that “the Federalist movement was a crucial step in the development of modern democracy.”

In response, a student wrote a letter to the ORIENT expressing their concern about the revival of the Federalist movement. The student wrote:

“I am writing to express my concern about the revival of the Federalist movement. I believe that it is important to remember the lessons of the past and to avoid repeating the mistakes of the past. The Federalists were a dangerous and divisive group that threatened the stability of the new nation. It is important to remember that the Federalists were a dangerous and divisive group that threatened the stability of the new nation.

I urge you to consider the historical context of the Federalist movement before supporting its revival. Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

The recent student editorial comments on the "political divisions" of the Government Department are not without reason. The fraternity system is an anachronism. In fact, the whole concept of a fraternity system has been criticized by students, faculty, and alumni. It is time that the University acted to eliminate this system. The University should consider the following steps:

1. Ban the fraternity system altogether.

2. Establish a central council to which all fraternities and sororities must report.

3. Institute a comprehensive system of student discipline that would apply to all students, regardless of their fraternity or sorority affiliation.

4. Require all students to participate in a form of student government that would be representative of all students, regardless of their fraternity or sorority affiliation.

The petition to the Editorial Board expresses the sentiments of many students. We urge the University to take action to address these concerns.

Sincerely,

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

I am writing in response to the editorial in the recent issue of the ORIENT. I agree with the观点 that the fraternity system is outdated and should be abolished. However, I would like to add that the University should also consider the following steps:

1. Establish a comprehensive system of student discipline that would apply to all students, regardless of their fraternity or sorority affiliation.

2. Require all students to participate in a form of student government that would be representative of all students, regardless of their fraternity or sorority affiliation.

White Tankmen Sink MIT: Hill Breaks 220 Record

By Larry Norton

Bowdoin's strong swimming team traveled to Boston last Saturday and came home with a 47-18 and three new records. Captain Dean Hill of South Portland made the first in the 220 yard free with a time of 2:18, breaking Tufts' record of 2:20.2 set by Ken Scobie in 1961.

Steve Scott of the swim team had a 1:50.2, the best in the 100 yard back, breaking Scobie's record of 1:51.8. But Steve's best was the 200 yard breast which he clocked at 2:37.6, breaking the 2:39.8 that Jim McFarland of Tufts set in 1960.

Hill, who did not swim, was out for the 1,650 yard race. But the Bearswon the race with a time of 16:57.5.

New Hampshire Cagers

Defeat White 53-43

Bowdoin's basketball Polar Bears won a close game over the New Hampshire Wildcats last Saturday, 53-43. The game was a hard-fought battle with both teams playing full court press and both teams holding the ball for long stretches.

The game started out with the Wildcats on top, 10-7, but the Polar Bears came back to tie the score at 13-13. The lead changed hands several times before the half, with Bowdoin leading, 23-21, at the break.

In the second half, the Polar Bears continued to play well, and by the end of the game, they had pulled away to win, 53-43. The game was a hard-fought battle with both teams playing full court press and both teams holding the ball for long stretches.

The Polar Bears' winning streak continues, and they now have a record of 5-2 for the season. The team looks strong and is expected to do well in the upcoming tournament season.

Pucksters Take Tufts For 4-3 Win; Triumph Is First Victory Of Season

By Jack Steinfeld

Bowdoin took the boys from Tufts Saturday with high hopes of regaining their first victory. One of the reasons for this is that the two teams were only matched for the first two games, and the Bears were on top in the first half, but the Bears decided to shift it back to the third half, and the Bears were in the lead, 2-1, at the end of the third period. The game went on to be a tough one, with both teams playing well, but Bowdoin's backcourt managed to win, 4-3, and the Bears took their first victory of the season.
The Bowdoin System

1. The system applies only to honors, have exams, and final exams.

2. Each student shall sign a pledge, which shall read:

"By signing this pledge, I certify that I have not cheated on any examination, and that I have not assisted anyone else to do so.

The Bowdoin System is a new aid to the administration in controlling the distribution of grades and providing an efficient and orderly system of examination. The system will be in effect for the first time in the fall of the current year.

A Concerned Student

The Editor, Bowdoin Orient

Another aspect of our campus life is the "dents under discussion." Nothing nor our people purport to have a democracy, but the democratic process is being interfered with. There is a lack of freedom. "What you don't like is your business." How can there be freedom when our every action is being watched and recorded? If freedom means anything, it means that one is not controlled or followed by the eyes of others. Can the discussion of our campus life be considered freedom? Freedom of speech is not freedom or democracy when we are being watched by the eyes of others and any action may be recorded. Is it not possible to give an opinion about an issue without being followed? Employees of the "dents" should at least be anonymous.

Consideration of Honor System Requires Open Minds Of Students

I am writing to you to discuss the problem of the Honors System. There is a great deal of controversy over this issue, and I think it is important to look at both sides of the argument.

On one hand, the Honors System is designed to encourage students to work hard and achieve academic success. It provides a way for students to distinguish themselves from their peers and gain recognition for their accomplishments. It also helps to ensure that the college remains competitive in the rankings and reputation.

On the other hand, the Honors System can create pressure on students to perform at a level that is unrealistic for many. It can also lead to a culture of cheating, as students may feel compelled to do whatever it takes to achieve success.

In my opinion, it is important to approach this issue with an open mind and consider both sides of the argument. Ultimately, the decision of whether or not to adopt the Honors System should be made by the college administration, taking into account the needs and desires of the students.

Sincerely,

White Are Eliminated
From Scope Race
By Black Bears 50-44

The Bears were mathematically eliminated from the State Series last Saturday, and despite the fact that Black Bears from Ontario were able to win the last few minutes and down Bobcats 54-50.

The Polar Bears put up a gallant effort, but their ball control and free shipping to their mates was not well maintained by Black Bears, and the score was an easy one.

The Polar Bears jumped out to an early lead and often failed to hold on, as the closing minutes of the opening quarter. The Polar Bears again clicked to tie up the half, but the final five minutes of the first period, as Black Bears passed them by 20 points to 10, and in the second period, 34 points and tie the game up at 37.

Dick Loucks, who won the game high scorer for the Bears, was the key man in the January surge with his shrewd movements and effective passing.

The second half saw new blood, leading 17-17, ground steadily to the way four times as the number of one-on-one efforts increased, and they didn't score in 37 periods, and the Bears came out in the final period to gain an easy victory in the second period, 12-9.

The highlights of the Polar Bears' performance were in the second quarter, when they scored three times in a row,

White Tankmen Challenge
Williams Saturday

Williams' powerful swimming team will meet their formidable opponents of the week in the secondmw period of the New England Championship meet at the Dartmouth pool.

Williams, a team which Boivers have never been able to handle in a difficult round, will be the Bielolli Swim Meet, the New Hampshire Championship held on the Dartmouth pool.

The relax may still be the decision of the week, and may lead to a possible 100 yard relay, in which the New England Championship will be held in the New England pool.

The Williams team will be composed of seven swimmers from the team of the week, including the following:

College Approves ROTC As Governing Boards Meet

The withdrawal of a U.S. Army Transportation Corps Reserve Officer Training Unit from Bowdoin occurred one step closer to reality this week. A week and a half ago, a proposal to this effect was submitted by the Department of Military Science. This week the proposal was presented to the Governing Boards, who gave it their approval.

The withdrawal will not affect the members of the Reserve Officer Training Corps, who will continue to work towards receiving the commission they are expecting from the Army. The proposal is expected to be in the hands of the House of Representatives next week.

Acceptance Of "Bowdoin System" Would Be Disastrous To Bowdoin

Honor, yes. The system, no.

What, exactly, would Bowdoin have to gain by adopting an honor code as specifically proposed by the "Bowdoin System?"

Materially, the principal thing gained would be the privilege of keeping the system on the campus. There is an element of the "chasing the poison that is carried by students who cheat only to the extent that they can be called upon to do it. He would probably be cut down. We maintain, however, that we believe that students who were allowed to go only in quizzes and honor examinations where the opportunity is not out by the additional surveillance of the counselor's fellow student. In fact examinations of students, as a matter of fact, the student has only to go to the registrar and hand in his story with his name and每一个 responsibility for student studies by the student body that is organized to keep the standards of honor and the conditions of cheating when they do come up. It is a decision of honor for every student.

POLAR BEARINGS

Swimmers Tune For New England

Barstow's handwritten note came through in the first style last Saturday as they took the winnng and suffering Buffalo for a merry ride. The Polar Bears didn't have any trouble at all in winning up an early lead, and it was obvious after the first few minutes that the visitors were in for a battle. The action was rather hot and fast the first two and three laps of the race, but after that it cooled down a bit and the Bears took command.

Three were three pinions into action during the course of the race, a man in the Holy Cross, and the daughter of the state went at a steady speed, and the polar bears were leading by a good margin, but a bit of a battle was still able to lead the pinions parallel with a total of 22 minutes for his night's work. At one time, however, the final margin had been a little. A team has been found that the polar bears had a little of the only necessary,

The White freshmen had a close battle in a senior match last Saturday afternoon, but it left the March Saturday in a draw, as the visitors had a total of 45 points in the game. From the very start of the game it was apparent that the White men were much too much for the visitors, as they started out with a 16 point lead. At the 11th minute of the game, however, was 22 points in the second half of the game. The Polar Bears came back in the 22nd minute of the game, with the score tied at 25 all. The Bears took command and led by a 12 point margin, and the visitors could not catch up.

Smith Weekend Seen High Point In "Monsson Season" Program

It is impossible to estimate, just now, how many dates will be at college this Sunday, but from all appearances it should be a big weekend; it is, as a matter of fact, a big weekend for a series of smaller parties with dances sponsored by the Chi Phi, Beta Theta Pi, and Kappa Sigma houses, and less formal events at other houses.

With the credit cards to the houses which have taken the initiative in booking smaller parties or to the houses which have not, all dates have had an inviting appeal, and, at least for the coming weekend, perhaps for a few weeks past the spring semester, parties have been held at least once a week, perhaps, as a result of complaints in past years over the "full season in the gap between Christmas and Ivy homecoming.

This weekend should be climactic for the season. It will be highlighted, as in the past, by the annual Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Smith College Chici Club, followed by a dance in the gym held by the Union Chici Club, which has continued to be a men's club for the last year.

Many girls from Smith will form a nucleus of dates for a party, which, from all reports, will far surpass, in size at the very last, many previous "Spig of Ivy" parties, and perhaps even many of the larger parties which boys will attend; girls will be a great number of other dates.

As a matter of fact there's one big difference. Seven houses are being opened for girls, the justification being housing of the girls from Smith. Members of houses which have previously had the privilege of putting up non-Smith dates in return for the inconveniences of moving out of the house Club, who claims that publicity is not in their interest, is the House of Mayor, a new house of that year, that there will be more dates that can possibly be put up in seven houses, and even some houses that are open will have more, if the 77 Smith girls look for dates not at ten per house, why not open twelve with five per house? On such occasions as this, which should be big events, that many students will have to pay extra to put their dates up in a house.

Not Mere Mirror Of Opinion

Editorially speaking the Orient is not conceived primarily with setting the bit, as it were, and changing to the four corners of the problem in which others are involved, but it has developed an inherent leaning towards the development of an independent viewpoint on the head. It is interested, however, in discussing things which are not accomplished or not accomplished to the fullest extent and it is interested in expressing its own views on matters, not the nuanced opinion of others, and it is interested in expressing its own views on matters, not the nuanced opinion of others, and its opinions will be as far-reaching as an argument of the newspaper, and will be as strong in defense as an argument of the newspaper, and will be as strong in defense as an argument of the newspaper.

With this mind it is somewhat disconcerting to learn from a letter by a recent graduate that the news of the Orient is not being widely read in a western variety of a children's attempt to get into print. The Orient is a newspaper, and it is interested in expressing its own opinions on matters, not the nuanced opinion of others, and its opinions will be as far-reaching as an argument of the newspaper, and will be as strong in defense as an argument of the newspaper.

New England Swimmers To Participate At MIT Friday, Saturday

M.I.T. pool will be hosts to swimmers from 13 New England schools in the fall championships. For the first time in years, the pool will be open to the public, for three sessions during the weekend, each priced at 25 cents.

This year, M.I.T. expects to win at least four events, with Williamstown leading in the two relays, while other victories will be shared among Harward, Bowdoin, M.I.T., and Trinity. Williamstown has by far the strongest relay team, and with the exception of Trinity, every school has at least one swimmer who has broken a school mark in the past.

The most exciting events will be the two relays, with the closest finish expected in the 200-yard team-

Pool Team Needs Financial Support To Acquire Pre-Season Equipment

Wishing to increase athletic opportunities in the fall season, the swimming team is in need of additional funds to purchase their equipment. The team has already been approved to purchase additional equipment with the funds provided by the school, but more is needed to assist in the improvement of the team's facilities and equipment.

The team needs $5,000 to purchase pre-season equipment, which will be used to improve the quality of the team's training and competition. This equipment includes swimsuits, caps, goggles, and other essential accessories needed for training and competition.

The team is asking for donations from alumni and parents to help them achieve their goal. Any contribution, no matter how small, will make a difference in the team's ability to excel in the fall season.

Donations can be made through the team's website or by contacting the team's coach. The team's website is available on the school's homepage, and the coach can be reached through the school's email or phone number.

We thank you for your support and look forward to the fall season with hope and excitement. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of our students and help them achieve their athletic goals.
Students Defeat "Bowdoin System"

in the spring of 1930 Professor "Shakespeare' of Bowdoin College declared at the opening of the spring term that the "system" in which the students were being taught was unfair. The system was based on the idea that students should have freedom of choice in their courses. Professor Shakespeare explained that the system was necessary because it allowed students to choose courses that would best suit their individual needs. The students were pleased with this decision and adopted the system.
13th Biennial Institute
To Honor "Scarlet Letter"

Bowdoin undergraduates will have the opportunity to meet
F. Scott Fitzgerald, James F. Farrel, Rolfe Humphries, Barry Smith, and Mrs. Charles W. Davis in the Orono Institute during the afternoon of March
4th. "Bowdoin Reads," a week-long series of readings and discussions of the "Scarlet Letter," is sponsored by the Department of English and has been planned by Dr. George A. Heflin, dean of the college.

Gift to College

Florence Statute
Presented to College
By Colonel Furber

Mr. Henry J. Furber '91, Donor of Smythe Prize, donated the Florence Statute in memory of his father, Henry J. Furber.

Colonel Furber is himself a student of the College of Chicago in the Class of 1890, and a graduate of Bowdoin.
In 1908, after three years of study in Germany, he was awarded an honorary degree of Bachelor of Arts by the University of Chicago.

In 1904, Col. Furber was presi dent of the International Centennial Convention. He was associated with the University of France, specific ally to investigate and study the influence of French upon the American student. He has been an active member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Chicago. This membership is supportive of the school's interests in education and learning.

His father, with whom the Florence Statute is the benefactor of the College, had dedicated his life to the advancement of scholarship.

The statue was presented to the College by Col. Furber's father, in honor of the memory of his father, Henry J. Furber.

Swimmers Lose New Englands; Brown New Champion

Final Relay Gives Rivals Advantage Of One Point

In the final event of the New England meet yesterday, the Brown and Yale teams, leading Bowdoin at the last point, had a 490 to 488 lead in the Providence preliminaries. In so doing, the Bears and Huskies, bringing their first New England Championship to the showdown, scored the last point of the 40-year rivalry.

Williams, which had comfortably moved out of the Pennsylvanians, kept a narrow lead for the serious meet, with 135, while Bowdoin took 133, and Harvard, 92.

Cinderella Close Season; Down Boston College 73-43

The Polar Bears rounded out their basketball season last night by beating the Eagles of Boston College 73-43 in a meet which had plenty of crowd support.

The firsts from Boston just weren't strong enough to come much more than a little concern. Individual star Taylor was back on the court and Irving with a good release on the first shot, and Irving with a good release on the second shot, could have found much more heart breaking, but they had the balance of the game.

The Bears' backcourt won the game for the Bears, and the game was on. The Bears were in the lead from the start as they won the first three points in the new season.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

February 25, 1959

To the Editor of the Orient:

A misprint in your issue of March 5 resulted in a rather uncomplimentary presentation of the Baskin Memorial Chapel speakers. By the courtesy of the speaker we have been able to get a corrections list of the misprints.

John DeBret Navin, who spoke on February 12, does not claim that there are no great intellects among the clergy, but he does think that the Protestant church in the United States is not doing as well as it might. He believes that too many people have accepted the myth of Protestantism's omnipotence, and that this has led to a lack of intellectual vitality in the church.

Mr. Navin also mentions the fact that many of the prominent figures in the Protestant church have been foreign-born, and he suggests that this may be one reason for the church's lack of intellectual vitality.

Mr. Navin is a professor of religion at the University of Chicago, and he has been a outspoken critic of the modern church. His most recent book, "The Protestant Mind," has been widely praised by scholars and critics alike.

Sincerely yours,

REAL APPRAISAL DUE FOR EFFORTS OF INSTITUTE COMMITTEE

The 1950 Institute of Modern Literature does not begin until after vacation, and the extent of its success can be measured in advance. But a mere figure of merit is not enough; there must be a real appraisal of the work done. The real appraisal of the work should be given to the members of the institute.

Again sheltered by the two weeks by which this editorial precedes the Institute, it is easy to posit a success for it. Centrally ignoring the two weeks by which the various types of numbers are sufficient to give an indication of how it should go, the selection has been over a diverse field, covering almost every sort of literature. The committee has been well chosen, and the members will be able to give such a real appraisal of the work done.

Sincerely yours,

The Bowdoin Orient, Wednesday, March 22, 1959

WHATEVER THE AIMS OF ORIENT A NUMBER OF ISSUES ARE RAISED

Last fall the Orient made a statement of the dissatisfaction of the faculty at the general situation of daily life at that time. Perhaps it is fitting to note, now that a year has passed, that all the issues that were then raised have come true.

The promises made have been difficult to keep. The promises, that is, a promise of freedom with an accurate news of what is happening in Bowdoin, as such has been kept and is what might be called "honor." We are all aware of the fact that other spokesmen do not feel that the Orient, or the current events of the Orient, are kept secret, and so we have had to set for ourselves a policy of policy making, which in the Orient is not an easy task. We have had to set for ourselves a policy of reputation, which in the Orient is not an easy task. We have had to set for ourselves a policy of reputation, which in the Orient is not an easy task. We have had to set for ourselves a policy of reputation, which in the Orient is not an easy task.

Review Of Sports

With this issue of the GYM, we bring to a close both the February and the March sports, except for baseball, which will begin in April. Our March sports included basketball, track, and tennis. The basketball season ended with a series of games played against other schools. The track season was highlighted by the annual track meet, and the tennis season concluded with the annual tennis tournament.

The basketball season saw the team win several games, including a close victory over the rival school. The track team had a strong showing in the meet, with several athletes setting new records. The tennis team, however, struggled in the tournament, losing several matches.

Overall, the March sports season was a success, with several positive outcomes. The basketball team's victory lifted spirits and boosted morale, while the successful performances in track and tennis showed the hard work and dedication of the athletes.

TDs Win 28th Interfraternity Track Meet, Scoring in 12 Events To Rake 59 1/2 Points

Promising Pitching Staff to Aid Improved Nine

The 1950 baseball season promises to be a bright one for the Eastern College baseball team, as all departmental, especially the pitching, will be stronger than last year, and last year was good. The Eastern College team is expected to be one of the strongest in the country, and the team is expected to be strong enough to win the Eastern College championship.

The Eastern College team has a strong pitching staff, with three pitchers who are expected to be instrumental in the success of the team. The team is also expected to have a strong defense, with several players who are expected to be strong in the field.

Squaw Sues Leader

In White Key Sports

The Squaw Sues have been a successful team in the Interfraternity League (T-K-T) since the first year of the league's existence. The team is expected to continue its success in the 1950 season, with several players who are expected to be strong performers.

The team is expected to have a strong defense, with several players who are expected to be strong in the field. The team is also expected to have a strong batting and fielding team, with several players who are expected to be strong in these areas.

Polar Bear Wins Interfraternity Track Meet

In the 38th Eastern Interfraternity Track Meet last Saturday, April 17th, the Eastern College team finished first in 12 of the 14 events, and finished second in the other two events. The team scored 59 1/2 points, which is the highest score in the meet's history.

The team is expected to continue its success in the 1950 season, with several players who are expected to be strong performers. The team is also expected to have a strong defense, with several players who are expected to be strong in the field.
