Bowdoin Orient v.43, no.1-33 (1913-1914)

The Bowdoin Orient
SOPHOMORES WIN MEET

The 27th annual Exhibition and 18th annual Indoor Meet was held Tuesday evening, March 25, in the Gen. Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building. This, the first inter-class meet to be held in the new gym, seems to Bowdoinmen to mark the beginning of a new epoch in Bowdoin track athletics, a new epoch in which the increase in enthusiasm and endeavor shall be in a greater degree proportional to the increase in facilities which the new gym offers.

The Sophomores won the meet with 39 points, the Seniors being second with 30½ points, the Juniors third with 27½ points, and the Freshmen fourth with 20½ points. Haskell '13, captain of the Varsity, was the individual star of the meet, as he took first place in the 880 and 440 yard runs and second in the broad jump.

The Bate's Freshmen again defeated the Bowdoin Freshmen, though by a very small margin in a hard-fought race.

Brunswick High was to run Lewiston High for the High School championship of the State, but Lewiston was unable to appear. A Bowdoin 1915 four-man team raced Brunswick High and was defeated by the schoolboys.

The long-suffering Senior drill squad "came back" and took first place in the exhibition drills. The Sophomores, owing to their nonchalant manner of marching and their original execution of the dumb-bell drill, easily took fourth place, while the Freshmen were second and the Juniors third.

Perhaps the most interesting of the events were the relay races. The races between 1915 and 1916 were especially exciting. The first race resulted in a tie and when they ran again the Sophomores won by only a few yards. The summary of the meet is as follows:

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

Next Thursday evening, April 10, Bowdoin, Hamilton and Wesleyan will compete in the Triangular Debating League on the question: "Resolved, That a Tariff for Revenue Only Would Materially Reduce the High Cost of Living." Hamilton takes the place of New York University in the league. In Memorial Hall Bowdoin will support the affirmative side of the question against Hamilton, while at Middletown, Conn., the other Bowdoin team has the negative side against Wesleyan. At the same time at Clinton, N. Y., Hamilton and Wesleyan will debate, Hamilton having the affirmative. In the debate at Brunswick, the Bowdoin speakers will be Laurence A. Crosby '13, Alfred H. Sweet '13, and Paul H. Douglas '13. The Hamilton speakers will be Roy A. Porter '13, Hamilton C. Griswold '13, and Donald E. Stone '13, with William H. S. Cole '14 as alternate. Two of the judges at this debate will be Hon. Frederick W. Plaisted of Augusta and Hon. Nathan Clifford of Portland.

In the debate against Wesleyan the Bowdoin speakers will be Fred D. Wish, Jr., '13, James A. Norton '13, and Elwyn C. Gage '14, with George H. Talbot '15 as alternate. This team will leave Brunswick Wednesday morning for Middletown.

The Bowdoin teams have been holding a series of trial debates against each other during vacation and their supporters feel confident that they will make a good showing in the debates. Three of the speakers, Douglas, Wish and Gage, have had previous experience in the Intercollegiate debates.

McCANN TO COACH FOOTBALL

Announcement was made during vacation of the choice for next year's football coach, Thomas A. McCann of Bangor.
McCann was a star member of the Bangor High School team sixteen years ago and was known as one of the best high school players of the State. Instead of continuing his scholastic education he began professional coaching and since 1901 has been the well-known and formidable coach of Bangor High School. His teams have been known for their fast, aggressive playing and excellent team work. As a coach Mr. McCann has demonstrated his ability to make as well as develop players and can be counted on to produce a fast team at Bowdoin.

The Athletic Council and football committee made their choice after two months' investigation and consideration of the available coaching material in the country, and after personal interviews with many of the most likely aspirants for the position. It was their opinion that in consideration of the conditions necessary for a coach here, the material, etc., McCann is the best man to have charge of the squad. He has made football a profession ever since he commenced coaching and not only is familiar with the various formations and styles of play in use by the most prominent colleges, but has an inventive genius for meeting old situations by new methods. Although a backfield man himself, he has been notable for his proficiency in coaching line men. He has an attractive personality and is bound to be popular with the student body. For years he has followed the fortunes of the Maine State teams and is an enthusiastic Bowdoin man already by adoption if not by graduation.

With prospects very bright for one of the best squads in years, excellent facilities and a coach who has proved his ability to develop winning teams, the outlook for the football season of 1913 is very good.

WE'LL SEE YOU THERE!

Friday evening, April 11, Old Winter makes his last bow and dainty Mlle. Spring (equipped with snowshoes) receives the official "glad hand." For that is the night of the Big Spring Rally, when Bowdoin men meet to shake off that coma which comes from vacation with the Musical Clubs on The Great White Way or down on the farm with the spring crop of cord-wood. It will probably rain, but everybody will be there just the same to get his share of the "pep" which, instilled into track men, baseball men, tennis men, and Bowdoin men in general, is going to make a championship team of some sort for Bowdoin this spring. Memorial Hall will be filled with noise, smoke, enthusiasm, and—apple-cores. With regard to the souvenirs, the committee in charge refuses to describe them further than "the best ever," but this is the only way in which they resemble those of previous years. There will be speeches by President Hyde, Col. E. C. Plummer '81, Emery O. Beane '04, Donald F. Snow '03, Coach Tom McCann of the football team, Coach Coogan of the baseball team, Capt. Link Skolfield of the baseball team and Capt. Charlie Haskell of the track team. Besides these speakers, there will be other entertainment, the nature of which has not yet been announced. Whether we are to be regaled with Pratt's Stock Food or Ced Crowell's celebrated collection of serious and silly colloquies, or whether the musical clubs will give us the Cabaret Scene with New York variations is not known, but something will happen. Refreshments will appear and disappear. There will be cheers, organized and otherwise. In fact, if you want to get going with a rush that will carry you through the spring, be at Memorial Hall at 7:30 Friday evening.

The New Orient

With a publication so firmly established as the Orient the change from the old Board to the new passes almost unnoticed among its readers. It is, however, with a sense of increased responsibility that the editors of the new volume begin their task. It is not that we believe we perceive grievous wrongs existing in our midst and must take up the cudgels against them with all the enthusiasm of militant journalism. The college community is alive to its problems and in facing them with a fairness and earnestness that has never before been equalled. Tasks there are, left for us to finish, but we look forward to them with the confidence which understanding and comradeship can give.

The single policy of the editorial department, then, will not be to preach at or to criticise but to serve the college community. We will always welcome advice, suggestions and communications and regard them as evidences of healthy cooperation in advancing the common purposes of Bowdoin life.

The Bowdoin Publishing Co. completes its first year in a very prosperous condition and with a bright financial outlook. The retiring manager deserves great credit for organizing the company on a sound and permanent basis. This is the first bouquet of the season.

What Postponement Means

The matter of deferring the initiation of Freshmen until the end of the first semester, proposed to the fraternities by the Student Council, has received much favorable comment and seems very likely to be adopted. Just what this change means should be understood by the student body before making the move. If postponement of initiations means prolonging the period of pre-initiation "stunts," there is a logical objection to it. If it means the extension of the rushing period over a whole semester, there is further cause for objection. If it means the abolition of the general initiation night, it will do away with one of Bowdoin's best customs.

But as planned by the Council, no such radical changes will be brought about. Pledging, as now, by the force of competition will be concentrated within the first weeks of college. The pledged Freshmen will live in the fraternity houses and enjoy the benefits of advice and comradeship so valuable during their first year. The general initiation night will be continued on a date suitable to all concerned. The postponement will merely result in keeping from fraternity membership those few men whose short college career does not qualify them for such membership and will place the Freshmen on trial for a semester. The move, it would seem, is not radical. It will not disturb our present satisfactory fraternity system. If it does not prove a success, the old date can be resumed with little inconvenience. Let us give it a trial.

Spring Is Here

As we return from our vacation to enter on the last term of the college year we emerge, as it were, from our period of hibernation. Smiling skies, cheery winds and brightening foliage call us from the desk of study to long afternoons of healthy recreation. Ours is not to call to mind at this time neglected theses and unprepared recitations, but to urge each and every man to make the most of this fresh air period. Let everyone get out of doors into some activity-baseball, track or tennis—it will be worth while. Let the spirit of the season bring not the winter laziness in the aggravated form of spring fever, but rather a new zeal to do the thing we have before us a little better than seems necessary. Let the polar bear be led forth from winter quarters in all his glory bound to conquer all before him, whether it be the intercollegiate debates on Thursday, the Spring Rally on Friday, or a baseball championship in June.

BASEBALL MEN OUTDOORS
With the first game of the season only two weeks away, a squad of 18 men reported to Coach Coogan for the first outdoor baseball work last Thursday. Owing to bad weather, the practise since then has been held in the Athletic Building, but it has been none the less thorough. Most of the men show the effect of their winter practise in the absence of early-season lameness, and under the new coach the squad is showing very encouraging form. Coach Coogan has already convinced the men of his intimate knowledge of the game and his quick understanding of the material with which he is working. Although Bowdoin lost a veteran battery last June, yet with seven veterans and a number of promising recruits, we may well trust to the coach for the solving of the battery problem. The men who reported for early practise are: Catchers, E. Tuttle '13, Wiggins '13, Stuart '16, Lacasse '14, Badger '14; pitchers, Stetson '15, Dodge '13, Rawson '16, Knight '16, Fraser '16; infielders, Eaton '15, Weatherill '14, Daniels '13, Minott '15, Tilton '13; outfielders, Coombs '14, N. Tuttle '14, and Capt. Skolfield '13. McElwee '16, an infielder, Russell '14, a veteran outfielder, and others are expected to report when College opens. The competition for infield positions bids fair to be unusually exciting this year.

The schedule for the season is as follows:
April 17.—Rhode Island State at Kingston.
April 18.—Wesleyan at Middletown.
April 19.—Trinity at Hartford.
April 22.—Harvard at Cambridge.
April 26.—Maine Centrals at Portland.
April 29.—Tufts at Medford.
April 30.—Andover at Andover.
May 3.—Colby at Waterville.
May 7.—Maine at Brunswick.
May 10.—Maine at Orono.
May 14.—Colby at Brunswick.
May 24.—Tufts at Portland.
May 30.—Bates at Lewiston.
June 6.—Bates at Brunswick.

PSI UPSILON DANCE
Psi Upsilon entertained at an informal dance in the Chapter House on Maine Street Wednesday night, March 26. The music was by Strange's orchestra of Portland. The patroness of the evening was Mrs. S. H. Boardman of Guilford.

Among the guests were the Misses Gladys Umbertine and Helen Mitchell of Brunswick, Priscilla Kimball, Corinne Jackson and Ethel Cochran of Bath, Janet Peters, Grata Payson, Cornelia Danforth, and Sylvia Freeman of Portland, Margaret Seavey and Lucy Jacobs of Thomaston, Florence Norris of Auburn, Elizabeth Scouler of Quincy, Margaret Howard of Whitman, Mass., Reeta Plant of Gardiner, Miriam Metzger of Johnson City, Tenn., and Eleanor Boardman of Guilford.

The committee in charge: Pratt '13, Wilson '14, Eaton '15, Head '16.

DELTA UPSILON DANCE
The Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon entertained Thursday evening, March 27, with a dance at the fraternity house. Stetson's Orchestra of Brunswick furnished music for an order of eighteen dances.

Mrs. Roscoe J. Ham of Brunswick, Mrs. B. R. Knowlton of Farmington, and Mrs. H. W. Allen of Brunswick were the patronesses. The committee of arrangements consisted of Walker '13, Trottier '14 and Knowlton '15.

The following young ladies were present: Misses Helen Smith and Melba Ramsdell of Portland, Misses Clare Ridley, Gertrude Sadler, Mary Elliott, Ida Smith, Lorette Lapointe, Alexina Lapointe, Helen Mitchell, Helen Fisk and Helene Blackwell of Brunswick, Misses Louise Haggett, Eleanor Bradlee of Bath, Miss Miriam Brackett of Phillips, Miss Marion Kendall of Biddeford and Miss Mildred Johnson of Everett, Mass.

MUSICAL CLUBS TRAVEL
The Bowdoin Musical Clubs completed their season by the annual Massachusetts trip, adding this year a trip to New York City, where there was a performance at Delmonico's. The clubs, 33 men strong, left Brunswick Thursday, March 27, and the same night gave a concert at Portsmouth, N. H. The following night there was a concert at Reading, Mass., and Saturday night at Boston. Sunday was a day of rest and Monday night's concert in New York completed the schedule. The New York Bowdoin Alumni Association and the State of Maine Society of New York combined to make the affair a success.

The men who made the trip are: Glee Club, first tenor, Page '13, Twombly '13, Shea '14, Wilson '14, Trottier '15, Card '15; first bass, Crowell
'13, Greene '13, Smith '13, Ramsay '15; second tenor, McKenney '15, West '15, Woodman '16; second bass, Eaton '14, Leavitt '13, Monroe '14, Merrill '16; accompanist, Hatch '14; Mandolin Club, first mandolin, Savage '13, Holt '14, Thompson '14, Barton '14, Demmons '15, Hall '15; second mandolin, Nason '14, Gilbert '13, Dunphy '13, Farrar '14, Little '16; mandola, Connant '13, McCargo '14; mandocello, Saunders '14; guitar, Crosby '13.

Club and Council Meetings

The Student Council held a meeting at the Delta Kappa Epsilon House, March 26. Plans for the Spring Rally, April 11, were discussed and a souvenir was selected. A committee appointed for the purpose reported a revised statement of fraternities in the Y. M. C. A. Handbook which was adopted by the Council.

"It was moved and voted unanimously that the Council accept the statement of the U. Q. Club that it is merely a social club for Freshmen but that it deprecates any recognition of it as a college honorary society." Other minor matters were discussed but no action was taken.

The Government Club will reorganize this week at a meeting to be announced on the bulletin board. All men in college interested in such an organization are invited to attend this first meeting.

On the Campus

President Hyde is to take charge of the English X class in the next division of their course. The Essay will be studied.

There has been but one candidate reported for manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Co. as yet. This is a good opportunity for some Freshman to get into a profitable activity.

The Freshman caps are to appear again on the campus.

Bacon '15 is sick with appendicitis and will be unable to take part in the intercollegiate debates.

Dresser '09 and Harris '09 were on the campus last week.

Ed Fuller '13 has been taking the brown-tail moths off the campus during the holidays.

All those desiring copies from the last volume of the Orient may obtain them free of charge from Walker '13.

Space forbids the printing of the roster of the Hang-over Club, which has been larger and more flourishing than ever this vacation.

Merrill '14 and Leigh '14 left Friday for Boston to attend the Eastern Presidents' Conference of Student Y. M. C. A.'s, which was held at Harvard this year.

All candidates for assistant manager of baseball should hand their names to Callahan at the Beta House. The following Freshmen are already out, having reported for early work during vacation: Fuller, Dunn, Hawes, Haggett and Fortin.

About 30 members of the Bowdoin Chapter of Zeta Psi attended the convention held last week in Boston with the New England Association. Saturday evening a banquet was held at the Copley-Plaza. The delegates to the convention were Crowell '13, Kennedy '13 and Stone '15.

The famous tonsorial artist, "Jud," has offered three of the most beautiful shaving mugs ever seen in Brunswick to be competed for by the baseball men this spring. One will be given to the man who makes the highest batting average; one will be given to the man who reaches first the greatest number of times; and one will be given to the man making the most home runs. These mugs will be exhibited soon by the side of the Peary sledge in the library.

The Y. M. C. A. is planning to give another Bowdoin Night in the near future. It is hoped that Donald B. McMillan '98 can be secured as the principal speaker.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., the Brunswick Boys' Association will probably give a public exhibition later in the spring.

The Dean's office is always glad to cooperate in sending out material regarding Bowdoin College—such as the Catalogue, descriptive pamphlet, or the new Self-Help Bulletin—to any men who may be interested in the College. The Acting Dean will also be glad to send a personal letter to any man whose name is left at the office, in case such a personal letter is desired.

The Other Colleges

The Faculty of Hamilton College has under consideration an exemption system. It is proposed to exempt from the final examinations those students who maintain a grade of eighty in all their studies.

The Good Government Club of Williams College took charge of collecting the relief fund for the flood sufferers and raised over $100.

The non-fraternity students at the University of Washington have recently organized a club for social purposes.

The University of New York is going to be the first college in the country to attempt to have a football team without a captain. The new plan will go into effect next year and the coach will have full control.
Resolutions

PROFESSOR HENRY LELAND CHAPMAN
Died Feb. 24, 1913.

For forty-four years Professor Chapman served the college that he loved. The graduates of almost half a century had personal knowledge of his devotion to his Alma Mater, of his power as a teacher of young men, of his brilliancy in his chosen line, and his loyalty to his friends.

To most of us of the New York Alumni Association the news of his death came with the shock of deep personal loss, for long ago we learned first to admire, then to love him.

His name will be placed in our memories high even among the world names that have made Bowdoin famous, and deeply graven in our hearts among the names of those we love.

HORACE E. HENDERSON, President.

JOSIAH B. ROBERTS,
Secretary.

New York City, March 20, 1913.

Hall of the Kappa of Psi Upsilon,
19 March 1913.

It is with the most profound regret that the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon is called upon to record the untimely death on the eleventh of March of a devoted alumnus, Charles Selwyn Rich, of the Class of 1892.

Although he resided in California he was most loyal to his native city and State; the college and the fraternity.

Because of poor health he had been compelled to relinquish his chosen work in the ministry. But despite the realization that he was fast failing, his constant cheerfulness was an example of the highest courage and is an inspiring heritage. Realizing our loss, we have therefore,

Resolved, That we express our deep sorrow at his death, and extend our sincere sympathy to his wife and children and those bound closer to him by ties of family and friendship.

LORING PRATT,
E. R. PAYSON, JR.,
A. KEITH EATON,
For the Chapter.

Hall of Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon.
March 22, 1913.

The Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon hears with regret of the death of one of its alumi, Edgar Foster Davis, of the Class of 1871, who died very suddenly on February 23 at his home in East Machias. Formerly a Congregational and Episcopal minister, Brother Davis had devoted his time for several years to writing. He was for several years a professor in Pennsylvania State College. The Chapter extends its sincere sympathy to his wife and children and to his many friends.

Alumni Department

'60.—The oldest in point of class of the several Bowdoin alumni who have died in the last few days, is Philip Henry Stubbs, a man prominent in Maine legal and legislative affairs.

Philip Henry Stubbs was born in 1838, in Strong, the town which was always his home. He received his degree of A.B. in 1860 and A.M. in 1863. On graduation from here, he went to Harvard Law School from which he graduated in 1863 with the degree of LL.B. In that year he returned to Strong where he practiced law for over half a century. He was county attorney for Franklin County 1870-76 and a member of the Maine Senate 1883-86. He was also the treasurer of Franklin & Megantic.

Mr. Stubbs was one of the leading citizens of his town and was always interested in any movement which would lead to the advancement of Maine industries and the improvement of the State.

'62.—One of the most interesting books which has come to the notice of the Alumni Department for a long time is the class history issued by this class as an aftermath of their fiftieth anniversary last June. The work was done by Rev. Edward N. Packard and has many marks of hard work and great care. It is a unique book in the history of class publications, and in preparing it, it is believed that Mr. Packard has established a valuable precedent which may be followed by later classes.

The first part of the book deals with the events which took place on Wednesday and Thursday of last Commencement when fifteen of the eighteen members of this loyal class came back. It will be remembered that this class went in a body to visit Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain at his Brunswick residence. He is the last of the instructors in the college at the time when this class was an undergraduate body.

Later in the afternoon this class went to New Meadows Inn where a reunion was held. Perhaps the most interesting thing to the outside world was the reading of a poem by Isaac Basset Choate, whose fine lines have so often pleased the literary public. This poem was written especially for the occasion. One verse of this poem is so typical of Mr. Choate's loyalty to Bowdoin and is also such a possible source of inspiration to us who are to follow in the footsteps of these loyal sons that we take the liberty of copying it:

"Thine is the pride of a mother in all
Her sons' achievements
Whether on field of battle they fall
Fighting for Freedom
Or they give heed to Devotion's call
To lowliest service."

The second part of the book deals with the history of the various members of the class since their graduation. As Mr. Packard said in his response for '62 last Commencement, this class was a war class and sent twenty-six of its forty-two members to the war immediately after graduation. Thus, as is appropriate, more space is given to those who fought and gave their lives for their country than to those who followed civil pursuits. These biographies are very carefully prepared, and become, not only fond reminders for the living classmates, but a memorial of the class profitable to those who follow.

How delighted the class was with this memorial history, was well and appropriately shown when they presented Mr. Packard with a silver loving cup inscribed:

"Rev. Edward N. Packard, D.D.
From the Class of '62 Bowdoin College
In recognition of his excellent work in the preparation of the Class History in connection with its 50th anniversary
June 1912."

'64.—On March 31st, Mrs. Katherine McLellan Lewis, the widow of Rev. George Lewis, D.D., died at her home in Gorham, Me. Mrs. Lewis was also the mother of Hugh M. Lewis, the assistant in the college Library.

'75.—Parker Prince Simmons, one of the most prominent members of this class, passed away on March 24th. Mr. Simmons was born in Kingston, Mass., Oct. 13, 1852 and prepared for college at the High School of that town.

He entered Bowdoin in 1871. While in college he won the Sophomore Declamation Prize, was a member of the Peucinian Literary Society, and was senior editor of The Bugle. He was also secretary and prophet of his class. Three years after his graduation he received the degree of A.M. from the college.

After leaving college, Mr. Simmons was principal of the High School at Menden, Mass., for two years and then was sub-master of the High School at Lawrence, Mass., for an equal period. Leaving the educational world temporarily, Mr. Simmons then entered the employ of a large commission flour house, with whom he remained until 1891. In the meantime he was admitted to membership in the New York Produce Exchange.

In 1886 he was appointed a member of the Board of Education in Brooklyn, and was twice reappointed. He resigned this position in 1891 to become the Superintendent of the Book Department of the Bureau of Education. He was then appointed Superintendent of School Supplies for Greater New York, his training in the business world and educational world fitting him admirably for that position. He remained in this position until 1904, when he purchased a publishing house of which he was proprietor until his death.

It is rare that a man is a success in both the business world and the educational world at the same time, and that he can combine the two for even greater success, but this was the case with Mr. Simmons. Noted for his alertness to take up new ideas, and for his unerring judgment in seeing the value of new reforms, he supported many new ideas which are now becoming cardinal principles in teaching.

'11.—The second annual report of this class has been issued by the Class Secretary, Ernest G. Fifield. Since the last report was issued the class has become the proud possessor of a class baby. "Ollie" Sanborn, who was married in the spring of his senior year, is the father, and the baby was born June 23, 1912.

The summary of the class as it stands at present shows the following numbers to be in the various lines of business:—Business, 33; teaching, 8; ministry, 3; Y. M. C. A., 1; charities, 1; advanced study, 26; total, 72. Of those in advanced study, 11 are in medicine, 10 in law and 5 in the arts and sciences.

The 15th annual banquet of the Kennebec County Alumni Association was held at the Augusta House recently. Henry S. Webster of Gardiner, the president and the oldest member of the association, presided and acted as toastmaster. President Hyde represented the college.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Weston Lewis '72 of Gardiner; vice-presidents, Anson M. Goddard '82 and Henry E. Dunnack '97 of Augusta; secretary-treasurer, George E. Macomber '11 of Augusta; executive committee, Fremont C. Little '89 of Augusta, John R. Gould '85 of Hallowell, and Royal H. Bodwell '01 of Augusta.
INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE RESULTS

All three teams in the Triangular Debating League defending the affirmative won their debates, Hamilton winning at Clinton, Wesleyan at Middletown, and Bowdoin at Brunswick.

BOWDOIN WINS FROM HAMILTON

Last Thursday evening in Memorial Hall Bowdoin won its debate in the Triangular Debating League, of which it is a member with Hamilton College and Wesleyan University, against Hamilton. The question was:—Resolved, That the present high cost of living would be materially reduced by a tariff for revenue only. The members of the Bowdoin team, taking the affirmative side, were Laurence A. Crosby '13, Alfred H. Sweet '13 and Paul H. Douglas '13. President Hyde presided. The judges were Hon. Nathan Clifford of Portland, Hon. Frederick W. Plaisted of Augusta and Professor James A. Tufts of Exeter. The debate was fought out on specific schedules instead of general principles.

Mr. Crosby opened the discussion for the affirmative by saying that the problem of the high cost of living was never before the people more violently than it is today. The difference between prices and wages has become smaller. The high cost must come down, and the remedy must be a substantial one. As regards prices, there are two classes of commodities,—those of which we have insufficient to meet home needs and those produced under a monopoly. If a tariff for revenue only is adopted, the buyer will be enabled to obtain his commodities at lower prices. The five most important commodities are meat, sugar, wool, cotton and steel. First, as to the affect of a revenue tariff upon meat. Today the United States is not producing enough beef to satisfy its own market. We will admit beef on revenue tariff and lower the price materially. Give the American consumer a wide market and competition.

Mr. Porter made the opening speech for the negative. He stated that the tariff is not a cause of the high cost of living, as it is not a factor in making prices. The reasons for the high cost of living are the increase in the gold supply, the flux from the country to the city, the middleman’s profits, the trusts and the waste in natural resources. The high cost depends primarily upon retail prices, and even if the tariff did affect wholesale prices, it would not affect retail prices.

Mr. Sweet was the second speaker for the affirmative. He said that his side was arguing on the reduction, not on the causes, of the high cost of living. The high cost of meat was shown, and the facts were not contradicted by the negative. The removal of duty on sugar would cut its price in half, according to Professor Henry C. Emery. The woolen industry is an unnatural one with us. The tariff on raw wool is 50 per cent.; on woolen goods, 92 per cent. Steel enters into the expenses of the average family. It is much less expensive abroad than it is here.

The second speaker for the negative, Mr. Griswold, said that the tariff is only an immaterial cause. There is international monopoly as regards steel, wool is produced here at a greater cost than it is abroad, and our cotton mills are running at almost a loss. Therefore, if the tariff were reduced, laborers would be thrown out of employment.

Mr. Douglas was the third speaker for the affirmative. He stated that by the tariff of 1909, the duty on steel was reduced three dollars a ton. Its cost was then reduced three dollars. There could not be a permanent international monopoly, because it would be broken. Articles must be produced in abundance. If the cost of raw material is high, the production cannot be so abundant. In the manufacture of cotton the wages would not be correspondingly reduced with the tariff, as the trusts would lose their monopoly. As for wool, we could get cheaper raw material by taking off the tariff, and that would make us able to meet competition, because manufacturing here is lower.

Mr. Stone was the third speaker for the negative. He went into details on the cost of food, shelter and clothing. He said that dairy products are higher in Canada than they are here, that the beef market is controlled by trusts and by England, and that the sugar lands are owned by trusts.

In rebuttal the negative attempted to strengthen what it had already stated. Mr. Crosby said that the cost of living is lower in England than it is in America, and that England is a free trade country. Mr. Griswold said that the cost of production in this country is higher than abroad and the only way to reduce it is to reduce wages. In England steel is sold at the same price as in America now. Mr. Sweet made an analysis of the cost of living in England since the adoption of a tariff for revenue only, and a comparison with the United States. Mr. Stone said that we would not get cheaper foreign competition, because prices abroad are higher—that products in England are higher than they are in America.

The Bowdoin team delivered their speeches much more calmly and deliberately than did their opponents. Their arguments were brought forth in a clear and convincing manner, and they well deserved the decision of the judges, which was unanimous in their favor.

BOWDOIN-WESLEYAN DEBATE

The Bowdoin team debating on the negative side of the question against Wesleyan at Middle-town was defeated, as were all the negative teams in the league. The Bowdoin team was composed of Fred D. Wish, Jr., '13, James A. Norton '13, and Elwyn C. Gage '14, with George H. Talbot '15 as alternate. The Wesleyan team consisted of Ralph O. Dulaney '14, Arthur S. Hancock '13, and Allen S. Raymond '14, with Francis A. Sturgis '14, as alternate.

The judges of the Bowdoin-Wesleyan debate were Professor James A. Winans of Cornell University; ex-Lieutenant Governor Everett J. Lake of Hartford, Conn.; and Ernest W. Telton of New Britain, Conn.

The Wesleyan team took up a large number of commodities, and argued from the rate of tariff upon each, and the prices of the commodities in their home market, the reduction in price that might be expected from a reduction in the tariff. They then calculated, from the average family expenditure for each of these commodities, the reduction in the annual expenditure of each family that might be expected from a reduction in the tariff.

The negative took up the most important articles which are factors in the cost of living, and showed that these articles would not enter the American market, if the tariff were reduced, in competition with the American product, or in quantities sufficient to affect the American market. They also argued that in so far as prices might be reduced by the reduction of the tariff alone, the wages of the laboring man would be correspondingly reduced.

TRINITY MEET COMING

Four weeks from last Saturday—May 10—Bowdoin will meet Trinity in a dual track meet on Whittier Field. That means that in a month's time Bowdoin must have its team in the pink of training. To accomplish this every man in college who has any track ability must turn out. According to all reports, Trinity has a fast, well balanced team, and to beat it Bowdoin needs every man's support.

Hudson, the Trinity football star, is entered and is expected—by Trinity supporters—to take points in eight events: the sprints, the weights, the broad jump, and the hurdles. Those who saw him buck the line last fall have a very healthy respect for his athletic abilities, but it is going to take more than one man to trim Bowdoin's 1913 track team!

Twenty-four men have already reported for practice and are working out every afternoon on the field. Training table started Monday and beginning then all track men settled down to a month of hard steady work. Captain Haskell expresses himself as perfectly confident that Bowdoin will have a track team this spring to be proud of. Coach Finneran is more than pleased with the way the men are taking hold. With this judgment of two good men before us can we and will we fail?

The men who reported at the training table at Mrs. Mosher's on 10 Cleveland St. were: L. Brown '14, P. Smith '15, Prescott '15, Jones '13, Tarbox '14, Leadbetter '16, Parkhurst '13, Greene '13, Peters '13, Merrill '14, Fox '14, Pratt '14, Marshall '16, Irving '16, Emery '13, Walker '13, McWilliams '15, L. Donahue '14, C. Brown '14, Gardner '13, Haskell '13, and Coach Finneran.

A series of handicap meets has been arranged to take place one on each Saturday from the coming Saturday up to the Trinity meet.

NOTICE TO FOOTBALL MEN

Coach McCann wishes to announce to all men who intend to try for the football team next fall that there will be no regular spring football practice, but he wishes to have every candidate join either the track or the baseball squads at once in order to keep in good shape.

Coach McCann spent the week-end in Brunswick meeting a large number of the football men and talking over the situation with the captain, manager and Dr. Whittier. He is very optimistic about the outlook and material for next fall's team. He will be glad at any time to receive any suggestions or to confer with any alumni of the college on methods and fine points of the game.

The Result of Postponement

In the last issue of the Orient an attempt was made to explain what the postponement of Freshman initiations would mean. At the Spring Rally this matter received further attention. The question raised at that time was whether the postponement of initiation to the fraternities would not, to some degree, cut the Freshman off from the helpful influence of the older brother. As we see the question this will not occur. As stated before, the change is really a minor one. Our system will remain as it is at present. The Freshmen will still become affiliated with the fraternities during the first few weeks. The difference will be that it is a trial membership in which the fraternity reserves the right to retain real membership until the Freshman has shown his ability to remain in college. It is true that only four or five men would be affected by this change, but why should it not be made for only four or five if it entails no objections of another kind? We would be glad to publish any communication from any of our readers in regard to the matter.

The Big Spring Rally

All of the prophecies made in last week's Orient, even the one about the rain, came true Friday night, when the official Spring Opening was held in Memorial Hall. It is called the Big Spring Rally because it was big in every way. All Bowdoin was there, every man coming with that "pep" which the Rally was supposed to rouse. Not for an instant, from "Glasses Clinking High" to "Bowdoin Beata," did enthusiasm lag, and each one of the long list of speakers received the same attention and interest. There was plenty of noise, ranging from the cheers which greeted the speakers to the steady crunching of the ice cream cones. The souvenirs, automatic cigar lighters of aluminum with a black inscription, were original and distinctive.

But it was not the band, the cheers, the refreshments, or the souvenirs, much as these helped, which will make this rally remembered as probably the best Spring Rally Bowdoin ever had. It was more than that, it was that intangible thing known as "Bowdoin Spirit," which ran so high that old grads and young undergraduates were united once more in the realization of what "Old Bowdoin" means to them. There was spirit of optimism shown by the captains and coaches of the teams which argues well for Bowdoin's chances for a championship this spring.

President Hyde, the first speaker, made an announcement which means a great deal to followers of Bowdoin athletics. Although he made no promises, yet he said that in all probability the College will soon engage a competent athletic trainer for all the year. He also spoke briefly on the question of fraternity initiation postponement, urging careful consideration, and reminded the fellows of the necessity of getting two more large classes in order to have the new dormitory built within five years.

Capt. Haskell gave a fine talk on track prospects and was followed by Ellis Spear '98, who gave a very interesting talk on archery, a sport which was practically founded in this country by two Bowdoin men. Mr. Spear urged the starting of an archery team at Bowdoin to compete in the National Tournament next August.

The other speakers were Don Snow '01, football Coach McCann, Stan Dole '13 for the track management and Douglas '13 on the subject of admission to the Trinity Meet, Col. Plummer '81, Emery Beane '04, and Capt. Skolfield and Coach Coogan of the baseball team. Coach McCann, in his first appearance before a Bowdoin audience, won his way to our hearts immediately by a quiet, straight-from-the-shoulder speech which gave us some hint as to how much he is a Bowdoin man at heart.

By way of lighter diversion, Stewart Morrill '16 showed undreamed-of talent in impersonations of members of the faculty, chiefly those not present.

And there you have the prophecy fulfilled, the speeches, band, songs, cheers, refreshments, souvenirs, entertainment, and—PEP.

THIRD COLLEGE TEA

The third and last College Tea of the year was held Friday afternoon in Hubbard Hall. In the receiving line were: Mrs. Hormell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Moody. Mrs. Whittier served tea, assisted by Misses Dorethea Donnell and Mable Davis. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Woodruff, who was assisted by Misses Marion Drew, Rose Chandler, Marguerite Hutchins and Olive Nutter. At the punch tables were Mrs. Wilder and Mrs. Wass; the young ladies serving were Misses Ruth Little, Elizabeth Purington, Ruth Andrews and Isabelle Pollard. The ushers were: Whittier '13, Standish '14, Stone '15, Elwell '15, Foster '16, Woodman '16, Robie '16, Noble '16 and Walker '13.

IBIS OPEN MEETING

Edward P. Mitchell '71 will speak at the open meeting of the Ibis next Monday evening in Memorial Hall on "The Man of Nippur." Mr. Mitchell has been connected with The New York Sun since 1875 and is now the editor. Though he has not spoken before at College, he is very popular as a writer-and-speaker.

MUSICAL NOTES

Last Wednesday evening the Brunswick Club held a ladies' night and nearly a hundred members and guests enjoyed an entertainment given by the College Mandolin Quintette, Savage '13, Holt '13, Conant '13, Crosby '13, and Gilbert '13, and a double quartette, Card '15, Twombly '13, Wilson '14, West '15, Woodman '16, L. Smith '13, Ramsey '15, Eaton '14, Munroe '14. Loring Pratt '13 also gave several readings.

The third annual joint concert will be held by the Musical Clubs of Bowdoin and Bates in the City Hall at Lewiston, April 30. The joint concerts have always been very successful before and the management will try to make this the best of all. A special program has been arranged and now is the time for everyone to show that Bowdoin supports her other activities as well as athletics.

The Bowdoin Orchestra practiced Thursday afternoon this last week. The attendance was not as large as is desired, but the prospects are hopeful. Trombones, other bass instruments, and traps are needed at once. Men playing these instruments should make a special effort to attend the next rehearsal this afternoon at 4.30.

ART BUILDING NOTES

Several important additions have been made recently to the collection in the Walker Art Building. Dr. Edward Warren of Lewishouse, Sussex, England has presented the College with a large and valuable collection of classical relics, consisting of a handsome set of Greek vases in an excellent state of preservation, a few small bronzes, and several pieces of terra cotta work, all of which have been installed in the Boyd Gallery. He has also donated three marble busts, one of Roman sculpture of the first century A.D. and two of Greek artisanship of the fourth century, B. C., and in addition to these a marble torso of Praxitiles "Faun," a replica of the type best known by the Capitoline example which was Hawthorne's "Marble Faun." These pieces of statuary have been set up in the Sculpture Hall.

Besides these gifts Professor and Mrs. C. C. Hutchins have contributed an early nineteenth-century miniature from the Richard Call collection of St. Louis, and Mr. Burton C. Morrill of Augusta has loaned the Museum a miniature of Miss Becky Towe, the daughter of Mr. Warren Towe '81.

BASEBALL NEWS

Baseball stock took a decided rise Tuesday when the last call for candidates brought out 41 men in suits. Practice was held in the Athletic Building and will continue to be held there until the weather settles down a little more.

Besides the veterans LaCasce, Russell, Dodge, Tilton, Daniels, Skolfield, Weatherill and Woodcock, there are several new men who are showing up very promisingly. McElwee is already showing professional form at third. Knight and Rawson look good as Freshmen pitchers. Eaton plays a good practice game at first; he has a good reach and a strong whip.

The first cut in the squad came Wednesday and was explained for the following reason: "In view of the fact that the first baseball game is only a week away, and that Coach Coogan has not sufficient time to look over the squad properly before that, he has deemed it advisable to cut down the squad. This does not mean the selection of the Varsity team as the coach will look all men over thoroughly after the first trip. The following men will report for practice: Catchers, LaCasce, Wiggin, Tuttle, Stuart, infielders, Eaton, Keegan, McElwee, Tilton, Daniels, Tuttle, Minott; outfielders, Skolfield, Weatherill, Russell, L. Brown; pitchers, L. Dodge, Knight, Stetson, Rawson, Woodcock, H. L. Hall.

Earl Gardner '13 has been appointed by Capt. Skolfield to captain the second team. This aggregation defeated Brunswick High on the Delta last Thursday by a score of 5-0. Coxe '15 and Wood '16 allowed only two hits. The second team is to hold a series of games with the Varsity until they leave Wednesday for Rhode Island. In the game Saturday afternoon the Varsity won 7-1. Next Saturday the second team plays Kents Hill at Readfield.

Club and Council Meetings

At a meeting of the Good Government Club Wednesday evening, plans for the remainder of the year were discussed and the following officers were elected: President, Jones '13; vice-president, Eberhardt '13; secretary, Leigh '14; treasurer, P. Emery '13. There will be weekly meetings and all who are interested in the government courses are eligible for membership in the club. The meetings will be held at the different fraternity houses and the discussions will be on general topics. There will be a meeting of the club tomorrow evening at 8.30 in the History room in Hubbard Hall. All those wishing to join are invited to this meeting.

At a meeting of the golf club Friday night, the following committee of three was elected to plan for tournaments during the spring: Heywood '14, P. Donahue '14 and Porritt '15. The present plans are for a number of handicap tournaments in the near future, and later in the season, matches with Portland and Augusta. Lord '16, was elected secretary. The other officers of the club are: President, L. Donahue '14, and vice-president, Mitchell '14. The players will work out on the links of the Brunswick Golf Club.

On Tuesday, April 29, the Dramatic Club will give its production of "Old Heidelberg" at the Casco Theatre in Portland, under the auspices of the Portland Bowdoin Alumni Association. For this performance rehearsals are being held regularly.

The Commencement Play will be decided upon in the near future and the call for candidates will be issued the latter part of this month.

There was a rehearsal of the Masque and Gown at the Town Hall Friday afternoon.

All students who are interested in forming a Biology Club will meet in the Biology lecture room of the Science Building, Thursday, April 17, at 4.30 P.M.

On the Campus

The fifth college preacher of the year, Rev. Willis H. Butler of Boston, will preach at the Church on the Hill and in the College Chapel Sunday. Mr. Butler is a graduate of Princeton University and Union Theological Seminary. He has held pastorates in Williamstown and Northampton, Mass. Since 1912 he has been associate pastor with Dr. George A. Gordon, of the Old South Church in Boston.

Ted Emery '13 and "Duff" Wood '13 have returned from Texas where they have been looking into a business proposition.

The Bowdoin Gun Club held its weekly shoot Thursday afternoon over the traps of the Brunswick Gun Club.

An informal reception to baseball Coach Coogan was held at the D.K.E. House Thursday night.

Miss Helen Keller and her teacher, Mrs. Macey (Miss Anne Sullivan), will appear in Bath Thursday evening, April 17, at the Winter Street Church. Miss Keller will talk on "The Heart and the Hand, or the Right Use of the Senses."

There will be an orchestra rehearsal this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

There is an opportunity for a brief time for making up gym cuts every afternoon at 4.30.

All students who desire examination for the removal of incompletes are requested to leave their names at the Dean's office before April 20.

The University of Maine Dramatic Club will present "A Night Off" at the Town Hall tonight. The title does not compel your attendance if you have a hard day tomorrow.

Beginning yesterday, Mr. Holmes started a voluntary class in heavy gymnastics. This class will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 5:15 to 5:45 p. m.

Under the supervision of Ellis Spear '98, a number of fellows tried their hands at drawing the long bow Saturday afternoon, and although no record scores were made, several men have become sufficiently interested in the sport to work for the formation of an archery club here.

Head '16 is understudy for Bacon '15 in the Dramatic Club play "Alt Heideleberg" because of Bacon's sickness.

Dana Merrill ex-'14 and Wilson '12 were on the campus last week.

Heard at the Rally: "Gimme a light." "Wait a week till I crank up this souvenir."

Brunswick High has "Pop" Williams for a baseball coach this year and under him daily practise is being held on the Delta.

The Madisses Club will present the five-act tragedy "Irgomar" April 25 in Town Hall. Harry Faulkner '15 is to play the title role, and Weatherill '14 and Hall '15 are also to take part.

May 1 fares on the Maine Central will rise. The fare from Bath to Brunswick will be 25 cents.

Parkhurst '13, who completed his course in February, has returned to college to take extra courses.

After the debate Thursday evening an informal reception in honor of the debaters was held at the Delta Upsilon House.

The Freshmen had their class sing Friday afternoon.

"Doc" Merrill '16 is again at College after his operation for appendicitis.

The printers have already begun work upon the 1914 Bugle.

Purington '11 and Makepeace '12 were on the campus recently.

Among those back for the rally were Ashby '12 and Wing ex-'14.

Frank Cowan '13, having completed his course, has left college and is principal of the High School at Ashfield, Mass.

With the Faculty

HALL OF THETA CHAPTER OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON.

April 10, 1913.

The Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon hears with sorrow of the death of Brother George Bacon Towle, of the Class of 1858, who died suddenly on January 6 last at Upper Montclair, New Jersey. As Brother Towle was the last of a delegation of twelve men, his death is most regrettable.

Brother Towle was best known as a teacher, and it was as headmaster of the Trinity School of New York City that he gained for himself an enviable reputation in the field of education.

The Chapter which mourns his death joins with his surviving classmates and many other friends in extending to his wife its most heartfelt sympathy.

WILLIAM FLETCHER TWOMBLY,
ALFRED EVERETT GRAY,
JOSEPH CONY MACDONALD,

For the Chapter.

BOWDOIN CHAPTER OF DELTA UPSILON.
April 6, 1913.

It is with deepest sorrow that the Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon records the death of Edward James Barnes Palmer, a former member of the Class of 1911, and a graduate of Harvard, Class of 1912. During the past year he had been connected with the faculty of Allegheny College, and was engaged in the performance of his duties there when death removed him April 3, 1913.

Therefore be it
Resolved, That we express our sorrow at his death and extend our sincere sympathy to those bound closer to him by ties of fellowship and family.

Harold Milton Prescott.

Alumni Department

The incoming editor of the Alumni Department sincerely desires that its columns shall, more than ever before, serve the interests of Bowdoin's alumni. Although it will continue to give full justice to the departed, yet it wishes to publish more information about the living. Every alumnus should have a means—and we believe that the columns of the Orient will be the best means—of finding out constantly just what every other alumnus is doing. In order to accomplish this object, therefore, the Department sends out to every class secretary and to every officer of a Bowdoin alumni association, as well as to any other alumnus who is in a position to procure information, the earnest plea that he will from time to time contribute to the Orient any items concerning the interests, activities, and achievements of the living alumni of the College. This much we ask of the alumni for their columns.

'02.—A fund in memory of George B. Kenniston, Jr., who lost his life when the steamer Portland was lost, has been established at Boothbay Harbor High School by his father, Judge George B. Kenniston '01. The interest from the fund of $250 will be offered as prizes in speaking contests in the school, the contests to be held annually.

'03.—Donald E. MacCormick was recently elected to the School Board of South Framingham, Mass. He is at the head of the Mathematics Department in the Volkmann School, Boston.

'05.—James G. Finn, formerly with the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of New York, has joined the staff of the Corporation Counsel of New York City.

'06.—Classmates and friends of Ralph G. Webber will regret to learn that he has been obliged to give up his position with the United States Trust Co. of Washington, D. C., on account of ill health. Mr. Webber was for several years after his graduation with the International Banking Co. He is now the Maine representative of the Alexander Hamilton Institute of the City of New York.

'07.—Mr. Lorenzo W. Baldwin has opened a law office at Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Baldwin is a graduate of Columbia Law School in 1910, and he has the best wishes of many friends in his new field of work.

'09.—Max Pearson Cushing has been elected Instructor of History at Reed College. Mr. Cushing is well known to the present college generation. He was the leader of the college Glee Club while in college, and was one of the most popular members of his class. While in college, Mr. Cushing was an assistant in English. Since graduation, he has received an A.M. from Columbia. The first two years after graduation he spent in Roberts College, Constantinople, and for some time he studied at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland.

'13.—George Frank Wilson, who finished his course at the college last February, was married recently to Miss Edith Lounsbery Klein of Mount Vernon. Mr. Wilson, or "Squanto," as he was known here, was one of the best baseball players in the college, and one of the most popular men, not only in his class, but in the whole Maine collegiate world.

THE BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

The baseball squad of 13 men left Brunswick Wednesday afternoon for their trip into southern New England and returned Sunday with the scores of two out of three games in their favor. The men who made the trip were: Catchers, Wiggin and Lacasce; pitchers, Dodge, Rawson, Knight and Stetson; infielders, Eaton, Daniels, McElwee and Tilton; outfielders, N. Tuttle, Capt. Skolfield and Weatherill. Although the number of errors in all of the games was large, this was largely due to cold weather and nervousness, things which the team will not have to contend with later in the season. Practically all the men did excellent work with the stick, far better than Coach Coogan had expected of them.

Of the individual players, Lacasce was undoubtedly the star. He caught all three games and contributed a lion's share of the hits. Rawson and Stetson showed up best of the pitchers, Knight and Dodge being wild at times. McElwee and Daniels did well at the bat but the work of the infield as a whole was rather ragged. The outfield was reliable in all three games. While Bob Weatherill was making his spectacular catch in the Wesleyan game, he pulled a tendon, and Stetson took his place in the Trinity game.

The team meets Harvard this afternoon at Cambridge. They have received a thorough going-over from Coach Coogan and will enter the game in much better shape than they were on the first trip.

BOWDOIN VS. R. I. STATE

In a loosely-played game Bowdoin won the first game on the schedule from Rhode Island State College last Thursday by the score of 13 to 4. Rawson, the Freshman pitcher, allowed only three hits. Although the number of errors was large, Rawson received excellent support from the rest of the team. Bowdoin hit well, Weatherill, McElwee, Lacasce and N. Tuttle furnishing the majority of the hits. McElwee, playing his first game for Bowdoin, showed up well at third.

BOWDOIN VS. WESLEYAN

Bowdoin's rally in the game with Wesleyan Friday afternoon came too late and Wesleyan won with a 9 to 8 score. Wesleyan secured a commanding lead in the first two innings, which, with the fourth, were the only innings in which the Connecticut team scored. Bowdoin came back strong and tallied three runs in the eighth, aided by a bad throw from centerfield by Holden, and scored one more in the ninth, but Bacon tightened and prevented further runs.

The feature of the game was contributed by Bob Weatherill who pulled down with his bare hand a drive that was labelled extra bases. Wesleyan made four errors to Bowdoin's seven, nearly all the miscues figuring in the scoring. The cold prevented fast fielding. Bowdoin outhit Wesleyan. The score follows:

BOWDOIN VS. TRINITY

Two runs in the ninth inning gave Bowerdin the victory over Trinity Saturday. Trinity scored twice in the second but in the fourth and fifth Bowerdin made eight runs and things looked easy for another walk-over. In the seventh, however, Trinity hit Dodge freely and, with the aid of errors, crossed the plate six times. Rawson pitched the last two innings and held Trinity runless.

Bowerdin outplayed Trinity in every department of the game. Bowerdin made 10 hits against 7, 7 errors against 8, 10 assists against 9, 5 stolen bases against 3, had but 7 strike-outs against 10, and scored 10 runs against 8. The score:

BOWDOIN 2nd VS. B. H. S.

Brunswick High turned the tables on the second team Wednesday afternoon and emerged with the long end of the 12 to 8 score. The game went ten innings, and in the tenth, on only one clean single, the high school boys scored four runs.

The second team used 20 men in an effort to save the day, but the weather was too cold to allow fast playing. The last two innings were the most exciting. At the end of the eighth, the second team was two ahead. Brunswick scored three times in the first of the ninth, and then, on a two-bagger by Rogers and a single by Badger, Bowerdin second tied the score. The sad tale of the tenth has been told.

The batteries were: Hall, pitcher; Stuart and Kuhn, catchers, for the second team. Brown and Grover, pitchers; Nevens, catcher, for Brunswick High.

Score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

BOWDOIN 2nd VS. KENTS HILL

The second team went up to Kents Hill Saturday and were defeated by the schoolboys by the narrow margin of 6 scores, the second team holding the deuce. Lack of team work and costly errors were largely responsible for the defeat. Fraser was relieved at the end of the sixth inning by Hall. Both pitchers did rather better than the score indicates. Gardner and Keegan played well for the second team while Brigham, Masterman and Richardson excelled for Kents Hill.

The score:

Bowdoin 2nd: 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 — 2
Wesleyan: 0 1 1 0 0 3 1 2 x — 8

SECOND TEAM SCHEDULE

The schedule of the Bowdoin Second baseball team has been announced by Manager Elwell '15 as follows:

April 16—Brunswick High at Brunswick.

April 19—Kents Hill Seminary at Kents Hill.

April 23—Coburn Classical Institute at Waterville.

April 26—South Portland High at South Portland.

May 3—Morse High at Bath.

May 7—Hebron Academy at Hebron.

May 10—Cabots at Brunswick.

May 12—Brunswick High at Brunswick.

TENNIS NEWS

Tennis practice began Thursday afternoon upon the clay courts in the Hyde Athletic Building. The following men selected from a preliminary tournament held last fall, are candidates for the team: Eaton '13, Gardner '13, Card '15, Nixon '13, Slocum '13, Larrabee '16, Woodman '16. Although Captain Savage '13 is the only player who has had varsity experience, the men are showing good form, and with the additional facilities for practice in all sorts of weather afforded by the new Athletic Building, Bowdoin should turn out a strong team.

The schedule, as arranged by Manager Paul Donahue '14, opens with a tournament with the Portland Country Club at Portland on either May 6 or 7. Bowdoin will also send a team to the annual Maine Intercollegiate Tournament, which is to take place upon the Bates courts at Lewiston from May 12 to 14, and will be represented in the New England Intercollegiate Tournament at Longwood on May 19.

OUT-DOOR TRACK MEET

The Juniors defeated the Sophomores by the narrow margin of two points in the first outdoor handicap meet Friday afternoon. The final figures were: 1914, 26; 1915, 24; 1913, 17; 1916, 13. Although the cold weather prevented fast work, a number of the events were very closely contested.

The events follow:

100-yard dash—Won by Smith '15; McWilliams '15, second; Livingstone '15, third.

110-yard high hurdles—Won by Haskell '13; Richardson '15, second; Ireland '16, third.

880-yard run—Won by Wright '14; T. Emery '13, second; Peters '13, third.

220-yard dash—Won by McWilliams '15; Haskell '13, second; Walker '13, third.

440-yard low hurdles—Won by A. Pratt '14; Fox '14, second; Nixon '13, third.

Discus throw—Won by Leadbetter '16; Lewis '15, second; Austin '15, third.

Hammer throw—Won by Lewis '15; Leadbetter '16, second; Austin '15, third.

These meets will be held every Saturday until the time of the collegiate contests.

N. E. ORATORICAL LEAGUE TRIALS

Trials for the New England Oratorical League contest which is to be held May 1 at Wesleyan, were held last Thursday afternoon in Memorial Hall. The speakers were Douglas, Crosby, Crowell and Wish. Sweet spoke yesterday morning, as he was unable to be present Thursday. The judges were President Hyde and Professors Davis and Mitchell.

RECEPTION TO IBIS SPEAKER

The Psi Upsilon fraternity entertained before Mr. Mitchell at dinner Monday night. The other guests were Professor Johnson and the members of the Ibis.

After the lecture a few had an opportunity to meet Mr. Mitchell at a reception at the Psi Upsilon House. Crowell '13, chairman of the Ibis, and Professor Johnson received with Mr. Mitchell. The Psi U orchestra played during the evening. Shaw of Portland catered.

The Eternal Canine

It was once conclusively proved by a street corner orator that professional men are parasites on society. Arguing that preachers are dependent for their living on society's sin, doctors on its disease, teachers on its ignorance and lawyers on its quarrels, he maintained that if we remove these abnormal conditions the professional man will have to go out of business.

So it is with the college newspaper editorial in a humbler sphere. Its sole raison d'être seems to be in the weaknesses and irregularities of the college community. Let there be a lack of attendance at a rally and the next week's issue of the Orient must bewail the loss of spirit; let a stray dog enter chapel and the weekly paper feels duty bound to censure someone.

But we do not feel inclined to criticize anyone for last week's disturbance which was very slight in comparison with those of previous years. The occurrence does, however, give us the opportunity to moralize a bit about chapel conduct in general. It is a generally recognized fact that Bowdoin does not show itself to very great advantage at this daily service, that it is a weak point in our campus life. But what can we do about it? The tradition of choir rather than congregational singing seems as deeply rooted as the precedence of classes. The murmurs of conversation and "eleventh hour" studying is a well established custom. No radical reform seems possible.

But there is one reasonable hope of improvement. The underclassmen should learn to take their cue from the Seniors in regard to applause and demonstration. If prayers are too long, let the upperclassmen be the first judges. If the chapel is to be noisy let a larger share come from the upper classes than the lower classes. Then, perhaps, the chapel customs will be preserved as they should be, and perhaps improved. Perhaps, in this way, we may some day experience a growing realization of the value of this service which is now only partially attained.

As You Might Expect

Some editorial subjects are found after long search, some occur in the natural course of events, and some are forced upon us. The one we now treat is of the last variety. To omit mention of the much-discussed celebration after the Rhode Island State game would be too much of a surprise to the campus prophets. But after all, there is not much to be said about the affair. That it was ill-timed and hurtful rather than helpful in preserving Bowdoin traditions, will not be denied by those familiar with the campus customs. But those in charge of last week's affair were, for the most part, under-classmen and could not be expected to exhibit the discrimination of older Bowdoin men. The Orient has no quarrel, however, with any students who wish to celebrate a victory if it be only over Brunswick or Topsham High School, providing the celebration is an expression of real jubilation. These matters are within the province of the proper committee of the Student Council, the members of which, we hope, realize the consequences of a frequent repetition of such unwarranted celebrations.

A Good Start

Those who have been following the baseball team closely are very well pleased with their work on their first series of games last week. They showed the strength of which championship teams are made and betrayed weaknesses which can be done away with by hard practise. This afternoon Bowdoin meets Harvard at Cambridge and the hopes of the College are high in the anticipation of a very creditable showing. The faithful undergraduate and faculty fans are anxious for the first scheduled game on Whittier Field and are satisfying themselves as best they can in the meantime by box scores and newspaper stories.

BRUNSWICK BOYS EXHIBITION

The closing exhibition of the Brunswick Boys' Association was held recently in the Sargent Gymnasium. The program was made up of a number of events the boys have practised during the past winter, as follows:

1. Indian Club Drill.
2. Indian Club Race (5-man teams).
3. Wheelbarrow Race.
5. Relay Race (8-man teams).
7. Wand Drill.
8. Stunts—bars, rings, kicking, diving, jumping.
9. Setting up Drill.

The athletic instructors of the club, all Bowdoin men, are: Directors, Merrill '14, Smith '12, O. P. Badger '14, McFarland '11, Stuart '16; assistants, Austin '15, G. W. Badger '15, Chase '14, Cross '15, Foster '16, Irving '16, McKenney '15, Soule '16.

Acting Dean McConaughy is president of the Board of Directors, of which Dr. Whittier is a member.

The preliminary report of the treasurer of the organization, George R. Gardner, showed that the probable balance after all bills have been paid is $110.86.

Club and Council Meetings

The Government Club met Wednesday night at the Kappa Sigma house to discuss general plans of work. At the close of the business meeting Norton '13 gave an account of the proceedings in the house of representatives at Augusta on the day of passing of the public utilities bill.

The next meeting of the club will be tomorrow night at the Beta Theta Pi house.

The Biology Club will meet in the Biology lecture room Thursday, April 24, at 5:30 p.m., to hear the report of the organization committee and to elect officers.

The Junior class held a meeting Wednesday and voted that the class assessment be $10.

On the Campus

Houghton ex-'15 is in Calgary, Canada.

Blethen '16 has gone home on account of sickness.

Bisbee '03 was on the campus during the weekend.

Maine defeated Colby 5 to 2 Saturday at Waterville.

The Sophomore class sing will be held Friday evening.

Ev'ry little baseball victory has a celebration all its own.

Lew Donahue '14 again injured his leg in the meet Friday.

Bickmore '11 was on the campus over Saturday, the nineteenth.

Merrill ex-'14 has charge of the Grammar School League in Portland.

The Kappa Sigma and Beta Theta Pi house parties will be held May 2.

"Cope" Phlooon '05 was operated on recently in Albany for appendicitis.

The Sophomore sing dated for last Friday evening was postponed a week.

Summer Edwards was on the campus last week coaching some of the track men.

Chase '14, Mitchell '14 and Farrar '14 summered” at Mere Point over Sunday.

“Sphinx” White ’14 is again on the campus after having a slight operation on his nose.

Woodbury ’15 has typhoid fever, and has been sent to his home in Leominster, Mass.

Brunswick High defeated Morse High School on Whittier Field Saturday, 5 to 1.

Cushman ’13 who completed his college course at the end of last semester, was on the campus over the week-end.

Hargraves ’16 and Haywood ’16 attended the annual banquet of the Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity at Portland Friday night.

All Seniors who received provisional commencement appointments will be obliged to write parts before May 16.

The Musical Clubs will give a concert in Bath Tuesday, April 27. The season will close with the joint concert with Bates April 30.

All Freshmen who intend to go out for assistant manager of tennis should hand their names to P. Donahue ’14, or to MacCormick ’15.

The Golf Club wishes the fact brought to the attention of Orient readers that “Major” Slo-cum has received a new lot of golf sticks.

A grass fire near the Delta Upsilon House got beyond control Thursday and an alarm was rung in. Before the department arrived the fire was put out by means of hand-extinguishers.

The ghost of “Dooley” appeared in Chapel Friday morning. Evidently His Dogship is not satisfied with a paradise where there is no morning Chapel. Try us!

Bacon ’15 was operated on for appendicitis in the Newton (Mass.) Hospital Saturday morning. He will be unable to run on the track team this spring. Head ’16 will take his part in the Dramatic Club production.

Copies of the memorandum of the Rhodes scholarships in 1914 have been received from State Superintendent of Schools Payson Smith and those interested may find a copy at the Dean’s office or at the Library.

The orchestra met last Tuesday at 4.30 and there were several men present. It is still desirable to have more men especially on the medium and heavy stringed instruments. If you can play any instrument whatever come today at 4.30 to the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Because of absence from Brunswick, Acting Dean McConaughy will have no office hours Friday. Office hours for the remainder of the term have been posted as follows: Monday to Thursday inclusive, 11 to 12 and 12.30; Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 3.

Competition for the Hawthorne prize of $40 given by Mrs. George C. Riggs (Kate Douglas Wiggin), which is awarded annually to the writer of the best short story, is open to members of the three upper classes. Professor Mitchell, who has charge of the contest, has announced that entries will close on May 16. All stories offered must be at least 1500 words in length and must be typewritten.

Ten schools have already entered in the Bowdoin Interscholastic Outdoor Track Meet to be held on Whittier Field May 31, and it is expected that 30 schools will enter in the course of the next week. Kents Hill has again entered after a lapse of a number of years, while Gardiner High has entered for the first time. The four-year rule applying to students who have competed in interscholastic athletics for four years will apply in this meet and will be strictly enforced.

The Bowdoin and Maine chapters of Kappa Sigma held their annual joint banquet at the Elmwood Hotel, Waterville, Saturday evening, April 19th. A large number of undergraduates and alumni of both chapters were in attendance. A number of those present attended the Maine-Colby baseball game in the afternoon. Speeches were made by Spinney ’13, Abbott ’13 of Bowdoin and Bigelow ’13 and Higgins ’14 of Maine. Burleigh Rodick ’12 of Bowdoin was toastmaster.

With the Faculty

Professor Catlin is to speak at Harrison tommorrow.

Last Friday Professor McConaughy addressed the teachers’ convention at Bath.

Professor Nixon attended a meeting of the Classical Teachers of New England, held in Worcester recently.

President Hyde was the first speaker in a series of vocational talks which is to be given before the Brunswick High School pupils. His subject was “Why Go to College?”

A card has been received from Dean Sills stating that he was in Greece at the time of the burial of the late King. From Greece he is to go to Rome.

The Other Colleges

The Pennsylvania Relay Races will be held this year on Franklin Field, April 26. Seventy-three colleges and one hundred and ninety-eight schools have entered. These teams embrace practically all the college and school athletic talent east of the Rocky Mountains. The College Relay Championship of America will be competed for, as well as the Interscholastic Relay Championship. In the special events will be seen such men as Craig of Michigan; Richards of Utah, the Olympic high-jump champion; Burdick, the intercollegiate high-jump champion; Wendell of Wesleyan, the intercollegiate hurdle champion; Lippincott and Meredith, Penn’s sprinters; Thomas of Princeton, the intercollegiate sprint champion; Cable of Harvard, the intercollegiate hammer-thrower; and Wright of Dartmouth, holder of the world’s record in the pole vault.

About 150 of the Sophomores at Yale, including the majority of the prominent men in the class, have drawn up a formal protest against the Senior society system. The chief reforms which they demand are the abolition of “Tap Day,” the elimination of the excessive secrecy of the societies, and the selection of members on merit only rather than on social prestige.

The Pan Hellenic Association, which comprises all of the Greek-letter fraternities in Adelbert College of Western Reserve University has offered a bronze trophy to be awarded at the close of each semester to the fraternity which has the highest average in scholarship. In the competition of the first semester of the current year, Alpha Delta Phi won the cup with Delta Upsilon second.

The New York Times has recently interviewed several Boston business men to find out their opinion of the value of a college education, and the consensus of opinion was that a college education was not only unnecessary but in many cases detrimental as preparation for a business career.

Harvard and Yale have decided to send a formal invitation to the Universities of Cambridge and Oxford to compete with them in a track meet to take place in the Harvard Stadium during the latter part of June.

University of Maine students are organizing a new honorary fraternity to be known as Sigma Psi, for the purpose of encouraging public speaking.

Princeton is to have two magnificent new buildings, one a $500,000 dining hall, which is designed to accommodate nine hundred students, and the other a $160,000 dormitory. This dormitory will be unique in the fact that it will have accommodations for both the men who are able to pay the highest prices and for the poorest students, none of whom will be charged more than seventy-five dollars a year.

Cricket is a popular sport at the University of Pennsylvania. Thirty-one candidates reported for the first practice of the 'Varsity team.

The Williams College dramatic organization is to present “Old Heidelberg” this spring.

Closely following the fire in Thayer Hall comes the announcement that Harvard is making elaborate plans for the protection of student life and property. New fire escapes have been added already in a large number of the dormitories, and a general fire alarm system is to be installed very soon in the Senior dormitories.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton are to enter into a literary competition. Three prizes of fifty dollars each or gold medals suitably inscribed will be awarded to the students who write the best short story, poem, or one-act play. This contest is open to all undergraduates of the above-named institutions, and there is no rule prohibiting one contestant from competing for all three prizes.

Resolutions

HALL OF LAMBDA OF ZETA PSI.

With profound regret the Lambda Chapter of Zeta Psi learns of the untimely death of Parker Prince Simmons, a devoted alumnus of the Class of 1875, on March 24th at his home in New York.

In college Brother Simmons revealed those qualities which characterized his life and made his record so enviable. Sympathetic and interested as a brother and alumnus, unselfish and indefatigable as an educator, thorough and conscientious as a business man, in whatever he undertook he has left an inspiring heritage to his fraternity and to his college.

Realizing the great loss we have met in his death, we have therefore,

Resolved, That we express our deep sorrow and extend our sincere sympathy to his wife, family, and relatives, and those to whom his life was bound by the ties of friendship.

For the Chapter.
Alumni Department

'60.—The death of Robert Cash, Esq., on November 27, 1912, has just been reported to the class secretary, Augustine Jones, Esq.

'76.—It has been announced that the only son of Professor Arlo Bates, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is engaged to Miss Natica Inches. The bride comes from one of Boston's old and honored families. The bridegroom is the grandson of the late Professor George W. Vose of Brunswick, and of Dr. Hiram Bates, formerly of East Machias. Mr. Bates has won renown as an archaeologist in North Africa.

Professor Bates is well known for the stories which he contributed to the old Portland Transcript after his graduation from Bowdoin, and later for his excellent novels and his work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

'77.—George W. Tillson, chief engineer of the Borough of Brooklyn, was recently honored by the City Club of that city. A dinner was given in honor of "Expert Administrative Service," and Mr. Tillson was among the guests of honor,—those who, for at least five years have given faithful service in technical or administrative lines to the City of New York.

'80.—Another of the deaths which will mean a great loss to the Bowdoin family, was that of Franklin Goulding of this class. Mr. Goulding was prominent in the business world from the time of his graduation until his death.

Franklin Goulding was born at Groton Junction, Mass., Nov. 21, 1858. After graduation from college Mr. Goulding became Assistant Paymaster at the Androscoggin Mills, in Lewiston, which position he held for five years. He then spent three years in business in Boston as bookkeeper and industrial manager of the branch there. Mr. Goulding then entered the rubber business as paymaster and later manager of the Metropolitan Rubber Co. at Wallingford, Ct. Mr. Goulding's service in the East was terminated by an eleven year term of service with the Valvoline and the Wilburine Oil Companies, allied companies. In 1904 he was forced to go to southern California for his health, and for some time was an expert accountant for the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Co.

In spite of the fact that he was very busy in these various positions, Mr. Goulding never forgot the social duties of a true Bowdoin man. He was an active member of the Baptist Church and for five years was a director of the Young Men's Christian Association at Warren, Pa. He was also a justice of the peace in Maine for one term, and was clerk of elections in Chicago while there with the Valvoline Oil Co., for four years.

'86.—Dr. John Clement Parker, one of the most successful physicians of Providence, R. I., passed away on March 12th. After graduation he received an A.M. in 1889 and also received his M.D. from the Medical School in 1891. After graduating from the academic department, he was principal of the High School at Kennebunk, Me., for three years. He then returned to the college where he was an assistant in the biology department, in fact one of the first assistants in that department. After receiving his medical degree he opened an office in Farmington, where he remained for nine years. He then moved to Providence where he soon gained a modest practice. His death was due to pneumonia.

'88.—In the death of Professor Henry C. Hill from bronchial pneumonia, at Lawrence, Kas., on April 8th, Bowdoin lost an alumni famous as one of the ablest teachers of jurisprudence in the West.

Born at Pond Cove, Cape Elizabeth, 46 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hill, he was one of the best known young men of that place.

After graduation from Cape Elizabeth High School and from Bowdoin College, he took graduate courses in law at Cornell and the University of Michigan. Having fitted himself particularly to teach law, Professor Hill held chairs in several universities. He had taught in Stetson University, at Deland, Fla.; at the University of Missouri; and at the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, where he died.

Professor Hill was a man of constant friendship. He was a welcome visitor at Pond Cove, where he spent every summer with his parents. He leaves a mother, a father, and one brother, Dr. George E. Hill, of Portland. Bowdoin is proud of the reputation he won in his career.

'07.—Felix A. Burton arrived in Brunswick last week from Portland, Oregon, and with Mrs. Burton, who has been visiting her parents, will sail in a few days from Boston for several months' visit in England and Italy. Mr. Burton is the architect for the Reed College buildings and while abroad will make a study of architecture.

BOWDOIN MEETS TUFTS TODAY

This afternoon the White meets Tufts at Medford and the fight will be well worth watching. The Massachusetts team, with several weeks of outdoor practice, is already almost in mid-season form. In their previous games they have defeated Cornell, Coach Coogan's former protégés, and have been whipped only by Brown and the strong Holy Cross aggregation. The team which will take the field for Bowdoin will undoubtedly be practically the same one which played against Harvard last Tuesday, as follows: Lacasce, catcher; Eaton, first base; Daniels, second base; McElwee, third base; Tilton, shortstop; N. Tuttle, left field; Skolfield, center field; Stetson or Rawson, right field. It is probable that Dodge will be in the box for Bowdoin, while Rawson, Stetson, or Knight will pitch against Andover tomorrow. Weatherill is still out of the game with a pulled tendon.

HARVARD 6—BOWDOIN 4

An eighth inning rally which netted two runs won the game for Harvard against Bowdoin. With a Bowdoin rally in full progress in the sixth, big Sam Felton, Harvard's speed artist, was called to the slab. Two men were down at the time and Tilton and Daniels were on first and second, but Lacasce went out on a ground ball to shortstop.

The game was close and interesting. Bowdoin showed all kinds of pep and played her best game of the year in the field, although four errors were counted up. Dodge pitched a good game and allowed only six hits, one of them a three-bagger. He did not make any strike-outs but he had good control and showed a vast improvement over the Wesleyan game.

Captain "Link" Skolfield played a stellar game in centerfield, accepting five chances, but making one error. He hit the ball for a home-run in the second inning, scoring Tuttle ahead of him, and placing Bowdoin in the lead at the time.

Bowdoin made nine hits, three more than Harvard made. All of these were made off of Frye's delivery. Felton had nice curves and speed, but Bowdoin hit him freely but unfortunately, all the drives going straight into the hands of a fielder.

Harvard started the scoring in the initial inning. Wingate got a life on an excusable error by Tilton and scored on two infield outs and a single. Bowdoin took the lead in the second on Tuttle's single and Skolfield's homer. Eaton followed with a single but Daniels and Dodge flied out, ending the inning.

Bowdoin tallied again in the third. Stetson drew a pass and McElwee and Tuttle singled. In the same inning, however, Harvard scored twice, evening matters up. Wingate reached first while McElwee fumbled his grounder. Clark hit for three bases and scored when Gannett dumped one in front of the plate. Another Harvard run in the fifth came through the combination of a pass, a sacrifice and a single by Ayres.

Eaton scored Bowdoin's final run in the sixth, reaching first on a safe hit to left. Daniels sacrificed and Stetson's hit to center scored the run.

Harvard won out in the eighth. Dodge passed Gannett who took second on Hardwick's sacrifice. Felton went out, Tilton to Eaton, Gannett not daring to take third on the play. With two strikes called, Osborne made the hit that scored the winning run, and a minute later scored himself on a single by Frye.

In the seventh Tuttle and Skolfield had been hit by pitched balls. Only one man was down at the time, but Eaton flied to second and Daniels fanned. Again in the eighth Bowdoin got a man, but Felton proved the master of the situation. In the ninth, McElwee went out at first on a weak hit in front of the plate. Tuttle struck out and Skolfield drew a base on balls, but Eaton's out closed the game.

MAINE CENTRALS 10—BOWDOIN 3

Making 16 hits for a total of 23 bases, seven of them in one inning, the Maine Centrals defeated Bowdoin at Portland Saturday by the score of 10 to 3. Up to the fourth inning, all went well, from a Bowdoin point of view at least, but in the fourth, with one down, the railroaders started a batting bee that did not stop until seven runs had been scored. A base on balls and an error aided in the run-getting, but in addition to the single error that can be given under the scoring rules, the Bowdoin infield made several errors of judgment that were responsible for the greater part of the runs.

Bowdoin scored first in the second, when, with Eaton out on a ground ball to second base, Skolfield hammered a two-base hit to right center and scored when Tilton got on through Pumphrey's error. Tilton tallied when Bradbury let Knight's grounder go through him, but Stetson ended the inning by fanning.

In the fourth, the Maine Centrals made their seven runs. With two men out, Rawson was sent to the slab. He quelled the bat fest for a time, but the Maine Centrals scored three more runs before the game was over.

Bowdoin's final tally came in the fifth. McElwee singled to left field, stole second, went to third on an error by Pumphrey, and came home on Tuttle's single over third base. During the game, Bowdoin had six men left on bases.

BOWDOIN 2ND 9—S. PORTLAND HIGH 2

One Bowdoin team, at least, took their opponents into camp Saturday. While the Varsity was getting a hammering out on the Forest Avenue grounds the second team was piling up a decisive score against South Portland High on the Pine Tree grounds. The final score was 9-2 but never during the game was the result uncertain. Ragged fielding on the part of the high school boys was largely responsible for their defeat. The feature of the game was the pitching of Fraser ’16. He retired 17 men and allowed only five hits. The score:

FOOD FOR FANS

Before the next Orient appears, the annual quadrangular struggle for the College Baseball Championship of Maine will have begun. On May 3 all four colleges enter the lists, Bates meeting Maine at Orono and Bowdoin meeting Colby at Waterville. To attempt to show how one team will win the championship and another team finish in the cellar is worse than useless, for all four colleges have a habit of tricking the best of dopes. However, a summing-up of the prospects will not be out of place.

Each of the teams is suffering from the loss of veterans, particularly among the pitchers. Maine is handicapped by the loss of Stobie, the twirler who defeated Bowdoin last year on Whitter Field, while Bowdoin has lost Lee Means, the hero of the 18-inning Ivy Day game. In James and Steves, Colby has two good pitchers. In the Harvard game James first showed his form of last year. Bates is credited with having the two best pitchers in the state, Stinson and Anderson. Colby’s outfield is practically new and her infield has been somewhat changed. Sturtevant and Good have left places which are hard to fill.

From the form shown by the colleges in their games outside the state, Bowdoin has a slight advantage over the others. The infield is one of the fastest in recent years while the outfield has hit hard and fielded steadily. It is in the box that Bowdoin’s need would seem to be greatest, but that need is being well met. Dodge seems to be free from the wildness which kept him out of the box last year, while in Rawson, Stetson, and Knight, he has three good understudies. On May 3 the first entries will be made in the average column, the race will be on, and dope sheets may have to be drawn up anew.

N. E. ORATORICAL LEAGUE SPEAKER

The New England Oratorical League’s annual contest will be held at Wesleyan, Middletown, Conn., Thursday evening, May 1. Bowdoin will be represented by Alfred H. Sweet, winner of the ’68 prize speaking cup. Besides Mr. Sweet there will be representatives of Amherst, Brown, Williams and Wesleyan.

Music in the Air

The Student Council has recently taken action in the matter of College Sings and it is hoped in various quarters that their idea will be carried through to a successful termination. Of late, the student body has been very prompt in taking advantage of their opportunities. These college sings should be looked at in the light of one of the greatest opportunities of the college year. Never before have we had the preparation given by the class sings, never before have we had the direction of a trained musician such as Professor Wass, never before have we had such a large number of good songs to sing. Enthusiasts among the student body have high hopes of developing the student singing and songs until it shall be one of the distinctive features of Bowdoin life. Certainly, the future is bright if the possibilities of the present are fully grasped. The call for the first sing will soon come. Let us make it a good one.

Dramatics and the Dramatic Club

The Masque and Gown presents Alt Heidelberg this evening in Portland. It is by far the most ambitious attempt yet made by Bowdoin's Dramatic Club and those who are in touch with rehearsals are confident that it will be their greatest success. This organization, founded only a few years ago, has been making rapid strides in the last two or three years and is now a feature of undergraduate activity.

There is yet much to be done before the hopes of those who are now actively engaged in the work are realized. It is only for us at this time to record the milestone in the club's existence and to express the appreciation of the general college body in the work of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, the faculty members, and the officers of the present organization for the great impetus they are giving to this valuable branch of college activity.

PRAY ENGLISH PRIZE

Professor Mitchell recently announced the subject for the Pray English Prize essays. This prize of forty-five dollars, given by Dr. Thomas J. W. Pray of the Class of 1844, is awarded each year to the writer of the best essay on an assigned subject connected with English Literature. The contest is open to members of the Senior class. The subject this year is "The Use of the Supernatural in Shakespeare's 'Macbeth,' 'Hamlet,' and 'The Tempest.' " The essay should be at least 2500 words long. A typewritten copy, signed with a fictitious name, must be left at Room 4, Memorial Hall, not later than Wednesday, June 11.

MASQUE AND GOWN IN PORTLAND

"Alt Heidelberg," which will be given at the Casco Theater, Portland, tonight, is by far one of the prettiest plays that the Masque and Gown has staged for many seasons. The offering is peculiarly fitted to a college organization as the characters, which are nearly all students, do not have to be acted, but lived by the participants. From a scenic point of view there are few pieces of note that have so many pleasing possibilities. In the garden scene the stage management claims that it has some unique features. Following the Portland opening there may be several other performances.

THETA DELTA CHI HOUSE PARTY
The Eta Charge of Theta Delta Chi held its annual house party and dance at the Charge house last Friday afternoon and evening. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Neil Fogg '13, Horace A. Barton '14, Ralph L. Buell '14, William Livingstone '15 and Arthur E. Littlefield '16. Lovell's Orchestra furnished music, and Morton catered for the occasion.

In the afternoon was a reception which was largely attended by members of the faculty, students, town people and out-of-town guests.

The patrons at the dance, which began at nine o'clock and lasted until a late hour, were Mrs. Wilmot B. Mitchell and Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff of Brunswick, Mrs. W. C. Fogg of Freeport and Mrs. H. E. Cole of Bath.

Among the guests present at the dance were the following: Misses Edith Monroe, Alice Foster, Gertrude King, Emily Mansfield, Alberta Robinson, Dorothy True, Marion Elwell and Elizabeth Payson of Portland; Ruth Nearing, Pauline Herring, Mabel Wood, Helen Mitchell, Annie Hall, Alexa LaPointe, Frances Skolfield and Helen Snow of Brunswick; Barbara Johnson and Ruth Capen of Augusta; Milcent Clifford of Bath; Lillian Fogg of Freeport; Ruth Greene of Brighton, Mass.; Marie Fogg of Westbrook; Viola Smith of Dorchester, Mass.

ALPHA DELTA PHI BANQUET
Monday evening, April 21, fifty members of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity, representing Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Harvard, Yale, Amherst, Union and Brown, enjoyed a banquet and social evening at the Falmouth Hotel in Portland. The entire active chapter of Bowdoin was present. Prof. William A. Moody and Prof. Marshall P. Cram were guests. The following officers of the Alpha Delta Phi Association of Maine were elected: President, Rt. Rev. Bishop Robert Codman, D.D.; vice-president, Dr. John F. Thompson of Portland; secretary and treasurer, Neal W. Allen of Portland.

DR. ABBOTT HONORED
Dr. Edville G. Abbott of the Class of 1901 has recently received signal honors. In Paris and Berlin, the surgeons paid him just tribute for what is universally conceded to be a new discovery in surgery, termed lateral curvature. At Paris, he favored the Sorbonne, an organization of the leading surgeons of France, with the presentation of a paper; and at Berlin he read a paper and gave a demonstration before the German Orthopedic Congress.

Upon his return to America he was tendered a complimentary banquet by the Cumberland Club of Portland, Me.

To another Bowdoin man, Oramel H. Stanley of the Class of 1909, much credit is due for Dr. Abbott's success. It was he who allowed his body to be experimented on, distorted, and then straightened. Bowdoin men may well be proud of the spirit shown by this modern heroism.

SECOND OUTDOOR MEET
The second in the series of trial meets in preparation for the dual meet with Trinity on May 10 was run off on Whittier Field Saturday afternoon. The Freshmen won with a score of 36 points; the Sophomores took second place with 31, the Juniors third with 28, and the Seniors last with 14. Although no times were given out for publication, several good marks were made in the short dashes and hurdles. The new men showed up well, and with two more weeks of practice remaining before the Trinity meet, they should be in good shape to win points to increase the total which Captain Haskell and the veteran trackmen are sure to make. The summary:

100-yard Dash: Wyman '16, first; Smith '15, second; Haskell '13, third.
220-yard Dash: Smith '15, first; Haskell '13, second; McWilliams '15, third.
440-yard Dash: Ireland '16, first; Powers '16, second; Livingston '15, third.
880-yard Run: Wright '14, first; Stowell '14, second; Peters '14, third.
Mile Run: Tarbox '14, first; Porritt '15, second; Eberhardt '13, third.
Two-Mile Run: Tarbox '14, first.
High Jump: Boardman '16, first; Garland '14 and Wood '16, tied for second.
Broad Jump: Smith '15, first; Haskell '13, second.
Pole Vault: McKenney '15, first; Merrill '14, second.
Shot Put: Leadbetter '16, first; Moulton '16, second; Parkhurst '13, third.
Discus Throw: Leadbetter '16, first; Moulton '16, second; Parkhurst '13, third.
120-yard Hurdles: Floyd '15, first; Hubbard '14, second.
220-yard Hurdles: Jones '13, first; Floyd '15, second; A. Pratt '14, third.

TRACK PROSPECTS

Track prospects are getting brighter every day out on Whittier Field. Either new men are showing unexpected ability or the veterans are outdoing themselves. There is but one cloud hanging over track affairs at present. Captain Haskell has developed a bad ankle in some way. The trouble is not in the bone or ligaments but seems to be an infection that has got into the muscle. However, Dr. Whittier feels sure that it will come around all right in a few days.

One of the pleasantest surprises a college can be presented with is a "dark horse" track star in the Freshman class. Bowdoin track fans got their surprise last Saturday when Wyman '16 easily won the 100-yard dash. And the fact that Wyman, without training or experience, beat men with the ability, training and experience of P. Smith, McWilliams and Captain Haskell, is enough to show that he is a sprinter with great possibilities. Although no time was given out for publication it is understood that Wyman runs the 100 about as fast as it has been run in this state for several years. Coach Finneran is confident that Wyman will pull down a first place in the Trinity Meet if not in the State Meet.

Smith '15 and McWilliams '15 are also showing good speed and form in the dashes, especially Smith in the 220-yard dash. Wright '14 is running a strong, fast half and looks like a point taker. Leadbetter is getting the hammer and discus out a little farther every day. Coach Finneran puts him down for a couple of sure firsts in the Trinity Meet.

The only weak spot seems to be in the distances. Tarbox '14 is the only distance runner we have that has had any experience. Marshall '16 and Irving '16 are running stronger all the time and promise to develop into speedy runners.

With the men whose ability we already know and those who always "come through" at the last moment, it seems that we have a very good chance of winning the Trinity Meet. As to dope on the Maine Meet, we can better judge after our meet with Trinity.

THE MAN OF NIPPUR

A large number listened with great pleasure to the brilliant address on "The Man of Nippur," given Monday evening, April 21, by Mr. Edward P. Mitchell '71, the editor of the New York Sun and the author of "Phi Chi." Mr. Mitchell's address was based upon his conception that the human mind is a constant factor in human development; that all through the ages it has remained unchanged, and therefore the present day thinkers have no advantage over the men of the older civilizations. The scope of the address enabled him to draw interesting contrasts between the lives of the ancients and our own lives and his discourse was constantly illuminated by allusions, both classical and modern, the product of wit and fancy. In a most delicate manner Mr. Mitchell pointed out that the members of the Ibis at Bowdoin College are probably not superior in intellect to the members of a similar order in old Athens, or ancient Egypt. He also made some contrasts between the sons of Bowdoin, naming some of the graduates of the early classes, and paying a tribute to some of the early members of the faculty. After discussing various possibilities for the actual improvement of the human mind, including surgical and therapeutic aids, he reached the conclusion that the only means would be through the hereditary memory, and the person who is thus endowed will become master or mistress of the world.

Club and Council Meetings

The Student Council held a meeting Thursday evening, April 24. It was decided to hold college sings on the Sunday evenings during the rest of the semester. A college customs committee as appointed consists of L. Smith, Wood and Leigh. R. Leigh '14 was elected as business representative of the College at the New England Oratorical Contest, to be held at Wesleyan, May 1.

One of the most successful club meetings of the year was that of the Government Club held at the Beta Theta Pi House, Wednesday, April 23. Hon. Alton C. Wheeler, the Progressive leader of the State Senate, talked to the body on the subject of Public Utilities Bill recently enacted by the Legislature and which he had a large share in framing. After the address an informal discussion of the bill, its effects, the commission and the control of public utilities took place. The club was very fortunate in having such an expert to speak to them on a question of vital interest to citizens of the state. About thirty members were present.

The first meeting of the newly formed biology club was held in the biology lecture room last Thursday. The constitution which had been drawn up by an organizing committee was accepted and the following men were elected to office. Philip H. Pope ’14, president; Omar P. Badger ’14, secretary and treasurer; Samuel W. Chase ’14, vice-president.

A large crowd enjoyed the concert given by the Musical Clubs at the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration at Thompson’s store in Bath last Tuesday. The large floor space was cleared for the occasion and a dance was held after the concert. The program given was the same as that given in the other concerts.

On the Campus

Miss Marion Haines of Portland has accepted the position of pianist at the Pastime Theatre.

The weekly Freshman sing was held Friday afternoon at 5 o’clock and the Sophomore sing at 7 o’clock.

The Musical Clubs will hold their joint concert with Bates May 9 instead of April 30, as previously announced.

The possibility of a dual track meet between the Freshmen and one of the larger preparatory schools of the state has been discussed and rejected.

The March number of the Quill will be omitted and a June number will be published in its place. The April number will appear some time this week.

There is to be a College Sing next Friday evening at 7 o’clock in Memorial Hall. This is to be in preparation for the Snow Song Cup contest, and everyone is strongly urged to be present.

Next Saturday there is to be a handicap golf tournament open to all members of the Golf Club. Those who wish to enter should hand in their names at once to Paul Donahue, together with the scores which they have made during April.

Archery practice is held every afternoon from 3 to 5 back of the Psi U house. Dr. Whittier has provided bows and arrows so that all may shoot without money and without price. All students who have a spare afternoon are urged to come and get interested in the sport. Equipment may be had on application at the Theta Delt house.

The annual track and field meet of the New England I. C. A. A. will be held this year for the first time in the Harvard Stadium instead of at Springfield as formerly. The reasons for the change are chiefly financial.

All the classes are urged to make an extra effort to get a large number out to the rest of the “sings.” Interest seems to be dropping off a little on account of the many other activities. The date of the prize competition has not been definitely decided upon but will come sometime the first of June.

State Superintendent of Schools Payson Smith evidently realizes that Pege Day does not amount to much unless it is marked by some special observance. He has therefore asked the teachers of our state to set apart a little time for appropriate exercises. As the anniversary falls on May 18, a Sunday, he urges the program to be concluded on either the 16th or 19th.—Brunswick Record.

Adjourns?

A recent meeting the Senior class voted to follow the usual custom of wearing cap and gown to chapel and morning recitations during the latter part of the spring term. The first appearance of the spring regalia, a little late for Easter, will be Sunday, May 4. The class has also adopted the custom, now in vogue in a number of colleges and universities, of having class canes of sufficient size so that each member of the class can carve his initials thereon.

With the Faculty

Prof. Mitchell preached last Sunday at Newcastle, Maine.

President Hyde attended a meeting of the trustees of Exeter Academy in Boston during the week.

Professor Brown and Professor Bell are to take leading parts in the play entitled “Cousin Kate,” to be given by the Brunswick Dramatic Club. Mrs. Arthur Brown, the dramatic coach for “Alt Heidelberg,” is to play the role of Cousin Kate.

Professor William Hawley Davis was one of the judges of the debate Friday night at Lewiston between Bates and Clark College of Worcester, Mass.

Dr. Little attended the annual meeting of New England College Librarians at Yale University last Saturday. The object of these meetings is to discuss things of interest to college librarians as distinct from the public librarians.

Alumni Department
'50, '67.—Howard University, founded by General O. O. Howard '50, is meeting with great prosperity under the new president, Dr. Stephen M. Newman '67. The catalogue reveals a total of 1,990 students, representing thirty-seven states together with Canada, Cuba, British West Indies, East India, Panama, Porto Rico, St. Andrew's Island, South Africa and South America. Besides being a great national university, Howard is also noted for its enrolment of the darker races of the world.
'77.—After being honored to the highest degree, Admiral and Mrs. Peary have departed from Rome. They will go first to Egypt, then to Germany, where Admiral Peary will lecture, and also to Switzerland. The couple will arrive in America by July 1.
Nowhere has the Admiral been so frankly and sincerely praised for his achievement as in Rome.
Mrs. Peary, furthermore, became a great social favorite there. Ambassador O'Brien and his wife gave a charming luncheon for the Pearys just before they left for Naples. An interested company of notable Americans and Italians surrounded the explorer.
'97.—Mr. Samuel P. Ackley has removed from Chicago and now has his office at 759 Monadnock Building, San Francisco, California.
'97.—Mr. James E. Rhodes, 2nd, recently ed-ted and compiled a series of lectures on "Liability and Compensation Insurance," which he de-ivered last winter before the Insurance Institute of Hartford.

'00.—Mr. Simon M. Hamlin was recently elected Superintendent of Schools in South Portland. Mr. Hamlin was a former principal of the South Portland High School, and it is with great satisfaction to all that he has received this position.
'03.—The Class of 1903 is out to win the Snow commencement cup awarded annually to the class that has the largest percentage of living members present at commencement. A committee in charge of the tenth reunion of the class is composed of: Edward F. Abbott of Auburn, Samuel B. Gray of Oldtown, Donald E. MacCormick of South Framingham, Mass., Leon V. Walker of Portland and Thomas C. White of Lewiston. Dr.
Francis A. Welch of Portland has been chosen to compile a record of the achievements of the members of the class. During commencement week, the class headquarters will be on Cleavelland Street.

The College is proud not only of the large attendance promised by the Class of 1903, but also of its plan known as the Decennial Fund, like that of 1902 and 1904. By this scheme each member of the class promises to pay an agreed amount to the class treasurer annually for the first ten years after graduation. At the end of that period the class decides upon the object of value to Bowdoin to which to devote the fund, as will be done by 1903 at the coming Commencement. It is hoped that other classes will follow the example of spirit shown by 1903. The Orient will be glad to receive notice of plans for Commencement which any other classes are making.
'03.—Mrs. Susan Wolverton Jenney, of Flint, Mich., announces the engagement of her daughter, Ethel, to Selden Osgood Martin of Cambidge. Mr. Martin is also graduate of Harvard, class of 1904. At present he is an instructor in the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.
'05.—Wallace C. Philoon, lieutenant in U.S.A., who was operated on Monday, April 14, at St.
Peter's Hospital, Albany, N. Y., is slowly gaining.

ex-'11.—Edward James Barnes Palmer, a former member of 1911, and a graduate of Harvard, who has been on the faculty of Allegheny College, died April 3.

Saturday's games began the struggle which will last until June 6, when Bowdoin and Bates will meet in the last of the championship games. As a result of the first round, supporters of Bates and Bowdoin see the pennant so much nearer, the other two see Fortune against them at the first try, and all four redouble their efforts for the next contest.

BOWDOIN 4—COLBY 1

For ten exciting innings, James of Colby, the man who held Harvard to one hit, pitched marvelous ball against Bowdoin, but it was for ten innings only. In the eleventh, Bowdoin's fierce batting rally scored four runs and gave the White a commanding lead. Dodge, pitching for Bowdoin, won his own game in the eleventh, when, with the bases filled, he hit for three bases and put the game on ice.

Up to the final session, it was a pitcher's battle with neither man having the advantage. Although James struck out 13 men, four more than did Dodge, James allowed two more hits than Dodge, and gave two more bases on balls.

Colby had a come-back in the last of the eleventh, and succeeding in saving a whitewash by scoring one lone tally. Both sides came near scoring in the tenth inning, when a run for either side would have meant the game, but fast fielding prevented a score. Bowdoin played an errorless game while Colby made three errors, a part of them figuring in the runs.

All kinds of classy ball was offered by the infielders of both teams, while some long catches in the outfield saved runs on more than one occasion. McElwee at short accepted ten chances without an error, while Eaton offered the gilt-edged article. Berry and Lowney played good ball for the losers and in the tenth, two flies taken by these two men kept the game going another inning.

In the first inning, Stetson walked, but McElwee and Weatherill fanned and LaCasce died on an infield out. Colby was out in order.

Daniels, Tuttle and Skolfield were out in order in the second, while Colby got a runner as far as the middle sack, only to have him left there. In the third, Eaton went out, short to first. Skolfield struck out, while Tilton flied to LaFleur. Lowney stepped in the way of one of "Peeler's" speedy benders, and stole second, but a snappy double play by Skolfield and McElwee killed all hope of a run in that inning.

In the fourth Bowdoin's chance for a run looked good. With none out McElwee singled and stole second and third. LaCasce went out at first. Mac not trying for home. Weatherill hit the ball, but McElwee was out at the plate. Tuttle singled, but it was too late.

After Tilton had fanned in the fifth, Eaton and Dodge singled, but Eaton was out at third trying to make third on Dodge's hit. Stetson was out at first. Colby went out in order. Daniels replaced Weatherill at second. Both sides went out, one, two, three in the sixth, while Bowdoin repeated the trick in the seventh. Colby singled twice, but a strikeout and two infield flies ended the inning. The eighth and ninth innings were speedy. Stetson got as far as second in the eighth, but was left there. In the ninth, LaCasce was caught off first after getting a single. Colby went out in order in both sessions.

In the tenth, Skolfield singled and took second on a passed ball and Tilton drew a pass. Eaton fanned and Dodge's hard drive was gathered in by Berry in centerfield. Stetson's hit advanced the runners. With the bases full, McElwee knocked a high foul that Lowney advanced after a desperate effort. In the same inning Colby got a man as far as third. Cummings singled, was sacrificed to second, and stole third. Campbell fanned. Lowney walked. Tilton reached Simpson's foul fly and the side was out.

It was in the eleventh that Bowdoin's rally won the game. LaCasce went out, third to first. Daniels got on through James' error. Tuttle hit for two bases and Skolfield walked. James threw wild trying to catch him off first and Daniels scored. Tilton walked, but Tuttle was out at home on Eaton's grounder. Then came Dodge's triple and Skolfield, Tilton and Eaton crossed the plate.

In Colby's half, Reed and Nutting got on. Reed scored in a double steal, but Nutting was caught between first and second. Berry flied to Skolfield and James was out, Tilton to Eaton.

TUFTS 5—BOWDOIN 3

Bowdoin was defeated by Tufts April 29, on the Tufts Oval by a score of 5 to 3. The game was fast and filled with excitement from the first inning. Both teams played without an error.

The feature of the game came in the third inning. Bowdoin had filled the bases with none out. McElwee hit a sharp grounder to Harris who fielded the ball to Jameson at the plate. Jameson doubled the play by a quick throw to first. LaCasce, who was on second at the beginning of the play, attempted to reach the plate but was caught by a quick return throw from first.

Tufts scored in the first inning on Stafford's single and Lee's triple. Neither side scored again until the seventh when Bowdoin put three men across the plate on a combination of a pass, two singles and a two-bagger.

Tufts nosed out a victory in the eighth by timely hits. Gurvin was passed and scored on Marzynski's triple to center field. Marzynski scored on a Texas-leaguer to right field by Lee. The other two runs were the results of singles.

ANDOVER 5—BOWDOIN 2

By bunching their hits in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings and by tight fielding, Andover defeated Bowdoin on the Academy's field 5-2. The game was practically without features except possibly the good fielding put up by both teams. Sharpe and Grant pitched good ball for Andover and neither was hit hard. Rawson started for Bowdoin but retired in favor of Dodge.

Kenney and Snell starred for Andover and Eaton and McElwee for Bowdoin.

BOWDOIN 2nd 9—MORSE HIGH 8

In a fast game the Bowdoin 2nd team won from Morse High School Saturday afternoon by the close score of 9 to 8. The Bath boys gave the college team the only scare in the seventh when they tied the score. This made our hopefuls get a hump on and take another run in the first of the eighth, which was the final tally of the contest.

AMHERST WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST

Henry S. Leiper '13 of Amherst College was the winner in the fourth annual contest of the New England Intercollegiate Oratorical League, held at Middletown, Conn., Thursday, May 1. The subject was "The College Man and the Call of the Hour." Mr. Leiper represented his college at the contest at Bowdoin two years ago and was alternate last year. Henry Crane '13 of Wesleyan received honorable mention.

At the election of officers for the coming year, R. D. Leigh '14 of Bowdoin was chosen president of the League; R. O. Delaney '14 of Wesleyan, vice-president; William Hinkle '14 of Williams, secretary-treasurer. The contest will be held next year at Williams.

The program was as follows:

"The Case for Ulster," Dwight Copley Pitcher, Williams College

"The Betrayal of a Nation," Louis Israel Newman, Brown University

"The War in the Balkans," Alfred Henry Sweet, Bowdoin College

"The College Man and the Call of the Hour," Henry Smith Leiper, Amherst College

"Livingstone and the Unveiling of the Dark Continent,"

Henry Hitt Crane, Wesleyan University

President Shanklin of Wesleyan presided and music was provided by H. L. Smith, J. A. Merta, and G. G. Summerson, all of Wesleyan. The judges were Governor Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut, Rev. Samuel Hart of Berkeley Divinity School, Professor Juval L. Winter of Harvard University, Hon. William M. Maltbie of Hartford, Conn., Professor J. A. Tufts of Phillips-Exeter Academy.

VICTORY AND AFTERWARDS

At six o’clock Saturday night every man in College was happy as a king at the news of a glorious victory, a game cleanly won by hard, errorless baseball, and at the realization that one step had been taken toward the winning of the pennant. Such a victory surely deserved a celebration. Yet eleven o’clock found every man morose and sullen, or excited and angry. Was this spoiling of the celebration due to a reversion to the “yaggery” days not so many years ago, when a student could hardly venture below the railroad tracks alone, or did the student body maliciously bring down on their heads the just wrath of injured townspeople?

To begin with, the only blame which can be put on the student body is that, instead of following the plans made by the Student Council, they upset these plans and substituted a disorganized parade to the nearest picture show. Celebrations should end, as they have ended in years past, with cheers and songs in front of the Chapel. The Student Council plans these affairs according to old traditions and present needs, and we should comply with the plans of our representative body or come forth with open and answerable criticism of these plans.

We are glad that the part which a rough element of the town took in Saturday night’s affairs is in no measure a reflection of the general attitude of the townspeople toward the students. That the manager of the picture-show, in quieting an innocent, inoffensive, and harmless demonstration in his theatre, was well within his rights, is not to be denied. That two overzealous officers should rush to the front and, with unusual perspicacity single out the quietest man in the crowd, forcibly eject him, and lock him up, is laughable, to say the least.

The subsequent gathering of a band of men and their unprovoked and cowardly assaults on students, is rather more serious. The police, who had offered such excellent protection before, were now found wanting. Three students, on their way back to the campus, were attacked from behind. An officer who appeared on the scene advised that the two crowds go out on a side street and fight it out. So far as is known, this measure for the preservation of law and order has never before been advocated by the police of any city. Needless to say, the three students refused the offered chance to annihilate their dozen assailants, and were requested to move along.

To meet these strong-arm men with their own tactics would reflect little credit on college training. To demand any less than our full privileges and rights could not be expected of us as men.

WHEN WE WIN

In event of another celebration the Student Council has made plans for a celebration which we will remember, instead of one which we will be glad to forget. Let us cooperate with them, follow their plans, and see if it will not be more fun and leave us with the sweet taste of victory in our mouths.

OLD HEIDELBERG

The Masque and Gown made its first appearance in Portland, April 29, presenting Old Heidelberg at the Casco Theatre before an appreciative and enthusiastic audience. The evening was a great success in every way, the play is very difficult and great credit is due to the men who took part for their faithful work, which made it possible for them to play the five acts without any prompting.
It is distinctly a little triumph for the club to have put on a play of this sort, and the audience showed plainly its enjoyment. The laughter was timely, the applause frequent and spontaneous, and there were enthusiastic curtain calls after each act. It was evident that the performance was a surprise, and a delightful one.

The part of the Prince is one few amateurs could fill, and Crowell played it with power and distinction. Abbott as Jüttner, won a deserved success, and Elwell made a charming and really convincing Kathie.

Jones and Leigh in their formal roles, Greene and Russell as students, and Donahue and Dunphy as the Innkeeper and waiter did excellent work, and Twombly as Lutz played his part admirably. Prof. Wass trained the members of the Glee Club whose singing of the student songs added much to the performance.

But to a person whose name does not appear in the cast the greatest praise is due. Mrs. Arthur Brown's faithful and talented work with the Masque and Gown made the performance and its success possible. Mr. Arthur Brown is to be praised for the success of the admirable stage-settings, make-up, and scenic effects.

BETA THETA PI HOUSE PARTY

The local chapter of Beta Theta Pi held its annual house party and dance on May the second. The interior of the house was decorated with hemlock and pine, inlaid with pink roses, the fraternity flower. A reception was held from four o'clock in the afternoon until six. Then the party went to the Hotel Eagle where a banquet was served. The dance was held at the house immediaety after the banquet. Lovell's orchestra furnished the music.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Leslie A. Lee of Cambridge, Mass., Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, Mrs. Roscoe J. Ham, Mrs. Edward T. Little of Brunswick, and Mrs. Carl Osterheld of New York City.

Among the guests were: Misses Marion Alexander, Dorothy Gilman, Ernestine Hall of Portland, Misses Louise Garland, Marjorie Smiley of Bangor, Misses Iva Record and Myrtle Haskell of Auburn, Misses Frances Weeks and Millicent Clifford of Bath, Miss Georgia Young of Northampton, Mass., Miss Elizabeth Lee of Cambridge, Miss Olive Holway of Augusta, Miss Josephine Hobbs of Camden, Miss Margaret Roberts of Dexter, Miss Mildred Jordan of New Gloucester, Miss Edith Haseltine of Pittsfield, Miss Effie Ireland of Stetson, Miss Alice Hurley of Bowdoinham, Mrs. Willis E. Roberts, Misses Frances Little, Ruth Blackwell, Helene Blackwell, Nathalie Withington, Dorothy Donnell, Clare Ridley, Isabelle Palmer, Theo Wilson and Helen Fisk of Brunswick.

Among the alumni back for the dance were George Gardner '01, Willis Roberts '07, Daniel Koughan '09, S. S. Webster '10, Lawrence Davis '11, Jesse McKenney '12, and Arthur F. Parcher '12.

The committee in charge of the dance was Walter F. Eberhardt '13, chairman, Douglas H. McMurtrie '13, Francis X. Callahan '14, Paul J. Koughan '15, and C. A. Hall '16.

KAPPA SIGMA HOUSE PARTY

The annual houseparty and dance of the Kappa Sigma fraternity were held last Friday and Saturday. The festivities began with a dinner at the fraternity house, seven o'clock Friday evening, after which the hosts and their guests were conveyed in automobiles to Pythian Hall where the dance was held, the Versailles Orchestra furnishing music. Given of Brunswick catered at intermission.

The patronesses were Mrs. Wilmot B. Mitchell, Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. Frank M. Stetson of Brunswick, Mrs. G. S. Jewett of Newtown, Mass., Mrs. Ensign Otis of Rockland.

Saturday the fraternity members and their guests went on an outing on Casco Bay.

FRESHMEN

The undersigned committee has been appointed by the Student Council to see that all Freshmen wear their caps and coats and do not smoke either on the campus or down-town. This committee has further been instructed to report all violators of these regulations to the fraternities of which those Freshmen may be members.

Lawrence W. Smith, '13,
Philip S. Wood '13,
Robert D. Leigh '14.
TRINITY MEET ENTRIES

Dopesters will get a chance for comparison Saturday when Bowdoin meets Trinity in a dual meet on Whittier Field. Maine defeated Trinity last Saturday in a similar meet by a score of 71 to 55. Of the men entered three from each team will compete.

THIRD OUTDOOR MEET

The third and final of the outdoor interclass meets in preparation for the dual meet with Trinity was held Saturday afternoon at Whittier Field. The Freshmen repeated their performance of the previous Saturday, and won the meet with a score of 38 points, but they were hard pressed by the Sophomores who scored 34 points and took second place. The Juniors and Seniors followed with totals of 26 and 17 respectively. Leadbetter ‘16 secured three first places in the weights, and Captain Haskell, although he has been laid up with a bad ankle, ran a fine race in the 440-yard dash. The summary:

100-yard Dash—Won by Wyman ’16; Prescott ’15, second; P. Smith ’15, third.
220-yard Dash—Won by P. Smith ’15; Walker ’14, second; McWilliams ’15, third.
120-yard Hurdles—Won by MacFarland, Medc ’15; P. Smith ’15, second; C. Brown ’14, third.

Broad Jump—Faulkner ’15 and P. Smith ’15, tied for first place; C. Brown ’14, third.
Pole Vault—Won by Merrill ’14; McKenney ’15, second; P. Smith ’15, third.
Discus Throw—Won by Leadbetter ’16; Moulton ’16, second; Parkhurst ’13, third.
Shot Put—Won by Leadbetter ’16; Parkhurst ’13, second; Moulton ’16, third.
Hammer Throw—Won by Leadbetter ’16; Lewis ’15, second; J. Parsons ’16, third.
Y. M. C. A. COMMITTEES

The men who are to serve on the Y. M. C. A. committees for the year 1913-14 were appointed last week under a system of arrangement which will undoubtedly result in greatly increased efficiency in the work accomplished by the organization. Under this new plan all the committees are grouped under four heads: Administrative, Religious Education, Campus Service, and Community Service; and each of these four departments has a chairman, who has general charge of the committees in his department. The committees for the coming year are composed as follows:

IV. Community Service: McWilliams '15, chairman. Pejepscot: R. J. Evans '15, chairman; Dunn '16, sub-chairman. Deputation: Foster '16, chairman; Fuller '16, sub-chairman. Church Relations: Merrill '14, chairman; Stone '15, sub-chairman. Freshman Religious Committee: (To be appointed next fall).

SUNDAY CHAPEL

Dr. Charles S. F. Lincoln '01, a surgeon at St. John's College, Shanghai, China, now in the United States, on leave of absence, gave a very instructive talk at Sunday Vespers on China and her needs, illustrating his talk with interesting personal incidents.

Club and Council Meetings

At the meeting of the Government Club last Wednesday at the D. U. House, Lieut.-Com. Marston Niles, U.S.N., retired, spoke very instructively on "The Panama Tolls Question." He recently had an article in the New York Sun on this subject. Many interesting points were brought out in the discussion which followed.

On the Campus

Means '12 was on the campus last week. Sullivan '11 was in Brunswick last week. George Fogg '02 was on the campus Sunday. The Psi U houseparty will be June 4, 5 and 6. Paul Wing ex-'14 was on the campus Sunday. Ben Holt '13 has gone on a trip to Washington. Blanket tax tickets are good for the Trinity Meet.

Ted Emery '13 has recovered from a slight illness.

Sam West '15 has gone home because of sickness.

Senior caps and gowns appeared at Sunday Chapel.

Sargent '07 has been among the recent visitors to the College.

The second team will play Hebron Academy at Hebron tomorrow.

The Freshman banquet will be held in Portland either May 9 or 10.

Irving '16 is again attending classes after a slight illness of a few days.

Another issue of the Bowdoin College Bulletin will soon make its appearance.

Ex-Governor William T. Cobb '77 was on the campus Wednesday afternoon.

The Boston Herald of April 30 contains a fine "pitcher" of pitcher "Peeler" Dodge.

The good weather of the past week has brought forth the tennis enthusiasts in numbers.

Shepard of Bates recently put the shot over 44 feet—a mark beyond the state record.

The student body will meet at Whittier Field this afternoon at 4 o'clock to practice songs.

Parker Rowell '12 was recently quite severely injured while riding in a train in Connecticut. A poker which dropped from the locomotive was caught by a wheel and hurled through the window near which Rowell was sitting.

The first College Sing was held in Memorial Hall last Friday under the direction of Prof. Woss.

Frank A. Smith '12, Medc '15, has been initiated into the Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical fraternity.

Douglas '13 has been appointed by the Central Board as a football official next year for college and prep school games.

It now costs one-quarter of a dollar to ride from Bath to Brunswick or from Brunswick to Bath on the Maine Central.

Brunswick High beat Deering High 9 to 2 on Whittier Field Wednesday afternoon in the Bowdoin Interscholastic Baseball League.

Among the pictures seen in the Sunday papers were those of Ced Crowell, the Fencing team, and the Orient Board in the Telegram.

Cushman '13 and Payson '14 have been elected delegates to the seventieth annual convention of the Psi Upsilon fraternity to be held at Springfield.

Entrance examinations will be held June 26, 27 and 28 and September 22, 23 and 24 at the College, and June 5, 6 and 7 in preparatory schools.

The faculty, student council and board of provosts have united in drawing up a rule forbidding peddlers, agents or solicitors, with the exception of students, from canvassing in the dormitories.

Foster '16 has undergone an operation on his leg on account of a growth of osseous tissue. He has been having trouble for some little time, and an X-ray picture revealed the nature of the difficulty.

Lewiston High School again won the Bowdoin Interscholastic Debating League championship by defeating Cony High School and Wilton Academy, Cony having defeated Portland High. Lewiston was coached by Spinney '13 and Cony by Gage '14.

With the Faculty

Acting Dean McConaughy will represent Bowdoin at the meeting of the New England College Executive Officers at Harvard Wednesday and Thursday of this week. On Friday he will attend the meeting of the New England College Entrance Certificate Board in Boston, and Thursday night will be the representative of the College at the annual banquet of the Bowdoin Alumni Association of Providence.

Dean McConaughy spoke at a meeting of the Gardiner Board of Trade recently.

Prof. Henry Johnson will sail on May 17 for the Mediterranean, to spend a few months in Greece and Italy. His first objective point is Catania in Sicily, and from there he will go to the island of Crete; thence to Athens. He will return in September by way of France and England.

'24.—Especially since President Franklin Pierce was a Bowdoin man, we are pleased to learn that the House of Representatives in his native state of New Hampshire has recently passed a bill appropriating $15,000 for the purpose of erecting a statue to his memory. There are good prospects for the final passage of the bill.

'75.—Mr. Charles L. Clarke has recently accepted a position as consulting engineer to the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y.

'81.—During the spring term at Wheaton College, Mr. William J. Cole, noted for his long service at the South End House, Boston, will conduct a short course on Social Ethics.

'94 and '97.—At the 89th annual session of the Maine Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which has just come to a close, Trelawney C. Chapman, Jr., '94, was appointed pastor for Bethel and Locke's Mills, and Henry E. Dunnacks '97, for Augusta.

'97.—Dr. Harry M. Varrell has recently been appointed assistant professor of history at Simmons College.

'02.—Mr. Harvey D. Gibson has been chosen vice-president of the Liberty National Bank, New York City.

BOWDOIN TAKES DUAL MEET

By taking eight first, eight second, and ten third places, Bowdoin easily won the first dual meet held with Trinity by a score of 74 to 52. The extremely cold northwest wind that swept down across Whittier Field chilled competitors and spectators to the bone, and prevented any record time being set up in the track events. Yet running against this cold wind Phil Smith did the 100 in 10.2-5 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 22.4-5 seconds.

The meet started with trials for the 100-yard dash. The first heat was won by Phil Smith with Hudson second. Bowdoin cleaned up the second heat by placing Walker and Wyman. The final heat was the closest and most exciting race of the meet. Smith, Hudson and Wyman were neck and neck the whole length of the course, but Smith by a final spurt took first by a six-inch lead.

Crehore of Trinity featured in the mile and two-mile runs, taking firsts in both. The mile was closely contested between Crehore and Spofford of Trinity and Tarbox of Bowdoin. These three ran in a group from gun to tape, Crehore gaining a short lead in the final spurt.

The quarter mile was featured by the work of McWilliams, whose speed was bettered only by Capt. Haskell, and the splendid sportsmanship of Capt. Haskell who allowed McWilliams to take first and win his letter. It is acts like that which raise athletics above mere competition and desire to win.

The half-mile was a close race between Wessels of Trinity and Russell and Wright of Bowdoin. Wessels made a splendid sprint around the last turn and beat Russell by a short lead.

MacFarland of Bowdoin, who has been out of track athletics for two years, came back strong and took second place in the 120-yard hurdles. Trinity ran away with the first two places in the 220-yard hurdles. Fox of Bowdoin took third.

It was in the field events that Bowdoin proved especially strong, taking five first and five second places. All three places in the high jump were taken by the White.

Hudson of Trinity threw the hammer 141 feet, 1 inch, taking first place. Bowdoin swept the field in the discus throw, by placing Lewis, Leadbetter and Moulton.

The pole vault was fought out between Merrill and McKenney of Bowdoin and Chow of Trinity. The Jap went fine up to ten feet and looked like a sure first, but the ten-foot mark was too much for him. Merrill and McKenney tied for first.

Hudson of Trinity was high point man of the meet, taking second in the 100-yard dash, first in the 220-yard hurdles, third in the shot put, and first in the hammer throw.

Phil Smith was high man for Bowdoin with 11 points. Faulkner was second with 10 points won by firsts in the shot put and broad jump.

Altogether it was a glorious meet from a Bowdoin standpoint. Not only did we beat Trinity but by three more points than Maine beat them. The meet served its purpose, i. e., to show Bowdoin supporters that we have a team of point winners. And Trinity is only the first to feel "the heavy paw of the Polar Bear."

The summary:

TRACK EVENTS

100-Yard Dash—Trial Heats: First heat won by Smith of Bowdoin; Hudson of Trinity, second; time 10.2-5 seconds. Second heat won by Walker of Bowdoin; Wyman of Bowdoin, second; time 10.2-5 seconds. Final heat won by Smith of Bowdoin; Hudson of Trinity, second, and Wyman of Bowdoin, third; time 10.2-5 seconds.
220-Yard Dash—Won by Smith of Bowdoin; Tyon of Trinity, second; Haskell of Bowdoin, third; time 22.4-5 seconds.

440-Yard Dash—Won by McWilliams, Bowdoin; Haskell, Bowdoin, second; Furnival, Trinity, third; time 54 seconds.

880-Yard Run—Won by Wessels, Trinity; Russell, Bowdoin, second; Wright, Bowdoin, third; time 2 minutes, 7.2-5 seconds.

One-Mile Run—Won by Crehore, Trinity; Spofford, Trinity, second; Tarbox, Bowdoin, third; time 4 minutes, 43.4-5 seconds.

Two-Mile Run—Won by Crehore, Trinity; Wessels, Trinity, second; Norton, Bowdoin, third; time 10 minutes, 21.2-5 seconds.

120-Yard High Hurdles—Won by Hall, Trinity; MacFarland, Bowdoin, second; DeRouge, Trinity, third; time 16.4-5 seconds.

220-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Hudson, Trinity; Hall, Trinity, second; Fox, Bowdoin, third; time 27.2-5 seconds.

FIELD EVENTS

Running High Jump—Won by Brown, Bowdoin; Greene, Bowdoin, second; Garland, Bowdoin, third; height of winner, 5 feet, 6-3-4 inches.

Discus Throw—Won by Lewis, Bowdoin, 113.7-10 feet; Leadbetter, Bowdoin, second, 107.15-100 feet; Moulton, Bowdoin, third, 97 feet.

BOWDOIN 4—MAINE 3

With Maine ahead by the score of three to one, Bowdoin bunched three hits in the eighth and scored three runs, giving the game to Bowdoin by the narrow margin of one run.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Dodge and Driscoll, with Dodge on the better end of the argument. Driscoll weakened toward the close of the game and only fast fielding prevented Bowdoin from scoring more than three times in the last half of the game. Bowdoin made one more hit than Maine and Bowdoin's bingles were bunched better. Tuttle played a good game in left field, making four put-outs, one of them a fly near the foul line and one a liner in left-center. Cobb played a stellar game in the field for Maine, gobbling up six chances without a miscue. Eaton was out of the game, having missed his train, but Weatherill covered first base in good shape with 11 put-outs and only one error.

Maine started off with a run in the opening session, but Bowdoin evened it up in the second, when Tuttle hit safely, stole second, and came home on an error by the left fielder.

In the seventh, with Tuttle and Skolfield on and Tilton out, Daniels flied out and Dodge hit to pitcher. In the last of the same inning, Baker got a three-base hit. Two bases on balls mixed in with a couple of errors scored two runs.

Then came the eighth. Stetson beat out a hit to shortstop. McElwee hit to right field and LaCasce drew a pass. Stetson scored, but Mcelwee and LaCasce were doubled up on the play. Weatherill scored on Tuttle's two-bagger. Skolfield hit to Gilman and when Chase let the throw roll to the bleachers, Tuttle made the run that won the game.

In the ninth Bowdoin went out in order. “Peeler” struck out the first two Maine batters. Lawry got a life on McElwee’s fumble, but Cobb sent up a foul fly that was gathered in by Tilton.

MAINE 9—BOWDOIN 1

The Maine elephant handed the Bowdoin polar bear a most decided defeat on Whittier Field last Wednesday. Bowdoin went up in the air in the first inning, when four errors allowed as many runs to cross the plate, and came down only after Maine had scored nine tallies. It was a demoralizing game from the Bowdoin point of view, even though the supporters of the White knew that the team was playing below its form. Only once in a while did the team show real signs of life. The intervals were long and painful. Eaton's two-bagger in the second started a batting rally which scored Bowdoin's lonely run. The rest of the six hits were scattered.

McElwee, Eaton and Tilton played well, the latter contributing a double play unassisted. Weatherill showed the effect of his injuries.

Dodge pitched good ball in spite of his poor support but was taken out in the fourth, as he had more games to pitch. Woodcock then went in for the first time this season. Maine touched the lanky Medic up for five hits and he was replaced by Knight after two innings. Knight showed nervousness at first but steadied down and showed great stuff. At times Maine's best batters were utterly unable to solve his shoots.

Maine furnished a fine exhibition of good baseball all the way through. Driscoll, the Freshman pitcher, had his opponents guessing and retired nine men by the strike-out route.

SECOND TEAM TWICE DEFEATED

The Bowdoin second went down to defeat before Hebron Academy Wednesday 8 to 5 in a loosely played game. The Hebron batters took kindly to Hall's delivery, and assisted by Bowdoin errors, scored six runs in the first three innings. Fraser, who replaced Hall, pitched effectively. The second team out-hit Hebron 14 to 8, but was unable to bunch hits for runs. Keegan, Dole, and E. Tuttle furnished some heavy stick work.

The second team met the Cabots Saturday afternoon, and emerged from the contest with the smaller end of a 6-to-2 score. The Cabots won by combining long hits at opportune times. Owing to the extreme cold, the contest was called at the close of the seventh inning.

BOWDOIN-BATES JOINT CONCERT

The Bowdoin and Bates Musical Clubs closed the season Friday night with a joint concert in the Lewiston City Hall. A large and responsive crowd heard the concert, which consisted of numbers by each of the clubs and a finale by the clubs in unison.
A Step Forward in Dramatics

Elsewhere in this issue appears a copy of the new constitution of the Masque and Gown adopted last week. The alteration in the membership requirement is in line with the policy of the most successful dramatic clubs in other colleges and should have good results. Of more immediate interest, however, to the student body is the change which opens the managerships to a competitive system similar to the competition for athletic managerships. This new scheme has been set on foot already by a call for candidates for the two positions.

As a usual thing, such a so-called minor managerships is of little importance to those not immediately interested but, today, the position offers the greatest opportunity in this line open to the Bowdoin undergraduates. It is not for the man who wishes to expand his campus reputation or Bugle "honors" by the addition of another scalp; nor is it for the deadly average man whose ability is measured by his ambition to do passably well a plainly defined task; but it is for the man who is willing to give freely of time and thought and energy without popular reward, who will daringly progress, who is capable of facing a big opportunity and do the job "a little better than seems necessary," a man who can make the office rather than have the office make him. To such a one the opportunity for service to Bowdoin in this position looms large. Masque and Gown has made rapid progress this college year. Its recent reorganization points the way to further advance. But, as its president recently remarked, "Next year will mean success or failure, progress or decline." Surely there are some among us ready and eager to plunge into this pioneering opportunity and reap the rich reward of work well done for Bowdoin.

The Season Closes

At the Joint Concert at Lewiston last Friday evening the Bowdoin Musical Chubs made its last public bow for the season. Just a word of praise here for this year's organization which has brought such great credit to the college by its many successes and to Manager Crosby for his able execution of a long schedule including, for the first time, a New York concert. The excellent training by Professor Wass as well as the good work of leaders and members has contributed largely to the high degree of excellence reached at the various performances.

And We Did Win

With the chapel bell announcing a glorious double victory, the whole student body gathered in high glee last Saturday evening prepared to express themselves in the good old way. A celebration there was, with songs and speeches and marching, yet it must be admitted that enthusiasm seemed repressed rather than expressed. The unfortunate incident at the railroad crossing filled a majority of those present with a spirit of annihilation rather than celebration, and detracted from the character of the evening's fun. That the leaders of the affair saved the procession from turning into a mob was, on sober thought, very fortunate. But the celebration on the campus, it must be admitted, whether on account of zero weather, or the fact that it was too early in the evening, was rather devoid of real enthusiasm. We do not believe the students are losing the spirit which expresses itself in honest enthusiasm at victories won for the White. The whole trouble with recent celebrations is the linking of the parade down town with an entirely wrong idea. If this persists it will spoil the whole tradition. Next time, rather than march along grumbling vain threats at persons not worth worrying about or berating a Student Council for not creating an exultant spirit which we alone can create, let us pile the fire high, dance the war dance, sing, yell and exult in the way of our fathers. Next time, when occasion arises, let's really celebrate.

TENNIS TEAM OPENS SEASON

As a result of the recent tournament, Captain Savage has picked Slocum '13 as his teammate, and Gardner '13 and Larrabee '16 to make up the other team. They are now competing in the State Tournament at Bates and will enter the N. E. Tournament at Longwood May 19.

In their first match of the season the teams were defeated by the Portland County Club's teams in Portland last Wednesday. The results were as follows.—Savage and Slocum vs. Bodge and Dana, 3-6, 1-6, 1-6; Gardner and Larrabee vs. Holt and Chapman, 8-10, 8-6, 2-6, 2-6. No singles were played.

SPEAKERS FOR ALEXANDER TRIALS

The following men have been chosen for the trials for the Alexander Prize Speaking:—From 1914, C. A. Brown, Buell, Cunliffe, Eaton, Gage, Gray, Leigh, Newcombe, Simpson, P. L. White; from 1915, Bacon, Elwell, Faulkner, Hall, Livingstone, MacDonald, McWilliams, Merrill, Ramsay, Smith.

The names of the Freshmen chosen and the details are to be announced later. The trials are to be held the twenty-third of this month.

LAST COLLEGE PREACHER

Next Sunday the last college preacher of the year, Rev. Charles R. Brown, D.D., of New Haven, Conn., Dean of the Yale Divinity School, will speak in the Church on the Hill and at the afternoon chapel service.

Dr. Brown received the degree of A.B. from the University of Iowa in 1883, and of S.T.B. from Boston University in 1889. From 1896 to 1910 he was pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, California. Two years ago he became Dean of the Yale Divinity School.

COMMENCEMENT PLAY CHOSEN

The Masque and Gown has selected “The Merchant of Venice” for the Commencement play. The play has nineteen parts, and as only three of the roles are feminine, it is especially adapted for presentation by college men.

The trials will be held Thursday evening at seven o'clock in Memorial Hall, and it is hoped that a large number of men will come out for the play, as the club desires to give a presentation that will surpass anything which it has hitherto produced. The judges for the trials will be Prof. Frederick W. Brown, Prof. Wilmot B. Mitchell, and Mrs. Arthur T. Brown. All men who wish to compete for parts in the cast should read the play, and hand their names to Crowell '13 or Nixon '13, signifying the parts for which they wish to compete. Rehearsals will begin shortly after the parts are assigned, and the play will be staged under the direction of Mrs. Arthur T. Brown.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROGRAM

Commencement week will begin on Sunday, June 22, and will continue through Thursday, June 26. The new features of the program will be the holding of the Senior Dance in the new gymnasium and the dedication of the gymnasium and the General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building. Although no definite arrangements have yet been made, it is expected that a baseball game between the 'Varsity and the Alumni will be played. The program, as arranged by Professor Little, follows:

Sun., June 22—The Baccalaureate Sermon by President Hyde, in the Congregational Church at 4 P. M.

Mon., June 23—The Alexander Prize Speaking in Memorial Hall at 8 P. M.

Tues., June 24—The Class Day Exercises of the Graduating Class in Memorial Hall at 10 A. M., and under the Thornrike Oak at 3 P. M. Senior Dance in the New Gymnasium at 9 P. M.

Meeting of the Trustees in the Classical Room, Hubbard Hall, at 2 P. M.

Meeting of the Overseers in the Lecture Room, Hubbard Hall, at 7 P. M.

The annual meeting of the Maine Historical Society in the Lecture Room, Hubbard Hall, at 2 P. M.

Wed., June 25—The Graduation Exercises of the Medical School of Maine, in the Congregational Church at 9.30 A. M. Address by Hon. Albert R. Savage, LL.D., of Auburn. The annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity, Alpha of Maine, in the Alumni Room, Hubbard Hall, at 11 A. M.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association at 1.30 P. M. in the Sargent Gymnasium, preceded by a Buffet Lunch at 12.30.

Dedication of the Gymnasium and the Gen.
Thomas W. Hyde Athletic Building at 2.30 P. M.

Out-door presentation of scenes from The Merchant of Venice by the Bowdoin Dramatic Club, at 4.30 P. M.

Band Concert, at 7.30 P. M., on the Campus.

Reception by the President and Mrs. Hyde in Hubbard Hall from 8 to 11 P. M.

Thurs., June 26—The Commencement Exercises in the Congregational Church at 10.30 A. M., followed by Commencement Dinner in the Gen. Thomas W. Hyde Athletic Building.

The Reunion Trophy, presented by David William Snow, Esq., ’73 and now held by the Class of 1862, will be awarded to the class that secures the attendance of the largest percentage of its members.

Club and Council Meetings

There was a meeting of the Government Club at the Zeta Psi house May the 8th.

The Debating Council met—in the presence of a scant audience—in Hubbard Hall last Tuesday evening. Pres. Hyde presented medals to the members of the teams. The Council appointed a committee to arrange for the annual banquet.

There was a meeting of the Bible Study leaders for next year last evening in Prof. McConaughy’s office. Another meeting will be held at nine o’clock next Monday evening at his house.

On the Campus

Stuart ex-’16 was on the campus Friday.
Bob King ’12 was on the campus Friday.
Head ’16 is at home on account of sickness. There will be no more warnings until next fall.

The Juniors are practicing marching every noon.

Charles T. Hawes ’76 was on the campus last week.

Wilson ’12 was a spectator at the track meet Saturday.

Wing ex-’14 made his weekly trip to the campus Saturday.

Lew Brown ’14 has recently been coaching the Hebron track team.

Douglas ’13 had a signed letter in the Brunswick Record Friday.

The usual weekly appeal is made for candidates for archery. Free.

George Cressy ’12, “Farmer” Kern ’12 and Partridge ’11 were at college last week.

George ’16 attended the convention of the Psi Upsilon fraternity at Springfield last week.

Blethen ’16, who recently left college on account of illness, will not return until next fall.

Twaddle, Medc ’16, has been playing first base for the Maine Central baseball team of Portland.

A number of students attended the dance at the New Meadows Yacht Club Thursday night.

There will be no college exercises on Saturday, the seventeenth of May, or on Friday, the thirtieth.

The candidates for assistant manager of track will probably be taken to Maine next Saturday for rubbers.

The members of the Trinity team left directly after the meet in order to connect with the boat in Portland.

Another tennis court has been laid out in the athletic building, so that four teams can now practice there.

Woodbury ’15 has returned to college after a three weeks’ illness with jaundice,—not typhoid, as was previously stated.

The Bowdoin Y. M. C. A. has expressed its sympathy with the Colby Y. M. C. A. for the death of their president, Lester A. Keyes.

George Thompson ’15 does not intend to return to college next fall. At present he intends to run a moving-picture show in the vicinity of Augusta where no students will be ejected.

Inasmuch as a committee has been appointed to see that the Freshmen wear their hats, it has been proposed that another committee be appointed to see that the Seniors wear their gowns.

The entries for the State Meet, the New England Meet, and the Eastern Intercollegiates are the same as those for the Trinity Meet, with the exception of Marshall and Boardman, who are ineligible.

Delta Upsilon trimmed the Dekes Thursday by a score of 17 to 12 on the Delta. George Thompson officiated on the slab for several innings. He weakened perceptibly toward the last of the second and later Parsons and Gen. Coxe went in the box. Douglas starred on the bases, tearing off two magnificent steals and about a foot of his coat-tails.

With the Faculty

Acting Dean McConaughy was Bowdoin’s representative at the meeting of the New England Colleges’ Executive Officers at Harvard University on the seventh and eighth.

Several of the faculty attended a banquet and meeting of the Town and College Club at the Hotel Eagle on last Friday evening.

On last Friday evening Prof. McConaughy attended the meeting of the College Entrance Certificate Board.
MASQUE AND GOWN HAS NEW ORGANIZATION

A meeting of the Masque and Gown was held Tuesday evening, May 6, in the Y. M. C. A. room. The new constitution prepared by the Executive Committee at the order of the club was presented and adopted with few changes. This new document alters the basis of membership quite radically and provides for a competitive system for the managership similar to the one employed in athletic managerships.

Manager Nixon has issued a call for candidates for manager and assistant manager. Any Junior may apply for the position of manager and any Sophomore for the position of assistant manager. The competition will last until the election in June. Dramatic experience or membership in the club is not necessary for candidacy. Names should be handed in by Thursday.

The constitution, as adopted, is printed below:

CONSTITUTION OF THE MASQUE AND GOWN

Article I. Name and Object.

The name of this organization shall be the "Masque and Gown" and its object shall be to provide a club for the study, supervision and production of dramatic performances at Bowdoin College.

Article II. Membership.

Sec. 1.—Membership in the club shall be determined by election of the members and, except in case of resignation, shall continue during the college course.

Sec. 2.—The Executive Committee shall, each year, choose from the members of the casts of the "Masque and Gown" performances a list of men for membership to the club and this list shall be submitted at the annual meeting as nominees for election to membership. The election shall be by a majority of the members present; other nominations may be made by any member at the annual meeting. The membership shall also include the manager, assistant manager and such honorary members as the club, at the recommendation of the Executive Committee, may elect.

Article III. Officers and Their Election.

Sec. 1.—The officers shall be a president, manager, assistant manager and faculty adviser.

Sec. 2.—The election of officers shall occur at the annual meeting in June. The president shall be chosen from the club membership by ballot. The Executive Committee shall nominate the faculty adviser and the election shall be by ballot of the members. The assistant manager, who must be a Junior during the term of his office, shall be chosen from the candidates for that position, preference being given to the two men nominated by the Executive Committee on recommendation of the manager. The manager, who must be a Senior during his term of office, shall be chosen from the previous candidates for assistant manager, preference being given to the assistant manager.

Article IV. Officers and Their Duties.

Sec. 1.—The president shall preside at all meetings, act as chairman of the Executive Committee and shall have general supervision of the club.

Sec. 2.—The manager shall arrange the itinerary, the finances and other business affairs of the club and its performances.

Sec. 3.—The assistant manager shall have duties as assigned to him by the manager.

Sec. 4.—The faculty adviser shall have advisory powers and duties.

Article V. Executive Committee.

Sec. 1.—There shall be an Executive Committee composed of the president, manager, assistant manager, faculty adviser and one member of the club elected at large.

Sec. 2.—The Executive Committee shall have charge of the selection of plays, choice of a coach, nomination of new members, recommendation of candidates for assistant manager and honorary members.

Article VI. Meetings.

There shall be an annual meeting in June to be called during the week following the Ivy Play at which officers and new members shall be elected. There shall also be regular monthly meetings and the president may call special meetings as the occasion requires.

Article VII. Amendments.

This constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of the members present at an annual meeting or a like number at a special meeting advertised for that purpose. This constitution shall be understood to supersede the provisions of the existing constitution, but the Executive Committee and coach shall be empowered to designate the members for the year 1912-1913.

BY-LAWS

Article I. Report of Manager.

The manager shall keep a record of receipts and expenditures and at the end of his term of office shall submit his accounts to an auditor appointed by the Executive Committee. A copy of the audited report shall be published in the Orient each year.

Article II. Surplus.

The disposition of any surplus in the club treasury shall be as designated by the vote of the members at a meeting.
Article III. Quorum.
Two-thirds of the club membership shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Article IV. Cast Membership.
Membership in the club is not necessary for membership in the casts of the club performances.

Article V. Competition.
The competition for assistant manager shall be conducted by the manager, and the candidates who shall be members of the Sophomore Class during the period of their candidacy, shall do work as assigned to them by the manager and assistant manager. The manager shall recommend two nominees for assistant manager to be voted upon by the Executive Committee and presented to the club for election. Managerial ability and faithfulness shall be the main considerations in the choice.

Article VI. Amendment.
These By-Laws may be altered or amended at any meeting by a three-quarters vote of the members present. These By-Laws supersede the existing By-Laws.

The Other Colleges
The Dartmouth Medical School has recently undergone a thorough reorganization in order to meet the higher standards of instruction demanded by the latest advances in the profession. Owing to the lack of adequate supply of the clinical material furnished only by a large city, the last two, or clinical, years of the course have been suspended.

Cornell Seniors declare John Paul Jones, the great distance runner, the most popular, most respected, best all-around man in the university, and the man who has done the most for Cornell.

Almost all the members of the graduating class at Exeter expect to enter college next fall. Forty-one men intend to enter Harvard, twenty-one Yale, twelve Dartmouth, ten Cornell, and nine Princeton.

The Maine Campus has been changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly publication, and will appear for the remainder of the college year in the form of an eight-page newspaper.

Alumni Department
84.—Rev. Oliver W. Means has resigned his position as pastor of the Emmanuel Church of Springfield, Mass., after a pastorate of nine years. Mr. Means has been a great factor in putting the church on an excellent basis during this time. Taking it as a small chapel with 150 members he leaves it with an elegant new edifice, over 250 on the church rolls, and with a Sunday School which is almost too large for the room which it has. Mr. Means intends to take a much desired rest during which he will spend considerable of his time in travel and literature, two vocations to which he has wished for some time to give more attention.

88.—It speaks well for Rev. Robert R. Marson of the First Parish Church, at Yarmouth, Me., where he has preached for the last ten years, that he has received from his parishioners, friends and townsman such solicitation as to induce him to withdraw his resignation.

88.—There is not much doubt that President Wilson, urged by Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, will appoint as United States minister to Portugal, Charles Cogswell Smith, of Portsmouth. Mr. Smith is now practicing law at Portsmouth and at Boston. He possesses excellent command of the Spanish and Portuguese languages, besides other very desirable qualifications as an American diplomat.

05 Medical.—Dr. Don S. Harden, of Brownville, has been appointed surgeon for Maine by the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

09.—A daughter, Barbara, was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Burton, of Cleveland, Ohio.

11.—At Allston, Mass., April 23, at the home of her mother, Miss Lula Annan Barber was united in marriage to Mr. Merton Glenn Lewis Bailey of Augusta. The couple will live at Augusta, being at home to friends after August 1.

11.—A daughter, Frances Ann, was born, April 8, to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Allen, of Duluth, Minn.

MAINE TAKES FAST MEET

In probably the greatest track meet ever held in this state Maine took first place with 47 points, Bates second with 43 points, Colby third with 19, and Bowdoin fourth with 17 points.

Nevers, Ashton and Meanix upset Bowdoin dope to the extent of about 15 points. That it was a wonderful meet is shown by the nine new records set up, the equalling of still another, and the extremely fast time of all the events. It is hardly probable that ever again in this state will so many records go by the board in one afternoon.

A loyal few, including the band, took the special from Brunswick Saturday morning. What those supporters lacked in number they made up in spirit while on the field. They yelled themselves hoarse over the efforts of every White runner; cheered every new record and every failure.

In the morning trials Bowdoin qualified 14 men, Bates 11, Colby 12, and Maine 8. It was evident even then that there was a mighty struggle scheduled for the afternoon. Captain Haskell and McWilliams qualified in the 440-yard dash; Walker in the 220-yard dash; Leadbetter and Lewis in the discus; Leadbetter, Lewis and Parkhurst in the hammer; Faulkner in the shot put; Smith, McFarland, Faulkner and Floyd in the broad jump.

The opening event of the afternoon was the 100-yard dash trials. Ashton, Nevers and Nardini, in different heats set the pace at 101-5 seconds. In the final the three sprinters came down the course shoulder to shoulder. In the last 25 yards Nevers fought out a small lead and breast-ed the tape barely in front of Nardini. Ashton took third at Nardini's very shoulder. The time was 10 seconds flat.

The mile run was easily all Maine's. Towner, Brooks and Power loped around in a bunch, completely distancing the field.

One of the best events of the meet was the 220-yard dash. With Ashton, Nevers and Nardini against each other something was bound to happen—and it did. Again the three fliers came neck and neck down the course. Again, as in the century dash, Nevers of Bates by a wonderful burst of speed broke the tape. Ashton was a close second. The time was 221-5 seconds. (Equalling the record.)

The 440-yard dash was a battle royal between Captain Haskell of Bowdoin and the speedy Meanix of Colby. The Colby runner took the pole and kept it. Haskell pushed him to his utmost in the last hundred yards, finishing second by less than two yards. The time was 51 seconds flat. (Breaking the record by 3-5 seconds.)

Woodman of Bates ran a beautiful race over the high hurdles, establishing a new record of 16 seconds. He also pushed Meanix to the limit in the 220-yard low hurdles. Through a fault of the starter the timers were unable to get the flash of the gun and consequently no official time was given out. It is safe to say that it equalled record time.

The half was a fight between Bell of Maine and Deering of Bates. Wright of Bowdoin was a possibility for the first half of the run. He ran with the leaders the first lap and dropped behind on the back stretch of the second round. The time was not equal to that of Eddie Bates, the old Bowdoin runner, yet 2 minutes flat is not so slow.

While the sprinters were breaking records on the cinders, history was being made in the weight circles and jumping pits. A new record was set up in every field event, and some are records which will stand for many a meet.

Shepard of Bates started things going by putting the shot 2 feet beyond his old record of 44 feet, 23-4 inches. Gove of Bates and Shepherd of Maine fought out second place, the former winning by a fraction of an inch.

Gove broke his own record in the discus by six inches. Shepherd of Maine was a close second and Leadbetter of Bowdoin an easy third. The cheering sections began to realize that they were witnessing a very unusual meet and started some noise that lasted until the last bar was kicked off in the pole vault.

Kempton of Bates set up a new record of 5 ft., 8 1/2 in., in the running high jump, displacing the old record by 1-8 inch. Worden of Maine and Drake of Bates tied for second place. Brown of Bowdoin who was expected to place, failed to qualify in the morning. Greene was Bowdoin's only hope in the afternoon, but the distance was too much for him. He made a plucky fight to the last kick.

Three good men fought out the hammer throw, Bailey and Shepherd of Maine and Leadbetter of Bowdoin. Bailey took first with a beautiful heave of 151 ft., 4 3-4 in., breaking the state record by 10 feet and the New England record by 2 ft., 7 in. Leadbetter took second with 131 ft., 3 in. Shepherd of Maine was third with 125 ft., 6 in.

Another record went by the board in the broad jump, when Faulkner, the Bowdoin star, went out 22 ft., 4 3-4 in., displacing the old record of 21 ft., 9 in. This event was all Bowdoin's, every point going to the White. Smith took second with 20 ft., 10 1-2 in., and McFarland, the previous holder of the record, third with 20 ft., 9 3-4 in. (About here Bowdoin cheering section broke loose for five minutes.)

On the outcome of the last event, the pole vault, depended the positions of Bowdoin and Colby. Maine had a sure first in Rogers. Neither Colby nor Bates had men in this event. Should Bowdoin take a second and third in this it would give her one more point than Colby. Rogers passed up the first few heights. The real fight was between McKenney and Merrill of Bowdoin and Thomas of Maine. Merrill failed at 10 ft., 3 in., and Bowdoin's hopes were crushed. McKenney pluckily fought on but was beaten by Thomas at 10 ft., 9 in. Rogers easily took first with 11 ft., 6 5-8 in., breaking his own record by 5-8 of an inch. He tried the 12-ft. mark but failed to make it.

Of the nine new records, Bates men have four, Maine three, Bowdoin one and Colby one. A Bates man also tied one record.

Bowdoin lost, but it was not because her runners quit. Every man that went to Maine fought to the very limit of his ability. All honor to these men who went down to defeat in the greatest meet ever held or likely to be held, in this state.

The meet summary follows:

100-yard Dash—Trial heats: First heat won by Ashton of Maine; Lord of Colby, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

Second heat: Won by Nardini of Colby; Leecock of Maine, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

Third heat: Won by Nevers of Bates; Lowney of Colby, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

Final heat: Won by Nevers of Bates; Nardini of Colby, second; Ashton of Maine, third. Time, 10 seconds.

220-yard Dash—Won by Nevers of Bates; Ashton of Maine, second; Nardini of Colby, third. Time, 22 1-5 seconds. (Equals record.)

440-yard Dash—Won by Meanix of Colby; Haskell of Bowdoin, second; Merrill of Colby, third. Time, 51 seconds. (New record.)

Half-mile—Won by Bell of Maine; Deering of Bates, second; Reynolds of Colby, third. Time, 2 minutes.

Mile Run—Won by Towner of Maine; Brooks of Maine, second; Power of Maine, third. Time, 4 minutes, 48 4-5 seconds.

Two-mile Run—Won by Power of Maine; Brooks of Maine, second; Towner of Maine, third. Time, 9 minutes, 56 3-5 seconds. (New record.)

120-yard Hurdles—Won by Woodman of Bates; Royal of Colby, second; Thompson of Bates, third. Time, 16 seconds. (New record.)

220-yard Hurdles—Won by Meanix of Colby; Woodman of Bates, second; Thompson of Bates, third. No time given.

Hammer Throw—Won by Bailey of Maine, 151 ft., 4 3-8 in.; second, Leadbetter of Bowdoin, 131 ft., 5 in.; third, Shepherd of Maine, 125 ft., 6 in. (New record.)

Shot Put—Won by Shepard of Bates; Gove of Bates, second; Shepherd of Maine, 225 ft. (New record.)

Discus Throw—Won by Gove of Bates; Shepherd of Maine, second; Leadbetter of Bowdoin, third. Distance, 126 ft. (New record.)

Pole Vault—Won by Rogers of Maine; Thomas of Maine, second; McKenney of Bowdoin, third. Height, 11 ft., 6 5-8 in. (New record.)

High Jump—Won by Kempton of Bates; Drake of Bates, second; Worden of Maine, third. Height, 5 ft., 8 1-4 in. (New record.)

Broad Jump—Won by Faulkner of Bowdoin;
Smith of Bowdoin, second; MacFarland of Bowdoin, third. Distance, 22 ft., 4'3'-4". (New record.)

Of the points, Bates took six first places, three seconds, two thirds and tied for a second. Maine took five firsts, five seconds, five thirds and tied for a second. Colby took two firsts, two seconds and three thirds and Bowdoin one first, three seconds, and three thirds.

BOWDOIN 9—COLBY 2

With Dodge holding the Colby batsmen in perfect control at all times of the game, Bowdoin batted James hard in almost every inning and won on Whittier Field Wednesday by the score of nine to two. Bowdoin took the lead in the last half of the first inning and was never headed, while Colby's nearest attempt at a rally came in the sixth when two hits and an error scored her second and final run.

Ability to hit the much-heralded James spelled victory for Bowdoin, while Colby's inability to connect safely was responsible for that team's defeat. But four hits were made off Dodge's delivery, Reed and Nutting making two each, two coming in the first and two in the sixth. "Peeler" retired nine men by the strike-out route and James fanned seven. Each pitcher issued a free pass.

Bowdoin made only three errors, but, unfortunately, two of these counted in the run column. Colby made five miscues, the greater part of them costly. A cold wind swept the field throughout the game, making perfect judgment of high flies almost impossible, and driving two balls fair hit outside the left field foul line.

Colby started with a rush. After Simpson had struck out, Reed and Nutting singled and Reed came home when LaCasce threw wild to second. Bowdoin scored twice in the last of the first. Stetson and McElwee hit safely and scored on Skolfield's infield drive and Nutting's error after Weatherill had struck out and Tuttle had been hit.

Bowdoin repeated in the third. Weatherill was hit, stole second and scored on Skolfield's single through short, while "Link" tallied on LaCasce's safety to left field. Daicey caught a high fly for the third out. Eaton scored the fifth run in the fourth, when he drew a pass, stole second, and same home on McElwee's hit.

A run in both the sixth and seventh made the score seven, while Colby's second run came in the sixth. In the eighth LaCasce singled but was forced by Tilton, who stole second. Eaton hit to right field for three bases and scored when Dodge hit to short, Nutting dropping the throw at the plate.

All Together Now!

At Bowdoin the undergraduate athletic “fan” is a rarity. By this term we mean the type so popular in cigarette advertisements and clothing booklets; such a one as spends his afternoons in watching “practice” and his evenings in “doping” out teams, averages and winners; the man who never misses a game within the range of his pocketbook, his credit, or the “blind baggage;” whose throat is “aes triplex” and whose musical repertoire includes all the college songs. Such a man is capable of the fine frenzy by which we distinguish the native genius necessary for a cheer leader.

The value of such a man is apparent. From him the larger colleges fill their grandstands and athletic treasuries. His weakness is that, like so many large college products, he is rather too much of a specialist. His interests and capacities are limited to his one excelling art of “rooting,” to standing by and patting on the back those who are doing the work. Here at Bowdoin many such specialists would be disastrous to our college community. Here the quarterback must yell football signals in the fall and give signals for the “long yell” in the spring, the “B flat bass” player must also hold down the keystone sack, the gold medal orator must add his well groomed voice to swell the volume of the “rah rahs!”

We have been able by our small size to keep from giving undue emphasis to the mere “bleachers” side of athletics and require something more of a man than vocal enthusiasm. But there is a danger that, at present, we are not giving enough prominence to this same cheering and singing. Attendance at the recent M. I. A. A track meet may not be the measure of our college spirit, but it is a fair indication of the form that it takes with us, and for our part we should like to see more of it expressed in better organized cheering, expert cheer leaders, and a greater variety of songs. We are not voicing the conclusions of the “Crustacean” club with their motto “it’s not what it used to be.” Bowdoin spirit is just as much present as it ever was. We wish only to emphasize that of late we have not nearly realized our possibilities in this kind of team support. Let’s get together more, the whole gang of us, and learn to sing and cheer in unison. We have good songs, we have plenty of cheers. We have the spirit. Let’s express it.

Think it Over

In a Sophomore’s room the other day a group of normal, healthy fellows was discussing the personality and ability of various other men who, needless to add, were not present. All unconsciously they showed their ideas and ideals of college life.

The name of Doe, a man who stands near the head of his class, was brought up. A big, tanned fellow quickly said: “Yes, he gets good marks but I don’t think he has much to him, he plugs for everything he gets.” A chorus of approval showed that everyone agreed.

The talk went on and another man, Roe, became the object of comment. A Junior added to the verbal bouquets by saying: “There’s a smart fellow for you, he could pull straight A’s if he would try.” Someone asked: “Has he ever got an A?” “Well, no, but he could if he wanted to.”

We think this typifies the general attitude. The able man doesn’t work, he doesn’t have to. Only dull and stupid people “grind” and they should be and are looked down upon. We well remember a truly brilliant member of last year’s Senior class who was so afraid that some one would catch him studying, and hence he would lose his reputation for getting results without effort, that he always had a popular magazine on his desk. When anyone opened the door, down went Horace or Plato on the floor, and the visitor would find our Phi Beta Kappa man immersed in a story by Oppenheim and would go on his way marveling.

We expect persistency and work from the men who try for our teams, and pour the vials of our wrath on the sprinter who will not sprint. But we glorify the student who will not study and very, very often we are apt to regard the fact that a man doesn't study as proof positive that he is a student. Do we not realize that nothing worthy of mention can be accomplished without hard, disagreeable toil? We should judge by efforts and results, not by real or fancied potentialities. By our present attitude we are encouraging superficiality in work, confirming loafers in their laziness, and deters men from study. Can true scholarship thrive in such an atmosphere, and is not the foremost purpose of the college to turn out scholars?

QUILL GIVEN FIRST PLACE

It is with great pleasure that the Orient announces the honor given the Quill by the Williams Literary Monthly recently. It is interesting to note that the Quill was ranked fourth by the same monthly two years ago, last year it was given second place, and this year it heads the list. The Quill also received high praise recently from the Randolph-Macon Monthly.

In the April number of the Williams Literary Monthly the editor has chosen "the customary 'five-foot shelf' of good reading" of the exchanges received during the closing year. At the left of the shelf stands The Bowdoin Quill, followed by The Columbian Monthly, The Smith College Monthly, The Vassar Miscellany, The Mount Holyoke, The Nassau Lit, The Yale Lit and others.

The following tribute is paid to The Quill: "The Bowdoin Quill, tiny and modest, not overburdened with material, but possessing a steady and prevailing tone of careful selection and sane judgment. In its general impression it seems the least amateurish of the college monthlies."

At their election last week the Musical Clubs elected Samuel West '15 leader of the Glee Club, Horace A. Barton '14 leader of the Mandolin Club, Earle S. Thompson '14 manager of the clubs and Philip L. Card '15 assistant manager.

In spite of the fact that they have taken the longest trips ever attempted by the clubs, the new manager finds the clubs in excellent condition financially, and with prospects for another season as successful as this one has been.

CAPT. SAVAGE RUNNER-UP

Both Bowdoin teams won in the trials of the Maine College Tennis Championships at Lewiston last week, but both lost in the semi-finals, leaving Colby and Bates to fight it out in the finals. Tomblen and Woodman of Bates won the championship.

In the singles, Captain Savage won both his sets in both the trials and the semi-finals, but lost in the finals to Foster of Colby. Savage played a defensive back court game, while Foster ran to the net at every opportunity. In the doubles, the team work of the winners was excellent, the swift drives of Tomblen being backed up by the steady returns of Woodman.

DOUBLES

Preliminary Round
Tomblen and Woodman, Bates, beat Foster and Gillingham, Colby, 6-2, 6-3.
Gardner and Larrabee, Bowdoin, beat Goodspeed and King, Maine, 6-4, 7-5.
Morse and Cushman, Colby, beat Bird and Towle, Maine, 6-3, 7-5.
Savage and Slocum, Bowdoin, beat Alley and Nickerson, Bates, 6-4, 9-7.
Semi-finals
Tomblen and Woodman, Bates, beat Gardner and Larrabee, Bowdoin, 6-1, 6-1.
Morse and Cushman, Colby, beat Savage and Slocum, Bowdoin, 7-5, 6-3.
Finals
Tomblen and Woodman, Bates, beat Morse and Cushman, Colby, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

SINGLES

Preliminary Round
Savage, Bowdoin, beat Tomblen, Bates, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.
Goodspeed, Maine, beat Slocum, Bowdoin, 6-3, 6-3.
Nickerson, Bates, beat Morse, Colby, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.
Foster, Colby, beat Bird, Maine, 6-2, 6-2.
Semi-finals
Savage, Bowdoin, beat Goodspeed, Maine, 7-5, 6-2.
Foster, Colby, beat Nickerson, Bates, 6-4, 6-3.
Finals
Foster, Colby, beat Savage, Bowdoin, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3.
Capt. Savage and Slocum are now playing at Longwood.
FOOD FOR FANS

According to figures given out Sunday in a Portland paper, Bowdoin, Colby and Maine have practically the same batting and fielding averages in the Maine College series, while Bates is in each case a poor fourth. With Bowdoin’s two remaining games with Bates, it looks good for Bowdoin to win the pennant. Maine has scored 22 runs, Bowdoin 18, Bates 10 and Colby 7.

Maine and Colby meet this week, at Orono on Wednesday and at Waterville on Saturday. Bowdoin and Bates play at Lewiston May 30 and at Brunswick June 6.

Bowdoin will play an exhibition baseball game with Bates at Augusta May 31, the day after the first game with Bates of the championship series. The game with Tufts on May 24 will be in Portland at the new Bayside Park owned by the New England league. A game may be arranged with the Alumni for June 25. There is probability of a game with the Eastwoods of Bangor.

Bowdoin defeated Colby for the second time Wednesday on Whittier Field while Maine trimmed Bates at Lewiston on the same day. No games were played Saturday because of the State Meet.

SECOND TEAM ENDS SCHEDULE

The game with Brunswick High Thursday afternoon ended the schedule of the Bowdoin second baseball team. Eight games were played, three of which were won by the second team, while the second team made 48 runs against 57 for its opponents. Elwell ’15, assistant manager of the ‘varsity, managed the team, while “Obediah” Gardner ’13 was appointed captain. The men who played in the greater part of the games are: Fraser ’16, Minott ’15, Keegan ’15, Kelley ’16, Hall ’14, Dole ’13, Gardner ’13, Woodman ’16, Stuart ’16, Wiggin ’13, E. Tuttle ’13, Larrabee ’16, Nixon ’13, Allen ’15, Rogers ’15, Olson ’16, Coombs ’14 and Cox ’15.

The team served its purpose in keeping a number of men at work throughout the spring and in training possible ‘varsity material for another year.

The Bowdoin Second team came across Thursday afternoon with a 10 to 8 victory over Brunswick High. The game lasted ten innings and was marked by free hitting and numerous errors on both sides. The feature of the contest was the batting of Keegan, who scored three hits, including a two-base drive in the tenth with two men on bases. The score by innings:

- Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10—R
- Bowdoin Second: 3 0 3 0 0 2 0 2 10
- B. H. S.: 0 0 4 0 0 3 1 0 0—8

INTERSCHOLASTIC TOURNAMENT THIS WEEK

The Bowdoin Interscholastic Tennis Tournament will be held Friday and Saturday of this week. The teams will arrive Friday morning, make the drawings at 11 o'clock and begin both singles and doubles Friday afternoon. The finals will be played Saturday and cups will be awarded to the winners. Each school will be represented by a team of doubles and two men in the singles. Eight schools are expected to compete:—Kents Hill, Hebron, Edward Little High, Coburn, Cony High, Lewiston High, Brunswick High and Portland High.

SCHOOLBOY MEET MAY 31

The Bowdoin Interscholastic Track Meet will be held on Whittier Field May 31. The trials will start at 10,30 sharp, and the afternoon events at 2. The meet will be conducted as usual with the exception of one new rule, i. e., "Each competitor may enter only by means of an admission ticket purchased at the gate. The price of this ticket will be refunded by the management to all men who actually compete in the meet." This is in compliance with a rule passed by the N. E. I. C. A. A.

Thirteen schools have signified their intention of competing and several more are yet to be heard from. Those already entered are: Hebron 20 men, Portland High 20, Kent's Hill 18, Coburn 17, M. C. I. 16, Westbrook Seminary 7, Deering High 10, Dexter High 10, Cony High 10, Gardiner High 6, Buckfield High 10, Mexico High 3, and Lincoln Academy 10.

Club and Council Meetings

A social meeting of the Bible Study leaders for next year was held with Dean McConaughy at his home on College Street last evening.

At a meeting of the Student Council Monday, May 12, a number of details of administration were arranged for. It was reported that June 9 and 10 had been set for the Snow Song Cup competition, the sings to be held in Memorial Hall. All but one fraternity reported in favor of deferring initiations. The matter was postponed until the next meeting.

Elmer L. Curtiss of the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission will speak before the Government Club Wednesday evening at the D. K. E. House on Civil Service.

On the Campus

Anthony '16 and Cross '15 have left College.
Head '16 returned to College Wednesday after a two weeks' illness.
Bacon '15 is again at College after an operation for appendicitis.
The Dekes trimmed the Alpha Delts last week by the score of 10 to 8.
The next examinations for the Rhodes scholarships will be October 14 and 15.
The Zetes took the Dekes into camp last week by the disputed score of 13 to 3.
The Freshmen will hold a class sing tonight at 7 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. room.
Last week's meeting of the Government Club was postponed until next Wednesday.
Twenty-seven men including the coach and managers made the trip to Orono Saturday.
The Hawthorne Prize Stories will be due May 30 instead of May 16 as was previously announced.
Jim Crane, a "Portland boy" who attended Bowdoin for two years, is meeting success as a playwright.
Our subway heating system has been undergoing extensive repairs between the Old Gym and North Maine.
Bill Keegan '15 received a painful injury during practice Tuesday afternoon, being hit in the face by a baseball.
The Cornelian for 1913, the Cornell book corresponding to the Bugle, has a picture of Dan Coogan, together with a signed article by him.
The Alexander trials will be held May 26 instead of May 23 as previously announced. A schedule will be posted, giving the times of the individual trials.
The Freshmen trials for the Alexander Prize Speaking were held last night in Memorial Hall. From the 20 men first chosen, 10 were elected to represent the class.
Bamford '16 has returned from the Eye and Ear Infirmary in Portland after an operation upon his right hand. Foster '16 returned from the same hospital yesterday after an operation upon his leg for an osseous growth.
Men who have won track B's this year for the first time are: Smith '15, McWilliams '15, L. Brown '14, Leaderbetter '16, McKenney '15 and Merrill '14. Capt. Haskell '13, Lewis '15 and Faulkner '15 had already won their letters.
The Northfield Student Conference will be held in Northfield, Mass., June 20 to 29. Men in the colleges of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes will be represented.

"Squanto" Wilson '13 is playing first base for the Lynn team of the New England league. "Squanto" has his batting eye with him, as is shown by his terrific clouting in the recent series with Portland, and is becoming the idol of Lynn fans. In Saturday's game he got a home run with a tie score and two men on and later in the game a two-bagger.

With the Faculty

On May the fifteenth the visiting committee of the Board of Overseers, composed of Pres. S. V. Cole of Wheaton College, Hon. W. T. Cobb of Rockland, Hon. John A. Morrill of Auburn, and F. O. Conant, Esq., of Portland, held a personal interview with each member of the faculty and considered matters of importance pertaining to each department.

Prof. Mitchell represented the College at Fryeburg Academy during the week.

Prof. Johnson sailed from New York on last Saturday the seventeenth. He is going direct to Naples.

Professor Bräuner took a trip to Boston and vicinity last week to attend the meeting of the Modern Language Association. He also visited many places of interest around Boston.

Alumni Department

'63.—A rather interesting memento of one of their deceased classmates will meet the eye of the surviving members of the Class of 1863 at their reunion the coming Commencement. It is a group of volumes all relating to English Literature and all from the pen of a daughter of the class, Professor Martha Hale Shackford, Ph.D., of Wellesley College, whose father, Charles B. Shackford, Esq., died when she was a child.

'63, '73, '88.—These three classes are to hold reunions at Commencement this year.

'74.—Henry Gardiner White died recently at Providence, R. I.

'77.—L. A. Melecher has just issued his twenty-fifth annual report as superintendent of public schools at Northbridge, Mass.

'82.—Without the reason being known, Edwin N. Curtis has resigned the lucrative position of collector of customs at Boston, for which the term would not have expired until Jan. 23, 1914.

'91.—Miss Mabel E. Osgood of Auburn, Me., was on April 30 united in marriage to Ivory C. Jordan of Charleston, West Virginia, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. W. Smart, 320 Sawyer Street, South Portland, Me. The couple will make their home in Charleston, where Mr. Jordan has been located some years as attorney-at-law. They will be at home to their friends after July 1, at Maple Road, Edgewood.

'94.—R. H. Hinkley is now putting on the market his work, The Books of Knowledge, a child's encyclopedia, which not only answers every question a child can ask, they say, but also delights adults.

'97.—Mr. Earl Davis of Pittsfield recently delivered at Williams College a lecture on the Sweep of Socialism.

'02.—George R. Walker picked out the cup which the New York Alumni Association recently presented to be competed for in the Bowdoin-Brattle Meet. He also took charge of all the arrangements for getting the cup here. The College is very, very grateful to him for the work he put into this and for the interest he has shown in Bowdoin's athletic welfare.

'03, '05, '06.—Bowdoin men were well represented in the list of instructors recently appointed at Harvard for one year from Sept. 1. Seldon O. Martin, Ph.D., '03, is appointed for commercial organization; Arthur L. McCobb, A.M., '05, for German; Ray W. Pettengill, Ph.D., '05, for German; and Melvin T. Copeland, Ph.D., '06, for commercial organization.

'06.—The engagement of Miss Mary E. Crocker of Waterville Street, Portland, to Harold E. Elder of Coyle Street, has recently been announced to friends.

'07.—Dwight S. Robinson, son of the late Professor Franklin C. Robinson, of Bowdoin College, and a graduate of Bowdoin in the Class of 1907, has resigned his position as assistant superintendent of the Atlas Powder Company plant at Joplin, Missouri, to accept the position of assistant superintendent of the Barksdale, Wisconsin, plant of the Du Pont Powder Company. This is one of the three largest plants in the country for the manufacture of dynamite.

'10.—The marriage of Miss Marion Purington Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Wheeler of Portland, and Richard Raymond Eastman of Boston, is to take place June 4th. Mr. Eastman is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity. Miss Wheeler, a graduate of Deering High School, and a Delta Alpha Kappa girl, is a most accomplished musician.
CAST FOR COMMENCEMENT PLAY

About thirty men turned out for the trials for parts in the Commencement play, "The Merchant of Venice." The following is the tentative cast of characters which may change as rehearsals progress if special ability is shown by any man. Those who have lines in the first two acts must have them memorized for the first rehearsal, Tuesday, May 27, at 3:30 p.m., Memorial Hall.

The cast of characters:

Shylock ........................ Crowell '13
Duke of Venice ........................ Jones '13

BOARD OF PROCTORS ANNOUNCED

The Board of Proctors for next year will be as follows: Louis A. Donahue, George F. Eaton, Alfred E. Gray, Elroy O. LaCasce, Robert D. Leigh and Paul H. White.

DARTMOUTH WINS FAST MEET

Dartmouth took its annual win in the N. E. Meet Saturday with 62 points, Brown was second with 16 points, Holy Cross third with 13, and Maine fourth with 12. Colby was ninth with 5 points, while Bates was tenth with 4½ points. Bowdoin scored only 1 point, P. Smith taking fourth in the broad jump. Faulkner, Capt. Haskell and Leadbetter failed to qualify on Friday. The broad jump was won at only 21 ft., 4½ in. Thursday afternoon Leadbetter threw the hammer 142 feet, good for an easy second, but was unable to stay in the ring Friday.

NEW ENGLAND TOURNAMENT

Johnston of Amherst for the second time won the N. E. Tennis Tournament at Longwood last week. Bacon and Richards of Wesleyan won the doubles. Capt. Savage and Slocum of Bowdoin were defeated in the first round of doubles by Bacon and Richards of Wesleyan 6-1, 6-1. Savage won his first match in the singles from Greene of Brown 6-4, 6-4, but lost to Cutler of Williams 6-2, 6-4.

NEW NAME FOR WING CUP

Harry Faulkner's name will be placed upon the Henry A. Wing Cup which was presented to the College, last year, by Mrs. Grace Wing of Auburn in memory of her husband, Col. Henry A. Wing of the Class of 1880. The name of Bowdoin's high point winner in the Maine Intercollegiate Track Meet, each year, is placed upon the cup. Faulkner won five points for Bowdoin this year by taking first place in the broad jump. Last year the names of C. B. Haskell, Jr., winner of the 440-yard dash, and H. A. Lewis, winner of the hammer throw, were placed upon the cup.

NOMINATIONS FOR OVERSEER

Men who have been nominated by a vote of the Alumni by mail for the position of Overseer of the College to replace the vacancy left by the death of Herbert M. Heath '72, are:

Lewis Albert Burleigh '91 of Augusta, John Clair Minot '96 of Boston, Charles Howard Gilman '82 of Portland, and Rev. John Hastings Quint '97 of Brunswick. This election is in charge of the committee on the Overseers nominations and of the general association of Alumni.

BIBLE STUDY PLANS MADE

Plans have already been made for the Y. M. C. A. Bible Study classes next year and two meetings of the leaders have been held. Two courses will be given, one for Freshmen and one for upper-classmen. The first course will use for a text "The Master's Standards of Conduct," which takes up some of the most outstanding problems of a first-year man's life and the way Christ faced similar problems. The other course will use "The Manhood of the Master." The study will extend over twelve weeks. The leaders of the Freshmen courses will be West, Little, Churchill, Ramsdell, Fuller, Foster, Fortin, Sayward, Livingstone, Richardson, A. Lewis, Rawson, Canney, Stone, Hescock and J. L. McCon-aughly, normal class leader. The leaders of the other courses will be McWilliams, MacCormick, Gray, Merrill, Leigh, Hamblen, Simpson, Badger, Rodick, C. Brown and Leigh, normal class leader.

INTERSCHOLASTIC TOURNAMENT

This year's Interscholastic Tournament was undoubtedly the first of its kind ever played in this state. Because of the steady rain Friday and Saturday, the matches were played on the clay courts in the Hyde Athletic Building. Kent's Hill won the doubles, while Purington of Edward Little, the winner of the singles in the Bates Tournament last year, carried off the singles cup. Some fast matches were played, particularly between Cony High and Kent's Hill.

SINGLES

Preliminaries: Purington of Edward Little defeated Flynt of Cony High, 8-6, 6-1. Woodman of Portland High defeated Leighton of Lewiston, 6-0, 7-9, 6-4. Little of Brunswick defeated Kent's Hill entry by default.

Semi-finals: Woodman defeated Little, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1. Purington drew by.

Finals: Purington defeated Woodman, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

DOUBLES

TRIALS

Cony beat Brunswick, 6-0, 6-2.
Portland beat Edward Little, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.
Lewiston beat Coburn by default.
Kent's Hill beat Hebron by default.

SEMI-FINALS

Cony beat Portland, 6-2, 6-1.

Kent's Hill beat Lewiston, 6-0, 6-0.

FINALS

Kent's Hill beat Cony, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.
The teams were made up as follows: Brunswick, Little, Mitchell; Cony, Flynt, Johnson; Edward Little, Banks, Rogers; Kent's Hill, Gordon, Richardson; Lewiston, Leighton, Ireland; Portland, Strout, Schlusberg.

COMMUNICATION FROM M.I.A.A.

To the Students of Bowdoin College:

The Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association wishes to notify the public that the so-called Souvenir Program sold on the special train and in the vicinity of Alumni Field, Orono, Maine, at its 19th Annual Championship Meet was a private enterprise conducted by Morris and St. Onge of the University of Maine without the approval of the Association. These programs were published after permission had been refused by the Association and since the information they contained was unauthorized and inaccurate their object must have been to defraud. The Association regrets this unhappy incident and will see to it that it does not happen in the future.

Secretary.

A Sane Attitude

Much space in newspapers and comic weeklies is, at present, being devoted to the discussion and explanation of the so-called "new dances." At a number of the leading educational institutions various faculty and student authorities have placed prohibitions on the multifarious steps and twists of recent vogue. In all these restrictive measures there has been a prevailing difficulty in keeping up with the latest terpsichorean inventions. The self-appointed censors have been at their wits-end to adequately keep pace with the latest importations from the Barbary Coast and poultry yard. No sooner have they catalogued the undesirable and desirable among these fads than others have appeared.

In contrast with this manner of treatment we note the attitude of the Ivy Committee of the Junior Class on this question. In accordance with the Bowdoin way of looking at such things, they consider dance steps a matter of individual judgment and taste. As having official charge of this Bowdoin function they accept willingly the usual responsibility of guaranteeing to all the guests that the affair will not be marred by ungentlemanly or improper conduct but do not attempt to condemn any dance as such. With this sane view of the question it is safe to say that the big college social affair will not be the occasion for giving to anyone present anything but a high opinion of the College.

COMMUNICATION

Editor of the Orient.

SIR: May I take up a little of the valuable space of your columns to voice a protest against the latest crime on the campus? I refer, of course, to the recent transformations in Hubbard Hall. Is it to offset the recently-established course in Fine Arts that the authorities have inflicted upon us this example of how not to do things? To ruin absolutely the dignity and beauty of the entrance hall in the Library was not, presumably, the motive of those responsible for these changes; yet that is what has been done. Without rhyme or reason, one of the finest pieces of architecture we possess has been turned into an example of vulgar mediocrity. Instead of a stately charm, the main characteristic of the hall is now a commonplace ugliness.

The excuse given for this rearrangement is that the array of book cases, etc. serves to break the echo, and so protects men studying in the reading room from disconcerting sounds which emanate from the seminar rooms above. Granting, for the sake of the argument, that many readers are so disturbed, does this transformation effect the desired result? Again, is this distortion of beauty into ugliness the only way in which frequenters of Hubbard Hall can obtain the peace they so desire? To many it seems purchased at too high a price.

I remain etc.,

NGA BGOU.

THETA DELTA CHI IN PORTLAND

The Western Maine Theta Delta Chi Association was formed in Portland Saturday evening by graduate members of the fraternity. Six colleges were represented,—Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Harvard, Tufts, Boston University and Brown. Leon V. Walker, Bowdoin '03, was elected president and Leon H. Smith '10, vice-president.

The committee in charge was composed of Edward O. Baker '13, Lester B. Shackford '13, Samuel W. Chase '14, Clifford T. Perkins '15, and J. Glenwood Winter '16.

Among the young lady guests were the following: Misses Marion Irving, Marion Smart and Amy Baker of Portland, Misses Bertha Nelson and Susan Chase of Lowell, Mass., Misses Katherine Buffum and Grace Walker of Rockland, Misses Anne Dudley and Margaret Arnold of Waterville, Misses Erma Farrar, Eleanor Bradlee, Pauline Hatch and Vivian Lemont of Bath, Misses Oliva Nutter, Helen Snow, Lorette LaPointe, Anne Hall, Alexina LaPointe, Helen Fiske, Yvette LaPointe, Helen Mitchell, Clare Ridley and Isabelle Pollard of Brunswick, Misses Alzada Bailey and Jennie Bailey of East Poland, Miss Merle McVeigh of North Adams, Mass., Miss Dorothy Chaney of Topsham, Miss Jeanne Moulton of Cumberland Center, Miss Evangeline Redman of Dexter, Miss Charlotte Nevens of Auburn, Miss Alice Hurley of Bowdoinham, Miss Beulah Seavey of Ogunquit and Miss Miriam Schafer of Kingfield.

Gordon Busfield, Hamilton '11, was also among the guests.

The delegates from the other fraternities at the reception were as follows: from Alpha Delta Phi, Samuel West '15; from Psi Upsilon, Ray E. Palmer '13; from Delta Kappa Epsilon, Lawrence Irving '16; from Zeta Psi, Harold W. Miller '13; from Theta Delta Chi, Maurice W. Hamblet '14; from Kappa Sigma, Philip R. Fox '14; from Beta Theta Pi, Elden H. Austin '15; from the Bowdoin Club, Charles A. Hatch '13.

FOOD FOR FANS

By defeating Maine in the Maine College baseball series last week, Colby passed Maine and Bates and is now second to Bowdoin. No other games were played in the league last week, Bowdoin remaining in the lead by the same comfortable margin of 250 points.

Bowdoin and Bates will play at Lewiston May 30 and at Brunswick June 6. The exhibition game between these two teams for May 31 has been cancelled and no other game will be placed on Bowdoin's schedule to take its place. The game on June 6 will be the regular Ivy game. From a comparison of the work of the two teams

DELTA UPSILON ENTERTAINS

Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon held its annual house-party last Friday evening and Saturday. The program included a reception and dance Friday evening. A sail down the New Meadows River and a shore dinner at the Gurnet Saturday was prevented by the rain.

In the receiving line at the reception were Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, Mrs. C. C. Hutchins, Mrs. Paul Nixon and Mrs. William Hawley Davis. Mrs. G. Allen Howe poured coffee, Mrs. Samuel Thompson of Portland served sherbet, and Mrs. Samuel B. Furbish ladled punch.

The program included a dance, and the turnout was fine.

Winners of the Basketball League are:

Bowdoin  1  .500
Colby   2  .500
Maine   3  .500
Bates   3  .500

Wisconsin has won the championship of the Wisconsin League, and Bowdoin will play Colby for the national championship.
in games with other colleges, the opinion of practically all who have been following the game is that Bowdoin will win. Bates is sadly handicapped by the injury to Griffin, her captain and catcher, who is in bed with a broken leg. Bates' twirler, Anderson, is a hard nut to crack and it is in him that Bates will place her strongest trust. If Bowdoin wins both these games she has the pennant cinched; if she loses one she has more than a fair chance, while if she loses both, she will probably be tied with either Colby or Maine.

SUMMER SCHOOL CREDIT

Students desiring credit for work done in Summer School must present a statement in writing to the Dean, indicating the school they desire to attend and the courses to be taken there for which they wish to receive credit at Bowdoin. The approval of the Dean must be secured for the institution which they desire to attend, and any courses which they wish to substitute for required courses at Bowdoin must be approved by the head of the Department concerned.

JAMES L. McCONAUGHY,
Acting Dean.

NEW COURSES FOR 1913-14

Professor Elliott.

For critical study: Chaucer's Prologue, Book I of Spencer's Faerie Queen, Shakespeare's Twelfth Night and Macbeth, part of Milton's Paradise Lost, Pope's Rape of the Lock.

English Literature II. Second semester: Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9.30. Meaning and Method from Gray to the present. For critical study: Lyrics by Burns and the chief nineteenth century poets, Carlyle's and Arnold's interpretation of modern life and literature.

English Literature III. First semester: Tuesday, Thursday, Friday at 1.30. Shakespeare; his development as a dramatist and the conception of life presented in his works. For special study: the histories and comedies.

English Literature IV. Second semester: Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 1.30. Omitted in 1914-15. Shakespeare; his tragedies and romances.

Courses 2 and 3 are elective for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. Courses 3, 4, 5, 6 are elective for Juniors and Seniors.

FRESHMAN BANQUET

The Freshman Banquet will be held at the Congress Square Hotel in Portland, June 7. The committee has made arrangements for a big time and it is up to the class now to support them. Tickets may be had from members of the committee and no one will be admitted to the banquet without one. Each delegation is to elect one of its members for a response. The names of these men must be handed to the toastmaster (Wyman) at once in order to get them on the menu. Every man in the Freshman Class should make a special effort to attend this banquet and help make it a success.

NEW SCHEME FOR TRIPS

As a result of a conference of the managers of Baseball, Football and the Musical Clubs with a committee of the Faculty, uniform regulations for the arranging of schedules were adopted and approved by the Faculty. The scheme is as follows:

"The managers of the following organizations shall arrange their schedules on the following basis: The absences for the Musical Clubs shall not exceed five working days; for the football team six working days; and for the baseball team seven working days. An absence for a working day shall be understood to mean absence from chapel and the whole day's recitations. The absence beginning after 10.30 shall be considered two-thirds of a working day, except on Saturday, when such absence shall be considered one-third of a working day. Absence for the afternoon shall be considered one-third of a working day. No account is taken of absence from Sunday chapel."

This system removes the trouble arising in the past on account of approval following the arrangements for games. The number of days needed for trips during a schedule was determined from the managers' estimates.

NORTHFIELD STUDENT CONFERENCE

"Carriage, Carriage to Northfield Camp Grounds." In less than a month from today, several hundred college men from all over the United States will be greeted somewhat as above as they alight at the station at East Northfield, Massachusetts. The conference opens Friday evening, June 20, and all that day the large buck-boards will be busy carrying men to the campgrounds.

From then until the conference closes, June 29, there will be "Some Time" around Northfield. The fun will begin at the first meal when the various college yells will be heard and from then on there will be as much enthusiasm and spirit as if they were all attending some big football game or other athletic contest.

There will be an opening meeting at the auditorium Friday evening, but the conference proper will not begin until Saturday morning, when some such program as follows will be carried out: 7:30-8:30, Breakfast; 8:30-11:30, Groups in Bible Study, Mission Study, etc.; 11:30-12:30, Auditorium Meeting; 12:30, Lunch; Entire Afternoon, Recreation; 6:00, Dinner; 7:00, Outdoor meeting on "Little Roundtop," with addresses on Life Work; 8:00, Auditorium Meeting.

The whole program is so excellent that you can hardly afford to miss going at least once during your college course. You obtain a big inspiration from listening to the great speakers, all men like John R. Mott and Robert E. Speer, you have a splendid opportunity to meet a large number of men from other colleges, and you have a fine chance to play tennis or baseball or go out on walks to the most beautiful places imaginable. There is always a series of baseball games between the different colleges for the championship of the conference and on the big "Carnival Day" there is a track meet in which anyone can enter.

Many fellows who have been at Northfield in years past say it is well worth while, even to witness the wonderful celebration on "Carnival Day" alone. It is doubtless one of the most extensive affairs ever carried out by college men. The delegates form in a long line, each college having a characteristic costume, and after marching into the auditorium give their different songs and cheers. It is all under the best of management and is really for many men the greatest event they ever experienced. The evening's program is closed by a huge bon-fire some sixty feet high, around which the whole conference makes one long circle and run until the heat drives them back.

There will be about a hundred men from both Yale and Harvard and the whole body will number well up to the thousands. How many Bowdoin men are going to share in its enjoyment and inspiration?

On the Campus

Harold Ashley '12 was at College last week.

Ollie Sanborn '11 was on the campus Tuesday.

New Meadows Inn will open the latter part of the week.

Holt '13 has returned to College after two weeks' absence.

The appearance of straw hats proclaims the advent of spring.

"Professor" Baker is again with us; this time he is having trouble with his eyes.

A large quantity of Sears apparatus has been received by the chemistry department.

H. Abbott '13 has returned from a week's sojourn in the New Hampshire wildernesses.

The Alpha Delts beat the Dekes in a hard-fought game of baseball on the Delta Wednesday.

The Friars held their annual banquet and dance at Riverton Park last Wednesday evening, May 21.

The Song Cup Contest closes Friday, May 30, and after that date no more songs will be received.

The College has anticipated Ivy Week by planting ivy along the southern side of the three dormitories.

The course blanks will be ready about June 1 and must be handed in to the Dean's office before College closes.

Invitations have been sent out for the Alpha Delta Phi reception June 5 and for the Psi Upsilon reception June 4.

The summer time table on the Maine Central Railroad which includes several additional trains, will not go into effect until after College closes.

"Major" Slocum '13 will open a store on Maine Street next to Nason's store, where he will keep all kinds of students' necessities, from text books to pool tables.

The following Freshmen competed in the Alexander Prize Speaking trials yesterday: Burr, Edwards, Foster, Fuller, Garland, Leadbetter, Noble, H. T. Parsons, D. S. White, Winter.

The examining committee of the Trustees and Overseers of the College were here Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The committee is composed as follows: Addison E. Herrick '77, Alpheus Sanford '76 and Wilbert G. Mallett '91.

The annual banquet of the Gamma Gamma chapter of the Phi Chi medical fraternity was held in Portland Saturday evening. Among those present were 13 members of the Maine Medical School in Brunswick and 20 from the school in Portland.

The baseball game with Tufts scheduled for last Saturday was cancelled on account of rainy weather. Just before going to press, it was announced that the game would probably be played Tuesday. Tufts plays Maine at Orono Monday and could play Bowdoin on the way back from up-state.

The next issue of the Orient will be the Ivy number, appearing on Ivy Day. The last regular issue of the semester will appear June 17 and the final number, the Commencement issue will appear Commencement Day. All those desiring the later issues mailed to their summer addresses will please notify the Business Manager.

The 1914 Bugles will be delivered to the Business Manager some time in the last part of the month, but will not appear until the usual time, Ivy Day. The book contains about 350 pages and is prettily bound in green covers. Copies can be secured at the Business Manager, who will be in front of Memorial Hall, and later at the Ivy game. The price is $1.50.

Two more schools, Camden High and Foxcroft Academy, have signified their intentions of entering the Bowdoin Interscholastic track meet on Whittier Field May 31. Foxcroft will bring two men, while Camden will bring five, among whom McCobb, who broke the record in the high jump at the indoor interscholastic meet last March. These two schools swell the total number entered to 15.

With the Faculty

Professor Mitchell lectured to the students of Hebron Academy on last Friday evening.

Professor Ham is on a four days trip to Aroostook County where he is to visit the schools of Bangor, Houlton, Presque Isle, Caribou and Fort Fairfield in behalf of the College.

Prof. J. S. Davis has recently completed the requirements for the degree of doctor of Philosophy under the department of Economics at Harvard University, and will be awarded his degree at the coming Commencement. His thesis was upon "Corporations in the American Colonies." He also has been appointed instructor in Economics at the University for the coming year.

A card has been received from Prof. Sills who is now in Rome where he is to spend at least the remainder of the month.

The May issue of the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science contains an article entitled "Boston's County Problems" by Professor Hormell. It deals with the inefficiency of the dual administration of city and county officers especially in the judicial departments. It also points out the lack of civil service regulations in county offices.

Acting Dean McConaughy is to give a Commencement address at the Brunswick School at Greenwich, Conn., and at the Presque Isle Normal School.

President Hyde has been at Culver, Ind., at the national gathering of all workers with boys, where he conducted a course. David Porter '06 was in charge of one of the departments. There were at the convention 500 picked leaders.

ALT HEIDELBERG—IVY EVE

The festivities of Ivy Week began last night with the presentation of Alt Heidelberg by the Masque and Gown, the College Dramatic Club. The play was given in the Cumberland Theatre and had the same enthusiastic reception that marked its presentation in Portland April 29. Crowell as the Prince, Abbott as Jüttner, and Elwell as Kathie played the principal roles admirably, while Leigh, Jones, Twombly and Dunphy did excellent work. The singing of the student songs by members of the Glee Club added much to the success of the performance.

THE 1914 BUGLE

Artistic excellence and simplicity are distinguishing marks of the sixty-eighth volume of the Bowdoin Bugle, issued this morning. The editors have wisely followed the order and arrangement of previous volumes and the new departments have been arranged with consistency. The most striking feature is the addition of a large number of photographic illustrations and snap shots, which serve to enliven the three hundred and twelve odd pages of material. The volume is typographically perfect.

The book is dedicated to Hon. DeAlva Stanwood Alexander, LL.D., of the Class of 1870. The cover is green with a simple design in gold. The department devoted to the "grinds" is very carefully selected and deals with the usual butts of the campus wits not neglecting the "esteemed contemporary" from whose pages an unusually large number of quotations are made. The cartoons in this department are above the average of previous volumes as is the illustrating throughout the book.

On the whole the present volume represents a consistent spirit and is attractive. It retains what has proved a very serviceable manner of treatment in previous volumes and pleases especially in the cuts and drawings of which there are a larger number than ever before. Four hundred copies have been printed.

IVY DAY BASEBALL GAME—10:00 A. M.

The Orient goes to press too early to record the result of the game with Bates Ivy morning. On this game rested a championship. It was the last game of the season for Bowdoin and the farewell game for Capt. Skolfield, Dodge and Tilton, three star players.

IVY EXERCISES—2.30 P. M.

ORATION

Alfred Watts Newcombe, the Class Orator, took for his subject, "The Progressive Movement." After tracing the expansion of the germ of our national existence, the principles on which our country is based, through the Revolutionary period, the formation of the Constitution, and the early history of the newly made nation, Mr. New-combe took up our present vital issues, speaking in part as follows:

"The paramount issue confronting the American people today, to which these principles are to be applied is economic in character. In accordance with his faith, as a means of stimulating industry, Hamilton outlined the policy which was first applied in the protective tariff of 1816. Under its benign influence manufactures sprang into existence. Fostered by its continuance and encouraged by the manifest advantages of large scale production, these manufactures speedily assumed great proportions. Competition became cut-throat, and, out of the struggle for existence, as a natural evolution, gradually issued agreements, mergers, combines, and trusts.

"But it is not these great trusts alone that have alarmed our wisest statesmen and awakened a national sentiment. It is the fact that those in control of one industry have with the capital at their command gained control of other industries. The world of business has become the kingdom of a few millionaires. As President Wilson has expressed it, 'the dominating danger in this land today is not the existence of great industrial combinations—that is dangerous enough in all conscience—but the combination of the combinations—of the railways, the manufacturing enterprises, the great mining projects, the great enterprises for the development of the national water powers of the country, threaded together in the personnel of a series of boards of directors into a community of interests more formidable than any conceivable combination that dare appear in the open.'

"Ardently desiring to acquire further possessions, this millionaires' kingdom has pursued the most ruthless methods. Not content with the control of the industrial world, it has reached out and grasped the financial world. Money could not be obtained for the promotion of a new enterprise when that enterprise would in any way antagonize the interests of the kingdom. Inventions have been purchased and cast aside; promoters have been thwarted; and whenever a new concern has appeared all available forces have been brought to bear in the attempt to crush it out of existence.

"Important though this possession has proved, yet, in a supreme endeavor the kingdom has striven to obtain control of the last great fortress of the American people—the government itself. Fortune has favored its efforts in this direction. The development of organized political parties, each eager to win and ready to use any method, however costly it might be, has given rise to the employment of large sums of money. To whom then was it more natural for parties and campaign managers to turn than to those who had money—to the ambassadors of the kingdom? Such contributions were not made, we may be certain, without a reasonable assurance of favor after election. These ambassadors were not wholly impartial, not wholly unaware of their kingdom's interests. But that these interests might not be forgotten after election they were represented by lobbyists on the floors of Congress, at committee meetings, and in the sessions of state legislatures. More than that they came to nominate and elect officers to suit themselves; they influenced the appointment of judges, they passed laws regarding revenue and appropriation. Whenever a bill was introduced which in any way endangered their welfare, they fought it tooth and nail. They were never weary of pointing out how the Constitution, that wonderful document, guaranteed rights of personal liberty, allowing a man to carry on a lawful business without interference from the government, and ensured a recognition of state rights so that corporations chartered by the states were to be subjected to Federal Jurisdiction only as a last resort. They have regulated the enforcement of law as well as the enactment of new laws. They have checked a further discussion of individual equality and social justice when these terms were understood to mean equal opportunity and equal protection. Fortunately they had not secured complete control. The last rampart had not yet surrendered. The fight was still going on, when, from the distance, there came bugle calls of reenforcement, and those patriotic citizens in the fortress took new courage.

"This reenforcement was the vanguard of the great Progressive Movement. Originated in the West, where conditions and sentiments of equality were most marked, under the leadership of men like LaFollette, it first manifested itself in the revolt of the Insurgents in Congress. Its purpose—judging from the methods pursued—was to check the alarming growth of corporate influence, to insure for all time the control of our government by the people. In the choice of methods we may observe the trend of opinion regarding those principles of individual liberty, of state rights, and of constitutional interpretation, which we found to be underlying our national development. Two methods have been pursued—one of expansion, the other of restriction. The first of these has been the expansion of individual rights and privileges. The rights guaranteed by the Constitution have in no wise been abandoned; they are still regarded as inviolable. Moreover, by federal and state legislation—such as pure food and employers' liability laws—this movement has endeavored to safeguard the social and economic relations of the individual citizen in his every day life. And that he might not be deprived of political control, there have been enacted such measures as the Initiative and Referendum, Direct Primaries, Popular Election of Senators, and the Recall.

"The second method of ensuring popular control of the government has been to restrict corporate wealth. Herein was revealed the opinion regarding state rights and constitutional interpretation. The security of corporations from national interference was urged on the ground that they had been chartered by the states. The tendency, however, was to a stronger federal government. To secure it, not only has the Constitution been interpreted broadly, but, when necessary, the Movement has advocated that it be entirely disregarded as out of date. This method of restriction has had two phases of application: first, in the application to the individual who has been reached through the income and inheritance taxes; and second, the more important phase, in its application to corporate wealth as a whole.

"This second phase was a determining factor in the last national election. In his addresses of a year ago, Colonel Roosevelt urged not only social reform, and the recall of judicial decision, but also governmental supervision of the trusts. Because of his personality, his widespread popularity, and the lure of his propaganda, he soon—in spite of all third term opposition—gained a large following. The plea for social justice and for the judicial recall—divested of Roosevelt's personality—would never have given rise to a new party. The need of social justice was widely recognized and affected all the parties. Nor was the Recall sufficient for the establishment of a third party. Its only basis then lay in its theory of trust supervision. To this the old Republican party could not agree, either because its policy was dictated by outside influence, or else because the source of the proposal was too decidedly obnoxious. At any rate we may regard one of these to have been the reason, inasmuch as that party continued to insist upon its policy of a high protective tariff—literally feeding the trusts, without so much as asking to control them. Nor could the Democratic party agree to the supervision theory, because it implied that monopoly had come to stay, that competition was a relic of antiquity. The Democratic party, not believing the era of competition to have been passed, pledged itself to maintain that era through a gradual reduction of the tariff, thus exposing our great industries to the competition of the world.

"Because of this view the Democratic party carried the day. It made comparatively few gains, but succeeded in keeping its lines intact. This the Republican party failed to do, and the newly organized Progressives were, of course, not strong enough to win the election.

"President Wilson has appealed for the aid of all progressive citizens regardless of party affiliation. He has appointed a progressive cabinet and inaugurated a thoroughly progressive policy. So far as social welfare is concerned, he has adapted Roosevelt's proposals to his own ends. Should the tariff act, however, prove to be a failure, should it be shown that monopoly is in these modern times the only adequate way of doing business, then the Democratic party will four years hence be relegated to the background, to be succeeded by the Progressive party with its theory of trust supervision.

"Such is a reasonably safe prediction. But the American people must not forget that, if it is fulfilled, the promises of Karl Marx's argument for socialism will have been established, and this country will be fairly on the road in that direction. Nor should we forget that progress is highly contagious and that under its name and guise we are likely to do many things that are virtually retrogressive. Yet should we ever enter upon any sort of socialist era, let us fondly hope and fervently pray that such entrance may come, not as a result of tumult and fraternal bloodshed, but as a peaceful and natural evolution, in the higher development of mankind."

POEM

The Ivy poem by Kenneth A. Robinson described the Birth of the Ivy Vine on Earth, making it the gift of Bacchus to the newly formed human race. The poem, which is too long to be given in full, opens with a description of the repeopling of the earth after the flood, following the Pagan mythology:

The waters obeyed, and the seas returned to their shores, as once they had left them,
Aye, the quieted seas went back to border and beach assigned them,

And the two who were spared from the floods which smote the foolish lands, and bereft them,

Wandered over the desolate earth, casting their stones behind them.

Casting their stones till each stone took shape as it fell from the hand of the caster,
Blood and bone were born of the stone, oh, who shall deny the glory?

Even as marble comes to breathe in the hand of the eminent master,

Only—stone remained in the heart, but that is another story.

Over the earth, and of the earth, sowing their seed, half-doubting,

Side by side the parents passed until they beheld the wonder,

Then, ah, then their hope fulfilled, they set up a joyous shouting, Raised a pean in praise of Him who governs the flaming thunder.

And great Jove heard from his clouded height, heard and rejoiced, and straightway

Spake a word to the council-gods, calling them in around him,

Smiled as he saw the gods come in, in through the golden gateway,

Smiled as he saw the earth at peace, smiling the council found him.

Smiling he took his wonted seat and spake of the race of mortals,

Men, and the golden age of men which came at the great beginning,

Men, and the ultimate fall of men, when out through the iron portals

Innocent Astraea took her way, sad at the various sinning.

Men who exhausted their heritage, wasted the substance lent them,

Tore the veil with impious hands from things that were meant to be hidden,

Men who mocked at the stronger gods, men, and the punishment sent them,

Rains that fell, and seas that rose, and earth dishonoured and chidden.

“And now ye see,” the great god spake, “with a joyous eye for the seeing,

Earth re-born, and the race renewed, an age that is fairer, fairer,

Seas that smile, and winds that sleep, and a world giving thanks for being,

Each his due, in the last reward an equal and dutiful sharer.

Each his due, to know his due, with godly crowns for the seeking,

A race of men to live as men, and a worthy life for the living,

Fitting now is the profer of gifts”—the great god paused in his speaking,

“I have given them life,” quoth he, “and what will ye for the giving?

“I have given them life,” quoth he, “yea, I have more to profer,

Life, and the RIGHT TO LIFE, and ye, what have ye to offer?

(In answer to the question of the ruler of the gods the lesser deities stand forth, and enumerate their gifts to the new race. Minerva offers her usual wisdom, Venus, love, and so on. Finally Bacchus comes forward:)

With the scent of flowers on the air,

Sound of flutes, and the odor of wine,

Vine leaves bound in his golden hair,

Glad, bright leaves of the Ivy Vine.

Eyes a-drowse with shadow and shine,

And secret things that a great god knows;

Lips empurpled, enriched, divine,

Smile as warm as the heart of the rose.

Tigers crouched at the fair god’s feet,

Crouched at his feet, and crouched around him—

Nysaeian Master, far more sweet

Than proud Maeonian sailors found him.

Blooming ropes of the wild grape bound him,

Trailing loose in many places,

Which those maidens who surround him

Pressed to their breasts and flushed faces.

Bacchus, son of the doubting maiden,

God of youth, and joy, and revels,

Leader of nymphs and fauns, fire-laden,

Over the hills and the windy levels—

Mad, mad glory that dishelved,

Wild, white feet in the swaying grasses—

Music mingled of men and devils,

Fit for a god when a great god passes.

(Bacchus then goes on to say that there are sad and serious things enough already given to the new race, and that his gift will be the Ivy Vine, signalizing eternal youth, joy, and happy memories, saying that the Vine is blessed by the gods, and made immortal by them:)

Time and Change sweep on their courses,

Ever fainter the wan west gleams,

Phoebus guides his weary horses

Further into the Fields of Dreams.

What was the rose becomes the poppy,

Old lips lose the songs they’ve sung,

And old hearts sigh for days gone by,

But the gods are always young.

PLANTING OF THE IVY

According to tradition this ceremony follows the Ivy exercises. While the ivy is being planted the class will sing the Ivy Ode:

(Air: Auld Lang Syne)
A song of perfect, golden days
To consecrate our vine,
And aid our grateful hearts to praise
Our Mother of the Pine.
Grow green, grow strong, oh, Iry vine,
Then come whatever will,
Thy tendrils curled around our hearts
Shall hold us faithful still.

Fling loud the chorus to the breeze
Through our familiar ways,
Till Bowdoin's halls and campus trees
Shall echo back our praise.
Grow green, grow strong, oh, love of ours,
Through shadow and through shine,
And work and deed shall be thy meed,
Our Mother of the Pine.

KENNETH A. ROBINSON.

SENIORS' LAST CHAPEL

On the afternoon of Ivy Day a regular chapel service is held. The Seniors attend in a body and go through the service for the last time as undergraduates. At the close, singing the traditional song to the tune of Auld Lang Syne, they march out between the rows of underclassmen. The Seniors are excused from attendance at morning chapel during the rest of the year.

IVY HOP—9.00 P M.

The event which closes the Ivy Week festivities, the Ivy Hop, will be held this evening in the new Gymnasium. This is the first dance to be held on the big floor of the gym and a larger number of guests than usual will be present. The hall will be decorated for the occasion with green and laurel roping.

After the reception an order of 24 dances and two extras will be enjoyed. Kendrie's Orchestra will furnish music and at intermission Grant of Lewiston will serve refreshments.

The patronesses for the affair are: Mrs. F. E. Woodruff, Mrs. W. A. Moody, Mrs. C. C. Hutchins, Mrs. F. N. Whittier, Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, Mrs. R. J. Ham, Mrs. M. Copeland, Mrs. P. Nixon, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mrs. O. C. Hornell, Mrs. E. W. Wass, Mrs. W. T. Brown, Mrs. Alice Little, Mrs. G. M. Elliott, all of Brunswick; Mrs. F. G. Eaton of Bangor.

The committee in charge consists of G. F. Eaton, chairman; F. X. Callahan, L. A. Donahue, R. E. Simpson and E. S. Thompson.

ALPHA DELTA PHI RECEPTION

The annual reception of the Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was held on Thursday afternoon at the chapter house. The guests were received by Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. William A. Moody, Mrs. Franklin C. Robinson, Mrs. Alice C. Little and Mrs. Frank P. Weatherill of Brunswick and Mrs. Leon B. Leavitt of Boston.

The young ladies who served punch and coffee were Miss Mabel Davis, Miss Marion Drew, Miss Frances Skolfield, Miss Sarah Baxter, Miss Ellen Baxter, Miss Nathalie Withington, Miss Frances Little of Brunswick, Miss Lida Baker of Boston and Mrs. Harrison C. Chapman of Portland. Grant of Lewiston was the caterer. Kendrie's Orchestra rendered a concert program during the reception.

The members of the committee of arrangements were Laurence W. Smith '13 of Portland, Frederick S. Wiggins ‘13 of Saco, Earl S. Thompson '14 of Bath, Philip L. Card '15 of Portland, Harold E. Verrill '15 of Portland and Robert M. Dunton '15 of Bath.

PSI UPSILON HOUSE PARTY

The annual house party of the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon is being held this week. A reception was given Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the chapter house, a large number of townpeople being present. In the receiving line were Mrs. Charles S. F. Lincoln of Shanghai, China; Miss May POTTER of Brunswick; Mrs. Samuel H. Boardman of Guilford; Mrs. Walter L. Head of Bangor. Mrs. Roscoe J. Ham, Mrs. Edward H. Johnson, Mrs. Arthur F. Brown and Miss Carrie Potter assisted in serving the refreshments.

The house was decorated with apple blossoms, palms, ferns, and cut flowers. The fraternity colors, garnet and gold, were displayed in the red and yellow roses and in cakes and candies. Lovell's Orchestra with Mr. Frank Kendrie '10 as violinist and leader, furnished music at the reception.

Dancing began at the chapter house at nine o'clock Wednesday evening. The patronesses were the same ladies who were in the receiving line in the afternoon. Music was furnished for an order of 24 dances by Lovell's Orchestra which furnished the music in the afternoon. At intermission George C. Shaw Co. of Portland catered.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Loring Pratt '13, chairman; Earl F. Wilson '14, A. Keith Eaton '15 and Alden F. Head '16.

ZETA PSI HOUSE PARTY

On Wednesday and Thursday the annual house party and dance of the Lambda Chapter of Zeta Psi was held. The fraternity house was tastefully decorated with evergreen, potted plants, palms and chrysanthemums.

The festivities began with a reception given in the fraternity house on Wednesday afternoon from three to five o'clock. In the receiving line were Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Nixon, Mrs. W. H. Davis, all of Brunswick; Mrs. W. Hayes of Foxcroft, and Miss Hannah R. Page of Skowhegan. Mrs. A. G. Chandler dipped punch, and Mrs. C. C. Hutchins poured cocoa. Mrs. Arthur Brown of Brunswick presided at the tea table. Towne's Orchestra of Madison furnished music during the afternoon.

The dance began at the fraternity house at nine o'clock. The patronesses were the same ladies who were in the receiving line during the reception. Music was furnished for an order of 24 dances by Towne's Orchestra. At intermission, refreshments of salads, coffee, and ices were served.

Thursday morning the fraternity members and their guests went to Gurnet for an all day outing, returning for the Ivy affairs Thursday evening and Friday.

The committee in charge consisted of H. W. Miller '13, chairman; H. M. Hayes '14, E. A. Stone '15 and R. C. Clark '16.

FRATERNITY JOINT DANCE

The local chapters of Theta Delta Chi and Delta Kappa Epsilon held a joint dance at the Theta Delta Chi House Wednesday evening. Strange of Portland furncshed the music.

STUDENT ELECTIONS MONDAY

Next Monday evening the annual spring election, the most important student meeting of the year, will be held in Memorial Hall. At this meeting members of the Student Council and Athletic Council, Cheer Leader, managers and assistant managers of Track, Baseball, Tennis, and Fencing will be elected. BATES, 2; BOWDOIN, 1—May 31

For eight long innings Dodge held Bates runless while Bowdoin scored a single tally, but in the last half of the ninth, Bates scored twice and won the game. The contest was close at all periods and for a while the lone run that Bowdoin had looked big enough to win, but a three base hit, with an error and a freak of baseball, placed Bates in the lead.

Bowdoin scored in the sixth. Stetson got on by a clean single, went to second on McElwee's bunt, to third when Weatherill hit to the infield, and scored on Tuttle's high foul over third.

Then came the ninth. With two strikes and three balls called, Talbot drove a three base hit to centerfield. Shepard bunted toward third, Dodge threw over Eaton's head at first and Talbot scored and Shepard took second. Lord sacrificed Shepard to third. Drake, batting for Cobb, kept up the bunting game, and rolled one down the third base line for an attempted squeeze play. Tilton got the ball before Shepard was half way home, but the throw hit the runner who easily scored.

TRIBUTE TO GENERAL CHAMBERLAIN

At the Sunday vespers President Hyde spoke on the coming anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and the part which Gen. Chamberlain of the class of 1852 took in that battle. The following letter has been sent:

1 June, 1913.

General Joshua L. Chamberlain, LL.D.,
Portland, Maine.

My dear General Chamberlain:—

At this Memorial season, and in view of the approaching fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, the students of Bowdoin College, assembled in the Chapel you left to obey your country's call, and to which you returned after years of heroic and victorious service, by rising vote have requested me to express to you, and to the brave men who fought with you in the Great Cause, their gratitude for the privilege of living in a country undivided by secession and unstained by slavery: and to assure you that your noble example will ever be an incentive to lives of patriotic service: in peace so long as honorable peace is possible; in war whenever unavoidable and righteous war shall call.

Sincerely yours,

William DeWitt Hyde.

COMMUNICATION

The Editors of the Orient:

Permit me to correct two errors into which your correspondent, Mr. N. Bgoul, has fallen in the communication printed in your last issue. The purpose of the new bookcases in Hubbard Hall is simply to hold books. They have no acoustic properties and will restrain no echoes. The classes of books which they will display from time to time, and the reasons for making these books so prominent, will be fully set forth in a printed guide to the library to be issued later. It is hoped that these reasons when read and considered, will justify the new arrangement.

The cases themselves are of the same material and finish, and from the same manufacturer, as the card catalogue case at the end of the hall.
Their lines, when complete, will be in strict accord with the sketch made by Mr. Henry Vaughan for this purpose. It is hardly conceivable that so able an architect, in case of a building designed by himself, would "distort beauty into ugliness."

Geo. T. Little.

OFFICE NOTES

The Dean will be unable to hold his office hours on June 12 and 13.

All course cards are to be handed in at the office by June 12. They should be made out with the full number of courses to be taken and may be changed only on written application to the Dean. A fine of one dollar will be collected for delay after June 12.

ELECTIONS

At a recent meeting the Faculty selected the following men for English 9-10:—E. C. Gage '14, L. H. Gibson, Jr. '14, A. E. Gray '14, R. E. Simpson '14, P. L. White '14, and R. P. Coffin '15.

The following men from the Junior class were initiated into the Friars last Monday evening: Alfred E. Gray, Neal Tuttle, Horace A. Barton and Kenneth A. Robinson.

The Friars, the Junior society, held their annual initiation Tuesday, May 27, at Riverton and took in six men from the Sophomore Class. The men are G. Arthur McWilliams, H. Alton Lewis, Edward R. Elwell, Joseph C. MacDonald, Austin H. MacCormick and Ellsworth A. Stone.

Club and Council Meetings

The Y. M. C. A. held its annual joint cabinet meeting at New Meadows Inn Sunday evening. Plans for next year were discussed and the work of the present year was reported on.

The final meeting of the Government Club was held at Professor Hormell's home on Wednesday, May 28. The new constitution was read and adopted after considerable discussion over the matter of membership provisions. A new requirement is that membership shall be open at the first advertised meeting of the year and thereafter it shall be by application and election by a majority of the members present. Richard Simpson '14 was elected president for next year. Refreshments were served.

A PICTURE OF THE ENTIRE STUDENT BODY WILL BE TAKEN TUESDAY AT 1 P.M., ON THE ART BUILDING STEPS.

BOWDOIN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Timely hits coupled with Bates' errors easily won the Ivy game for Bowdoin, and with it the state championship. Bowdoin started scoring in the second inning and after that time the result was never in doubt. The day was ideal for baseball and both teams played well. Bates pulled off a triple play in the eighth that nipped in the bud a Bowdoin batting rally, after Bowdoin had scored once in that inning.

Three Seniors, Tilton, Dodge and Captain Skolfield, played their last game of baseball for Old Bowdoin, and the gilt-edged article of the game they offered was a worthy example for the remainder of the team to follow. All three played well in the field, Tilton handling six hard chances without a slip-up. At bat, Skolfield led with a single, a double and a triple in four times at bat. Dodge hit for three bases and Tilton for a single.

Bowdoin had little difficulty in hitting Anderson, who had proved so effective before, and Stinson was kept warming up behind the Bates bench during the last half of the game. Dodge kept his six hits well scattered, only two of them coming in the same inning—the seventh, in which the visitors scored their lone tally.

Bates started with a rush. Ridlon hit safely to left after two strikes were called, was sacrificed to second, took third on an infield out and then tried to steal home but was caught by a city block. In Bowdoin's half, McElwee got a life on Cobb's error after Stetson had fouled to Coady, stole second, but was caught off that bag when LaCasce hit to third. Tuttle went out, Coady to Cobb.

In the second Talbot died on a foul fly to LaCasce; Shepard singled to right field, and, after vainly asking for a runner on account of an injured leg, stole second, but he was left there.

In the second Bowdoin scored her first two runs, enough to win the game, as it afterward turned out. Skolfield hit a three-bagger to deep left, far out by the running track and scored when Ridlon fooled Weatherill's grounder. Eaton dunked an infield single out of anybody's reach and Weatherill scored when Talbot dropped Tilton's hard line drive. Anderson struck out Dodge and Stetson and McElwee flied out to short.

Bowdoin scored twice more in the third. Ridlon caught LaCasce's fly in short right by a fine jump. Tuttle hit to left, took second on Marston's error and scored on Skolfield's two-bagger to right field. Skolfield took third on Weatherill's drive, and scored on Eaton's hit after Weatherill had been caught off first. Tilton singled, but Dodge struck out.

Each side got a man on by a single in the fifth and in the sixth Bates got a man as far as second through Weatherill's error and a stolen base. In the same inning, with two down, Stetson drew a pass and stole, only to be left when McElwee grounded to second.

The seventh saw Bates's only run. Shepard singled to left and took second on Lord's hit to the same place. Cobb sacrificed both men along a base and then Shepard scored on a passed ball. Marston struck out. Anderson drew a base on balls, but Ridlon fanned.

Bowdoin filled the bases in the last half of the same inning but could not score. LaCasce went out, Anderson to Cobb, and Tuttle and Skolfield hit safely. Weatherill fanned and Eaton was passed, filling the bases. Tilton hit the first ball pitched to deep center field, but Talbot made a fine catch.

In the eighth Talbot of Bates reached second on errors by Eaton and McElwee, but was left there when Shepard retired on a fly. It was in the last half of this inning that Bates's triple play prevented Bowdoin's running up a higher total. Dodge led off with a three-bagger to right center, and scored a minute later when Anderson uncorked a wild pitch. Stetson was given a base on balls and advanced a base on McElwee's ground single through the box. LaCasce hit to Anderson who turned and caught McElwee at second and a quick throw caught LaCasce at first. In the meantime Stetson had taken third, and now, as he tried to go home, Cobb threw to eight hundred and fifty dollars to meet all creditors. The first home football game occurs three days after college opens—if the necessary amount is paid in by that date. It is very unlikely that the students of Bowdoin College will fail to meet the requirements of the situation. Don’t forget to bring back your blanket tax next fall!

Initiation Date Postponed

The Student Council recently voted that since seven of the eight fraternities have expressed themselves in favor of late initiations, they considered the initiation date thereby postponed until after the end of the first semester. A suitable date will be set by the new Council. In taking this action the Council gave due consideration to the opinion of the fraternity opposing the plan, but felt that it was unwise to allow a small minority to render the scheme invalid for the majority. The fraternity opposing the scheme is, of course, not bound by this change and may initiate at any time.

It is unfortunate that the new scheme is not to be inaugurated by unanimous action but it has been pointed out that it may be given a fair trial under the present conditions. There are no rules of rushing or pledging involved, nor is there any general scholarship requirement for initiation included.

Wanted: A Bowdoin Union

In the President’s report in the new Bulletin we are attracted by a paragraph in the section dealing with the Christian Association from which we reprint an extract.

“The obstacle in face of further development along this line (striving to amalgamate the various social organizations in college, by “college sings,” mass meetings, “Bowdoin nights,” etc.) is the lack of a building, and there are many connected with the Association who hope that the time may come when there will be a Christian Association building and Bowdoin Union combined, on the campus: either a new building, or else the old Gymnasium made over into an attractive social and religious center for the College. While the fraternity life at Bowdoin is as near perfect as it can be, the whole social organization of our college life is by small groups. Memorial Hall was never intended for a social gathering place for the students, and its bigness and cheerlessness makes almost impossible any such gathering. The old Gymnasium might be adapted, at no very great expense, into an efficient social center for the College, managed, perhaps, under the general direction of the Christian Association, and where there could be offices of the college papers and Glee Club, the Christian Association meeting room, and a general college meeting place for class meetings, "sings," mass meetings, etc. The Association room has been used by the Music Department this year, and there are obstacles to the effective use of the Secretary's office in the Library, so that practically speaking, the Association has no adequate home at present. The Dean of the College, in his report for 1911-12, called attention to the need of such a building, and there are many who hope that before long it may be seen upon the Bowdoin campus."

This discussion of a Bowdoin Union has the advantage of a definite proposition as well as an adequate statement of need. It will no doubt be seconded by nearly every student in College and it is our hope that the report may not fall on barren ground.

the plate, catching him by inches. This was Bowdoin's last time at bat.

In the ninth Lord was hit, took second on Cobb's ground hit through short, and third on Bates's easy bounder, but Miller, batting for Anderson, fanned and Ridlon went out by the Dodge-Eaton route.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE 1913

September 27.—New Hampshire State College at Brunswick.

October 4.—Wesleyan at Middletown.

October 11.—Trinity at Brunswick.

October 18.—U. of Vermont at Burlington, Vt.

October 25.—Colby at Waterville.

November 1.—Bates at Lewiston.

November 8.—Maine at Brunswick.

November 15.—Tufts at Portland.

This revised schedule gives Bowdoin a complete list of college teams for the first time in a number of years. It also presents more home games with colleges out of the state than has ever occurred in football. There are three actual home games and two played within easy distance of Brunswick so that the followers of the team will be able to see at least five of the eight games. There are two long trips, one to Middletown and one to Burlington. The other game at Waterville is within easy distance of Brunswick.

Early football practice will begin September 15 and all candidates for the team are requested to be ready to report on Whittier Field at that time.

FRESHMAN BANQUET

The Freshmen held their class banquet June 7 at the Congress Square Hotel in Portland. Fifty-two of the class were present.

Charles W. Wyman was toastmaster, with the following program: Opening address, Guy W. Leadbetter; The Future of 1916, Chauncey Hall; Our Fusser, Richard Fuller; Our Class, Ralph Haywood; The New Gym, Lowell Elliot; Our Suburbs, Elliot Boardman; Class History, James Barry; Bowdoin Spirit, Robert Clark; As Sophomores, Glenwood Winter; 1915, Ivan Yenetchi; Prohibition, Donald White; Closing address, Don Edwards.

The arrangements for the affair were made by a committee consisting of John Churchill, chairman; Donald S. White, Don Edwards, L. M. Noble, A. E. Littlefield.
WORK OF STUDENT COUNCIL

To the Editor, Bowdoin College Orient.

Dear Sir:—It is the opinion of the 1912-13 Student Council that a statement of the important work done by the Council during the current year might with advantage be published in the Orient. The Council is accordingly sending you such a statement.

1. Recommended that the student body show more team support by giving each team a send-off at the station, when it leaves for an out-of-town game.

2. Arranged for contests between the Sophomore and Freshman classes to replace the old chapel rush. (Tug of war and flag rush. Neither of these proved entirely satisfactory.)

3. Recommended that chapel bell should not be rung in celebration of class victories.

5. Conducted class sing competition for Snow Song Cup.

6. The Council expressed to the faculty a sentiment in favor of a provision by the College for an athletic instructor to work under Dr. Whittier, to coach the track team, train the football team, etc.

7. Recommended to faculty an insert in the new catalogue in regard to the A.S.B.C. and the Blanket Tax.

8. Prepared for publication the Constitution and By-Laws of the A.S.B.C. and the Athletic Council; the By-Laws of the Student Council, and the Board of Managers; the faculty regulations in regard to eligibility rules, and the Constitution of the Bowdoin Publishing Co. (Owing to lack of funds these have not yet been printed.)

9. Recommended to the faculty the abolition of chapel during semester examinations.

10. Considered better method for the nomination of athletic managers. No action.

11. Careful investigation of limitations of college honors scheme. Voted to adopt no such scheme, as all artificial means seemed to be unsatisfactory.

12. Canvass of fraternities on question of interfraternity baseball.

13. Canvass of fraternities in regard to late initiation, which resulted in following motion:

14. Voted, That since seven fraternities have signified by signed statements their support of late initiations, the Council considers fraternity initiations thereby postponed until after mid-year examinations.

Very sincerely,

THE 1912-13 STUDENT COUNCIL.

Club and Council Meetings

The Band met recently and elected Jones '15 leader and Austin '15 manager for next year.
The Biology Club took its field trip to South Harpswell last week. Several biological specimens were obtained.
The Gibbons Club has elected the following officers: L. Donahue '14, president; Callahan '14, vice-president; and Koughan '15, secretary and treasurer.
The Somerset County Club has elected the following officers: Badger '14, President; Merrill '14, Vice-President; Chatto '15, Secretary-Treasurer; Executive Committee, LaCasce '14, Jones
'15, Hight '16.

The Debating Council has elected Elwyn C. Gage '14 President, Ray E. Verrill '14 Secretary, and Richard E. Simpson '14 Manager. The Council voted to return its surplus funds to the treasurer of the A.S.B.C.

A meeting of the old and new Student Council was held at the New Meadows Inn last Saturday evening. An informal discussion of the work for the coming year was held.

At the final meeting of the 1913 Council the business of the year was closed up. The following motion relative to postponement of fraternity initiations was passed: "Since seven fraternities have signed by signed statement their support of initiations at the end of the first semester, the Council considers the initiations thereby postponed until after mid-year examinations."

On the Campus

Hart '12 and Newell '12 have been on the campus recently.

There was a record attendance at the annual elections last week.

McElwée '16, Eaton '15, Woodcock, Medic '15, and Twaddle, Medic '16, have been playing for the Maine Centrals of Portland.

Most of the fraternities held their Seniors' last supper the first of last week, following the old custom afterwards of marching around the campus.

The Freshman Religious Committee is collecting old text books for the Association loan library. They will visit the dormitories tomorrow.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Bugle, may be obtained at 13 South Winthrop or at the Alpha Delta Phi house, still $1.50, according to latest bulletins.

Joseph E. Moore, Esq., '65, of Thomaston, a member of the Board of Overseers, has presented a polar bear skin rug to the gymnasium for the trophy room.

Brunswick High won a clear title to the championship of the Bowdoin Interscholastic League by defeating Cony High at Augusta Saturday by a score of 12 to 0.

Candidates for assistant football manager should see Manager Leigh today or tomorrow. Only one man has reported thus far. The members of the present Freshman class are eligible for this position.

The golf cup offered by President Hyde was played for June 9, 10 and 11. Trotter won the cup with a gross score of 83 and net score of 81, and Littlefield '16 was second with a gross score of 90 and a net score of 87.

The Freshman class approach the end of the year Ivy Eve by consigning the caps which have graced their crowns for a year to the flames of a big bonfire. A band, red fire, cheering, singing of Phi Chi, speeches, and the presence of the fair Ivy guests, combined to make this birth of a new custom a happy affair.

Among the many alumni who flocked back for Ivy were: Dr. Frank W. Spalding '72, Leon B. Leavitt '99, Willis E. Roberts '07, Kenneth Dresser ex '09, Irving L. Rich '99, Clinton N. Peters '10, William H. Sanborn '10, Harrison L. Robinson '11, Earl Baldwin Smith '11, Charles B. Havies '11, Ben W. Partridge '11, Oliver T. Sanborn '11, Philip W. Meserve '11, Burleigh C. Rodick '12, Harrison Chapman '12, Earle Russell '12, George F. Cressey '12, Harold P. Van- nah '12 and Joseph C. O'Neil '12.

With the Faculty

Prof. James L. McConaughy at Columbia University last week was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the result of work done there last year. In partial fulfillment of the requirements Prof. McConaughy has written a thesis entitled "The School Drama," which will be published by Teachers College of Columbia University as one of their Contributions to Education series. The volume contains 116 pages, including as an appendix "Palsgrave's Introduction to Acolastus." The book is now in process of binding.

Prof. Little will attend the meeting of the American Librarians Association at the Catskill Hotel in New York during Commencement week and then return to spend the remainder of the vacation in Brunswick.

Professor Moody and Professor Woodruff are to spend the vacation in Brunswick.

Prof. W. H. Davis leaves after July for a six weeks tour through Ireland, Wales and Cornwall.

Prof. J. S. Davis is to spend the latter part of the vacation in Pennsylvania.

Professors Ham and Mitchell are to spend the vacation in Brunswick.

Professor Hornell will spend ten days in Washington and the rest of the vacation in Indiana.

Professor Alvord will attend the Dartmouth Summer School of Mathematics.

Professor Wass is to spend the summer at Squirrel Island.

Professor McConaughy is to be married on June thirtieth. He will spend his vacation in Canada.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON

President Hyde took as his subject, “Liberty in Speech and Act,” and his text, “So speak ye and so do, as men that are to be judged by a law of liberty,” James ii, 12.

He said in part:

“Men are of two kinds: Slaves and freemen. The slave in morals is publicly professor of temperance, chastity, honesty. At the club he speaks of their violation with such levity and relish as show his professed virtue to be a thin film of insincerity over a seething mass of sensuality.

“The slave in business is driven by the lash of a desire to make money, regardless of how or out of whom it comes. The free business man aims to make the services and goods he offers a genuine benefit on fair terms to customers and consumers.

“The slave in politics, on the stump and in his platform, professes devotion to the people and the public good; and then in the secrecy of the club-room and the greater secrecy of committee-room and lobby, says and does things which show that office-holding for himself and legislative favors at public expense for the supporters and contributors to his party are the main things for which he really cares. The freeman in politics says the same thing to his constituents in public and to his associates and supporters in private, and does his utmost to enact and execute the policy professed.

“Our present National Administration is giving the country the finest example of simple and sincere speech, supported by consistent and persistent action, that we have seen in any department of public service since the military campaigns of Gen. Grant. We have to thank the progressives of both parties for this sorely needed emancipation.

“The root of this liberty which makes men simple, single-minded and sincere is religion; not the superficial religion of verbal profession, ritualistic form or sacerdotal magic; but the religion that walks humbly with God; measures words and deeds by the devoted character of Christ, and cultivates the spirit of service and good will."

CLASS POEM—E. O. BAKER

(ABSTRACT)

I idly turned the pages of a book,
And every while I looked away and through My window at the fresh new leaves upon
The elms and at the sunshine as it flashed Along the grass. Half listlessly I watched
The whole, until a figure came in sight;
Dark, tall, and solemnly it looked;
And walked with uneven step and from its mien
I knew that it would speak, so tossing by my book,
I ran with others to the place it stood
And waited till it pleased to speak.

"What have ye gained,
These last four years?
Come tell me, nor delay;
For you must up
And on your path
Ere yet another day.
The sun of youth
Has thus far shown,
Now it is past its height;
Give count and go
Each one alone
Through field or wood, or plain."

Then did I hear a voice and could not tell,
From whence it came, but it was sweet to hear,
"Nay not alone do you go forth,
But in a goodly band
For with you go glad memories
Throughout the untried land.
As for the gain—that you must count,
Oh wait till the time be ripe,
You are but ready, to go the way,
The time of the gain is not yet."

Let us be gone upon the mighty way,
And into the heart of the world that waits
Expectantly. And gladly let us go
While yet the song our mighty Mother sings
Re-echoes in our ears. Oh, there is much
To do: old creeds to break, new faiths to build,
Come forth! and give a hand for in thy gift
Shalt thou regain an hundred fold thy gift.
Let us on nor brook delay.

CLASS ORATION—P. H. DOUGLAS

(ABSTRACT)

"As we leave these halls, we go forth into a busy and a complex world. Insistent will be the demands upon sinew and strength, pocketbook and personality. There will be the call of caring for those who are dear, and in this we cannot fail. We must do a day's work for a day's pay, whether it will be in courtroom, office, or factory. We will probably be members of some church, and follow some political faith. All these duties are fundamental and must be performed efficiently and conscientiously if there is to be any real strength in our existence.

"But there is a deeper call, a greater responsibility that falls upon us as college men. We must remember that truth of which we so glibly speak, yet so seldom feel: the Brotherhood of Man. To regard the bootblack or low-browed mechanic as your friend, to sympathize with shopgirl and factory worker, is a quality of heart that we must have in order to live the larger life.
Humanity must speak to us with poignant voice in the street or from the stage, and we must be willing to give that most precious of all gifts—ourselves.

"Expressed in harsh money terms, we leave this college indebted to society over a thousand dollars for the training given us, and there is the inestimable debt for the privilege of association with noble professors who are giving their very lives for the youth of the land. The college years have been given to us as a stewardship, and the lines have fallen in pleasant places. We cannot repay in money, but what is asked of us is that we help someone else, that is the true tribute that we can lay at the feet of our beloved.

"It matters little what line of work we follow. This world is so big and its needs so extensive that there is room and to spare for publicist and painter, lawyer and laborer. The tools of life are before us; let us use them, not primarily for ourselves, but with a heart filled with love for man, keep true the end in mind, and labor for the common cause.

"Some of you may say, 'these are merely platitudes.' The age that considers these sentiments to be threadworn is an age from which all altruism has fled. It is a duty as old as the eternal hills yet as new as the green grass with which spring has arrayed our Mother Earth.

"The portcullis falls upon our college days. Other men will give their best on Whittier Field for the glory of old Bowdoin. Our achievements in debating and in scholarship will be soon forgotten; our chapters will know us only as names; even the maidens who are with us today will recover from the pain caused by parting and in a few months the music of house party or hop will find them smiling up into the faces of other youths. It may be a bitter cup to quaff, but it is a necessary one.

"Our faces should be towards the future, not the past. It is time to do a man's work in a man's world, and we are ready. God grant that we may see our duty and have strength enough to perform it. It is with a deep love for Bowdoin that we leave her gates; it is with a firm resolve to serve that we enter life. We are the modern knights, riding forth from castle walls to redress human wrongs.

"'On through the dawning humanity calls;
Life's not a dream in the clover;
On to the walls, on to the walls,
On to the walls, and over.'

OPENING ADDRESS—L. A. CROSBY
(ABSTRACT)

"Since our first arrival on the campus we have been learning our great lesson—sincerity from the lives of Bowdoin's great alumni, from the example of the noble men of Bowdoin's faculty, and from the atmosphere of the campus itself.

"Under such influences have we as undergraduates been trained to love sincerity. Today, the first requisite of any Bowdoin man is that he be himself and speak himself. On the athletic field he strives to win for the College, but still remembers that he is playing a game and that he is a Bowdoin gentleman. In the activities of our complex life, he works for higher places and better accomplishments, but forgets not that he is merely one of our three hundred. In his studies, though he wish for honors and prizes, he truly thinks of them as but adornments to the real structure of true culture. In his relations with the College and with his fellows, seeking only to judge each at his true worth, he lives sincerely democratic in his broad friendships, sincerely exclusive in his confidants, and always sincerely himself."

CLASS HISTORY—S. F. DOLE
(ABSTRACT)

"It is now nearly four years since, one bright September afternoon in 1909 a rather stocky, rusty looking lad was seen tagging three suit cases and a handbag up over the hill from the station. His inquiry if that was the way to the campus received the answer, 'Yes, who are you?'
Lifting his head the newcomer answered, 'I am
Phil Wood, and I come from Baw Hawbow.'
Thus was the arrival of 1913 first announced.

'Sophomore year the opening of College found us all back on time. It was that year that the last regular razoo was given by the Sophomore Class to Freshmen, not restrained and directed by the Student Council. Of course none of us can forget that wonderful New Gym rally, which took place that winter, and which resulted in the wonderful building which we dedicate tomorrow.

'The opening of Junior year found us at last upon our proper dignity, and above the petty struggles of class rivalry. As upper classmen we could fittingly give fatherly advice to the two lower classes, and, seeing their weaknesses and follies, bemoan the "good old days" when we were Freshmen. Two great events stand out above all others in Junior year. One was the first Junior field day ever held, the other was Ivy, which was acknowledged by all who were present as the most successful Junior Week ever celebrated.

"And so before we could realize it, we were back again last fall, Seniors. This last year has passed all too quickly. It has been so full of important events that only a few can be even mentioned. Of course 1913 points with pride to the fact that, under the direction of this year's Student Council, chosen by men of our class, the blanket tax was so successfully inaugurated last fall. We believe it a pardonable pride that we point to ourselves as the first class to adopt the Senior canes.

"So also were we pleased when Major Slocum on his way over to the Interclass Meet gathered in the first 12 Seniors he met on the campus and, taking them along with him, won the interclass drill, despite the long practice the other class squads had gone through. And a second event which pleased us was when every member of the class answered the call to arms, and gathering in Memorial Hall before competent judges sang the songs of our College as they had never before been sung and, as a result, won the Snow Song Cup.

"But amidst all these victories and festive occasions, the class, as well as the rest of the entire College, received a shock like lightning when our beloved professor, Henry L. Chapman, passed on to another world on February 24.

"Thus, classmates and friends, we have come to our Commencement time, having gone through four of the best years of our life together. Having started with 93 members, we now number 76. In our midst we find a varied crew, all types being represented. Among our number can be found one Rhodes scholar, several journalists, three politicians, two atheists, and one anarchist. Within our ranks we find that we have 14 men who have represented the College on the dramatic clubs, 13 men who have been on the musical clubs, five men who have been on the varsity debating teams, two men of the varsity tennis, five men who have won the coveted baseball B, six who have upheld Bowdoin's honor on the track, and last but not least, ten men who while belonging to this class, seven of whom are still with us today, have won their letters on the gridiron.

Thus have we spent our years in College. Our studies have played a most important part, otherwise we would not be here this afternoon. And the path has not been entirely strewn with roses, we have had to take the bitter with the sweet. Soon we pass out into the larger world, never again to be carefree boys. But we will never forget the friendships we have formed here, or cease to love and cherish our dear Alma Mater.

PARTING ADDRESS—J. E. DUNPHY

(ABSTRACT)

"Fellow Classmates:

"Four years ago we came here with the common purpose to acquire knowledge. We came as individuals and as strangers, and now we are about to leave again as individuals, but not as strangers. For during our four years here, by our struggles on the athletic field, by our friendly rivalry in the class room, by the hours of pleasure and relaxation, we have been welded together. Loyalty to College and Class has been a notable characteristic of the members of 1913. There have been no dissentions among us. The unity of brotherhood pervades our ranks.

"It is but natural that, at the thought of leaving our dear Alma Mater and our devoted friends, the feeling of sadness should be uppermost in our minds. But mingled with our sorrow, is a feeling of hope for the future and eagerness to tackle what it has in store for us. This is not the end but the beginning of our journey, for which these years have been a preparation. We go with enthusiasm to meet our new tasks. Up to now we have been mere lookers-on at the game of life. We have sat back in the grandstand and watched while others played the game. It is now time to become players in the game, to do a man's work in the world.

"In preparation for the struggle we have received that great gift of the Bowdoin spirit. It has been the impelling force in our undergraduate life, to give to each of our tasks the best there is in us. It is this Bowdoin spirit, the giving of the best, which in the past has inspired her soldiers to deeds of heroism and valor, her explorers to fight on against insurmountable obstacles, her statesmen and lawyers to fight for the cause of justice and good government against all the insidious forces of bribery and corruption, her poets and authors to wield their pens for the uplifting of mankind, and her doctors and ministers to give up their lives gladly for the sake of humanity. This spirit is the great gift of Bowdoin to her sons. To give anything less than our best is to be false to our friends, to our Alma Mater, to our Creator. Let us ever keep it alive in our hearts. May it ever be our guide in times of stress and strain, and also in the calmer moments of life. So that at the final parting the world may say: 'He gave his best, more than that cannot be given.'"

COMMENCEMENT HOP

The Commencement Hop was held in the New Gymnasium at 9.00 p.m. The hall was very tastefully decorated for the occasion. Green and white serpentine confetti was suspended from all sides of the auditorium to the center, making nearly a complete ceiling of color. Around the lights were tastefully arranged Japanese lanterns, while various other effects were introduced. The dance orders were very effective. The covers were of metal, gold plated and decorated very simply with the Bowdoin Seal. The order consisted of 26 dances and music was furnished by Chandler's orchestra of twenty pieces.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, Mrs. William A. Moody, Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. Frank N. Whittier, Mrs. Wilmot B. Mitchell, Mrs. Roscoe J. Ham, Mrs. Paul Nixon and Mrs. William H. Davis, all of Brunswick, and Mrs. George C. Riggs and Miss Nora Smith of Hollis.

The committee in charge was as follows: Leon Everett Jones, chairman, Paul Chapman Savage, George Lincoln Skoffield, Theodore Evans Emery and Sumner Tucker Pike.

ALUMNI AND VARSITY GAME

For the first time in several years the Varsity baseball team met an alumni team in a game during Commencement week. The undergraduate team was the State champions' line-up with the exception of the shortstop position. Daniels filled this position. The final score was 12 to 6. Seven innings were played. To the surprise of the fans, both Means and Woodcock proved easy for the Varsity batters and were replaced by Hobbs and Files, who did better work. The fielding was loose.

Phi Beta Kappa

The following men were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa at the annual meeting Wednesday noon:

From 1913: Edward Oliver Baker, Paul Howard
Douglas, Leon Everett Jones, James Augustus
Norton, Clifton Orville Page.

From 1914: Alfred Everett Gray, Maurice Wingate Hamblen, Robert Devore Leigh, Richard Earle Simpson, Neal Tuttle.

The officers of the Alpha Chapter elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, General Thomas H. Hubbard, LL.D., of New York;
Vice-President, Professor Frank E. Woodruff,
A.M., of Brunswick; Secretary-Treasurer, Professor George T. Files, Ph.D., of Brunswick; Literary Committee, Professor K. C. M. Sills,
A.M., of Brunswick, chairman; President Samuel
V. Cole of Norton, Mass., Rev. Charles H. Cutler, D.D., of Andover, Mass., Henry S. Chapman of Boston, Professor Stanley P. Chase, Ph.D., of Cambridge.

The following were elected delegates to the triennial council to be held in New York in September: Professor Henry Crosby Emery, Ph.D.,
LL.D., of Yale University, Professor William W.
Lawrence, Ph.D., of Columbia University, and Professor Kenneth C. M. Sills, A.M., of Bow-doin College.

In addition to five members of the class of 1913 and four members of the class of 1914, Dr. Fred P. Webster of the class of 1910 was initiated into the fraternity.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW GYMNASIUM

The dedication exercises were held in the main exercising room of the Gymnasium, the speakers delivering their addresses from the trophy room.
President Hyde first introduced Franklin Conant
Payson of Portland who spoke on behalf of the Building Committee. He paid tribute to Dr.
Whittier, Dudley A. Sargent, John S. Hyde,
President Hyde and others.

Mr. Charles Collens, of the firm of Allen & Collens, architects for the Gymnasium, was the next speaker. He took for his subject “Architectural Reminiscences” and traced in a most plea-asing manner, the troubles of an architect in forming the plans of such a building and especially the problems which this particular building presented.

Hon. John Sedgwick Hyde followed with a brief appropriate speech on the spirit of the gift and physical training.

Mr. Edward Stanwood '61 was taken sick and was unable to deliver his address on General
Thomas W. Hyde, but his paper was read by Hon.
Lucilius Alonzo Emery of Ellsworth. Mr. Stan-wood was a classmate of Gen. Hyde's and his paper was enlivened with many personal anecdotes.

Dudley A. Sargent '87 next spoke on "A Brief Review of Physical Education in America."

The last speaker of the afternoon was Dr.
Whittier. He outlined the course of physical training as pursued in the big athletic plant and concluded as follows:

"At the end of senior year you go out into the world, possessed of sound scholarship and fine physique, carrying loyalty to the old College and cherishing memories of physical training, typified by the emblem of the White Banner and the mascot of Polar Bear. The banner stands for the new era of fairness and gentlemanly conduct in college sport; the polar bear stands for the last word in the expression of Bowdoin spirit, of rugged resistance, when necessary, to the forces of man and nature.

"May these buildings do their part in maintaining that Bowdoin spirit which enabled Admiral Peary to achieve the Pole and General Chamberlain to hurl back the rebel charges at Little Round Top and save the day at Gettysburg."

Doctor Whittier's address concluded the exercises that marked the formal dedication. Many of the graduates took this opportunity of inspecting the buildings for which they had subscribed, but which they had not heretofore had the privilege of seeing.

As a fitting symbol of the dedication, the new trophy cases, to hold cups, souvenir footballs and baseballs of contests won by Bowdoin, together with other trophies, have just been placed in position, supplanting the old and small sized cases.
A large polar bear skin, the gift of Joseph E.
Moore, Esq., '05, of Thomaston, symbolic of the Bowdoin polar bear, had been placed in the trophy room, expressing at once the success that one of Bowdoin's sons has met in the far north, and the past and present successes that Bowdoin herself has met on the field, together with future victories for which to work.

MERCHANT OF VENICE

The Masque and Gown gave the Merchant of Venice on the steps of the Walker Art Building at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. This year's production was the most ambitious and successful performance the players have yet achieved.
The play was coached and directed by Mrs. Arthur F.
Brown of Brunswick, who has had charge of the Bowdoin productions for the past two years.
Much of the artistic and dramatic excellence of the presentation was due to her efforts.

The cast was as follows:

Shylock, a Jew ......... Cedric R. Crowell '13
Duke of Venice ......... Leon E. Jones '13
Antonio, a merchant of Venice

Paul H. Douglas '13

Bassanio, a suitor to Portia Edward O. Baker '13
Salanio, his friend ......... Robert D. Leigh '14
Salarino, his friend ......... Francis X. Callahan '14
Gratiano, his friend ......... Chester G. Abbott '14

Lorenzo, his friend ......... Clifton O. Page '13
Launcelot Gobbo ......... Winthrop S. Greene '13
Old Gobbo, his father ......... Stewart P. Morrill '16
Balthazar, servant to Portia .... Alden F. Head '16
Stephano ......... Walter F. Eberhardt '13
Clerk of the Court ......... Don J. Edwards '16
Portia, a rich heiress ... W. Fletcher Twombly '13
Nerissa, her waiting maid

William T. Livingston '15

Cedric Crowell, President of the Club, who has previously in college played many leading roles successfully, scored a distinct triumph in the leading part of Shylock. His interpretation of the part was similar to that of Otis Skinner and he portrayed the Jew as justifiable in his desire for revenge. He rose superbly to the demands of the trial scene and throughout the play did a fine piece of acting. Baker as Bassanio, Twombly as Portia, and Douglas as Antonio, did excellent work. The cast was well rounded and the minor parts adequate.

The total effect of the production was that of artistic dignity and reserve rather than intense dramatic action. This manner of presentation is to some degree an influence from the Sothern-Marlowe production, but with the open air scenaery and broad stage there were some excellent departures from the usual effects in professional productions, such as the end of the first act. The exigencies of time and the outdoor stage made necessary a number of alterations in the arrangement and sequence of scenes.

THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

The President's Reception was held from 8.00 to 11.00 in the Alumni Room, Hubbard Hall, Wednesday evening. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. William DeWitt Hyde, Professor and Mrs. William A. Moody, and Professor and Mrs. Wilmot B. Mitchell. The ushers were the following Brunswick boys: Noel Little, Robert Little, Philip Weatherill, Darwin Tuttle and Robert Stetson.

MEDICAL SCHOOL GRADUATION

The Commencement exercises of the Medical School of Maine were held in the Congregational Church at 9.30 Wednesday morning. President Hyde conducted the program. The address to the graduates was made by Hon. Albert R. Savage of Auburn, chief justice of the Maine Supreme Court. His subject was "Some Sore Points in Our Political System." The following men received the M.D. degree: Harold Carleton

COMMENCEMENT DINNER
The last event of the Commencement week was the Commencement Dinner held in the Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building after the commencement exercises. President Hyde presided and began the post prandial exercises by unveiling a portrait of the late Professor Chapman which a group of his friends has presented to the College. The painting is by Joseph B. Cahill of Portland. President Hyde announced the establishment of the Chapman Professorship.

The Snow Reunion cup, awarded annually to the class obtaining the largest percentage of attendance, was won by the Class of 1888, with an attendance of 19 out of 23 members. The President also announced the outcome of the Friar Cup contest.

Reviewing the contributions for the year, he made the pleasing announcement that the contributions which usually average $75,000 annually were this year $145,000, nearly double the average.

Among the speakers were Governor William T. Haines, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Rev. Newman Smith, D.D., who spoke for the Class of 1863; Dean Walz of the University of Maine, Rev. Theodore Busfield of No. Adams, Mass., Professor Carmichael of Boston and George H. Stone of New York, responding for the Class of 1903.

There were 540 alumni in attendance at the closing exercises. Of that number the Class of 1903 had 50 men present. The members of this class were distinguished with hatbands with their class colors, red and white.

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING
The annual meeting of the State Historical Society was held in Hubbard Hall, Tuesday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President, Hon. James Phinney Baxter of Portland; Vice-President, Professor George T. Little of Brunswick; Treasurer, Fritz H. Jordan of Portland; Corresponding Secretary and Biographer, William D. Patterson of Wiscasset; Librarian and Curator, Nathan Gould of Portland; Recording Secretary, Hubbard W. Bryant of Portland; Standing Committee, Dr. Henry S. Burage of Portland, Frederick O. Conant of Portland, Henry Deering of Portland, George A. Emery of Saco, Prentice C. Manning of Portland, Augustus F. Moulton of Portland, Asbury C. Stilphen of Gardiner, Albert R. Stubbs of Portland and Joseph E. Moore of Thomaston.

The report submitted by Librarian Nathan Gould showed that there are 44,000 books in the library, 1024 of which have been added during the past year. There were sixteen members present. A number of new members were elected.

TRUSTEES AND OVERSEEERS MEETINGS
There were a number of important matters decided upon at the meetings of the Boards held during the Commencement week.

The resignation of Ira P. Booker as Treasurer of the College was accepted and Samuel B. Furbish was elected to the position, his term of office to date from the time when Mr. Booker has fully arranged matters for his successors.

The Henry Leland Chapman professorship of English Literature was established "as a perpetual memorial of the beauty and nobility of the character of the late Professor Henry Leland Chapman and of the life and brilliant talent and unselfish labor which he devoted to the College." George R. Elliott, Ph.D., was elected to the chair for three years.

The salaries of the instructors were fixed for the coming year, while the following new instructors were appointed:
Henry William Miller, M.D., was elected professor of Mental Diseases for three years; Henry D. Evans, A.B., was elected professor of Public Hygiene for three years; Henry Marshall Smith, A.B., M.D., was elected professor of Neurology for three years; Mr. A. F. Bruce Clark was elected instructor of modern languages for one year, to take the place of Professor Frederick W. Brown, on leave of absence; Mr. Lee D. McClean was elected instructor in Economics and Sociology for one year, to take the place of Joseph S. Davis who goes to Harvard next fall.

It was voted that the College accept the gift of $50,000 from Hon. David R. Stewart, A.M., called the "Levi M. Stewart Fund."

It was voted that the College accept the gift of $6,000 from Mrs. Georgianna Butterworth Gannett, late of Needham, Mass., said sum to be known as the "Gannett Fund."

Hon. John S. Hyde of Bath and John Clair Minot '96 were elected to the Board of Overseers to fill the vacancies caused by death.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

At the meeting of the Alumni Association in the Old Gymnasium Wednesday noon the following alumni members of the Athletic Council were elected:

Franklin C. Payson '76, of Portland; Charles T. Hawes '76, of Bangor; Barrett Potter '78, of Brunswick; George C. Purington '04, of Boston; Donald C. White '05, of Lewiston.

The following committee was elected to nominate 24 members of the alumni council to be voted for next Commencement, the council to consist of twelve members: Arthur G. Staples '82, of Auburn; Leon V. Walker '03, of Portland; Francis C. Peaks '96, of Dover; Ralph T. Parker '95, of Rumford; Gerald G. Wilder '04, of Brunswick.

President Payson of the Alumni Association was instructed to appoint a committee of three to consider the suggestion of Harold H. Burton '09 that the method of electing Overseers for the College be so changed as to always have on the Board two members who have been out of college less than ten years, their terms to expire on the tenth anniversary of their graduation.

The following committee on Overseers' nominations was elected: John Williams Manson '81, of Pittsfield; Henry S. Chapman '91, of Boston; James E. Rhodes '97, of Hartford, Conn.

The following committee was chosen to award the Pray English Prize: Daniel A. Robinson '76, of Bangor; Charles T. Hawes '76, of Bangor; Louis C. Hatch '95, of Bangor.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

George Roy Elliott, Ph.D., was elected Professor of English Literature. Dr. Elliott is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Jena in 1908. For the past five years he has been instructor in English at the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. J. W. Cunliffe, Professor of English in the School of Journalism at Columbia University, formerly professor in the University of Wisconsin, writes of him "As a teacher of literature to undergraduates, Dr. Elliott is the best young fellow I can call to mind, and I know most of them, both in the East and in the Middle West."

Mr. Lee D. McClean was elected instructor in Economics and Sociology for one year. Mr. McClean has passed his examinations for the degree of Ph.D. at Yale University, where he has taken high rank as a graduate student of economics and sociology.

Alexander Frederick Bruce Clark, A.M., was elected instructor in Modern Languages for one year to take the place of Professor Frederick W. Brown, who is on leave of absence. Mr. Clark received the degree of A.B. from the University of Toronto in 1906, and the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1911. He has spent two years in graduate study at Harvard: one year of graduate study in Paris; was instructor in modern languages for four years in the University of Toronto; and comes with the highest commendation from both Harvard and Toronto.

ALUMNI REUNIONS

The members of the Class of 1873 were entertained Wednesday by Mrs. Franklin C. Robinson whose husband, the late Professor F. C. Robinson, was a member of that class. Mrs. Robinson gave a tea in their honor at her residence on Maine street. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Clement F. Robinson of Portland; Miss Lida Baker of Boston and Miss Ethel Jones of Portland assisted in entertaining. Members of the Class of 1875 enjoyed a class breakfast at the Hotel Eagle and a large attendance was present.

The classes of 1898, 1901 and 1903 held their reunions at Gurnet Wednesday evening. The Class of 1903 had nearly 45 members present. At a class meeting Leon C. Walker of Portland was re-elected president and Donald F. MacCormick of South Framingham, secretary-treasurer. The president was instructed to appoint a committee to prepare for a reunion five years from today. The class voted to present its decennial fund amounting to $2,500 to the college to be used as a scholarship.

A very interesting class history was read by Dr. Francis K. Welch of Portland in which he showed that out of the 63 graduates, 43 were married.

The classes of '98 and '03 played a game of baseball. '98 winning 16-13. Donald MacMillan of North Pole fame was president of the '98 reunion and was given a rousing send-off by his classmates when he left in the evening on the start of his journey to New York, from which place he will sail for Crocker Land on an exploring expedition.
The College Year

The year just ended has been one of distinct success in many lines. In nearly every branch of undergraduate activity there has been a spirit of healthy cooperation and desire for improvement. In athletics, while Bowdoin has annexed but a single championship, the basis of excellent teams for next year is to be found among the undergraduates left in College. In debating and oratory a very creditable showing was made, worthy of Bowdoin’s past and present. In dramatics there has been a distinct advance. The two productions of the Masque and Gown were a great credit to the College. The club itself was reorganized with a view to making it a more active and definite organization. The Musical Clubs had a very successful season and for the first time gave a concert in New York City. The Departmental Clubs are in a flourishing condition. The Government Club had an unusually large membership. In the general administration of student affairs by the Student Council and the Board of Managers there has been an unusual amount of ability displayed. The Blanket Tax is safely on its feet and a number of salutary changes in student life have been accomplished. For the College as a whole this year has seen the completion of the New Gymnasium and Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building. This addition to our campus equipment bids fair to open a new era in Bowdoin Athletics and physical training and, incidentally, provides an excellent hall for class and college dances. The death of Professor Chapman has been a deep loss to everyone connected with the College and community. His memory is to be perpetuated in a very appropriate manner and extended to those in future years who have not felt the indelible impression of his personality and character. Between faculty and students, both in and out of the classroom, there have been very harmonious and helpful relations. It has been a good year for Bowdoin. It has been a year full of hopes and one which leads us to look forward to a better, brighter future.

FRIAR CUP RESULTS

TRACK NEWS

Manager Koughan of the Track Team announces that an interested alumnus has offered a cup worth $35.00 to be given next fall to the winners of an interclass cross-country race in which all four classes will take part. There has been arranged a dual cross-country race with Massachusetts Institute of Technology to be held in the fall. These two contests make imperative the need for a large sized cross-country squad at the beginning of college in September.

PRIZE SONG CONTEST

With regret the Committee announce that the second trial has ended like the first with no award of the prize. The competitors were only four in number, and the character of the songs was the same as in the first trial. A much more general participation in this contest is desired, and it is hoped that the vacation season will bring leisure and inspiration for further efforts, and that some song may yet come to birth which will be worthy to live on the lips of undergraduates and alumni and will be accepted by them as a fit expression of Bowdoin spirit and ideals. Because this hope is still cherished the contest will be continued until November first. All songs offered in competition should be in the hands of Mr. Edward H. Wass on or before that date. May some fortunate hand reach high enough to grasp the prize.

On the Campus

The following men have been chosen for the course in English 9-10 for next year: Elwyn C. Gage '14, Alfred E. Gray '14, Leonard H. Gibson '14, Richard E. Simpson '14, Paul L. White '14 and Robert P. Coffin '15.

C. Brown '14, Simpson '14, Merrill '14, McCormick '15 and Foster '16 attended the Northfield Conference this year.

Football practice will begin September 15th.

Blanket tax dates this fall are Sept. 26, 27, 28.

The Hon. Harry Clifton Fabyan '93 of Boston was marshal of the Commencement procession.

The pipe used by the Seniors in the Pipe of Peace ceremony was unique. It was a beautifully carved production of black meerschaum and amber. On each side of the bowl, in raised figures were the numerals 1913, the 19 being on one side and the 13 on the other. On the front of the bowl was a B, also raised. The stem is of cloudy amber and on it about six inches from the bowl is carved the Bowdoin Seal. This pipe is the gift of a man much interested in the class and will be kept as a Class Pipe.

Resolutions

As members of the Class of 1903, we wish to give public expression to the deep feeling of love and veneration with which we regard the memory of Henry Leland Chapman, and our sense of personal and individual loss in his death. More and more do we realize how greatly he led us to an appreciation of all that is true and noble in literature, and through the sweet power of his personality illustrated for us the higher and nobler qualities in life. At this time when we are deprived of his sympathetic understanding, but when the assembled alumni are accustomed to experience the inspiration of his presence, we believe no higher tribute can be paid to the influence of his life than is expressed by the ode of his beloved Longfellow at the grave of another of Bowdoin's teachers, an ode hallowed in memory for us by the voice of our teacher and friend:

"Among the many lives that I have known,
None I remember more serene and sweet,
More rounded in itself and more complete,
Than his, who lies beneath this funeral stone.
These pines, that murmur in low monotone,
These walks frequented by scholastic feet,
Were all his world; but in this calm retreat
For him the teacher's chair became a throne.
With fond affection memory loves to dwell
On the old days, when his example made
A pastime of the toil of tongue and pen;
And now, amid the groves he loved so well
That naught could lure him from their grateful shade,
He sleeps, but wakes elsewhere, for God hath said, Amen!"

Alumni Department

'98.—Donald B. MacMillan, Peary's former aide, is to start from New York in July at the head of a party whose purpose is to discover and explore the hypothetical arctic continent, known as Crocker Land. The most important feature of the expedition will be the experimenting in wireless telegraphy, from which far-reaching results are expected.

'02.—Dr. Harry Joseph Hunt, of Island Falls, Me., has been selected as surgeon for the MacMillan expedition. He graduated from the Medical School of Maine in 1905.

'04.—Rev. John F. Schneider, of Danville, Vt., has received a call to the Old South Church, of Windsor, Vt.

'06.—Dr. Charles C. Knowlton has decided to locate and practice his profession in his home.

'09.—William M. Harris, principal in the Goodwill Farm High School, was the unanimous choice of the trustees for president of Westbrook Seminary. He was highly recommended by President Hyde and by State Superintendent of Schools Payson Smith.

'10.—A reasonably complete report of the Class has for a second time been published by the secretary, Harold E. Rowell. The report shows thirty-nine members engaged in business, sixteen in post-graduate work, and seventeen in teaching. Robert Hale's interesting letter describing his impressions of Oxford appears in the work. There is also the report of the treasurer.
the close of the first half when Quarterback Brackett sent his men around the ends and through the line for gain after gain until the 20-yard line was reached. Here progress was slower, but steady work brought the ball to the four-yard line and first down. New Hampshire made one on the next down and time was up for the half.

In the second quarter, after Weatherill and Foster had made eight yards, Lew Brown skirted his own right end for a touchdown. Mountfort kicked the goal.

Bowdoin's second touchdown came in the third quarter. Bowdoin carried the ball within ten yards of New Hampshire's goal, but the New Hampshire line tightened and held, Bowdoin losing the ball on downs. After three unsuccessful attempts at bucking the line, New Hampshire punted, but Brewster blocked the kick and Beal fell on the ball back of the line. LaCasce kicked the goal.

With only a minute left to play in the last period, Bowdoin had the ball on New Hampshire's 30-yard line. Coach McCann sent Floyd in to replace LaCasce. Two line plays netted eight yards and Floyd drew back for a drop kick, just sending the ball over the bar. Time was up immediately after the kick.

Captain Bob Weatherill played a good game for Bowdoin, always furnishing his distance when called upon. Foster gained ground consistently, and LaCasce, although he was not called upon as often on account of an injured leg, was good for substantial ground. Leadbetter was shifted from tackle to end during three periods of the game, playing his old position of tackle during the third quarter.

New Hampshire punted but twice during the game, attempting a forward pass once in the middle of the field on a fourth down, but a poor throw gave Bowdoin the ball. Bowdoin was not forced to punt once.

RECEPTION FOR 1917 MEN
The Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception for the entering class Thursday evening in Hubbard Hall. The Bowdoin handbooks, or "Freshman Bibles," were given to those present. The books this year have many improvements in make-up and contents which reflect great credit on the editor, Arthur S. Merrill '14. The program of the evening was as follows:
The Chairman..................C. A. Brown ’14
The College...................Pres. W. D. Hyde
The Churches..................Rev. E. D. Johnson
The Alumni....................J. C. Minot ’96
Athletics......................J. Magee
Football.......................Coach McCann
Associated Students...........R. D. Leigh ’14
The Y. M. C. A................Mr. J. L. McConaughy

After the speeches there were cheers and the singing of Bowdoin songs while refreshments of ice-cream, cakes and punch were being served.

THE BLANKET TAX
The Blanket Tax this year proved itself a decided success when practically every man in college either paid or asked for an extension of time. The collection was made by the Board of Managers on Thursday, Friday and Saturday and the sum of $2267.50 was collected. Two hundred eighty-eight men paid the tax for the first semester, nine men for the whole year, and fifty men applied for extension. The results are very gratifying to those who have worked for the success of the Blanket Tax, for the actions of the student body seem to assure the future success of the tax and the activities which it supports. The appropriations for the various activities are given in another column.

BOWDOIN MEETS WESLEYAN
Bowdoin meets Wesleyan at Middletown Saturday. Plenty of hard work this week will doubtless be the lot of the candidates and by Saturday afternoon, a well-groomed eleven should attempt to retrieve the seven to six defeat of last fall.

No injuries were suffered from last Saturday's game, and although no statement has been given out thus early in the game, it is thought that the lineup will be practically the same as that of last Saturday. "King" Pratt and "Brosie" Burns, both veterans, did not get into the New Hampshire game, but it is probable that both will be used against Wesleyan. Burns, who returns to college after a year's absence, plays guard, and Pratt plays the same position. Brewster and Moulton, who played guards Saturday, presented a strong defense, and opened up wide holes for the Bowdoin backs.

Lew Brown is able to fill "Chuck" Crosby's shoes at quarter in a manner pleasing to the most ardent Bowdoin man. For the backfield, it is hard to make a distinction between the men who played Saturday. The loss of Harry Faulkner is felt severely.

Following the game with Wesleyan, Bowdoin plays Trinity at Brunswick, the game having been transferred here from Portland. Hudson, the giant fullback, whom Bowdoin men will remember as a star in the dual meet last spring, is captain of the Trinity team.

THE CHAPEL PANEL
"The Isaiah of Michael Angelo," which we saw being painted last spring by Miss Edna Merritt, is at last placed on one of the vacant panels in the Chapel. It is the gift of Dr. Frederick H. Gerrish of Portland in memory of the late Professor Henry Leland Chapman.

Campus Optimism

The opening of the college year with its handshakes and “had a good summer?” effusive welcoming and sheltering of freshmen is always a pleasant and enthusiastic period of the year, but the few first days just passed have seemed to be of a nature which augurs well for the coming months. There has seemed to be existent in the spirit of the campus an optimism and contagious enthusiasm which before has been not so evident. The excellent turnout for football, the systematic and evidently successful manner in which the two midgets, Coach MCann and Trainer Magee, have conducted the practice, the inspiration to the squad given by Capt. Weatherill, always the hardest working man on the field, have all contributed to cause this. The large entering class and improvements to the buildings have had their share in producing this atmosphere. So far so good. Let the good work go on. Sooner or later will come the moments of discouragement when the tendency will be strong to criticise and quit. As a student body upholding the traditions of a grand old college we must so fortify ourselves with good fellowship, sympathy and loyalty that when the temptations come, the hammer will be found buried and we will stay true to our trust as Bowdoin undergraduates.

John Magee, Trainer

It was a great pleasure to the student body to welcome, on their return to college, the new athletic trainer, John Magee. From the manner in which the football team has been whipped into physical condition early in the season and the way in which the cross-country squad has been handled it is safe to predict that he is just the man the student body has so long expressed a desire to have with us and the athletic council should be thanked for their choice. It seems to the Orient that such a step as the official recognition of athletics and the partial payment for the services of a man to keep our athletes in good physical condition is a wise move. It brings back the emphasis to the development of the individual physically and has a tendency to bring out more prominently, athletics for the good it does one than for the sake of victory. Mr. Magee believes thoroughly in athletic training for its own sake and for every man in college. He fits into our system very nicely and with him and our now almost perfect athletic equipment we look to our future in this branch of student activity with high hopes.

MEETING FOR FRESHMEN

This evening at a quarter of eight a meeting for Freshmen will be held in the Debating Room, Hubbard Hall. The purpose of this meeting is to explain the various undergraduate activities and how the first year man may get into them. The program will be as follows:

BIBLE STUDY BEGINS

On next Thursday evening at 7.30 the Y. M. C. A. will begin its Bible study work with a meeting in their room in King Chapel. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Argley B. Parson of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston. He will take as his subject "The Influence of the Bible on Modern Life." Mr. Parson is a Harvard '03 man. He studied at the University of Michigan and George Washington University and at Union Seminary. As Secretary of the International Y. M. C. A. Committee he visited the Maine colleges in 1905 and came again in 1910 with Mr. Mercer.

The courses this year will be a course for upperclassmen on "The Manhood of the Master" and one for Freshmen on "The Freshman's Problems." The classes will be held every Sunday under student leaders.

GYMNASIUM DEDICATION BULLETIN

A very interesting pamphlet has been issued by the college as one of the Bowdoin bulletins. It is a complete record of the exercises at the dedication of the Gymnasium and the General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building, last June. It contains the speeches of Mr. Payson, Charles Collens, John S. Hyde, President Hyde, Edward Stanwood, Dr. Sargent and Dr. Whittier, all of which will be remembered as eloquent and inspiring. The booklet is well illustrated with half tones of the speakers and photographs of the new athletic plant.

The Library Table

There has been recently issued by D. C. Heath and Son a neat little addition to the collection of books of the "Elder Brother" type, giving advice to students entering college. This particular volume was compiled by Francis Cummins Lockwood, Professor of English Literature at Allegheny College and contains articles from the pen of President Hyde, President David Starr Jordan, President Eliot, President Meiklejohn, and President Hibben, as well as reprints of such standard didactic articles as "The Description of a Gentleman" by Cardinal Newman. There are two articles by President Hyde. One is entitled An Address to Freshmen and deals with the problems of choice and attitudes that the entering classmen have to decide. The other is entitled A Poisonous Phrase and was delivered by him at Sunday chapel service last winter at Bowdoin. From cover to cover the book is filled with practical suggestions to all undergraduates both seniors and freshmen and leads also to considerations of a deep moral and ethical nature. Aside from the two selections by President Hyde which are very applicable to conditions here there is a short article by President Jordan entitled The After Self which every young man should read if he has not yet done so, or heard Dr. Jordan deliver the thought in the form of a speech. This volume should serve as valuable "outside reading" book to supplement the Y.M.C.A. Handbook in the inevitable Freshman course of getting accustomed to the new environment.

Club and Council Meetings

The Athletic Council met last Friday, Sept. 26th, and several important matters were discussed. With the approval of the Faculty, three games of baseball, instead of two, will be played with each Maine college, provided such an arrangement does not interfere with the other State games. A cross-country race, to come off Oct. 18th, has been arranged between the Freshman class and Maine Central Institute. Dr. Copeland, (chairman), Dr. Little and Dr. Whittier were appointed a committee to select a cut of a polar bear as Bowdoin's Athletic symbol. It was also decided that in the future there will be a standard letter for each sport, and that a certificate will be given with each letter.

At a meeting of the new and old boards of managers held in Hubbard Hall on June 18, 1913, the following officers were elected: Secretary, E. R. Elwell; Asst. Treasurer, A. H. MacCormick. Appropriations for the season of 1913-1914 were made as follows:

- Football ........................................ $1500
- Baseball ....................................... 1000
- Track ........................................... 1000
- Tennis .......................................... 160
- Bowdoin Pub. Co. .............................. 100
- Debating Council .............................. 150
- Fencing ........................................ 75
- Y. M. C. A. .................................... 175
- Band ............................................. 110
- Student Council ............................ 75

Total .......................................... $4345

*$100 more to be appropriated later if needed and if available (if Fencing does not qualify to play in the finals in New York).

†With $75 more if the team qualifies to play in the finals in New York.

A meeting of the Maine Intercollegiate Baseball Managers was held last Saturday in Waterville. The following officers were elected:—O'Connell of Bates, President; Elwell of Bowdoin, Vice-President; Carpenter of Colby, Secretary; Goodwin of Maine, Treasurer. It was proposed to have a baseball schedule of three games with each Maine college. Bates, Colby and Bow-doin were in favor, and Maine was opposed. The measure did not go through. Other matters of schedule were discussed.

At a meeting of the Press Club at the Psi Upsilon House Thursday afternoon, D. K. Merrill '15 was elected chairman and Thomas H. Riley, Jr., '33 was chosen secretary and treasurer. The members are: Lippincott '10, Eaton '14, Merrill '15, MacCormick '15, Lord '16, Sawayard '16, Burleigh '17 and Flynn '17. The papers represented are: Boston Globe, Portland Evening Express-Advertiser, Portland Sunday Telegram, Kennebec Journal, Boston Post, Bangor News, Bangor Commercial, Portland Eastern Argus, Lewiston Sun, Lewiston Journal, Christian Science Monitor, and Bowdoin Orient. The headquarters of the club are in North Appleton. At the first meeting, Norton '13, secretary and treasurer last year, addressed the members.

On the Campus

Welcome, 1917.

McKinnon '15 is "ye bell ringer" for the present.

Official millinery for the freshmen is still unchanged in style.

Boutwell ex-'16 and Bancroft ex-'16 have returned to college this fall.

Verrill '15 is announcer for the press representatives at the football games.

George '16 was operated on for appendicitis at his home in Thomaston September 20.

"Brosie" Burns ex-'13 has returned to college after a year's absence and is out for football.

The candidates for assistant manager of football are: Littlefield, Garland, Kelley, Noble, Crossman, all 1916.

Eaton '14 will not return until November 1. During his absence, Thompson '14 is acting proctor in South Winthrop.

A large cross-country squad is out daily under Coach Magee. Capt. Tarbox has not yet returned to college, but is expected soon.

For the first time in the history of the college, all the rooms in the dormitories have been signed in, but a number are occupied by only one man.

Among the men who did not return to college are: Jim Parsons '16, Lull '16, Clark '16, Poore '16, Hayward '16, Hazeltine '16 and Faulkner '15.

The following men are out for the Orient Board:—Morrill '16, and Dalrymple, Philbrick, Cormack, King, Blanchard, Stone, Crehore and Brown, all 1917.

Among the alumni who have been on the campus during the past few days are: Partridge '11, Miller '13, Cushing '13, Dole '13, Smith '12, Murtrie '13, Norton '13, Douglas '13, Morrill '10, Bridgham '04, Donnell '05 and White '05.

The fraternity stewards for the present year are as follows:—Alton Lewis '15, Beta Theta Pi; Alfred E. Gray '14, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Samuel W. Chase '14, Delta Upsilon; Harold C. Sommers '15, Kappa Sigma; Earl F. Wilson '14, Psi Upsilon; Sumner L. Mountfort '14, Theta Delta Chi; Harold H. Hayes '14, Zeta Psi; Raymond H. Larrabee '16, Bowdoin Club.

With the Faculty

The complete list of changes in the academic faculty follows:

New members—George Roy Elliott, Ph.D., Henry Leland Chapman Professor of English literature; Leo D. McClellan, instructor in economics and sociology; Alexander Frederick Bruce Clark, A.M., instructor in modern languages.

Promotions—Orren Clarmer Hormell, A.M., from assistant professor of history to professor of history and government; James Lukens McConaghy, Ph.D., from assistant professor of education and secretary of the Christian Association of professor of education and English and secretary of the Christian Association; Alfred Otto Gross, Ph.D., from instructor in biology to assistant professor of biology.

On leave of absence—Frederic Willis Brown, Ph.D., professor of modern languages; Wilmot Brookings Mitchell, professor of rhetoric and oratory.

Resigned—Joseph Stanchfield Davis, A.B., instructor in economics and sociology.

Died—Henry Leland Chapman, D.D.

The Other Colleges

The University of Washington baseball team has nearly completed a two months' tour of Japan.

Five hundred and fifty-five students attended the evening classes in academic subjects at the University of Cincinnati last year.

Williams College is attempting to raise an endowment fund of two million dollars. The sum of $616,000 has already been secured during the spring and summer.

Technology, the last of the New England institutions to resume work, opened Monday with an especially large enrollment of graduate students.

The first of the underclass contests, held at Tufts on Monday, was in the form of a wrestling match, in which fifty-one freshmen and an equal number of sophomores contested.

Kappa Theta, a strong local fraternity at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was installed Saturday as Beta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

A prominent Seattle business man has donated $75,000 toward the erection of a new athletic stadium and gymnasium at the University of Washington.

The first fatality of the year in college football occurred Wednesday, September 24, in a game between Holy Cross and Norwich University, when Verner S. Belyea of the latter team suffered a broken spine, from which he died two days later.

Delta Delta Fraternity of Williams College was recently installed as Delta Delta Chapter of Psi Upsilon. This increases the number of active chapters of Psi Upsilon to twenty-four.

The University of Michigan has twenty-seven alumni in Congress.

A committee at Brown University has drawn up a tentative set of rules to govern the pledging of Freshmen. The plan calls for the formation of an inter-fraternity council, to be made up of one representative from at least fifteen of the twenty societies, which shall have a general oversight of fraternity matters and shall supervise the "rushing" and pledging of Freshmen. This council shall name some date, early in the second semester, previous to which no society may pledge any men. It is further provided that no Freshmen shall be eligible for membership in a fraternity who has not successfully passed at least twelve semester hours of college work.

Resolutions

IN MEMORIAM.

Rev. Samuel Richard Smiley died at St. Lambert, Province of Quebec, Canada, May 3, 1913, after an illness of over a year. His classmates of the Class of 1894, gathered in Brunswick at their 19th reunion wish to give public expression of our heartfelt sorrow at this, the third death among our number.

In undergraduate days, Brother Smiley is remembered as a mature and earnest man, of simple tastes and quiet demeanor; yet enjoying to the full every aspect of our college life, warmly interested in all pertaining to Bowdoin and the personal friend of every one of us. He had never been present with us at class reunion; hence few have had opportunity to meet him since graduation; but he gave cordial support to our undertakings, and his loyalty to class and classmates never wavered.

We take pride in the name he has left behind him as an efficient worker in his chosen field; in the respect and love of the communities where he labored (Lisbon Centre, N. Y., Colebrook and Penacook, N. H.) and in the heroism and Christian fortitude shown by him as the victim of a most painful malady which baffled medical science to the very end.

Signed,

FRANK H. KNIGHT,
GEO. C. DEMOTT,
W. F. ALLEN,
H. E. ANDREWS,
R. H. BAXTER,
WILLIAM WIDGERY THOMAS,
C. M. LEIGHTON.

Alumni Department

'58.—At the age of seventy-six, and after fifty-four years' practice at law, William W. Abbott of Watertown, died May 19th in his law office at Boston.

Mr. Abbott was born in Norridgewock, Me., Sept. 11, 1836, the son of Hon. John S. Abbott, at one time Attorney-General of Maine. He was graduated from Bowdoin in 1858, receiving the degree of A.M., as well as A.B.

He was admitted to the Maine bar in 1859, and to the Massachusetts bar sixteen years later. He was also a member of the New York bar and permitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

After practicing for thirty years in New York, he went twelve years ago to Boston, where he has been associated with his brother, John E. Abbott, town counsel of Watertown.

Bowdoin indeed regrets the loss of another one of her successful graduates.

'66.—Rev. George W. Kelley has recently issued a collection of poems entitled Songs of Remembrance, which from their content are of special interest to Bowdoin men.

'76.—Charles Davis Jameson, Mem. Am. Soc. C. E., American Red Cross Engineer, recently published a preliminary report on River, Lake, and Land Conservancy in Portions of the Provinces of Auhui and Kiangsu, North of the Yangtse River.

'77.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary has just been made a grand officer of the Legion of Honor by President Poincare at Paris.

'81.—After a record of nineteen years of achievement at the South End in Boston, William I. Cole has departed to fill the newly created chair of Sociology at Wheaton College. His greatest work has undoubtedly been the South End Improvement Society—a live factor in civic betterment. His whole experience, however, has included nearly every phase of settlement work in America. Mr. Cole has established healthful sports for the youths, given them a taste for the arts, and provided vocational education. Along with these improvements, milk stations, baby clinics, district doctors, and the Municipal Recreation League have received an impetus.

Although Boston will experience a tremendous loss, yet Wheaton will make a great gain. Bowdoin is proud not only of Mr. W. I. Cole, but also of Rev. S. V. Cole ’74, the president of Wheaton College.

‘89.—William M. Emery has recently compiled A Genealogy of the Grinnell Family, with Some Account of Allied Families, for Mrs. George S. Bowdoin, of New York City. The work is a finished and scholarly production, attesting well Mr. Emery’s expert ability as a genealogist.

‘91.—The degree of Doctor of Ophthalmology which originated at Oxford University, England, several years ago, was conferred for the first time by an American institution at the annual commencement exercises of the University of Colorado when Dr. George F. Libby, of Denver, received the degree. Dr. Libby is a native of Portland and a graduate of Bowdoin Medical School, class of 1891. He has been located in Colorado since 1900, and in his department is one of the most successful specialists in the city of Denver.

‘99.—Drew B. Hall of Somerville, Mass., has been elected president of the Massachusetts Library Club for the year 1913-14. He has recently had the pleasure of moving the collection under his charge into one of the most attractive library buildings in the State and one which bears evidence of his own careful planning in many of its details.

‘06.—William F. Finn, on March 10th, became the proud father of a daughter, Elizabeth by name. He is located in Seattle, Wash., where he is doing very well in the insurance business.

‘91.—Mr. George L. Lewis, of the Westfield Athenaeum, is the treasurer of the Massachusetts Library Club.

Since the close of college last June many of our alumni have married. An arrangement of the marriages by classes follows:

‘03.—Dr. Joseph Randall Ridlon, Ridley Park, Pa., Miss Agnes Elizabeth Pyke, July 2, 1913, New York City.

‘04.—Dr. James F. Cox, Bangor, Me., Miss Mary Christine Burns, Bangor, Me., Sept. 19, 1913, at Bangor, Me.

‘06.—Mr. Henry Philyss Boody, Kents Hill, Me., Miss Myrtle Blackwood, Cumberland Mills, Me., Aug. 1, 1913, at Cumberland Mills, Me.

‘07.—Dr. Erastus Eugene Holt, Jr., Portland, Me., Miss Adelaide Frances Munsey, Dresden, Me., Sept. 5, 1913, at Dresden, Me.

‘07.—Mr. Wadleigh Bean Drummond, Portland, Me., Miss Lida Merriman Chenery, Portland, Me., Sept. 23, 1913, at Portland, Me.

‘09.—Dr. Ezra Ralph Bridge, Skowhegan, Me., Miss Marion Douglass Volk, New York City, Sept. 17, 1913, at Center Lovell, Me.

‘09.—Mr. John West Manter, Readfield, Me., Miss Mary Eleanor Berry, Vassalboro, Me., July 2, 1913, at No. Vassalboro, Me.

‘10.—Mr. Charles A. Cary, Brooklyn, N. Y., Miss Frances D. Campbell, Cherryfield, Me., Sept. 2, 1913, at Cherryfield, Me.

‘10.—Mr. William Stewart Guptill, Hartland, Me., Miss Ruth Lelia Weatherbee, Lincoln, Me., June 30, 1913, at Lincoln, Me.

‘10.—Mr. John Leland Crosby, Quincy, Mass., Miss Britomarte Emerson, Bangor, Me., June 3, 1913, at Bangor.

‘10.—Mr. William Elbridge Atwood, Hebron, Me., Miss Viola May Dixon, Portland, Me., June 26, 1913, at Portland, Me.

‘10.—Mr. William Proctor Newman, Miss Gertrude Bernice Soper, Bar Harbor, Me., July 9, 1913, at Bar Harbor, Me.

WESLEYAN 13—BOWDOIN 7

In a game full of sensations, misplays, brilliant long runs and missed punts Wesleyan won from Bowdoin last Saturday by two touchdowns to Bowdoin’s one. Despite the many features caused by end runs and misplays there was displayed a great deal of high class straight football by both teams. The two elevens were well matched. Wesleyan’s line was considerably heavier than ours and presented a defense through which the best plunges of Bob Weatherill, Herb Foster and Brigham could not penetrate consistently. In backfield work both quartets were about equal. At ends the Bowdoin men were outplayed by the opposing linemen. In fact Wesleyan’s attack was mainly one of long end runs. The forward passes which they have used so successfully in the past were for the most part ineffectual. Out of about fourteen attempts only four were successful. Foster for Bowdoin uncovered a hitherto unknown ability for solving these plays and himself frustrated seven attempts. Three times he caught the pass himself and twice ran through a broken field across the goal line, each time a distance of eighty yards. The second of these touchdowns, however, did not count as one of his over-anxious teammates galloping in his wake interfered with a pursuing Middletown player, costing the “White” a heavy penalty and the game. The third return was made with a Wesleyan attempt to score on the pass. Herb brought this one out a good fifteen yards from our goal and danger.

During the first half there was no scoring by either side. Once Wesleyan got the ball down to the last chalk mark, but the Bowdoin defense stiffened and the home team was held for downs. Aside from this one crisis the two periods were spent in discovering the weak points of defense on either side. Lew Brown sent the Bowdoin plunging backs into the line but soon discovered that no consistent gains could be made in this direction. A forward pass was attempted by Bowdoin in the second quarter and was successful, Lew receiving the ball himself. A number of quarterback runs netted Bowdoin yardage but the ball was never within dangerous proximity of either goal except at the time already mentioned.

During this half Wesleyan attempted forward passes but they did not meet with much success. Lewis punted several times and aside from the first kick which was blocked, he did a very creditable job. His punts were high and long.

The second half opened with Wesleyan kicking off to Bowdoin. The ball was lost to the opponents after a few rushes and Wesleyan carried the sphere well down towards Bowdoin’s goal in a number of end runs and line plunges. Bowdoin stiffened and it seemed as if it was to be the same old story of a see-saw battle with probably no scoring by either side, when Wesleyan tried once more her pet play, the forward pass. The ball sailed beautifully into the arms of a white-stockinged player and before the grandstands could recognize who it was he was off down the field for an eighty-five yard sprint for a touchdown. As Foster crossed the line the nearest man to him was a Bowdoin end.

Leadbetter kicked an easy goal. Bowdoin then settled down to a defensive game. There was no more scoring in the quarter.

At the beginning of the last period, Wesleyan seemed again to threaten Bowdoin’s goal and again the ball was hurled from Capt. Eustis’s arms to an expectant end. But Foster was there to catch it and he was off again down the field, this time working his way by side-stepping, whirling and the straight arm, not being caught until he squatted with the ball under the goal posts. But here came the tragic sequel of the penalty for interference and it was Bowdoin’s ball on Wesleyan’s twenty yard line. A few line plays were unsuccessful. Floyd was sent in to try a drop kick but the ball went wide of the mark.

But the end was not yet. The ball was worked back into the center of the field. Wesleyan was forced to kick. Brown playing close for fear of the ever-probable forward pass had to run back to receive the high spiral and failed to get under it. Hallock, a Wesleyan end, pounced on it and was downed on Bowdoin’s one yard line. On the next play Slocum went over for Wesleyan’s first touchdown. Eustis kicked a goal.

With a few minutes left to play both teams were determined to avoid a tie score. Deetjen, Wesleyan’s tall, speedy fullback, was given the ball for a succession of end runs, Bowdoin’s weak point of defense, and in a series of brilliant dashes he carried the ball to Bowdoin's goal line where it was pushed over for the second Wesleyan touchdown. The goal was missed.

Aside from the scoring plays there was little to indicate that either team had the advantage. In the first half of the game Wesleyan kept the ball in Bowdoin territory, but in the second half Bowdoin gained considerable ground by end runs and two well executed forward passes.

Bowdoin's line from tackle to tackle played a steady game against worthy opponents. Lew Brown at quarter ran the team well and gained ground several times by brilliant end runs. Weatherill was very strong on defense, tackling hard and sure, never missing his man. Brigham made a very good showing in his initial appearance in a Bowdoin uniform. Foster played the best game of his career on defense, tackling hard and covering both sides of the line.

It was a game well worth seeing, with two good teams pitted against each other. Coach McCann was not at all pessimistic over the showing made by his men. The treatment at the hands of the Wesleyan management was excellent.

HEBRON 35—BOWDOIN 2nd 0

The Big Green team of Hebron outplayed the Bowdoin Second in practically every department of the game at Hebron Saturday and got away with five touchdowns and five goals. The prep school men outweighed the collegians and were much speedier on the heavy field. Hebron used a formation which netted big gains around the ends, Nadeau and Donegan being the bright stars on the offensive. Capt. Allen of Hebron was strong on both the offensive and defensive and his end of the line was practically impregnable. Colbath made good gains on skin-tackle plays at first but was slowed up by an injured leg and the second team resorted to open work. A number of forward passes were tried, one being successful and good for 20 yards. Capt. Mannix played a splendid defensive game and once nearly got away for a touchdown after running a fumble back 45 yards.

Hebron got their first touchdown in the first few minutes of play after the time-honored shoe-string play had failed to work.

SOPHOMORES WIN FIRST GAME

After seven and one-half innings replete with good, bad, and indifferent baseball, the Sophomores triumphed over the Freshmen Saturday morning on the Delta by a score of 6 to 3. The Sophomores took the initiative in run-getting by sending a man over the plate in the second inning, and by adding three more tallies in the third and fourth innings, obtained a commanding lead, which they increased by two more runs in the sixth.

Bradford, the 1917 twirler, pitched well, keeping the hits fairly well scattered, and glaring misplays at critical instances on the part of his teammates were responsible for half of the Sophomore runs. Fraser, who was in the box for the Sophs, pitched air-tight ball until the seventh inning, striking out eight men and holding his opponents down to one run and three hits. In the seventh, however, the Freshmen attacked his throws and slants viciously, and batted in two runs with three singles, a two and a three bagger. At this point rain put an end to the game.

For the Sophomores, McElwee and Kelley played brilliantly both at the bat and in the field, and Merrill, Greeley and Larrabee uncorcked some fine stickwork. Nute with two singles and Bradford with a screaming three base hit were the headliners with the bat for the Freshmen, and Captain Carll and Marston played a steady all-around game.

The Trinity Game

In the game with Trinity at Brunswick next Saturday, Bowdoin will run up against one of the best small college teams in the country. A team that is said to have the best small college coaching system, Trinity has always had a wonderful organization and Bowdoin's work Saturday must be of the best in order to win.

Hudson, Trinity's captain, is rated as one of the best plunging backs in the country. He made the team his Freshman year and was placed at fullback on Walter Camp's second all-American eleven. Since that time he has won at least honorable mention. Bowdoin men who have played against him remember his line-bucking tactics. One of the veterans recently said, "Hudson is the worst man I ever had to tackle."

It is in Hudson that the center of Trinity's center of attack and defense is laid. In Saturday's game with Worcester Polytechnic, which Trinity won by the score of 48 to 0, Trinity displayed nothing but old-fashioned football, and it is thought that this will be the case with Bowdoin.

The Trinity game is the only college game in the state for Oct. 11 and it is thought that a large number of football enthusiasts will journey to Brunswick to see the contest. It is the first time that Trinity's football team has entered the state. Bleachers are being erected opposite the grandstand to accommodate the overflow.

Bowdoin's ends will be given the greatest attention of any part of the team during this week's practice. In Saturday's game with Wesleyan, Wesleyan made its longest and most consistent gains around both ends, while through the line and with the forward pass, the Middletown college was practically helpless.

Although the last game was a defeat, Bowdoin supporters have reason to feel confident that the team will be in far better shape by next Saturday and that by the time of the Maine series a nicely trained eleven will be ready for the whistle.

Fitzgerald, who played a number of games last year both at half and end, is back on the squad, and although he was not in condition for the last game, next Saturday will probably see him against Trinity. Moulton is ineligible until November, but it is hoped that he will be able to play in at least some of the Maine games. In the backfield, Captain Weatherill, Foster and Brigham all played in fine style Saturday, while Foster in particular shone in both offensive and defensive work. Mountfort's work at guard was the cause of comment and it is thought that he will prove a stumbling block for Trinity's plunging backs next Saturday.

The First Defeat

It has come. The first early season defeat. But, take notice, those who have been watching the team from the inside are not discouraged, are hardly disappointed. The task of making a Bowdoin team this year is a big one. It requires genius and it requires time. If there is any man that can give us the team we are looking for it is Coach Tom McOwman working with Trainer Magee. The loss to Wesleyan seemed hard, indeed, it was conditional with so many "ifs," but it is through such experiences that weaknesses are found and the team is rounded into shape. This is no time to commence criticism. Just trust and wait!

More Cheering

It is early yet to expect good concerted cheering and singing but an effort must be made at once to develop this branch of our college activity. At the New Hampshire State game the exhibition in the grandstand was poor. The team was cheered when they were winning and a pall of silence fell over the crowd when the ball approached our goal line. When it looks dark for old Bowdoin, when the visitors are driving our men back, then if ever comes the need for the best our lungs can utter, that our sturdy warriors may know we are behind them. Next Saturday we meet Trinity, a foe worthy of our best metal, a rival of growing importance. Let the ninety-five per cent. of the students whose loyalty for the College can be expressed for the time only by cheering do their work well. Let's have our cheering better organized with a song leader and songs, and assistant cheer leaders. Let everyone of us get in and yell.

THE OTHER TEAMS

Although the season is yet too young to make any estimate even more than fairly accurate, some comparison can be made of the work of the Maine college elevens. By holding Yale to the score of 0 to 0 at New Haven last Saturday, Maine surprised even her most ardent supporters and Maine stock has taken a decided brace as a result. But at the same time, it should not be forgotten that Maine made first down but once and that the Yale goal line was practically out of danger at all times. Maine's punts were short. Fumbles were the cause of Yale's failure to score, according to newspaper reports of the game. In the Maine lineup there were eight veterans Saturday,—Murray, Sawyer, Baker, Gulliver, Ruffner, Martin, Donahue and Cobb. Maine used new men at both ends and at left half, and substituted four times. Maine plays Rhode Island State next Saturday.

The Colby team that defeated Brown earlier in the season was bewildered by the clever system of forward passes and line plays that Dartmouth offered. Colby has Fraser and Lowney in the backfield, the two men who proved Colby's greatest assets in the Bowdoin-Colby game last year. In Captain Dacey at left tackle, Colby has a strong man, both for breaking up plays and for opening up holes for offense.

Bates made first down but once against Harvard Saturday, that once being on an on-side kick that netted 35 yards. Bates was defeated 14 to 0, and although Harvard beat Maine 34 to 0 it is not safe to say that Bates has a stronger team than Maine, for Harvard used a number of second string men Saturday and played a conservative game throughout. Bates made eight substitutions. Next Saturday Bates plays Exeter. In last year's game Bates was beaten 6 to 0.
ANNIE TALBOT COLE LECTURER

It has been announced that the Annie Talbot Cole lecturer this year will be Alfred Noyes, the young English poet who was recently mentioned for the poet laureateship of England. The dates of the lectures and the subjects which Mr. Noyes will take have not yet been announced. He is going to lecture at Harvard on "The Sea in English Poetry." The trip to America which Mr. Noyes took last year was his first trip outside of England. He is an Oxford graduate and rowed on the crew there, his athletic prowess and manliness being the popular subject for many magazine articles. While at Oxford he began to publish poetry and since then he has made his living by his writings. He asserts that writing poetry is a plain, every-day task. Mr. Noyes is very fond of the sea as a theme and is also a great exponent of universal peace, a subject on which he lectured in this country last year. He is best known as the author of many lyrics, "The Barrel Organ," "Forty Singing Seamen," and others. Lately he has been writing dramas in blank verse. His last work is "Tales of the Mermaid Tavern."

FIRST COLLEGE PREACHER

The first College Preacher of the year, Charles Reynolds Brown, D.D., will speak next Sunday morning at the Church on the Hill and at afternoon chapel. He will also be present at the Young People's meeting in the Vesty at 7:15. Dr. Brown received an A.B. from the University of Iowa in 1883; A.M. in 1886, and S.T.B. from Boston University in 1899. He was pastor of the First Congregational church of Oakland, Cal. from 1896 to 1911 and since then has been Dean of the Divinity School of Yale University. He has been special lecturer at Leland Stanford, Jr., Yale, Cornell, and Columbia. He is the author of numerous books and has been a popular College Preacher at Bowdoin in past years.

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The fall tennis tournament, for bringing out new material for the team next spring, is now going on. The matches are posted on the Chapel bulletin board and the management desires that the matches be played off as soon as possible. Balls can be procured from Manager Mac Cormick. Two sets out of three will decide the match, except in the finals which requires three sets out of five. Those who have entered are as follows: Eaton '15, Hall '16, Head '16, Pierce '17, Card '15, N. Little '17, Nason '14, Rickard '17, Larabee '16, Greeley '16, Ogle '17, Smith '15, Flynt '17, D. White '16, Woodman '16, Mer-

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMS

FIRST Y.M.C.A. MEETING

The first meeting of the year was held last Thursday night in the Association rooms. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Artley B. Parson, of St. Paul’s, Boston, an old friend of Bowdoin. His subject was the “Influence of the Bible on Modern Life.” After mentioning its influence on life in the past, he went on to show that we now hold a freer attitude toward it, than our forefathers. We realize it was written to show the vision of God, not to teach geology, astronomy, or history. It reveals the ideal of true manhood in the portrayal of Christ’s life and its influence today is shown by the increasing interest in forwarding the kingdom of God by the betterment of mankind.

President Brown of the Y. M. C. A., in closing the meeting, spoke a few words for the Freshman Bible classes which started last Sunday.

ART BUILDING NOTES

A silver medal has been given to the Art Building by the son of Prof. Stowe whose property it formerly was. Prof. Calvin E. Stowe, the husband of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, was a graduate of Bowdoin in the class of 1824 and was Collins professor of Natural and Revealed Religion from 1850 to 1852.

On one side of the medal is the inscription “Pecunian Society” and underneath it “Bowd. Coll. Instituted Nov. 22, 1805.” On the reverse side, between two engraved pine trees is “Pin Loq Sem Hab. Calvin E. Stowe.” The motto, “pinos loquentes semper habet” (E. 8, 22), is translated “he always has the whispering pines.”

The Pecunian and Athenaeum were rival literary and social societies which flourished for about fifty years and were supplanted by the present day Greek letter fraternities.

The Library Table

Of special interest to Bowdoin men is President Hyde’s latest book, The Quest of the Best. The cause for the local interest may be stated best in the words of its preface which we quote:

“At Bowdoin College we are trying to bring professors and students together in common interests and tasks. As one application of this preceptorial method, we have a class of six students conducted by six professors. Each professor takes the six students for a period of about six weeks, during which they work together on some form of writing-verse, drama, essay, oration, translation or short story. Then the result of their work together is submitted to the entire group of professors and students.

“As it fell to me this year to conduct this class for one period, having these lectures to prepare, I asked the class to do it with me, explaining the general plan, submitting for their discussion and criticism such portions as I had written, and assigning to them certain portions to write. Accordingly the following pages are a joint product; not only representing as the result of criticisms and suggestions their fresher recollections of boy life, but in several sections being their work precisely as they wrote it.”

The sub title, “Insights into Ethics for Parents, Teachers and Leaders of Boys,” explains to some extent the nature of the work. It takes the boy in the primitive stage of “natural badness” and shows by illustration and reasoning how he can be brought out of that state into the following of the highest ideals, “the Quest of the Best,” not by artificially good rules and precepts but by the influence of the personality of a parent or friend with such ideals. Throughout there is an abundance of illustrations taken from actual boy life and problems.

The introduction states that it is a book for the top shelf, out of the boy’s reach, but the college student, although still a boy in most respects is given accession to that top shelf. Its counsels directed to workers with boys have much in them that is illuminating and vitally important to undergraduate daily life. It will undoubtedly be read with great profit and interest by the Orient readers.
Club and Council Meetings

The Student Council met Sept. 29 and the matter of deferred initiations was talked over. Among the fraternities sentiment is against it, and the Council referred the matter back to them, recommending that the initiations be held Oct. 14.

The class rush will take place on the Delta in place of the Chapel steps as the ground before the Chapel is thought dangerous for such a conflict. In connection with this affair the Chapel bell will be rung hereafter only on the occasion of a victory or some other occasion equally important.

A music committee to handle the college "sings" will soon be appointed, as will an assistant manager of the college calendar.

The Council took up the matter of "Proclamations" and gave them the usual stamp of approval.

The matter of seeing the teams off was discussed by the Council.

The Board of Managers met Wednesday, Oct. 1, and voted to grant extensions on the blanket tax to those who had made applications for them. It also voted on the payment of minor bills, and passed the following resolution:

If on Dec. 1, 1913, the A. S. B. C. shall have $175 above the unprovisional appropriations, and the sinking fund of 5 per cent. of the first semester's tax, $100 shall be paid to the Football Association.

On the Campus

Warren F. Bickford '22, of Muskogee, Okla., has been at College recently.

"Farmer" Kern '12 was on the campus last week.

The faculty has ruled that no freshmen shall room in the fraternity houses.

Tarbox '14 has returned to College.

A call has been issued for candidates for assistant manager of track from the entering class.

All men who play on interclass teams of any sort must pass a physical examination.

Alumni who have been on the campus during the past week are: Parkhurst '13, Spinney '13, Wood '13 and Tuttle '13.

Cruff '16 is the victim of a wrenched knee as a result of football scrimmage.

A football game between Brunswick High and Bowdoin second, scheduled for Oct. 1, was cancelled by request of the Bowdoin faculty.

Woodcock '12, Ramsay '15 and Canney '16 were at College during the greater part of the summer.

Nineteen men, including coaches and manager, made the Wesleyan trip.

Norton '13 is on the editorial staff of a Portland paper.

Pease ex-'16 has returned to College.

The much-discussed book cases in the library have been removed during the summer.

D. K. Merrill ex-'14 has returned to College, enrolling as a Junior.

A partial list of the College Preachers for the year, who will speak in the Church on the Hill in the morning and at afternoon Chapel, is as follows:

October 12, 1913.—Rev. Charles R. Brown, D.D., Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

With the Faculty

Dr. Cram and Dr. Loomis were in attendance at the Monahan murder trial during the past week in Lewiston. Dr. Cram served as a witness and did some chemical analysis in connection with the evidence.

Dr. Catlin recently gave an address before the associated Federation of Woman's Clubs of Maine. The conference was held in Lewiston.

There has been considerable change in the residence addresses of the faculty during the past summer. The following are a few: Prof. W. H. Davis is now living in the Capt. Reed house; Prof. Wass is occupying the house formerly resided in by Mr. Quint, pastor of the Congregational Church; Prof. Hornell is living in Prof. Mitchell's house; and Prof. McConaughy is living on McLellan St.

The Other Colleges

Chicago dedicated her new $200,000 athletic field Saturday with a 21-to-7 football victory over Indiana.

Five hundred self-supporting students at Columbia University last year earned $120,000, an average of $240 per man.

Zuppke, the Illinois football coach, has a novel method of coaching. He watches his team from the top of the stands and gives his instructions through a megaphone.

The Harvard Legal Aid Bureau, organized last spring for the purpose of providing free legal advice for needy people of Cambridge unable to pay for counsel, treated seventy cases during the first three months of its existence.
Saturday's intercollegiate football games were conspicuous for their one-sidedness. Two of twenty-nine contests resulted in tie scores, and in the remaining twenty-seven the winners amassed 878 points to 30 for the six losing teams who succeeded in scoring at all.

Dr. John Casper Branner, one of the oldest members of the Stanford faculty, was inaugurated on October 1 as the University's second president, succeeding Dr. David Starr Jordan.

A unique course at the University of Maine this year is the course in the chemistry of pulp and paper, which, as far as is known by the University authorities, is the only course of its kind given in the United States by any institution of higher learning.

Alumni Department

'64.—John G. Wight, Litt.D., formerly principal of Wadleigh High School, is the author of Literary Brevities, a book consisting of short extracts of a great variety of interesting facts, literary gems, and quotable epigrams, selected from competent sources.

'75.—The summer students at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, elected Dr. Woodbury Pulsifer as vice-president of their association. Mr. Pulsifer was born in Auburn, May 13, 1855. He has filled several important positions in his life, among which have been that of stenographer at the Supreme Judicial Court, that of member in the United States Civil Service, Washington, D. C., and that of secretary to the president of the Erie Railroad Co. In 1879, he received the degree of M.D. from George Washington University.

'75.—Frederick Orin Baston, for many years treasurer of the five cent savings bank at Natick, Mass., died during the summer. He had been in the hospital several months with a head trouble. He left a widow but no children.

Mr. Baston was born in Bridgton, January 14, 1852. Along with his brother, Reuben, he fitted for college at Fryeburg Academy and entered Bowdoin in 1871. The college will remember him as first baseman on the ball team and as a member of the Bowdoin boat crew. He served as principal at several high schools before assuming in 1886 his position in the bank at Natick.

The class of 1875 has now lost 13 of its original number of 45. Those now residing in this state are Melville A. Floyd, Colonel George F. McQuillan, David M. McPherson, Edward S. Os- good, Portland; Hon. Seth M. Carter, Auburn; Wilson Nevins, Falmouth; Dr. William E. Rice, Bath; Dr. Robert G. Stanwood, Anson; Dr. William S. Thompson, Augusta; Hon. Frederick A. Powers, Houlton.

'77.—Mr. Philip G. Brown was promoted this summer from the position of vice-president to that of president of the First National Bank in Portland.

'80.—A former leader in athletics at Bowdoin is meeting with success in the educational world. After being school superintendent in Bath since 1904, Frederick W. Freeman has accepted a position as superintendent of the newly formed South Berwick and Eliot district. Mr. Freeman holds the degree of A.M. from Bowdoin, and has been president of the Penobscot and Cumberland County Teachers' Clubs.

'93.—For the first time in a number of years, Major Weston P. Chamberlain, of the Medical Corps, United States Army, honored his Alma Mater with a visit. Major Chamberlain has travelled around the world three times.

'94.—Secretary C. A. Flagg of Bangor, Me., last June issued the tenth directory of the class. The directory, arranged alphabetically, contained the present position each member holds and his residence, and states whether he is married and has children. At the end, the directory lists the deaths, marriages, and births of the past two years, together with the names of the members who have registered at the last three class reunions.

'96.—Herbert O. Clough, Supervising Agent, State Board of Education, Connecticut, has recently visited the college for the first time in eight years.

'99.—Dr. F. H. Albee, of New York, recently performed at a medical congress in England an operation of a kind seen for the first time there before some of the most renowned surgeons of Europe who were unanimous in their praise. The operation was for the treatment of tuberculosis of the spine.

'05.—Dr. Ray W. Pettengill of Harvard University, has an article in the current number of the Journal of English and Germanic Philology entitled "Zu den Rätseln im Apollonius des Heinrich von Neustadt."

'10.—Carleton W. Eaton, of Calais, who is a graduate of the forestry department of Yale University, has just been appointed instructor in the forestry department of the University of Maine.

Ralph O. Brewster '09, of Dexter; John D. Clifford, Jr., '10, of Lewiston; Robert Burleigh Martin '10, of Augusta, and William H. Sanborn '10, of Portland, all of whom attended the Harvard Law School, are among the twenty-seven men who passed the state bar examinations in Portland.

BOWDOIN 0—TRINITY 0

After forty-four minutes of hard football on Whittier Field last Saturday Bowdoin and Trinity left the field neither winners or losers; each had to be contented with a scoreless tie. But for our team, still remembering the defeat of last year, it was a virtual victory. Not that we outplayed Trinity, for the game was in every sense a drawn battle, but to tie them indicated a marked improvement over last year, a victory for coaching and teamwork.

Most of the time the ball was see-sawing back and forth out of the danger zone. Three or four times Trinity threatened our goal, but lost the ball on bad fumbling. Two or three times our team worked the oval towards the enemy's goal posts by punting and pouncing on fumbles, but lost the ball on downs. In punting, Bowdoin had the better of the argument, Alton Lewis getting away long, high spirals and the ends holding the advantage gained by nailing the runner on the return. In rushing the ball Trinity had a little the better of the argument, Hudson gaining considerable ground through our line. In following the ball our team gained considerable advantage over the heavier opponents.

There were no stars in the contest. To Bowdoin's credit it may be said Hudson was the star. This powerful fullback found his advance impeded by three or four sturdy linemen at every juncture and was ineffective. In his line plunging he established a new forward pass which might be styled the inter-team pass. On being tackled he seemed to toss the ball forward, usually into the expectant grasp of Herb Foster.

The grounds were in very good shape considering the condition of the weather, but the ball was very slippery.

On offense Trinity attempted several forward passes, all of which were blocked, usually by Foster, except one which placed the ball within striking distance of our goal. But the ball was soon lost by a fumble. Bowdoin executed no successful forward passes. Our offense consisted mainly in straight line bucking, interspersed with simple end runs.

On defense the new Bowdoin lineup presented a remarkably fine showing. Weatherill and Leadbetter at ends were sure in their tackles and got down well under punts. The line from end to end had no weak spots. The secondary defense was sure and kept the Trinity backfield from any extra yardage. The tackling of the Bowdoin team was the best seen on Whittier Field in years. Just as the team showed steady improvement in its second game, Saturday's contest showed it in a more advanced condition. Coach McCann may be said to have solved the problem of defense. The return of Lew Brown to the lineup may cause a shift of positions but the combination used last Saturday may be counted on to stop the attack of a powerful offense by any of Bowdoin's opponents.

A large crowd witnessed the contest, considering the condition of the weather. The story of the game is told in another way in the following paragraphs:

Trinity kicked off to Fitzgerald on the 20 yard line, who run the ball back 14 yards. In three rushes Bowdoin made five and an attempt to make first down failed, Trinity getting the ball on Bowdoin's 42 yard line. Aided by a five yard penalty for Bowdoin, Trinity advanced to the 25 yard mark, but Foster spoiled a Trinity forward pass and took the ball. After unsuccessful attempts at hitting the line, Bowdoin attempted to punt, but the pass was bad and Trinity got the ball on Bowdoin's 12. Leadbetter picked up a Trinity fumble, and Lewis punted from behind his own goal to the 35 yard line. The period ended with the ball Trinity's on Bowdoin's 14 yard line.

Again Trinity fumbled and Foster recovered. Lewis punted to the 45 yard line and Foster nabbed a Trinity forward pass, getting away for ten. Again Lewis punted, and Bowdoin held for downs. Lewis punted outside on the 11, and Bowdoin blocked Trinity's punt out. The half ended with the ball in Bowdoin's possession on Trinity's three yard line.

Mountfort kicked to Cole who ran the ball back to the 30 yard mark and Trinity punted to Fitzgerald. Colbath made ten and Barry recovered a Bowdoin fumble. Colbath fumbled and Trinity got the ball on her own 28 yard line. Floyd replaced LaCasce. Foster recovered a fumble by Howell. Bowdoin lost ten on the next play. Ives caught a Bowdoin forward pass on Bowdoin's 30. Bowdoin was penalized 15 for holding. After a number of line plays with no large gain, the third quarter ended with the ball in Bowdoin's possession on her own 23 yard line.

Weatherill made two and Lewis punted to Trinity's 30 yard station. Trinity returned with a punt of 40 yards. Lewis punted to Trinity's 35 yard line. Weatherill making a star tackle on the 40. Trinity punted to Fitzgerald on Bowdoin's 18, Fitz taking the ball in 22 yards, after fumbling and recovering. After Bowdoin had punted, Ives threw a forward pass 20 yards to Cole, who made ten before he was downed. Bowdoin got the ball on her own 25 yard line. Pratt recovered a Bowdoin fumble. Wessels replaced Kinney. The game ended with the ball in Trinity's possession on her own 45 yard line.

STATISTICS
On straight rushing, Bowdoin made 27 yards in the first half and 32 in the second, a total of 59; while Trinity made 67 in the first half and 31 in the second. Lewis punted eight times for a total of 320 and Howell, who kicked for Trinity, four times for a total of 135. These figures represent the actual distance punted, and not the net gain. On attempted rushes, Bowdoin lost 28 and Trinity 16. Trinity worked the forward pass once out of four tries, while Bowdoin's one attempt was unsuccessful. Bowdoin was penalized 20 yards, five for off-sides and 15 for holding. Trinity was not penalized.

The approximate total ground gained by players in line plunges follows: Hudson 47, Moore 23, Foster 19, Fitzgerald 16, Coffee 14, Colbath 14, Weatherill 9, Wooley 7, Howell 4, Ives 3, Leadbetter 1.

SOPHOMORES CINCH SERIES

In the second and deciding game of the Freshman-Sophomore baseball series, played Wednesday afternoon on the Delta, the Sophomores again took the Freshmen into camp by a score of 3 to 1. The Sophs annexed an extra brace of tallies in the first half of the sixth, but as darkness put an end to hostilities before the Freshmen could take their turn at bat, the score reverts to the end of the fifth inning, and the two runs do not count.

The teams were about on a par in hitting, but as in Saturday's game, the Freshmen fell down badly in fielding, and their eight errors aided materially in increasing the Sophomore run column. The Sophs, however, gave their pitcher gilt edged support, only one of their two misplays being a factor in the run-getting.

The greatest feature of the game was the pitching duel between Knight and Bradford, both of whom twirled in highly commendable fashion. The dark day was an asset to the pitchers, and both used their speed to good effect, Knight allowing three hits to Bradford's four, and registering eight strike-outs, to the latter's ten. "Mexico" Olson smothered several difficult throws at first base and Carll, the Freshman captain, besides fielding his position excellently, clouted the longest hit of the game, a sizzling two-bagger to right field. The score:

College and the Fraternity

Tonight the various fraternities on the campus, according to the usual custom, hold the annual initiation ceremony and celebrate with feast and song the incoming of new brothers. As a pleasing addition to the festivities a number of the alumni return and join hands with the undergraduates in welcoming their new members. But this is not alone a fraternity occasion, it is a Bowdoin affair as well. Each group is cheered by its sister group. Each band of loyal fraternity brothers ends the evening by gathering in the white moonlight beneath the Chapel towers and pledging anew their devotion to the College. Happily we may say, this appropriate closing of the evening's fun is no idle ceremony, no empty tradition. It signifies all that is good in our fraternity system, all the real interfraternity fellowship which makes life on our campus emphasize not only class and fraternity, but always pre-eminent—Bowdoin. And to you, members of 1917, let us say, that your elder classmen, all Bowdoin men, are in earnest about this. It is for you at this to dedicate yourselves to the same transcendant loyalty to Alma Mater in the midst of your new fraternity life.

Initiations Not Deferred

The 1912-13 Student Council after investigation and discussion proposed to the various fraternities the plan of deferring initiations. By six of the eight groups the plan was adopted. It was generally understood at the time of the closing of College in June that the new plan would be put in operation this fall. But the very nature of the scheme made a mere majority insufficient to insure its successful issue. The new Student Council, realizing that they were in no great degree bound by last June's provisional and hasty action, saw the danger of destroying the usual unanimity of the fraternities and re-submitted the matter to the fraternities with the recommendation that the original scheme of initiation be maintained. Their recommendation was unanimously ratified. But this plan is not, perhaps, permanently doomed. As long as Bowdoin continues her lack of regulations in the face of a wave for greater regulation by the fraternities in other colleges, these questions will constantly recur. We hope, however, that they will be faced with the same questioning spirit, and the same candid criticism that the deferring plan has met with. Because our system is successful we are not sure that it is perfect. But because it is unique we should apply to every advertised reform a searching examination to see if it will really cure ills present among us.

From the Chapel

To the Bowdoin undergraduate accustomed by experience to a gossipy attitude towards his fellows, the attitude which is too prone to look for weak spots in others, the message of Dr. Brown in his talk at Vespers last Sunday, the message of good will towards one's mates, of finding in one's roommate, one's rival, the best that he is and may be, is of a refreshing nature. Too often it is our practise to seek to re-form our younger college-mates by "kidding" them, by laughing at their weak points. And how would it be to try the other method? Suppose we seek to help some one friend by encouragement, by sympathy, by insight.

The Freshman goes out for a college activity and there are still those among us who will laugh at the quavering voice, the spindle legs, and the seemingly foolish persistency. But, thanks to Bowdoin tradition, there are those,—trainers and coaches and captains and good Bowdoin men—who see in the crude material the better man inside, the track star of three years hence. Let us all who look outside of our own little dormitory room for our interests, pursue this manner in extending our influence to our college-mates, in helping to shape life on the campus.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

The following students are assistants to the professors in the various courses:

Latin, R. P. Coffin '15; Physics, H. M. Hayes
'14; French, K. E. Ramsay '15; Mathematics, G.
P. Floyd '15; History, R. D. Leigh '14, E. C. Gage
'14; English, K. A. Robinson '14, L. H. Gilson, Jr., '14, H. M. Prescott '15; Chemistry, A. E.
Gray '14, Neal Tuttle '14, H. P. Bridge '15, C. T.
Perkins '15; Biology, F. H. L. Hargraves '16; P.
H. Pope '14; Economics, M. H. Hamblen '14, G.
C. Talbot '15.

FIRST ROUND RESULTS

As a result of the wet weather the matches of the fall tennis tournament are being played off very slowly. Four matches of the first round have yet to be played. The results of those played are as follows: Eaton '15 beat Hall '16, 6-2, 6-3; Pierce '17 beat Head '16, 6-2, 2-6, 9-7; Card '15 beat Little '17, 6-1, 6-0; Nason '14 beat Rickard
'17, 6-4, 6-4; Greeley '16 beat Larrabee '16, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2; Ogle '17 beat Smith '15, 6-1, 6-2; Flynt
'17 beat D. White '16, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4; Woodman '16 beat U. Merrill '16, 7-5, 6-1; Thompson '15 beat Boardman '16, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1; Parsons '16 beat Wing '15, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0; Marr '14 beat Dalrymple
'17, 6-3, 12-14, 6-4; Coffin '15 beat Nickerson '16, 6-3, 6-4.

FALL TRACK EVENTS

Manager Konghan of the track team has announced the events for this fall. Every man who is not out for some activity should participate if possible in the interclass contests, as much new Varsity material may be brought to light. The schedule follows:

Maine Central Institute at Brunswick.
Oct. 25. Interclass track meet on Whittier Field.
Nov. 5. M. I. Cross-Country race at Watervillee.

PARTIAL BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Although Manager Elwell is not yet able to announce the dates of the early season games, the dates for the State championship baseball games next spring have been decided on, as follows:
Saturday, May 2. Bowdoin vs. Maine at Brunswick.
Saturday, May 9. Bowdoin vs. Colby at Brunswick.
Wednesday, May 20. Bowdoin vs. Maine at Orono.
Wednesday, May 27. Bowdoin vs. Colby at Waterville.
Saturday, May 30. Bowdoin vs. Bates at Lewiston.
Friday, June 5. Bowdoin vs. Bates at Brunswick.

CROSS-COUNTRY WORK

Under the care of Trainer Magee the Cross-Country squad is fast rounding into shape. The men are being sent over the course by the standpipe two or three times a week. This long grind is alternated by sprinting and distance work ranging from a quarter, up to a mile and a half or two miles.

Wednesday a hare and hound race was held both for the purpose of interesting the fellows, and also to condition them. Irving '16 and Hargraves '16 were sent out with bags of paper which they scattered behind them as they ran. About five minutes later the rest of the squad started off on the paper trail.

The hares reached home in safety, leading the hounds by a wide margin.

The squad at present contains the following men: 1914—Capt. Tarbox, Wright, Donahue, Merrill; 1915—Keegan, Cutler, Smith, McWilliams, Richardson, Livingstone; 1916—Hargraves, Irving, White, Fuller, Ginty, Winter, Sayward; 1917—Crosby, Sampson, Balfe, Fenning, Noyes, Cormack.

The race between the Freshmen and Maine
Central Institute, a team which is coached by Capt. Charlie Haskell of last year’s Varsity track team, will be run Monday, October 20, at Brunswick. The interclass run will come off soon after this in place of the run with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

THE VERMONT GAME

Bowdoin plays Vermont at Burlington Satuday and although it is hard to make a comparison of the teams at this early stage, the indications are that Vermont has not an extremely strong team. Vermont was beaten by Dartmouth 33 to 7 last Saturday in spite of the fact that Dartmouth had the lighter line. Vermont will probably be the heaviest team that Bowdoin plays this year.
Bowdoin's lineup will probably be the same as that of the Trinity game with the possibility of Brigham's being used in the back field. With another week at end, Weatherill and Leadbetter should develop in fine shape and should give the team as good wing defense and offense as any Maine team has had for a number of years. Leadbetter's injury Saturday, although painful, is not serious and he is now in as good condition as ever. Mountfort played a stellar game in the line against Trinity and was the means of breaking up more than one play before it was started. The problem in regard to quarterback is no slight one, and although no official statement has been given out, Lew Brown will probably start if his injured leg is in condition to permit it.

Whalen, Vermont's tackle and captain, has played a good game throughout the year, and in the Dartmouth game tried a goal from the field from the 55 yard mark, but the kick fell short. Currier, Vermont's quarter, ran the length of the field twice on two intercepted forward passes, but one was disallowed on account of holding.

The team will leave for Burlington Friday morning, will pass the night there and will leave for home by sleeper directly after the game. Nineteen men, including coaches and manager, will make the trip.

MUSICAL NOTES

As a result of the Glee Club trials, the following men have been retained: Tenors—West '15, Card '15, Carter '16, R. Evans '15, Christy '15, Fobes '17, Hescock '16, Haseltine '17, McKenney '15, Melloon '15, Rollins '15, Shea '14, Wilson '14, Woodman '16, Basses—Allen '15, Boardman '16, Dunton '15, Eaton '14, Fortin '16, Leadbetter '16, Littlefield '16, Merrill '16, Munroe '14, Phillips '17, Parmenter '16, Rawson '15, Seward '17,

The Maine trip will probably begin a week earlier than usual, about the second week in January. The management is also hoping for a New York trip and negotiations are already under way although nothing certain has yet been decided. All men who are at all proficient with the mandolin are urged to hand their names in at once to Barton at the Theta Delta Chi house.

Bowdoin graduates and undergraduates are reminded that November first is the time limit set for the Prize Song Contest. All songs composed in competition for the prize of $50 should be sent to Professor Edward H. Wass on or before that date.

THE FIRST SING

The first College Sing, held Friday night in Memorial Hall, was very well attended in spite of the weather. A large number of Freshmen particularly turned out and with the upperclassmen present made up in volume on the cheers and songs what was lacking in unison. The band made its appearance with fourteen pieces under its new leader, Jones '15. Callahan '14, the cheer leader, was in charge of the Sing. Several more will be held to get the new men acquainted with the songs and cheers.

BOOK ON LIFE AT BOWDOIN

A neat white booklet issued under the Bowdoin College Bulletin series, but presenting a marked difference from the other volumes of that series is one just issued by the College. Its name, as stated on the title page, is Life at Bowdoin, A Pen Picture of the College Life of Bowdoin Undergraduates. Within its forty-eight pages of profusely illustrated material there is an attempt to portray Bowdoin life as it really is in a language that can be understood by those who have neither seen or known of the College. The booklet was edited by the Student Council and written by undergraduates, faculty members, and alumni. Among the contributors are President Hyde, Professor McConaughy, John C. Minot '96, Laurence A. Crosby '13, Cedric R. Crowell '13, James A. Norton '13, Clifton O. Page '13, Robert D. Leigh '14 and Kenneth A. Robinson '14. Among the subjects treated are Student Organizations, Social Life, Religious Life, Bowdoin Alumni, Bowdoin Traditions, Facts and Figures, Diary of a Freshman, etc. The book is well printed and has a very neat white cover with an embossed Bowdoin seal.

Throughout the booklet is very well written and should appeal strongly to the preparatory school man who is seeking for information about the College, the new undergraduate who wishes to know more about its activities, or the average reader who desires information about college life. The booklet is to be distributed in the same manner as the catalogue and other bulletins. All the alumni will receive copies.

The Polar Cub

The young quarterback was overweighted with his new responsibility of directing the field destinies of the team in The game of the season. The reliable pivot man of three seasons' experience was hopelessly out of it with a wrecked knee. He remembered the old "grad" back in York State who had given him his first desire to wear the big Varsity emblem by recounting his own gridiron experiences. Why not go to him, and find out how to run the team, what plays to use? So off he went to the home town over Sunday. The old grad met his inquiries seriously.

"Art," he said, "I can't tell you what to play. You know your men better than I do. You know the opposing line better than I do. Your coach's judgment is reliable and your problems will be those of the instant. But just one bit of advice. There'll come a bad misplay, a costly fumble. Perhaps you handled the ball perfectly, your team-mates messed it badly. Don't hesitate one instant. Take all the blame yourself, Art, take all the blame. You'll have your team dying for you by the end of the season."

Just a little story which the polar cub brought home from an old fighter and captain for the Bulldog.

Club and Council Meetings

At a meeting of the Student Council, Tuesday noon, Oct. 7, the following standing committees, provided for by the Student Council by-laws, were appointed by the chairman:

Rally Committee: A. E. Gray '14, chairman; E. S. Thompson '14, G. A. McWilliams '15.

Music Committee: S. West '15, chairman; F. X. Callahan '14, A. H. MacCormick '15.

Customs Committee: C. A. Brown '14, chairman; L. A. Donahue '14, N. Tuttle '14.

Celebration Committee: F. X. Callahan '14, chairman; C. A. Brown '14, A. E. Gray '14.

At the same meeting F. S. Roberts '15 was elected Assistant Calendar Manager and Initiation night was definitely set at Oct. 14.

BOWDOIN CLUB OF BOSTON

The first monthly dinner of the Bowdoin Club of Boston was held at the University Club, 270 Beacon Street, Friday evening at 6:30. Over fifty Bowdoin men were present. Professor Nixon delivered the talk of the evening, speaking particularly of the prospects for the year at Bowdoin.

Some one observed, during the evening, that in starting this, the twenty-ninth year of its uninterrupted existence, the Bowdoin Club of Boston stands without equal for length of life. No college or university club in Boston has met regularly for so long a period of time.

The dinner Friday night was held on the second Friday of the month rather than the first, as usual, because of repairs made recently at the University Club.

At the dinner it was announced that the annual Boston Alumni Banquet will be held this year in January instead of in February as formerly. The banquet will be held at Young's Hotel.

On the Campus

Adjourns tomorrow.

King '12 has entered the Maine Law School.

Conant '13 was at College last week.

Jim McBain has returned from his vacation.

George Hyde '09 was on the campus last week.

Harrington '12, Assistant Principal of Edward Little High School, was on the campus last week.

A number of alumni arrived today to be present at fraternity initiations.

John Libby, Tufts '11, and Rafter, Lehigh '13, were on the campus last week.

The cross-country men had a long walk with Coach Magee Sunday.

Faulkner ex-'15 was on the campus during the last part of the week.

Examinations for entrance to the Medical School will be Oct. 16, 17 and 18.

The total registration of the College has now reached 360, a net increase of 27 over last year.

Hamilton ex-'13 has returned to College.

The first issue of the Quill will appear about Oct. 20.

Only three Freshmen have reported as candidates for assistant manager of track.—True, Burleigh and Piedra.

Woodbury Brigham '17 was called home very suddenly last week because of a severe shock suffered by his mother.

At the Maine Music Festival in Portland, Chopin's Funeral March was played in memory of Professor Chapman.

Robinson '14 and Bodurtha '15 left yesterday as delegates to the National Convention of Delta Upsilon at Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 16 to 18.

"Fish" Marsh has been in Brunswick and will again maintain a booth at Topsham Fair, where he has a first-class line of Bowdoin banners.

Duck-Shooting is proving unusually good this fall and several good bags have been made. Heywood '14 is among the most successful of the College Nimrods.

Rollins '16 was operated on for appendicitis at the Maine General Hospital in Portland Monday morning, and at last reports was resting very comfortably.

The Boston paper that said that 500 Bowdoin students cheered themselves hoarse when Artist Knowles passed through Brunswick must be in a hurry to see that new dormitory.

The ORIENT wishes to correct the mistake made in these columns last week in regard to Freshmen rooming in the fraternity houses. The Faculty have not forbidden the new men to do so.

The pins have arrived for the Monday Night Club, an organization composed of Varsity football men. The pins are gold and are made to represent a football, with a block B in the center.

The following men are members of the Chapel choir: Shea '14, Wilson '14, Munroe '14, George Eaton '14, Carol '15, West '15, Melloon '15, Rollins '15, Evans '15, Ramsay '15, Leadbetter '16, Parmenter '16, Rawson '16, U. H. Merrill '16, Stuart '16, Ginty '16, Carter '17, F. A. Haseltine '17.

Among the alumni who were back on the campus for the Trinity game are: C. T. Hawes '76, Dana '96, Riley '03, Robbins '05, Pennell '09, Partridge '11, Redfern '11, Meserve '11, Sanford '11, Smith '12, Warren '12, Makepeace '12, Grant '12, McKenney '12, Haskell '13, Wish '13, Colby '13, Norton '13, Saunders '13, Fogg '13 and Dole '13.

'02.—Every year for three days in September, Beecher Island, Colorado, is the scene of a celebration in honor of the brave men who fought there a desperate contest against the Cheyennes and Arapothoes forty-five years ago. Among those killed in the struggle was Lieutenant Fred Beecher, the valiant nephew of Henry Ward Beecher. The defense of Beecher Island well demonstrated the courage of the frontiersmen. After they had battled against the overwhelming hosts of Indians for three days, the red men set to "starving out" the persevering white men, who were finally saved by reinforcements. It is no wonder that Colorado has erected a monument on the site of Beecher Island and set aside the old battle field as a park.

'64.—After two years of poor health, Myron Hovey, of Nashua, N. H., died at his camp on Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H., Sept. 22. His remains were carried to the family lot in Gorham, where he has been held in high esteem.

Mr. Hovey was born in Waldoboro, April 19, 1839, the son of the late James and Eliza (Wallace) Hovey of that town. At Bowdoin, he was a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity. His wife, formerly Miss Minnie Eaton, of Gorham, died four years after their marriage in 1869.

Mr. Hovey was assistant paymaster in the U. S. Navy during the last year of the Civil War, and from 1880 to 1890 was chief clerk of the pay department of the U. S. Navy. He was a member of John J. Foster Post of Nashua, and in 1892-93 was assistant adjutant general of the department of New Hampshire. Bowdoin has lost another of her successful sons.

'87.—Edward C. Plummer, attorney for the Atlantic Carriers' Association, has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend the hearings on the new seamen's union bill.

'97.—The last volume of the Transactions of the American Philological Association contains a scholarly article by Professor J. W. Hewitt, of Wesleyan University, on the "Development of the Thank-Offering" among the Greeks.

'02.—In accordance with a vote to strengthen his relation with the church, Rev. Oscar W. Peterson was installed by regular custom as pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Newcastle, by an ecclesiastical council convened for the purpose.

'02.—Edmund Hayes, Jr., son of Mellen Hayes of Farmington, and nephew of General Edmund Hayes of Buffalo, N. Y., was shot and killed in August by the Mexican Federals at Madera.

'03.—Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Ridlon of Ridley Park, Pa., who have just arrived in England, will spend the next few months in London, where Dr. Ridlon is to make a special study of tropical diseases. Dr. Ridlon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Ridlon of Gorham, and his wife is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James H. Pyke of China.

'13.—Rev. Rensel Colby has just been installed as pastor at Scarboro, Me.

'13.—Wilmot C. Lippincott of Augusta left last week for Richmond, W. Virginia, where he will be employed as chemist for the Cherry River Pulp and Paper Company.
BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XLIII BRUNSWICK, MAINE, OCTOBER 21, 1913 NO. 15

BOWDOIN 13, VERMONT 3

Bowdoin defeated the heavy team of the University of Vermont last Saturday afternoon in Burlington by a persistent line attack and superior punting. During the first two periods of play there was only one score, a field goal from the twenty-five yard line by Captain Whalen of the Vermont eleven. During this half neither team was able to make first down consistently. The ball was in Vermont's territory a greater part of the time.

Toward the end of the third period the Vermont line began to weaken and holes were opened through which Bowdoin's shifty backs penetrated for substantial gain. By the clever use of a forward pass, which recovered the ground lost on a penalty, Bowdoin placed the ball within striking distance of the enemy's goal. Stuart, carrying the ball himself through the line, dodged by the secondary defense and went over for Bowdoin's first touchdown. Leadbetter failed to kick goal. Again in the fourth period Bowdoin gained the ball on a blocked punt near Vermont's goal and Foster rushed it over the last chalk mark. Leadbetter kicked the goal. The Bowdoin team was getting stronger every minute of play and the Vermont players were becoming ragged in their defense but time prevented further scoring.

During the first half the Bowdoin team was not up to the form of the previous week allowing several fumbles and missing tackles. In the second half, however, the Vermont team was outplayed in every department of the game. Alton Lewis had a difficult job punting on account of the high wind, but gained yardage for Bowdoin by his splendid work in this department.

Bowdoin played straight football for the most part, trying only two forward passes, both of which were successful. Vermont attempted end runs and passes but the Bowdoin defense smothered their every attempt at open football. They failed in all of their five attempts at forward passes. Fumbling was frequent, Bowdoin recovering more than Vermont.

Stuart played a good game at quarter for Bowdoin, displaying excellent judgment in his selection of plays and carrying the ball himself for good gains. Weatherill and Foster were up to their usual standard both on defense and offense, tackling hard and gaining sure ground through the line. The line played well from end to end. A. Pratt, taking Fitzgerald's place at end, played a creditable game. Fitzgerald suffered physically from the long train ride and was unable to start the game. He replaced Stuart at quarterback in the last period. Floyd was injured early in the game and was replaced by LaCasce.

The good condition of the whole Bowdoin team was in evidence Saturday. Although they had completed a hard train journey they played stronger as the game progressed and were going fast as the final whistle blew.

For Vermont, Capt. Whalen was the mainstay in offense and defense.

A large crowd witnessed the contest.

The lineup:

Score, Bowdoin 13, Vermont 3.

ON TO WATERVILLE

Next Saturday the Maine series starts with Bowdoin playing Colby at Waterville and Maine playing Bates at Orono. An attempt to figure the outcome of the two battles would be extremely difficult, but from comparisons of the teams, Bowdoin and Colby appear to be evenly matched, while Maine seems to be stronger than Bates.
Colby will base her hopes on Lowney and Fraser, her two backfield stars, and the fact that she has a large number of veterans on the team. The line that stopped Hudson, however, should have little difficulty in piling up the Colby attacks. Bowdoin and Colby have not played the same teams this year, but the ease with which the Bowdoin line proved itself the master of Vermont's heavier aggregation speaks well for Bowdoin's offense. Although the question of ends is still puzzling Coach McCann to a great extent, the great improvement shown in the last two games gives promise of a wing defense and offense hard to be beaten. Lewis's punting has attracted attention in each game, and his sturdy toe can be relied upon to stave off any danger. It is hoped that Lew Brown will be able to play again by Saturday.

The scores of the Bowdoin-Colby games in past years follow:
1894. Bowdoin 30, Colby 0.
1895. Bowdoin 5, Colby 0; Bowdoin 6, Colby 0.
1896. Bowdoin 12, Colby 0; Bowdoin 6, Colby 6.
1897. Bowdoin 16, Colby 0; Bowdoin 0, Colby 0.
1898. Bowdoin 24, Colby 0; Bowdoin 17, Colby 0.
1900. Bowdoin 68, Colby 0.
1901. Colby 12, Bowdoin 0.
1902. Colby 16, Bowdoin 5.
1903. Colby 11, Bowdoin 0.
1904. Bowdoin 52, Colby 0.
1905. Bowdoin 5, Colby 0.
1906. Bowdoin 0, Colby 0.
1907. Bowdoin 5, Colby 0.
1908. Bowdoin 9, Colby 6.
1909. Colby 12, Bowdoin 5.
1910. Bowdoin 6, Colby 5.
1911. Bowdoin 0, Colby 0.
1912. Colby 20, Bowdoin 10.
Won by Bowdoin, 13; won by Colby, 5; tied, 5.
While Bowdoin and Colby are fighting it out at Waterville, Maine and Bates will be playing at Orono. Although Tufts defeated both Bates and Maine by practically the same score, Maine appears to have the advantage, for Maine has made better scores throughout the season thus far, while Bates was scored on last Wednesday by Westbrook Seminary.

FRESHMAN CROSS-COUNTRY TRIALS

The freshmen cross-country squad held their trials for positions on the class team at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and the men finished in the following order: Captain Clarence H. Crosby, Frank E. Noyes, Walter A. Fenning, William S. Cormack, Deane S. Peacock, Arthur B. Chapman.

Balfie, the former Dorchester High runner, was not present at the trials, but was considered certain of a place in the race with Maine Central Institute yesterday.

As Trainer Magee accompanied the football team to Burlington, the freshmen were timed over the course by Mgr. Koughan.

The time made in the run was very good when the condition of the course is taken into consideration, and some of the men should make a favorable showing in the trials for the Varsity later in the year.

The team from Maine Central Institute which raced the Freshmen yesterday was captained by Orrin Haskell, a brother of Charles Haskell '13. The other men were Black, Howes, Jackson, Wakefield, and Woodward. This was the first Cross-Country team to represent M. C. I.

MEDICAL SCHOOL OPENS

The Medical School opened yesterday with as large an enrollment as last year in spite of the new admission requirements. All but one of the new men have had at least two years of College work. The Anatomy Room, in which such men as Dr. Dwight, Dr. Weeks, and Dr. Gerrish have taught, has been repaired although the form has been unchanged. The faculty has been increased to 68 members.

The following changes have been made in the titles of members of the faculty of the Medical School:

Henry Marshall Swift, lecturer on neurology, becomes professor of neurology.

Henry William Miller, lecturer on mental diseases, becomes professor of mental diseases.

Henry Darenyd Evans, lecturer on public hygiene, becomes professor of public hygiene.

Manton Copeland, lecturer on embryology and histology, becomes professor of embryology and histology.

Gilbert Molleson Elliott, demonstrator of anatomy, becomes assistant professor and demonstrator of anatomy.

Richard Dresser Small, instructor in obstetrics, becomes assistant professor of obstetrics.

Thomas Jayne Burrage, instructor in medicine, becomes assistant professor of medicine.

Joseph Blake Drummond, instructor in anatomy, becomes assistant professor of anatomy.

Alfred Otto Gross, instructor in embryology and histology, becomes assistant professor of embryology and histology.

Francis Joseph Welch, clinical assistant in medicine, becomes instructor in pulmonary diseases.

Harold Josselyn Everett, clinical assistant in obstetrics, becomes instructor in obstetrics.

Roland Banks Moore, clinical assistant in obstetrics, becomes instructor in pediatrics.

Ambrose Herbert Weeks, who was elected assistant professor of gastro-enterology, died on June 26, less than a week after being elected to the position.

EXCURSION TO COLBY GAME

The first game of the State series will be held Saturday with Bowdoin opposing Colby, her old rival. A special excursion for Bowdoin students and followers will be held to Waterville. The regular schedule of trains will be run, extra coaches being utilized to accommodate the crowd. The fare for the excursion will be $1.50 round trip. Two years ago a large body of students accompanied the team and witnessed the hard fought contest ending in a 0 to 0 score. This is the first opportunity that the student body has had to show Tom McCann, Bob Weatherill and the others who are working on and with the team that their work is appreciated. Not only as a matter of loyalty, however, should Bowdoin attend the game en masse. As a contest it will be worth going many more miles to see. Those who saw Colby's fast backs charge through Bowdoin's line for long gains last year on Whittier Field are interested to see if the heavy and fast forwards of this year's team can prevent their advances. Bowdoin-Colby games are always hard games and fast games. Get your tickets for Waterville!

October 13, 1913.
About Organized Cheering

Comes now a student forward with the proposition that, after all, this organized cheering is unworthy of us as an institution, that its motives are not the highest; that is, its purpose is partly to "rattle" opposing teams, that we would be doing American athletics a benefit by cheering only spontaneously and as we felt moved. Then the rally speakers are all wrong, and the many Orient editorials are all wrong and the many athletic captains who urge the student body to do more organized cheering, "to cheer themselves hoarse for old Bowdoin," are sadly in error. In view of our recent lack of enthusiasm for organized rooting this statement demands deep consideration. Is it true, as one student recently remarked, "that we are not a cheering college?" If we do not really believe in our present system let us frankly admit it and have the office of cheer leader abolished.

The Orient believes that we are ready for no such step. We believe that Bowdoin students really feel the need of cheering, that in the last analysis they want to cheer, for their team, that to a large extent their cheering is spontaneous. As for its purpose, anyone familiar with the etiquette of the Bowdoin grandstand knows that Bowdoin yells are given to encourage the home team, not to disconcert the opponents, knows that fair play is practised towards opposing teams, furthermore knows that the absence of organized cheering leads to the evidences of what bad feeling there is in the Bowdoin grandstand. Who is there that has not felt the exhilaration of yelling himself hoarse, throwing his cap into the air and getting his clothes muddy if need be, in sheer self-forgetfulness, in exultation at a well earned victory? At Bowdoin we need not fear too much the win spirit. Given that moral balance which will not stoop to unfair means, in the organization, or conduct of teams, and a possession of the desire for supremacy carried out in the hardest of physical exertion is healthy, and helpful. There are those in the student body who have not yet caught the spirit of spontaneity which needs no urging to make them cheer, who do not feel the impulse to get on their feet and sing Bowdoin Beata when we are scored on in the first period or last period, "just to show 'em we are not beaten." But these are in a minority. We repeat our former statement that we need more cheering, more organized cheering, more songs and more people singing them, rooters that will "yell themselves hoarse for Bowdoin."

Publication of Reports

We note that one of the athletic manager's reports which are required by the Athletic Council to be published in the Commencement Orient, has not yet reached us. This is not a wholly new condition. It is very seldom that the report of any season in athletics is audited and presented for publication until that season is almost forgotten. The fault is not often with the managers. It very often happens that the books lie in the auditor's hands untouched for months. This is a positive handicap to the incoming manager. The present manager of the track team has been severely handicapped by not knowing, in midst of handicapped by not knowing, now in the midst of his season, the balance from the last year's season, or the approximate costs of items in the past. The Athletic Council should reorganize its system of auditing so as to secure more promptness and efficiency.

SUNDAY CHAPEL SPEAKER

The speaker at Sunday Chapel was Rev. Dr.
David Nelson Beach, President of Bangor Theological Seminary. Dr. Beach received the degree of A.B. from Yale in 1872, B.D. from the Yale Divinity School in 1881, and the degree of D.D. from Western Reserve in 1896. He has held pastorates in Congregational Churches in Westerly, R.I., Wakefield, Mass., Cambridge, Mass., Minneapolis, and Denver and has been president and professor of homiletics at the Bangor Seminary since 1903. He has been prominent in good civics work in Massachusetts and elsewhere and is the author of numerous books.

THE BLANKET TAX

A number of men have been granted extensions of time for the payment of their Blanket Taxes, and the payments have fallen due. The men are asked to pay up as soon as possible to any member of the Board of Managers and get their tickets of MacCormick '15 at the D. U. House. The men to whom payments may be made are Weatherill '14, Leigh '14, Koughan '15, Elwell '15, MacCormick '15, Floyd '15, Simpson '14, Gray '14 and Austin '15.

GUESTS AT INITIATIONS

Among the alumni present at the various initiations last week were the following:—Prof. William A. Moody '82, Prof. Charles C. Hutchins '83, Henry Chapman '91, Clement Robinson '03, Thomas C. White '03, Prof. Marshall P. Crum '04, John H. Brett '05, Donald C. White '05, Arthur Robinson '08, Frank Thomas '08, Harrison C. Chapman '12, Alton L. Grant '12, Charles E. Sayward '84, Leon M. Bobes '92, Prof. George T. Files '99, George E. Fogg '02, William H. Sanborn '10, Donald Redfern '11, Gardner Sanford '11, Prof. George T. Little '77, H. C. Baxter '78, Dr. Frank N. Whittier '85, John C. Minot '96, C. S. Pettengill '98, Prof. Kenneth C. M. Sills '01, William M. Harris '09, Frank A. Smith '12, Edwin C. Burleigh '13, Reginald O. Conant '13, Daniel Saunders, 2nd, '13, Luther Dana '03, Henry O. Hawes '10, Leon S. Lippincott '10, George F. Cressey, '12, Stanley F. Dole '13, John A. Slocum '13, Albert J. Curtis '70, Lyman C. Lee '92, Lyman A. Cousins '02, James A. Clark '05, Clarence L. Scammon '09, Richard R. Eastman '10, Arthur H. Stockman '03, Emery O. Beane '04, Ruel W. Smith '97, Henry E. Grihen '97, A. Koughan '09, Alton Pope '10, C. E. Allen '15, Walter T. Hazeltine '16, Frank E. Kendrie '10.

Among the other guests were: E. L. Montgomery, Wesleyan '99; F. H. Burgess, Brown '12; Prof. Charles T. Burnett, Amherst '95; C. B. Rafter, Lehigh '13; Samuel B. Furbish, Amherst '08; Prof. William H. Davis, Harvard '05; Roy H. Flynt, Maine '04; Prof. J. L. McConnaughy, Yale '09; J. S. Wadleigh, Maine '14; P. D. Bray, Maine '14.

COMMUNICATION

Editor of the Orient:

Through your columns I wish to make an appeal to the undergraduates of the College. The Freshman-M.C.I. Race marked the formal opening of the fall track season. Other races which follow are designed to give the men a chance to get going before the indoor season begins. Not enough men have reported for fall work and if we are to have a successful track team in the spring, we must show more life in the fall. I am at the Athletic Field every afternoon and am ready to take anybody in hand and get him going in the line he is suited for. You will never feel more like running than you do this fall and if you get in condition now it will be easy to keep so through the winter. If you come out now and find out what event you are suited for, you can put in your time in the Gym this winter on that event and will not be wasting time trying different ones.

Come out whether you ever ran or not. Some of the best track men in the country discovered their ability through willingness to try. You may be the "find" of the year but you will never be discovered unless you find yourself. The track coach is not a detective and cannot hunt out Ralph Craig in dark corners but he can tell whether a man is a runner or not if the fellow gives him a chance.

Get into the Interclass Meet this week and be part of the squad on which Bowdoin's hopes will depend in the spring.

John J. Magee, Track Coach.

THE MACMILLAN EXPEDITION

The MacMillan Crocker Land expedition party which set sail from Boston, July 4th, has safely landed at Etah Harbor from which efforts will be made to reach their winter quarters at Cape Sabine.

The expedition, under the auspices of the American Geographical Society, and Museum of Natural History of New York, is in the charge of Donald MacMillan, Bowdoin '98. About the middle of the month of July, the steamship Diana, which was conveying the expedition, was stranded in Belle Isle Strait and for a time it was feared she would be a total loss, but she was safely removed from her perilous berth and the expedition proceeded on its way.

Neil Fogg, Bowdoin '13, a nephew of Prof. MacMillan, who accompanied the expedition to Etah Harbor has returned in order to continue his studies at Harvard University.

Word just received from one of the party states that the polar bear promised by Explorer MacMillan for the trophy room in the new gym has been shot and weighed in the neighborhood of 700 pounds. The party is now in 77 degrees north latitude on the Greenland coast. They have on board 30 Eskimos and 100 dogs.

The Library Table

An attractive booklet in white with a gold inscription is "Reminiscences of an Old Grad," a poem read at Commencement last year. It was written by D. A. Robinson '73 and is very interesting to undergraduates in its portrayal of the impressions of 40 years ago.

By the kind thoughtfulness of Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard of New York City the Library has lately received a contemporary account of the degree of doctor of laws on the Marquis de Lafayette by Bowdoin College in June 1825 and of the address given by President William Allen, D.D., on that occasion. This was General Lafayette's farewell visit to America and it was hoped that he would extend his journey eastward to Brunswick and possibly to the towns upon the Kennebec. When it was learned that he could not do this, the President with members of the faculty, the trustees and overseers, accompanied by a large delegation of students went to Portland, then the capital of the state, where a most enthusiastic reception was given the Revolutionary hero.

The Marquis replied as follows to President Allen's address:—"With the highest sense of respect and gratitude, I receive the kind visit of the trustees and students of Brunswick College, the testimonials of their esteem and friendship, expressed by you, sir, in so flattering and kind terms, and the much valued diploma, with which you have been pleased to honor an American veteran. While I much regret not to be able to offer these sentiments at the seat of your so interesting institution, I thank you for the opportunity you have offered me of a personal acquaintance with you, gentlemen of that college, where young republicans, the hope of the country, are instructed in every literary and scientific branch, and above all, in the first of all sciences, the science of freedom, equal rights, and self-government; and while I join in your liberal wishes for the enfranchisement of mankind, while I am highly obliged to your kind feelings in my behalf, I beg you to accept my warmest good wishes, and most grateful acknowledgments."

Club and Council Meetings

A short meeting of the Athletic Council was held Tuesday evening. It was voted to leave the cancelling of the Tech Cross-Country Race to the Track Association. Dr. Whittier reported on the financial condition of all branches of athletics.

On the Campus

McKenney '15 is an assistant in the German department.

A number of students attended the tuberculosis exhibit last week.

George '16 has returned to College after an operation for appendicitis.

A larger number of students than usual found employment at the Fair this year.

"Farmer" Kern '12 is coaching the Deering High School football team of Portland.

Palmer '13 was on the campus last week. He intends to enter banking in New York.

Partridge '11, Sanborn '11, Haskell '13, Marsh '12, and Cowan '13 were on the campus Sunday.

The Dekes took the Zetes into camp last Saturday afternoon in football. Psi Upsilon will play the Dekes soon.

The Bowdoin Gym is mentioned in the Britannica Year Book, a new publication received at the Library.

Frank Bergin, who for three years coached Bowdoin's football team, is now coach at Middlebury College.

Dean Sills will be at home to students at his rooms, 31 Federal Street, on Sunday evenings from 9 until 11.

Delta Kappa Epsilon, Psi Upsilon, Delta Upsilon, and Beta Theta Pi will have dances after the Maine game.

Coffin '15, Parmenter '16, Hescock '16 and Haseltine '17 are members of the chorus choir at the Church on the Hill.

The members of the Sunday Chapel choir are Munroe '14, Wilson '14, West '15, Melloon '15, Parmenter '16 and Haseltine '17.

As much of the equipment used by Bowdoin crews as can be found has been collected and is now stored in town. Some of the equipment will be put on exhibition in the Trophy Room.

Dr. Arthur A. Downs, prominent in anti-tuberculosis work in Maine and a popular lecturer at Bowdoin on several occasions, recently died of cerebral meningitis. He was 39 years and five months old.

The College has lately received from Mrs. Perley of Fort Preble, the skull of a barbassosa, a rare animal found in the Dutch East Indies. This skull was procured for the College by her husband, Col. Perley, while he was engaged in military service in the Philippines. It has been placed in the Biological Museum.

John Rollins '15, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Maine General Hospital at Portland a week ago Sunday night, is reported as showing improvement the past few days. His case was more serious than was at first supposed, but the physicians in charge at the hospital expect that he will be sitting up in a few days.

Although the rain postponed Topsham Fair, bedraggled the Midway, removed all traces of Ethiopian ancestry from the face of the hit-the-nigger-and-you-get-a-cigar dodger, and made the Triangle race an impossibility, Friday and Saturday found a large number of Bowdoin men at the student entrance in the Topsham woods.

The recent announcement of Charles L. Bowker, Supt. of the Brunswick and Topsham Water District, to the effect that the company is to lay a new twelve-inch water main from Bath street, through McLellan street to Harpswell street, is one which is causing considerable satisfaction in college circles. Such a course will mean better fire protection for the Kappa Sigma fraternity house; for the new gymnasium and for buildings in close proximity to it. The present water main in this vicinity is but a six-inch one.

The class of 1917 has broken all existing records in the number of men out for the Orient Board. The following men are wearing reporter's badges and dogging "those who know:"

Morrill '16, Dalrymple '17, Philbrick '17, Cormack '17, King '17, Blanchard '17, Stone '17, Crehore '17, Brown '17, Burleigh '17, Flynt '17, Moran '17, Eaton '17, Noyes '17, Stride '17, Ladd '17, Fobes '17 and Langs '17.

With the Faculty

Doctor Walter Brown, who took the place of Professor Burnett last year, is Instructor of Phycology at the University of Toronto.

Joseph S. Davis, last year instructor of Economics at Bowdoin, is this year an instructor in the same department at Harvard.

Professor James McConaughy has been chosen Superintendent of the First Parish Sunday School.

Professor Bell is a member of the executive committee of the Brunswick Dramatic Club.

President Hyde and Professor McConaughy are to be present at the annual meeting of the Eastern Association of College Presidents at Burlington, Vt.

President Hyde attended the meeting of the trustees at Exeter, Saturday, and preached at Amherst Sunday.

Professor Frederick Brown, at present on leave of absence in Italy, attended the sixth centenary celebration of the birth of Boccaccio at Certaldo and was the only representative of the colleges of England and America at that function.

The list of speakers for the 12th Annual Meeting of the Maine Teachers' Association which is to be held at Bangor, October 30-31, promises to be unusually strong. Governor William T. Haines and State Superintendent of Schools Payson Smith, both Alumni of Bowdoin College, will deliver addresses at that meeting. The list of Bowdoin professors who will speak at that meeting with the subjects of their addresses are as follows:

Professor Kenneth C. M. Sills, "Egypt and the Classics."

Professor James L. McConaughy, "Moral Education," "Suggestions for a Teacher's Professional Library."

Professor G. R. Elliot, "English Literature for Students Not Preparing for College."

Professor Orren C. Hormell, "Popular Opinion and the Granting of the Franchise to the Negro."

Professor Manton Copeland, "A Proper Balance Between the Purely Scientific Spirit and the Utilitarian Spirit in Biology."

Resolutions

Hall of the Kappa of Psi Upsilon. October 18, 1913.

It is with heartfelt regret that the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon is called upon to record the death of Brother Robert Lawrence Packard of the Class of 1868. Strong in his love for the Fraternity, his loyalty was unceasing, and his constant efforts in our behalf have deepened our respect and veneration for him.

Therefore, be it

Resolved, that while we accept the will of God in his inscrutable purposes, we mourn most deeply for our lost brother and that we extend our most sincere sorrow to his bereaved family and friends.

EARL FARNSWORTH WILSON,
ALBION KEITH EATON,
DWIGHT HAROLD SAYWARD,
For the Chapter.

Hall of the Kappa of Psi Upsilon.
October 18, 1913.

In the death of Brother Frederick Orin Baston of the Class of 1875 the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon has lost another of its loyal alumni. Therefore be it Resolved, That we express our deep sorrow at his death and extend our sincere sympathy to those bound closer to him by ties of friendship and family.

EARL FARNSWORTH WILSON,
ALBION KEITH EATON,
DWIGHT HAROLD SAYWARD,
For the Chapter.

Alumni Department

'84.—Rev. John E. Cummins, D.D., was awarded the Kaisar-i-Hind medal by the government of Burma Aug. 19. As far as is now known, this is the first medal of the kind to be bestowed upon a Bowdoin graduate.

'91.—Dr. Fred E. Parker recently died of blood poisoning at Victoria, B. C., where he had been practising medicine for a year or more.

Dr. Parker was born in the Strondwater section of Portland, Me., Oct. 8, 1868. An ambitious young man, he worked his way through Bowdoin, where he was a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity. After a period of eight years, during which he was physical instructor at the gymnasium of Brown University, he received his M.D. at Dartmouth. Dr. Parker afterwards became director of the Brown gymnasium, the position which he held until 1903. About 1907 he went to Canada to practise, finally settling at Victoria.

'93.—Albert S. Hutchinson of Newton Highlands, died of pneumonia at the Newton Hospital, Oct. 7, after an illness of only a few days. He was a member of the law firm of Hutchinson & Hutchinson, Boston.

Mr. Hutchinson was born Oct. 27, 1871, at Auburn, Me., the son of Liberty H. Hutchinson, himself a prominent lawyer of Lewiston, Me. After his graduation at Bowdoin, he taught for a while at Riverview Academy, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was graduated at the Harvard Law School in 1899. He then associated himself with his uncle, Freedom Hutchinson, in Boston, with whom he remained until his death.

For several years Mr. Hutchinson had been legal instructor at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Law School, and had been president of the Men's League in Newton Highlands. Mr. Hutchinson served on the Newton School Committee for three years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Virginia Mellen, of Newton, and three children.

'01.—Harold P. Vose is now general manager of the Phillips Invisible Wardrobe Company. His address is 351 West 15th St.

'02.—Since Edward J. Fletcher has sold his interest, the corporate name of Noyes and Fletcher, Portland, Me., has been changed to Noyes and Consens (Sidney W. Noyes '02, Pres., Lyman A. Consens '02, Treas.). The corporation will occupy the same offices, rooms 506 and 507, in the Union Mutual building, 120 Exchange street. It carries securities suitable for investment by institutions, trust funds and individuals.

'06.—Romily Johnson, who is known in Italy as Giovanni Romilli, is making a tour of the northern cities of Italy under the management of Sig. Tassoni of Milan. Mr. Johnson's very successful appearance in the part of Oraveso in Bellini's opera Norma, has ranked him among those artists who can do great work, and his singing is received with hearty applause in the more important musical cities.

'09.—Mr. John W. Manter and Miss Mary E. Berry of North Vassalboro, were married July 2, at the bride's home.

'10.—Winston B. Stephens has returned from Prussia where he has been an exchange teacher for the past year.

'11.—Mr. Charles B. Hawes has received an appointment on the staff of the Youth's Companion and will enter upon the duties of his new position this month. While Mr. Hawes was in Bowdoin he was chairman of the Quill and he has always been identified with literary work.

'13.—Mr. Harold D. Archer was married on Oct. 7 to Miss Alfreda Gore, daughter of Hon. Fred S. Gore, Massachusetts State Penal Commissioner, at Dorchester, Mass. The best man and ushers were all Bowdoin men: best man, James F. Hamburger '10; ushers, George W. Howe '11, A. W. Hughes '09, Thomas Williams '10.
COLBY 12, BOWDOIN 0

One hundred and fifty loyal rooters saw Bowdoin outscored on the Alumni Field at Waterville last Saturday. Bowdoin was outscored but in no respect outclassed. The whole story of the contest may be summed up in three words—too much Fraser. The stocky Colby captain won the game by his long high punts and sensational end runs. Bowdoin’s defeat is far from discouraging. The light backfield was handicapped by the condition of the field, but showed an undoubted ability to gain ground. The tendency to fumbling cost us more than one chance to score. The Bowdoin defense was strong, and except for the one time when Fraser skirted the ends after a long successful forward pass and finally put the ball over the last mark, the Colby backs could not consistently gain ground. In punting Colby had a big advantage on the wet field. Few of Colby’s gains were made through the line. Most of her yardage was the result of long end runs. Our backfield, on the other hand, was not able to skirt the ends, mainly on account of the condition of the field. Our gains were the result of line plunges. That Bowdoin could not put the ball over the Colby goal in the third and fourth periods was due to the stiffening of the opposing line and the failure of the Bowdoin forwards to make holes.

Weatherill and Foster made good gains through the line, averaging a good four yards. Their clean, hard tackling also ended many a dangerous end run. Colbath and Lew Brown played well both on defense and offense. Brown’s work on the receiving of punts was one of the features of the game.

The line fought hard and presented a strong obstacle in the way of the Colby backs.

No praise is too high for Captain Fraser. His playing was brilliant, sensational and clean throughout. To him Colby owes her victory. The game was marred by frequent delays on account of the breaking of the 10 yard line. The officiating was good and the playing clean and hard. A word must be said for the band of loyal Bowdoin rooters who sat in the drizzling rain cheering the team to the last whistle.

FIRST PERIOD

Bowdoin received the kick. Recovered on the 10 yard line and advanced the ball to 35 yard line. Foster made 7 yards through left tackle. Bowdoin fumbled and Fraser recovered on the 45 yard line and punted 30 yards. Colbath made 10 yards through the line and Lewis punted to 20 yard line. Lowney made a forward pass to Royal for 40 yards. Lowney 5 yards. Fraser 10 yards. Fraser 5 yards. Colbath fumbled on Bowdoin’s 10 yard line. Lewis punted. Ball run back to 45 yard line. Lowney 3 yards. Fraser 3 yards. Lowney 2 yards. Cauley made 10 yards more and Fraser went around the end for a touchdown. Colby punted out to 20 yard line. Fraser kicked the goal.

SECOND PERIOD

Bowdoin kicked to 5 yard line. Lowney ran the ball back through a broken field to Bowdoin’s 45 yard line. Fraser 2 yards. Cauley 1 yard. The next two plays were smothered in the line for no gain. Lowney attempted a forward pass but Foster broke it up. Bowdoin’s ball. Weatherill made 5 yards. Colbath 8 yards. Weatherill 2 yards. Foster 8 yards. Foster 2.

THIRD PERIOD

Colby kicked off. Weatherill made 3 yards. Bowdoin fumbled and Fraser recovered and punted to 10 yard line. Lewis attempted to punt but was blocked. Colby recovered the ball on 45 yard line. Fraser made 8 yards. Lowney no gain. Cauley no gain. Fraser punted 40 yards. Lewis returned the punt. Lowney made 5 yards. Cauley 1 yard. Fraser 7. Lowney 5. Colby penalized 5 yards. Lowney 12 yards. The ball was on the 20 yard line directly in front of the goal posts. Fraser backed and put a drop kick over. Bowdoin kicked off. Crossman ran it back 15 yards. Fraser punted to 15 yard line. Weatherill was stopped for no gain. Colbath 6 yards. Weatherill 5 yards. Foster 12 yards. It now looked as if Bowdoin would score. The ball was being carried down the field on every rush. Colbath 4 yards. Stuart 3 yards. Lewis 3. Bowdoin then tried a series of plays which were smeared before they could start. Colby’s line held like a rock. Bowdoin lost the ball on Colby’s 2 yard line. Fraser punted to 45 yard line. Lewis returned punt.

FOURTH PERIOD

Colby kicked off. Foster ran the ball back 30 yards. Bowdoin was held for three downs and forced to punt. Fraser punted back. Brown ran the punt back 20 yards. Colbath made 3 yards. The ball was again in the shadow of Colby's goal, but the Blue line held and the ball was lost. Fraser punted 30 yards. Colbath made 2 yards. Weatherill 10 yards. Brown no gain. Colby got the ball on her own 10 yard line. Fraser punted and Colby recovered Brown's fumble. Colby attempted a forward pass which Bowdoin intercepted. Colby's ball, Fraser punted. Lewis punted. Fraser took the ball for 45 yards, the longest run of the game, around right end. Bowdoin recovered the ball on a fumble on her 3 yard line. Lewis dropped behind the line to punt. The ball was passed too low and he was unable to kick. Before he could take a step he was nailed by Stanwood, for a safety. In the next few minutes of play both teams exchanged punts, and tried out substitutes.

REVIEW AND PROPHECY

The 12 to 0 defeat that Bowdoin met at the hands of Colby demonstrated that Colby has one of the strongest fighting machines that that college has ever been able to boast. Although Bowdoin was beaten, she died fighting, and has been praised by her conquerors for the game battle. A victory over both Bates and Maine will still give Bowdoin an opportunity at least to tie the championship.

The only conclusive result that can be safely drawn from Saturday's battle is that Bates is hopelessly outclassed. Defeated by the score of 34 to 0, Bates at no time showed anything like the eleven she had last year, and Maine had no difficulty in scoring almost at will.

It is safe to say, however, that Bowdoin, Colby and Maine have strong teams. At present, Colby and Maine have the lead on Bowdoin through having won the opening games, but next Saturday, when Colby meets Maine at Orono, Bowdoin is playing Bates at Lewiston, and should come up into a tie for second place. If Maine beats Colby and Bowdoin beats Maine, there will be a triple tie for first honors, providing, of course, that both Colby and Bowdoin trim Bates,—a feat that should be easy of accomplishment.

The Bowdoin enthusiasts who made the trip from Waterville have nothing but praise for the efforts of their team, and all are looking forward hopefully to the time when the polar bear shall fasten its claws in the big blue elephant.

The scores of the Bates-Bowdoin games in past years follow:

- 1889—Bowdoin 62, Bates 0.
- 1890, 1891, 1892—No game.
- 1893—Bowdoin 54, Bates 0.
- 1894—Bowdoin 26, Bates 0.
- 1896—Bowdoin 22, Bates 0.
- 1897—Bates 10, Bowdoin 6.
- 1898—Bates 6, Bowdoin 0.
- 1900—No game.
- 1901—Bates 11, Bowdoin 0.
- 1902—Bates 16, Bowdoin 0.
- 1903—Bowdoin 11, Bates 5.
- 1905—Bowdoin 6, Bates 0.
- 1906—Bates 6, Bowdoin 0.
- 1907—Bowdoin 6, Bates 5.
- 1908—Bates 5, Bowdoin 0.
- 1909—Bowdoin 6, Bates 0.
- 1911—Bowdoin 11, Bates 0.
- 1912—Bates 7, Bowdoin 6.

Of the 20 games played, Bowdoin has won 12, Bates seven, and one has been a tie. Bowdoin has scored 272 points and Bates 79. It is only creditable to say in favor of Bates, however, that the scores of the Lewiston team have been far better during recent years.
ARE YOU GOING?

Bowdoin meets Bates in the second game of the Maine series at Garcelon Field, Lewiston, Saturday. The game will be called at 2:30 p.m. Arrangements have been made with the Maine Central Railroad for an excursion rate of 60 cents round trip, tickets good Saturday only. A train leaves Brunswick at 1:33 p.m. and arrives in Lewiston at 2:12 p.m., allowing plenty of time to reach the field in time for the game. A train leaves Lewiston at 5:03 p.m., arriving in Brunswick at 5:40 p.m. Both these trains will carry extra coaches. This means that every Bowdoin student and member of the faculty may attend the game. The cost, with such arrangements, is merely train fare and the admission to the game, $1.00. Tickets for the excursion will be on sale by the Bowdoin management at the rally Friday night. Tickets for the game will probably be on sale at that time also.

Bowdoin has lost its first game in the State series, and it is up to the student body to show to the team and the general public that their loyalty is not shaken. No better, more satisfying and sure demonstration can be given than that of turning out in a body for this game. Provision will be made for the ringing of the chapel bell if there are no students left on the campus Saturday afternoon. LEWISTON! ALL ABOARD!

FRESHMEN DEFEATED

Monday, Oct. 20, the Maine Central Institute cross-country team defeated the Freshman team in a hard race through a steady cold rain. The collegians, with a few exceptions, showed the lack of faithful training and conscientious practise, while their school-boy rivals were in excellent condition.

The final score was: M.C.I. 22, 1917, 35. Although 1917 failed to capture the race, nevertheless individual honors came their way, for Crosby, their captain, won first place handily, outdistancing the nearest competitor with ease. Despite the unfavorable conditions under which the race was run, the time was fast. The men finished in the following order:

1st, Crosby (Capt.) of Bowdoin; 2nd, Wakefield of M.C.I.; 3d, Haskell (Capt.) of M.C.I.; 4th, Black of M.C.I.; 5th, Woodward of M.C.I.; 6th, Balfe of Bowdoin; 7th, Noyes of Bowdoin; 8th, Howes of M.C.I.; 9th, Jackson of M.C.I.; 10th, Cormack of Bowdoin; 11th, Peacock of Bowdoin; 12th, Fenning of Bowdoin.

FRESHMEN COME BACK

In the interclass cross-country race Friday afternoon the Freshmen won with 22 points. The Seniors were next with 21 points, the Sophomores secured 18 points, and the Juniors 16. The men finished in the following order: 1, Crosby '17, scoring 12 points; 2, Tarbox '14, 11 points; 3, Wright '14, 10 points; 4, Irving '16, 9 points; 5, Cutler '15, 8 points; 6, Hargraves '16, 7 points; 7, Balfe '17, 6 points; 8, Porritt '15, 5 points; 9, Noyes '17, 4 points; 10, Coxe '15, 3 points; 11, Bacon '15, did not score; 12, Peacock '17, did not score; 13, Winter '16, 2 points.

On account of the rise of the Androscoggin, the temporary bridge over the brook near the standpipe had been washed away and the runners had to swim. The chill of the cold water gave several men cramps and put them out of the race.

Three men in each class scored as the numbers entered by the various classes were unequal. Crosby '17 won by a wide margin, making a splendid record of two victories for this season.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock the Fall Outdoor Meet will be held on Whittier Field. Some new material will be seen in action and there will be a general limbering up among stars that are and stars to be. No meet of this kind was held last year but a very successful one was held when 1915 were Freshmen. In view of the short time in which men have been able to train, some of the runs have been cut down. The events with the old and new distances will be as follows:

100 yd. dash—cut to 75 yd. dash.
220 yd. dash—cut to 170 yd. dash.
120 yd. hurdles—cut to 80 yd. hurdles.
220 yd. hurdles—cut to 180 yd. hurdles.
440 yd. dash—cut to 390 yd. dash.
880 yd. run—cut to 660 yd. run.

The mile and two mile run will be the regular length. The other events will be the high jump, broad jump, and pole vault.

The following men will compete: From 1914, Tarbox, Payson, Wright, Neal Tuttle, L. Donahue; from 1915, Coxe, Bacon, McWilliams, Porritt, Prescott, Cutler, Livingstone, Keegan, McKenney, Robinson, Richardson; from 1916, C. Hall, Fuller, D. White, Irving, Hargraves, Winter, Hodgkins, Wyman, Boardman; from 1917, Sampson, Cormack, Peacock, Chapman, H. White, Keene, Balfe, Crosby, Langs, Noyes, Fenning, Achron.

Among the new men the student body will do well to watch the work of Keene '17 in the high jump, Sampson '17 in the pole vault, Crosby '17 in the long distances, and Balfe '17 in the middle distances.

Where We Stand

Each recurring football season and the varying fortunes of the team bring up sooner or later the questions of the extent of student support, the measure of student loyalty, the presence of the old Bowdoin spirit. How is it this year? During the early season games the student body seemed to be vitally interested in the upbuilding of a team. A large squad turned out and a large squad stayed out, so that the present number is the largest for years. The cheering was not all that it might be at the early games, but this was due to the lack of practice. With the beginning of the Maine series the first test came. On a rainy night practically the whole student body turned out for the Colby rally. With the undoubted assurance of a day of drenching rain a hundred and fifty loyal rooters accompanied the team to Waterville and for two hours sat in the downpour and cheered the hard-fighting, losing Bowdoin team to the last ditch. And now that the first game of the series is lost the general confidence in the team is not shaken. Students are looking forward with stout hearts to the games to come. Surely we have no cause to complain as yet.

There will be a rally Friday night and an easily accessible game Saturday. It will be a game between old rivals, between two clever, fast elevens, fighting from whistle to whistle. There will be an excursion with its good spirit and fellowship. And we feel confident that the student body will not be found wanting, that they will support the team, as in the past, by their presence and their lungs and their loyalty.

COLBY GAME RALLY

The first rally of the year was held last Friday night in Memorial Hall. A large crowd was out and enthusiasm ran high. The band was out and, with Dick Fuller as cheer leader, there was much cheering between the speeches and songs. Dean Sills was the first speaker of the evening. Besides speaking on the game he also discussed the subject on cooperation in getting men to Bowdoin, suggesting a revival of the Lunt plan. "Sum" Mountfort '14, Professor Files, Trainer Magee and Professor McConaughy were the other speakers. All were well received, their prophecies of victory being especially pleasing to those present. Leigh '14 presided over the meeting.

TENTATIVE TRACK SCHEDULE

Manager Koughan '15 has announced the following tentative schedule for the track team:
Feb. 7.—Boston Athletic Association meet at Boston.
Feb. 27.—Bowdoin interscholastic indoor meet.
Mar. 20.—Bowdoin indoor interclass meet.
April 25.—Pending with Tech at Brunswick.
May 2.—Bowdoin vs. Trinity at Hartford.
May 16.—Maine intercollegiate at Lewiston.
May 23.—New England intercollegiate.
May 30.—Bowdoin interscholastic outdoor meet at Brunswick.

DAN CRAWFORD COMING

On Nov. 9th, Dan Crawford will lecture under the auspices of the Bowdoin Christian Association. The lecture is illustrated with colored views of parts of Africa never seen by any other white man.

Twenty-three years ago Crawford was captured by African cannibals and made their King. For twenty years he wore no civilized clothing and for ten years heard no word of English. He translated the Bible into several languages, helped the people rebuild their towns, and taught them Christian ways of living. On his return to England some months ago, he was practically unknown, but became famous quickly through his book, "Thinking Black." He lectured in England and has come to America for a short tour. Bowdoin is extremely fortunate in being one of the few places in Maine where he is to lecture, because, as a missionary and explorer, Crawford is the greatest since Livingston.

The Bowdoin Christian Association partially supports each year a missionary in India, Mr. Hiwale, a graduate of Bowdoin.

The Debating Council committee in charge of the affair has set the date for the annual Freshman—Sophomore debate as Friday evening, Dec. 12. The debate will be held in the Debating Room in Hubbard Hall at 8:00 p.m. The question to be debated is, Resolved: That the commission form of government is the one best suited to American cities. Each class will be represented by three principals and an alternate. The trials for positions will be held on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 13 and 14, at 4:00 p.m. Each candidate will be allowed to speak for five minutes on any phase of the subject. Those who wish to compete must hand their names before Wednesday night, Nov. 12, to any member of the committee in charge: Bacon '15, Hyler '15 and McKenney '15. The judges of the trials will be men from English 6.

COLLEGE SINGS

Two sings were held last week in preparation for the Colby game, one on Wednesday, at the grand stand and the other in Memorial Hall on Thursday. All the songs and cheers were rehearsed, with Professor Wass leading the singing. The most important feature was the invention of a new cheer, which is as follows: B-O-W rah-rah-rah, D-O-I-N rah-rah-rah, B-O-W-D-O-I-N rah-rah-rah, Bowdoin, Bowdion, Bowdion. This cheer is begun slowly, gradually increasing in speed and ending up with three sharp Bowdoin's.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATIONS

The Rhodes Scholarship Examinations were held at Augusta October fourteenth and fifteenth. Bowdoin was represented by R. P. Coffin '15, who took all the examinations, and by Gray '14 and Tuttle '14, who took the Greek examinations, having taken the others last year. Bowdoin is now represented at Oxford by L. A. Crosby '13, who was appointed last year.

SOME COMING EVENTS

In the Town Hall at eight o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the Saturday Club, there will be a reading by Joseph C. Lincoln, the author of Cap'n Eri, The Postmaster, Cape Cod Ballads, etc.

The Saturday Club has an exceptionally interesting program for the current year. Among the other entertainments which should prove of special interest to Bowdoin students are the following:

Nov. 17—Concert in Memorial Hall.

Jan. 10—Memorial Hall. An illustrated lecture on Roman Africa by Adeline Belle Hawes, M.A., Wellesley College.

Feb. 16—The Ben Greet Players, presenting "A Comedy of Errors."

Feb. 28—Unitarian Church. Illustrated lecture—The Birds of the Bermuda Islands, by Professor Alfred Otto Gross, Ph.D.

Mar. 13—Memorial Hall. Lecture—The Tariff and the Ultimate Consumer, by Henry Crosby Emery, Ph.D., LL.D.

TO THE STUDENTS

At this date, while there is still time to alter plans it may not be amiss to make a few announcements concerning the Maine game to be played here a week from Saturday. In the past the Bowdoin cheering section has been in the grandstand and has suffered considerably because of the lack of compactness. Maine will be present, this year, as usual, with a large rooting section. The bleachers located directly in front of the Hubbard grandstand, are roomy, give an excellent view of the field and are preferred by many to grandstand seats. After considerable consultation with students it has been thought best for all concerned to locate the Bowdoin cheering section in these seats. The section could thus be more compact, the cheering would carry better and the men would get as good a view of the game as in the grandstand seats. This arrangement, however, is not final and the manager would be glad to talk with any student about the matter and get the student sentiment.

Seats for the game will be on sale next Monday afternoon in the Manager's Room in the New Gymnasium. Each student will be limited to the purchase of six seats.

As large a number of students as possible should make plans to occupy the cheering section. Friends and relatives can be located in the grandstand. Every Bowdoin man's place on the afternoon of the Maine game is with the Bowdoin rooters or on the field in uniform.

Robert D. Leigh, Manager.
Club and Council Meetings

The Maine Central Institute Club was formed last week with ten members. At the first meeting the following officers were elected: President, Ivan Merrill '15; Secretary and Treasurer, Ireland '16.

At a recent meeting of the Debating Council, debating prospects were discussed for the next year and committees for the ensuing year formed. This year Bowdoin has a contract to debate both Hamilton and Wesleyan. The committees are as follows: Committee on Interclass Debating, Bacon '15, chairman, McKenney '15, Hyler '15; Committee on Interscholastic Debating, Bickford '14, chairman, Marr '14, Talbot '15.

At the recent meeting of the Bowdoin Publishing Company, the constitution was discussed with the idea of changing parts of it. The constitution with the revised parts will be submitted for approval to the editorial boards of Orient and Quill.

The Library Table

"The New York Times Index" is one of the books in the library which is not consulted by the students nearly as frequently as it should. By means of this book the college has adopted a new method that is an important step toward an ideal reference system. Up to this year the library has kept on file copies of The New York Tribune. But from now on The New York Times, one of the leading Metropolitan newspapers, will take its place.

This change has been brought about by the publication of "The New York Times Index." The Index contains quarterly and contains an exhaustive index of the reading matter in the Times for the three months of time covered. Under each main topic are listed the subdivisions and subjects treated under these heads, with the date of the paper containing the article, together with the page and column. By means of the Index the student has access to complete and accurate contemporary accounts of almost any subject at hand.

The Index is accurate, complete, and exhaustive in its scope. The value of contemporary data is evident, and is much more complete and detailed than the ordinary text-book information. The system also has the advantage of providing up-to-date reading matter on topics of the day, that can be obtained in no other way.

The Index is being received enthusiastically wherever it is introduced and its merit is attested to by librarians in colleges everywhere.

John A. Lowe, Librarian of the Williams College Library, says:—"A careful examination of the first number of "The New York Times Index" manifests clearly its inestimable value in University and College libraries. The bibliographic arrangement is excellent. The classification is clear. The subject headings are well-divided, minute and distinct. The cross-references and generous use of sub-heads brings out much additional material. The notation used allows data to be given in a compact form."

The Index is to be found at the Library, and copies of the Times are placed in the newspaper room daily. The Library will have the Times bound quarterly and back numbers of past years will be reserved in separate volumes. Students who desire complete and accurate information on almost any subject will do well to consult the Index and the files of The New York Times.

On the Campus

About 150 attended the college sing Thursday night.

William G. Hawes, Amherst '97, was a visitor at College last week.

A call has been issued for candidates for reader on the musical clubs.

Russell '14 has returned from a two weeks' business trip to New York.

Kern '12, Shackford '13 and F. J. Libby '94 were on the campus Sunday.

Stone '15 is suffering from a sprained ankle received in football practice last week.

Sousa and Gladys Klarke have been offering rival attractions at a local theatre recently.

The dates of the Annie Talbot Cole lectures have been announced as November 6 and 7.

November 24th is the date of the general review, at which time upper class warnings are issued.

From the amount of rain we have had this last week, we might almost judge that Topsham Fair is still in progress.

Those men who have not received Orients this year should hand their names and college addresses to Gray '14.

Juniors are urged to have their pictures taken immediately at Webber's for the Bugle. Unless the pictures are taken soon it will be impossible to obtain special rates.

Niven '16, Evans '16, Dunn '16, Kuhn '15, and Hayes '14 spent the week-end in Boston.

The announcement made by President Hyde in Sunday Chapel that probably in a few weeks we would see a stiffening of the regulations regarding "majors" caused a noticeable sigh from the student body.

The pamphlet Life at Bowdoin may now be obtained at the Dean’s office. Each student is entitled to one copy which will be sent to any address he leaves at the Dean’s office.

During the past month the campus has received a thorough renovating from end to end. The job has been in charge of J. Pluvius. It is the opinion of the student body that the campus should now be set out to dry.

A number of fellows saw George Cohan in "Broadway Jones" at the Jefferson in Portland last night. George Arliss in “Disraeli” will undoubtedly attract a number to Portland next Monday afternoon and evening.

November third will be the day that many unsuspecting freshmen will receive their first formal invitation to call on the powers that be. Warnings are notices sent out to all freshmen who have not made a grade of 60 or better in any of their courses. A warning in one course may be worked off, but a major warning or a notice of failure in two or more subjects is sufficient cause for probation.

Manager Koughan took a number of cross-country men to Waterville Saturday morning in order that they might walk over the Colby course with Trainer Cohn of Colby. The Maine Intercollegiate Cross-Country race will be held on this course Nov. 5. The final trials for the Bowdoin team will be held Friday, Oct. 31. The men taken to Waterville were Tarbox ’14, Wright ’14, Harper ’16, Irving ’16, Cutler ’15, Forritt ’15, Coxe ’15, Bacon ’15, Balefe ’17, Noyes ’17.

Bowdoin College has recently obtained a Babylonian tablet written with cuneiform letters that is upwards of 4000 years old. It is a bit of temple record from Drehen discovered by Dr. Edgar J. Banks of Greenfield, Mass., who was the field director of the expedition for oriental exploration sent by the University of Chicago to Babylonia. This "oldest book" in the library is of clay, and as it is written on the side as well as on the front and back, it may be said to number three pages. The impressions are remarkably clear.

With the Faculty

Professor James L. McConaughy spoke at Newcastle, Sunday, October 19th.

Professor Davis has been appointed a secretary of the New England Public Speaking Conference. The purpose of this conference will be very similar to that of the Modern Language Conference. Professor Winthrop of Harvard is president and the first meeting will be held in Cambridge during Christmas vacation.

ART BUILDING NOTES

Miss Elizabeth H. Pennell has bequeathed to the College a fine water-color marine by Charles H. Woodbury, which has just been received and is now on exhibition in the Boyd Gallery. She also bequeathed a pencil drawing, a landscape, by Mr. Woodbury, and this latter is on exhibition in the lecture room of the Walker Art Gallery.

The Other Colleges

By a vote of the faculty, "Proclamation Night" has been abolished at the University of Vermont. "Billy" Queal, the noted Canadian distance runner, is coaching the Yale cross-country squad.

The Williams Club of New York City, organized this fall, has a membership of 689.

Hamilton has decided to establish a coeducational summer school in English and oratory, to open in 1914.

Twenty-six men have registered at Williams this fall as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts.

Only twelve men out of a total registration of more than ten thousand responded to the first call for cross-country candidates at Columbia last week.

Violations of the honor code at the University of Illinois are tried before a court of twelve students.

Through a vote of the student body, the tango, turkey trot and other new dances have been barred for the year at the University of Vermont.

The University of Washington is planning to send a crew to England next June to compete with the English colleges in the annual Henley regatta.

According to statistics just compiled at New Hampshire State College, fifty per cent. of the students now enrolled are partially self-supporting, and twenty-five per cent. depend upon parents or friends for no financial aid whatever.

The smaller colleges of the east are considering the formation of an intercollegiate association for the purpose of securing proper rating and better recognition for their athletic teams.

The University of Oregon Department of Journalism, although only one year old, opened this fall with a registration of ninety-three students, and ranks fourth largest among the schools of journalism in the United States.

The fraternity scholarship trophy for the second semester of 1912-13 at Western Reserve was won by Alpha Delta Phi. Delta Upsilon was second and Phi Gamma Delta third.

By a vote of 315 to 20, the freshman class of the Wharton Engineering School, a department of the University of Pennsylvania, has adopted the honor system for the present collegiate year.

Newcombe College, the women’s department of Tulane University, will shortly occupy new quarters adjoining the men’s college. A central building, a dormitory, an art museum, and a music building will be erected at a cost of $1,500,000.

The Intercollegiate Socialist Society, organized “to promote an intelligent interest in socialism among college men and women,” reports, at the beginning of its eighth year of activity, a membership of sixty-four undergraduate and twelve alumni study chapters, an increase of twenty-one over last year.

Syracuse students have commenced the planting of fifteen million young trees at the experiment station of the New York State College of Forestry. It is expected that these trees, which will eventually develop into a forest of fifty acres, will prove a valuable investment.

Statistics show that college women marry a year or two later than non-college women, usually get better husbands, average a fraction more children per marriage, and rear a larger percentage of these children to manhood and womanhood than do their fellow women who do not get the benefits of a college education.—Case Tech.

Four million dollars will be the cost of eight new buildings to be added to the Harvard Campus. The buildings are either just completed, or are in the process of construction, and include a library, freshman dormitories, the stadium bridge, a music building, a museum, two laboratories, and an herbarium.

Alumni Department

'74.—News has been received of the death of Willard R. Hemmenway at St. Paul, Minn., on Sept. 23. After graduation he was for two years principal of Greeley Institute at Cumberland, Me. He then taught for a year at Minneapolis, Minn., and began in 1879 his long career at La Crosse, Wis., where he was principal of the high school for nearly thirty years. The closing years of his life were ones of ill health spent near St. Paul.

'89.—The recently published annual report of Emerson S. Adams, A.M., Superintendent of Schools at Central Falls, R. I., shows that he has under his charge ninety-five teachers and nearly two thousand pupils.

'03.—Farnsworth G. Marshall has been chosen superintendent of schools at Malden, Mass., following his four years’ service in the same position in Augusta. There were 35 candidates for the position.

Mr. Marshall was born in Upper Fairmont, Md., Sept. 25, 1875. He was principal of the High School at Old Town after his graduation from Bowdoin and then became principal of the High School at Augusta, being made superintendent in 1910. During his college course, he attained high marks in his studies and was prominent as a debater.

'03.—Dr. Seldon O. Martin is Instructor in Commercial Organization and Director of the Bureau of Business Research at Harvard University. It was under his immediate charge that, in 1911, the Bureau made a standardization of methods in buying, selling, stock-keeping and accounting in the retail shoe store.

'12.—Both the faculty and the students have expressed admiration for John L. Hurley’s manly act and sympathy with him in his injuries. The training which the former captain received on the football team surely stood him in good stead, by enabling him to act quickly and courageously in the attempt to save Samuel Peters from death in the live wire accident at Malden.

The College is pleased to learn by the latest report that, although his right hand was severely burned, no amputation whatever will be necessary. Hurley is rapidly recovering.
BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XLIII  BRUNSWICK, MAINE, NOVEMBER 4, 1913  NO. 17

BOWDOIN 10—BATES 7.  NOV. 1

At the beginning of the second half the Bowdoin team came on the field with a score of 7-0 against them. The moment the ball was put into play it was seen that the old Bowdoin spirit—that spirit which has won so many games in the last few minutes of scrimmage—was dominating the whole team. Down the field they went, rush after rush, persistent, irresistible. Weatherill and Foster smashed through Bates’ line for gains of 5 to 20 yards at every rush. At last the ball was on the 20 yard line. Captain Weatherill shot through tackle for a touchdown. Leadbetter kicked the goal, and the score was tied. But the Polar Bear was not yet satiated. The smashing attack went on, until near the close of the fourth period, with the ball on Bates’ 20 yard line, LaCasce, the dependable, was sent in. Dropping back he coolly booted the ball in a perfect kick over the bar, and the game was won.

The whole game was a splendid exhibition of good generalship, hard fighting and dogged persistence. The advantage shifted constantly and served to keep the cheering sections on nerves’ edge.

No praise can be too high for the splendid work done by Captain Weatherill. Not only did he instill a spirit of win-or-die in his team but he set them the example of a whirlwind attack, and a rock-like defense.

To “Herb” Foster, also, belongs much of the glory of victory. His line plunging was phenomenal; his tackling hard and clean. His 20 yard plunge through the line was one of the features of the game. And to LaCasce, cool-headed, steady, and dependable, we owe much for our victory!

The game was marred by the great number of penalties imposed on both teams for holding. But this may be excused in the light of the fierceness of the game.

Bowdoin came back in the face of an imposing score and a strong team.

FIRST PERIOD

Bates won the toss. Captain Danahy decided to receive the kick and to defend the west goal. Mountfort kicked to Cobb who was brought down on his 20 yard line. Eldredge was held for no gain, but on the next play skirted right end for 8 yards. Mountfort tackled Butler for no gain around right end. Eldredge made first down through center, and then rushed the ball 5 yards. Dyer fumbled, and Weatherill recovered. Fitzgerald smashed through center for 15 yards. Brown made 3 yards, and Fitzgerald four. Manuel tackled Weatherill for a loss. Bowdoin held for downs. Bates was unable to gain. Eldredge punted 55 yards to Brown who was dumped by Danahy. On the next play Bowdoin was penalized 15 yards for holding. Lewis dropped back in punt formation and Weatherill tore through for 10 yards. Tackled by Kerr. Incomplete pass, Weatherill to A. Pratt. Lewis punted to Davis on the 35 yard line. He was tackled after making 3 yards. Eldredge made 7 yards in two rushes through right tackle. Eldredge hurt. Bates attempted a trick forward pass—a double pass behind the line—but Foster broke it up. Bowdoin’s ball on the 50 yard line. Brown thrown for a loss by Butler in an end run. Weatherill fumbled and Harding recovered the ball. Bates worked a forward pass, Dyer to Cobb. Eldredge 3 yards and first down. Ball was on Bowdoin’s 45 yard line. Dyer went through center for 19 yards and was pulled down on the 26 yard line by Weatherill. Butler made 4 yards, and Dyer 1. (Bates’ cheering section pleaded for a touchdown.) Bowdoin held for downs on her 18 yard line. Colbath replaced LaCasce. Colbath no gain. Brown no gain. Lewis punted 40 yards to Davis. Dyer made 3 yards. Eldredge held for no gain through tackle. Bates penalized 15 yards for holding. End of period. Ball on Bates’ 28 yard line.

SECOND PERIOD

Talbot replaced Davis, and Stillman went in for H. Cobb.

Weatherill and Colbath made first down by two plunges through the tackles. “Herb” Foster, in two rushes through the center of the line, tore off 7 yards. Bowdoin was penalized 15 yards for holding in the line. Foster made 3 yards around right end. Lewis punted 30 yards to Talbot who was dropped in his tracks by Weatherill. Dyer made 10 yards around right end. Dyer 2 yards through center. Leadbetter tackled Butler for no gain around left end. Bates then attempted a triple pass toward left end. A. Pratt broke it up. Talbot punted 25 yards to Weatherill who advanced the ball 5 yards. Lew Brown thrown for a loss around left end. Foster made 5 yards through center. Foster 1 yard through center. Lewis punted 30 yards to Talbot. Eldredge 3 yards through center. Bates fumbled and Bowdoin recovered. Foster made 3 yards around right end. Colbath 1 yard through guard. Brown was held for no gain through center. Colbath dropped back for a place kick from the 45 yard line. The kick went wide and rolled outside on Bates' 10 yard line. Dyer made 5 yards around left end. Eldredge held for a gain of only 1 yard by Mountfort. Talbot 2 yards through center. Bates penalized 15 yards for holding. Talbot punted 20 yards to Lew Brown. Foster 10 yards through left tackle. Colbath 3 yards through center. Bowdoin penalized 15 yards for holding. Foster made 4 yards. Forward pass to Brown for a gain of 10 yards. Colbath tried place kick from 40 yard line and failed. Danahy recovered the ball on Bates' 10 yard line. Dyer held for no gain through "Monti." Dyer 2 yards through center. Talbot punted to Brown, who ran the ball back 10 yards. Weatherill gained 3 yards on an end-around play. Bates was penalized 5 yards for being off side. First down for Bowdoin with ball on Bowdoin's 37 yard line. Colbath no gain through left tackle. Lewis dropped back to punt. Kerr broke through and blocked the punt. P. Cobb recovered the ball, and with a clear field ran it back 15 yards for a touchdown. Cobb kicked the goal. Bowdoin kicked off to the 15 yard line. Cobb made 15 yards around left end. Kennedy held for no gain. Talbot 10 yards through center. End of half, with ball on Bates' 44 yard line. Bates, 7; Bowdoin, 0.

FOURTH PERIOD

Manuel returned to the game in place of Clifford. Kennedy replaced Connor. Talbot punted to Brown, who was tackled on the 34 yard line by Eldredge. Foster made 2 yards around left end on a triple pass. Weatherill made 4 yards; tackled by Brooks. Stuart replaced Brown at quarter. Colbath no gain. Dyer went in for Manuel. Colbath tried place kick from 40 yard line and missed by a yard. Bates' ball on their 20 yard line. Butler made 6 yards; tackled by C. Foster. Butler no gain through center. Forward pass failed. Talbot kicked to Stuart. Kennedy got tackle. Lewis made 5 yards around right end from punt formation. Weatherill 3 yards. Colbath passed to Stuart. Play broken up. Lewis kicked to Talbot. Talbot fumbled the ball and recovered it behind his goal for a touchback. Bates' ball on 20 yard line. Talbot tackled by Lewis for no gain on a plunge through center. Talbot punted to Stuart on 50 yard line. Stuart ran the ball back 15 yards. Foster 5 yards through left tackle.
Lew Brown replaced Stuart. Ball now on Bates' 35 yard line with five minutes to play. Kennedy laid out. Replaced by Connors. Weatherill made 10 yards before he was stopped by Deweese. Weatherill 3 yards through left tackle. Colbath 1 yard through left tackle. Foster made first down by a 4 yard plunge. Colbath 1 yard around right end. LaCasce replaced Colbath. Ball now on Bates' 20 yard line. LaCasce 2 yards. Foster 2 yards. The ball was on Bates' 16 yard line with three minutes to play and the score tied. When LaCasce dropped back for a kick, the crowd fairly held their breath. Back came the ball, and LaCasce sent it over the bar true as a die. Score 10-7, with only about three minutes to play. Davis replaced Connors, and Cobb, Brooks. Bowdoin kicked off to Cobb on 5 yard line. Lewis got tackle. Eldredge made 5 yards. Foster intercepted a forward pass on the 40 yard line and made 5 yards. Cliff Foster made 5 yards around right end by a very smooth fake pass. Weatherill no gain. H. Foster 5 yards. Weatherill no gain. Bates' ball on 35 yard line. Eldredge's attempt at a field goal was missed. Mountfort injured and Moore disqualified for rough playing. Russell took Moore's place. Brewster replaced Mountfort. Bates penalized half the distance to her goal. In the remaining few minutes of play, Bates made desperate efforts by forward passes and on side kicks to advance the ball down the field. When the whistle blew the ball was on Bates' 30 yard line.

POLAR BEAR AND ELEPHANT CLASH

Both winners in Maine state games Saturday demonstrated their ability in the second half. With Bates ahead by the score of seven to nothing, Bowdoin won the game in the last half by making a touchdown and a goal from the field. Played almost to a standstill in the first two periods, Maine defeated Colby in the second half by making a goal from the field,—the only score of the contest.

Conservative prophecies only can be made about the Bowdoin-Maine game at Brunswick next Saturday, but the general opinion is that the team that can put up the stronger battle in the second half will win out.

Throughout the season both Bowdoin and Maine have offered splendid exhibitions of "come back" after their opponents have gained ground almost at will. Maine, in her game with Yale, showed strength to hold a supposedly superior even to the last whistle, and Bowdoin, in the Trinity game, showed ability to hold even the near-all-American Hudson.

That Bowdoin can rely on a possible goal from the field was proved Saturday. Although the first two tries went wide, the third kick from placement missed only by inches, while the fourth attempt, LaCasce's drop kick, could not have been better. Maine also has a star drop kicker in the person of Ruffner, who made Maine's only tally against Colby.

Maine has the technical advantage through her defeat of Colby after Colby won from Bowdoin, but it must be remembered that a bad first quarter was responsible for ten of Colby's 12 points, and after that neither side was able to advance with any degree of certainty.

But those who think Maine has the victory secure are doomed to disappointment. With Saturday's victory fresh at hand, Bowdoin's chances of the game are more than even. Coached to the height of perfection by Tom McCann and kept in the pink of condition by Trainer Magee, the Bowdoin team should be able to keep Maine's defense from crossing the goal line, and should be able to make at least one score against the Orono team.

Thus far Bowdoin and Maine have met in 17 games of football. Bowdoin has won 10 of these games and Maine 6. The 1910 game was a scoreless tie. Here are the scores of all the games:

1893—Bowdoin, 12; Maine, 10.
1896—Bowdoin, 12; Maine, 6.
1898—Bowdoin, 20; Maine, 0.
1899—Bowdoin, 14; Maine, 0.
1900—Bowdoin, 38; Maine, 0.
1901—Maine, 22; Bowdoin, 5.
1902—Maine, 10; Bowdoin, 0.
1903—Maine, 16; Bowdoin, 0.
1904—Bowdoin, 22; Maine, 5.
1905—Maine, 18; Bowdoin, 0.
1906—Bowdoin, 6; Maine, 0.
1907—Bowdoin, 34; Maine, 5.
1908—Bowdoin, 10; Maine, 0.
1909—Bowdoin, 22; Maine, 0.
1910—Bowdoin, 0; Maine, 0.
1911—Maine, 15; Bowdoin, 0.
1912—Maine, 17; Bowdoin, 0.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

The annual fall outdoor Interclass Track Meet, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 29, was won by the Freshmen with a score of 40 points. The Sophomores secured 24 points, the Seniors 12 and the Juniors 9. Wyman '16 and Crosby '17 were tied for individual honors with ten points each. Keene, Balfe, Sampson and Fillmore were Freshmen who did good work.

Masque and Gown Starts

While student interest is bent on the football team and its prospects, another student activity of a different nature is this week making its annual beginning. The Masque and Gown will start on the work for its Ivy play with the reading Wednesday evening. The work of the club will this year be watched with great interest by those who saw what a rapid advance was made in Bowdoin dramatics last season. The opportunity for participation in this branch of activity is good, as there are very few experienced men in the student body. The appeal to the man who is an upper-classman and who has not yet identified himself with any student activity should be strong. Only a large number of competitors will ensure a successful season. Anyone is eligible to turn out. We are pleased to note that the club will for the first time in a number of years take several trips with their plays. Such a feature should prove an inducement to candidates.

MASQUE AND GOWN Chooses PLAY
Announcement was made recently by the Executive Committee of the Masque and Gown, Bowdoin’s dramatic club, that “The Marriage of Kitty” has been chosen for the road production and Ivy play. This is a bright comedy which was written ten years ago especially for Marie Tempest and was produced first in London.

Announcement has also been made that the Commencement play will be Shakespeare’s “Twelfth Night.” Trials for this production will be held some time this month. All students desiring to try for parts in this production are advised to read over the play and determine their choice of a part. Professor Elliott will cooperate in the direction and production of this play.

The membership of the Masque and Gown is composed of those elected by the club from the casts of its two productions. The present membership is as follows: Leigh ’14, president; Callahan ’14, manager; Hall ’15, assistant manager; Head ’16, Elwell ’15, P. Donahue ’14, Bacon ’15, P. White ’14, Russell ’14, Buell ’14, Cole ’14, Evans ’15, MacDonald ’15. Honorary members, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Brown, Professor Frederick W. Brown, Professor Herbert Bell, Dr. Charles T. Burnett. Dr. Burnett is Faculty Advisor.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CROSS COUNTRY
Thirty-two men will answer the starter’s pistol at Waterville tomorrow in the second annual cross-country race between the four Maine colleges. The Bowdoin trials were Friday afternoon and although no time was given out, it is understood that the leaders finished in close to record time. The runners who made the team finished in the following order: Crosby ’17, Captain Tarbox ’14, Wright ’14, Irving ’16, Hargraves ’16, Noyes ’17, Porritt ’15, Cutler ’15. Bailey ’17 is alternate. All the men finished in good condition.

Through her victory over Dartmouth, Maine appears to have the call in tomorrow’s race. In Wenz, Colby has a man who has been picked by sporting writers as first place winner. Bowdoin’s hill and dale men have improved wonderfully during the past few weeks and Coach Magee’s charges should render a good account of themselves.

Timers.—Dr. G. F. Parmiter of Waterville, L. E. Willard of Waterville and S. M. Josephs of Waterville.

Clerk of Course.—Robert Ervin of Colby.
Assistant Clerk of Course.—Irving Merrill of Colby.
Announcer.—L. E. Warren of Colby.
Scorers.—Harry Stinson of Waterville, Capt. Harold Pepper of Waterville, A. W. Blake of Waterville, M. C. McAlary of Maine, F. Hawes of Colby.

Assistant Scorers.—Paul Cristaffer, Harold Rand, Robert Willard, Louis Willard, Ray Luce, all of Colby.
Inspectors.—Irving Carson, Leonard Shea, Daniel Whipple, Gerald Lucas, James Carroll, Peter Mayers, Charles Scribner and Alfred Richardson.

’68 PRIZE SPEAKERS
The following men have been chosen from the class of 1914 to compete in the Class of ’68 Prize Speaking Contest in January:—Elwyn C. Gage, Alfred E. Gray, Robert D. Leigh, Alfred W. Newcombe, Kenneth A. Robinson, Richard E. Simpson.

CLASS ELECTIONS
The Sophomores and Freshmen held class elections last Friday. J. B. Moulton was elected captain, and A. B. Haggert, Jr., manager, of the Sophomore football team. The Freshmen chose for class treasurer S. H. Colton, Jr., for football captain F. J. Corbett, and for football manager, N. U. McConaughy.

The teams will start practicing immediately for the annual Freshman-Sophomore football game, which will be played the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

MANDOLIN CLUB SELECTIONS
The following men have been retained for the mandolin club: Barton ’14, leader; Stratton ’16, Dalrymple ’17, True ’17, Standish ’14, Demmons ’15, Lappin ’15, Chase ’16, Cruff ’16, Hall ’15, Stone ’17, Hale ’16, Little ’16, Dunton ’15, Worthwell ’16, Tapley ’16, Boutwell ’17, Parmenter ’17, Tuttle ’14, Achorn ’17, McCargo ’14, Elwell ’15.
and Kelley '16. Another cut will be made before the final selection.

READING FOR MASQUE AND GOWN PLAY

Tomorrow evening at 8.15 in the Delta Kappa Epsilon House Mrs. Arthur F. Brown, the director of the Masque and Gown will give a reading of "The Marriage of Kitty," which is to be produced this winter by the college dramatic organization. The purpose of this reading is to familiarize the candidates for parts with the various characters in the play, so that they may more intelligently choose the part for which they will try out. Any student in college is invited by the club to attend. At this meeting the time and details for the trials will be announced.

Manager Callahan announces that this play will be used as the club's vehicle in several productions in Maine cities and towns. There will be performances in Portland, Bath, Bangor, Augusta and probably Rockland. Trips into New Hampshire may also be taken. This play will be used also for the annual Ivy production.

DAN CRAWFORD HERE SUNDAY

To spend 23 years in the heart of Africa, to be condemned to death by native cannibals and later made their king, to hold services over the spot where the heart of the explorer Livingston was buried, to translate the Bible into a language having 32 tenses and 19 genders—these are experiences which make Dan Crawford a unique man.

Mr. Crawford will speak next Sunday at the morning service and at Sunday School at the Church on the Hill, at the College Chapel services, and will give his illustrated lecture in the evening in Memorial Hall.

BATES GAME RALLY

A rally was held in Memorial Hall last Friday evening, before the Bates game. Callahan '14 presided and opened the meeting with announcements about trains and tickets for the Lewiston trip. The first speaker was Professor Hutchins, who talked of the age and universality of sport and concluded by urging the team to go in and finish its work, for every Bowdoin man was expecting it to do its utmost.

After "Brosie" Burns had prophesied victory, Professor Nixon was introduced. He praised vigorous cheering and spoke of the sort of spirit which we should have toward these games. The last speaker was Col. E.C. Plummer '87, who told of the power back of Bowdoin championship crews and teams in the past and said that the same qualities that enable us to score victories here will bring us success in the game of life.

There was a good attendance and much enthusiasm. The meeting closed with cheers and "Bowdoin Beata."

SECOND ROUND OF TENNIS

The second round of the Fall Tennis Tournament has been partially played off and the following results were obtained: Card '15 beat Nason '14, 8-6, 8-6; Greely '16 beat Ogle '17, 6-0, 6-2; Hyland '17 beat Woodman '16, 6-3, 6-3; Ladd '16 beat Coffin '15, 6-2, 6-1.

Club and Council Meetings

A meeting of the Deutscher Verein was held at Professor Ham's house on Wednesday, Oct. 29. The feature of the meeting was the address of Professor Evansius, the Prussian Exchange teacher at Phillips Exeter Academy. Prof. Evansius spoke in German and gave a very interesting talk on Kaiser Wilhelm.

After the talk the Verein elected officers for the current year. The result of the election was as follows: Vorstand, Neal Tuttle '14; Schriftwart, F. T. Garland '14; Kassenwart, H. W. Hamblen '14. The meeting closed with the singing of German student songs.

The Gibbons Club met for its first meeting last Tuesday evening, but as all the members were not informed of the meeting, very few were present and no business was accomplished. The next meeting will be held this evening at the Theta Delta Chi House.

The Library Table

The library has recently obtained two books of unusual nature and interest. One is unique in that there are probably only one or two other volumes of its kind in existence. With the exception of one in the Boston Public Library, there is undoubtedly no book like it.

This little book bears this rather long and quaint inscription on the title page: "Unfruitful Hearers detected and warned; or a Discourse wherein the Danger of, and by, Unprofitable Hearing is laid open and cautioned against." The book was first published in 1696, but there are probably no copies of this earlier edition left today. The second edition was issued May 10, 1754. This curiously printed volume is interesting more as a curiosity than as a work of recognized and established literary merit. The printing is the old style, the s's closely resembling our f's, and all the nouns being capitalized.

The other book is one of the recent gifts to the library. It is a finely printed edition of the Greek testament, published at Amsterdam in 1711 and presented by General Ellis Spear of Washington, D. C., class of 1858. The volume is made doubly interesting and valuable from its previous owners, Alpheus S. Packard, D.D., the instructor of Henry W. Longfellow and Nathaniel Hawthorne, once owned the book. Professor Samuel Adams of Illinois College also owned the book at one time, as did the recently deceased Robert S. Packard, A.M., of Washington, D. C.

On the Campus

Wallace '17 has left college. Freshman warnings came out yesterday. Fobes '17 has been at home on account of sickness.

Conant '13 and Holt '13 were in Brunswick Saturday.

"Bowdoin peanuts" were much in demand at Lewiston Saturday.

A number of Bowdoin professors saw the game in Lewiston Saturday.

The Saturday Club will give a concert in Memorial Hall next Monday night.

Koughan '15 has been away from College for a few days on account of business.

"X" Callahan is carefully guarding a horseshoe that he found on the way home from the Bates game.

According to reports of the weather man, last month was twice as wet as any October for 38 years.

Beta Theta Pi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon and Psi Upsilon will have dances after the Maine game Saturday.

Bridgham '17, who was called home on account of his mother's illness, is expected to return to College within a week.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet next Sunday after Mr. Crawford's evening meeting at the Beta house.

Alan R. Cole '14 went to Boston Friday to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Rollins '15, who was operated on for appendicitis in Portland recently, returned to his home in Bangor yesterday. It is not known when he will be able to return to College.

The dramatic club will meet tomorrow night at 8.15 at the D. K. E. house. Sophomores who intend to go out for assistant manager of the dramatic club should hand their names at once to Callahan at the Beta house.

The 1913 cross-country cup, which was won this fall by the Freshmen, is to be engraved with the numerals of each winning class, and it will become the permanent possession of that class which wins it three times. The cup will probably be placed in the gymnasium with the other trophies.

Sum Mountfort, who was injured in the Bates game Saturday, was brought home to the Theta Delta Chi house Sunday from Mt. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston. He was unconscious for about two hours but recovered sufficiently to travel Sunday. He is gaining rapidly but there is great doubt as to whether he will be able to play next Saturday or not.

A Freshman meeting will be held in Memorial Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 7:30. A short business meeting will be held first and a general good time will follow. One of the features will be a stereopticon lecture on "Old Bowdoin" by Professor McConaughy. The object is to let the Freshmen meet all of their classmates. "Eats" of some sort will be served.

With the Faculty

Gerald G. Wilder, assistant librarian of the College, has purchased Mr. Alvord's house on Page street. Mr. Alvord will reside on McLellan street.

Professor James McConaughy will give a talk on "Fighters and Quitters" at the men's banquet of the Winter Street Congregational Church in Rockland tomorrow evening.

Doctor Little gave a talk last week on "The Use of the Library" to those men interested in debating.

Alumni Department

The request was made last year that the alumni of the College send in occasional contributions to their department of the Orient. Many of them have accordingly given us interesting and vital material, which we have ever been pleased to publish. But we do not believe that the alumni, as a whole, have given us anything like the amount of news which they are in a position to give. We usually have to procure our news by more indirect means. Now, Bowdoin men are active and prosperous throughout the country. A record of these activities can find no place more appropriate and more hospitable than the columns of the Orient. The undergraduates always welcome any news from the alumni. They are interested in the more successful and in the less successful. And, furthermore, the alumni are interested in the deeds of one another. They are to realize, we hope, that this is their own department. Now, a little more cooperation!

'94.—At a recent meeting, the directors of the Canal National Bank of Portland elected William W. Thomas to the position of president to succeed his father, Elias Thomas, who died about two weeks ago. Born April 18, 1873, he is thus at the age of forty one of the younger bank presidents of New England. He was the third William Widgery Thomas to be graduated at Bowdoin. He was graduated at the law department of Leland Stanford, Jr., University in 1897, and became a member of the Cumberland Bar in 1898. For many years he had been an associate of his father's in the real estate and timberland business. He has also been a director of the Canal National Bank for some years, being therefore well qualified to undertake his new duties.

'95.—At the fall meeting of the Boston Life Underwriters Association, October 28th, J. Everett Hicks, who is Massachusetts Manager of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Co., delivered an address on the Three Essentials of Successful Life Insurance Salesmanship. Mr. Hicks is just moving into new offices in the new Merchants' National Bank Building, at the head of State St. William R. Spinney '13 is with Mr. Hicks.

'96.—William W. Lawrence, Ph.D., has edited Much Ado About Nothing for the MacMillan Company. Dr. Lawrence is professor of English at Columbia.

'03.—Charles P. Connors was married to Miss Marion Brown of Belmont, Mass., Wednesday evening, October 22, at the chapel of St. Cecilia's Church in Boston. The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. James A. Supple of the church. Miss Marjorie Brown of Belmont was the bridesmaid. Thomas C. White of Lewiston, a classmate of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were Walter M. Sanborn '05 of Augusta, Francis H. Kendall of Belmont, and two brothers of the bride, both of Belmont. The wedding ceremony was attended by many of the friends. It was followed by a reception at the bride's home, 45 Common St., Belmont. After a wedding trip of two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Connors will reside at 45 Highland Avenue, Bangor, where they will be at home after January 1st. Mr. Connors is one of the prominent younger members of the Penobscot County Bar, being a successful practising attorney in Bangor. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Connors. He received his degree from the University of Maine College of Law. At Bowdoin he was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. He is a member of the Maine Legislature.

'04.—Philip M. Clark, Harvard Law School '07, is Progressive candidate for County Attorney in Middlesex County.

'07.—Mr. Paul A. Buttrick has recently received an appointment in the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

'09.—The committee of arrangements for the fifth reunion of the class of 1909, to be held at Bowdoin during Commencement Week of next spring, met in the office of Irving Rich, Portland, on Tuesday, October 28, to talk over the plans of the coming celebration. At the meeting it was voted to send a challenge to the class of 1904, who at the same time are to hold their tenth anniversary, for a track meet and ball game, to take place at the Gurnet on Wednesday afternoon of Commencement Week. Besides issuing the challenge, it was voted to hold a grand celebration in the shape of fireworks and band concerts Tuesday night in front of the Alexander house, which will be the headquarters of the class during the week. The Brunswick Band will furnish the music. Other arrangements were talked over and the meeting adjourned. The committee of arrangements for the class reunion is composed of President William Harris of Westbrook Seminary, Ralph O. Brewster of Portland, John S. Simmons of New York, and Irving Rich of Portland.

'10.—Frank D. Townsend, who since graduation has been connected with the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., in Boston, has recently been appointed assistant traffic chief in the New Bedford district.

'12.—Several of the fellows who visited “Jack” Hurley last week were pleased to find him rapidly recovering and of good cheer.
BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. XLIII  BRUNSWICK, MAINE, NOVEMBER II, 1913  NO. 18

BOWDOIN, 0; MAINE, 9—Nov. 8

Maine beat Bowdoin last Saturday by a score of 9-0, thus winning a clear title to the State championship.

Up to the third period the game was one of the most closely contested ever seen in this state. Both teams fought every inch of ground with every grain of spirit in them. At the end of the first half the supporters of both colleges were predicting a scoreless tie. Then came that disastrous third period. After Bowdoin had held Maine for downs on the 4 yard line and had punted out of danger, Brown fumbled Cobb's return punt and Donahue fell on the ball for a touchdown. In the fourth period Maine made her only earned score by a drop kick from the 15 yard line. The score of 9-0 can in no way express the closeness and fierceness of the game. Maine won by her ability to follow the ball and by her heavy shifty line.

In praising the Bowdoin players one is at a loss, for we all feel that every man played the greatest game of his life. Time and again Maine sent her backs crashing against the stone wall of Bowdoin's line for no gain. From end to end the line played as one man, and with a fierceness and aggressiveness that characterized the whole game. Leadbetter, Brewer and Burns were the pillars of strength. Captain Weatherill, playing his last state championship game for old Bowdoin, by his personal example of fight and pluck inspired his team to a frenzied attack and defense.

An enumeration of the personal prowess of each man is superfluous for those who saw the wonderful game. Bowdoin lost. Rightfully we have nothing more to say, yet there is not a supporter of the White who in his heart does not feel that the fickle goddess Fortune held the destiny of the game.

FIRST PERIOD

Maine won the toss and chose to defend the east goal and to receive the kick. Stuart kicked off to Cobb on the 12 yard line. Cobb ran the ball back to the 36 yard line where he was stopped by Weatherill. Cobb dropped back for a punt but the pass went over his head and rolled to the 12 yard line. Brewer got the tackle. Martin made 1 yard through the right side of the line. Cobb punted 53 yards to Stuart, who was nailed in his tracks. Bowdoin gained two yards in two rushes through the center of the line. Lewis punted 15 yards and Bowdoin recovered the ball on a fumble. Fitzgerald made 2 yards through left tackle. Weatherill made 2 yards on a fake pass through left tackle. Bowdoin was tackled for a loss of 1 yard. Lewis punted to the 15 yard line to Ruffner, who ran the ball back 5 yards. Martin made 5 yards through left tackle. Cobb dropped back into punt formation and took the ball around left end for 15 yards. Tackled by Stuart. Donahue and Martin made 5 yards. Cobb punted 45 yards to Stuart, who ran the ball back 5 yards before Ruffner and Murray got him. Fitzgerald made 1 yard through right tackle. Weatherill fumbled and Leadbetter recovered for a 3 yard loss. Lewis punted 30 yards to Cobb who was tackled by A. Pratt. Cobb fumbled and Bowdoin recovered. Lewis punted 35 yards to Cobb, who returned the punt to Stuart. Sawyer got the tackle after the ball had been advanced 15 yards. Fitzgerald made 6 yards in two rushes through right tackle. Colbath no gain. Lewis punted to Cobb on the 15 yard line. Donahue made 1 yard through center. Purington 14 yards around right end on a fake kick. Cobb punted to Stuart on the 25 yard line. Colbath no gain through center. Weatherill made 4 yards in two rushes through the right side of the line. Lewis punted to Cobb on Bowdoin's 45 yard line. Cobb punted 35 yards to Stuart. Bowdoin made 5 yards through rushes. Lewis punted to Ruffner. End of period. Ball on Bowdoin's 37 yard line.

SECOND PERIOD

Donahue, Martin and Purington opened the period, and by a gain of 12 yards placed the ball on Bowdoin's 24 yard line. Ruffner then tried for a field goal from the 31 yard line but the try failed. LaCasce made 5 yards through right tackle, and after an unsuccessful attempt by Foster, Weatherill made 8 through right tackle. Herb Foster, on three rushes made 7 yards, but on Weatherill's unsuccessful attempt to make first down Maine got the ball on her 44 yard line. Maine then drove Bowdoin back to her 28 yard line, where Bowdoin intercepted Cobb's forward pass, and LaCasce made 6 around the left end. After Foster had made 1 yard, Bowdoin was penalized 15 yards for holding. Murray then drove Lewis back 3 yards and the latter punted, putting the ball on Maine's 43 yard line. Cobb then kicked 27 yards and Weatherrill, after making 6 through right tackle, made 17 around right end.

Bowdoin, in the next line up, was penalized 15 yards, and Lewis punted 40 yards to Cobb. Bowdoin held here, and Cobb punted for 20 yards. Foster, Weatherill and Brown then added 13 yards and the half closed with Bowdoin in possession of the ball on Maine's 36 yard line.

THIRD PERIOD

Brown received Gulliver's kick off and ran 11 yards when he was downed by Martin. After unsuccessful rushes by Foster and LaCasce, Lewis punted to Cobb. After rushing the ball for a yard, Maine kicked 35 yards to Brown, whom Purington immediately downed. Lewis then kicked a spiral which sailed 45 yards before being received by Cobb. Maine then carried the ball to Bowdoin's 47 yard line, where Brewster recovered the ball on Martin's fumble. Lewis punted, and it was returned, on Bowdoin's 25 yard line. Foster fumbled, and when Purington obtained the ball, Maine made first down on Bowdoin's 15 yard line. Maine then made 5 through right tackle, but after several rushes, Maine failed to go her distance, and Lewis punted from the 6 yard line. After Donahue had gone through center for 3, Cobb punted to Brown and on a fumble Donahue made the touchdown. Cobb kicked out, but the ball fell, leaving the score 6-0 in favor of Maine. After Bowdoin had kicked, Martin made 5, and Cobb punted 30 yards to Brown. Lewis then kicked for 45 yards, and Maine brought the ball to the 47 yard mark, and then punted to Bowdoin's 25 yard line. The period closed after Bowdoin had brought the ball back 10 yards.

FOURTH PERIOD

Lewis punted to Ruffner who received it on the 40 yard line, but immediately Cobb kicked to Bowdoin's 20 yard line. Bowdoin then punted and Cobb made a 26 yard run around Bowdoin's left end, placing the ball on her 12 yard line. Donahue and Ruffner then rushed the ball 4 yards more, and on the 16 yard line Ruffner made an unsuccessful try at a drop kick. After being pushed back, Bowdoin punted to Maine on her 24 yard line. Maine after unsuccessful attempts at a forward pass, punted, and Baker took the ball on Bowdoin's first play. Maine then carried the ball to Bowdoin's 3 yard line where the White held for downs, and then punted. After Maine had been penalized 15 yards for holding, Cobb punted to Stuart on Bowdoin's 10 yard line. Bowdoin tried a forward pass which went to Maine on the 20 yard line. Maine then made a yard on forward passes, and Cobb made the drop kick which gave them three more points. The period closed soon after, with no important plays by either team.

THE LAST GAME

Next Saturday afternoon in Portland the Bowdoin football team plays the last game of the present season and, incidentally, the final college game on a Maine gridiron, against the Tufts team. Early in the season Coach McCann predicted that Tufts would be the strongest team Bowdoin would meet this year and from present indications this prediction is entirely true. He did not add that Bowdoin would present their strongest front of the season against the Massachusetts champions of the season, but it is true that his team will enter their last game with all the experience of seven games against strong teams, none the worse for injuries and with all the power and speed and driving force gained from a season's practice and playing. For Tufts, too, this is the final game and they are coming to Portland intent on duplicating their performance of last year at Medford. With a record of defeating Wesleyan, Bates, Maine and Vermont, which Bowdoin has also met, and of defeating the fast Massachusetts Agricultural College team and outplaying West Point, they have received the most favorable comments from the sporting critics throughout the East. Bowdoin will play the best small college team produced in New England this year.

Their play is much different from that of the University of Maine. Their emphasis is on the work of a fast and powerful backfield. The spectacular open style of play, the forward pass and quick shifts, and long end runs are used extensively in their offense. Angell and Wescott are two of the best men ever representing their college. Angell is especially proficient in the throwing of long forward passes.

Against this aggregation will be pitted seven veterans playing their last game for “old Bowdoin” and four other hard-playing men. Those who have watched for four years the work of Captain “Bob” Weatherill, “King” Pratt and “Brose” Burns; for two years, the work of “Lew” Brown, Elroy LaCasce and Arthur Pratt; and this season, the playing of “Sum” Mountfort, know that next Saturday in their final game in a Bowdoin uniform they will play as they never have played before. Steadiness, power and grit and Bowdoin fight are the characteristics of their playing. Mountfort, playing against his old teammates may be counted on for one of his best exc.
hibitions. Against the Wesleyan team Bowdoin prepared a defense for forward passes and its success against that aggregation in this branch was notably successful. Since that game no team has been able to employ this method of offense for any considerable gains against Bowdoin. Next Saturday, however, the White will meet an aggregation whose long suit is this style of play. Those who follow the game will watch with the keenest interest the ability of our men to intercept the long Tufts passes. Such an outlook means a game full of exciting moments, and spectacular plays.

ALL-MAINE ELEVEN

Captain Weatherill and Coach McCann have picked the following all-Maine team: left end, Royal, Colby; left tackle, Murray, Maine; left guard, Pratt, Bowdoin; center, Baker, Maine; right guard, Gulliver, Maine; right tackle, Burns, Bowdoin; right end, Leadbetter, Bowdoin; quarter back, Cobb, Maine; left half back, Fraser, Colby; right half back, Lowney, Colby; full back, Dyer, Bates.

McCann and Weatherill disagreed on the position of right half. McCann wishing to place Weatherill there. The Lewiston Sun yesterday had an all-Maine team chosen by the coach and captain of each team. In nearly every one Weatherill was named.

THE EXCURSION

According to the usual custom there will be an excursion to Portland Saturday for this final game with Tufts. Those who have been in college for a year or more need not be told the pleasures of this football day and evening in Portland. There is the game, always a good one, representing the best and final efforts of two strong teams, in one of whom is your interest and faith and hope. Then there is the celebration of the end of the season and the evening at the theatre. Last year, practically every member of the student body was present at the game. This year there should be none left to keep the faculty company at the late morning recitations.

Arrangements have been made with the Maine Central Railroad for special rates good Saturday to Monday of ninety-five cents round trip. The band will be there and head the student body procession from Union Station to Monument Square. Tufts will be present with the largest rooting squad they have ever sent with the addition of a large number of Boston alumni of both institutions.

The regular train service will be augmented by the addition of extra coaches.

AFTER THE GAME

Through the kindness of the management of the Jefferson Theatre the Saturday evening production of Madame Sherry will be Football Night. Boxes have been tendered the players of both teams on opposite sides of the theatre and there is little doubt but that the students of both colleges will make a memorable occasion of the evening.

Before the theatre party the members of the Bowdoin football squad will hold their annual banquet in the State of Maine room of the Falmouth Hotel. At this time the season’s training will be brought to its official close.

NOTICE

Tickets for the Tufts game will go on sale at the Manager’s Room in the Gymnasium Thursday afternoon 1:30-4:30. This will be the only student sale of these reserved seats and it is absolutely necessary that students get their tickets at this time. The unsold tickets must be returned to Portland for general sale. The price is 50c for general admission, grandstand 50c, bleachers 25c. The Bowdoin cheering section will be in the grandstand.

The Rally vs. Noyes

An interesting contrast between the attitude of the Bowdoin faculty members and that of many other institutions in New England was brought out by the scheduling and holding of the Annie Talbot Cole Lecture on the evening preceding the Maine game. For years this evening has been set aside by the student body and returning graduates for a rally before the big game of the year. Although the annual event has not been raised to the dignity of a Bowdoin Night such as Dartmouth night, before their big game, and Maine Night, it was one of the two large rallies of the year. Loyal alumni who cannot be at the Maine game send back messages for the event and altogether it is one of the most important student gatherings of the year. The wisdom of those in charge of these lectures is not questioned by the Orient. It only illustrates the rather striking attitude of the Bowdoin faculty. At other institutions the faculty co-operate with students in making such rallies a success; the President of the institution presides and prominent faculty members speak. At Bowdoin such a rally is, evidently, considered to be of much less moment. Returning alumni this year were somewhat surprised to find Memorial Hall used for a lecture and reading on International Peace on the eve of our great gridiron struggle and some were very much disappointed. The student body was only partially reconciled to the situation and was represented in great part by Freshmen with English considerations. But, perhaps, we are emphasizing our own special interests too much at the expense of our deeper intellectual training. What do you think?

THE FINAL STANDING

For the third successive year, the University of Maine has won the state football championship, but never has any team had to work the way Maine has to secure it. Following Maine's clean slate comes Colby with two victories and one defeat; Bowdoin, with one victory and two defeats, and Bates, with three losses.

Credit must be given to Maine and to the men who made up the team, but in the giving of that credit, the other three colleges should not be forgotten. Each team put up the stiffest sort of football and stubborn resistance by the losers was often more praiseworthy than the offense of the winners.

Even if Bowdoin failed to win the championship, Bowdoin men cannot but feel pleased with the work of their team and coaches. Although not particularly heavy, Bowdoin's line has held men much heavier and the backs have gained through lines supposedly superior.

But perhaps the greatest praise that Bowdoin can receive is that given by their opponents. Maine's confidence in piling up a huge score is equalled only by her surprise at the game Bowdoin played and the comparatively low one she was obliged to accept.

All four colleges lose heavily by graduation next spring, and a prophecy as to next fall would be more or less of a gamble, but—"here's hoping!"

The absence of the big BOWDOIN banner has been noticed at the games this Fall. The cheering leaders have instituted a search for it, but it is nowhere to be found. It must be had before the excursion Saturday. Let everyone look in his closet for it and that of his neighbors. We must get the BOWDOIN banner. Notify X. Callahan if found.
CONCERT IN MEMORIAL HALL

The concert to be given Monday, November 17, in Memorial Hall, by the Downer-Eaton Trio and Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams of Boston, promises to be a rare treat.

Mrs. Jessie Downer-Eaton is one of Boston's most famous pianists. She has appeared as soloist with the largest and most popular combinations of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and is a favorite with patrons of high class music.

Julius Theodorowicz, the violinst of the trio, is one of the Saturday night soloists of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. For seven years he was one of the famous Kneisel Quartet and for two years was a member of the Hess-Schroeder Quartet. On any concert stage he is always greeted with applause.

Joseph Keller came to this country seventeen years ago to occupy the first desk as violinst in the Boston Symphony Orchestra of which he is still a member.

Mrs. Williams is considered one of the finest singers in this part of the country, and is said to compare favorably with the better artists of the Metropolitan Opera Company. For five years she has been the soloist of the Handel and Haydn Society of Boston, and also soloist with the Cecelia and Apollo Club of Boston.

MAINE TAKES CROSS-COUNTRY RACE

Over a four and one-half mile course of city streets, country roads, fields, and ploughed ground, the Maine Intercollegiate Cross-Country race was run at Waterville, last Wednesday afternoon.

Maine finished with five men among the first seven and won with twenty points. Colby was second with forty-five points, Bowdoin next with seventy-one points and Bates last with one hundred three points. The work of Preti of Maine, Wenz of Colby and Crosby of Bowdoin, all Freshmen, was the feature of the race.

PSI UPSILON DANCE

The Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon held a dance in their house Saturday night after the Maine game.

Among the guests present were: Misses Hilda George of Thomaston, Alberta Marr of Pemaquid Point, Marjorie Howard of Whitman, Mass., Ruth Nearing of Brunswick, Eleanor Kelley of Gardiner, Evelyn Pike of Lubec, Cornelia Danforth of Portland, Mildred Rietta of Portland, Margaret King of Ellsworth, Agnes Sully of New Mexico, Frances Purinton of Augusta, Helen French of Newtonville, Mass. Lucy Jacobs of Thomaston, Gertrude Tuttle of Portland, Ruth Morrill of Portland. C. W. Eaton '10, and B. W. Partridge '11 were also present.

The committee in charge was composed of Earl F. Wilson '14, A. Keith Eaton '15, Alden F. Head '16 and Carl K. Ross '17.

The patronesses were Mrs. Charles G. Bancroft of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. George B. Keene of Augusta. Music for the order of twenty dances was furnished by the Apollo Orchestra.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON DANCE

Delta Kappa Epsilon held a dancing party Saturday evening after the Maine game to which the members of Theta Delta Chi were invited. The managing committee consisted of Myles Standish, Jr., '14, Roger K. Eastman '15 and Richard S. Fuller '16, and the patronesses were Mrs. Alfred O. Gross and Mrs. John A. Slocum, both of Brunswick. Music was furnished by Strange's Orchestra of Portland.

Among those present were the Misses Alberta Robinson, Pauline Hyde, Gertrude King, Marie Hieber, Dorothy Truc, Ethel Frothingham, Mildred Russell, Margaret Elwell, Elizabeth Payson, of Portland, Jessie Leighton of Lewiston, Elizabeth Eastman of Lowell, Mass., Lora Standish of Boston, Dorothy White of Augusta, Ruth Henderson of Fairfield and Rose Daniels of Chestnut Hills, Mass.
DELA Upsilon Dance

The Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon entertained at an informal dance at their house Saturday evening.

Among the guests were: Misses Carolyn Huston, Marian Smart, Alnah James of Portland; Eleanor Bradlee of Bath, Miriam Brackett of Phillips, Gertrude Hartwell of Lawrence, Mass., Grace Burnham of Bridgton, Mary Allen, Alexina Lapointe, Madeline Higgins of Brunswick, Levon Payson, Goldie Greenleaf of Southport, Mary Holton of Boothbay Harbor, Helen Douglas of Providence, R. i., Florence McCarthy, Alice Tackaberry of Lewiston, Eleanor Rankin of Woodfords, Madeline Winter of Kingfield, Louise Davis of East Poland, Jessie Merrill of Freeport.

The patronesses were Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mrs. B. F. Knowlton, and Mrs. H. W. Allen of Brunswick. The committee in charge was Vernon W. Marr '14, Austin H. MacCormick '15 and Earle R. Stratton '16. Stetson's Orchestra furnished music for an order of 20 dances.

Beta Theta Pi Dance

The local chapter of Beta Theta Pi entertained Saturday evening with an informal dancing party. Among the guests were: Anita Sproule of Grass Valley, Cal., Flora L. Smarden of Portland, Helen Fisk of Brunswick, Mona Dwyer of Freeport, Genevieve Dwinal of Auburn, Margery Cox of Melrose Highlands, Mass., Mildred B. Jordan, New Gloucester; Olive Holway, Augusta; Marian K. Fisher, Augusta; Hazel Gage, Augusta; Clare Ridley, Brunswick; Mary Elliott, Brunswick; Isabel Palmer, Brunswick; Grace Kern, Woodfords; Sylvia Freeman, Woodfords; Ruth G. Lord, Portland; Dorothy Drake, Pittsfield; Katherine Hodgkins, Woodfords; Ruth Jenkins, Katherine Jenkins, Lydia Skofield and Olivia Bagley, Portland.

The affair was in charge of E. A. Nason '14, C. A. Brown '14 and Leigh Webber '16. The patronesses were Mrs. F. E. Roberts and Mrs. J. L. McConaughy of Brunswick. Lovell's Orchestra furnished music.

CORRECTED FOOTBALL SCORES

The receipt of an authentic record enables the Orient to correct the lists of football scores printed in two recent issues. The Bates list is correct except for the 1896 game, the score of which was Bowdoin 26, Bates 0. The complete Colby list is printed as the errors were numerous. It is as follows:

1892—Bowdoin, 56; Colby, 0.
1893—Bowdoin, 42; Colby, 5.
1894—Bowdoin, 30; Colby, 0.
1895—Bowdoin, 5; Colby, 0.
1896—Bowdoin, 12; Colby, 0.
1897—Colby, 16; Bowdoin, 0.
1908—Bowdoin, 4; Colby, 0.
1909—Colby, 6; Bowdoin, 0.
1910—Bowdoin, 68; Colby, 0.
1911—Bowdoin, 5; Colby, 0.
1912—Bowdoin, 16; Colby, 0.
1913—Colby, 20; Bowdoin, 0.
1914—Colby, 12; Bowdoin, 0.

Won by Bowdoin, 16; won by Colby, 8; tied games, 4.

The Other Colleges

"Expelled for not drinking beer," is the surprising headline in the newspapers telling of a cable from Griefswald, Germany, which states that because of criticism of the college drinking customs as illustrated in a typical "beer evening" celebration, one student was sentenced to three days' confinement in the university dungeon, two others were expelled, and four more were summoned to trial before the university officials. The dispatch is all the more startling because of the recent terrific indictments against alcohol by some of the most brilliant scientists and professors of Germany.

A new system of taking attendance of students at chemistry lectures has been adopted at the University of Pennsylvania. At the beginning of each semester each student is given sixteen tickets, numbered from one to sixteen, to be presented for admission at the sixteen lectures delivered during the term. Besides the number of the lecture, each ticket also bears a number designating the student. This plan is expected to supersede the roll-call, thereby saving time and abolishing the practice of answering for absent men.
That men do not come to college primarily for athletics but mainly through the influence of alumni and undergraduates is indicated by statements collected from every member of last year's freshman class at Dartmouth. Three hundred and eighty-one men were interviewed as to their reasons for entering Dartmouth in preference to any other college, and their answers were tabulated as follows: Influence of Dartmouth graduates and undergraduates, 141; location of the college, 46; size of the college as midway between the small college and the university, 12; influence of relatives in or out of college, 42; plan of admission, 18; reputation and spirit, 11; lower expense of education at Dartmouth, 10; Thayer School, 13; Tuck School, 11; athletics, 5; miscellaneous and combined reasons, 73.

Columbia University has a record attendance of 10,409 students this fall.

Recent agitation of the question of the regulation of student dancing at the University of Kansas has caused a decided slump in the attendance at down-town dances. According to a ruling of the University Council, no student may attend a dance at which a general price of admission is charged.

Club and Council Meetings

There will be a meeting of the Government Club tomorrow evening at 8.30 at the Zeta Psi House.

The Classical Club met at Professor Woodruff's last Thursday evening. The following officers were elected: President, Neal Tuttle '14; secretary, C. F. White '14; member of executive committee, Prof. Woodruff. At this meeting Dean Sills gave an account of his travels in Egypt and Greece. The next meeting of the club will be held December 11.

On the Campus

Fobes '17 returned to College Sunday after a week's illness.

The sale of tickets for the Maine game was larger than ever.

Rainy weather has prevented matches in the tennis tournament.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet met at the Beta Theta Pi house Sunday night.

Jack Hurley '12 had his thumb amputated last week as a result of his burns.

Ramsay '15 is conducting a night school for certain ones in French 1 and 3.

The bleachers for the Maine supporters extended almost from goal to goal.

Trials are being held this afternoon for the position of reader on the musical clubs.

Freshmen who are out for assistant manager of track are Marston, Philbrick, Piedra and True.

Applications for scholarships should be made out and handed in at the office as soon as possible.

The early announcement of other college games on the field last Saturday was appreciated by the students.

All who intend to substitute track or baseball for regular gymnasium work this winter must take a physical examination.

At the review of the Freshman class there were 32 major warnings and 37 minor warnings; this is exactly the same as last year.

The Orient will publish in the near future an athletic census of the College, the first, it is believed, ever attempted at Bowdoin.

Simpson '14 and Merrill '14 are conducting the Sunday School at Bunganuc. McWilliams '15 has charge of similar work at Pejepscot.

The Bowdoin Press Club has received an invitation for a banquet to be held in connection with the news gathering bureaus of Bates and Colby.

Candidates for assistant manager of the dramatic club are Cruff, Edwards, Elliott, Lord and Woodman, all 1916. Callahan '14 is manager and Hall '15 assistant manager.

The report that Bates had disqualified Monte Moore for the final game last Saturday on account of rough playing was disproved by Moore's appearance on the field Saturday.

Election of assistant manager of football will be held soon after the close of the season. Candidates for the nominations are: Crossman, Garland, Kelley, Littlefield and Noble, all 1916.

President Hyde recently made the announcement that the Charles Carroll Everett Scholarship will not be awarded this year owing to expenses on the estate from which the fund comes.

The College catalogue will be ready for distribution shortly before the Thanksgiving vacation. The list of students has been posted in the library in order that any necessary corrections may be made.

Because of the Annie Talbot Cole lecture Friday night, there was no rally in preparation for the Maine game. A number of fellows met at Whittier Field Friday afternoon and practiced cheers and songs.

The time of the Sophomore-Freshman Debate trials is to be changed from Thursday and Friday afternoons, Nov. 13 and 14, to Monday afternoon, Nov. 17, at 3.00. The judges are: Prof. W. H. Davis, E. C. Gage '14 and G. W. Bacon '15.

The play "The Marriage of Kitty," was read to members and prospective members of the dramatic club Wednesday by the coach, Mrs. Brown. Trials for parts will be held the latter part of the week. Work on "Twelfth Night," the Commencement play, will start shortly before Christmas.

Among the alumni who were back for the game are: C. T. Hawes '76, Libby '99, Snow '01, White '03, Donnell '05, Johnson '07, Lippincott '10, Brummett '11, Partridge '11, Foote '12, Kern '12, King '12, McKenney '12, Newell '12, Nichols '12, Parcher '12, Smith '12, Harrington '12, Woodcock '12, Gilbert '13, Dole '13, Holt '13, Norton '13, Page '13, Savage '13, Tuttle '13, Whittier '13, Colby '13, White '05, Harlow '03, Phillips '03, Drummond '07, Staples '82, Winche1 '07 and Weatherill '10.

A very small number of candidates have reported for the classes in comparison with the numbers in former years. The men out for the Freshman team are: Corbett (Capt.), Cormack, Painc, Chapman, Bale, Parmenter, Campbell, Brown, Burleigh, Oliver, Peacock, Haseltine, Silverstein, Sampson, Hazeltine, Lovejoy, Wight, Swift, Eaton, King, Martell, Pike, Dolen, Colton, McConaughy, Woodworth. Those representing 1916: Chase, Carter, Edwards, Moulton (Capt.), Head, Parmenter, W. Olson, Webber, Ginty, Ransdell, Hight, Powers, Thomas, Ireland, Drummond, G. Olson.

With the Faculty

Prof. Hutchins has an article on the "Adjustment of the Quartz Spectrograph" in the October number of the American Journal of Science.

"English Prose" selected and edited by Frederick William Roe, Ph.D., of the University of Wisconsin, and George Roy Elliott, Ph.D., of Bowdoin College has been published by Longmans, Green, and Co., Fourth Avenue and 30th Street, New York.

Dean Sills will represent the college at the installation of the new president of Hobart, at Geneva, New York, on November 14.

'77.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary sailed down the bay at New York on board a revenue cutter last Wednesday and boarded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, on which Mrs. Peary and her daughter, Miss Marie, were passengers. Mrs. Peary and her daughter accompanied Rear Admiral Peary to Europe last spring. Miss Peary was left in Geneva during the summer and fall and recently her mother returned to Europe to bring her home. They will at once leave New York for Washington where they will spend the winter.

'84.—Llewellyn Barton of Portland is president of the Bridgton Academy Alumni Association, which has just held its sixteenth anniversary reunion.

'94.—After being pastor of the Central Church of Bath for ten years, Rev. George C. DeMott has left for New York to prepare himself for the Episcopal ministry at the Episcopal Seminary.

'94.—Rev. R. L. Sheaff has accepted the invitation to become the pastor of the Congregational Church in Norridgewock, Maine. He begins his service there at once. The offer was especially attractive to Mr. Sheaff because it is his native town, and the church of which his parents were members.

'98.—The Maine Teachers' Association, which held its annual meeting recently at Bangor, elected as its president, D. Lyman Wormwood, of Bangor.

'99.—F. W. Briggs of Pittsfield has just purchased the Skowhegan Shoe factory, following a meeting of the stockholders of the Skowhegan Manufacturing Company. The manufacture of wooden goods will probably take the place of the shoe business in this factory.

'00.—H. H. Randall of Auburn was elected president of the Department of Superintendence and Secondary School Administration at the recent meeting of the Maine Teachers' Association at Bangor.

'02.—George E. Fogg of Portland has just been elected president of the Conference of Charities and Correction of the State.

'11.—It is announced that Edward E. Kern, Bowdoin's Rhodes Scholar, has been awarded the history prize of seventy-five dollars. At the commencement of this term, competitive examinations were set in English history, foreign history, 1789-1878, political economy, political science and economic history.
BROWN AND BLUE VICTORIOUS

Tufts closed a remarkably brilliant season by defeating Bowdoin Saturday, Nov. 15 at Pine Tree Park by the score of 27 to 7. Bowdoin closed its season by a splendid exhibition of stubborn and unflagging defense against a team which is rated as one of the best in New England. Both teams played football of a very high order, Tufts bewildering, brilliant, sensational; Bowdoin steady, scrappy, scintillating and then with flashes of defensive or offensive play which brought the stands to their feet.

In Angell, Wescott, Hadley and Parks, Tufts had a backfield whose lightning shifts were followed by battering-ram plunges and wide-circling end runs. Time and again during the latter part of the game Angell’s arm shot forward passes such as have not been seen in Maine this year before. During the earlier periods, however, Bowdoin linesmen or backs intercepted or knocked down nearly all of Angell’s shots.

Lewis’s punting was a great factor in the Bowdoin defense. Time and again his ability to completely out-distance his rival Parks in the punting game put the ball in more comfortable territory. All of the backs were sure in their tackling while the ends played a star game, both running under punts and stopping the numerous attempts to get around our extremities. The linesmen too broke up plays time and again, diving across behind the line or piling up the whole interference with a human rock-on-the-track. To pick out stars is difficult. Every man played for all there was in him, and no more need be said. The tackles, Lewis and Burns, were the objective point of Tufts’ attack for the most part and bore the crushing attack of the whole Tufts backfield for play after play with wonderful gameness and constantly increasing firmness. Brewer at guard served the last of his novitiate like a veteran. King Pratt got many a play behind the line. Barry did things behind his opponent’s back which Tufts evidently did not expect the little fellow to do.

On the offense Herb Foster and Stuart were our best ground gainer, with Bob Weatherill, running around Capt. Bennett’s end, not far behind.

The most sensational plays were C. Foster’s recovery of Volk’s fumble and “Sammy White touchdown” and the two long distance passes by which Tufts scored in the last period, passes which crossed the field from side to side.

Tufts scored in the first period, Bowdoin in the third, Tufts once again in the third, and twice in the fourth, the last touchdown being scored in the last few minutes of play.

FIRST PERIOD

Tufts won the toss and decided to receive the kick on the north side of the field. Montfort kicked to Parks on the 10 yard line. The very first play was a long forward pass over the left end of the line to Wescott, netting 28 yards. Weatherill got the tackle. Montfort replaced by Brewster. Angell, Hadley and Wescott made first down in three rushes through the line. Hadley held for no gain by “King” Pratt. Parks attempted another forward pass but Fitzgerald intercepted it. Stuart thrown for a loss. Lewis punted outside at the 40 yard line. Wescott 4 yards through center. Parks stopped by LaCasce for no gain. Incompleted forward pass.

Bowdoin recovered an onside kick on her 15 yard line. Weatherill no gain through center. Lewis punted to 40 yard line. A. Pratt tackled Parks for no gain. Angell 6 yards through left tackle. Two more rushes by Angell and Wescott for first down. Wescott 6 yards through left tackle. Wescott no gain. Fitzgerald intercepted a forward pass on his 15 yard line. Lewis 1 yard through center. Stuart made the required distance around right end. Tufts tightened up on the next two rushes and Lewis punted 35 yards to Parks who signalled fair catch. Hadley and Angell made first down in two rushes around the ends. Wescott 12 yards. Tackled by Stuart on the 42 yard line. Parks and Angell made first down around the right side of the line. Ball on the 25 yard line. Parks made 6 yards, stopped by “Fitz.” Wescott first down through left tackle. Parks no gain through center of line. Wescott carried the ball 8 yards to the 5 yard line. Wescott made first down in the next rush and Angell carried the ball over for a touchdown. Parks missed the goal.

LaCasce kicked off to Bingham who was dropped in his tracks. A. Pratt broke up forward pass. Angell 3 yards around right end. Incompleted pass by Parks, who then punted to the 5 yard line. Stankard touched the ball before Stuart. End of first period. Bowdoin's ball on her own 5 yard line.

SECOND PERIOD

"Herb" Foster replaced Fitzgerald. Foster took the ball three rushes for first down. After two more rushes by Foster, Lewis punted outside at the 15 yard line. Parks and Wescott made first down in two rushes. Wescott and Parks two rushes. Wescott and Parks made 7 yards and Lewis recovered a pass over the center of the line. Ball on Bowdoin's 30 yard line. Stuart lost 5 yards, but made 6 the next rush. Lewis punted 40 yards. Angell fumbled, but recovered. Parks made first down on a fake kick. Wescott 10 yards through center. Angell attempted a forward pass. Bowdoin's ball on the center of the field. Foster and LaCasce both held for no gain. Stuart made 6 yards around right end. Lewis punted to Wescott who was downed on the 16 yard line. Parks around right end for 1 yard. Tackled by C. Foster. Wescott made first down through left tackle. Hadley 5 yards. Bennett hurt. Angell 10 yards through left tackle. Parks 5 yards around right end. Pass broken up by "Herb" Foster. Double forward pass—Parks to Angell—fails. Parks punted to Stuart who ran the ball back 8 yards. H. Foster 2 yards. Foster 10 yards, right tackle. Lewis again forced to punt. Angell received the kick on the 15 yard line.

Wescott 12 yards around right end. Volk went in for Hadley. Wescott made 7 yards. Forward pass—Parks to Stankard. Weatherill tackled. Stuart hurt. Ball on Bowdoin's 44 yard line. Lewis broke up pass over the line. McIvers went in for Bingham. Parks punted outside on Bowdoin's 20 yard line. End of first half. Score: Tufts, 6; Bowdoin, 0.

THIRD PERIOD

No changes in either lineup. Parks kicked off to LaCasce on 10 yard line. Weatherill and Foster made first down in three rushes. Lewis punted to Parks. Stuart got the tackle. C. Foster recovered Volk's fumble, and ran 10 yards through an open field for a touchdown. Leadbetter kicked the goal. Score now 7-6. Stuart kicked off to Volk on the 10 yard line. Ball run back 10 yards. Parks punted to Stuart. Foster and Weatherill held for no gain. Lewis punted 30 yards to Parks. Angell made first down in two rushes through the center of the line. Wescott 2 yards through right guard. Tufts penalized 5 yards (off side). Wescott through right guard for 5 yards. Double pass—Parks to Angell—broken up by H. Foster. Parks punted outside on Bowdoin's 30 yard line. Weatherill and Stuart both thrown for a loss. Lewis punted to 45 yard line. Parks recovered fumble. Wescott, Volk and Parks made first down in three rushes through the line. Wescott 2 yards through center. Angell 10 yards through left tackle. Angell 3 yards. Wescott 4 yards through left tackle. Parks made first down through center. Ball on 15 yard line. Wescott 5 yards through left guard. Leadbetter tackled Wescott for loss. Volk 1 yard. Stuart got tackle. Parks made touchdown through right guard. Wescott kicked out to 15 yard line, and Bennett kicked the goal. Score: 13-7.

Bennett kicked off to Weatherill on the 5 yard line. Ball carried back 15 yards. Weatherill 3 yards around right end. Tufts penalized half the distance to the goal line for slugging. Bingham and Hadley went back into the game. Weatherill 2 yards through right tackle. Foster and Weatherill made 7 yards in the next three rushes. Parks made 2 yards through right tackle. Wescott 10 yards through left tackle. End of period. Ball on Tufts' 42 yard line. Score: Tufts, 13; Bowdoin, 7.

FOURTH PERIOD

Angell, Wescott and Parks made first down. Wescott 5 yards through left tackle. Wescott and Parks made first down in two more rushes. Angell recovered Parks' fumble. Parks 3 yards through right tackle. Foster recovered short punt on his 20 yard line. LaCasce and Foster made 3 yards and Lewis punted to Parks. Angell, Wescott and Parks made first down. Ford went in for Stankard. Tufts lost 5 yards for being off side. Parks punted to Foster on his 15 yard line. Lewis punted to center of the field. Hadley 5 yards around right end. Incompleted pass to Stankard. Wescott made 6 yards around left end. After three more rushes, Parks threw a forward pass to Bennett over the goal line. Bennett kicked the goal. Score: 20-7. McIvers replaced Bingham. Mountfort went back in and kicked off to Bennett, who ran the ball back 50 yards through a broken field. Forward pass to Bennett on 3 yard line. Parks held for no gain. Cliff Foster hurt. Ball on the 6 inch line. Angell went through right guard for a touchdown. Wescott kicked out to Parks on the 19 yard line. Bennett kicked the goal. Score: 27-7. Fifteen seconds to play. Bennett kicked off to H. Foster who ran the ball back 5 yards. End of game. Tufts, 27; Bowdoin, 7.

BOWDOIN STRONG MEN

As a result of the physical examinations given to all new students and to all candidates for athletic teams at Bowdoin this fall, Dr. F. N. Whit- tier, Professor of Hygiene and Physical Training, has announced the ten men who have passed the highest strength tests for the college and the ten men who have the best strength records for the Freshman class. The weight and strength tests are given in kilograms and the height in centimeters. The weight and strength may be reckoned approximately in pounds by multiplying the figures given in kilograms by two and one-fifth. The height may be reckoned approximately in inches by dividing by two and one-half. Physical examinations are required of all new students and all candidates for athletic teams each year. It is interesting to note that a Freshman heads the college list for the first time since 1908, and that of the ten strong men, six are Sophomores, two are Freshmen, one is a Junior, one is a special student. The Seniors are unrepresented on the list this year. The two lists of strong men for 1913 are as follows:

COLLEGE

1. William Earle Paine, 1917, Hallowell; age, 18; preparatory school, Hallowell High; weight, 71.7; height standing, 173; strength of lungs, 20; back, 175; legs, 490; upper arms, 229.4; fore arms, 121; total strength, 1035.4.
2. Guy Whitman Leadbetter, 1916, South Lincoln; age, 20; preparatory school, Bangor High; weight, 82.6; height standing, 182.4; strength of lungs, 25; back, 195; legs, 455; upper arms, 206.5; fore arms, 114; total strength, 995.5.
3. Leland Stanford McElwee, 1916, Houlton; age, 19; preparatory school, Houlton High; weight, 69; height standing, 176.2; strength of lungs, 22; back, 205; legs, 410; upper arms, 213.9; fore arms, 128; total strength, 978.9.
4. Malcolm Henry Dyer, 1916, Farmington; age, 21; preparatory school, Farmington High; weight, 70.6; height standing, 170.5; strength of lungs, 20; back, 170; legs, 530; upper arms, 141.2; fore arms, 100; total strength, 961.2.

Hibernation

As we turn again from the football season to the quieter work of the winter we may well stop and take a backward and forward look. The whole season was marked with good feeling, cooperation, teamwork. This was especially noticeable among the players and coaches. The student body supported the team with only average attendance and mediocre cheering. We are inclined, however, to the belief that this lack of unity in student support is due in large part to a neglect of that phase of our student life. With this knowledge we may look forward to the winter’s activity with a definite purpose. As a college we can not afford to let our cheering and singing suffer. The winter evenings offer the opportunity for such development. Let us have more real “sings” and rallies. There are new college songs which have not yet been sung by the student body. The class singing competition will come in the spring and offers additional incentive for development. Here is a good chance for the Student Council through its committees to do a real service to the undergraduates.

Explanation

Since the publication of the editorial in our last issue in regard to the conflict of the Maine rally with a lecture we have been besieged with communications. After reading them we would willingly unsay much that was interpreted to be our meaning in writing it, but nothing of what we actually said or meant to say. To attempt to belittle the excellence of the lecture or minimize our rare good fortune in having the opportunity of listening to such a distinguished man was farthest from our thoughts. To suggest that the faculty and students were not on the best of terms, or that the conduct of rallies should be given over more extensively into faculty hands was surely not our intention. In this as always we endeavored to look at the matter from the standpoint of the students and express their sentiments, and had no thought of personal criticism. We even questioned at the end whether our attitude was not too much colored by the undergraduate point of view. To our critics we commend an impartial reading of the editorial and refrain from publishing communications in an effort to let the discussion die a natural death. But we would hope—and this was the editorial’s purpose—that in the future there should be no occasion for another editorial on the same subject.

6. George Edwin Colbath, Dexter; age, 21; preparatory school, Dexter High; weight, 79.5; height standing, 178.2; strength of lungs, 16; back, 165; legs, 365; upper arms, 151; fore arms, 123; total strength, 820.

7. William Percy Nute, Wiscasset; age, 19; preparatory school, Lincoln Academy; weight, 55.2; height standing, 171.1; strength of lungs, 17; back, 185; legs, 400; upper arms, 126.9; fore arms, 89; total strength, 817.9.

8. Robert Newell Fillmore, Old Orchard; age, 21; preparatory school, Goodwill High; weight, 57.6; height standing, 164.5; strength of lungs, 22; back, 135; legs, 250; upper arms, 161.3; fore arms, 91; total strength, 759.3.

9. Walter Arnold Fenning, Lynn, Mass.; age, 20; preparatory school, Lynn Classical High; weight, 56.5; height standing, 168.3; strength of lungs, 21; back, 125; legs, 300; upper arms, 214.7; fore arms, 86; total strength, 746.7.

10. James Eben Boothby, Dubuque, Iowa; age, 20; preparatory school, Dubuque High; weight, 57.7; height, 166.3; strength of lungs, 19; back, 140; legs, 330; upper arms, 155.8; fore arms, 96; total strength, 740.8.
PRIZE BOWDOIN SONG

The Prize Song Contest has now been closed and the prize of fifty dollars awarded to Kenneth Allen Robinson of the senior class. His song is entitled "Forward the White" and was chosen as the best of thirty songs.

A prize of fifty dollars is now offered for the best musical setting for this new song. The competition is open to all, but in awarding the prize preference will be given, other things being equal, to a Bowdoin man, whether graduate or undergraduate. This contest will close April 1, 1914. Copies of the song may be obtained by applying to Mr. Wass, Chairman of the Music Committee.

The prize song follows:

FORWARD THE WHITE

Oh, Defenders of the White,
'Mid the tumult of the fight,
Do you hear the measured tramp of marching feet?
Do you hear the thund'rous roar,
Like the surf upon the shore,
Of our mighty host that can not know defeat?
Do you hear our crashing song,
As we proudly march along?
Do you hear the ringing message that we send?
As the waves of battle roll
We are with you, heart and soul,
And we'll follow, follow, follow to the end.

Chorus

Forward the White,
On through the fight,
Emblem of honor,
Peerless and bright.
Through stress and strain,
Peril and pain,
Borne to the end
With never a stain.
Loyal and true
Always to you,
Each son of Bowdoin
Will dare and will do.
Victory's fair light
Ever in sight,
Bowdoin will triumph,
Forward the White.

Oh, Defenders of the White,
Look a moment from the fight,
Where above the rocking stands our colors fly.
Every heart's devoird of fear,
There's a trust in every cheer
That we fling with lusty voices to the sky.
On for Bowdoin, one and all,
Such a force can never fall,
Gather greater power from our bold array;
And we'll make the heavens ring

With the joyous song we sing,
As old Bowdoin sweeps to victory today.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The football squad held its annual banquet after the Tufts game Saturday at the Congress Square Hotel, Portland. As a part of the post-prandial exercises, Capt. Weatherill called on the Senior members of the squad for speeches. The men who spoke were Coach McCann, Trainer Magee, L. Pratt, Burns, Mountfort, Hall, LaCasce, A. Pratt, Badger, and Manager Leigh. L. Brown was excused from speaking but received his share of the cheers which greeted the speakers. Each man spoke of how much it had meant to him to form the intimate associations of the football field and to have the chance to fight and work for Bowdoin. In his speech Manager Leigh made the very pleasing announcement that although the season was begun with a debt of $1050.00, that debt was now completely effaced with a surplus of $109.50, which would enable him to give sweaters to the team. After the speeches the squad occupied boxes at the performance of Madame Sherry at the Jefferson. The men present at the banquet were: Capt. Weatherill, Manager Leigh, Coach McCann, Trainer Magee, L. Pratt '14, L. Brown '14, Burns '14, Mountfort '14, Hall '14, LaCasce '14, A. Pratt '14, Badger '14, Lewis '15, Floyd '15, Austin '15, Mannix '15, MacCormick '15, H. Foster '16, Fitzgerald '16, Leadbetter '16, Barry '16, Stuart '16, J. Moulton '16, Brewer '16, Beal '16, Wood '16, Dyar '16, Rawson '16, Colbath '17, C. Foster '17, K. Stone '17, McConaughy '17, McDonald '15, Littlefield '16, Noble '16, Kelly '16, Crossman '16.

TUFTS GAME RALLY

The rally Friday night was one of the most enthusiastic ones which have been held this year. The football men were not allowed to attend but a large number of undergraduates and alumni was there. Callahan '14 presided over the meeting and the speakers were Coach McCann, Trainer Magee, Manager Leigh, E. A. Dunlap '03, John Clifford '10, Dr. F. N. Whittier and Joe Knowles. Especially stirring speeches were given by John Clifford and Trainer Magee.

SECOND COLLEGE PREACHER

Doctor W. W. Fenn, Dean of the Harvard Divinity School, will be the second College Preacher of the year. He will speak at the Church on the Hill and at chapel next Sunday. Doctor Fenn was a College Preacher three years ago.
FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE GAME

Ireland, h  h, Capt. Corbett (Swift)
Thomas, h  h, Chapuran
Dyar, fb  fb, Pain

No arrangement has yet been made as regards the picking of officials.

ANNIE TALBOT COLE LECTURE

In the second Annie Talbot Cole lecture, delivered Friday evening, November 7, Alfred Noyes spoke on the subject of International Peace. In his lecture he pictured the earth as a "Great Green Table" about which sit the world-powers gaming for the possession of the nations. Mr.
Noyes is one of the foremost leaders of the so-called Peace Movement, and his lecture set forth the conventional arguments against war in brilliant and original imagery.

Militarist, he said, is an offspring that is carefully and tenderly nurtured until it grows beyond all bounds and eventually destroys the parents who gave it birth. The idea that only by a superior armament can a nation maintain its dominion leads to a terrific strain on a nation's resources, and eats up the money that would otherwise be devoted to healing great gaping social wounds.
War is a barbarism, a relic of past ages, and humanity demands that the men who sit about the "Great Green Table" leave their game. The mightiest navies "melt away," and "on dune and headland sinks the fire;" the efforts of princes and presidents should be directed toward the creation of more enduring things than guns and fighting lines.

To drive home his arguments Mr. Noyes read parts of a long unpublished poem entitled "De-ocracy." The poem is an obvious arraignment of militarism, laying bare in bold phraseology the disgusting truths that underlie the idealist's conception of war. The poem deals with a soldier in the Balkans whose home and happiness are destroyed by those whom he helps raise to power.
Mr. Noyes' reading was dramatic in the extreme and affected his audience visibly.

In addition to "Democracy" Mr. Noyes read several other selections from his works, including "Sherwood," and a particularly beautiful and appropriate piece of verse entitled "Oxford Revisited."

The action of the college authorities in bringing Mr. Noyes here as the Annie Talbot Cole lecturer for this year can hardly be praised too highly. Mr. Noyes is a man upon whom the eyes of the whole literary world are turned, and it was a rare privilege for Bowdoin men to see and hear a true poet in the first flush of his career.

BISHOP CODMAN TO SPEAK

The next Y. M. C. A. meeting will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 20, at 7 p. m. in the Y. M.
C. A. room. The speaker will be Bishop Robert Codman of Portland, who has been a very popular speaker on previous occasions.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT

The concert given last night by the Downer-Eaton Trio in Memorial Hall was one of the most enjoyable musical treats heard in this vicinity for some time. The concert was well attended both by students and townspeople. The program was given by the following artists:

Jessie Downer-Eaton, piano; Julius Theodorowicz, violin; Joseph Keller, 'cello, and Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams.

ORGAN RECITAL

About 80 students and members of the faculty attended the recital given Saturday noon by Mr.
Will C. MacFarlane, the municipal organist, on the great organ in the Portland City Hall. This recital was given especially for Bowdoin men and Mr. MacFarlane expressed his willingness and desire to give several such recitals through the year.

MUSICAL NOTES

The following men have been picked for the Glee Club: West '15, Card '15, Evans '15, Wilson '14, Shea '14, F. D. Hazeltine '17, Carter '16, Fobes '17, Melloon '15, McKenney '15, Woodman
'16, Hescock '16, Cristy '15, Stuart '16, Phillips
'17, Ramsey '15, Littlefield '16, Fuller '16, Eaton
'14, Munroe '14, Boardman '16, Seward '17, Parmenter '16, Merrill '16, Duncan '17, Allen '15.
Changes may be made later but these men will be taken on the lesser trips to Portland, Bath and Lewiston.
Shumway '17, Ramsey '15, Buell '14, Moran '17 and P. Smith '15 have tried out for reader of the Musical Clubs.

A Victrola has been added to the equipment of the music department for use in laboratory work. Mr. Wass is scoring the Bowdoin songs for band instruments.

Club and Council Meetings

The Gibbons Club held its first meeting of the year at the Theta Delta Chi house, Tuesday, Nov. 4. About eighteen members listened to a talk by the spiritual adviser.

The Bowdoin Government Club held its first meeting this year, Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the Zeta Psi house. Officers were elected: president, elected last spring, R. E. Simpson '14; vice-president, R. D. Leigh '14; secretary, G. F. Eaton '14; treasurer, G. W. Bacon '15. Plans for the coming year were discussed. It was voted to organize the club as a mock senate, patterned after the United States Senate. The president will appoint presidents pro tem, so that each man may have practice in presiding. Questions will be submitted and discussed in regular parliamentary form. The club has been divided into three political parties, modeled after the national Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties.

The Ibis held a closed meeting at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house, Monday night, Nov. 10, at which Professor G. A. Elliott spoke on George Meredith.

There will be a meeting of the Deutscher Verein with Professor Files tomorrow evening. The Biology Club will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Beta house. Dr. Copeland will read a paper on "Mammals of Maine."

The old Augusta Club was revived last week by the twelve Augusta fellows now at Bowdoin with the following officers: President, George Thompson '15; vice-president, Chauncey A. Hall '16; secretary and treasurer, Donald Q. Burleigh '17. Its object is to keep in touch with prospective Bowdoin students from Augusta. For this purpose a football team is to be organized with George Stuart '16 as captain, to play Cony High. The members are McCargo '14, Thompson '15, Soule '16, Gage '14, Pope '14, Parsons '16, Hall '16, Flunt '17, Burleigh '17, Blanchard '17, Keene '17, Swift '17.

On the Campus

Foote '12 was on the campus last week. Partridge '11 was in Brunswick recently.

Stowell ex-'15 was on the campus Thursday. The speaker at Sunday Chapel was Rev. Chester B. Emerson '04.

The final selection for the mandolin club will be made Thursday. "Bacchus" Morrill '16 has returned to College after a severe illness.

The cross-country captain will not be elected for about two weeks. Tufts must have formed a healthy respect for the sprinting ability of the Bowdoin rooters. "Farmer" Kern '12 has been nominated for councilman on the Republican ticket in Portland.

The Sophomore football squad has suffered through the ineligibility of several promising men. Baker has been elected captain of Maine's football team and Fraser has been re-elected Colby's captain.

Trials for the Freshman-Sophomore debate were held yesterday afternoon, after the Orient went to press.

Next year's football captain is being elected this afternoon, following the team picture at Webber's studio.

Eaton '14 has assumed the duties of proctor in South Winthrop after giving up a lucrative position in a Bangor bank.

The panoramic pictures of the student body have been on sale during the last week. They are even better than last year's pictures.

Joe Knowles, of primitive man fame, was on the campus Friday.

Trials were held last week for a reader of the musical clubs, but in the view of no choice, further trials will be held.

Owing to an over-abundance of material, we are again unable to print the Baseball Manager's Report which has been in our hands for some time.

The list of candidates for assistant manager of track was incorrectly printed in last week's Orient. Crehore is a candidate in place of Piedra.

The pamphlet "Life at Bowdoin" has proved extremely popular with the students. Those who have not yet secured their copies are urged to do so as soon as possible.

At a meeting recently the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet appointed A. H. MacCormick '15 and H. H. Foster '16 delegates to the International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement to be held in Kansas City from Dec. 31 to Jan. 4.

At a recent meeting the Ibis, the Senior honorary society, elected to membership Robert D.
Leigh '14 and Leonard H. Gibson, Jr., '14. The other members are Alfred E. Gray, Kenneth A. Robinson, Neal Tuttle and Horace A. Barton.

How much Barry contributed to Bowdoin's touchdown could not be seen from the grandstands. He broke through the line and tackled Volk so hard that the ball was shaken out of his arms. Clift Foster scooped it up and ran 10 yards for the touchdown.

Edward A. Dunlap '03, who played every position but quarterback on the Varsity football team a decade ago, came all the way from his home in Richmond, Va., to see the Bowdoin-Tufts game. He spoke at the rally Friday night and helped coach the team for two days.

With the Faculty

Dean Sills represented the College at the installation of the new president of Hobart at Geneva, N. Y., on November 14.

President Hyde attended the funeral of his classmate, Principal Harlan P. Amen of Exeter Academy, last week.

Professor McConaughy stirred the 200 members of the New England Association of School Superintendents at its 93d meeting in Boston last Friday. He spoke on "Three Popular High School Fallacies," delivering a vigorous arraignment of the public high school as at present constituted. The Boston Post for Nov. 15 devotes half a column to this address.

Alumni Department

The eightieth anniversary banquet of the founding of the Psi Upsilon fraternity will be held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Nov. 24, under the auspices of the executive council of the fraternity and the Psi Upsilon Club of the City of New York. Members of the fraternity who desire further information on the subject are urged to communicate with Edward L. Stevens, Tribune Building, New York City.

'09.—The historical discourse delivered at the one hundredth anniversary of the Rhode Island Bible Society at Providence, Sept. 29, 1913, by Rev. Henry M. King, D.D., has recently been issued in an attractive pamphlet form.

'03.—Farnsworth G. Marshall, superintendent of schools of Augusta, Me, is the unanimous choice of the School Committee, as superintendent of schools of Malden, Mass.

The original 20 candidates for the position had been gradually sifted down until it was a choice between two candidates and Mr. Marshall was elected. He has accepted the offer.

Mr. Marshall is 38 years old and a native of Maryland, but he has spent most of his life in Maine. After graduation from the East Maine Conference Seminary at Bucksport in 1896, he taught school for several years in Winterport, Orrington and the Addison High School, and then entered Bowdoin College, from which he was graduated with his honors in 1903. He was at once chosen principal of the Old Town, Me., High School, where he served successfully for several years. Later he became principal of Cony High School, Augusta, and after four years in that position he was in 1910 elected superintendent of schools of that city.

At that time he was president of the Maine Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He has a high reputation as an instructor, especially in the department of mathematics, and as an administrator.

'04.—Rev. Chester B. Emerson, who was installed as pastor of the Saco First Parish Congregational Church Oct. 21, 1909, will accept the call to the pastorate of the North Woodward Avenue Congregational Church of Detroit, Mich. If possible, he will begin his new duties Dec. 1. He has tendered his resignation of the church in Saco. While the parishioners regret that Mr. Emerson is to leave Saco, they realize the compliment in his being called to one of the largest Congregational Churches in the United States and will accept his resignation.

'04.—Mr. Gerald G. Wilder, Assistant Librarian of Bowdoin College, has just been elected president of the Maine Library Association.

'09.—Ralph O. Brewster has entered the law offices of Scott Wilson and E. L. Bodge, at 120 Exchange Street, Portland, Maine, where he will engage in the general practice of law.
BOWDOIN ORIENT

REVIEW OF 1913 FOOTBALL SEASON

Although the final game of the season made the final result for the schedule of eight games three won, one tied, and four lost, nobody will deny that it has been a splendid season. We have seen our team fight to the last ditch when they were outclassed and play stronger and stronger as the game wore on. We have seen them come back from defeat to victory, hold teams considered their superiors, and upset time and again the dope of those who said “Easy picking.” Bowdoin has been represented by a team which did not bring home the pennant, but which inspired just pride in the hearts of its loyal supporters. The 1913 team have set for future teams an example of fight, spirit, and grit which they may well copy.

Capt. Bob Weatherill as captain and as player has been a constant inspiration to his men. Those who saw him in the second half of the Bates game will never forget him. On the offensive he has been a consistent gainer, his short end runs being especially brilliant. On the defensive he has made those low driving tackles that have marked him as the original “clean-up man.” He was unanimously chosen for the all-Maine team.

Brosie Burns, after being out a year, surprised everybody by pulling down a tackle position, after three years at guard. The fact that he had been working in a dynamite factory for a year was immediately made evident. In every game he has handled some of the hardest men in the opposing line and few gains have been made through his position. His down-field work has been remarkable for a man of his bulk.

Sumner Mountfort at guard has been a human Gibraltar. His weight and knowledge of the game are combined with agility, which makes him a most difficult man to get plays through and a very dangerous man on the offensive.

On the other side of center Leo Pratt has played the same steady, reliable game which he played for three years before. At times “King’s” play has been brilliant, notably in the Tufts game, when he was through on play after play. He has played the best games of his career this year, which is praise enough in itself.

LaCasce at full-back, although suffering from injuries all the season, has given the best there was in him all year. He has made many gains on offence, but his defensive work has been particularly noteworthy, while his drop-kicking spelled “Victory” in the Bates game.

Alton Lewis, the Captain-elect, at tackle, has played a hard, consistent game. It is to his splendid punting, however, that Bowdoin owes most. He has punted long and high in every game and more than once booted from the shadow of the goal posts into safe territory. He has been the greatest asset of the team’s defence.

Lew Brown at quarter played in most of the games, with Stuart as substitute. In spite of one costly slip, Brown’s handling of punts has been of fine quality. In the Maine game he was forced to receive a large number of very difficult punts. The way in which he has run them back has been notably good as has the way in which he ran the ends.

Stuart showed great promise at quarter, being very strong in carrying the ball and on defensive work.

Arthur Pratt at left end has been a very fast man down the field and a strong defensive end, although he has been handicapped by lack of experience.

Clif Foster has also played left end and done some sensational work. He has been the fastest man under punts and has been brilliant at sifting through interference and breaking up end runs.

On the other end Leadbetter has played the star game he played at tackle last year. On offensive work he has been even stronger than ever. He has made his end practically impregnable on defensive, and is considered by many one of the best ends in the State.

Herb Foster at left half has been our most consistent ground gainer, his skin tackle dives being sensational. His defensive work, tackling and breaking up forward passes, would be hard to excel. At Wesleyan he played a wonderful game in this department, running back two intercepted passes for 85 yards each. He has had no equal in the state this year for this form of defensive work.

Nobody understands how Barry at center can play the game that he does but in spite of his size he produces the results. Few gains have been made through his position and his passing has been fast and sure.
Fitzgerald has been utility man at end, half, and quarter and has been a very valuable man. He has been fast on end runs and sure in his tackles on the end of the line.

Jim Brewster found his place at guard during the Bates game and though a new man at football showed great stuff. He is strong and nervy and gets through on punts time and again.

Colbath at full-back has been especially strong on defensive. He should prove valuable in offense with more experience as he is strong and fast.

Under Coach McCann and Trainer Magee the team has had the best of training and coaching. The team came through the season under Magee's care with only one injury. Coach McCann has made the team respect and admire him both as a coach and a man.

In speaking of Manager Leigh, we need only point to results, a well-cared for team, a schedule considerate of team and public, a smooth-running, well-ordered season, and above all, an overwhelming debt of over $1000 cleared away. His worth as a manager needs no praise here.

The schedule of the season follows:

Sept. 27.—Bowdoin, 17; New Hampshire State, 0.

Oct. 4.—Bowdoin, 7; Wesleyan, 13.

Oct. 11.—Bowdoin, 0; Trinity, 0.

Oct. 18.—Bowdoin, 13; Vermont, 3.

Oct. 25.—Bowdoin, 0; Colby, 12.

Nov. 1.—Bowdoin, 10; Bates, 7.

Nov. 8.—Bowdoin, 0; Maine, 9.

Nov. 15.—Bowdoin, 7; Tufts, 27.

NEXT YEAR'S FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Tuesday afternoon last week, after the picture at Webber's, Herbert Alton Lewis '15 was elected captain of the Bowdoin football team for the season of 1914. Lewis prepared at Hebron Academy, graduating in 1911. He played four years on the Hebron team, playing guard and tackle.

In his Freshman year at college he played right tackle on the Varsity; in his Sophomore year, guard; and this year, left tackle. This season he has done all of the punting for the team. His playing has been most consistent and the team looks forward to a successful season under his leadership.

AWARDING OF "B"

The following men have been awarded football B's by the Athletic Council: Captain Weatherill '14, Manager Leigh '14, A.L. Pratt '14, L. Brown '14, LaCasce '14, L. W. Pratt '14, Burns '14, Mountfort '14, Lewis '15, Barry '16, Brewster '16, Leadbetter '16, Stuart '16, Fitzgerald '16, H. Foster '16, Colbath '17, C. Foster '17.

SOPHOMORES WIN CLASS STRUGGLE

For the second time in nine years, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen in football Saturday afternoon on the Delta. The game was a hard fight from whistle to whistle as the score of 7 to 6 shows. The field was in perfect condition and both teams did some fast work. The Sophomores made most of their gains on line plunges, Dyar being the star performer, while the Freshmen, with Eddie Balfe carrying the ball, got off some sensational end runs.

Wood and Capt. Moulton were very strong for the Sophomores while Balfe and Bradford were the Freshman stars. McConaughy punted well for 1917.

The Sophomores scored with only half a minute of the first half to play and the Freshmen scored at the beginning of the fourth period but failed to kick the goal.

FIRST PERIOD

The Freshmen kicked to the Sophomores. On the next play Balfe captured a forward pass and run it back 15 yards through a broken field. After three futile rushes Chapman tried for a goal, but failed. With the ball on the 20 yard line the Sophomores were unable to gain and Dyar punted. Chapman made 5 yards, Paine 3, Corbett no gain. A forward, Balfe to McConaughy, failed and the Sophomores took the offensive. Thomas no gain. Dyar 4 yards. Stone off side. Dyar and Beal failed to gain. Dyar punted to the 1 yard line. McConaughy returned the punt to the middle of the field. Dyar and Beal no gain. A forward pass failed. Dyar tried a drop which went low. Chapman recovered it. McConaughy punted. Dyar dropped back to punt but the pass went over his head and the kick was too hurried to be effectual. Score: Freshmen, 0; Sophomores, 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Bradford broke through and nailed Dyar for a loss. Chapman hurt. Dyar punted. Balfe 5 yards through center. Paine fumbled and Bradford recovered. First down. Paine and Balfe made first down in two rushes. After three tries to gain Chapman punted. The ball rolled behind goal-line and was taken to the 20 yard line. Thomas and Dyar failed to gain, so Dyar punted. Balfe ran ball back 20 yards and Dyar finally downed him in one of the prettiest tackles of the game. Freshmen penalized for tripping. The ball went to the Sophomores when the Freshmen failed to gain their distance. Thomas and Dyar made first down twice, and finally Dyar broke through for a touchdown, and kicked the goal.
Score: Freshmen, 0; Sophomores, 7.

THIRD PERIOD

Sophomores kicked to Paine. Chapman and Paine made first down. Paine made first down in two rushes. Paine 4 yards, Balfe 2 yards. A forward failed and McConaughy punted. The punt was muffed and Doten recovered. The Freshmen were now within striking distance of the goal line but couldn't gain and Dyar punted out of danger. Balfe ran the punt back to within 15 yards of the goal line. Paine and Corbett both failed to gain. Balfe was thrown for a loss on a double pass. Dyar punted out of danger and again Balfe ran the ball back to the 15 yard line. Bradford made 5 yards, Swift failed to gain and the period was over.
Score: Freshmen, 0; Sophomores, 7.

FOURTH PERIOD

Balfe made first down through center, and then skirted the end for 10 yards and a touchdown. Chapman missed the goal from a difficult angle.

Final score: Sophomores, 7; Freshmen, 6.

The trials for teams in the Freshman-Sophomore debate resulted as follows: Freshmen—Blanchard, Langs, Moran, alternate, Crosby; Sophomores—Edwards, Foster, Sayward, alternate, Parsons. McWilliams '15 will coach the Freshmen and Gage '14 will instruct the Sophomores. The Freshmen have the affirmative and the Sophomores the negative.

GYM WORK BEGINS

The Physical Training courses, required of every man in College, will begin Monday, Dec. 1. All classes and squad exercises will begin promptly at ten minutes past the hour and no credit will be given unless men are in their places at this time.

The days and hours are as follows:
1914.—Monday, Wednesday, Friday at 4.30 p. m.
1915.—Tuesday, Thursday, at 4.30; Friday at 3.30 p. m.
1916.—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday at 3.30 p. m.
1917.—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday at 11.30

Gymnasium apparatus will be given out in the Handball Room at the first named hour for each class. The required gym suits must be obtained before then. Lockers may be rented on application at the Treasurer's office.

The list of instructors and assistants is as follows:
Instructor in Heavy Gymnastics.—Percy K. Holmes; assistants, N. S. Kupelian, Clarence Baker.
Instructor for Freshmen.—James C. Kimball; assistants, Francis T. Garland, Stanwood A. Melcher, Frank R. Loeffler.
Instructor for Seniors.—F. W. Maroney; assistants, Percy D. Mitchell, Arthur L. Pratt.
Athletic Instructor.—John J. Magee.
In charge of baseball practice.—Alton L. Grant, Jr.

MANDOLIN CLUB SELECTIONS

The following men have been selected for the Mandolin Club:

First Mandolin: Thompson '14, Barton '14, Hall '15, Little '16, True '17, Stratton '16.
Second Mandolin: Nason '14, Standish '14, Lappin '15, Cruff '16.
Mandola: McCargo '14, Elwell '15, Kelley '16.
Guitar: Tuttle '14, Parmenter '17.
Mando-cello: Russell '14.

The Communication

We are glad to print in this issue a communication from an undergraduate in regard to the policy of sending Y. M. C. A. delegates to the Kansas City convention. It seems to us entirely proper that a question such as this should be raised concerning the expenditure of the A. S. B. C. appropriations. Indeed, the curtailing of unwise expenditure by publicity of expenses is one of the advantages of the estimate system employed by the Board of Managers. But, as often, the criticism of this expenditure seems to be misdirected. The Board of Managers makes its appropriations in a lump sum from estimates submitted. In the Y. M. C. A. estimate submitted last June based on mere running expenses of printing, etc., the Board reduced the total fifty dollars from the amount of the previous year. It would seem that the appropriation, then, did not include such expenditure. The spending of the appropriations is entirely in the hands of the various organizations. Whether this expense is justified is a question for the Y. M. C. A. to decide. We are informed that the additional expense is to be met by funds obtained from outside resources. In this way the expenditure becomes a question of Y. M. C. A. policy rather than expending of student funds. As to the policy of sending these men, the Bowdoin Y. M. C. A. is so well managed that the question of sending such a deputation should hardly be questioned by laymen. It is a national convention attended by representatives from colleges throughout the land. It is fortunate that Bowdoin can be represented.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Orient:

At a time when our Baseball Association is heavily in debt and when our Track Association is unable to send men to the Intercollegiates there comes the announcement that two representatives are to be sent by our Y. M. C. A. to the International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement in Kansas City. According to the present plan fifty dollars ($50) is to be appropriated for this purpose from the Y. M. C. A. share of the Blanket Tax Fund. Practically all the men in the College are vitally interested in both baseball and track whereas a small number are interested in representation in a national convention of the Y. M. C. A.

There are certain manifest disadvantages inherent in the Blanket Tax System which cannot be obviated if the system is to endure but this unequal distribution of funds whereby the will of the givers is so manifestly violated seems to be an abuse and one which is capable of rectification. If the Y. M. C. A. is in such a prosperous condition that it cannot find some remote charitable field in which to place its surplus it might begin by being charitable at home and give its riches to our athletic associations for which the Blanket Tax was most intended.

THE NEW CATALOGUE

The catalogue number of the Bowdoin College Bulletin for 1913 and 1914 shows that the total registration of the College is 424. Of this number, 358 are students in the academic department and 66 in the medical school. This makes a gross total of 424, but two names that are counted twice reduce the net total to 422.

The registration follows:

ACADEMICAL DEPARTMENT

Seniors . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 61

The corrected total last year was 401, with 333 in the academic department.

The summary of instructors follows:

Academical faculty ...................................... 28
Medical faculty ......................................... 65

Total .................................................. 93
Names counted twice .................................... 7

Corrected total ......................................... 86

This is a net gain of four over the number of instructors last year.

According to the new catalogue, 312 students room in the dormitories or fraternity houses.
The distribution of students, according to figures compiled from the catalogue especially for the Orient, is as follows: North Winthrop 30, South
Winthrop 29, North Maine 32, South Maine 29,
North Appleton 29, South Appleton 32, Alpha Delta Phi house 10, Psi Upsilon house 14, Delta Kappa Epsilon house 20, Zeta Psi house 15, Theta
Delta Chi house 15, Delta Upsilon house 20,
Kappa Sigma house 12, Beta Theta Pi house 18, Bowdoin Club 9, private houses 46. Of the 46 who do not room on the campus, four live in other towns and come to Brunswick every day.

The interest bearing funds of the College, including $188,000.00 belonging to the Medical School, at the end of each fiscal year for the last five years, were: May 10, 1909, $1,862,560.19;
May 10, 1910, $2,017,733.79; May 10, 1911, $2,106,832.30; March 30, 1912, $2,149,485.86; March 31, 1913, $2,210,503.96.

The estimated expenses to a student have been unaffected by the high cost of living, the lowest being placed at $293.00, the average at $339.00, and the liberal at $406.00.

In and after 1914-1915 the charge for tuition will be $100.00 per year, and incidental college charges will be reduced from $12.00 to $6.50.

Time-honored English 5 is no longer a course in public speaking for Freshmen. English 5 has been changed to English 4, which has been changed to English 10.

The requirements for admission have been changed slightly, the admission by examination in four subjects being without mention in the new catalogue. The New England college entrance certificate board, of which Bowdoin is a member, has been joined, according to the new catalogue, by Bates, Colby, Massachusetts Agricultural College and Middlebury.

Assistant Librarian Gerald G. Wilder has had charge of the publishing of the new issue of the bulletin.

SPECIAL MEETINGS IN JANUARY

The Y. M. C. A. is planning a series of meetings to be held in January which will be of great importance and interest to Bowdoin men. The purpose of these meetings will be to bring the question of the Christian life before the students, to answer some of the questions which trouble most college men, and to rouse the student body to higher ideals in everyday campus life. The speakers at these meetings will be men who already have a hold on Bowdoin men, President Fitch of Andover Theological Seminary, who will be the College Preacher on Jan. 11, and Dave Porter '06, Bowdoin's first Rhodes scholar and probably the best known of our younger alumni.
One of the most helpful parts of the meetings will be the private conferences with these men. The meetings are planned for Jan. 7, 8 and 9.

Respectfully submitted,

Gordon P. Floyd, Mgr.

I have examined the books and accounts of the manager of the Fencing Association, and find them properly kept and vouched. The foregoing report is an accurate summary of his receipts and disbursements.

Barrett Potter,
Auditor.

Club and Council Meetings

The meeting of the Student Council which was to be held this week, has been postponed until after the recess. The date of election of assistant football manager is to be decided then.

There will be a meeting of the Bugle Board, Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, at 7 o'clock at the Delta Upsilon house.

A joint meeting of the Orient and Quill Boards will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Verein Room.

A meeting of the Board of Managers was held Friday afternoon in their room in the Gym.

Junior and Senior elections will probably be held after Thanksgiving.

The Biology Club met last Friday evening, Nov. 21. After listening to a lecture, delivered in the Zoölogy lecture room, on "The Mammals of New England Smaller Than the Grey Squirrel," by Dr. Copeland, the members adjourned to the Beta Theta Pi house. Here a short business meeting was held and refreshments were served. The election of officers was postponed on account of the small attendance.

The Deutscher Verein met last Wednesday night with Professor Files and enjoyed a most interesting meeting. Professor Files gave the club a talk upon Strange Places in Europe which he illustrated with a number of beautiful stereopticon views. Refreshments were served.

On the Campus

Monte Moore has been elected captain of the Bates eleven for next fall.

Zeta Psi and Theta Delta Chi will have dances before the Thanksgiving vacation.

Hargraves '16 and Colton '17 were among those who witnessed the Harvard-Yale game.

The College formally closes tomorrow at 12.30 and will commence at 8.30 Monday morning.

A number of fellows saw Julia Sanderson in "The Sunshine Girl" in Bath Friday night.

Rollins '15, who was operated on for appendicitis over a month ago, has returned to College.

Lew Brown '14 and Bob Weatherill '14 have been duck-shooting for a few days at Orr's Island.

In accordance with the custom after Thanksgiving vacation, the Orient will not be published next Tuesday.

Joe Finneran, last year's track coach, has been attracting attention around Boston through his prowess as a golf player.

The newly constructed fence on the north side of the campus is an invaluable aid in locating the College these dark nights.

The Bible study normal class met Friday instead of Monday night, owing to the absence of Professor McConaughy on Monday.

Lewis '15 attended the Hebrew Academy football banquet Wednesday night. Baker, captain of Maine for next year, was also present.

The Psi U's beat the Dekes 6 to 1 at tag football Saturday afternoon. The features were McElwee's passes and Boardman's stockings.

The course in English 10, which is offered as a continuation of English 3, will consider earlier essays than has been the custom in past years.

Physical training commences Monday, Dec. 1. Up to a late hour before going to press the hours for baseball and track work had not been announced. The usual rules about spiked shoes and gymnasium clothes will prevail.

The first of the trials for reader of the musical clubs was held last week. There were seven candidates present. No final choice has as yet been made for the position however, two men from the seven being retained until the final trial which is to be held immediately following the Thanksgiving recess. The names of the two who have been retained have been withheld by request.

Joe Knowles, the Boston artist who recently spent two months in the woods as a primeval man, and who spoke at the rally before the Tufts game, has written to a Brunswick friend as follows: "I am very sorry that Bowdoin did not win the game Saturday, but comparing the two teams, I would say that the Brunswick boys certainly did put up a very good battle and I want to congratulate them for the manly way in which they played their game."

Professor William T. Foster, professor of English and Argumentation at Bowdoin from 1905 to 1910, was at College Sunday. Professor Foster, who is East on a lecture tour, is now president of Reed College in Portland, Ore. This college was founded under conditions different from those of the ordinary institution. It has no intercollegiate athletics, no fraternities and is co-educational. A candidate for admission must pass all subjects, no conditions being allowed.

With the Faculty

Prof. McConaughy attended the meeting of the Association of New England Colleges, at Burlington, Vermont, last week.

Dean Sills attended a meeting of the executive committee of the State Teachers' Association at Augusta, Thursday afternoon, and a meeting of a committee on the Relation of the Maine Colleges and Preparatory Schools at the same place on Saturday.

Professor W. H. Davis will conduct a series of readings on Monday nights during December. The first of these, which will be Dec. 1, will be a number of burlesques and parodies. These readings are purely informal, lasting but an hour. The last one of the month, Dec. 22, will be The Christmas Carol, to which the public will be invited.

CALENDAR

Nov.

NEW REGULATIONS IN MAJORS AND MINORS

1. Each student is required to have completed before graduation one major and two minors. (Definitions: a major is a subject pursued through three consecutive years, or the equivalent of same. A minor is a subject pursued through two consecutive years.)

2. The following courses may count for majors in the different departments:
   - Biology; all courses offered.
   - Chemistry; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; or 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and Mineralogy.
   - Economics; 1, 2, 5 and any three others.
   - English; 6 courses in addition to 1, 2 and 4; but the courses in Debating not to count.
   - French; 6 advanced courses; 1 and 2 not to count.
   - German; 6 advanced courses; 1 and 2 not to count.
   - Greek; A, B, 1, 2, 3, 4; or 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; or 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8.
   - Latin; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.
   - Mathematics; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; or 3, 4 with Mechanical Drawing and Surveying.
   - Physics; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6; or 3, 4, 5, 6 and Mathematics 3, 4.
   - Psychology; all courses in Philosophy and Psychology and Educational Psychology.

3. Each student must elect his major by the end of his Sophomore year, and must submit the courses chosen for the approval of the Department in which the major is taken.

4. Each student must also elect his two minors by the end of his Sophomore year, and must submit them, for advice, to the Department in which his major is to be taken.

5. These regulations shall go into effect with the Class of 1916.

The Dean will be very glad to explain these regulations to any student who may have questions to ask concerning them.

BATES MAN RHODES SCHOLAR

Charles R. Clason, Bates '10, has been announced as the next Rhodes Scholar from Maine. Clason is now in his last year at Georgetown University Law School and has maintained a very high standard of scholarship there, as he did at Bates. He was prominent in baseball and football at Bates and in 1910 won the intercollegiate tennis championship of Maine. The Bowdoin candidates for the scholarship were Neal Tuttle '14, Alfred E. Gray '14, and Robert P. Coffin '15. This is the first time since the scholarship was put on a competitive basis that it has not been won by a Bowdoin man.

CROSS-COUNTRY “B”

One “B” has been awarded in cross-country this fall. This was given to Clarence H. Crosby '17, who finished among the first ten in the intercollegiate meet at Waterville. Earlier in the season he won the Freshman race with M. C. I., the interclass cross-country race and the mile and half-mile in the interclass track meet. He finished in sixth place in the Maine meet.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE DEBATE

Friday evening, Dec. 12, the annual Freshman-Sophomore Debate takes place in Hubbard Hall in the Debating Room. The question will be: Resolved: That the Commission Form of Government is the one best suited to American cities. The judges will be Doctor Little, Professor Hornell, and Professor Elliott. The presiding officer will be G. W. Bacon '15. The Freshman team consists of Blanchard, Langs, Moran, and Crosby, alternate, and will support the affirmative. Their coach is G. A. McWilliams '15. The Sophomore team consists of Edwards, Foster, Sayward, and Parsons, alternate. Their coach is E. C. Gage '14.

FENCERS BEGIN WORK

About fifteen men have reported for Fencing practice under Instructor Maroney. Of the last year's team, Floyd '15, manager of this year's team, is the only man left in college, so practically a whole new team must be developed. Payson '14, Porritt '15, and Pope '14 were promising members of last year's squad. The other men who are out for the team are Mitchell '14, Coffin '15, Cutter '15, Robinson '15, Perkins '15, Hastings '15, Prescott '15, Bridge '15, C. A. Hall '16, Leadbetter '16, Ramsdell '16. Practice is held every afternoon at 5:30.
JUNIOR CLASS ELECTIONS

The Class of 1915 held their elections last night in the Y. M. C. A. Room. These were the important elections of the year at which the class and Ivy Day officers were elected. The Orient goes to press too early to record the result. The class popular man is not announced until Ivy Day.

THANKSGIVING DANCES

On the evening of November 25th, the Theta Delta Chi and Zeta Psi fraternities held their annual Thanksgiving dances in their chapter houses.

The committee in charge of the Theta Delta Chi affair was composed of Ralph L. Buell ’14, Horace A. Barton ’14, and Edward R. Elwell ’15. The patronesses were Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff and Mrs. John A. Slocum, both of Brunswick. Chandler’s orchestra of Lewiston furnished the music.

The guests were the Misses Ethel Jones, Alberta Robinson, Margaretta Schuyler, Gertrude King, Marie Heiber, Elizabeth Payson, Geraldine Wheeler, Dorothy True, Emily Mansfield and Helen Broe of Portland; Misses Pauline Herring and Marguerite Hutchins of Brunswick; Misses Katherine Torrey and Dorothy Higgins of Bath; and Miss Marie Fogg of Westbrook.

The young ladies at the Zeta Psi dance were the Misses Katherine Vose, Clara Jones and Dorothy Gilman of Portland; Misses Helen Colby, Gladys Umbenheine, Ruth Ridley, Helen Merriman, Alfaretta Graves, Alexina LaPointe, Annie Coffin and Sue Winchell of Brunswick; Misses Lena Blanchard, Ethel Libby and Gertrude Heath of Augusta; Miss Marjorie Hall of Dover; Miss Myra Marsh of Foxcroft; and Miss Annie Owens of Lewiston. Special guests of the chapter were Dr. Alfred O. Gross of Brunswick, and Frank Carpenter, Colby ’13.

The committee in charge of this dance was Don J. Edwards ’16, Frederick W. Powers ’16 and James A. Dunn ’16. The patronesses were Mrs. F. W. Powers, Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. Alfred O. Gross of Brunswick. The music was furnished by Lovell’s orchestra of Brunswick.

INTERFRATERNITY TRACK MEET

To furnish an incentive to a lively interest in track work this winter, Track Coach Magee has offered a cup for an inter-fraternity track meet. The plan as it now stands is to have dual track meets between the various fraternities, to culminate in a meet between all of the fraternities. This will probably take place some time in February. The matter has not as yet been considered by the Athletic Council, but the track management earnestly hopes that this plan will become a reality. Judicious competition is a good thing and this proposed plan would give a necessary and at the same time interesting impetus to a successful track season.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The second annual Bowdoin College Interscholastic Indoor Meet is to be held this year Saturday afternoon, Feb. 28, 1914, and is to be conducted by the track management. Special prominence will be given to the relay races, and for this purpose out-of-state schools have been invited for the first time. Only the schools more prominent in track athletics have been invited, namely: Worcester Academy, Exeter, Andover, Arlington High, Boston Latin, Boston College High, Powder Point, Dorchester High, Waltham, Roxbury Latin, Boston English High, and Malden High.

GOOD NEWS FOR HIWALE

Pledges amounting to $178 secured in one evening’s work at his Alma Mater will indeed cheer Hiwale ’09. There is still a number of people whom the committee have yet to see. It is hoped and expected that the $300 mark will be reached.

Thanks for this success is due not only to each and every man who canvassed the student body and faculty but also to the tremendous influence of Mr. Brewer Eddy of Boston, in his lecture and in his personal influence and exhortations.

In his lecture, Mr. Eddy showed vivid pictures of the revolting conditions of heathenism in India against which Mr. Hiwale is fighting. We should be pleased if Christians were as earnestly devoted to their religion as those people are to their blind superstition. But in the midst of this heathenism Christianity is slowly introducing its improvements in the way of medical instruction, schools and evangelistic meetings.

In the American Marathi Mission Report for 1912, Mr. Hiwale writes that his field of labor is nearly 70 miles in length, and 40 in breadth, and is thickly populated. Mr. and Mrs. Hiwale do their work through Bible women, boarding schools and village schools. During 1912, they presented Christ to nearly 35,000, and sold nearly 3,000 Scripture portions. Although the people everywhere give them a good hearing, their lack of money greatly hinders their extending their good work.

MacCormick ’15 spoke from the standpoint of a student on our duty, as Bowdoin men, of supporting Hiwale.

President Hyde spoke from his remembrance of Hiwale as a student at Bowdoin. Although our language and customs were obstacles for him, yet by his tact and kindliness he made friends everywhere.

PROFESSOR DAVIS GIVES READING

Professor William Hawley Davis held the first of his Monday night readings, Dec. 1, in Memorial Hall. The attendance was large and those present were very pleasantly entertained. The subject, "Parodies and Burlesques," was dealt with in a humorous and entertaining way. There will be a reading every Monday night till the Christmas vacation, and Professor Davis cordially invites all students and members of the faculty to attend. "Short Stories," was the subject last night. There will be two more lectures; on Dec. 15, the subject will be "Contemporary Verse," and on Dec. 22, Dickens's "Christmas Carol" will be read.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

At chapel Wednesday, Nov. 26, twenty-eight dollars were collected by the Social Service Committee of the Y. M. C. A. Out of this sum eleven families were supplied with Thanksgiving dinners. The size of the families varied from three to fourteen and in all about thirty-five poor people were given dinners. In each basket were placed such things as a chicken, potatoes, sugar, butter, raisins, seasoning, tea, canned goods, etc. The Committee consulted the Police Matron and was careful not to give to the same families as received aid from the town, the Benevolent Society, and the Madisses Club. These societies and the Y. M. C. A. supplied about fifty families about the town.

ALUMNI COUNCIL

A year ago last June at the meeting of the General Alumni Association it was suggested by Dean Sills and others that an Alumni Council would be a benefit to the College. A committee was appointed, of which Charles T. Hawes '76 was chairman, to look into the matter carefully and to make plans for the formation of such a council. The report of this committee was presented last June at the meeting of the Alumni Association and its suggestions were adopted. The council will consist of twelve members elected by the alumni at large, at the same time at which the nominations for vacancies in the Board of Overseers are made. The first election will take place next June, when all twelve members will be chosen. Four of these will serve for one year, four for two years, and four for three years; and thereafter four will be chosen each year to serve for three years. A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Arthur G. Staples '82, Lewiston; Ralph T. Parker '95, Rumford; Leon V. Walker '03, Portland, and Gerald G. Wilder '04, Brunswick. This committee will present to the alumni twenty-four names from which twelve will be chosen.

TRACK AND BASEBALL MEN

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The following are members of the Freshman Religious Committee: Bingham, Brown, Seward, Crosby, Chapman, F. A. Hazeltine, F. D. Hazeltine, Moran, McConaughy, Flynn, Babcock, Langs, Stone, Marston, Nute, Achorn, Crane, Cormack, Crchoke, Fobes, Fillmore, McIntire, Eaton, Skofield, C. Foster. Crosby is chairman.

The deputation work of the Christian Association has begun. Monday night, Dec. 1, Lewis '15 spoke at Rockland. Last night, H. Foster '16 spoke at Woodfords. Chapman '17 and Simpson '14 spent last Sunday at Cumberland Center.

December 18-19 Fred H. Rindle, Jr., of New York, Industrial Secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A., will visit Bowdoin in the interests of industrial work. There will be a Y. M. C. A. meeting followed by a cabinet meeting. Mr. Rindle will speak at the economics classes on foreign labor, immigration and similar problems.

A New Custom

A new custom was introduced into the chapel exercises last Sunday evening by the replacing of the first anthem with a congregational hymn. It was well received by the student body. This change is in line with the gradual but sure development of the music of our chapel services which has been evident since the inauguration of the Music Department. We hope that the new custom will become firmly established and will not be allowed to lag when the novelty wears off.

The Alumni Council

On account of the absence of any informal method of communication to the alumni of the College the Orient wishes to call to the attention of its alumni as well as undergraduate readers the present status of the Alumni Council. The condition of infrequent meeting of the alumni makes the launching of the project a rather slow process. It is, indeed, partly to remedy this handicap that the Alumni Council will find its opportunity for serving the College. More and more as the College assumes new responsibilities toward the men it takes within its gates it becomes necessary to have a body such as the one to be elected at Commencement for the carrying on of alumni business and policies throughout the year.

Y. M. C. A. Notes, continued from page 167

The Freshman Religious Committee will meet this evening at 9.45 o’clock at Professor McConaughy’s house, 3 McElhan Street.

The Committee of 79, in charge of the special meetings in January, will hold its first meeting Monday evening, Dec. 15, at 7 p. m. at the Delta Upsilon House.

ALUMNI IN TEACHING

The Orient publishes annually a list of the Alumni engaged in teaching. This year’s list is complete and accurate as far as is known. Any errors or omissions will be corrected by the Orient or at the office. The list follows, the school or district and address being given:

Henry K. White ’74, Supt., Newcastle, New- castle; Albert M. Card, m'75, Supt., Aha, Head Tide; W. E. Sargent ’87, Hebron Academy, Hebron; F. W. Freeman ’89, Supt., Eliot and South Berwick, South Berwick; G. H. Larrabee ’89, Bangor High School, Bangor; H. E. Alexander ’90, Waldoboro H. S., Waldoboro; Will O. Her- sey ’92, Supt., Fairfield and Oakland, Fairfield; Jesse W. Lambert ’93, Supt., Kennebunk and Kennebunkport, Kennebunk; F. E. Briggs ’94, Lincoln Academy, Newcastle; A. L. Dennison ’95, Kennebunk H. S., Kennebunk; E. R. Woodbury ’95, Thornton Academy, Saco; John W. Foster ’96, Supt., Kingfield and New Vineyard, North Anson; Howard Gilpatrick ’96, Supt., Eustis, Bigelow Pl., Flagstaff Pl., Coplin Pl., Stratton; Ralph W. Leighton ’96, Skowhegan H. Tuttle ’06, Bridgton Academy, North Bridgton; R. S. Smith ’07, Washington Academy, East Machias; Frank H. Byram ’08, CHEMICAL CLUB REORGANIZES

The first meeting of the Chemical Club was held in the Chemistry Laboratory December 3. Summer Mountfort '14 was elected president, Arthur G. Hildreth '16 was chosen secretary and treasurer and Hebron Adams '14, vice-president. The following men were admitted to the club: Bridge '15, Cole '14, Tuttle '14, Gray '14, Heywood '14, Payson '14, Wilson '14, Woodberry '14, Hamblen '14, Monroe '14, King '14, Lord '16 and Irving '16.

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB MEETS

The third fortnightly meeting of the Good Government Club was held last Wednesday evening, Dec. 3, at the Beta Theta Pi house. Three new members were voted in: Burns '14, Callahan '14 and Roberts '15. The chief topic which was discussed was that of the Hetch-Hetchy valley. This is a most important subject for it concerns the water supply of San Francisco. The subject principally rests on the efforts of the people of San Francisco to get a bill through the Legislature to use the lake situated in this valley for their water supply. The other topic discussed concerned the new phases of the Mexican situation.

The Library Table

The seventh and last volume of Professor James Schouler's "History of the United States under the Constitution" has made its appearance with the title, "The Reconstruction Period." It deals in detail with the administrations of Johnson and Grant. Like the preceding volumes, it shows careful research, a concise style and a conservative judgment.

"The Life and Letters of John Paul Jones" by Mrs. Reginald deKoven is a splendid work resulting from years of research in which the writer has accumulated considerable new material. It is the most important biography of the great naval hero that has yet been published.

Students who desire exact information on the subject will welcome "The Missions and Missionaries of California," by Fr. Zephin Engelhardt. Volume one is devoted to lower California and traces with much detail the work of the Jesuits and the Franciscans in that territory.

"A New Era in Chemistry," by Harry C. Jones, Professor of Physical Chemistry in Johns Hopkins University, takes up some of the more important developments in General Chemistry during the last quarter of a century.

"Colonial Homes and Their Furnishings," by Mary H. Northend, is an interesting discussion of the subject. It deals with both the exterior and the interior of the old houses of Colonial times. Its great feature is its wealth of illustrations.

Club and Council Meetings

The Augusta Club held a short business meeting with Swift '17 and Blanchard '17 at 11 So. Appleton last Tuesday evening. The club's football team defeated Cony High of Augusta 13 to 9 on Thanksgiving morning. Touchdowns were secured by Stuart '16 and Chapman '17.

There will be a meeting of the Classical Club Thursday, Dec. 11, with Professor Nixon at 8 p.m.

The Androscoggin County Club, which was to have met last Friday evening, postponed its meeting until Dec. 12, when they will meet with Leo Pratt at the Kappa Sigma house.

The Lincoln County Club held a short meeting at the Zeta Psi house last week and elected the following officers: M. H. Kuhn '15, president; A. H. MacCormick '15, vice-president; T. W. Weston '16, secretary and treasurer.

A joint meeting of the Orient and Quill Boards was held in the Verein Room, Tuesday, Nov. 25th. The constitution of the Bowdoin Publishing Company was discussed and the Quill Board then adjourned. The Orient Board then elected to membership Edward C. Hawes '16. Various other matters were discussed and the Board adjourned.

A meeting of the 1915 Bugle Board was held Wednesday, Dec. 3rd, in the Classical Room. The work of the Board was outlined and assignments given to the various members. Another meeting will be held shortly.

The Student Council meeting set for Dec. 4 was postponed to a later date. Dean Sills will probably speak at the next meeting of the Council.

On the Campus

Bert Morrill '10 was on the campus recently. The November number of the Quill will be issued soon.

Freshman millinery is out of fashion until after Easter vacation.

A number of students stayed at College during the short Thanksgiving recess.

Christmas vacation begins on Tuesday, Dec. 23 at 4.30 and closes on Tuesday, Jan 6 at 8.20.

The following men have left College: Hamilton '14, Tapley '15, Clough '16, Hellen '16, Mason '16.

Sanborn '10 and Kern '12 were elected councilmen on the Republican ticket in Portland last week.

MacCormick '15 is a delegate to the initiation banquet of the Colby chapter of Delta Upsilon in Augusta this evening.

“Farmer” Kern '12 and Frank Smith '12 coached the Deering High School (Portland) football team this fall.

On Friday, Dec. 12, at 8 P. M., in the Classical Room, there will be an open illustrated lecture on Athens by Dr. Arthur Cooley.

The time of the weekly meetings of the Bible study normal classes has been changed from Monday night to Friday noon at 1.00 o'clock.

Professor Davis has kindly postponed his reading on the evening of Dec. 15 from 7 to 7.45 because of the meeting of the Committee of 79.

The Mikado, a comic opera in two acts, will be presented under the auspices of the Saturday Club in the Town Hall next Thursday at 8.00 P. M. Prof. Wass is in charge of the chorus which is composed of fifty picked voices of the town and college.

At Christmas time Alpha Delta Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, Theta Delta Chi, Zeta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Delta Upsilon will hold dances.

While Professor McLean is away, there will be no conferences in Economics I. The whole class will meet for lectures Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The Bowdoin Gymnasium is mentioned in complimentary terms in a recent article by William F. Garcelon, former graduate treasurer of athletics at Harvard.

The plan is to be brought before the Athletic Council of having all track men who compete for Bowdoin wear jerseys with a small “a” on each side of the “B,” until they have won their letters.

The brown-tail moth nests are being removed from the trees on the campus and adjoining grounds. The use of spurs and pruning knives has supplanted the old method of moth balls and pea-shooters.

Gymnasium work began last week. The usual track and baseball squads are held this year, in addition to the regular gym, but there will be no football classes. Make-ups come on Tuesdays at 3.30 and on Saturdays at 2.30.

Joe Finneran, track coach here last spring, has invented a new style of bamboo vaulting pole, which, he claims, will make pole vaulters rival the air-men. Finneran is now golf instructor at the Franklin Park links in Boston.

Alton Lewis '15 was a guest of honor Monday evening, Dec. 1, at a banquet tendered the members of the Rockland High School football team by the Y. M. C. A. of Rockland. The banquet was held in the Methodist vestry of that city.

The Portland Sunday Telegram for Dec. 7 contains an interesting account of how Franklin Pierce '24 and John Parker Hale '27 were rival candidates for the presidency of the United States in 1852. This is recorded in the pamphlet “Life at Bowdoin.”

The local chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon had a good representation at the annual convention held in Boston last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Among the undergraduates attending were Gray '14, Heywood '14, Cunliffe '14, Morrill '14, Standish '14, Eddy '14, McCargo '14, Porritt '15, Eastman '15, MacDonald '15, Hall '15, Fuller '16, Drummond '16, Baxter '16, Irving '16, Hale '16 and Shumway '17.

With the Faculty

The Outlook for November 15, 1913, reviews President Hyde’s book, “The Quest of the Best,” as follows:—This fresh addition to President Hyde’s valuable treatises on ethics during the last twenty-one years is designed specially for boys, while in large measure applicable to girls. He shows that boys are naturally but pardonably bad, their badness being elemental goodness out of place and working in the wrong direction—just as dirt is matter out of place. Next, enforced or artificial goodness is unstable and unreal, and yet a stage of moral discipline that cannot be skipped in the development of real goodness enlisted in an earnest quest of the best. How to allure the boy to this quest, keep him in it, and bring him back to it when gone astray, is presented as the great ethical problem, and is instructively answered. A peculiar interest and value of this treatise is in its having been collaborated by President Hyde, first with his class of Bowdoin College students, and afterward with several hundred experts in work for boys, to whom he presented it in lectures last May for criticism and suggestions, to which he acknowledges much indebtedness. No more helpful book exists for those who have to do with the training of boys. Grown-up readers will find that it puts them to confession with a thoroughness that is good for conscience.

Professor McLean was suddenly called to his home in Illinois last week by the serious illness of his father.

Professor McConaughy will speak Friday evening at a union meeting in Westbrook under the auspices of the Westbrook Boys’ Federation.

The Other Colleges

Twelve American universities have endowment funds of over five million dollars.

Harvard’s football team cost $35,000 to develop this fall. Coach’s salaries amounted to $15,000.

Radcliffe and Simmons College girls are said to have taken up the fad of wearing monocles.

The Dramatic Club at the University of Maine has selected Moliere’s comedy, “Les Femmes Savantes” for presentation this winter.

McGill University intends to erect a series of dormitories to accommodate all the students, and to cost approximately two million dollars.

Oxford University has decided to send a relay team to compete in the annual relay carnival to be held in April at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Williams College student body recently voted “to adopt the system of keeping the coach off the bench during baseball games.”

One thousand eighty-five students have enrolled in the free correspondence courses in agriculture given this year by the University of California. Six agricultural correspondence courses are now offered, and others are being prepared.

Seventy-five out of 180 students at Trinity College have pledged themselves to take an active part in the work of their recently organized Debating Association.

Two hundred men at the University of Pennsylvania have volunteered for social service work this year. The work includes first-aid work, gymnasium classes, a review of prison conditions, and the teaching of English to foreigners.

Books on religious subjects seem to be in greatest demand by general readers in the University of Minnesota library. During a recent week more books on religion than books on general literature were requested.

Selections from Chinese operas on native instruments and a Chinese playlet will be the features of a reception to be given by the Cosmopolitan Club of the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow evening.

Harvard and Washington and Jefferson were the only large college teams of the East to go through the season without a defeat. The total scores of both teams for the season follow: Harvard, 225, opponents, 21; Washington and Jefferson, 374, opponents, 13.

A movement to limit the membership of University debating teams to undergraduates is on foot at Harvard. Such a step has already been taken at Princeton, and it is likely that both Harvard and Yale will follow.

The Yale Alumni Advisory Board is considering the advisability of establishing at Yale a University Union similar in scope to the Oxford and Harvard Unions. It is estimated that the proposed Union would cost at least half a million dollars to erect. The student body is very much interested in the project.

At the University of Pennsylvania the required physical training has been placed upon a new basis. Instead of the regular gymnastic exercises the classes are required to spend two hours a week in any one of the following sports: basketball, track, cross-country, swimming, or walking. In basketball the men are divided into teams which play two games each week. In order to sustain interest in this part of the work, the two teams having the highest scores play a championship game at the end of the season, and the winning team is awarded a shield inscribed with the players’ names, to be hung in the gymnasium. Prizes are also offered in the other sports.

Because he violated the University of Chicago’s tradition that all seniors shall wear moustaches, by shaving his off, a prominent member of the senior class was ducked in the swimming tank in the gymnasium. Any senior who is unable to grow a presentable moustache on or before a certain time is forced to pay the same penalty.

The University of Oregon has decided to try the experiment of training its football players throughout the entire college year. During the winter and spring the candidates will be required to practice three hours under the direction of the head coach. Football, wrestling, boxing, basketball and general gymnastics will constitute the training.

'52.—The death of John White Chickering occurred at his home in Washington, Nov. 8. Mr. Chickering was eighty-three years old. His death leaves only three members of his college class, General Joshua L. Chamberlain and Lewis Pierce of Portland and George H. Theobold of Richmond.

Mr. Chickering had taught in Portland, Bucksport, Foxcroft and Corinna. He was graduated at Bangor Theological Seminary in 1860, and was pastor of several churches until he became professor of Natural History at Gallandt College, where he remained thirty years until his retirement in 1900.

'58.—The Rev. Frank Sewall, D.D., is pastor of the New Church, Washington, D. C.

'64.—Hon. Enoch Foster, who has for years been a leader of the Maine Bar, died at his home in Portland after a long and serious illness.

The renowned lawyer was a native of Newry, Oxford County. He fitted for college at Gould's Academy, Bethel, and at the Maine State Seminary, Lewiston. He enlisted in the 13th Maine Regiment and served as first lieutenant in the Third Regiment in the Department of the Gulf, under Butler and Banks. He studied law in the office of Hon. Reuben Foster, Waterville, and was graduated at the Albany Law School in the class of 1865. In the same year he was admitted both to the New York Bar in Albany, and to the Kennebec County Bar in Augusta. In 1868 he was elected county attorney for Oxford County, the position which he held until 1874, when he was elected state senator for two years. From 1884 to 1898 he was a justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine. He then came to Portland, where, on Feb. 15th, 1899, he became the senior partner of the firm of Foster and Hersey, which continued until Nov. 15th, 1905, when it was dissolved, and he, with his son Robert C. Foster, formed the firm of Foster & Foster.

Hon. Enoch Foster is survived by his wife, nee Sarah Chapman, of Bethel, and his one son.

Judge Foster early made a reputation as a strong and ready debater, especially as a great jury lawyer. His command of words was enormous and precise. He was conspicuous in cross examining witnesses. During his service on the Supreme Court bench, he became noted as one of the best judges Maine has ever had for expediting the trial of cases. His rulings were always promptly given and strictly adhered to. His written opinions possess exemplary strength of diction and expression.

Judge Foster was a Mason, belonging to some bodies in Oxford County and to Portland Commandery of Knights Templar. He was also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the Loyal Legion, as well as of the 13th Maine Infantry Association. He was for many years an honorary member of the Maine Commercial Traveller's Association. The field of law loses a valuable man in Hon. Enoch Foster.

'64.—John Green Wight died at his home in Clinton, N. Y., Nov. 23, his death coming as a result of over-exertion from a long walk. He was born in Gilead, March 2, 1842. He served in the navy in 1862 and 1863, but received his diploma as of the class of 1864.

Mr. Wight was a teacher in Bridgton Academy in 1865; Cooperstown Seminary, New York, in 1865-67; principal of Bridgton Academy, 1867-70; of Union School and Seminary in Cooperstown in 1870-90; Worster High School, 1890-94; Girls' High School, Philadelphia, 1894-97; Wadleigh High School, New York, 1897-1910, and had been a resident of Clinton, N. Y., for several years. He received the degrees of A.M. and L.D. from Bowdoin, and Ph.D. from Hamilton College.

'04.—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lunt announce the birth of a son, William Edward, Jr., November 3, 1913.
CLEMENT TO COACH BASEBALL

Wallace O. Clement, who has been selected to coach the Bowdoin nine this year, is a man of wide experience and much ability. He attended Edward Little High School for four years and was captain of both baseball and football there. He attended Tufts College for one year and made his letter in both baseball and football there. He left college about ten years ago. For some time he played on the Jersey City team of the International League, and later he was drafted by the Brooklyn Nationals. More recently he has been playing in the New York State League. Mr. Clement is at present in Revere, Mass., and is expected to take up his new duties here about the first of April.

DRAMATIC CLUB PARTS

As a result of the trials for the Masque and Gown, the following men have been retained for the presentation of "The Marriage of Kitty":

Assembly Committee, Samuel West, Chairman;
P. S. Smith, F. P. McKenney, H. E. Verrill
G. W. Ricker, L. N. Stetson and V. P. Woodbury were tied for the remaining place on the Assembly Committee. A special meeting will be held to elect the other member.

The result of the election of Class Popular Man will be kept secret until Ivy Day.

SENIOR ELECTIONS

The Class of 1914 held their annual election of officers last night. The result of the election will be announced in the next issue of the Orient, the current paper having gone to press too early to record the result.

SOPHOMORES WIN DEBATE

The Sophomores won the Freshman-Sophomore Debate which was held last Friday evening, in the Debating Room, Hubbard Hall, under the auspices of the Bowdoin Debating Council. The subject of debate was: "Resolved, That the commission form of government is the one best suited to American cities." The Freshmen had the affirmative side and upheld the common commission form of government with five members. The Sophomores in opposition did not cling to the bi-cameral or alderman-council system but advanced a new form which they claimed better than either. This is the managerial system, common in England and Germany, and based on the commission form. It has a commission of five members who elect a properly trained man who assumes the entire control of the city's affairs and is answerable directly to the commission. The speakers for the affirmative were Moran, Blanchard and Langs, with Crosby as alternate; for the negative, Edwards, Sayward and Foster, with Parsons as alternate. The judges, Prof. Elliott, Prof. Hormell and Prof. Little, were unanimous in their choice of a winner. G. W. Bacon '15 presided. McWilliams '15 coached the affirmative and Gage '14 the negative.

THE 1914 CALENDAR

A very attractive Bowdoin calendar has been published under the management of Eaton '14 and Roberts '15. The designing and printing was done by E. A. Wright of Philadelphia and is an excellent piece of work.

The cover is of brown limp leather with a colored picture of the Class of '75 Gates as an insert and the Bowdoin seal embossed. The calendar proper is done on sepia paper, and contains pictures of President Hyde, campus views, the fraternity houses, the athletic teams and various other college organizations.

INTERSchOLASTIC LEAGUE ORGANIZES

At a meeting of the Bowdoin Interscholastic Baseball League at the Zeta Psi house Saturday, ten teams entered the league for the coming season. The teams have been divided into two classes as follows: Class A, Edward Little High of Auburn, South Portland High, Deering High of Portland, Brunswick High and Rockland High; Class B, Cony High of Augusta, Lewiston High, Lisbon Falls High, Leavitt Institute of Turner Center, Hallowell High. Lisbon Falls and Rockland are new teams in the league. This is the first time for a number of years that Leavitt Institute has been in the league. None of the eight teams of last year have dropped out.

Dunn '16, assistant manager of the Bowdoin Varsity baseball team, had charge of making up the schedule, which will start April 18 and will end June 6. The winners in each class will play for the championship.

Among the umpires who have been selected are Lew Brown '14, Mountfort '14, Stetson '15, Beal '16 and Twaddle, Medici '16.

FRESHMAN RELIGIOUS COMMITTEE

Last Tuesday evening the Freshman Religious Committee met at the home of Professor McConaughy. C. A. Crosby was elected chairman. It was decided to collect from the various houses and dormitories old clothing for Dr. Grenfell's and other missions. H. Foster '16 told of the clothing collected last year and the good it did. A. Merrill '14 spoke of the work of the Boys' Club now meeting in the old gymnasium. The club, which has an enrollment of about one hundred young Brunswick boys, will probably be divided into groups of ten each, each group meeting once every two weeks. Beginning about the middle of January, some of the men will have opportunity to meet with these groups. Others will assist in the larger gymnasium classes which are in the care of Messrs. Kimball and Maroney. The old gym also has several game tables which are occupied every afternoon by the youngsters. C. Brown '14 urged the men to take hold of the Y. M. C. A. work and help all they could.

RELAY MEN BEGIN WORK

The track squad was divided yesterday into two sections. A relay squad of twenty-four men will work out under Trainer Magee every afternoon at 4:30, in preparation for the race at Boston in February. Those selected are: Fuller '16, Ireland '16, Fox '14, Ogle '17, Pierce '17, Powers '16, Wright '14, McWilliams '15, Prescott '15, Richardson '15, Stetson '15, Roberts '15, Balfe '17, Crosby '17, Wyman '16, Russell '14, P. Smith '15, Beal '16, Eastman '15, Colbath '17, McElwee '16, Wing '15, Bond '17, C. Hall '16.

Any others are urged to come out for the team but these are the only ones who will be allowed to substitute relay work for regular gym.

This leaves about thirty men in the regular track squad. These will train for the interclass meets during the winter and for the intercollegiate meet in the spring.

Fifteen men from each class taking regular gymnasium work receive thirty minutes instruction under Trainer Magee after their regular work. In this way all track material in the college is available. The men taking track work will have soccer part of the time while the relay men will have a great deal of outdoor work.

Of last year's relay team, Smith '15 and McWilliams '15 are left in College.

DRAMATIC LIBRARY FOUNDED

October 31, 1913.

President of the Masque and Gown,

Bowdoin College,

Brunswick, Maine.

Dear Sir:—

It is my hope some day to see the Masque and Gown of Bowdoin College a much more fully-rounded organization than at present, engaged in a wide range of activities. I hope to see it breaking away from the over-worked repertoire dear to amateur dramatic clubs (it made an admirable start in that direction last year) and turning its attention to more serious work, namely, the production of little known plays of high merit, the translation and presentation of foreign plays, and a more careful and earnest interpretation of Shakespeare than has been possible heretofore. I hope to see it occasionally bringing well known players and authorities on the stage here to lecture. Above all I hope to see it working in close conjunction with the English Department and encouraging Bowdoin men, undergraduates and alumni to try their hands at play writing.

The value to the college of such an organization can hardly be over-estimated. Primarily, the college would gain distinction in a department of education that is attracting more and more attention each year. Any effort toward a wider education proceeding from an institution of high standing invariably brings desirable prominence to the institution, and a serious study of the stage and what is produced on the stage must surely be considered such an effort. Regarding the benefit to be derived by the individual there is no need to speak, the benefit is so apparent. Most students are interested in the stage, few will not be aroused to a greater interest by a study of the stage. To some a new field of labor may be opened: as a result society will benefit, if not by actual contributions, at least by a broadened culture.

Seriously, the field open to the Masque and Gown is a wonderful one, offering splendid rewards for enthusiastic work. It is by no means an untried field, even in the case of college dramatic clubs (witness the work of the Yale and Harvard Clubs), but it is large enough for all. And serious work in that field means a service to the college fully as great, at least, as any that can be rendered by college paper, musical club or, I hardly dare say it, athletic team.

To be sure, such an end as I have in mind can not be gained in one year or even ten, but a start can at least be made. The end is well worth the effort.

In the hope of encouraging the Masque and Gown to develop along lines other than those of a producing club, I agree to present to the society a number of books dealing with the stage, players' editions of dramatic texts, as well as technical works, to form the nucleus of a library to be known as the Joseph Jefferson Library in memory of the kindliest and most lovable of that group of American actors characterized by William Winter as "players whose presence made an audience sweetly and comfortably glad."

My first contribution must necessarily be small, but I promise to renew it each year and to increase it as my means permit. I hope, however, that many others besides myself, alumni and friends of the college, as well as undergraduates, will contribute an occasional volume to the collection, otherwise its purpose must fail.

These books may be housed in the college library or in such place as the Masque and Gown deems best until the time comes when the society shall occupy quarters of its own, either in a Bowdoin Union, or in some similar building. It is desirable that these books be accessible on occasion to all students, but I wish them to be primarily the property of the Masque and Gown. I shall endeavor to present works that are not contained in the college collections, and my hope is that some day the Masque and Gown of Bowdoin College will be famous for its Joseph Jefferson Library and the use that it makes of it.

I trust that my motive in making this communication will not be misunderstood. I sincerely believe that the Masque and Gown can be made one of the most unique and powerful college dramatic societies in America. Such a distinction can not be gained easily; the effort calls for hard work along many lines. I have merely tried to make a little start along one of the lines.

Sincerely,

A SENIOR.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

This week Thursday at 7.00 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. room Fred H. Rindge will speak on the "College Man and the Laborer." Mr. Rindge is a Columbia graduate who has been all over the country organizing industrial work. He has visited all the other colleges in this state, and at Bates started many classes in English for foreigners. He will speak to the economics class, and investigate conditions here. Before the opening of the meeting Prof. Wäss will play two or three selections on an Ochestral loaned by Mr. Walker of Portland.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet on Thursday at 8.00 p. m. at the house of Prof. McConaughy, 3A McClellan Street.

This afternoon the Freshman Religious Committee will collect old clothes and old magazines from the college and from the faculty. The clothing will be sent to Dr. Grenfell’s Mission in Labrador to be used by the Labrador fishermen. The magazines will be sent to the state prison at Thomaston and to the Sailors’ Mission at Charleston.

Last evening the Committee of ’79 organized at the Delta Upsilon house. Prof. McConaughy explained the plans for the Fitch-Porter meetings, Jan. 7-11, and briefly reported for the committees organized—Publicity, Speakers, Meetings, Reception, Attendance, Conference. President Hyde spoke briefly, emphasizing the opportunity these meetings present and the various activities of the Committee of ’79. The officers are: chairman, Leigh ’14; sub-chairmen, Simpson ’14, McWilliams ’15, Brown ’14, A. Merrill ’14, MacCormick ’15, and Foster ’16.

CORRECTION

In the last number of the Orient, through inadvertence, History was left out of the list of departments in which majors may be taken. All courses in History and Political Science are to count for a major, except History 1 and 2.

The Gift to Masque and Gown

We print in this issue a communication from a prominent undergraduate sent to the Masque and Gown which will be read with interest and delight by all who have an interest in Bowdoin's dramatics. The gift to the Club, which has been formally accepted, is unique and will have undoubted benefits to dramatics and Masque and Gown in years to come. The suggestions for dramatic activity at Bowdoin have been adopted by this year's organization as its definite program and will be followed as fully as may be. The improvements noted can not be accomplished in one season but it is safe to assume that the impetus gained by the gift and accompanying letter will result in a higher tone in the club's activities this year and in the more distant future. In this connection we would add to the student body in general that such organizations are distinctly the interests of Bowdoin undergraduates; that membership in them is always open; that suggestions are always welcome.

The Annual Collections

To a large number of the undergraduate body who have not given the matter much thought, the collections taken by the Christian Association at Thanksgiving and Christmas and the old clothes collection may seem like formal, perfunctory "charity." There is, however, a real need for such gifts as the students make and the Association is performing a distinct service in organizing these contributions. For any who may have doubts as to the need served by our little gifts we commend an interview with the chairman of the committee in charge of distribution or an investigation of the use of the Christmas collection. In the past the best of spirit has been shown by the student body at such times and it is hoped that this year generosity and the spirit of Christmas will be more than ever evident.

As to Gym Work

Might we say just a word as to the change which is more than ever evident in the gymnasium work in our New Gym? With our splendid facilities, with instructors expert in their line and enthusiastic, it is no wonder that there should be prevalent a notable improvement in the interest displayed by the students. There seems to be rapidly developing a new attitude toward this part of our curriculum and many can be found who are glad that there is four years of compulsory work in this department. As has been said so often we get out of this work just what we put into it and when good physical development is so much worth while, why should we not all be anxious to put into the obtaining of it the required interest and enthusiasm?

Rev. Chauncey Goodrich, New Pastor

The intimate connection of the Church on the Hill with the College makes the news of the coming of Reverend Chauncey W. Goodrich to this church of interest to Bowdoin men.

Mr. Goodrich comes to Brunswick highly recommended by all who have come in touch with him. He graduated from Yale in 1886 and for one year after that, served as graduate secretary of the Yale Y. M. C. A. He was first assistant pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church, New York, next he was at Orange, N. J., for a period of six years, and then became pastor of the Bolton Avenue Presbyterian Church in Cleveland, Ohio, where he remained for three years. For nearly six years following he was pastor of the American Church in Paris.

Mr. Goodrich returned to this country in 1911 and since then has been assistant pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City.

Mr. Goodrich seems admirably fitted for the pastorate of this church and for work in a college town.

Club and Council Meetings

On Friday, Dec. 12, the Classical Club held its second meeting of the year. There was an open illustrated lecture on Athens in the Classical room by Dr. Arthur Cooley who has travelled extensively in Greece. After the lecture the members of the Classical Club met at Professor Nixon’s where they held a short business meeting and informally met Dr. Cooley. Professors Johnson and Ham were guests of the club at this meeting.

The Chemical Club held a meeting in the Chemistry lecture hall on Friday evening. The subject of the address was Photography. Dr. Cram lectured on Direct Positive Development; Adams ’14 spoke on Color Photography, and Dr. Loomis gave a brief description of the Eastman Kodak Company’s laboratories.

The Biology Club will meet Thursday evening at 8.00 o’clock in the lecture room. Professor Moody will give an illustrated talk on his experiences in the woods of Northern Maine.

Owing to the fact that a banquet was held at the opening meeting of the Deutscher Verein, which met at Prof. Ham’s house, and at which the club was reorganized, the annual banquet, held in former years at the Eagle Hotel, will be abandoned.

The Athletic Council, at a meeting last week, approved of an alumni baseball game to be played in Commencement Week, and of the Tufts football game in Medford as the last game of our season. The Council was in favor of a tennis tournament with Tufts, but this is yet to be approved of by the faculty. The sentiment of the Council was opposed to the inter-fraternity track meets. The outdoor interscholastic meet is to be held on Memorial Day.

On the Campus

Bate ’15 has left College.

Hagar ’13 was in Chapel Sunday.

Cressey ’12 was on the campus Friday.

The musical clubs’ picture was taken yesterday. Dunc’s derby did a dandy dip in Chapel Sunday.

The Friars will hold their annual fall banquet at Riverton Saturday night.

Genthner ’11, who is now teaching at Greenville, was at College Saturday.

The attendance at the Freshman-Sophomore debate Friday night was the largest ever.

The election of football manager and assistant manager will be postponed until after the Christmas vacation.

Dan Coogan, who last year coached the Bowdoin baseball team to a state championship, has signed up with Georgetown for the season.

Manager Floyd has arranged the following dates for the fencing team: Feb. 20, Harvard, at Cambridge; Feb. 28, Williams, at Williamstown.

The man who told the Dean that Chem. 1 is a cinch course has taken out a life insurance policy since the discussion of the Atomic Theory yesterday.

The last of the series of readings given by Professor Davis will be Monday night. The subject will be “The Christmas Carol.” The public is invited.

The next College preacher will be Rev. Albert Parker Fitch, D.D., of Cambridge, Mass., who will speak in Chapel on Jan. 11 in connection with the Fitch-Porter meetings.

At a recent meeting of the Society of Colonial Wars in Boston, an address on “The Bowdoin Family” was given and several articles belonging to Governor Bowdoin’s family were exhibited.

Lewis ’15 and Robinson ’15 have put on the market two calendars with pictures of the football team on them. One is in the shape of a football and has been described as “beautifully bizarre.”

There will be a meeting of the Junior class before the recess to elect the fifth member of the Assembly Committee, to vote on Ivy Day and Bugle assessments, and to vote on the payment of the manager.

The following men from the College were in the Mikado chorus: West ’15, Fuller ’16, Shea ’14, Eaton ’14, Rollins ’15, Melloon ’15, Evans ’15, Ramsey ’15 and Woodman ’16. Fuller ’16 took the part of Phish Tush in the production.

There will be no issue of the Orient on Tuesday, Dec. 23, or on Jan. 6. The issues are limited in number per volume to 32. The current issue is the 22nd and the last ten will probably appear on Jan. 13, 20 and 27, Feb. 10, 17 and 24, March 3, 10, 17 and 24.

Soccer will take a place among interclass sports at Bowdoin. Opportunity will be given the fellows to get acquainted with the game every Saturday. The present plan is for Coach Magee to pick a team from each class to play for the championship. A cup will be given to the winners.
The Christmas collection will be taken after Chapel next Sunday, Dec. 21. The money will be used to give a Christmas to thirty or forty poor Brunswick children who would not get it otherwise. The celebration will be held Dec. 26 in the court-room. The money will be used to buy toys, shoes, rubbers, etc.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 7, there will be a reception in Memorial Hall for the whole college. The speakers will be President Hyde, Jack Hurley '12, Bill MacCormick '12 and Dave Porter '06. They will speak on the general topic, "If I Were a Bowdoin Undergraduate." There will be special music and refreshments.

At the December monthly banquet in Portland of the Western Maine Association of Theta Delta Chi, the following Bowdoin men were present: Walter P. Perkins '80, Joseph B. Reed '83, Dr. Francis J. Welch '03, Leon H. Smith '10, James F. Hamburger '10, George F. Cressey '12, Stanley F. Dole '13, Earl B. Tuttle '13, S. L. Mountfort '14 and D. K. Merrill '15.

With the Faculty

Professor Cram is doing analysis work in connection with the noted murder in Gardiner.

Doctor Gross delivered an address before the Portland Society of Natural History last evening.

Professor Hutchins gave a very interesting address before the St. Paul's Church Men's Club last Tuesday evening. He described a five weeks' walking trip of about 350 miles through the Austrian Tyrol which he and Mrs. Hutchins took. He showed many lantern slides made from photographs of the country.

Professor Wass deserves great praise for the splendid work done by the chorus in "The Mikado," under his training and direction.

A committee of which Dean K. C. M. Sills is chairman, is investigating the situation regarding the teaching of Greek in the Maine fitting schools. The other members of the committee are Professor Clarence H. White of Colby, Professor George M. Chase of Bates, Professor J. H. Huddilston of the University of Maine, and Miss E. R. Knowlton of Coburn Classical Institute. The committee plans to look into the matter thoroughly and will submit its report to the classic department of the Maine Teachers' Association. The report will also be published. In the meantime the committee would be glad to receive suggestions or comments from any one who is interested in the subject at hand.

The Other Colleges

The University of Wisconsin Dramatic Society is planning to stage six plays this winter.

The Yale University Library, containing 600,000 volumes, is the largest college library in America.

Pennsylvania students sign this pledge at the top of all test sheets: "I have neither given nor received information during this test."

Brown is having much trouble organizing its inter-class basketball league. Thus far the Sophomores are the only class which has been organized.

Five thousand students from eight hundred colleges and universities in the United States and Canada are expected to attend the convention of the Student Volunteer Movement for foreign missions, which will meet in Kansas City on December 31 for a five-day session. Among the prominent men who will address the convention are William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, and John R. Mott, who declined the appointment of Minister to China.

Resolutions

Hall of Alpha Delta Phi.

December 15, 1913.

It is with the deepest sorrow and regret that the Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi records the death of Brother Nathaniel Augustus Robbins of the Class of 1857. Brother Robbins was one of our oldest and most beloved alumni. Prominent in the War of the Rebellion, he afterward remained a loyal servant to his country. Therefore be it Resolved. That the chapter, feeling deeply its loss, extend its sympathy to his bereaved family and friends.

Hall of Theta of Delta Kappa Epsilon
Dec. 12, 1913.

Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon hears with deep regret of the death of the Hon. Enoch Foster of the Class of 1864. Brother Foster has been prominent in Maine politics as a state senator, but he is best known through his legal work. He is also well known as a justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine from 1884 to 1898. Since that time he has been a prominent lawyer in Portland.

The Chapter expresses its sorrow at the loss of one of its noted alumni, and extends its sincere sympathy to his wife and son.

Hall of Theta of Delta Kappa Epsilon
Dec. 12, 1913.

It is with profound regret that the Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon hears of the death of John Green Wight of the Class of 1864. Brother Wight has been well known as a teacher for many years. At different times he has been the principal of schools in Bridgton, Worcester, Philadelphia and New York. He has received the degrees of A.M. and LL.D. from Bowdoin, and the degree of Ph.D. from Hamilton College.

The Chapter wishes to express its sorrow at the passing of an alumnus who has done such noble work in education.

Alumni Department

In the list of “Alumni in Teaching” the following were omitted: D. O. S. Lowell ’74, headmaster of Roxbury Latin School, Boston; I. F. MacCormick ’00, Albany Academy, Albany, N. Y.; D. E. MacCormick ’03, Volkmann School, Boston; W. E. Dodge ’13, Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.; J. C. Carr ’13, Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham, Mass. The Orient will be glad to add to this list from time to time as omissions are noted.

1957—The Rev. Thomas Kimball Noble, one of the oldest Congregational clergymen of the country, died at his home in Washington, Oct. 22, after an illness of about six weeks. Dr. Noble was a native of Norway, Me., and had lived in Washington more than ten years. He was eighty-one years old.

Dr. Noble was educated at the Norway Liberal Institute and at Bowdoin College, and was graduated at Bangor Theological Seminary during the Civil War. He was at the front for a while. After graduation he was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church at Winthrop, Me., but soon commenced service in the United States Christian Commission, first as a delegate, then as an agent. Later he was a chaplain in the Union Army.

After the war he became chief superintendent of the educational work of the Freedman’s Bureau in Kentucky. In 1869 Dr. Noble became pastor of the Pilgrim Church in Cleveland, Ohio, and while there was secretary for Ohio of the National Church Building Society. In 1872 he accepted the pastorate of the Plymouth Church, in San Francisco, where he served fourteen years.

Dr. Noble resigned his pastorate in 1886 and traveled abroad, later coming to Washington, where he acted as pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian Church. In 1890 he became pastor of the First Congregational Church of Norwalk, Conn., and remained there ten years. After leaving Norwalk in 1900, Dr. Noble traveled in Europe and in the Holy Land, and then came to Washington.

Dr. Noble leaves a wife, Mrs. Esther Frothingham Bradbury Noble, and a daughter, Mrs. Wimfred W. Whitman, of Alameda, Calif. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

1957.—Benjamin Wisner Pond, after a service of a little more than forty years in the United States Patent Office at Washington, resigned his position recently and received a personal letter from the President of the United States, expressing his “appreciation of a long and valuable service, and of the high sense of public duty” that led him to retire. In his letter of resignation Pond had declared his belief that the important work of his division might be better handled by a younger man.

President Wilson’s letter said in part, “I learn that you have tendered your resignation as a member of the Examining Corps of the Patent Office on which you have served for more than forty years. It is a pleasure to me to express my appreciation of your long and valuable service, and of the high sense of public duty which now leads you to retire. * * * I hope you will derive pleasure and comfort from the good wishes of your associates which will follow you into your retirement.”
Mr. Pond was born and prepared for college in Bangor, and after graduation at Bowdoin he followed his forbears into the ministry where for several years he filled the pulpits of certain Congregational churches in Maine, Massachusetts and Vermont. He had been graduated at the Bangor Theological Seminary in 1861.

His health becoming impaired in ministerial work, he found it necessary to seek a change of scene and climate. Having received the appointment of Supervisor in the educational work of the Freedman’s Bureau at Washington, he spent some years in travelling through various sections of the South looking after the established schools for the colored people there. This work completed, he was hesitating about returning to the ministry, when, chanceing to be in Washington in 1873 he called on his old college intimate, General Ellis Spear, Bowdoin ’58, and an Overseer of the College, at that time Assistant Commissioner of Patents and later Commissioner in Chief. Spear said to him: “Ben, in spite of all your ancestry, which suggests theology, you were born with the head of a mechanic, and you had better stop here and examine engineering patents. We want men who understand machinery, as I know you do.”

Out of thirty-three candidates who took the very severe examination for the position, four passed, Pond being one of them. He was at once appointed to the engineering division of the Patent Office as third assistant examiner, and within four years, in August, 1877, was made primary examiner of the department over which he had full charge for thirty-six years with a reputation akin to fame. In commenting on Mr. Pond’s retirement to the writer of this sketch, General Spear said: “This service and record in the Patent Office during the forty years has been of the best, and a credit to Bowdoin College and his class.”

’64.—Dr. Wight and Judge Enoch Foster, who have just died, were classmates at Bowdoin and were the only representatives of their class at the Commencement of 1912.

It is safe to say that during his forty-five years of active work in teaching, Dr. Wight’s work was as successful and his personality as beloved as that of any secondary teacher in the country. Aside from his regular work, he found time to make excursions into the field of literature. Since he retired in failing health, he has edited a series of essays appended to his autobiography compiled during the active years of his life, and this last summer, he published a remarkable collection of quotations noted and collected during his fifty years of extended reading. While Dr. Wight’s career is not as spectacular as that of some of Bowdoin’s graduates, it is true that his sphere of usefulness is very great and that his personality will always live among those who knew him.

’77.—Miss Marie Ahinghito Peary, known as the “snow baby,” has just returned from a summer spent in Geneva, Switzerland, where she has been studying. She is now with her parents, Admiral and Mrs. Robert Edwin Peary, who have taken a house for the winter at 1829 Belmont Road, Portland, Me.

’77.—Curtis A. Perry spent a short time in Maine before going to San Francisco by the way of the Canadian Rockies. He was to sail the latter part of November for Honolulu, where he is to spend the winter. Mr. Perry’s bungalow in Bridgton has been closed but he is to return to Maine in time to superintend the spring planting of the Roadside Gardens, in which he is greatly interested.

’05.—The Oxford University Press has recently issued an edition of Theodore Storm’s Psyche, prepared for the use of college classes by Dr. Ewald Eiserhardt and Dr. Ray W. Pettengill, of Harvard. This attractive volume in blue has an interesting sketch of the author’s life and literary career, a full vocabulary, scholarly notes, and a series of exercises in English for translation into German, based upon the text of the original.

’05.—Ralph S. Robinson, principal for the past six years of Thomaston High School, died at his former home in Warren, Dec. 9, aged nearly 35. He belonged to Beta Theta Pi fraternity. After graduation he taught at the high school at Northeast Harbor for nearly two years, and was then elected principal at Thomaston, where he was the organizer of the High School Alumni Association. He served for two terms as master of St. George Lodge A. F. & A. M., and was a member of Henry Knox Chapter, R. A. M., of Thomaston, and King Hiram Council, S. and S. M., of Rockland. He is survived by his wife, formerly Julia Vinal.

’09.—On Nov. 27 Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Foss of Portland, Me., announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy, to Ralph O. Brewster. Miss Foss is a graduate of Wellesley in the class of 1911.

’13.—Two members of this class are doing good work in Worcester, Mass. Willis Eiden Dodge is more than earning his salary at the Worcester Academy. Albert E. Parkhurst is learning the business of the Norton Company, the largest manufacturing concern of grinding wheels in the world, and one of the most efficiently managed concerns of any description in the country.

NEW QUILL BOARD ELECTED

The election of the new Quill Board took place last night. The new members elected were: Dana K. Merrill '15 and Eric Achorn '17. These men with R. P. Coffin '15, will constitute the Board for the new year. The new Board will organize itself later and elect its chairman. Robert D. Leigh '14 was elected to the membership of the last year's Board.

MUSICAL CLUBS READER CHOSEN

The trials for Musical Clubs reader, which resulted in a tie between Kenneth A. Ramsey '15 and Sherman Shumway '17, were held again December 17 and resulted in the choice of Ramsey. The judges were Professors Hornell, Davis and Wiss. Ramsey won the '68 Prize Speaking last year.

FRATERNITIES HOLD CHRISTMAS DANCES

Six of Bowdoin's eight fraternities had Christmas dances,—Alpha Delta Phi, Zeta Psi, Theta Delta Chi, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma and Beta Theta Pi. The festivities were begun Friday evening by Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Upsilon and Beta Theta Pi, the remainder having their hops the first of this week.

ALPHA DELTA PHI

Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi held its annual dance and house party Friday night. In the afternoon a formal reception was tendered to the guests in the chapter house on Maine street, while the dance was held in the evening in Pythian hall. The hall was attractively decorated with the fraternity colors, green and white, while the dance orders bore the coat of arms embossed in green on white leather. Every active member of the chapter was present.

Among the guests were: Misses Elizabeth Hall, Katherine Hall, Ruth Little, Dorothy Laughlin, Alberta Robinson, Margaretta Schuyler, Dorothy True and Emily Mansfield, all of Portland; E. Gale Littlefield, Eleanor Shaw and Elizabeth Thaxter, all of Bangor; Ethel Cochran, Louise Harriman, Katherine Torrey, Margaret Torrey and Dorothy Sewall, all of Bath; Marion Drew, Alexina LaPointe, Yvette LaPointe, Ellen Baxter, Frances Little, Marion Strout, Frances Skofield, all of Brunswick; Louise Marson of Boothbay Harbor; Ouida Ward of Houlton; Evelyn Pike of Lubec; Catherine Webb of Bucksport; Catherine Robie of Gorham; Lucie Barrows of Springvale; Gertrude Lowell of Lowell, Mass.; Ada Johnson of Auburn; Claire Brown of Boston; Ida Rowe of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Harold Marchette of Brunswick and Paul White '14 of Indianapolis. Among the alumni present were Arthur L. Robinson '08 of New York City, and Lawrence W. Smith '13 of Portland.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. Alice C. Little, Mrs. William A. Moody, all of Brunswick, and Mrs. Arthur I. Pepper of Bath.

The committee in charge consisted of: Pratt '14, chairman; McWilliams '15, Noble '16 and Ogle '17.

Music was furnished by Stetson's orchestra of Brunswick. Grant of Lewiston catered.

BETA THETA PI

Beta Sigma of Beta Theta Pi held its dance in the chapter house on McKeen street. Fir and holly, both symbolic of the Christmas season, furnished the principal decorations. Lovell's orchestra of Brunswick furnished music. At intermission a light lunch was served.

The following committee had charge of the affair: Callahan '14, chairman; Nason '14, and Dalrymple '17.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Alfred O. Gross of Brunswick and Mrs. Algernon G. Chandler of Brunswick.

The guests of the evening were: Misses Flora Smardon, Marion Dunton, Louise Dutton, Ernestine Hall and Annie Brown, all of Portland; Miss Mary Elliott, Clara Ridley, Isabelle Palmer and Mrs. Willis E. Roberts, all of Brunswick; Marion Fischer, Olve Holway, Mildred Farrington, Hazel Gage, all of Augusta; Ruth Crane of Machias, and Madeline Bird of Rockland.

DELLA UPSILON.

The Delta Upsilon dance was held in the dance hall of the fraternity house on Maine street. Tasteful decorations made the hall most attractive.

The patronesses of the evening were: Mrs. William Hawley Davis, Mrs. H. W. Allen, and Mrs. Samuel B. Furbish, all of Brunswick.

The committee in charge was: Chase '14, Perkins '15, Pettingill '16, and Cormack '17.

The guests were: Misses Erma Lary of Portland, Helen York of Portland, Evelyn Swett, Helen Snow and Anne Hall, all of Brunswick; Bernice Williamson of Kingfield; Madeleine Winter of Kingfield; Theo Wilson of White Rock; Clara Parker of Goffstown, N. H.; Marion L. Tyler of Exeter, N. H.; Louise Harford of Saco; Ethel Bailey of East Poland; Levon Payson of Southport; Mildred McFadden of Lubec; Virginia Dunn of Auburn; Ethel Pettingill of Lewiston; Bessie Hackett of Farmington; Golda Gushee of Farmington; and Fidelia Woodbury of Portland.

Stetson's orchestra furnished music. Given of Brunswick catered.

THETA DELTA CHI.

The Theta Charge of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity held their annual Christmas dance in their Charge house Monday evening, December 22. The committee in charge was composed of Cole '14, Elwell '15, Livingstone '15 and Burr '16.

The guests were the Misses Sally Kimball, Elizabeth Payson, Pauline Hyde, Margareta Schuyler, Geraldine Wheeler, Gertrude King and Marie Heiber of Portland; Miss Margaret Stone of Wellesley, Mass.; Miss Marie Fogg of Westbrook; Miss Pauline Hatch of Bath; Miss Dorothy Wilkins of Wakefield, Mass.; Miss Frances Surette of Reading, Mass.; Miss Gladys Abbott of Bridgton; Miss Pauline Herring of Waterville; Miss Marjorie Sprague of Somerville, Mass., and Misses Helen Moses and Katherine Torrey of Bath.

Stetson's orchestra of Brunswick furnished the music.

ZETA PSI.

A Christmas dance was held at the Zeta Psi Chapter house on Monday evening, December 22. The guests were: Misses Gladys Burr, Dorothy Laughlin, Clara Jones, Asaphine Harvey, all of Portland; Misses Caroline Sparks, Bessie Locke, Gertrude Heath, Jennie Keene, all of Augusta; Miss Martha Feyler, Waldoboro; Misses Marjorie E. Bailey, Louise A. Bailey, both of Wiscasset; Misses Helen Harrington, Margaret Day, Gladys Umberhill, Alexina LaPointe, Yvette LaPointe, Lorette LaPointe, all of Brunswick.

Other guests at the dance were: Mr. and Mrs. George F. Wilson '12 of Reading, Mass.; Harold P. Vannah '12 of Augusta; Raymond D. Kennedy '13, of Harrisburg, Penn.; Professor Paul Nixon and Professor Manton Copeland of Brunswick.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Paul Nixon and Mrs. Manton Copeland of Brunswick, Mrs. Frank L. Ricker, Mrs. Harry H. Pease, Portland.

Music for an order of twenty-two dances was furnished by Lovell's orchestra of Brunswick.

The committee in charge was R. B. Soule '15, G. W. Ricker '15 and M. H. Kuhn '15.

KAPPA SIGMA.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity holds its annual Christmas dance tonight in Pythian Hall downtown. The patronesses are: Mrs. C. C. Hutchins, Mrs. R. J. Ham, Mrs. O. C. Hornell, Mrs. W. B. Moulton and Mrs. F. M. Stetson. The committee in charge of the dance, Foster '16, Moulton '15, Moran '17, have arranged a very novel effect of decoration for the hall, consisting of an arbor of serpentine paper in fraternity colors. The list of guests includes: Miss Olive H. Barnes, Miss Elizabeth Hobbs, Miss Annie F. Hodgkins, Miss Ina K. Nelson, Miss Margaret Morton, Miss Flora M. Somers, Miss Edith J. Somers, Miss Katherine Fox, of Portland; Miss Hazel Brett, Miss Verna A. Noyes, Miss Vertie E. Edwards, Miss Mary Malia, of Auburn; Miss Katherine Edgecomb, Miss Lillian F. Perkins, of Bath; Miss Evelyn A. Swett, Miss Lorette LaPointe and Miss Isabelle Pollard, of Brunswick; Miss Jessie McMullen of Seattle, Wash.; Miss Helen Nye of Hallowell; Miss Clara B. Lilley of Lowell, Mass.; Miss Esther A. Gillett of Haverhill, Mass.; Miss Thelma Stubbs of North Yarmouth; Miss Alice E. Simmons of Rockland.

IBIS MEETING

James Plaisted Webber, popular instructor of English at Phillips-Exeter Academy, comes to Bowdoin on January 6, 1914, the opening day of the new term, to give his recital on "Hamlet." The meeting is under the auspices of the Ibis and is open to the public. Mr. Webber, since graduating from the College in 1900, has been very successful in interpretation of Shakespeare’s plays.

REVIEW OF NOVEMBER QUILL

Some happy, far-off day when the literary interests of the College will seem of real importance to the undergraduate body, some day when the students of Bowdoin, recalling their literary heritage, will not feel agrieved if by some accident a reading by a distinguished foreign poet is scheduled for an evening before a football game, some reviewer picking up the latest copy of the Quill may pen some such words as these: “The literary paper of the college seems to be making real progress: only the editorials are written by the editors.” In the meantime, facing conditions as we find them and not shutting our eyes to the fact that very few men here care for literature, we should feel all the more grateful to the small group of editors who in the language of the first Quill editorial, dated January 1897, seek no empty praise, but aim “to rekindle the fast fading flame of Bowdoin’s literary life, if such is capable of again burning brightly.” To illustrate how much work has fallen to the editors, a hasty glance through the seven numbers of the present volume shows that of thirty-seven prose articles and poems, only five have been contributed by men who are not now, or who have not been editors of the Quill. Of these one is by a graduate, one by a senior. The contributions to the present volume from those of the three lower classes who are not on the board consist of one prose article and two sonnets. This is hardly a cheering record.

In the face of such indifference the present board has done well indeed: it has maintained a high standard and has shown that its members possess versatility. The November Quill deserves commendation. Mr. Robinson’s work shows promise; and it is only fair to state here that his college friends hope to see him within the next few years win his spurs in the literary world beyond our college walls. The essay on Stevenson is thoughtful and mature and is another tribute to that admirable and courageous author who has won the affection of American youth. Gettysburg is a longer poem than Mr. Robinson has so far printed in the Quill: it is on the whole admirably sustained and in many passages has the true lyrical lilt and real poetic imagination. The other piece of verse in this number is a sonnet by Mr. Achorn of real feeling and beauty. Mr. Sweet’s Goodwin Prize Essay on Chesterton is rigorously phrased and makes excellent use of quotation.

Mr. Gibson’s story is well handled and interesting. It is pleasant to note throughout this number a certain maturity of style, excellent literary taste and some unusually thoughtful and artistic work.

When one reflects how excellent the Quill is, despite very few contributions and despite general undergraduate indifference, it is hard to refrain from moralizing on what the Quill would be did it have the support to which both by its age and its work it is justly entitled.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK BEGINS

One of the best things that the Y. M. C. A. has started for a long time was initiated last Thursday. Mr. Fred Rinde of New York came to College that day and ferreted out the needs of the mill people in Brunswick, Pejepscot, Lisbon Falls and Bath. In the forenoon he spoke before the Economics I class and outlined the needs of the laboring classes and how college men had met these problems in many college towns throughout the United States and Canada. In the evening he spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting and called for volunteers. He was met with an enthusiastic response and about forty men have signified their willingness to aid in the work he started. Classes in English for foreigners were started in Brunswick, Pejepscot and Bath. These will be extended to Lisbon Falls where over two hundred people were found who wanted help along these lines. The mill hands in Brunswick were extremely pleased with the first classes and wanted all the time the college men could give. In one case at Pejepscot there was a young man who could not understand a word of English. In one lesson he mastered several sentences to his great delight. In Brunswick men were started in classes of reading and writing and in mathematics. The class in mathematics asked the instructor, one of the students, how to solve many of the problems that come up in their work by short cuts in mathematics, and he was able to give them some very great assistance. The enthusiasm of the men was almost beyond belief. They have asked for classes twice a week. The committee in charge is the Social Service Committee of the Y. M. C. A., but the religious side is not emphasized in the classes as they are for instruction in English and allied subjects only. The committee expects to be able to use all the men interested for one hour each week after Christmas and any others who become interested. If the enthusiasm of the student teachers equals that of the men the classes will be a great success.
A Change in College Dances

The Student Council made an important recommendation in regard to the college dances of the winter season. For the last few years the Junior Assemblies have been poorly attended and have been generally recognized as not very creditable social functions. They are class rather than college dances and do little toward binding the student body together. They present a financial problem to each succeeding committee. The Council, therefore, has recommended that they be abolished. On the other hand, at present Bowdoin has no general student body dance. It has been the custom in many colleges to hold such a dance in honor of the football squad or athletic teams in general. These dances are judged by the undergraduates to be the best dances of the year, offering unusual advantages for social intercourse and fostering a healthy undergraduate spirit. Such a dance as has been recommended might be under the management of the Student Council or the Board of Managers of the A. S. B. C. We should suggest that it might be held in honor of all “B” men. To take the place of the other Junior Assembly it has also been recommended that the Sophomore class give a hop. This would afford an opportunity for the underclassmen to engage in some activity as a class and would assure the function of a more general college interest. These two changes seem to us to fill a distinct need as well as a substitute for uniformly mediocre social affairs. The one requisite, however, for the success of the change is that these two dances should be held in the New Gymnasium. The All-Bowdoin Athletic Dance would not interfere in any way with gymnasium work, coming as it does during the football season and the one Sophomore hop occurring in March or April might well be tolerated from the gymnasium point of view as a concession to that large body of Bowdoin undergraduates and alumni who looked forward to the new gymnasium with the idea that it should furnish a suitable building for social affairs. It is hoped that the recommendation will be adopted next year by those concerned.

A Singing College

The one outstanding undergraduate opportunity emphasized at the recent meeting of the Student Council was the development of college singing and cheering. It is recognized that we do not know our songs, that we do not cheer as we ought to, that these elements are valuable mediums for the transmission of college spirit to the new Bowdoin men. The desire exists among nearly all of us to develop this side of our student life, but as yet the proper combination for such development has not yet been discovered. The Snow Song Cup and the class song competition seem to offer the opportunity and to the end that the competition may be a part of the Ivy exercises and a feature which Bowdoin will be proud of, those in charge have made plans for class and college sings during the coming months.

 Tradition and Its Value

That Bowdoin undergraduates are willing to give up time-worn traditions when they do not square with present demands and wants has been shown twice in the past fortnight. First in the vote of the Senior Class to reorganize the Pipe of Peace custom at Commencement so as to abolish the un-hygienic features. The second instance was the recommendation to do away with the Junior Assemblies. This is a healthy sign, this willingness to cut away the useless part of our customs.
Editorial Note
There will be no regular issue of the Orient on the Tuesday following the opening of college after the holidays. A special issue of the Orient, however, will be published on this date under the direction of the Christian Association to bring before our readers important facts in connection with the big Fitch-Porter meetings.

FRIARS BANQUET AT RIVERTON
The Friars, the Junior society, held its annual fall banquet at Riverton last Saturday evening. No new members were initiated. Those present were: Kern '12, C. Brown '14, LaCasce '14, L. Donahue '14, Elwell '15, MacCormick '15, MacDonald '15, McWilliams '15 and Stone '15.

FIRST PRACTICE TRACK MEET
Members of the track squad had a practice track meet in the gym Saturday afternoon, under the management of Coach Magee. Short sprints on the dirt floor of the Athletic Building were the features. Phil Fox, '14 was the brightest star. The results:

Preliminaries: Heat 1—Moulton '16, Richardson '15, Loeffler '14, McKenney '15; won by Richardson, McKenney second; time, 41-5 seconds. Heat 2—Pettingill '16, Sampson '17, Bond '17, McElwee '16; won by Bond, McElwee second; time, 41-5 seconds. Heat 3—Corbett '17, Pierce '17, Powers '16, Penning '17; won by Powers, Pierce second; time, 4 seconds. Heat 4—Foster '16, Floyd '15, Fillmore '17, Hargraves '16; won by Floyd, Hargraves second; time, 4 seconds. Heat 5—Balfe '17, A. Stetson '15, Eastman '15; won by Balfe, Stetson and Eastman tied for second; time, 4 seconds. Heat 6—Crosby '17, Sayward '16, Fox '14; won by Fox, Crosby second; time, 4 seconds.

Second Round: Heat 1—Stetson '15, Fox '14, McKenney '15; won by Fox, McKenney second; time, 4 seconds. Heat 2—Eastman '15, Floyd '15, Richardson '15, Bond '17; won by Floyd, Richardson second; time, 3 seconds. Heat 3—Powers '16, Crosby '17, McElwee '16; won by Powers, Crosby second; time, 4 seconds. Heat 4—Balfe '17, Hargraves '16, Pierce '17; won by Balfe, Pierce second; time, 4 seconds.

Semi-Finals for Second Place Men: McKenney '15, Richardson '15, Crosby '17, Pierce '17; won by Richardson; time, 41-5 seconds.

Semi-Finals: Heat 1—Fox '14, Floyd '15, Powers '16; won by Fox; time, 4 seconds. Heat 2—Balfe '17, Richardson '15, McElwee '16; won by Balfe; time, 4 seconds.

Finals: Fox '14, Balfe '17, Fillmore '17, Pierce '17; won by Fox, Balfe second; time, 34-5 seconds.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUES
Owing to the large number of schools which applied for admission, there will be two Bowdoin Interscholastic Debating Leagues this year, for the first time in the history of the organization. League One is made up of Portland, Cony and Lewiston High Schools and Wilton Academy. The schools in League Two are Westbrook, Edward Little, Brunswick and Biddeford High Schools. The schools in League One comprised the organization last year, but the unusual interest which was aroused among the fitting schools during the fall resulted in the formation of another division.

The question to be debated is: Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should Be Formally Retracted. Friday evening, March 6, has been set as a tentative date for all the debates. Portland will meet Cony in Portland, and Lewiston will face Wilton in Lewiston. In League Two, Westbrook will meet Edward Little in Westbrook, and Brunswick will face Biddeford in Biddeford. The two winners in each league will meet here separately about the first of April, and the members of the winning team in each league will probably be presented with the customary silver cups. No plans have been made for bringing the final winners together, to decide the championship of the two leagues, but if the champions of each organization should prefer to clash, arrangements would probably be made to that effect. The choice of sides for the preliminary debates will be announced later.

The leagues are supervised by the Bowdoin Debating Council, and the committee in immediate charge is made up of Charles H. Bickford '14, chairman; Vernon W. Marr '14 and George H. Talbot '15.

The coaches of the several teams, who are members in the debating course given by Professor William Hawley Davis, are as follows: Portland High, Charles H. Bickford; Cony High, Aaron W. Hyler '15; Lewiston High, William G. Tackaberry '15; Wilton Academy, Leon F. Dow '15; Brunswick High, Francis P. McKenney '15; Biddeford High, Kendrick Burns '14; Edward Little High, George W. Bacon '15; Westbrook High, George H. Talbot '15.

The championship of the Interscholastic Debating League for six years has been won as follows: 1913, Lewiston High; 1912, Lewiston High; 1910, Portland High; 1909, Portland High; 1908,
Juniors Elect to Assembly Committee

At a meeting of the Junior class, held Friday noon in the Boxing room, Leslie N. Stetson was elected the fifth member of the Assembly Committee. The class voted a Bugle assessment of $10.00 and an Ivy assessment of $10.00. It was voted to allow the manager of the Bugle not over $40.00 and the assistant manager not over $20.00.

The Christmas Collection

After Sunday Chapel the Social Service Committee took up a collection to give a Christmas to some of the poor people of Brunswick. Twenty dollars and ninety-four cents were collected. The money will be used in giving a Christmas tree to the poor people in the Town Hall Tuesday night in conjunction with several of the benevolent societies of the town.

I have examined the books, accounts and vouchers of the Manager of the Football Association, and the foregoing is an accurate summary of his receipts and disbursements.

Club and Council Meetings

At a meeting of the Student Council, Wednesday, Dec. 17, it was voted to hold the elections for manager and assistant manager of football next semester. The Student Council also voted to recommend that the Junior Assemblies be given up as they have not proved very successful in the past, and to recommend in their place two other dances to be held in the course of the year. These would be a Sophomore dance and a dance after one of the football games in the fall, after the Maine game one year, and after the Bates game another year. The Council appointed the leader of the Glee Club as songmaster at general college gatherings in order to improve the singing. The rally committee is planning for many rallies during the coming winter.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet was held last Thursday evening at Professor McConaughy’s house. The various committees reported and Mr. Rindge, Industrial Secretary of the International Y. M. C. A., spoke to the Cabinet.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Managers it was voted to allow Manager Floyd of the Fencing team to use funds already conditionally apportioned to him at his discretion.

On the Campus

Gormley ’16 has left College.
Keene ’17 has had tonsilitis.
Files ’08 was on the campus recently.
The Cross-Country picture was taken Tuesday.
Squanto Wilson ’12 was back for the Zeta Psi dance.

General Joshua Chamberlain is seriously ill at his home, and his recovery is doubtful.

The list of teachers recently published in the Orient was intended to include only those in this state.

Leadbetter ’16 and Barry ’16 have been appointed assistants in boxing by Instructor Ma- roney.

A meeting of the Boston Alumni Association will be held at Young’s Hotel, Boston, on Wednesday, January 14.

The Carnegie Foundation recently announced Bowdoin and Dickinson as the two best small colleges in the country.

Carr ’11 has been elected delegate to the annual National Convention of the Phi Chi fraternity. The convention is to be in St. Louis.

Douglas ’13, who is doing graduate work at Columbia, is captain of the University debating team. He also won the debating prize for highest excellence.

Among those at Sunday Chapel were Warren Robinson ’10, Barbour ’12, Locke ’12, Douglas ’13, Sweet ’13, Carr ’13, Buck ’13, Skolfield ’13 and Kennedy ’13.

Tilton ’13 and Barry ’16 should have been included in the list of umpires in the Bowdoin Interscholastic Baseball League printed in the Orient last week.

Coach Clements, the new baseball coach, had the distinction at a meet in Cincinnati in 1907, of winning the world’s championship as the fastest base-runner there.

Although the Orient stated last week that there would be no issue today, advertising contracts call for 33 instead of 32 issues. Hence our appearance this noon.

Leadbetter ’16 is establishing a reputation as a strong man. His latest stunt is to lie face down with one man lying across his arms and another man on his back and then rise with both men.

A new memorial window has been erected in the Chapel. It is a memorial to Albion Howe ’61. The funds for the window was left in the will of his widow, and the matter was arranged by his brother, Lucian Howe ’70.

The 1915 Bugle Board offers a free copy to any fellow who gets eight or more grinds by the National Board of Censorship. No reprints from the 1907 Peruna Almanac or the current volume of the Orient will be accepted.

The following report from Orono should be of interest to various hop committees throughout the College: “University of Maine students must no longer indulge in the festive tango dance at any affair held under the auspices of the university, according to a decision just announced by a committee of the faculty appointed for investigating the steps. All other modern rags are also prohibited, and staidness will be characteristic of the college affairs from now on.”

How that tango does travel!

With the Faculty

Professors Nixon and Woodruff will attend the meeting of the American Philological Society, which will be held in Cambridge, Dec. 29 to Jan. 1.

Professors Ham and Davis will attend a meeting of the Modern Language Association in Cambridge.
Professor F. W. Brown, now on leave of absence, is in Florence, where he is working at some Italian manuscripts in the various libraries of that city.

President Hyde read a paper on College Fraternities before the Town and College Club of Brunswick on the evening of Friday, Dec. 19.

Resolutions

Hall of Kappa of Psi Upsilon.

December 20, 1913.

Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon expresses its deepest sorrow for the death of Brother Warren Oscar Plimpton of the class of 1882. Always loyal to the fraternity, he has proved at all times a true brother. Therefore be it Resolved, That we express our sympathy to his bereaved family and that a copy of these resolutions be placed in our archives.

Earl Farnsworth Wilson,
Albion Keith Eaton,
Dwight Harold Sayward,
For the Chapter.

Hall of Kappa of Psi Upsilon.

In the death of Rev. Thomas Kimball Noble of the class of 1857, the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon has lost one of its oldest members. Devoted to the service of his country and his God, Brother Noble earned the respect of his fellow men throughout the country. Therefore be it Resolved, That our regret for his death be expressed in this manner, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his wife and daughter.

E. Earl Farnsworth Wilson,
Albion Keith Eaton,
Dwight Harold Sayward,
For the Chapter.

Beta Sigma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi hears with deep regret of the death of Ralph Sylvester Robinson of the class of 1905. Brother Robinson has been principal of Thomaston High School for the last six years. During this time he has been faithfully devoted to his work. Therefore be it Resolved, That the Chapter expresses its deepest sympathy to his wife and friends, to whom he has endeared himself by his sterling character and fidelity.

Evan A. Nason,
George W. Bacon,
Chauncey A. Hall,
For the Chapter.

'00.—The marriage of John Russell Bass of Wilton, Me., to Miss Alice Mary Ness of Howick, Quebec, took place at “Braemar,” the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ness, Sept. 17. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Whilans, pastor of the Georgetown Presbyterian Church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. Brodie Anderson, of Winnipeg, matron of honor, and Miss Ethel Allen of Montreal, as maid of honor. The best man was George C. Wheeler, Esq., '01, of Portland, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass returned from a trip to Europe about Nov. 1, and are located at Wilton, Me., where Mr. Bass is connected with the G. H. Bass & Co., manufacturers of sportsmen’s and river drivers’ shoes.

'01.—George R. Gardner’s decision last month to decline an election as principal of Cony High at Augusta was the source of much gratification to all those interested in the welfare of the Brunswick High School. Mr. Gardner has been principal of that school for the past three years, during which he has won many friends there.

'06.—Charles A. Houghton was married Nov. 26, 1913, to Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheat Carr, of Manchester, N. H.

'07.—Miss Louise Estelle Gartley of Bangor, and Mr. Robert A. Cony, Jr., of Augusta, were united in marriage Nov. 26 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gartley.

The groom is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He is also a member of the Kennebec County Bar Association, having been admitted to the Maine Bar following a course of study at Washington, D. C., while in the capital city as private secretary to Senator Burleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Cony have left for Washington, D. C., where they will spend the winter, being at home there after Jan. 1.
'68 PRIZE SPEAKING

The Class of '68 Prize Speaking Contest will be held on Monday evening, January 19, in Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. The judges have not yet been announced but the speakers will be Gage, Gray, Leigh, Newcombe, Robinson, and Simpson. The men are selected by the faculty from men recommended by Professor Mitchell. The parts which they present are original.

MUSICIANS TRAVEL

The Musical Clubs leave Thursday for their first trip. They will be at Pittsfield Thursday evening, Bangor Friday evening, and Hallowell Saturday evening.

The following men will make the trip:
- Mandolin Club—Barton '14, Little '16, Hall '16, Stratton '16, Russell '14, Tuttle '14, McCargo '14, Elwell '15, Standish '14, Kelley '16, Nason '14, True '17, Lappin '15, Thompson '14, Parmenter '17.

THE B.A.A. RELAY DIFFICULTY

Following the plan laid by George V. Brown of the B.A.A., Bates, Bowdoin, Maine and Colby were to have run a four-cornered race in Boston Feb. 7. This preliminary arrangement, however, was without the consent of the Bowdoin management, and it has met with objection from our management.

Up until last year, Bowdoin has generally run some out-of-the-state college, usually Tufts or Vermont. Last year, in answer to a virtual challenge from the University of Maine, Bowdoin took on that college, although believing that the athletic interests of each college could best be furthered by a race with some college not in Maine, and that a race between Bowdoin and Maine, if desired, could be arranged nearer home.

Manager Koughan has made the following statement in regard to the state race:

"Bowdoin is not afraid of the other Maine colleges and is willing to run them in a relay race but not under the conditions as laid down by the management of the B.A.A. Bowdoin has expressed a willingness to run the University of Maine, although that institution has, according to the dopes, the most promising relay team in the state. Bowdoin is also willing to run in a four-cornered race in which the teams shall run two at a time, the winners of the preliminary races to run in a final for the state championship. Bowdoin is not willing, however, to run with three other teams on the track at the same time, the track at the Mechanics Building being unsuit- ed for such a race. The judgment of Bowdoin in this matter is backed by similar action at Holy Cross, Fordham, Georgetown and Boston College, which institutions unanimously refuse to run in a four-cornered race."

The Athletic Council made its decision at a meeting late Monday.

TOM McCANN TO RETURN

Football men and Bowdoin men in general are glad to hear that Tom McCann is to coach the football team again next fall. Those who watched his work this year are confident of his ability to turn out a successful team. The experience gained in his first year of college coaching will be used to great advantage, while the acquaintance of the fellows with his methods will greatly facilitate his work. He will probably begin his duties about Sept. 14.

DEBATING NEWS

The question for the Wesleyan-Hamilton-Bowdoin debate this year is, Resolved: That a Federal Commission should be established for the regulation of trusts. The date has not been set as yet.

The trials for the Bradbury debate will be held on Friday, January 23, in Memorial Hall. Each man will be allowed five minutes. The trials are open to all members of the college. The debate itself will take place on March 25 and the subject in both trials and debate will be the one given above.
PUBLIC DEBATE IN ENG. 6

This evening at 6.45 there will be a debate in Memorial Hall by men taking English 6. This debate is open to the public. The question to be debated is the same as that to be debated in the Interscholastic Debating League, Resolved: That the Monroe Doctrine should be Formally Retracted. The affirmative will be supported by G. A. Hall '15, Kuhn '15 and LaCasce '14, while H. E. Allen '15, Keegan '15 and Marr '14 will support the negative. Other public debates will be held on Jan. 20 and 27.

A RECITAL ON HAMLET

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, in Memorial Hall, a small but very appreciative audience heard Mr. James Plaisted Webber, A.M., '60 of Exeter Academy give a recital on Hamlet. Mr. Webber is well known as a dramatic reader and has been a popular entertainer at Bowdoin on several occasions. He fascinated his audience by his interpretations of Hamlet, giving the play with the exception of a few minor scenes only and taking all the parts himself. His work was particularly effective in the ghost scene. Those who heard him are very grateful to the Ibis for bringing Mr. Webber here.

MASQUE AND GOWN TRIPS

The Masque and Gown will make its first trip to Bath this year, and trips to Rockland, Camden and Portland have also been arranged for. At present there are no other trips which are certain, but as plans are already being laid for a trip to Massachusetts, the chances for such a trip seem very favorable. None of the dates have been decided.

PRAY ENGLISH PRIZE

The subject of the essay for the Pray English Prize has been announced as “The Tragic Element in Shakespearean Comedy.” This is a prize of forty-five dollars given by Dr. Thomas J. W. Pray of the Class of 1844 and awarded to the best scholar in English literature and original English composition.

The essays must not be more than four thousand words in length, and must be handed to Professor Elliott by May first.

RELAY WORK PROGRESSING

Since the Christmas holidays the relay squad has been practicing steadily. Coach Magee says the men have shown up well, are training conscientiously and he is wholly satisfied with their work. There will be some sort of a meet every Saturday during the winter to train the men for the intercollegiate meets in the spring. The meet this coming Saturday will include mile, half-mile and quarter-mile runs, pole vault, shot put, broad jump, hurdles, relay races, and more soccer football. The following is a list of men on the relay squad: Eastman '15, Powers '16, Ireland '16, A. Stetson '15, L. Stetson '15, Balfe '17, Beal '16, Cormack '17, Richardson '15, Bond '17, Wing '15, Hall '16, Crosby '17, Roberts '15, Pierce '17, Mannix '15, McElwee '16, Fuller '16, Bancroft '17, Swift '17, Robinson '17, Wyma '16, MacWilliams '15, Smith '15, Prescott '15, Fox '14, Wright '14, Pettingill '16, Weatherill '14.

FENCING PRACTICE ON

The fencing squad is working out daily under the coaching of Mr. Maroney, and at present the prospect for an excellent team seems very bright indeed. Of a large and enthusiastic body of aspirants for places on the team, the following men show the greatest promise: Mitchell '14, Payson '14, Pope '14, Floyd '15, Porritt '15, Hargreaves '16, Irving '16, Leadbetter '16 and Creedon '17.

At present only two dates for meets are assured: one with Harvard for Feb. 20, and one with Williams for Feb. 28. Meets with the Panelli Club and Yale are pending, but so far nothing can be said for certain about them. The trials for the team are yet to be held; probably they will come off either the last of this month or the first of February.

BOWDOIN NIGHT

Last Wednesday evening an enthusiastic rally was held in Memorial Hall and practically the whole College was there. Leigh '14 presided. The subject of the evening was, “If I Were a Bowdoin Undergraduate,” and the speakers were Hurley '12, MacCormick '12, President Hyde and “Dave” Porter '06. Beside the speakers the Glee Club and the eats helped to make the meeting a live one.

“Jack” Hurley spoke of the need of character for both efficiency and success.

The Glee Club then made their first appearance for this season and sang the “Copper Moon” in fine style.

“Bill” MacCormick spoke next and emphasized the need of raising the standard of thinking among men and of being proud of our Bowdoin heritage. Sam West and his trusty warblers again marched to the stage and enchanted us with the selection, “Rosalee.”
President Hyde then told us what he would do if he were a Bowdoin undergraduate, giving some interesting ideas from his unique viewpoint.

"Dave" Porter was the last speaker. He dwelt upon leading a complete life and showed how easily we might neglect the moral side of our life while absorbed in the intellectual and physical development.

"Bob" Leigh then urged those present to partake of the hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee and after much persuasion they licked the platter clean. With the singing by the fellows and by the Glee Club, the refreshments, and the strong speeches, the evening proved a very enjoyable one.

FIRST SEMESTER BLANKET TAX

As the new semester approaches with its problem of the collection of the second half of the Blanket Tax, a review of what was accomplished this semester may be profitable.

When the first semester began, there were 356 students who could be taxed. At the present writing 330 men have paid the first semester’s tax, or about 92 per cent. of the men in college when the college year began. On the "black list," the list of men who neither paid nor asked for an extension, there are nine names. There are fifteen men who asked for extensions but have not yet paid. Of the men who have left college, two had not paid the tax.

To the fifteen men who asked for extensions and have not yet paid, a special appeal must evidently be made. Some men whose names are on the so-called "black list" are honestly and absolutely unable to pay. They are compelled by circumstances to forfeit the right of membership in the A.S.B.C. and give up the privilege of participating in Bowdoin activities. Among the men who asked for extensions, however, there are few of this class. A request for an extension is considered the expression of an intention to pay at some future time. We cannot hold these men down to paying, for the obligation is moral rather than legal. We can only appeal to their appreciation of the democracy, fairness, and effectiveness of the Blanket Tax, and urge them to assume their fair share of the burden of supporting our various activities. We feel that such an appeal will not fail to impress itself on these men and bring them the realization of their duty to the rest of the student body.

SECOND PRACTICE TRACK MEET

The second in a series of practice track meets was held in the Hyde Athletic Building, Saturday afternoon. The events included sprints on the dirt floor, a 300-yard handicap race and a 150-yard relay on the board track, and the high jump and pole vault in the pit. These were preceded by two games of soccer between the classes. 1914 played 1916 two eight-minute periods and won three to two, while 1917 beat 1915 five to four in four five-minute periods. The following men played: 1914, O. Badger, A. Merrill, R. Weatherill, Payson and A. L. Pratt; 1915, Cutler, Eastman, Roberts, McKenney, A. B. Stetson, Mannix, Wing, Morrison, P. Smith, Prescott and Coffin; 1916, Wyman, Fuller, Powers, McElwee, C. Hall, Beal and Pettigill; 1917, Bond, Noyes, Robinson, Pierce, Sampson, Crosby, Cormack and Fenning.

The high jump was won by H. White ’17 at 5 ft., 5 in., with Keene ’17 second at 5 ft., 4 in. Boardman ’16, Nickerson ’16, Fenning ’17 and Foster ’17 were tied for third at 5 ft., 2 in.

A. S. Merrill ’14 won the pole vault at 9 ft., 6 in., with Sampson ’17 second at 9 ft., and McKenney ’15 third at 8 ft.

Results in the 30-yard dash were as follows: Preliminaries: Heat 1—Won by Balfe ’17; Marr ’14, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 2—Won by Wyman ’16; Merrill ’14, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 3—Won by Roberts ’15; A. B. Stetson ’15, second; time, 4.1-5 seconds. Heat 4—Won by Weatherill ’14; Bond ’17, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 5—Won by Garland ’14; Pettigill ’16, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 6—Won by Hall ’16; L. N. Stetson ’15, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 7—Won by Somers ’15; Wing ’15, second; time, 4.1-5 seconds. Heat 8—Won by McElwee ’16; Eastman ’15, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 9—Won by Fox ’14; Powers, second; time, 4.2-5 seconds. Heat 10—Won by Richardson ’15; Prescott ’15, second; time, 4.1-5 seconds.

Second Round: Heat 1—Won by Balfe; Pet... (Continued on page 192)

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

THE FITCH-PORTER MEETINGS

Probably the most significant meetings ever held at Bowdoin were held last Thursday, Friday and Sunday under Doctor Fitch and Dave Porter. A large number of men attended most of them and a great many were reached in various ways.

The first of these meetings was held in the Chapel last Thursday evening, Jan. 8. Doctor Fitch was the speaker of the evening. In beginning his talk he divided young men into three classes. First, those who understand religion but who won't decide because of moral obliquity. It is up to these men to make a stand. Second, fellows who have various disbeliefs, but who want to do right. They are afraid to decide and act because of these disbeliefs. This is the class which will receive the most attention and help at this time. Third, the indifferent ones, men who give no thought at all to the matter of religion.

He finished with an earnest appeal for personal conferences, emphasizing their value to each man.

In the second meeting of this series, held last Friday in the Chapel, Dr. Fitch was the first speaker. He spoke on the first class he had mentioned the previous evening, on men who understand religion but are unwilling to make a stand because of their moral obliquities. He said that the man who is licentious, a drinker, or one who...
cheats in an examination, cannot have self-respect. In our own lives there is coming a time when we choose a woman whom we claim as our own, and to whom we give ourselves. Without self-respect a man cannot truly love, a pleasure which is one of the greatest gifts of Heaven. He prefers a man who can see the good in people to the cynical who is so premature that he only sees the bad in anybody.

Dave Porter emphasized this talk of Dr. Fitch by asking two questions, "Has this talk contained anything for you?" and "What are you going to do about it?" He said that the best way to get rid of the evil is to bring in good. To get rid of bad habits, form good ones.

At an informal meeting in the Kappa Sigma House Saturday evening, Dr. Fitch spoke on the evolution of religion and the human side of the Bible, showing how the stories of the Bible are applicable to men of today.

In the Chapel at the Sunday evening service Dr. Fitch criticized in a friendly way and as a college man our profanity and vulgarity of speech, our lounging on Sunday morning, and our excessive attendance at the "movies." He said that the man of one and twenty should seek simple pleasures and not artificial enjoyment. In concluding the series of meetings Dave Porter begged the men to become disciples, defining a disciple as one trying to learn. He hoped that the men coming here next year would find a more Christ-like college.

THE DECEMBER QUILL

At first, peradventure, you skimmed the December Quill in seasonable spirit. "A Christmas Greeting" sounded what you were feeling: the double harmony of the season, at once homelike and high, in "my house" and "your house" and also strangely far above either, "for every star rings music like a bell." And thereupon you relished the home-thirst, especially, of the actress in "Without Publicity"; a healthier-souled personage, you pronounced her, than the majority of those who star in theatrical stories. The next tale, in contrast, took you far behind the footlights of social life, out and down into the sordid streets; there, however, "A Little Child," whom the author has managed to present appealingly without undue sentiment, led your mind away to the old story which first gave childhood such significance. But furthermore, the mingled self-doubt of the year-end and the resolute hope of the New Year were upon you; and you read them in "The Spirit of the Pines."

"Will you, immortal, cower before..."

"The sting of a puny thought?"

"No," you cried, with sincere feeling, quite caught up into the vigorous swing of the verses. The doubt and the hope, transposed into lighter key, reappeared in "The Way of a Maid with a Man." And finally, the hope, now disentangled from the doubt, yielded readily to the delicate verse-music of "The Maid of Honor," and was led to look

"Far on the road to Joyous Gard,
To the almond trees, and the magic town."

Surely a suitable finale to this very seasonable Quill.

Afterwards you fingered the pages in colder mood. The originality of the final piece now stood out clearly. None of the other contributions, in fact, is so free from usualness both in conception and in expression. The maid of honor, old theme of joke-writers and wedding-guests—has she previously received her due in poetry? Her present vision, to be sure, is strongly Tennysonian. But the style-movement is quite individual. It lags only in the last stanza; here the thought deliberately tries to deepen itself (always a dangerous point for a poet) without full success. In contrast, the writer of the other poem needs deliberate study of expression. He has access to an emotional sphere which, to be perfectly frank, will remain closed to the majority of college undergraduates in our country until they "find themselves" (in Dr. Fitch's phrase), and cease to follow, with sheeplike democracy, the call of what may be termed the popular externalities. All the more, then, one hopes that this writer will conquer the territory of words. The following are distinctly rebellious: "wee soul stood—all naked—weltered by blow on blow." An infant Indian undergoing corporal punishment?

In "Without Publicity" the character of the independent Miss Porter is so skilfully prepared that we accept without demur her going "quietly to sleep" after watching an amateur burglar appropriate her jewelry. With his eye fixed somewhat too seriously, however, upon the heroine, the writer has failed to create the atmosphere essential to the success of the ensuing comic situation. For instance, we had not realized that Bert Holderness was fitted by nature for such an extraordinary escape; nor even that the heroine had not previously set eyes on him. His final dialogue with her falls, therefore, a trifle flat. On the other hand, the subsidiary elements in "A Little Child Did Lead Her" are at one or two points over-elaborated. We accept the busy and ineffective social-workers as an excellent background for the street-woman's tragedy, until three of them (Anna's two aunts and a cousin) are piled into one paragraph. Why, further, should the country express puff into and out of this particular story "in that lordly manner?" And by the way, why should Anna's pure idiom descend, only once, to the level of "she don't"?

As for "The Way of a Maid with a Man": perhaps you had imagined, at first sight, that here you were to enter a narrative region more catholic in scope. After the musical comedy success of the season and the "dark-colored bottle and some glasses" on the garret table, you heard with relief "the full-toned insect hum of midsummer" and were glad of "the old-fashioned poke bonnet." But alas, you turned the page to find yourself fobbed off with a witticism—and one not sufficiently unusual to form the basis of a storiette. You turned back to "the poke bonnet," at the close of the third paragraph. At this point, you fancied, some fair story might well be inserted. What precedes would serve, without change of one word, for the introduction; and what follows would make a neat conclusion. Such a tale, indeed, would give no more expression to Bowdoin life and Bowdoin thought than the preceding two. But its theme would be comparatively free from the popular externalities.

The Library Table

_Early Memories_, by Henry Cabot Lodge, is among the new books at the Library. It is a very interesting account of the writer’s boyhood and early manhood. The book commences with his recollections of Boston in the fifties and continues his life to the time of his first entering politics. Intimate and graphic portraits of such men as Rufus Choate, Sumner, Governor Andrew and others, are interspersed throughout the volume. Since Senator Lodge's career has been so rich in experience, and his contact with interesting characters so varied, the volume should be favorably received by the public.

_Railway Transportation, a History of Its Economics and of Its Relation to the State_, by Charles Lee Raper, Dean of the Graduate School, University of North Carolina, is a work of great value to the student of Economics. It treats comprehensively topics on Modern Transportation; Railway Transportation in France, Italy, Germany and the United States; State Operation of Railways; Extension of the Parcel Post; and numerous other allied subjects. The book has been received favorably by the press in both this and other countries.

_The Englishman in the Alps_, a collection of English prose and poetry relating to the Alps, edited by Arnold Lunn, is a remarkably well selected group of poems of standard writers. The book, though not so popular here as abroad, is becoming better known and bids fair to be as well received in the United States as in England.

The Library is to purchase an engraved silhouette of Hon. James Bowdoin, founder of the College, and at one time Governor of Massachusetts. This silhouette and two others in the Walker Art Building are thought to be the only likenesses of Governor Bowdoin in existence.

The Other Colleges

Bates dedicated her new chapel Wednesday.

New York University has students from eighteen foreign countries this year.

Earl Sprackling, Brown ’09, all-American quarterback of that year, has signed a contract to serve as assistant coach of the Brown University football team the coming fall.

At the recent convention of the Student Volunteer Movement in Kansas City, three hundred college men and women volunteered to devote their lives to the cause of foreign missions.

Tulane University desires to abolish football as a ’varsity sport, but is prevented from adopting this course by a forfeit of one thousand dollars attached to a contract with the University of Louisiana.

As a result of the retirement of Professor Willard Fisher of Wesleyan and professors at other colleges and universities for expressing views not in harmony with those of the trustees, benefactors and other faculty members of the institutions they served, the American Political Science Association at the closing sessions of its convention recently held in Washington, D. C., took steps to insure perfect freedom of thought and speech for all professors in all American colleges and universities.

Football has been made a regular course of the curriculum at the University of Wisconsin, and regular university credit, scholastically speaking, will be given for it. This comes as a result of action in the part of the faculty, and the special course in the technique of football commenced last week.

According to a decision handed down by Judge Gilson of the Probate Court of New Haven, Conn., Yale University will lose the legacy of $700,000 provided by the will of Mrs. H. O. Hotchkiss. The will was contested by relatives and carried into the courts. The Yale authorities are preparing an appeal.

Norman S. Taber, Brown ’12, now Rhodes scholar at Oxford, recently won second place in a seven and one-half mile cross-country race between Cambridge and Oxford. Although the first two men to finish were Oxford men, Cambridge won the race.

On the Campus

Warren '12 was on the campus last week.

D. K. Merrill '15 is home on account of sickness.

Albert W. Tolman '88 was in Brunswick recently.

Craig '12 and Hagan '13 were on the campus last week.

The Y.M.C.A. Cabinet had its picture taken this noon at Webber's.

The picture of the Deutscher Verein was taken at Webber's Wednesday.

Coxe '15 and Floyd '15 competed in a rifle match in Portland during vacation.

The antiseptic drinking fountain in the new gymnasium fulfills a long felt want.

Hon. Asher C. Hinds has been invited to speak before the Government Club at an early date.

Semester examinations begin Jan. 29 and last until Feb. 7. The second semester commences Feb. 9.

Doctor Goodrich, the new pastor of the Church on the Hill, is being entertained at dinner at several fraternity houses this week.

Cruff '16 has undergone an operation in a Boston hospital for an injury received in football. He will return to College in about three weeks.

The athletic census of the College which the Orient promised to its readers some time ago is now being compiled and will probably be published next week.

The track management plans to have every Saturday an informal meet like that of last Saturday, with the exception that the program will consist of more events.

The horsemen of Brunswick and Topsham are planning to have some excellent ice racing this winter and have raised a fund to keep an ice track on the Androscoggin river. It is not yet known whether Triangle will appear.

A serious accident in the central heating plant during vacation put three of the four big boilers out of commission and most of the college buildings were without heat. There are four boilers at the central heating plant to furnish the steam to heat. The steam is forced through the pipes by a reciprocal engine. It is thought that in the eleven years that this engine has been running it has forced sufficient oil through the pipes to come back into the boilers until they began to leak.

With the Faculty

Among the professors who spent their entire vacation here at Brunswick were Professors Woodruff, Johnson, Files, Elliot, Wass, Whittier, McConaughy, Hormell and Cram.

Professor Little attended the meetings of the American Alpine Club on December 28, at Boston.

Professor Davis spent Christmas in Pennsylvania, and during the latter part of the vacation attended the meetings of the Modern Language Association, and the recently organized New England Public Speaking Conference of the latter, of which he was re-elected treasurer.

Mr. Clark of the French department and Professor Bell were at Toronto for their vacation.

Professor Nixon also attended the Modern Language Association meetings, as did Professor Ham.

Professor Nixon spent part of his vacation in his old home at Quincy, Mass.

Professor Copeland attended the meetings of the American Association of Zoologists held at Philadelphia, and also spent a few days in New York.

Professor Hutchins and Professor Moody both spent their vacations in Boston.

Dean Sills spent his vacation at Geneva, N. Y., and Professor Catlin at New York City.

Professor Burnett spent part of his vacation here in Brunswick and part in several short trips to different places.

Professor Hormell is confined to his home with a sickness which may keep him in for several weeks. He was recently elected Superintendent of the Sunday School at the Church on the Hill.

Alumni Department

'54.—Benjamin F. Morrison died at Medford, Dec. 28th, in his 82nd year.

'56.—Hon. Edwin Bradbury Smith, a prominent lawyer and public man of New York, and a native of Kennebunkport, died at his home in New York City, Saturday, at the age of 81 years. Mr. Smith, who was a son of Oliver and Caroline Bradbury Smith, was born in Kennebunkport, Oct. 3, 1832. He graduated from Bowdoin in the class of 1856. He was admitted to the bar in 1859 and practiced at Limerick for three years, moving to Saco in 1862 where he remained active in law and politics until 1875. Mr. Smith was a member of the Maine House of Representatives from Saco from 1870 to 1872, serving as speaker in 1871. He was reporter of decisions of the supreme judicial court from 1872 to 1875. At that time he was appointed an assistant United States attorney general, serving under Attorney Generals Edwards Pierpont, Alphonso Taft, Charles Devens, and left the department upon the coming into office of Hon. Wayne MacVeagh in 1881. Since that time he has been engaged in the private practice of law, his office having been for a long time at No. 56 Pine Street, New York City. Mr. Smith, who never married, was a member of the association of the bar of the City of New York, the New York Law Institution, the New England Society, the Union League, the Lawyers and the University Clubs.

'75.—Dr. William E. Rice died suddenly Dec. 17, 1913, at his home on Washington Street, Bath, Maine. He was at his office in the afternoon as usual and on his way home appeared in unusually good health. On arriving home, the doctor set to work to train some vines on the east end of his residence, and while leaning over was stricken and fell backward to the floor, and expired shortly. He had not been in good health for the past two years, having been troubled with chronic heart trouble.

Dr. Rice was born in Bath, May 12, 1952, son of the late Hon. William Rice. He attended the public schools and graduated from the Bath High School in 1871, from Bowdoin College in 1875, and in 1878 from Columbia University of New York. For the past 35 years he has been a practicing physician in Bath. He was a physician of unusual natural ability, a man with a generous disposition and highly regarded by members of his profession. He was a member of the Maine Medical Association, the Sagadahoc Medical Club, and the Bath Medical and Clinical Clubs.

He is survived by three cousins, Miss A. M. Robinson of Bath, Mrs. W. W. Pendexter of Boston and Charles H. Robinson of St. Paul, Minn.

'83.—Professor Fred Morrow Fling, professor of European History at the University of Nebraska, contributes to the last number of the American Historical Review, a review of the Donelson Campaign Sources, compiled for the Army Schools.

'93.—George S. Chapin received the degree of Master of Arts from Ohio State University at its last Commencement and has since been promoted to the rank of assistant professor of Roman Languages in that institution. The head of this department is Professor B. L. Bowen who was a member of the Bowdoin Faculty in 1888-89.

'95.—Dr. A. G. Wiley and family returned recently from Bethel, where they have been since the middle of November. The doctor is much improved in health and has resumed his practice in Buxton.

'99.—At the dedication of the new public library at Somerville, Mass., on Dec. 17, 1913, in many respects the finest building in the city, the librarian, Mr. Drew B. Hall, delivered an address on the Aims of the Library of Today.

'04.—The announcement is made of the engagement of Judge Emery O. Beane of Hallowell to Miss Sarah E. Moodly, formerly of Bath, where she resided with her aunt, Mrs. S. L. Fogg.

'06.—Robbie Stevens, who is engaged in the work of Remedial Loans under the Russell Sage Foundation, reports a successful year with an accumulation of striking net profit for the society.

'07.—The marriage of Dr. Merlan A. Webber to Miss Bertha A. Bannon occurred in Portland during the Christmas season. Dr. Webber is a graduate of Coburn Classical Institute ’01, Bowdoin ’07 and Bowdoin Medical ’10. He is also a member of the Portland Medical Club, the Cumberland County Association, Maine Medical Association, and the American Medical Association, having practiced in Portland since 1910. Miss Bannon has been for some time also a resident of Portland where she is popularly known.

'10.—Edward H. Webster has an article on English for Business Training in the December number of the English magazine of the University of Chicago.

'11.—Paul Douglass has been elected captain of the debating team of Columbia University.
TENTATIVE BASEBALL SCHEDULE
The following is the tentative schedule for the baseball team for the season of 1914. Two new rules, put in force this year for the first time, limiting the time allowed for trips and requiring a larger percentage of home games, are the causes of fewer games with outside New England colleges. The tentative schedule is as follows:
April 14, Harvard at Cambridge.
April 18, Bates at Brunswick (exhibition).
April 20, Portland (New England League team) at Portland.
April 24, pending.
April 25, Trinity at Hartford.
April 29, Norwich at Brunswick.
May 2, Maine at Brunswick.
May 9, Colby at Brunswick.
May 14, Tufts at Medford.
May 20, Maine at Orono.
May 23, Tufts at Portland.
May 27, Colby at Waterville.
May 28, New Hampshire at Brunswick.
May 30, Bates at Lewiston.
June 5, Bates at Brunswick.
June 24, Alumni at Brunswick.
It will be noticed that of the 16 games, seven are in Brunswick and four more within easy reach.

CLASS OF '68 PRIZE SPEAKING
The Class of '68 Prize Speaking contest was held last night in Memorial Hall. The ORIENT went to press too early to obtain the results. The speakers, all Seniors, and their subjects follow: "The New Provincialism" by Robert Devore Leigh; "An Ideal Restored" by Alfred Watts Newcombe; "Alfred Noyes and the Twentieth Century" by Kenneth Allan Robinson; "The Present Aspect of the Monroe Doctrine" by Elwyn Collins Gage; "After College—What?" by Richard Earle Simpson; "The Physician and Public Health" by Alfred Everett Gray. The judges were Rev. Chauncey W. Goodrich, G. Allen Howe, Esq., and Professor G. M. Robinson of Bates College.

TRIALS FOR BRADBURY DEBATES
The trials for the Bradbury Debate are to be held on Friday, Jan. 23 at 3:30 p. m. in Memorial Hall. The question is: Resolved, That a Federal Commission should be established for the regulation of trusts. Each man is allowed five minutes. Names of candidates should be handed to R. E. Simpson '14 by Thursday. The order of speakers will be posted on the Chapel bulletin a few days before the trials.

AUGUSTA ALUMNI RELAY CUP
Several years ago there was offered by the Augusta Alumni a silver cup on which is inscribed each year the name of the man making the fastest time in the final trials for the B.A.A. relay team. This cup was won in 1909 by Atwood '09, in 1910 by Colbath '10, in 1911 by Cole '12, and in 1912 and 1913 by Haskell '13. None of the times are inscribed on the cup owing to the variety of tracks used.

SATURDAY TRACK MEET
The principal event of the track meet, which was held last Saturday in the Hyde Athletic Building, was the first time trials for the relay squad. The following men competed: Fox '14, Weatherill '14, A. B. Stetson '15, L. Stetson '15, Smith '15, Wing '15, Richardson '15, Roberts '15, Prescott '15, Eastman '15, McElwee '16, C. Hall '16, Ireland '16, Irving '16, Wyman '16, Pettingill '16, Beal '16, Balfie '17, Crosby '17, Bond '17 and Robinson '17. The official time was not announced. A second time trial will take place next Saturday, after which the first cut in the squad will be made.

The half-mile handicap race was won by Cutler '15, handicap 55 yards; second, Sayward '16, handicap 35 yards; third, H. Foster '16, handicap 25 yards.

Floyd '15 took first in the broad jump with Sampson '17 second, and E. Garland '16 third. Sampson '17 won the pole vault; Merrill '14 was second, and Young '17 third. First place in the high jump went to H. White '17, second, Keene '17, and third, F. Garland '14.

The finals in the 300-yard handicap race which was held Saturday, Jan. 10, were run off Monday, Jan. 12. Smith '14 took first place and Wyman '16 was second.
MUSICAL CLUBS' TRIP

The Bowdoin Musical Clubs returned Saturday night after a highly successful first trip. The first concert was given at Pittsfield, on Thursday evening, in the hall of the Maine Central Institute. The selections were well rendered, and an unusually large crowd was present to enjoy the music. After the concert was over the students of M.C.I. gave a reception to the members of the Musical Clubs, and light refreshments were served.

In Bangor Friday evening the Musical Clubs gave their concert in the City Hall. Every seat was taken, and even the available standing room was closely packed. After the concert a dance was given in their honor.

Saturday evening the third and last concert of the trip was given at Hallowell, and here as before, the audience was both large and enthusiastic.

The program which will be followed by the Glee and Mandolin Clubs this year is as follows:

   BOSTON ALUMNI BANQUET

The Boston Association of Bowdoin Alumni held their annual dinner, last Wednesday, at Young's Hotel with an attendance of about 175. President Hyde told of the bequests of the last year and how the college was dependent upon its living graduates for its scholarships and other funds. "Other co-operative bodies of the college," he said, "are the faculty, the student body, and the fraternities." He spoke in glowing terms of the faculty, called the student body "the best set of fellows to be found in the world over," and said that the fraternities develop the best there is in a man, more than the college could. President Hooper of Tufts spoke of athletics in general from the time of the Greeks, and what they mean now to a college man. He touched upon the pleasant relations now existing between Tufts and Bowdoin. President Luther of Trinity made a witty speech in which he said that the average college man of today learns more and studies more than the man of a generation ago. He also touched upon the pleasant relations between his college and ours. U. S. Senator C. P. Johnson '79, in speaking of the college man in politics, said that he believed "that in electing to the office of Chief Executive of this country the president of Princeton it was clearly demonstrated that a man can capably train himself for the duties of public life in the office of a college president." Robert D. Leigh '14 told of the attitude of the students towards the new gymnasium, calling it the "winter playroom of Bowdoin." Other speakers were Dr. Fred Albee of New York and Roy R. Martin '09 of Skowhegan. Dr. Myles Standish '75 of the Harvard Medical School was the toastmaster.

The following officers were elected: Edwin U. Curtis '82, president; John F. Eliot '73, and Samuel V. Cole '74, vice-presidents; Alfred B. White '98, secretary; George C. Purington '04, assistant secretary; William D. Stockbridge '99, chorister; William I. Cole '81, J. Everett Hicks '95, John C. Minot '96, Ripley L. Dana '01, J. Arthur Furbush '02, George P. Hyde '08 and Robert D. Morss '10, executive committee.

BANGOR ALUMNI HAVE DINNER

Last Friday night the Bangor Alumni of Bowdoin gathered at the Penobscot Exchange. Dinner was served at 5:30, and then from six to eight good after-dinner speaking was enjoyed. James A. Hamlin 1900, one of the committee of arrangements, was toastmaster. President Hyde was the first speaker, and he said practically what he had said at Boston. He used the same text, the remark of one freshman to another: "Oh, Prexy has a cinch." He claimed it was true because as he said, "My work is distributed among two thousand loyal alumni, among thirty splendid teachers, among 350 of the best students ever gathered in an institution, and is aided by the fraternity system—the center of the common life of us all.” Dr. William C. Mason spoke as the representative of the Harvard Club of Bangor. In his remarks he quoted Colonel Roosevelt as saying that Bowdoin, in proportion to its size, has had more famous graduates than any other institution, adding: “Not all of us agree with most of the colonel’s statements, but that one is beyond dispute.” George Eaton and Arthur McWilliams spoke for the undergraduates, the latter telling of our prospects in athletics for the coming year. The last speaker, Charles T. Hawes ’76, praised Coach McCann in glowing words, predicting greater success for him next year when he will not be handicapped by raw material. The speeches were interspersed with songs by the members of the glee club who were entertained as the guests of the alumni. At eight the company adjourned to the City Hall where the glee club gave a concert. The committee of arrangements included Bertram L. Bryant ’95, James A. Hamlin ’oo and Donald F. Snow ’01. The following officers were elected: Dr. Thomas U. Coe ’57, president; Frederick H. Appleton ’64, vice-president; Dr. Bertram L. Bryant ’95, secretary and treasurer; Roland E. Bragg ’01, Samuel B. Gray ’03, Charles P. Conners ’03, Frank A. Floyd ’73, Lyman K. Lee ’02, executive committee.

INDUSTRIAL SERVICE WORK

During the last week the men interested in the Industrial Service work had a chance to help, both in Brunswick and outside. The classes contained from five to twenty men, most of whom are of foreign birth, but able to speak a little English. Tuesday, Jan. 13, Professor McConaughy, Robinson ’14, Little ’17, McConaughy ’17, Sampson ’17, Crehore ’17 and Bartlett ’17 went to Lisbon Falls, and Cooley ’15, Rawson ’16 and Hamlin ’16 taught in Brunswick. Thursday night Professor McConaughy, Cutler ’15, Winter ’16, Wood ’16, Nevin ’16, Spaulding ’17 and Irving ’16 went to Pejepscot; while Bacon ’15, MacCormick ’15 and Hamlin ’16 taught in Brunswick.

At Pejepscot three classes have been formed, one in civics for men soon to be naturalized, one for men who can’t read or speak English, and one for men who can. These classes meet every Tuesday and Thursday, Irving ’16 having charge of the Tuesday classes and Cutler ’15 the Thursday classes. Classes in reading and mathematics in Brunswick meet every Tuesday and Thursday. The class of bootblacks in Bath proved impractical owing to their having to work until a late hour, but it is hoped to start classes soon in the Bath Iron Works. Last Tuesday night classes were formed at Lisbon Falls which will meet regularly under the direction of Robinson ’14.

At a meeting Monday night, Jan. 12, about twenty-five men signed up for the work, but more men are needed, especially at Pejepscot.
The Blanket Tax

This week the Board of Managers will meet and prepare for their semi-annual campaign for the seven-fifty assessment. The accounts of the treasurer show a substantial balance and estimates indicate that the second year of the tax will be even more prosperous than the first. Only nine men in college did not pay the first installment this semester. The estimates of the Board, however, are made on the assumption that, as before, the whole student body will meet this financial obligation. The accomplishments of the new system speak for themselves. A long-standing Quill debt has been paid off, publications are on a basis of practical self-sufficiency, a very large football debt has been practically wiped away, larger appropriations have been given to various minor activities, the A.S.B.C. is on a sound financial basis with excellent credit. All of the activities receiving support from the tax are on a sounder, more scientific financial basis. The Student Body may well consider the Blanket Tax worthy of their unanimous support.

A Useful Booklet

There has just been issued by the Student Council a twenty-four page booklet containing the Constitutions, By-Laws and Regulations of the various student organizations included within the Associated Students of Bowdoin College. The purpose of the book is explained in the note on the title page: “This booklet is the property of the Student Council and is designed for the free use of officers and members of the Associated Students and other college organizations. It should be carefully preserved and returned to the secretary of the Council upon leaving college.” This is the first time that the various documents have been made accessible to every student and it is hoped that they will be widely read. There are contained in its pages such interesting material as the regulations for wearing the “B,” election of managers and captains, regulations of the Board of Managers, etc. It is understood that members of the Faculty are welcome to use these copies also. There have been a number of difficulties in management of student affairs within the last two years owing to an insufficient knowledge of their own duties on the part of various officers of student organizations but there should no longer be an excuse for such ignorance. Copies may be had upon application to the Secretary or President of the Council, 7 Appleton Hall or 7 Maine Hall.

The Athletic Census

Forty-nine per cent. of the students of Bowdoin College have been out for some sort of athletics during the past year. The branches of activity which have been considered are: football, baseball, track, cross-country, relay, tennis, class football and class baseball. On account of the fact that the time for this winter’s interclass track meet is close at hand, no attempt has been made to compute the number of men out for interclass track.

In the figures given below, medical students are not included, principally for the reason that only one medical student is believed to have competed in any sport. Managers, assistant managers and candidates for assistant manager are not counted as candidates for any team, but managers are counted among those who have received a “B.”

Baseball, tennis and track men from 1913 are given in the figures, but are not counted in the per cent. of the number now in College. Relay and cross-country "B's" are given under track "B's." Only one tennis "B," in addition to managers' "B's" was given last spring.

This athletic census, compiled especially for the Orient, is believed to be the first ever taken of the College. The figures of each sport follow:

PUBLIC DEBATES IN ENG. 6

Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, there was a debate in Memorial Hall by men taking English 6. The question debated was: Resolved: That the Monroe Doctrine should be formally retracted. The affirmative was upheld by LaCasce '14, G. A. Hall '15 and Kuhn '15, while Marr '14, Allen '15 and Keegan '15 supported the negative. Mr. Wilder, Wing '15 and MacDonald '15 acted as judges, and decided for the negative. Rogers '15 was presiding officer.

There will be another debate this evening in Memorial Hall. Resolved: That the International Workers of the World offer a better solution of industrial problems than the American Federation of Labor. Leigh '14, McKenney '15 and Rollins '15 will support the affirmative; Bickford '14, Burns '14 and Talbot '15 will speak for the negative. Professor Catlin, Rogers '15 and Hyler '15 will act as judges, and Verrill '15 will preside over the meeting.

MONDAY NIGHT CLUB MEETS

The Monday Night Club met last week at the Beta house and elected officers. Alton Lewis was made president and Herbert Foster, secretary and treasurer. Trainer Magee was elected to honorary membership. J. C. MacDonald '15, assistant manager, and all the new "B" men were initiated. The new "B" men include A. L. Pratt '14, Montfort '14, Brewster '16, Stuart '16, Fitzgerald '16, Colbath '17, C. Foster '17. Plans were talked over for getting prep school men interested in college, refreshments were served, and a general good time ensued. The other members of the club are Coach McCann, Weatherill ’14, Leigh ’14, L. Brown ’14, Burns ’14, Lewis ’15, Barry ’16, Leadbetter ’16, H. Foster ’16. The next meeting of the club will be held at the Kappa Sigma house, Feb. 9.

A CORRECTION

The Bradbury Debates will be held probably not later than Feb. 26th, instead of March 25th, as announced in last week’s issue. The exact date will be published later.

Club and Council Meetings

A meeting of the Bugle Board was held last Tuesday evening at the D. U. house. The Board had its picture taken yesterday noon at Webber’s.

A meeting of the Board of Managers was held in Hubbard Hall Saturday noon. A provisional appropriation for the Fencing Association was voted. MacCormick ’15 reported on the condition of the Blanket Tax and gave estimates of the second semester’s tax. Various other matters were discussed.

At a meeting of the Biology Club at the Zeta Psi house last Tuesday, the following officers were elected: Lewis ’15, president; Stone ’15, vice-president; Hargraves ’16, secretary and treasurer.

The Deutscher Verein met at the Theta Delta Chi house last Wednesday. Professor Ham spoke on the development of modern Germany in its commercial life through cooperation.

The Classical Club held a meeting Thursday evening at the Theta Delta Chi house. Professor Nixon spoke on “Roman Slavery.”

At a meeting of the Athletic Council last week, the proposal to run a four-cornered race with the other Maine colleges, under conditions as laid down by the B.A.A., was voted down. Manager Koughan was authorized to secure a race at the B.A.A. with either Maine or Bates.

The matter of the dual meet with Bates was laid on the table, while the manager could make an estimate of the expenses of such a meet. The Council was opposed to an indoor meet between the four Maine colleges.

The Council met again last night, too late for the Orient to secure a report of the meeting.

On the Campus

Hellen ex-’16, was on the campus last week. Bates also refused to run the four-college relay at the B.A.A.

A number of men who are planning to become church members will do so on Sunday, Feb. 1. “Duke” Sanford ’11 was on the campus over the week-end.

The trials for the Bradbury debates will be held Friday.

Snow ’14 is leader of the Wide-Awake Boys’ Club of Brunswick.

Soccer is rapidly assuming a place among “sports of all nations.”

The musical club men arrived in Brunswick on the midnight Saturday.

Langs ’17 has joined the squad of candidates for assistant manager of track.

Jack Magee will coach the Brunswick High track team during his spare moments.

The first cut in the relay squad was made Saturday, the number being reduced to 16.

George E. Fogg ’02, author of We’ll Sing to Old Bowdoin, was a visitor at College Friday.

Edward E. Kern ’11, Rhodes scholar from the state of Maine to Trinity College, has been on the campus.

The Boston Globe for Jan. 17 contained an editorial on Bowdoin athletics which was highly complimentary.

Lew Brown ’14 was referee at the wrestling matches held in Brunswick Thursday night. A number of students attended.

McKenney ’15, who is to coach the Brunswick High School debating team, gave a talk on debating before the students of that school recently.

McWilliams ’12, who has been suffering from a pulled tendon, will probably be able to get into condition again in time for the final trials for the relay team.

Bowdoin undergraduates and faculty are invited to a reception given to Reverend and Mrs. Chauncey W. Goodrich this evening from 8 to 10 at the Church on the Hill.

The fencing team will go to Augusta Friday to fence the Pianelli Club. The following men will make the trip: Payson ’14, Floyd ’15, Porritt ’15, Leadbetter ’16 and Maroney ’17.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation work began last Friday evening, when Rawson ’16 and Moran ’17 spoke in Bath. Next Sunday MacCormick ’15 and Foster ’16 will speak at Madison.

A basketball team composed of Payson ’14, Thompson ’15, Colbath ’17, Keene ’17 and Sampson ’17 defeated the Richmond team by the score of 20 to 17 Thursday night at Richmond. Another game has been arranged for the near future. In the meantime, the all-star aggregation would be glad to hear from any fast amateur team in the eastern part of the United States.

The Brunswick Boys' Club, with its headquarters in the Sargent Gym, now has a membership of 115. Although the athletic side of the work has been under way for some time, the social side has just begun. Last week clubs, composed of from ten to fifteen boys each, were organized to play games and to meet socially. Any student desiring to lead one of these groups may have the opportunity. One of the most interesting groups is the group of business men who take athletic work one evening a week.

With the Faculty

Professor Woodruff represented the College at the dedication of the Bates College Chapel, the exercises for which were held Thursday, Jan. 8, 1914.

In the Classical Journal for January 1914, Dean K. C. M. Sills has an article entitled "The Idea of Universal Peace in the Works of Virgil and Dante."

At the last faculty meeting it was voted to give warnings in the future to men with ranks below sixty, or to those who are in danger of failing in a course, instead of the present provision that all students whose grades are below sixty-five shall be warned.

President Hyde spoke last week at alumni dinners in Boston and Bangor, and will speak in New York Jan. 30.

Professor Mitchell sailed on the 15th and will take up his regular duties at the opening of the next semester.

Professor McConaughy speaks this week at the Aroostook County Teachers' Convention at Presque Isle and also at Houlton, at both places using his slides of Bowdoin. He is also to speak at Bangor.

Professor McLean, called to his home in Illinois by the illness and death of his father, has returned to his work this week. The sincerest sympathy of the student body is extended to Professor McLean in the loss of his father.

President Hyde officiated Thursday at the marriage of Miss Clara Hamm of Brunswick and Charles H. Pond of Tiverton, R. I. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride on McLellan Street.

Among the officers of the First Parish Church of Brunswick are: Barrett Potter '78 and Professor Files, assessors; Professor Hutchins, Dr. Burnett and Professor Davis, music committee.

Professor McConaughy delivered an address at the Pleasant Street Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday night.

Resolutions

Hall of the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon.

January 20, 1914.

For the death of Sir Josiah Pierce the Kappa Chapter of Psi Upsilon expresses its deepest regret. Brother Pierce, one of the oldest members of the fraternity, has received the honor of Knighthood of the Russian Order of St. Anne, and was secretary of the United States Legation at St. Petersburg. He has always been an admirer of Bowdoin, and a true brother in Psi Upsilon. Therefore, be it Resolved, That we extend our most sincere sympathy to his family in their bereavement.

Hall of Theta of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

January 17, 1914.

It is with very deep regret that the Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon hears of the death of one of its alumni, the Honorable Edwin Bradbury Smith, of the Class of 1856. Brother Smith is well known through Maine for his activity in law and state politics. After leaving Maine he served for six years as an assistant United States attorney general, retiring from that office to private practice in New York City, where his death occurred.

The Chapter wishes to express its sorrow for the death of a brother who has been active in public affairs through his long life of service and to extend its sympathy to his friends and relatives.

Alumni Department

'46.—Sir Josiah Pierce, 86, lawyer, engineer and capitalist, oldest member of any Portland Masonic Lodge, last survivor of the Class of 1846, Bowdoin College, and one of the oldest of its alumni, died Friday in Hanover, Germany. He is survived by a widow and one daughter and by one brother, Lewis Pierce, Bowdoin 1852.

He came of an illustrious ancestry, his father, a native of Baldwin, graduating from Bowdoin in 1818, practising law in Gorham many years, serving as judge of Probate in this county, 1846-57, as overseer and trustee of Bowdoin and in both branches of the Maine Legislature. He died in 1866 at the age of 74.

The subject of this sketch passed his boyhood days in his native town of Gorham, always with a classic and dignified atmosphere. Beneath the shade of its giant trees, over its undulating surface, in its schools, churches and homes he laid the foundation for a career in the law, in the foreign office of this Government, as a business lawyer and associate with men of affairs and distinction abroad.

Another brother, George Washington Pierce, graduate of Bowdoin in 1857, a civil engineer, died in Baldwin four years ago.

He received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Bowdoin in 1846 and Master of Arts in 1849. He was a student in his father's law office in Gorham for two years immediately following graduation from Bowdoin, was admitted to the Cumberland County bar and practiced there seven years, until 1855. Mr. Pierce was appointed secretary of the U. S. Legation at St. Petersburg and served in that capacity three years.

It was while stationed as a representative of this Government in the Russian capital that he became acquainted with capitalists who were developing railroad lines in that country, especially between Moscow and St. Petersburg. In railroad circles this syndicate was known as Winans, Harrison & Winans by reason of the men prominent in those enterprises. Mr. Pierce remained with them and was associated with them in those profitable ventures, removing later to London and establishing a residence in that city and acting as their attorney in the English courts as well.

He was knighted in 1865 as Knight of the Russian Order of St. Anne.

He was a member of the Royal Geographical Society, the Royal Institute, British Archaeological Society, as well as others of interest and importance abroad and also of the Maine Historical Society with headquarters in Portland, an organization with which he had been affiliated many years.

At Bowdoin, Mr. Pierce was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and made Phi Beta Kappa. He was one of the oldest members of the Psi Upsilon fraternity in the world. He was the last surviving graduate of the class of 1846.

Mr. Pierce fitted for college in the public schools of his native town and at the old Gorham Academy. Mr. Pierce was the oldest member of any Portland Lodge of Masons and was initiated a member of Ancient Landmark Lodge, August 4, 1852, more than 61 years ago.

'78.—Hartley C. Baxter of Brunswick is a member of the new board of trustees which Gov. Haines has just announced for the insane hospital.

'94.—Charles A. Flagg has since last May been librarian of the Bangor Public Library. The magnificent new building, recently completed at a cost of $160,000, was opened to the public Dec. 20th.

'98.—Through the Arctic regions Christmas eve, unless the Aurora-Borealis interfered, a wireless message from the sponsors of the Crocketer Land expedition sped to its leader, Donald B. MacMillan, and his companions at Etah, Greenland, 1,600 miles away.

It was a Christmas message from the American Museum of Natural History, the American Geographical Society and the University of Illinois, and was signed by Dr. Edmund O. Hovey, of the Museum, director of the expedition. The message read:

"Heartiest greetings and best wishes from Museum, Geographical Society and University of Illinois, and from family and personal friends of yourself and party. We are well and are confident of your success in spite of all difficulties, though no word from you has come through yet."

The message was forwarded through Canadian government channels. It was looked on as a good chance that it would reach its source, and though the wireless outfit of the party is expected to have caught it, it is not powerful enough to send an answer, which is tantalizing to those who want to know about the expedition.

'06.—Romilly Johnson is singing bass parts in "Rigoletto," "Norma," "Lucia di Lammermoor" and "Barber of Seville," for the entire winter season in Italy. That he has distinguished himself in these roles is shown by the following criticism which appeared in a Bologna paper during a run of twelve performances of "Norma": "The bass, Giovanni Romilli, is a young artist most conscientious and correct, one who pleases and performs splendidly."

SECOND SEMESTER BLANKET TAX

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 9, 10 and 11, the Blanket Tax for the second semester will be collected in the Manager's room in the New Gym. The office hours will be from 8:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. and from 1 to 5 P. M. On payment of $7.50 the students will receive the tickets of membership in the A.S.B.C. with coupons of admission to various intercollegiate contests to be held in the spring. The number of coupons is greater than that of any previous semester and will include admission to five home baseball games. At 8 o'clock Feb. 11, the Board of Managers will meet to consider all applications for extensions.

A plea for the prompt support of the Blanket Tax seems hardly necessary. The A.S.B.C. needs your money and you need the A.S.B.C. Bowdoin organizations are fast getting on a sound financial basis. You can help put them there.

BOWDOIN WILL NOT RUN IN B.A.A.

Track Manager Koughan has issued the following statement about Bowdoin's position in regard to the B.A.A. meet which is to be held on Feb. 7: "The date for the close of entries for the B.A.A. meet was Saturday, Jan. 24. Bowdoin did not send any entries for the reason that the Athletic Council voted that Bowdoin should not compete in a race with four colleges starting at once. As much pressure as possible was brought to bear upon the B.A.A. management to run the race as first agreed; namely, Bowdoin vs. Maine, and Colby vs. Bates. At a meeting of the Athletic Committee of the B.A.A. held Saturday, Jan. 17, it was voted unanimously that unless the Maine colleges would agree to run as provided by the management; namely, as a race for the state championship in relay, four colleges starting just as two ordinarily, the invitation to the meet would be withdrawn. At this notice, the Maine colleges, Bowdoin excepted, sent in their entries, and will race Feb. 7 for the championship of the state.

There is, however, a Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association which has not as yet taken up the matter of a state relay championship. Therefore the college which wins this triangular race will have no right to call itself the champion of the state.

The Bowdoin relay team will probably compete in one of the indoor meets held at Providence or New York, and will probably race some institution outside the state."

Bowdoin has been invited to run at the Coast Artillery Corps games in Providence, Feb. 21.

CUT IN RELAY SQUAD

The first definite cut in the relay squad was made by Coach Magee last Saturday. Each candidate ran 390 yards,—the equivalent of three laps on the B.A.A. track. The following 15 men were retained: Fox '14, Wright '14, Smith '15, Wing '15, Roberts '15, Richardson '15, McWilliams '15, Wyman '16, McElwee '16, Ireland '16, Fuller '16, Beal '16, Balfe '17, Crosby '17, Bond '17. Among the other candidates were Weatherill '14, A. B. Stetson '15, L. Stetson '15, Prescott '15, Eastman '15, C. Hall '16, Irving '16, Pettigill '16, and Robinson '17. Coach Magee is much pleased with the outlook for a winning relay team and the prospects for success are very bright.

The semi-final trials will be held next Saturday, Jan. 31, and at that time the second cut in the squad will be made. Together with this, a practice track meet will be held with the following events scheduled: high jump, shot put, hurdles and short dashes.

CLASS OF '68 PRIZE SPEAKING

Kenneth A. Robinson '14 was the winner of the Class of '68 Prize Speaking Contest held in Memorial Hall, last Monday night, January 19th. He took for his subject, "Twentieth Century Tendencies and Alfred Noyes." He said that the modern tendencies of poetry are towards realism, and that Alfred Noyes is an idealistic poet, not visionary but tending from materialism to idealism. The judges were Rev. Chauncey W. Goodrich, G. Allen Howe, Esq., and Professor G. M. Robinson. The programme was as follows:

Music

The New Provincialism, Robert Devore Leigh
An Ideal Restored, Alfred Watts Newcombe

Music
Twentieth Century Tendencies and Alfred Noyes,

Kenneth Allan Robinson

The Present Aspect of the Monroe Doctrine,

Elwyn Collins Gage

Music

After College—What?

Richard Earle Simpson

The Physician and Public Health,

Alfred Everett Gray

BRADBURY DEBATE TRIALS

The trials for the Bradbury debate were held Friday in Memorial Hall. The following men were picked: First debate—Affirmative, Garland '16, Hescock '16, Tackaberry '15, alternate, Rogers '15; negative, Bacon '15, Coffin '15, McKenney '15, alternate, Wing '15. Second debate—Affirmative, Edwards '16, Leigh '14, Parsons '16, alternate, McWilliams '15; negative, Gage '14, Simpson '14, Talbot '15, alternate, Kuhn '15.

TRIANGULAR LEAGUE DEBATES

The triangular league debates between Bowdoin, Wesleyan and Hamilton will take place on March 25. Each college has two teams; in each case the home team supports the affirmative of the following question:

Resolved: That a Federal Commission should be established for the regulation of trusts.

Wesleyan will be at Bowdoin this year. The eight men who make the best showing in the Bradbury debates will compose the two 'varsity teams.

PUBLIC DEBATE

Last Tuesday evening a debate was held in Memorial Hall on the question, Resolved: That the International Workers of the World offer a better solution of the present labor problems than the American Federation of Labor. The affirmative was upheld by Leigh '14, McKenney '15 and Rollins '15, while the negative was supported by Bickford '14, Burns '14 and Talbot '15. The judges decided unanimously in favor of the negative.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUE

The Maine preparatory schools of the Bowdoin Interscholastic Debating League will meet March 6. Owing to the large number of schools competing this year two leagues have been formed. The teams have been chosen and they will meet as follows:

Portland High vs. Cony High at Portland.

Lewiston High vs. Wilton Academy at Lewiston.

Brunswick High vs. Biddeford High at Brunswick.

Edward Little High vs. Westbrook High at Westbrook.

TENTATIVE FENCING SCHEDULE

The fencing schedule, as approved by the Athletic Council but not yet approved by the Faculty, is undoubtedly the best Bowdoin ever had. The season opens Saturday evening, Feb. 14, with a match with Yale in Brunswick in the main exercise room of the Gym. This is the first time a Yale team of any kind has ever come into Maine and the match should prove a decided attraction. The Student Council is planning to make this a big event with other forms of entertainment besides the bouts. On Feb. 20 Bowdoin meets Harvard at Cambridge and on Feb. 28 Williams at Williamstown. On March 21 the team fences in the intercollegiates at Cambridge against Harvard, Yale and Cornell. Three of these teams will go to New York a week later for the intercollegiate finals, where they will meet three teams from the southern division.

INFORMAL FENCING MATCH

Part of the fencing squad journeyed to Augusta last Tuesday, Jan. 20, for a strictly informal match with the Pianelli Club. It was a practice match for both teams, the number of touches not being counted, simply the times of each match being taken. Leadbetter '16, Floyd '15, Payson '14, Porritt '15 and Maroney '17, the instructor, were the men to make the trip. Before long a return match, also informal, will be held here in Brunswick.

MUSICAL CLUBS AT GORHAM

The fifth concert of the Bowdoin Musical Clubs was held on Thursday evening, Jan. 22, in the Town Hall at Gorham. The entertainment was held under the auspices of the Gorham Board of Trade. The hall was crowded and every selection met with well-merited applause. Many of the members of the clubs were entertained by Carl Warren '12 and John Robie '16.

The program was that given at the other concerts.

WORK OF THE SECOND SEMESTER

Students are reminded that they must register for all courses before Thursday, January 29. It will not be necessary to have the course cards signed by the instructors. Registration after January 29 will involve the usual payment fees for late registration. There will be no necessity of registering on the first day of the second semester. Classes will begin promptly on scheduled time, and absences will be counted as usual from the first day.

The following courses not offered during the first semester will be available:

- Botany: Elective for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors; Professor Copeland.
- Economics 4a, Public Finance: Prerequisite; Economics 1; Professor Catlin.
- Economics 6, The Labor Problem: Elective for Juniors and Seniors; Professor Catlin.
- Education 2, Secondary Education: Elective for Juniors and Juniors who expect to teach; Professor McConaughy.
- English 10, Nineteenth Century Essayists: Prerequisite; English 3, Professor Davis.
- English 12, The Drama: Elective for Juniors and Seniors; Professor McConaughy.
- Mineralogy: Prerequisite; Chemistry 1, Professor Cram.
- Latin 8, Latin influence in English Literature: Elective for Juniors and Seniors, and in special cases, Sophomores; Dean Sills.

NEW YORK ALUMNI BANQUET

The Bowdoin College Alumni Association of New York will hold its forty-ninth annual meeting and banquet on Friday evening, Jan. 30, at the Hotel Breslin, Broadway and Twenty-ninth Street. Joseph B. Roberts, the secretary, has the affair in charge. President Hyde and Professor McConaughy will represent the college. Professor McConaughy will use his illustrated lecture on Bowdoin, showing the college and the student life as they are today. On the other hand, some of the older alumni will give reminiscences of the college of the past.

BOWDOIN'S DIogenes

Mr. Isaac Bassett Choate, of the Class of 1862, has the following to add to "Bowdoin Traditions" in the recently issued pamphlet "Life at Bowdoin":

"You will pardon me for adding a word to the 'Bowdoin Traditions' by way of illumination, as it were. The word is in relation to 'Diogenes,' who is mentioned on page 33. I fear the readers of today may gain the impression that we of the '50's and '60's did not enjoy the perennial ministration and supervision of that embodiment of cynical philosophy; that he was an intermittent luminary of the campus and of Freshman intellect. No, Diogenes was as reliable as any fixed star. His lantern heralded the day to many a sleepy collegian. Had it failed to appear at about 5.30 in the morning, attendance upon Chapel would have been slim. His duties consisted largely in rousing students from their dreams and in kindling their fires for the more Sybaritic. Diogenes is not to be classed with Daniel Pratt, with 'Eternal Youth' or with 'Ever Blest,' who were the comets, as it were, of our heavens. His name may have been Curtis. He was always called 'Old Curt,' presumably for short, but it was not easy to escape the suspicion that he gained this name because it rhymed so well with Dirt."

INTERSchOLASTIC MEET

Schools that have entered the Bowdoin Interscholastic Indoor Meet, in addition to the list printed in the ORient last week, are Lisbon Falls, Good Will, Bangor, Saco and Rockland High Schools.

In addition to the regular track events, there will be a relay race between pairs of teams. In case an agreement can be reached between the different teams, the Bowdoin management prefers to let the teams choose their own opponents, but reserves the right to pick opponents in the races in case no such agreement can be made.

Although none of the races has yet been settled, it is thought that the following teams will meet: Portland vs. Deering, Edward Little vs. Lewiston, Hebron vs. Kents Hill, Gardiner vs. Cony, Morse vs. Lincoln, Wilton vs. Abbott, Thornton vs. Maine Central Institute, Topsham vs. Leavitt, Brunswick vs. Westbrook Seminary.

MISSION STUDY TO BEGIN

Soon after the opening of the second semester the Y.M.C.A. classes which have been taking Bible study will change to the study of missions, both at home and abroad. For four or five Sundays at 4 p.m. between then and Easter Professor McLean will meet groups in various fraternity houses. The course will not be a lecture course but will be a general discussion of "What the College Man Should Know About his Country." It will deal particularly with immigrant forces, the problem of the city and other subjects interesting from the economic as well as other standpoints. This course is open to Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores.

Professor McConaughy and MacCormick '15 will conduct a course for Freshmen in the rooms in the dormitories. This will take up more particularly foreign fields, their needs, and the way these needs are being met. The course is on the general subject "What the College Man Should Know About Other Lands."
The Athletic Council Policy

An interesting example of the policy of the Athletic Council is revealed in the recent decision of that body not to enter the four-cornered Maine College Relay Race in the B.A.A. Meet. It seems that our track coach, who has been intimately connected with Boston athletic events for a number of years, and who is by experience and judgment best fitted to pass on the conditions of such a race planned, after a careful investigation of the facts at issue and conference with the B.A.A. officials, decided that such a race would be desirable. He was not, however, invited to offer advice or participate in the discussion upon which the decision was made. The reasons given were purely technical, that is, in regard to the width of the track, etc., etc., questions which were for the track coach to decide, and which he is eminently fitted to decide. The sequel of this decision is that Bowdoin, with one of the best relay teams in years, will not compete at all in the B.A.A. games, but, at an extra expense of seventy-five dollars, will journey to Providence to take part in a minor relay meet in order to reward the faithful training of the squad in preparation for the big annual Boston race. Furthermore, the management of the B.A.A. is disposed to bar Bowdoin from participation in future meets of this kind. In short, through the short-sighted action of the Council, Bowdoin indoor relay athletics will undoubtedly suffer severe injury.

We have hesitated for some time to cause any friction in our student activities by opposing this seemingly consistent policy of the Council of taking action without the advice of coaches or managers, oftentimes holding meetings without inviting them to be present. But this recent blunder demands the attention of the college body. The real reason for this policy is to be found partly in the loose organization of the Council and its haphazard way of doing its business, a method of which college men should be ashamed. It is partly due to the lack of care in selecting members who are expert to judge our athletic policies.

As an example of the methods of the Council, the recommendations of an athletic manager recently for nominees for assistant manager were absolutely reversed in the Council without any cause being given. In this way, by purely arbitrary means, the only scientific, impartial way of choosing candidates for managements by competition was entirely subverted. It is time some action was taken to get more scientific, expert action on these questions. In the meantime, we hope it is not too late to reverse the ill-advised action in regard to the B.A.A. races and restate ourselves in the eyes of the sporting public.

The Gymnasium and the Assemblies

The Junior Assembly Committee has met with opposition in its plan to hold this year’s dance in the New Gymnasium. Last year those in charge of these dances applied for use of the new building, but willingly changed their plans on the statement of those in charge that the confusion due to the recent occupancy of the building would render its use for such a purpose impracticable. But everyone thought last year’s mediocre dances would be the last in Memorial Hall and sighed with relief as the last journey was taken up and down the hills and valleys of its floor. This year’s committee, in anticipation of the change planned for next year suggested by the Student Council, decided to hold one big Assembly in the Gymnasium. The student body, as a whole, is in favor of such a plan, is so strongly in favor of it that a dance in Memorial Hall would be a flat failure, financially and socially. Then why should not the Gymnasium be used? The objections, although they appear trivial in print, deserve, perhaps, examination and comment.

It is urged that it will interfere with regular gymnasium work. But as adjourns were always granted on the day of the dance in years past, there is no valid reason for believing that the work of the classes will be interfered with in the slightest degree. Again it is said that the janitor service is not sufficient to get the floor into condition. But for years special janitor service has been supplied to do the work of preparing Memorial Hall for the dances, and the same could be done for the Gymnasium. If necessary, students could be secured to do the work free of charge. It has also been stated that such a dance would be out of place in the big building. But this, it seems, is a matter for the student committee to decide, and it is very probable that what the students want will be the most successful sort of a social function. There may be real reasons for not using the new building, but they have not yet come to light. Until they are brought forward, it seems to the Orient that the student body should be allowed this very legitimate use of a college building.

The attitude maintained in regard to the use of this college building reminds us of the early Dutch housewives who kept their parlors locked except for very important occasions. The Gymnasium, of all buildings, is for use rather than ornament, and the students’ demands and needs in the holding of social functions should be respected. It is the custom throughout the country to use such buildings for college dances, usually much oftener than is proposed by the student body at Bowdoin, and many of the donors, both undergraduates and alumni, gave their money with the idea that it would be a home for Bowdoin dances. It is rumored that the Faculty are to act on this question in the near future and the students will await their conclusions with the keenest interest. It is a matter about which they are thoroughly aroused and the decision of which will have great weight in determining the spirit of the student body for the remainder of the year. In the meantime there can be nothing done by the committee in regard to arranging for the dance.

The Library Table

"The South Pole," by Roald Amundsen, and translated from the Norwegian by A. G. Chater, is being well received by the press in London, New York, Boston, Chicago, Pittsburgh and many other places. The book is a modest, graphic narrative of the author’s fight to reach the southernmost extremity of the earth. Polar literature is greatly enriched by Captain Amundsen’s book.

"Industrial Combinations and Trusts," edited by William S. Stevens, Ph.D., Instructor in Columbia University, is a very instructive book on many phases of the subject. It contains interesting chapters on such subjects as How a Trust is Formed, How a Patent Monopoly Works, How the Steel Corporation Came to be Formed, How the Oil, Powder and Tobacco Trusts Were Dissolved, and many other topics of vital importance. The work should be of especial interest to economics students.

"La Follette’s Autobiography," by Robert M. La Follette, bids fair to take its place among the great political memoirs. It portrays the remarkable life of a courageous leader and hard working man who triumphed after a long struggle with poverty and debt, and whose thirty years of public life have been spent in fighting powerful financial and political situations. Its vividness and frankness combine to make the volume interesting for its political as well as its historical importance, for in a large measure it is a story of the progress of democracy in America.

The Other Colleges

The students at Harvard have hit upon a remarkably novel idea for obtaining seclusion during “finals.” They hang common red lanterns from the windows, and a would-be caller seeing the lantern so displayed is informed that the occupant of the room is “boning” and does not wish to be disturbed.

Two students at the University of Pennsylvania have committed suicide during the past week and a third has been accidentally drowned.

There are 132 foreign students at the University of Illinois. Of these fifty-three are Chinese, and twenty-two nationalities are represented.

University of Oregon students have recently introduced an innovation in regard to mass meetings. Before each rally an old house is secured, and it is the duty of the Freshmen to move the structure to the scene of the rally and there transform it into a giant bonfire.

According to figures recently made public, 1708 students or a little less than half of the total registration of 3623, took part in some form of athletics at Yale during the fall months.

At present it appears likely that Columbia will adopt the honor system which has been so well established in some colleges. A canvass has been taken in the various classes to ascertain the number of the student body in favor of such a change. In the senior class it was found that eleven to one were in favor of the system, while about twenty-five per cent. were indifferent. In the junior class seven to one were in favor of the system. The sophomores supported it eight to one, while the School of Journalism voted ninety-five per cent. for the new measure.

A steady increase in the number of candidates for admission to Harvard who failed to pass the entrance examinations is shown in a compilation of statistics for the last seven years. Of the 885 boys who took the examinations in June and September last, 25.7 per cent. failed to meet the requirements. In 1906 only 12.7 per cent. of the candidates were rejected. More severe examinations and the policy of the university in radically reducing the number of students admitted with conditions are considered the chief causes of the increases in failures. The figures show that the candidates found the English examinations the hardest to pass.

The University of Nebraska has introduced a decided innovation in American collegiate education in the form of a correspondence course for the convicts of the State penitentiary. Thirty-four men, among them four life prisoners, have already applied for enrollment. The courses, which comprise arithmetic, American history, grammar, literature, bookkeeping, and agriculture are elective, and are open to all convicts. Their purpose is to prepare convicts to be self-supporting when they are released.

During the past football season Carlisle and a few other colleges tried the experiment of numbering their players, and in a game with Cornell Friday night, Harry Fisher, graduate director of athletics at Columbia numbered his basketball players. In both cases the experiment proved highly satisfactory to spectators as well as to coaches and players.

The students at Graz University, Rome, Italy, upon finding that their demands for an Italian faculty were not to be acceded to started a public agitation. On their parade around the city they found the path blockaded by the German students, and a serious fight took place. Police interference was necessary to quiet the disturbance.

The faculty of Denison University have voted to abolish sororities at Shepardson College, the women's department of the institution. The method to be pursued will be to forbid the pledging or initiation of any new members. In this way the chapters will automatically become extinct within four years.

In continuation of the exchange professorship plan which already includes France, Germany and Japan, Harvard University is considering an exchange of professors and also of students with the University of Chile. Dr. Carlos de Pena, the minister to this country from Uruguay, is preparing to take up with Harvard a proposal for a similar exchange with the national university of Uruguay.

New York University has decided to reorganize the Washington Square Collegiate Department of the University as a liberal arts college to be known as the Washington Square College. The new college will offer in addition to the two regular four-year courses leading to the baccalaureate degrees, a special four-year course which will combine two years of cultural training with two years of specialized training in commerce and other vocational studies.

Statistics compiled from managers' lists at the University of Michigan show that 1,137 men, or 44 per cent. of the total enrollment of the institution, were engaged in some form of athletics last fall. This is an increase of 144 over last year's total. Football, with 212 names enrolled, called out the greatest number of men. Rowing is second with 157, while track and tennis are third and fourth with 143 and 112 respectively.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology is the first institution in the country to establish a course in the study of the mechanics of air navigation. Apparatus has been installed, and the work of instruction will begin at once. The primary purpose of the course is to fit men to design aeroplanes, and it is estimated that a year will be required to turn out proficient designers. It is planned to make the course practical as well as theoretical, and for this purpose special laboratories, air tunnels, etc., in which the students may test their own aeroplanes will be constructed.

Vaughn S. Blanchard, former Bates track captain, and now coach of the Worcester Academy track team, has organized his athletes into a "Snow-shovel brigade." A part of their regular training consists in keeping the academy paths free from snow.

Pennsylvania has nineteen 'varsity sports; Cornell, 15; Harvard, 14; Columbia and Princeton, 13; Yale, 12; Michigan, Wisconsin, Chicago and Illinois, 11; and Dartmouth, 7.

During the holidays Cambridge and Oxford made a trip to Berne, Switzerland, to play their annual hockey game. Cambridge won by a score of ten goals to one.

Wesleyan formally opened its new $40,000 swimming pool Friday night. The pool is 70'x30 feet, and is equipped with a filter system.
Guy Nickolls, the old Oxford oarsman, and at present coach of the Leander Boat Crew of London, England, has cabled his formal acceptance of the offer to assist in coaching the Yale crews this coming spring.

Figures recently compiled show that Harvard ranks fourth among the colleges in registration, but only ninth in number of men eligible for the varsity athletic teams.

Harvard football players will be requested to refrain from writing special articles for the newspapers next fall. Captain Brickley and Hardwick have already been offered $100 a game for special articles.

Dr. Thomas F. Kane has been removed from the presidency of the University of Washington by the vote of the Board of Regents, and Dean Henry Landes has been appointed temporary president. As a result of this action, Governor Lister requested the resignation of four of the six members on the Board, and one other member resigned voluntarily.

Jeff Davis, president of the International Association of Itinerant Workers of the World, is touring the West in the interests of his society. He is in great demand as a public speaker, and has delivered speeches at several of the Western colleges.

Club and Council Meetings

At a meeting of the Athletic Council held Monday evening, Jan. 19, the baseball, football, tennis and fencing schedules were presented and discussed. The tentative schedules were approved by the Council and have now to be approved by the Faculty.

At the meeting of the Board of Managers held Saturday, Jan. 17th, the fencing schedule was discussed, and a provisional appropriation of $35 for the Fencing Association was voted. Track and Y.M.C.A. appropriations were discussed, and the matter of extensions was brought up.

At another meeting of the Board of Managers held Friday, Jan. 23, it was voted that holders of Blanket Tax tickets should be admitted to all the home baseball games except the Ivy Day game and the alumni game. The collection of the second semester's tax was discussed.

On the Campus

Meserve '11 was on the campus Sunday.
Bancroft '17 is home on account of illness.
The “dark and gloomy days” are at hand.
Coffin '15 has been elected chairman of the Quill Board.

Loyal Sewall of Bath has entered college as a special student.
D. K. Merrill '15 has returned to college after a two weeks' illness.
All the Maine colleges are on Harvard's baseball schedule this year.
Mason ex-’14 was on the campus last week. He intends to return to college next semester.
There will be no classes in gym during examinations. Makeup, however, will be given every day at 4:30.
A number of students attended the reception tendered Tuesday evening to Rev. Chauncey W. Goodrich, the new pastor of the Church on the Hill.

Duncan Langdon, Brown '13, the travelling secretary of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity has been a guest of the Bowdoin chapter during the past week.

In last week's issue of the Orient, in the account of the meeting of the Monday Night Club, the name of L. W. Pratt '14 was omitted from the list of members.

The musical clubs rendered several selections at the ladies' night of the Brunswick Club last week. West '15 gave a number of vocal solos and Ramsay '15 read.

The Junior Assembly Committee is unable to give out the dates of the two assemblies. It has not yet been decided whether they will be held in the new gym or Memorial Hall.

Mr. Charles D. Hine, Secretary of the State Board of Education of Connecticut, was visiting here Saturday. He is visiting many of the colleges of the country, and this is the only college of the state he visits.

Tom Bragg of Bangor, who has always taken a lively interest in Bowdoin football, has offered a cup to be competed for by the candidates for next year's team. It will be awarded to the man who can make the longest punt in competition.

The class sings will begin immediately after the close of examinations. Each class practices songs one hour a week in preparation for the contest which is held on the steps of the Art Building about the last of May or the first of June. Mr. Wass is in charge of the singing, and the winning class will receive the silver cup. This cup was won by the class of 1913 last year.

With the Faculty

President Hyde will probably speak at the Boys' Conference at Lewiston, Feb. 14. Professor McConaughy will speak at the opening banquet, Feb. 13.
“Motor Rambles in Europe” is the title of a series of articles by Professor Files appearing at intervals in the Portland Sunday Telegram and The Brunswick Record.

This week Thursday, Professor McConaughy will speak to the Haverhill Teachers’ Association. Friday morning he will speak at the White Plains High School, New York, using his illustrated lecture on Bowdoin.

President Hyde was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Maine League of Loan and Building Associations held last Wednesday at the Hotel Eagle. The subject of his address was “Tips to the Small Investor,” and is given in full in the last issue of The Brunswick Record. It is of such unusual merit that the Association is having it printed in pamphlet form. In his address President Hyde gave the following advice to the usual small investors: “Let stocks of all kinds severely alone. Whoever launches them, save as an expert, large investor, soon or late, in nine cases out of ten, will pay in poverty his folly’s penalty.” In the afternoon, upon invitation of President Hyde, the men visited the college, going through the Hubbard Library, the Walker Art Building, the chapel, and the new gymnasium.

Professors Burnett, Nixon, Davis, Mr. Furbish and Mrs. Davis are members of the cast of “Quality Street,” a play to be given Feb. 10th, by the Brunswick Dramatic Club, at a closed performance. Dr. Burnett has the leading part of “Valentine Brown.” Professor Bell is chairman of the committee which has the play in charge.

Rev. E. D. Johnson and Prof. K. C. M. Sills attended the funeral of William G. Ellis in Gardiner, Tuesday. Bishop Codman officiated at the service.

'62.—The following poem by Isaac Bassett Choate recently appeared in the Transcript:

The idle singer of an idle song
Goes musingly along

Where centuries before
Went singing so the idle troubadour.
As fledgling swallows leave their native nest.
Songs flutter from his breast,
Take their adventurous flight.
Careless of praise,—careless as well of slight.
But he, the singer, hopes his song may meet
Some heart that’s warm to greet
The wanderer,—bid it come
Beneath the shelter of a loving home;
There entertain with cheerful fire and rest
The stranger as a guest,
And, asking for its name,
Learn from whose heart the simple music came.
So shall the idle songs that now we hear
Sing on from year to year,
And in the joy they give
The memory of the singing heart shall live.

'77.—Miss Marie Ahnaghito Peary, only daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Robert E. Peary, made her debut in Washington recently. She met hundreds of friends of her parents amid floral offerings and under the well-worn flag which her father carried for sixteen years in the repeated expeditions that terminated only with his discovery of the north pole.

Admiral and Mrs. Peary were also present to receive the congratulations of the large company, in which all of Washington’s many sets were represented.

Following the reception, Admiral and Mrs. Peary took the receiving party with a number of young men to the Army and Navy Club for the bi-weekly dinner dance there.

'83.—Herbert E. Cole, former principal of Bath High School, was elected to take the place for the remainder of the year of Principal W. Bert Andrews of Westbrook High School, who has been granted a leave of absence. Mr. Cole is a Bowdoin man and has had much experience in this class of work and is considered one of the foremost high school principals of the state.

'91.—Rev. Henry H. Noyes of Island Falls has been extended a call to the pastorate of the Union Congregational Church of Fisherville. Mr. Noyes is a graduate of Andover Theological Seminary. He is married and has a son fourteen years old. He is a director of the State of Maine Conference of Congregational Churches and also is its corresponding secretary.

'04.—Bernard Archibald of Houlton was appointed county attorney of Aroostook County, Jan. 14th, by Gov. Haines to succeed the late Perley C. Brown of Presque Isle.

'06.—Philip F. Chapman of Portland; and Thomas B. Walker of Biddeford have just been admitted to practice before the federal courts.
FOOTBALL SCHEDULE
For the first time in a number of years, the Bowdoin football team will open its season away from home next fall. The opening game will be with Amherst on Sept. 26. This is the first time that Amherst and Bowdoin have met on the gridiron since 1910. On account of so hard a game for the opener, varsity men must be back earlier than usual next fall.

Up to a late hour before going to press, the schedule had not been approved by the faculty, but it is not thought that any change will be made.

The schedule follows:
Sept. 26—Amherst at Amherst.
Oct. 3—Wesleyan at Middletown.
Oct. 10—Trinity at Hartford.
Oct. 17—Boston College at Brunswick.
Oct. 31—Bates at Brunswick.
Nov. 7—Maine at Orono.
Nov. 14—Tufts at Medford.

BOWDOIN TO RACE TUFTS
The Bowdoin relay team will race against Tufts at the Armory Athletic Club games at Providence, R. I., Feb. 21. This announcement was made by Manager Koughan following Bowdoin's refusal to compete in a four-cornered race at the B.A.A. last Saturday. The distance has not yet been decided.

Bowdoin and Tufts last met at the B.A.A. in 1912, Bowdoin won in the time of 3 minutes, 13.2-5 seconds, each man running 390 yards.

Coach Magee has sent his men over the course on time and although no times have been given out for publication, it is understood that the work of the men compares very favorably with that of teams of former years.

THE BLANKET TAX
Yesterday morning the collection of the second semester's Blanket Tax began in the Managers' Room in the New Gym. The Board of Managers, which sleeps not, is on duty from 8:30 in the morning until 6 o'clock at night to exchange your $7.50 for a long ticket conveying besides numerous admission tickets the privilege of membership in the A.S.B.C. The tickets are seven in number, granting admission to five baseball games, the dual track meet with Tech, and the fencing match with Yale. This is the longest list of admissions yet granted by the Blanket Tax.

Mid-years is as critical a time in the affairs of the Blanket Tax as it is in the affairs of the student. In the fall with your summer's wages in your pocket and a football season staring you in the eye, it is easy to pay your tax. At mid-years, with term bills imminent and a hull in athletics, the payment of $7.50 for the support of Bowdoin's activities is a severe test of one's loyalty. During the last three semesters the Blanket Tax has proved itself the fairest and most efficient way of supporting our activities. It has received the splendid support which it merited, but support through a year and a half is not enough. The first year it was upheld by those by whom it was organized. This year it is up to us, who perhaps do not realize that it is still in its infancy. Shall we let the first half-year be successful and the second a partial failure or shall we put our organizations on a permanent basis? If you cannot pay now, get an extension. Register your loyalty in one way or the other.

Board of Managers.

THE BULL DOG AND POLAR BEAR MEET
Next Saturday evening, Feb. 14, for the first time in history a Yale team will enter Maine for an athletic contest. Teams from this state meet Yale in various sports but the Bull-Dog has never before entered the territory of the Polar Bear. The presence of the Blue in the State is sure to attract wide attention and many people from Brunswick and out of town will undoubtedly be drawn to the New Gymnasium Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The contest will be one rarely seen in Maine—Fencing. None of the other colleges in the state have fencing teams, but at Bowdoin the sport has brought us into competition with the biggest colleges in the country. Because of the fact that fencing matches are seldom seen in this region, the match has excited great interest.

The fencing team, under Coach Maroney, is one of the best in years. Floyd '15, a veteran of last year, is the main-stay of the team, while the other two men will be chosen from Payson '14, Porritt '15 and Leadbetter '16. Each man will fence with each of the three Yale men, making nine bouts in all. The fencing will take place in the main exercise room on a raised platform, around which the seats will be arranged for spectators.

If the combined efforts of Dr. Whittier and his gym staff, the Student Council, and the Fencing Manager are of any avail, the evening will be a memorable one. It is proposed to give people outside the college a chance to see the New Gym and the new style of work that is being done by the classes. For this purpose there will be exhibitions between the fencing bouts of various kinds of work. Picked squads of 16 men will go through the work done in regular gym and Ma- roney and Kimball will give exhibitions of tumbling and the use of the apparatus. Both these men are experts and will give a skilled performance.

Before 1896 Bowdoin Gym teams used to travel all over the State giving exhibitions. These performances were of a very high order and men worked as hard to make the teams as they do the athletic teams nowadays. The exhibitions were run off like a circus with a master of ceremonies, spangles, etc. This revival of gym exhibition recalls memories of Professor Files as a trapeze artist and of Dr. Dudley Sargent sitting in a rocking-chair on a trapeze in the Portland City Hall.

The admission to the match will be free to holders of Blanket Tax tickets and 50 cents to outsiders.

NOTICE TO A.S.B.C. MEMBERS
The annual election of football manager and assistant football manager will be held next Saturday evening at the time of the Yale-Bowdoin Fencing Match. The ballots will be cast in the Board of Managers' Room. The voting hours will be from 7 to 8 P. M.

Only members of the A.S.B.C.—those who have paid their blanket tax tickets, or have been granted valid extensions—are eligible to vote.

The candidates are as follows:
For Football Manager—J. C. MacDonald '15, H. P. Verrill '15, W. Livingstone '15, alternate.
For Assistant Football Manager—A. E. Littlefield '16, Lew Noble '16, E. P. Garland '16, alternate.

THE NEW YORK ALUMNI MEET
The forty-fourth annual dinner of the Bowdoin College Alumni Association of New York City was held at the Hotel Breslin, New York City, Friday evening, Jan. 30, 1914. Eighty-six were in attendance.

The dinner was in honor of Mr. William J. Curtis '75. President Horace E. Henderson '79 was toastmaster. "The Old and New Bowdoin" was the principal topic of discussion. General Thomas H. Hubbard '57, William J. Curtis '75, George W. Tillson '77 and Henry A. Huston '79 gave reminiscences of the old days. Following this Professor James L. McConaughy presented slides illustrating the college of today and yesterday. This was followed by stories of the college of today by the younger men. These younger graduates were Dr. Fred H. Albee '99, Roscoe M. Hupper '07, John S. Simmons '09, Robert D. Cole '12, and Paul H. Douglass '13. The Association was also fortunate in having present some of the younger graduates from far distant corners of the globe, among others being E. L. Brigham '04, from China; J. H. Brett '05, from China; C. J. Donnell '05, from the Philippines, and A. J. Chadbourne '07, from Mexico. One of the unexpected guests at the dinner was Hon. Henry B. Quinby '69, ex-Governor of New Hampshire, who made a very happy speech.

At the dinner President Hyde spoke of gifts or bequests being received since the last Commencement, approximately of $100,000, and in addition to that, under the will of the Hon. Edwin B. Smith '56, the college will receive ultimately from his estate $500,000 or more.

With great enthusiasm a wireless telegram was ordered sent to Donald B. MacMillan '98, leader of the Crocker Land Expedition, now wintering at Etah, Greenland. With him on that expedition, as surgeon, is Dr. Harrison J. Hunt '02.

It was also appropriate for the Association to introduce and sing at the dinner an original song dedicated to our mascot, the polar bear, our mascot being particularly appropriate since the disccovery of the North Pole by Admiral Robert E. Peary '77.

The officers for the coming year are: President, George W. Tillson '77; vice-presidents, Hon. D. S. Alexander '70, Dr. Lucien Howe '70, Henry A. Huston '79, Edward T. Little '87, James D. Merriam '92, and Dr. Fred H. Albee '99; secretary, Joseph B. Roberts '95; corresponding secretary, George H. D. Foster '95; treasurer, George R. Walker '02; chorister, Harvey D. Gibson '02; executive committee, Harold F. Dana '99, John W. Frost '04, Louis H. Fox '06, John S. Simmons '09, Stanley W. Pierce '11, Walter F. Eberhardt '13.

Among those present were George Haven Put-

EDWIN BRADBURY SMITH '56

Edwin Bradbury Smith, the late donor of Bowdoin's latest bequest, was born Oct. 3, 1832, at Kennebunkport, Me. He was the fourth child and the third son of Oliver Smith and Caroline (Bradbury) Smith. He prepared for college at Bridgton Academy under W. M. Baker (Bowdoin 1847). At Bowdoin he was a member of the Pencinian Society, of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and at graduation was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He graduated from Bowdoin in the class of 1856. He studied law in the office of Hon. Edward E. Bourne (Bowdoin 1816) at Kennebunk and was admitted to the York County bar in September, 1858. Beginning the following March, he practiced law for three years in Limerick, Me. He enlisted as a private in the First Maine Battery in August, 1862, but was rejected at Augusta on examination. The same year he resumed practice at Saco, Me., with Colonel Rufus P. Tapley. From 1864 to 1867 he served as deputy collector of U. S. customs. As representative of Saco he served in the State legislature from 1870 to 1872 and was speaker of the House in 1872. From 1873 to 1875 he was reporter of decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine. On Sept. 4, 1875 he was appointed assistant attorney general of the United States, a position he held till 1881, serving under Attorney Generals Edward Pierpont, Alphonso Taft and Charles Devens. He then removed to New York City and became a partner in the law firm known as Stanley, Clark & Smith, with an office at 56 Pine St. After his resignation he was employed by the government as special counsel in the Guiteau case. His specialty, however, was the prosecution of cases pertaining to revenue laws and he built up a large and lucrative practice, becoming one of the most notable figures in the United States courts. He was a member of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, the New York Law Institution, the New England Society, the Union League, the Lawyers, and University Clubs. He died, Jan. 5, 1914, at his apartments in the Kenmore, West 57th St., where he had resided, unmarried, for thirty years.

BOWDOIN'S HALF-MILLION

The Boston Transcript for January 31st contained the following editorial comment on the recent gift, which we take this opportunity of reprinting. It is a very complimentary but accurate summary of the status of the College:

To him that hath shall be given. It was President Hyde of Bowdoin who electrified his alumni at a dinner a few years ago by the announcement that the college needed no more funds. "For the present," was the qualifying clause. And last night, at a meeting of the graduates in New York City, it was his agreeable duty to proclaim a bequest of half a million from the late Edwin Bradbury Smith of the class of '56. To the alumni, even those most intimate in the councils of the institution, and, it is conjectured, to Mr. Hyde as well, the gift was a bolt from the blue, although Mr. Smith was reputed to possess considerable wealth and was known as a loyal graduate. His post-academic career may be regarded as fairly typical of the excellent service rendered by Bowdoin men to the country: lawyer, member of the Maine Assembly and its Speaker in 1871; assistant attorney general under President Grant and through the Hayes Administration, and an active participant in public affairs. The position of Bowdoin College is unique. It is the only men's college in Maine. Its enrolment is relatively static, at about 350 men. These come from widely distributed localities and, in large proportion, as the sons of Bowdoin men, are inheritors of a tradition. There is also a considerable representation from that able and masterful stock of the Maine families which have bred leaders of men for every part of the country. The urge of this example is bound to make the influence of the institution intensive; the responsibility which it lays on youth is especially intimate and personal, and it is doubtful whether the long list of notable names among the Bowdoin graduates can be assigned to accident. Such a tradition is cumulative.

The college is well equipped; its library rarely succeeds in reestablishing the dignity and distinction of the English academic architecture in a New English academic grove, and is, added to Continued on page 217

The Expression of Loyalty

Much space, editorial and otherwise, has been devoted to the large gift to the College announced by President Hyde at the New York Alumni dinner recently. A short account of the life of the generous donor appears elsewhere in this issue. The Orient would only turn the attention of the undergraduate body for a thoughtful moment to the significance of such alumni loyalty as was displayed by Mr. Smith. In various parts of the country within the past month bands of Bowdoin men have been gathering to revive for a night their college memories. Theirs is an active, potent loyalty, an influence which has added to the name and fame of Bowdoin incalculably. And we as undergraduates, whatever our selfish motives for advancing our college interests, must recognize increasingly this larger tie of college brotherhood which makes any task for our college mates, any labor for the institution, a free gift of love.

Big Indoor Athletic Event

Elsewhere in this issue is an account of the Fencing Match and Athletic Exhibition to be held here Saturday evening. A peculiar significance attaches to this event. Not only is it the first thing of its kind but points, we hope, to the development of an interest in these two branches of winter athletic activity, which will be particularly strong. Other institutions support a multitude of minor winter sports. At Bowdoin there are the three: indoor track work, fencing, and gymnasium work. With the long winter months when our sport enthusiasm is usually in abeyance we are now to have the opportunity to attach a strong college pride to these indoor sports. Let’s all get behind the Fencing Team in their match with old Eli. Bowdoin should win the reputation of being a fencing college.

A New Limitations Plan

It will be remembered that the Student Council last year considered the matter of a plan for regulating the number of activities in which any one student may participate. After investigation by two committees and discussion in a student meeting the matter was formally abandoned because, as the committee of the Council reported, “no artificial plan such as was suggested at the student meeting, or has been heretofore proposed by the former committee of the Council, or none that its members can devise will adequately meet the problem.”

The significant part of the agitation last year was that the Council, after its thorough discussion and study of the question, felt that the real evil of over-participation by individuals existed. A letter to the Orient by Robert Hale of the class of 1910, printed last year, states the situation as follows: “The aim of such a scheme of limitations is, I suppose, to prevent the individual undergraduate from diffusing his energies over too wide a field of college activities to the detriment of his work and his best intellectual training. I think the evil aimed at is a real one, and that an agitation for its remedy should be undertaken is a hopeful sign. Diffuseness and superficiality are the criticisms most reasonably and justly aimed at the American system of university education. If this reform or any other reform can give the Bowdoin undergraduate deeper appreciations in art, literature and music and above all arouse him from his lethargy in matters of politics, then it would be shameful indeed not to support the measure.” He proceeded to point out the vital weakness of the schemes proposed; that they by their very artificiality and rigidity failed to really regulate individuals most needed.

The Orient at that time suggested that with the light of publicity thrown on the evil the individuals should do away with over-participation by voluntary effort. But the evil still exists.

A scheme is now proposed which seems to do away with the defects of artificial rules and regulation. By its nature, that of a deliberative board, it is elastic and is planned to treat each individual case. It would limit only where over-participation exists. Its power would be advisory, but if we understand the nature of the evil, advisory power from an intelligent committee is precisely what is needed. Almost all of those who now suffer from over-participation would welcome such advice as a reason for refusing to take part in more student activities, and others could easily be shown the folly of the diffusion of their energies.

This plan for a Limitations Board is now before the Student Council and will, we hope, soon be submitted to the consideration of the student body. The adoption of it is not in any sense radical, as the powers granted are merely advisory and if it proves a failure, it will result in no harm in having been tried. Let us give it a trial.

Our Dormitories

The communication printed in this issue deserves the thoughtful consideration of our readers. “A Student” seems to possess an insight into the “old” and “new” in Bowdoin life which is not often revealed on the campus. In this matter of the care of the dormitories we have been slow to realize the new attitude which is being taken by those in charge of them. Time was in “the good old days” when they were considered mere necessary sleeping quarters, when no one had much respect for their condition or contents. But within the past five years the College and its officers have made great efforts to make the rooms more attractive, cleaner and more sanitary. The janitor service has been improved and the general spirit is of cooperation where possible and conscientious care and provision for our needs. This has met with response on the part of the students, but not as much as there should be. There are still those among us who believe it is a part of Bowdoin tradition to be “cut-ups” and “reckless young blocks” rather than gentlemen, just as there are those who still believe a Bowdoin man is expressing college spirit in dissipation and idleness rather than clean, hard work. But “the old order changeth” and a new spirit such as is expressed in the communication will mean the development of all that is best and most forceful in our campus life.

Bowdoin’s Half-Million, continued from p. 215 that, admirably fashioned to its mechanical uses; its halls and dormitories are adequate, and the gymnasium, completed about a year ago, is one of the best in the country. At a meeting in Boston a week or two ago, President Hyde remarked that the next need of the college was a general increase of the salaries and the establishment of more scholarships. From this pronouncement it is not amiss to conjecture that such may be the ends to which this newest gift will be applied.

As when a coveted and distinguished honor is awarded a man whose modesty has been as steadfast as his merit and his usefulness, this bequest to Bowdoin College is as warm a pleasure to the friends and admirers of the institution as to its alumni.

NEW ENGLAND ASSOCIATION MEETS

A majority of the delegates to the annual meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Association in Boston Saturday favored holding the championship field and track games in the Harvard Stadium next May. Williams and Trinity preferred Pratt Field, Springfield.

The following officers were elected: President, J. M. White, M.I.T.; vice-president, W. R. Stillman, Wesleyan; treasurer, E. J. Graves, Dartmouth; secretary, P. A. Warren, Maine. The newly elected president will appoint his executive committee, the president, retiring secretary and treasurer serving ex-officio. The former advisory committee was re-elected as follows: Major F. H. Briggs, M.I.T.; D. B. Rich, Dartmouth; C. D. Wadsworth, Williams. The executive committee and the advisory committee will determine the scene of the out-door championship meet.

The colleges represented by delegates were: Amherst, Bates, Bowdoin, Brown, Colby, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, University of Maine, M. I. T., Tufts, Trinity, Vermont, Wesleyan, Williams, Worcester Polytechnic Institute and Massachusetts Agricultural College.

GEORGE FOGG SPEAKS FEB. 12

On Feb. 12, 19, and 26 there will be a series of Vesper Services in the Chapel, at which there will be talks on the general subject of “Maine Manhood.” On Thursday, Feb. 12, George Fogg
'02 of Portland will speak on "Making Men Over," on Feb. 19 A. E. Roberts of New York City will speak on "The College Man and the Rural Problem," and on Feb. 26 Dr. John Hastings Quint '97 will speak on "The College Man and the Church." There will be special music at all of these Vespers. From 4.45 to 5 p. m. there will be selections on the organ and during the meetings there will be other special music. The meetings will close at 5.45 p. m. in order that the people of the town may feel able to come. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

Next Thursday George Fogg '02, who is very prominent in prison reform and charity work in Maine, will be the speaker. He has been a very popular speaker at rallies in the past. In college he combined in a rare degree the ability of the athlete and the scholar and was prominent in all activities. He is the author of "We'll Sing to Old Bowdoin."

ANDROSCOGGIN ALUMNI ORGANIZE

On Saturday evening, Feb. 21, the Bowdoin alumni of Androscoggin County will meet and organize. The organization meeting and banquet will be held in the rooms of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce. President Hyde is expected to speak, some undergraduate will be invited to represent the student body, and the musical clubs will be on hand to furnish entertainment. It is hoped that the faculty and students of the Medical School will also be represented. There are about 100 Bowdoin alumni in Androscoggin County, over half being in Lewiston and Auburn.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

There will be a meeting of the Cabinet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Delta Upsilon House. This will probably be the last meeting of the Cabinet and a full attendance is necessary.

More men are needed for the Industrial Service classes at Lisbon Falls. If you are interested, confer with Bacon '15, Robinson '14, or take the 7.05 car for Lisbon Falls tonight.

It is expected that Bowdoin will send about 15 delegates to the State Conference, to be held Feb. 20, 21 and 22 with Colby. These delegates will be entertained in Waterville, their registration fees will be paid by the Association and the only expense will be reduced railroad fares. On Saturday morning the discussion will be led by Merrill '14 and at the opening meeting Friday MacCormick '15 will respond for the other colleges to Colby's welcome. There will be a banquet Friday evening and Saturday and Sunday the sessions of the Conference will be held.

The Mission Study begins next Sunday. Mr. McLean's course will meet at 4 p. m. at the Beta Theta Pi House. This course, open to the three upper classes, will be held at different houses and will take up the following subjects: Immigration, The City, The Rural Problem, The Social Evil, and Labor. The course for Freshmen, conducted by Mr. McConaughy and MacCormick '15, will be held in the dormitories, beginning next Sunday at 4 p. m. in Chapman's room, 2 S. Appleton. This course will take up in the next five Sundays the subjects: Do Foreign Missions Pay? America First? Do the Heathen Need and Want Missionaries? What are the Results of a Hundred Years of Work? Some Great Missionaries, including Bowdoin Men.

THE NEW LIMITATIONS PLAN

To the Student Council:

The committee appointed last year to investigate the limitation of student activities reported, or the following: "Your committee has come to the conclusion that, although there is a need for such limitation at Bowdoin, no artificial plan such as was suggested at the student meeting, or has been herefore proposed by the former committee of the Council, or none that its members can devise will adequately meet the problem. It recommends that the matter of such a system of rules of regulation be dropped."

As stated in the report the main reason for adopting this report was that the plans offered, consisting of point systems of limitation, and a system of major and minor activities, were too artificial. They did not limit where limitation was most badly needed, and they did not include many activities which take a great deal of time, such as assistantships, etc.

The evil still exists and demands a remedy. Why can the following scheme not be adopted here: that of creating a board of student and faculty members, with free latitude to regulate actual cases of over-participation, a scheme that would be elastic enough to include all forms of student activity and would apply to each case individually and fairly?

I therefore propose the following amendment to the by-laws of the Associated Students of Bowdoin College:

(1) addition of article as follows:)

ARTICLE VII—LIMITATIONS BOARD.

Sec. 1. Two students elected by the Student Council, two Faculty members elected by the Faculty, together with the Dean of the College as chairman, shall constitute a Limitations Board. The four elective members shall be chosen in June and shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected.

It shall be the duty of this Board to investigate all cases of individual over-participation in undergraduate activities and to recommend to the individual concerned such limitation as may seem desirable. Where possible students shall be allowed their freedom in making the limitation. For the guidance of students, the Board may make general regulations in regard to limitation of participation in activities, subject to the ratification of the Student Council.

Resolution:

Moved that the above by-law be adopted and the provision regarding election of members be suspended for this year, so that members may be elected to serve from time of adoption until June.

R.D.L.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Orient.

Dear Sir,—Within a fortnight someone sprinkled the outside wall of Winthrop Hall with a fire extinguisher. Such acts of vandalism are not infrequent among us; we are doing our share towards living up to the glorious tradition of being young college mad-caps. Are we not also demonstrating that we are lacking in gratitude towards those who have kindly furnished us with the wherewithal to live? Further, are we not showing by this disregard for the hard necessities that we are utterly incapable of appreciating the niceties of life with which future benefactors might sometime be pleased to provide us?

We are wont to fancy that the barrenness of our quarters in these old dormitories contributes something to the Spartan, democratic quality of Bowdoin life. This is a comforting and altogether human view of the situation, but there is an increasing number of us who would like to see the dormitories made more livable; more baths and even some such refinement as decorated walls and good floors. Perhaps if we would leave off destroying what we have we might put ourselves in the way of receiving more.

A Student.

Club and Council Meetings

The last meeting of the Student Council was held Jan. 29 in Hubbard Hall. Those present were Leigh '14, Thompson '14, C. Brown '14, Weatherill '14, G. Eaton '14, Callahan '14, Gray '14, McWilliams '15 and MacCormick '15.

Dean Sills was also present and spoke to the Council. He said that the faculty had advised him to recommend to the Student Council that it take up again the matter of limiting student activities and work out a system of controlling them.

A suggestion had been made, he said, to have a court of reviews, a sort of advisory board, to pass on special cases where men are heavily laden with activities.

The Dean also spoke of the pressing need of getting men interested in coming to Bowdoin next year.

The Lunt plan and sectional clubs were discussed.

Suggestions were made by members of the Council and it was asked whether it would be well to make a census of the Freshman class to find out why each man in the class came to Bowdoin.

Leigh '14 read a tentative plan of limitation, providing for an advisory board. This is explained in another column.

The Council also,

1 Voted that a committee be appointed to look into the matter of interesting men to come to Bowdoin;
2 Voted that the Rally Committee cooperate with management of the Fencing Team to provide entertainment at the Yale-Bowdoin match, Feb. 14, 1914;
3 Voted that a Bowdoin Night be held on night of Feb. 28, 1914, under direction of Rally Committee;
4 Voted that the football election be held Feb. 14, 1914.

On the Campus

Hone ex-'16 was on the campus recently.
C. T. Hawes '76 was in Brunswick Friday.
F. H. Hargraves '77 was in Brunswick last week.
Koughan '15 and Chase '16 attended the B.A.A. meet Saturday.
Ranks for the first semester are sent out today.
The Delta Kappa Epsilon annual house party will be Friday, Feb. 20.
McMurtrie '13 was on the campus last week.
He is studying at Tech.
Jack Magee was starter at the Irish-American games at Boston, Jan. 31.
A meeting of the Monday Night Club was held last night at the Kappa Sigma House.
A petition has been circulated by the Junior Assembly Committee asking for the use of the New Gym for the assemblies.
The campus turned into a rink Wednesday and everybody began to slide to exams. Those who didn't fall down enjoyed the ice.

Mr. Joseph S. Davis, who was last year instructor in Economics and Sociology here, and who is now at Harvard, was a visitor at College recently.

Cruff '16 has returned to College after an absence since Christmas on account of a football injury to his knee. Two pieces of bone were removed from his knee-cap.

"Squanto" Wilson '12 has had his arm examined by the official physician of the Red Sox preparatory to the spring training trip. His many friends are glad to hear that the arm has been declared all right. "Squanto" made a name for himself as a batter but those who saw him play in college remember how he held runners to the bases and are anxious to see him play without the handicap of a lame wing.

Colby won the three-cornered relay race between Bates, Colby and Maine at the B.A.A. Saturday. Maine finished second and Bates third. The time was 3 minutes, 12 4-5 seconds. At the first corner there was a collision. The first Bates runner was knocked down.

The Tufts relay team, which Bowdoin races at Providence Feb. 21, defeated Vermont in the time of 3 minutes, 19 3-5 seconds.

With the Faculty

Professor McConaughy lectured last Saturday night at Dover and Foxcroft. At Foxcroft Academy he delivered his Bowdoin lecture.

Professor McConaughy is conducting a six weeks' course in Sunday school teaching at the St. Lawrence Congregational Church in Portland.

Dr. Cram spent the past week in Boston and New York.

Dean Sills was in Boston last week and spoke at the banquet of the Boston Alumni Association which was held there Saturday night.

Professor Clark spent the latter part of the week visiting in Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Edith S. Woodruff, daughter of Professor Woodruff, has recently been made assistant in the department of music at Vassar College. Miss Woodruff graduated from Vassar in 1909 and took a course at the New England Conservatory of Music. For the last few years she has been teaching private classes in Brunswick.

In the Dial for Jan. 16, 1914, there appears a review and criticism by Professor George Roy Elliott of Brander Matthews' "Shakespeare as a Playwright." The article is entitled, "The Study of Shakespeare's Stage-craft: A Climax."

Alumni Department

'64.—There was a good attendance Sunday afternoon, Jan. 11, 1914, at the Wadleigh High School, New York City, at the memorial service in honor of the late Dr. John G. Wight. The exercises opened with a selection by the school orchestra followed by reading of the Scripture by Principal Rowe of the Wadleigh school. The Choral Society sang Handel's hymn, Trust in the Lord, Mendelssohn's I Waited for the Lord, and Rest; and addresses were made by City Superintendent Maxwell, Miss Haeseler of the Girls High School, Philadelphia. Mrs. Farrond of Newark Academy, Mrs. Ford of the Wadleigh High School, Miss Hellin for the Alumni of Wadleigh and Dr. Goodwon of Packer Institute. Miss MacVay of Wadleigh read two of Dr. Wight's poems.

'87.—The new income tax agent for Maine will be Merton L. Kimball, of Norway.

'94.—Rev. George Anthony Merrill, who for the past seven years has been pastor of the Congregational Church in Foxcroft, Maine, has recently removed to Taunton, Mass., where he is pastor of the Third Congregational Church.

'06.—Rev. Harold G. Booth of Jackson and Brooks, Maine, has accepted the call of the West Congregational Church, of Portland.

Rev. Mr. Booth has been the pastor of the Congregational churches at Jackson and Brooks in Waldo County since 1910. He is about 30 years old, a native of New York State, and subsequent to completing his college course, entered Bangor Theological Seminary, from which he graduated a few years ago. Mr. Booth has taken up his residence at 35 Roberts Street.
FRIAR CUP CONTEST

For the seventh consecutive time Delta Upsilon won the Friar Cup, offered each semester for the highest average of scholarship. The cup is to be competed for during one more semester, the current one. The ranks count as follows: A four, B three, C two, D one, and E minus one. The halves denote men taking incompletes in half their courses.

YALE FENCERS DEFEAT BOWDOIN

Saturday night at 8 o'clock with two feet of snow underfoot and more arriving constantly, a crowd of students with a few hardy townspeople arrived by snow-shoe and rubber boot at the gymnasium for the Yale-Bowdoin fencing match and the gymnastic exhibition. The big exercise room was flanked with settees, five deep, a space being left in the center for drill squads and for the fencing platform. At nine o'clock the Yale team was reported as being at an indefinite somewhere the other side of Portland, with the judges, members of the Pianelli Club of Augusta, still unaccounted for. Things did not look promising for an intercollegiate fencing match that night. Coach Maroney, Payson, and Porritt whetted the appetites of the crowd with a few exhibition bouts and it was then decided to go on with the gymnastic exhibition and wait for the arrival of the Yale team.

The exhibition which followed was well worth braving the storm for. The work of the picked squad of men, showing the regular gymnasium work, was of great interest to those who did not know of the overthrow of the gym-is-a-farce theory in the last year. There was a class drill, followed by exercises on the horse and buck, in which the men showed the results of faithful work and in many cases of much natural ability. This was followed by a skilled exhibition on the parallel bars by Maroney and Kimball, the gym instructors, both undergraduates. The work of these men was finished and daring and brought forth a great deal of applause.

The next event was an exhibition of class wrestling, in which the squad demonstrated fractional Nelsons and showed how easy it is to down a man if you know how and he is willing.

The next event was the class dancing, various steps calculated to tire the performer and give him quickness. This was followed by an exhibition of class boxing, not lacking in enthusiasm but free from gore. After this part of the exhibition a special bout was staged with Canney '16 and Weston '16 on the firing line. Neither let anything get by that could be stopped without the use of the gloves.

Kimball then gave an exhibition of tumbling with thrilling air-springs and hand walking and he and Leadbetter '16 put on a clever strong man act.

After the gymnastic exhibition various devices were used to hold the crowd until the arrival of the Yale team. Both Maroney and Kimball gave further exhibitions on the rings and trapeze, Leadbetter '16 officiated at the piano, and there was singing of college songs. Hamblen '14 starred in a pre-Elizabethan revival of "Casey Jones."

At 11.20 the Yale team appeared on the floor after an all day's trip from Boston. The fencing began immediately and the bouts were run off quickly. Each of the Bowdoin men fenced each of the Yale men and Yale won seven of the nine bouts, Floyd winning two of his bouts. The good sportsmanship of the Yale team, as well as their excellent fencing, drew repeated applause from the Bowdoin supporters, who watched the matches with keen interest. The last match, between Capt. Miller of Yale and Capt. Floyd of Bowdoin, in which Floyd was defeated, was especially hard-fought and interesting. This was Floyd's only defeat.

The Yale team consisted of Captain E. C. Miller, E. F. Nickerson, P. A. Cook. Bowdoin was represented by Captain Gordon P. Floyd '15, Edgar R. Payson, Jr., '14, and Philip W. Porritt '15.

Summary:

FIRST ROUND.
Floyd defeated Cook, 5-3; Miller defeated Porritt, 5-4; Nickerson defeated Payson, 5-2.

SECOND ROUND.
Cook defeated Porritt, 5-4; Miller defeated Payson, 5-1; Floyd defeated Nickerson, 5-2.

THIRD ROUND.
Cook defeated Payson, 5-1; Nickerson defeated Porritt, 5-1; Miller defeated Floyd, 5-3.

The judges were Charles C. White, M. E. Sawtelle, and Charles F. Philodeau of the Pianelli Fencing Club of Augusta. The scorers were J. C. Ogden of Yale, and A. L. Pratt of Bowdoin.

In spite of delay, storm, and defeat, the evening was one which will be remembered for a long time as one of the biggest events of the year.

ROBINSON IS LONGFELLOW SCHOLAR

The winner of the Henry W. Longfellow Graduate Scholarship has been announced as Kenneth Allan Robinson '14. Robinson will probably study in Europe. In college he has been very prominent in literary work. As chairman of the Quill, he raised that publication to a high standard of excellence. He has won the College Song Competition, the Hawthorne Prize, the David Sewall Premium, and the Class of '68 Prize Speaking.

The Charles Carroll Everett Scholarship has not been awarded and it is probable that for financial reasons the award will not be made this year.

PORTLAND ALUMNI MEET

Saturday evening, at the 44th annual meeting and banquet of the Bowdoin Alumni of Portland, of 70 who had notified the dinner committee that they would be present, 43 sat down at the tables. Such was the result of the snow storm which delayed steam cars and electric. But nevertheless the occasion was one long to be remembered, the dinner was good and the speeches were excellent. The banquet was served in the State of Maine room at the Falmouth Hotel.

President Hyde was unable to be present but the college was ably represented by the dean, Professor Sills, and Professors Bell and Elliott. The after-dinner speaking was begun by the president of the association, Frederick O. Conant, of the class of 1880, who touched on the changes in the college and the still greater changes in the industrial and commercial world. In closing he called upon Professor Sills to speak in the absence of President Hyde. Professor Sills in emphasizing the close cooperation between the college and alumni, spoke of the Alumni Council, an organization of twelve alumni to be elected next May from which he predicted results beneficial to the college. He said that the fact that nearly half the students at Bowdoin come from outside Maine reflects to a certain extent on the alumni of the State. Rev. A. D. Leavitt, pastor of the State Street Church, a graduate of Yale, was the next speaker. Dr. Leavitt's speech was one of the best of the evening, full of witty sayings and droll stories, and kept everybody laughing. But in closing he became more serious and praised Bowdoin and spoke of President Hyde as one of the best and ablest college presidents in the country. At this point President Conant turned the meeting over to the toastmaster, Joseph B. Reed '83, who called upon Dr. Frederick H. Gerrish. Dr. Gerrish said he had attended all the dinners of this alumni association since its organization, 44 years ago. Continuing he said that he believed the present number of students, about 350, plenty large, and that no class should have more than 75 pupils. "I would on the other hand," said Dr. Gerrish, "increase the number of the faculty, I would have the entrance conditions more rigid and admit no students on teacher's certificates." He said that he would like to see Bowdoin College so great that it will dare to be small. Other speeches were made by George E. Fogg, Ralph O. Brewster, Professor Herbert C. Bell and Professor G. R. Elliott. The exercises were closed by the singing of Phi Chi.

At the business meeting the usual reports were received and accepted, and the following officers chosen for the coming year:

President—David W. Snow.
Secretary and Treasurer—Edward S. Anthoine.
Nominating Committee—Harry C. Wilbur, Charles L. Hutchinson, Alfred B. Cook.
Dinner Committee—W. B. Drummond, Leland G. Means, Robert Pennell.

The choice of a vice-president was left in the hands of the nominating committee to be reported to the president and secretary.

Seated at the tables were the following: Prof. Kenneth C. M. Sills, dean of the college; G. R. Elliott, professor of English Literature; Herbert C. Bell, professor of history and politics; Frederick O. Conant, class of 1880; Dr. Frederick O. Gerrish, 1866; Rev. A. D. Leavitt (Yale 1900); Franklin C. Payson, 1876; David W. Snow, 1875; George F. Cary, 1888; George E. Fogg, 1902; George C. Wheeler, 1901; Charles L. Hutchinson, 1890; Edward S. Anthoine, 1902; Ben Barker, 1902; Robert F. Chapman, 1902; Dr. Clarence A.
Baker, 1878; Joseph B. Reed, 1883; Robert M. Pennell, 1907; Ralph O. Brewster, 1909; William H. Bradford, George F. Cressey, Leland G. Means, Frank H. Haskell, 1895; Dr. M. C. Webber, 1909; Henry A. Peabody, 1903; George A. Sabin, 1903; Wallace S. Mitchell, 1896; Francis J. Welde, 1903; S. T. B. Jackson, E. Y. Abbott, A. Mitchell, Jr., H. E. Andrews, 1894; Eben W. Freeman, Eugene L. Bodge, 1897; Richard C. Payson, 1893; Charles H. Gilman, 1882; Clinton N. Peters, 1910; William E. Atwood, 1910; Leon H. Smith, 1910; A. Donald Weston, 1912; Benjamin H. Riggs, 1912; G. C. Kern 1912; W. W. Fairclough, 1908. Joseph B. Reed, Esq., was the toastmaster.

FLOYD ELECTED FENCING CAPTAIN

The members of the Fencing Team elected Gordon P. Floyd '15 captain, last Wednesday night. Floyd is also manager of the team and it is due to his efforts that Bowdoin has as good a fencing schedule as any college in the country. The new captain is a veteran of last year's team. In the match with Yale Saturday night he won two of his three bouts, being defeated only by Captain Miller of the Yale team.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY WILL BE IN GYM

At the last meeting of the faculty, permission was granted the juniors to use the New Gym for their dance Friday evening, March 6. The permission was granted, however, on two conditions: First, that the dancing stop at one o'clock and, second, that there shall be no dancing in any of the fraternity houses after that hour. The dance is scheduled to begin at eight o'clock. The committee in charge is West '15, chairman; McKenney '15, Verrill '15, Smith '15 and L. N. Stetson '15. It is probable that only one Assembly will be held this year and every effort will be made to make the affair a big one. The cost will be two dollars for each couple.

RELAY SQUAD CUT YESTERDAY

Seven men still remain in the competition for the relay team which is to race Tufts at the Providence Armory next Saturday evening. The past week has been spent in hard practice, including several time trials and Coach Magee feels confident of having a fast team. Five men will be taken on the trip and the final cut was to be made yesterday, too late for the Orient to obtain the results. The candidates are Fox '14, Wright '14, Smith '15, McWilliams '15, McElvee '16, Ireland '16, Crosby '17.

MASQUE AND GOWN PERFORMANCES

At three o'clock this afternoon in Memorial Hall the trials for “Twelfth Night” will be held. Professor Elliott has shown much interest in the play and has been of much help in the preliminary work.

On Feb. 26 the Dramatic Club will give a performance in Camden, and on Feb. 27 they will play at Rockland. The Dramatic Club has in its possession a one-act play which it intends to present at one of the rallies.

THE BLANKET TAX

Although the number of payments of the Blanket Tax was not as large this semester as last fall, the amount paid in compares very favorably with that of last year. In the three days of collection 214 men paid and extensions were granted to 96 others for periods of varying length. The payment of these extensions should be made as soon as they fall due in order that the various organizations may not have to wait until the end of the year to settle their affairs. Payment may be made to MacCormick '15 at the D. U. house or to any member of the Board of Managers.

A. E. ROBERTS TO SPEAK THURSDAY

At the Vesper service at 5 p. m. last Thursday George Fogg '02 gave an interesting talk, based on personal experience, on prison reforms and charity work, with especial emphasis on the needs of Maine. At this service Professor Hutchins played a clarinet solo.

Next Thursday at 5 o'clock Mr. Albert E. Roberts of New York, Secretary of the National Country Y. M. C. A. work, will speak on “Rural Manhood.” Mr. Roberts was recently a delegate to the Rural Congress in Europe and will be a speaker at the State Conference in Waterville this week.

Y.M.C.A. NEWS

The delegates to the conference at Waterville are: Merrill '14, C. A. Brown '14, MacCormick '15, Sampson '17, Chapman '17, Moran '17, Wibby '17, McConaughy '17, Churchhill '16, Eaton '17, McKinnon '15, Crosson '16. The next delegation will be to Windham on March 8.

At the Boys’ Conference in Lewiston Saturday President Hyde spoke on Educational Efficiency. Sunday morning at the Church on the Hill it was announced that there would be a social tonight at which the glee and mandolin clubs would entertain. The college men were especially invited.
The Limitations Scheme

We are glad to hear from the chairman of the committee on limitations of last year's Student Council, and realize that the opinion of one who has made the subject a special study is of great value in consideration of the present scheme. The suggestions made in his communication have been considered by the Council. The original draft of the present plan placed final powers of regulation within the Board, but this was eliminated at the Council's suggestion. The second suggestion, as to the enforcing of its provisions, is included in the plan as stated: that is, the Board itself shall enforce whatever decisions it has the right to make. As its recommendations are legally merely advisory the second change suggested is not significant. It is probable that experience will result finally in granting the Board final regulative powers and declaring any student ineligible for any office or offices, but it is also wise to reserve such power until it is ascertained what success the Board meets with in remedying the present evils by milder advisory methods.

The Athletic Council

Among the various communications printed in this issue there are two from members of the Athletic Council in reply to the recent editorial comment on the policy of that body. It is gratifying to know that the body in question has such firm convictions of its own rectitude. We have always been of the opinion that its membership has spent a great deal of time and work in unselfish service of Bowdoin's athletic interests. Far be it from us to minimize its good intentions. We could not, within our proper sphere, attempt further to point out the weakness and inefficiency of that organization without becoming personal and controversial. Gladly do we leave the whole matter in the hands of the student body and interested alumni, trusting that our discussion may have brought the matter to the attention of those who are in a position to bring about changes. We are aware that our criticism is merely destructive and as such bears little weight.

We would not wish to leave the impression, however, that our investigations were hurried. They were the results of four years' observation and contact. In the nomination for managers, for instance, it would not be our purpose to have the manager's personal opinion of any weight as opposed to the opinion of the Council. But the recommendations of a manager are, as in the case cited, the result and goal of the whole system of competition: that is, the expert ranking of the person or two persons who have assigned the tasks and watched the work of the candidates. Recommendations such as this are of more value than a personal opinion. They should not be overruled by any opinions, but by facts, such as scholarship or character. If this system is not carried out the whole competitive system is, at best, a partial election rather than nomination by the Council. We might take up the other points of controversy and bring out numerous instances where the Council has failed to give notice of meetings to managers, of the system of organization which makes necessary a temporary chairman at each meeting, but such discussion would be fruitless. Suffice it to say that we firmly believe that there is substantial dissatisfaction with that body extending over a period of years, which we hope will express itself sooner or later in a constructive way.
Unpaid Pledges

In checking up the blanket tax for the last semester it was found that for the first time six or seven men were granted extension and were thereby given membership in the A.S.B.C. with all its privileges and then did not meet their obligation when the date of payment came. Such entire lack of spirit and fairness and honesty was hardly foreseen by those in charge of the collection of the tax. It was supposed that there might be some eight or ten men in college who cared little enough for college activities and interests to become a member of the Associated Students, but it was not thought that any would become members under false pretences and would break their pledge to pay their tax. Such cases should be taken up by the Board and regulations made which will make it an impossible thing for this neglect of common interests to be accomplished without the loss of respectability and respect.

FOOTBALL ELECTIONS POSTPONED

Owing to the bad weather Saturday, the Student Council decided to postpone again the election of the manager and assistant manager of the 1914 football team, scheduled for that evening. No definite plans had been announced when the Orient went to press, but the election will probably be held some time during the next week.

COMMUNICATIONS

Bangor, Maine, February 6, 1914.

To the Editor of the Orient:—

My attention has been called to an editorial on "The Athletic Council Policy." The tenor of that editorial is such that some reply on behalf of the Council may not be uncalled for. The editorial criticizes, first, the action of the Council in the recent instance referred to, second, the general policy and the methods of the Council, and, third, the constitution of the Council.

As regards the decision of the Council with reference to the B.A.A. Meet: I may speak of this as of something in which I had no direct part, since I was not present at the meeting at which the matter was discussed and decided. I may, however, say that after having received the full information that was then at the disposal of the Council I am clearly of the opinion that the decision was well made. The editorial is distinctly in error in indicating that the opinion of the track coach was not considered. I am advised that that opinion was at the first strongly opposed to participation in the proposed relay race, for reasons that seemed to the Council valid and sufficient, and that when the opinion was reversed for reasons best known to the coach himself, the Council by unanimous vote of the members present stood by their original opinion. I may also say that the Council still holds by its decision, while regretting that this is not satisfactory to the writer of the editorial, and that it is confirmed in its belief by the endorsement of one of the most competent authorities in New England.

Now as regards the "consistent policy" of the Council. It is perhaps unfortunate that the writer of the editorial had not taken the trouble to ascertain the actual facts before publishing an alleged statement of facts. To characterize the action of the Council in the instance above referred to as a blunder, is easy and simple. As a mere expression of an individual opinion no serious objection may be taken to the remark, although backed by the authority of the Orient. Serious objection may, however, be taken to the implication that it is the policy of the Council to take action upon important matters affecting any branch of athletics without consulting manager or coach. It is, and has for years been, the custom of the Council to obtain the fullest possible expression of opinion from coaches and managers, and to give due consideration to such opinions. This does not imply that the decisions of the Council will in all cases conform to these opinions. On the contrary, the Council regards managers and coaches as advisers rather than as dictators. In this connection may be instanced the recent case referred to in the editorial, when the recommendations of an athletic manager as to nominations for assistant manager were followed only in part. In this particular instance the manager presented several names of candidates, all of whom he recommended as competent and two of whom received his special endorsement. The Council did not choose to nominate those two specially endorsed candidates, but nominated others from the list presented. Now this may have been "arbitrary," as suggested by the editorial. It is difficult, however, to see that it would be less arbitrary to have selections of managers imposed upon the Council. If there has been any doubt about this, it may as well be clearly understood that the Council proposes to select its own candidates and that it does not recognize the manager of any athletic team of one year as the dictator of the policy of that branch of athletics for the next year. Now, as always, the Council is glad to avail itself of the suggestions of past, as of present, managers, but as it accepts responsibility for its own decisions it feels compelled to decide for itself in the light of the best information obtainable.

It may not be necessary at this time to attempt any reply to the remarks of the editorial relative to the organization of the Council and its methods of doing business, especially as the criticism is so very general. If the readers of the Orient desire any statement of organization and methods it may be given later.

Coming now to the alleged lack of care in the choice of representatives in the Council competent to decide upon athletic policies. The charge may point in either or all of three directions, and we are not told whether the Faculty, the alumni, or the undergraduates are most at fault in their selections, each of these bodies electing its own representatives. In view of this alleged lack of due care in selection, it seems remarkable that the results have not been even more unfortunate than the editorial seems to regard them. Indeed, so far as most of the members of the Council are concerned it would not seem easy to find representatives more in touch with Bowdoin’s athletic interests. As regards the Faculty members. One of them has for many years been far more intimately associated with Bowdoin athletics than any other man. To question his competency to decide athletic policies would be farcical. The other faculty member of the Council has approved himself as a very faithful and valuable associate.

As regards the undergraduate members. Those readers of the Orient who may not be so fully in touch with present day conditions at the College as they would like to be may infer from the editorial that they are good students, but men whose connection with athletics is confined to attendance at meetings of the Council when they discuss and decide athletic policies in an academic way but with very little real knowledge of the things they are discussing. It may interest these readers to know something more about these members. They are:—the captain of last year’s football team, who is also one of the best baseball players in college; the captain of this year’s baseball team, who was a valuable member of last year’s football team; the captain of the track team; the first baseman on the baseball team; one of the best football players, who is also prominent in track athletics and in the fencing squad. Surely these men are not completely out of touch with present day athletics.

It may not be necessary at this time to say much about the alumni members of the Council, particularly as but one of them happened to be present at the recent meeting whose action seems to have occasioned the latest editorial criticism of the Council. If these members are not satisfactory to the Alumni Association whose representatives they are, the remedy is apparent and easy.

CHARLES T. HAWES,
Chairman Athletic Council.

Brunswick, Maine, Feb. 7, 1914.

To the Editor of the Orient,

Dear Sir:—The recent editorial in the Orient attacking the policy of the Athletic Council contains certain statements which are unfounded and which the Athletic Council would like to have corrected.

In the first place it was stated that the coach was not asked to be present at the meeting of the Council which took up the matter of the B.A.A. race. Now it has always been a precedent that athletic coaches are welcome at all meetings of the Athletic Council which have directly to do with the sport in which they are interested. I personally, notified the track coach of the meeting which was to take up the matter of the B.A.A. race and asked him to attend. It is, then, scarcely true that he was not invited to offer advice or participate in the discussion upon which the decision was made. However, since he was not there, Dr. Whittier, Manager Koughan, and myself gave what we understood to be his opinion of the matter.

Your editorial goes on to say that action is very often taken “without the advice of managers or coaches.” In this case Manager Koughan was present and not only brought the matter to the attention of the Council, but advised against entering a four-cornered race. I cannot remember a meeting at which there has not been present at least one manager.

Then the editorial said that the reasons given for not participating in this race were “purely technical.” On the contrary the matter was taken up from the standpoint of policy and was considered thoroughly with reference to its bearing on the whole question of Bowdoin athletics. This is no place to discuss the arguments which were urged for and against the proposition, but it is sufficient to state that “technical considerations" formed only a part of the discussion.

(Signed)

PHILIP S. SMITH,
Captain of the Track Team.

To the Editor of the Orient:—

In reading the last issue of the Orient, I was very much interested to find that the supposed corpse of the limitations scheme was showing signs of resuscitation, that it has not been dead but merely suffering from suspended animation.
The question of the limitation of undergraduate activities is a plan of college policy that is full of interest for many. I am particularly concerned with it for while on the committee which took the matter in charge last year, I conducted a questionnaire covering nearly every prominent American college and university. The results of this investigation clearly showed an almost national evil accompanied by signs of increasing realization of the problem.

It was my unhappy lot to draw up a plan to restrict the activities of our undergraduates and I soon found that to lay down definite rules was as difficult a task as to draw up a schedule of tariff rates. From my experience I am convinced that the problem is by far too complex to be solved by artificial means.

The proposed plan seems to me to obviate these difficulties. The committee can exercise its discretion and not be bound by strict rules. The composition of the Board is such as to ensure mature and thoughtful action. The plan is parallel to the universal tendency in public administration of the present time. The various public service commissions, the industrial relations commission of Wisconsin and, of other states, all embody this happy principle: Lay down the broad general outlines of policy and then have the specific details worked out by an unhampered commission.

I think, however, there are two points that should be considered and settled before the plan can be completely workable. The first is: What power beyond recommendation should this commission have? For advisory power is after all weak and impotent and a law should have "teeth" if it is to be enforced. The other question is supplementary to the first: If the commission is to have the power to enforce its decisions, through what medium are they to be enforced, through the college office or by the student council?

These are considerations which I deem vitally necessary for decision by the student body. Their action as regards the proposed plan will be awaited by many of the alumni with keen interest.

On the Campus

McIntire '17 has appendicitis.
Jim Lewis '15 has returned to College.
Psi Upsilon is to have a dance March 5.
Cressey '12 was on the campus last week.
The college band sat for its picture last week.
The Yale fencing team was 15 hours in making the trip from Boston.
Dean Sills is meeting his anthology class in the Art Building this week.

Littlefield '16 has gone home with appendicitis. He is getting along well at latest reports.
The Y.M.C.A. Cabinet held a short business meeting last Thursday afternoon at the D. U. house.
On account of the fact that Washington's birthday comes on Sunday, adjourns will be given Monday.
The Reed College Quest for Feb. 6 contains an extract from an Orient editorial on singing and cheering.
A number of teams in the Bowdoin Interscholastic Debating League were at College Saturday looking up material.
Jack Magee coached the Brunswick High School track team that won a three-cornered meet in Portland Saturday.
At the Androscoggin Alumni banquet in Lewiston Thursday evening MacCormick '15 will represent the student body.
Wyman c.r.-'16 has registered at Westbrook Seminary for the remainder of the year in order to remove entrance conditions.
Dean Walz of the Maine Law School characterized the book of constitutions published by the Student Council as an admirable work.
Loring Pratt '12 has been on the campus for a few days. He is manager of the Remington Typewriter Co. business in Binghamton, N. Y.
Prof. McConaughy attended the Boys' Convention at Lewiston last week. The convention lasted Friday, Saturday and Sunday and was enthusiastically attended.
The four Bradbury debating teams will hold practice criss-cross debates between the negative and affirmative sides the last of the week. These will not be open to the public.
Several groups of sub-Freshmen have been on the campus the past week, being entertained at the fraternity houses and being present at the Yale-Bowdoin fencing match Saturday evening.
There will be a meeting of the Classical Club this Tuesday evening at Dean Sills's house. The meeting promises to be of special interest as Professor Johnson is going to lecture about his travels abroad, last year.
The time of class rehearsals for the Song Contest has not yet been decided. The presidents of the classes are to confer with Mr. Wass and arrange hours for rehearsals, probably from 5 to 6 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
The Edward A. Drummond bequest has been received by the College and is in the Treasurer's hands. It is given in honor of his brothers, Thomas, Joseph and James, all Bowdoin men. It is to be used for general educational purposes.
The first rehearsal of the Orchestra Class will be held in the music room this evening at 7 o'clock. About twelve men have signified their intention to join this class but about twenty are expected to enroll. This was a new class last year.

Two more schools, Boothbay Harbor, and Abbott, have filed entry blanks for the annual Bowdoin Interscholastic Meet, to be held Saturday, Feb. 28. The schools have not yet been matched for the relay races but will be as soon as the entries are closed.

The mail-box by the Chapel received more mail than the midnight trains during last week's cold snap. Freshmen mail-carriers were led to believe that Peary and MacMillan went north to get warm. The only casualties reported were two frozen cars credited to Corbett '17 and one for Perkins '15.

Under the auspices of the Saturday Club the Ben Greet players will present "The Comedy of Errors" the evening of Feb. 19 in the Cumberland Theatre. The Ben Greet players came to Brunswick for the first time last year and their presentation of "She Stoops to Conquer" was enthusiastically received.

Dr. Albert P. Fitch, one of the speakers at the recent special meetings of the Bowdoin Y. M. C. A., will deliver during the months of March and April a series of lectures under the auspices of the Williams Y. M. C. A. The general subject of the lectures will be, "The College Course and the Preparation for Life."

With the Faculty

Professor Mitchell is again with his classes after a four months' trip abroad with his family. Professor Mitchell visited the Continent, southern Germany, Italy, France, and the Netherlands, but spent most of his time in England. He spent Christmas with Professor and Mrs. F. W. Brown in Florence.

A number of the faculty took part in the closed performance of the Brunswick Dramatic Club at the Cumberland Feb. 10. The play was James Barrie's "Quality Street." Professor Burnett took the leading part of Valentine Brown, Professor Nixon took the parts of Major Linkwater and a Recruiting Sergeant, Professor Davis was Major Budd, and Mr. Furbish was Lieutenant Spicer.

The Reed College Quest for Feb. 6, 1914 contains an excellent picture of Professor Burnett, who is the author of the first Reed song, "The Song of the First Born." This song, dedicated to the first class, is very popular at Reed. The words follow:

"We hail thee young-eyed Mother,
Thy first-born we who greet.
Twin peaks of snow thy guardsmen are,
Two rivers at thy feet.
Thy face is bright with morning,
Its breezes flush thy brow,
Thy steady eye serene and far,
Compels and woos us now.

CHORUS

"Fair Reed we bless thee,
Our deeds confess thee,
We songs address thee,
That true hearts feel.
Dear college mother,
From thee no other,
Or friend or brother,
Our love shall steal.

"Thy spirit stirs thy children,
Thy first-born know thy heart.
'Tis theirs to aid when none but they May bear that honored part.
Thine eyes are on the future,
Whence steals a murmurous sea,
The joyous sounds of latest born
Who haste to clasp thy knee.

(Chorus.)

"Then hail, benignest mother,
Thy chosen eldest hail,
Sweet speech of those who, knowing thee,
Must know that all is well,
And when the whispering future,
Shall still our loyal song,
Our sons and thousands rumor-drawn,
The chorus will prolong."

(Chorus.)

FOOTBALL ELECTIONS TODAY
From 1 to 3 this afternoon voting for Manager and Assistant Manager of football will take place in the Managers' Room, New Gym. The candidates for Manager are J. C. MacDonald '15, H. P. Verrill '15, W. Livingstone '15, alternate. The candidates for Assistant Manager are E. P. Garland '16 and Lew Noble '16. Littlefield '16 is not eligible.

RELAY TEAM WINS IN FAST TIME
At the Armory A. A. games in Providence Saturday night, Feb. 21, the Bowdoin relay team, consisting of Smith '15, McElwee '16, Crosby '17 and McWilliams '15, defeated Boston College in the fast time of 2 minutes, 47.2-5 seconds, each man running 352 yards. The Brown-Wesleyan race was won in 2 minutes, 51 seconds.

BOWDOIN FENCERS DEFEATED
The Harvard fencers defeated the Bowdoin team last Friday night at the Hemenway Gymnasium, 9 to 0.

The summary:
Damon, Harvard, defeated Porritt, Bowdoin.
Putnam, Harvard, defeated Leadbetter, Bowdoin.
Von Nardroff, Harvard, defeated Floyd, Bowdoin.
Von Nardroff, Harvard, defeated Leadbetter, Bowdoin.
Damon, Harvard, defeated Floyd, Bowdoin.
D'Kay, Harvard, defeated Floyd, Bowdoin.
Damon, Harvard, defeated Leadbetter, Bowdoin.
Aylen, Harvard, defeated Porritt, Bowdoin.

AUGUSTA CUP TO McELWEE
The final trials for the relay team were held last Thursday and the following times were announced as the best for each man for the short distance: 352 yards, Smith '15 (Capt.) and McElwee '16, 43-4-5 seconds; McWilliams '15 and Crosby '17, 44 seconds, and Wright '14 alternate, 44 1-5 seconds. Smith and McElwee were therefore tied for the cup given annually to the man making the best time in the relay trials, and as Smith relinquished his claim, the cup has been awarded to McElwee. The team this year was unusually well balanced, only one-fifth of a second separating the first and fourth men, and much credit is due Coach Magee for keeping the men on edge three weeks without competition after training them through the early part of the season with the B.A.A. Meet in view.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON HOUSE PARTY
The Theta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon held its fourteenth annual house party last Friday. The program began with a reception at the chapter house in the afternoon for the out-of-town guests, members of the faculty, and people of Brunswick. The house was beautifully decorated with evergreen, palms and cut flowers and colored lights. Music was furnished by Lovell's Orchestra of Brunswick. The serving was done by Mrs. Ham, Mrs. Whittier and Mrs. Elliott.

In the evening an order of 24 dances was furnished by Lovell's Orchestra. The patronesses were Mrs. Myles Standish of Boston, Mrs. Hartley C. Baxter and Mrs. George T. Little of Brunswick. The catering was done by Pooler of Portland.

Among those present at the house party were: Misses Mary Holden and Elizabeth Eastman of Lowell, Mass., Wilhelmina Drummond of Atlanta, Georgia, Dorothy Bird of Boston, Pauline Hyde, Marie Hieber, Harriet Bucknam, Florence Rideout, Marion Starbird, Lydia Storli, Ethel Frothingham of Portland, Corinne Jackson, Isabelle Olm, Louise Haggert, Gertrude Hackett of Bath, Ruth Henderson of Fairfield, Sarah Snow of Skowhegan, Gwendolin Griffin of Pittsfield, Frances Stuart, Frances Purington, Dorothy Boyd of Augusta, Mary Elliott, Claire Ridley and Ruth Andrews of Brunswick.

The delegate to the party from Xi. Chapter of Colby was Enmons B. Farrar. Delegates were also present at the reception from the other fraternities.

The committee in charge was composed of W. H. Cunliffe, Jr., W. D. Eddy and R. K. Eastman. The decorating committee consisted of Myles Standish, Jr., H. M. Chatto and R. S. Fuller.
ZETA PSI HAS JOINT BANQUET

Most of the members of Lambda Chapter of Zeta Psi were present at the joint banquet with Chi Chapter of Colby, Saturday evening, in Portland. Six other colleges and universities, Yale, Brown, Wisconsin, Rutgers and Pennsylvania, were represented and 84 men sat at the tables in the State of Maine Room. Among the speakers were Professor Johnson ’74, E. C. Gage ’14, J. J. Hurley ’12 and C. A. Crowell ’13. On the committee in charge were Monroe ’14, Newcombe ’14, Ricker ’15 and Edwards ’16.

THETA DELTA CHI ALUMNI NIGHT

Saturday night the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity held their annual alumni night and banquet. Professor Wilmot B. Mitchell ’90 was toastmaster. The graduates present were Philip Dana ’96, H. V. Archer ’13, T. E. Chase ’04, E. F. Abbott ’03, Luther Dana ’03, R. A. Tuttle ’10, L. S. Lippincott ’10, S. E. Dole ’13, J. A. Slocum ’13, N. A. Fogg ’13, C. R. Marvin ’99 of Tufts and H. T. Haley ’07 of Dartmouth were also present.

THE BRADBURY PRIZE DEBATES

The Bradbury debates will be held tonight and tomorrow night in Memorial Hall at eight o‘clock. The following teams will compete: At the first debate—Affirmative, Garland ’16, Hescock ’16, Tackaberry ’15, alternate Rogers ’15; negative, Bacon ’15, Coffin ’15, McKenney ’15, alternate, Wing ’15; at the second debate—Affirmative, Edwards ’16, Leigh ’14, Parsons ’16, alternate, McWilliams ’15; negative, Gage ’14, Simpson ’14, Talbot ’15, alternate, Kuhn ’15. These teams were selected at the trials held on Friday, January 23. The presiding officer at the first debate will be Professor Nixon, while on Wednesday evening Professor Files will hold that office. The question to be debated is: Resolved, That a Federal Commission be established for the Regulation of Trusts.

The judges will be: Professor Elliott, Professor McLean, Professor Mitchell and Professor Davis. Forty dollars in cash will be distributed as prizes among the members of the winning team, and twenty dollars will be distributed among the members of the second best team.

Eight men will be selected from the competing teams to form two ‘varsity teams of three men each, each team to have also one alternate. Of these two teams so selected, the affirmative will compete against Wesleyan at Brunswick, on the evening of March 25, while the team supporting the negative will meet the Hamilton team at Hamilton on the same date.

MASQUE AND GOWN PRODUCTION

The cast for “The Marriage of Kitty” is as follows:
Hampden ......................... W. D. Ireland ’16
Norbury .......................... R. S. Fuller ’16
Rosalie ........................... J. B. Stride ’17
Helen de Semiano ............... J. L. Baxter ’16
Travers ........................... P. S. Smith ’15
Sir Reginald Belsize ............ P. L. White ’14
Miss Katherine Silverton (Kitty),
R. R. Melloon ’15

A change has been made in the date for the Rockland trip. Instead of being Feb. 28 as was scheduled, it will be Mar. 3 and 4.

A picture of the cast of “The Marriage of Kitty” was taken last week in costume.

ANDROSCOGGIN ASSOCIATION FORMED

With 70 men at table and a big polar bear skin which was formerly the property of Senator Frye, for a mascot, the Bowdoin Association of Androscoggin County took definite form, Thursday evening, in an organization, which seems likely to be productive of great good to Bowdoin College.

The meeting was held in the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce. A delicious banquet was served, after which there were speeches and music by a double quartet from the Glee Club, consisting of West ’15, Cristy ’15, Eaton ’14, Monroe ’14, Shea ’14, Melloon ’15, Ramsay ’15 and Woodman ’16, with McWilliams ’15 at the piano.

The feature of the evening was President Hyde’s speech, the substance of which is given in another column. The toastmaster was Tascus Atwood ’76 and the other speakers were F. L. Dingley ’61, Dr. B. F. Sturgis ’63, George C. Webber ’95, A. H. MacCormick ’15 for the undergraduates, Wallace H. White, Esq., for the honorary members, and A. G. Staples ’82. K. A. Ramsay ’15 gave a reading which was well received.

Before the banquet the following officers were elected: President, John A. Morrill, Auburn; Vice-Presidents, Col. F. M. Drew, Lewiston, Dr. B. F. Sturgis, Auburn, Prof. J. Y. Stanton, Lewiston; Secretary and Treasurer, John H. White, Auburn; Chorister, George Bower; Executive Committee, Arthur G. Staples, Tascus Atwood, Reuel M. Smith, E. F. Abbott, Auburn; Harry S. Coombs, C. F. Packard, John D. Clifford, Jr., Dr. Edson S. Cummings, Lewiston; Dr. Chas. H. Cunningham, Auburn; Dr. A. W. Potter, Lisbon; John H. Maxwell, Livermore Falls; F. O. Purinton, Mechanic Falls.

Following were those in attendance at the

DR. QUINT WILL SPEAK THURSDAY

At the Vesper Service Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock Dr. John H. Quint '07 of Chelsea, formerly pastor of the Church on the Hill, will speak on "The Church and Manhood." Mrs. W. H. Davis will sing at this service. This is the last of the series of Vesper Services which have been held during February on the subject of "Maine Manhood."

FRESHMEN RELAY MEN OUT

Two races are scheduled with Bates '17 for this season, one at Lewiston and one at Brunswick, and a large number should get out for the team. It is hoped that many inexperienced men will try out at this time when they can have the assistance of an expert trainer in getting early development. He will spend all the time necessary on all green men who will report any day after 2.30 p.m.

INTER-CLASS MEET COMING

It is essential for all men who wish to represent their classes at the Indoor Meet, March 25, to begin training immediately by getting under the supervision of the trainer. Coach Magee will be glad to meet all men who will report to him in the Gym any day after 2.30.

FIAR CUP STANDING

The result, by delegations, in the Friar cup competition, at Bowdoin College, is as follows:

Guests of Bowdoin

On Saturday we are to have as guests on our campus a large number of the members of the preparatory schools of the State on the occasion of the Second Annual Indoor Interscholastic Meet. To those who will act individually as hosts and to the fraternities there is presented an opportunity and a temptation. The desire to obtain good men for the fraternity at this time should be sunk in a larger interest in obtaining desirable material for Bowdoin. To fail to show the college and campus life to any of the guests is unfair to him and unfair to the college. We pride ourselves in our excellent interfraternity spirit based not on written rules but an unwritten code of honor. It is hoped that this occasion will find that same fair play and co-operation in evidence. There will be a Bowdoin Night in the evening planned especially for the guests. Let the emphasis be wholly on Bowdoin, not on the lesser, smaller groups.

A New Field

The communication from the Masque and Gown cannot fail to be of interest to those who are ambitious for Bowdoin's dramatics. With this definite encouragement for playlets written by undergraduates, the club has entered a new field at Bowdoin. It is noteworthy that the beginning is modest and thus, perhaps, more likely of immediate success. But the new move is indicative of more larger endeavors in the years to come. It is the development of this side of dramatics, the writing and producing side, that will give the Masque and Gown individuality and greater popularity. It is the declared purpose of the club to furnish the easy and direct medium for all undergraduate dramatic productions of merit, and incidentally, to supply entertainment for our student social evenings.

Intergalactic Fellowship

With a Maine State Student Conference, a joint fraternity banquet and two district fraternity conventions within the past week we are forcibly reminded of the peculiar advantages these gatherings offer. As opportunities for broadening one's undergraduate vision, for becoming less provincial and at the same time more loyal, for a clearing house of ideas as to college and its problems and enjoyments, these occasions should be welcomed amidst our winter season. By these gatherings as much as on the athletic field this opportunity for social intercourse with men from the other colleges is offered and our athletic opponents are seen in a newer and friendlier light.

OFFICIALS FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The following officials have been chosen for the Interscholastic Meet here next Saturday:

Referee, Noble S. Ray, Secretary I.A.A.C., Boston; Clerk of Course, B. B. Osthues, I.A.A.C., Boston; Judges of Finish, Dr. Manton Copeland, Professor H. C. Bell; Time Keepers, Dr. F. N. Whittier, R. Weatherill '14, F. A. Smith '12; Starter, J. J. Magee, Bowdoin coach; Scorer of Track Events, F. P. McKenney '15; Asst. Clerks of Course, R. Little '16, W. D. Eddy '14; Field Judges, Professor P. Nixon, Leadbetter '16, H. A. Lewis '15; Scorer of Field Events, D. Sayward '16; Announcers, F. X. Callahan '14, R. S. Fuller '16, Inspectors, W. D. Ireland '16, G. A. McWilliams '15, P. S. Smith '15, L. S. McElwee '16; Custodian of Prizes, S. L. Mountfort '14;
THE USE OF THE HALF MILLION

President Hyde, in answer to the numerous questions as to how Bowdoin would use the half-million recently received, made a statement to the papers of the ways the money would be used. President Hyde said: "We shall not build a new building; for our plant is nearly adequate already. We shall not add a new department or a new course; for since the recent extensions in music, fine arts, and education our curriculum offers as many courses as undergraduates in liberal arts can profitably pursue. We shall not increase our numbers by lowering our standards; for we cannot afford to waste our costly plant and expensive instruction on boys who just barely scrape through high school with a passing mark. We shall continue to maintain a standard equal to the highest in New England and limit our numbers to those, whether few or many, who earn the right to the opportunities we offer by showing their fitness to profit by a strenuous and exacting college course.

"We shall continue to refuse to promise in advance financial aid to any individual applicant; stating simply the scholarships, assistantships and other aids we have and leaving the student to decide whether he will come and earn what we have to offer, or will stay away.

"If then we are not to enlarge our plant, our course of study, or our student body, what shall we do with the extra $30,000 of income which from this and other sources this fortunate year has brought in sight?

"We shall spend it in strengthening the human factor in both professors and students. For years it has been our policy to consign all applications and unsolicited recommendations for instructorships straight to the waste basket, and to search the country far and wide for months until for each position we have found the one man who in scholarship, training, personality and teaching power is best fitted to arouse enthusiasm for his subject in the minds and hearts of his students.

"Unfortunately we have acquired a reputation for picking that sort of men; and the universities have developed the unkind habit of taking them away as fast as we can get them. Yale for instance has called in succession three professors from one department and two from another; and Harvard took one professor at the end of his first year; and another at the end of the first month, before he even had begun to teach.

"Desiring to be just to these men, and lacking funds to pay them what they were offered elsewhere, we had to let them go. Now we propose to make a Bowdoin professorship in generous salary, liberal pension, sabbatical leave of absence at college expense, opportunity for research and freedom from excessive hours of teaching as attractive as any professorship anywhere; and retain the good men we secure.

"We have found that preceptorial method which supplements the work of the class room by frequent informal conferences in groups of five or six, while it costs only twice as much as the ordinary wholesale methods of teaching, increases the efficiency and the interest fourfold; and we shall develop that method still further. We shall continue and develop small courses limited to the best students where professors and students work together in common studies and investigations. We shall also substantially increase our scholarships and student assistantships so that without undue distraction from his studies, or contraction of his life, the student of limited means, if industrious and resourceful, shall have the same happy and wholesome social life and the same abundant intellectual opportunities as his wealthier classmates.

"Quality, not quantity; vitality not machinery; democracy of opportunity for all; but a reservation of the best we have to give for those who both before and after entering college prove their aristocracy of industry and aptitude—these are the ends we had already set before us, and which these splendid benefactions will help us more fully to achieve."

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Orient:—

The Masque and Gown wishes to announce to the undergraduates that it has voted to offer annually a prize of five dollars to the undergraduate who submits the best one-act playlet or skit to be presented at the Spring Rally. This year the manuscript must be presented to the Manager or President of the club by March 20th. The club reserves the right to withhold the prize if no suitable manuscript is submitted.

This prize is a formal declaration of the new policy of Bowdoin's dramatic club to encourage, in a modest way at least, the production of play written by our own undergraduates. We believe that there are a number who are in need of just such substantial suggestion to produce work of real merit and wish to identify ourselves as willing and glad to manage, produce and support any such undergraduate plays. We desire to be the organization to whom the Student Council should turn for the means of entertainment on such occasions as rallies, etc., and hope to incorporate in our membership all those who are interested and talented in these directions.

—THE MASQUE AND GOWN.

Fort Geo. Wright, Wash., February 5, 1914.
Editor, Bowdoin Orient,

Str,—Kindly allow me a little space in an issue of the Orient to bring to the attention of the undergraduates a matter which should be of interest to them all.

Next summer there is to be held by the War Department at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. (near Burlington) a summer military camp for college men. The object is to give them an insight into military affairs and the military policy of this country. So far as it is possible in five weeks the duties of an officer in time of war are also to be shown to the students.

The people of our country are woefully ignorant of our army, its life, its work and the character of the men comprising it. The people are also woefully ignorant of the military policy of the United States, what our mistakes have been in the past and what they are likely to be in case of war in the future.

Two schools were established last year, one at Gettysburg, Pa., and one at Monterey, Cal. Both were successful beyond expectation. This year there are to be at least four.

The course lasts, I believe, five weeks and the expense, I have been told by an officer who is working in connection with one to be established at this post, will not exceed fifty dollars for everything while at the school—food, uniforms, etc.

It is the duty of every college man to inform himself in a general way, at least, on the military policy and needs of our country and to prepare himself so that he may be better able to come to its aid as an officer in time of war.

I can imagine no better way to spend a part of the summer vacation than at one of these camps. I understand that about a thousand college men are expected to attend the one on Lake Champlain alone. Living in camp, learning much that a man should know to make himself an ideal citizen, in a manner that makes the learning a pleasure and a profit physically as well as mentally—surely Bowdoin should be well represented.

Information on the subject can be obtained by writing to the Division of Militia Affairs, War Department, Washington, D. C.

Thanking you for the space, I am,

Very truly,

WALLACE C. PHILSON.

Club and Council Meetings

The last meeting of the Student Council was held in Hubbard Hall, Feb. 18, 1914. Those present were: Tuttle '14, Donahue '14, Eaton '14, Weatherill '14, Leigh '14, Callahan '14, Gray '14 and Brown '14.

I. A report was given by Eaton for the Sub-Freshman Committee. He reported, for the committee, that he had met with Dean Sills and Prof. Bell, and talked over ways and means with them. There were three parts to the plan he proposed:

1. Letters to be sent out to alumni, for the purpose of interesting men.

2. A rally to be held, for the purpose of arousing interest among the students.

3. Representative men in college to be chosen and to be responsible for definite part of the country.

II. Voted that March 13th be set for the night of the rally, to arouse interest among the students and get new men to come to Bowdoin. The Rally Committee made a report on plans for Bowdoin Night, Feb. 28, 1914.

III. Voted that the Spring Rally be held April 10, 1914. The Music Committee made a report. Efforts will be made to improve the singing, and it was suggested to have general college sings in the spring.

IV. Voted to hold the football election Tuesday, Feb. 24, 1914, from 1 to 3 p. m.

V. Voted that the limitation plan, as drawn up by Leigh be adopted by the Student Council; and that the plan be submitted to the student body at a general meeting, with the recommendation that it be adopted.

VI. Voted that a committee be appointed to make amendment that would include all college activities under the A.S.B.C., with the idea especially of including the Musical Clubs and the Masque and Gown.

A meeting of the Masque and Gown was held at the Beta Theta Pi house last Friday evening, Feb. 20. The election of new members was held and the following were chosen: John L. Baxter '16, Richard S. Fuller '16, William D. Ireland '16, William T. Livingstone '15, Ralph R. Melloon '15, Stewart P. Morrill '16, Philip S. Smith '15. Professor Elliott was elected to honorary membership. The club decided to produce a one-act playlet written by Paul White '14 at the Bowdoin Night, Feb. 28.

The club decided to offer an annual prize of five dollars to the undergraduate who submits the best one-act playlet or skit to be presented at the Spring Rally, the manuscript to be submitted this year to Mgr. Callahan or President Leigh not later than March 20th. The Masque and Gown reserves the right to withhold the prize if no suitable manuscript is submitted. It is probable that at a meeting soon to be held election to membership will be opened to the authors of plays produced by the club.

There were a number of informal suggestions, regarding a permanent home for the club, the location of the Joseph Jefferson Library, etc. Meetings will be held monthly.

On the Campus

A number of students saw the Ben Greet players Thursday night.

The results of the trials for "Twelfth Night" have not yet been announced.

Hamlin '16, who left college for financial reasons, plans to return next fall.

A. E. Littlefield '16 is in Boothby Hospital, Boston, awaiting an operation for appendicitis.

Manager Koughan announced yesterday the entries for the interscholastic meet next Saturday.

The Orient Board sat for its picture last week. Students desiring pictures please file applications early.

Tufts withdrew from the relay race with Bowdoin on account of scholastic and financial difficulties.

President Edwin Van Winkle of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity made his official visit to Eta Charge Sunday night.

There will be a band rehearsal tonight at 7 P.M. It is important that everybody be there to get ready for Saturday night.

F. A. Smith '12, Allan Woodcock '12, R. O. Conant '13 and G. O. Cummings '13 were on the campus last week, attending the Deke House party.

Jack Magee's Brunswick High School team again won a meet by defeating Portland High and Lewiston High in the Brunswick Town Hall Saturday night.

Professor Files has invited the Deutscher Verein to a dinner at the Eagle Hotel to make up for the dinner that his German students missed during the recent mid-years.

The Freshman relay team will race the Bates Freshmen at the Bates interclass meet March 13 and again at the Bowdoin interclass meet March 20. Last year Bowdoin was defeated at both races.

On his southern trip, Professor McConaughy will give his Bowdoin lectures and lectures on college life at Ridgewood, N. J., High, Irving School on the Hudson, and other schools in the vicinity of New York.

Clarence Brown '14 was elected president of the State Y.M.C.A. Conference at Waterville Feb. 20-22. Bowdoin was represented by Brown '14, MacCormick '15, Merrill '14, McConaughy '17, McKinnon '15, H. A. Lewis '15, Churchill '16, Moran '17, Sampson '17, Chapman '17 and Crossman '16.

The Bowdoin Invincibles, composed of Boardman '16, C. Foster '17, L. Pratt '14, Keene '17 and A. Pratt '14, defeated the Hazzard A. A. of Gardiner Saturday evening at basketball by the score of 38-26. Boardman and Foster got 6 baskets each from the floor, Boardman 2 on fouls, L. Pratt 1, Keene 4, and A. Pratt 1.

During the last few months the College has lost a large number of men. For various reasons and at various times seventeen fellows have left. The list by classes is as follows: 1914, C. F. White; 1915, C. H. Tapley; 1916, F. W. Powers, C. E. Wyman, W. H. Lane, W. B. Olson, R. C. Hamlin, J. C. Hellen; 1917, P. J. Buhleier, S. H. Colton, Jr., H. E. Coombs, H. L. Doten, C. T. Mullin, W. E. Paine, W. R. Pease, P. L. Woodworth: Special, J. C. Fitzgerald.

With the Faculty

Professor W. B. Mitchell has been elected trustee of Bridge Academy at Dresden.

Professor J. L. McConaughy will attend the Superintendents' meeting of the National Educational Association at Richmond, Va., next week, and during the following week will attend the convention of the Religious Educational Association at New Haven.

President Hyde will attend the convention of the Religious Educational Association at New Haven and will speak on the influence of college fraternity life.

On March 17th the Brunswick Dramatic Club will give a play at the Cumberland Theatre. Dean Sills and Professor Bell are to take prominent parts.

Dean Sills was in Montreal over Washington's Birthday.

Professor McConaughy has an article in the last edition of Education.

Dr. Bell was present at a meeting of the Portland alumni of the University of Pennsylvania last week. He received the degree of Ph.D. from Pennsylvania in 1909.

Professor Woodruff was recently elected president of the Brunswick Benevolent Society, of which Doctor Little is Vice-President and Professor Mitchell, Treasurer.
CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

The Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee decided that hereafter coaches should be barred from the side lines. This was the most radical change in the rules. Other changes were as follows:

When the ball from a free kick hits a goal post and bounds back into the field the play is counted as a touchback.

After the teams line up the team having the ball shall not enter the neutral zone in shift formation.

Intentional grounding a forward pass will be penalized by the loss of ten yards from the point of scrimmage.

A player out of bounds when the ball is put in play penalizes his team by the loss of five yards. Under the old rule there was no penalty for this offense the first time it was committed.

The committee left it optional with the teams to decide whether they shall have a fourth official to be known as field judge, who shall have no specific duties of his own but act as assistant to the referee and umpire.

The committee reached no decision regarding the question of distinguishing players in games by numbers. The members concluded to observe how this plan worked out next season before making any recommendations.

'51.—Following an illness of only three days, Rev. George A. Pollard, 83 years old, 91 Terrace Avenue, S. E., former missionary in Grand Rapids and Michigan, died recently. He had been active almost to the moment of his death, attending the recent ministers' conference, where he had always been a familiar figure, and preached Sunday with his usual vigor to the prisoners at the county jail.

Rev. Pollard was born at Hallowell, Me., August 18, 1830, and graduated from Bowdoin College. Later he finished a theological course at the Bangor Seminary, and after marrying went direct to Armenia, Turkey, where he served 12 years as a missionary under the American Board of Commissioners of the Congregational Church. The arduousness of these first years so broke him in health that after a two years' furlough at Salem, Mass., he was unable to return, and the remaining 45 years of his life was spent in missionary work in Michigan. He was, while in Armenia, superintendent of a vast territory with headquarters at Arabkir and Erzroom.

During his residence in Grand Rapids, Rev. Pollard was the inaugurator of the religious services at the county farm, and for many years donated his services at the county jail.

'92.—Thomas Henry Gately, Jr., deputy clerk of courts for Cumberland County for the past seven years, died at his home in Portland, Feb. 9, after a month's illness. Mr. Gately was born in Portland April 19, 1869. He prepared for Bowdoin at Portland High, and graduated from College in 1892, being the class prophet. He immediately entered the law office of United States District Attorney Bradbury and in 1898 was admitted to the bar. Mr. Gately opened a law office and continued the practice of law until he was appointed deputy clerk of courts by Clerk of Courts Llewellyn Barton in 1906.

Mr. Gately was a member of Portland Lodge of Elks and the Cumberland Bar Association. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Maria I. Gately, his wife and one daughter, a brother, Walter J. of Columbia, S. C., and three sisters. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception and was attended by more than a hundred members of the Cumberland County Bar in a body and many other citizens as well. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery. During the hour of the ceremony the main entrance to the County Court House was closed and many of the offices in the building suspended work.
Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain was born in Brewer, Me., Sept. 8, 1828. He prepared for college at a military school at Ellsworth, where he received a training undoubtedly useful in later service. At Bowdoin he was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, and graduated with the class of 1852. Three years later he graduated from Bangor Theological Seminary and received a license to preach. But instead of assuming ministerial office he became an instructor at Bowdoin. He was Instructor of Logic and Natural Theology, 1855-1856; Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, 1856-1861; Professor of Modern Languages, 1861-1865; President, 1871-1883, and during this time, Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy, 1874-1879, and Lecturer of Political Science and Public Law, 1879-1885. He had been a Trustee since 1867.

In 1862, with leave of absence from the trustees and overseers of the college, he enlisted, and with rank of lieutenant-colonel, went to the front with the 20th Maine Regiment. The following year he was promoted to colonel, and it was with this rank that he fought at Gettysburg. With this regiment he held his important position at the extreme left of the Union line, on Little Round Top. For his "daring heroism" in this feat he received the Congressional medal of honor. The following year he was breveted brigadier-general by Gen. Grant on the field of battle for "meritorious and efficient services in battle and specially gallant conduct in leading his brigade against the enemy in the assault on Petersburg." He participated in many battles, and was thrice wounded, once severely so that the injury bothered him in later life. He had the honor of commanding the parade at the formal surrender of Lee at Appomattox. After that historic event, he remained in command of the 5th Corps until the dissolution of the Army of the Potomac. He was not discharged until January, 1866, when he declined a Colonelcy in the regular army. At the close of the war he was brevetted major-general for "conspicuous gallantry in action."

Returning to his home state Gen. Chamberlain was elected Governor in 1867, and served three years. In 1876 he was elected major-general of the militia of the state. In 1866 he received the degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Pennsylvania, and from Bowdoin College three years later. In 1878 he visited Europe, having been appointed by President Hayes on the United States Commission to the Paris Exposition of that year, with special view to systems of education. The latter part of his life was filled with honors, he being the head of many institutions of learning and academic honor. In 1900 he was made U. S. Surveyor of Customs, District of Portland, an office which he held at his death.

Gen. Chamberlain married in Brunswick, Caroline Frances, daughter of Ashur Adams, Esq., of Boston. They had four children of whom two survive, Mrs. Horace G. Allen of Boston and Harold O. Chamberlain of Brunswick.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services of Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain were held in Portland Friday morning. There was a large gathering of civic, military and educational men present. Besides members of his family there were representatives of the state, Grand Army, Loyal Legion, Coast Artillery Corps, city government, the Bowdoin College faculty, and the employees of the custom house.

Among those present were Gov. William T. Haines, ex-Govs. John L. Bates of Massachusetts, Selden Connor and Bert M. Fernald of Maine, Major Henry Lee Higginson of Massachusetts, Gen. Morriss Schafl and others.

At Brunswick the funeral of Gen. Chamberlain was held Friday afternoon. The college exercises were suspended for the afternoon and the students marched in a body to the station to do escort duty with the Grand Army, National Guard and other organizations. The body arrived from Portland by special car and was escorted to the Church on the Hill. The bearers were members of Gen. Chamberlain's fraternity, Alpha Delta Phi, and were: Earl S. Thompson '14, Robert T. Weatherill '14, Edward R. Little '16, George F. Eaton '14, George A. McWilliams '15, Robert M. Dunton '15, Philip S. Smith '15 and Frederick J. Lynch '15.

The honorary bearers were Dr. Alfred Mitchell, Prof. Henry Johnson, Hon. Barrett Potter, Russell W. Eaton, Samuel Knight, Jr., Hon. Franklin C. Webb, Dr. Joseph E. Stetson, Harvey J. Given, Major Ray P. Eaton, Colonel George L. Thompson, Hon. Fred H. Wilson, and Hon. E. W. Wheeler.

The funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Chauncey W. Goodrich. President Hyde delivered the eulogy which is printed in another column. Miss Winchell played on the cello and Professor Wass at the organ. Mr. Turner of Portland was the soloist. The Bowdoin College double quartet also sang.

The faculty attended in a body. The ushers included Professor Marshall P. Cram, Harold E. Verrill, Donald S. White, Philip S. Weatherill, Lew M. Noble, Amos B. Haggett, Jr., and Willard P. Woodman.

The body was entombed at Pine Grove Cemetery with a salute of three volleys by the National Guard.

Besides Brunswick people, the faculty and the student body, many were present from other parts of the state. Among these were Edward Stanford from Brookline, Mass., Hon. Frederick W. Plaisted, Hon. Harold M. Sewall of Bath, Hon. John S. Hyde of Bath, ex-Chief Justice William Penn Whitehouse of Portland, Judge Kinsman of Augusta, Hon. Franklin M. Drew of Lewiston, Franklin C. Payson of Portland, R. W. Crawford of Bangor, representative of the Governor. John B. Keating of Portland, British vice-consul, ex-Gov. William T. Cobb of Rockland, and Hon. Weston Lewis of Gardiner.

PRESIDENT HYDE'S EULOGY

General Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain was the son of an Anglo-Saxon soldier father and a mother with French blood in her veins and the Huguenot faith in her heart. His nature was a happy union of English strength and French grace; of military valor and Christian idealism; traits which came out in each of the three great careers he drove abreast:—scholar, statesman, and soldier.
His education was divided between these two tendencies. At fourteen his soldier-father, ambitious to make a soldier of his son, sent him to a military school. At twenty-four, after graduating from Bowdoin, his mother drew him to Bangor Seminary, where he spent three years in preparation for the Christian ministry.

It was the custom then at Commencement, in addition to the parts by members of the graduating class, to have a Master's Oration by a graduate of three years' standing. Mr. Chamberlain's oration in 1855 on "Law and Liberty" made so favorable an impression that he was at once invited to become instructor in Logic and Natural Theology. A year later he was elected Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory; and in 1861 he was elected Professor of Modern Languages. Later he taught Mental and Moral Philosophy; Political Science, and Public Law; in fact, at one time or another between 1855 and 1885, he taught every subject in the college curriculum with the exception of mathematics and physical sciences.

His views of educational policy were broad and progressive. One would search far for a better definition of a college course than this, contained in an unpublished letter written while he was Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory in 1859. "My idea of a college course is that it should afford a liberal education—not a special or professional one, not in any way one-sided. It cannot be a finished education, but should be, I think, a general outline of a symmetrical development, involving such acquaintance with all the departments of knowledge and culture—proportionate to their several values—as shall give some insight into the principles and powers by which thought passes into life—together with such practice and exercise in each of the great fields of study that the student may experience himself a little in all." Time forbids me to describe the innovations this letter shows that he was making against the protests of his colleagues and the governing Boards. Both in this report, and a dozen years later in his inaugural as President, he advocated the very reforms, using often the very phrases, that are now the commonplaces of progressive educational discussion. Modern languages, science, classics in translation, political and social science, research, individual instruction; all these were included in the program of the professor in 1859 and the President in 1872.

He had the misfortune, or rather the glory, to advocate these expensive reforms before the college had the funds to make them completely effective; yet with the most meagre resources he established under Professor Vose that remarkable course in Civil Engineering which gave us a splendid body of scientific men; and as its crown and consummation the fame and glory of Peary and the Pole.

As statesman he was in advance of his time. Called to solve the problems entailed by the Civil war, his administration as Governor was marked by patience and fairness: he refused to use the power the people gave him for ends other than the people's good; and when the leaders of his party advocated the impeachment of the President; the protracted agitation of sectional differences; and immediate suffrage for the emancipated negroes, he stood firmly, sagaciously and self-sacrificingly for more moderate and pacific measures—measures which subsequent history has shown to be far more beneficent than those which in the flush of military victory, the heat of party strife, and the fire of personal ambition unfortunately prevailed.

Yet great as were his services as scholar and statesman, it was as soldier that he rendered his supreme service and won his title to enduring fame. A lady, desiring to entertain her guests at a picnic once asked him to tell them how he happened to be in the war. "Madame," he instantly replied, "I didn't happen." As he said elsewhere, "When my country called I replied with the best there was in me." His military career, as in reply to the salutation of the Bowdoin students last June he wrote of the military careers of all his college comrades, was "inspired by the lofty ideal of a nation's mission to man, and they offered their best for the country's life and honor."

How splendid was that "best there was in him," we all know well. We see him leading the desperate charge at Petersburg; severely wounded, yet calling out, "Steady men; break files to pass obstacles"; keeping himself balanced by dropping the point of his sabre to the ground: and continuing to give orders after he was too weak from loss of blood to stand.

We know the esteem in which General Grant held him when he gave him the first promotion he ever made on the field of battle. This is the account given in his Memoirs. "Colonel J. L. Chamberlain of the 20th. Maine was wounded on the 18th. of June, 1864. He was gallantly leading his brigade at the time, as he had been in the habit of doing at all the engagements in which he had previously been engaged. He had several times been recommended for a brigadier-generalcy for gallant and meritorious conduct. On this occasion, however, I promoted him on the spot; and forwarded a copy of my order to the War Depart-

General Chamberlain

The College mourns the death of General Chamberlain with deep sorrow and a sense of personal loss. For more than half a century the influence of his personality was felt as student, instructor, president or trustee. Among the great institutions he served and the great causes he fought for Bowdoin was one which was particularly moulded by the quality of his character, his loyalty, his courage, his kindness, his sincerity. And so it is that the priceless tradition of his memory seems peculiarly potent in the college he loved and served. To a group of young men nothing could be more appealing than the character of him who was first and last a soldier, a Christian hero. By its bravery and chivalry his life embodies our masculine ideals, expresses that touchstone of action we call our Bowdoin spirit. And the influence of him to whom we are bound in a common loyalty cannot but have deathless power in inspiring devotion to those ideals and virtues he so nobly exemplified.

ment, asking that my act might be confirmed and Chamberlain's name sent to the Senate for confirmation without any delay. This was done, and at last a gallant and meritorious officer received partial justice at the hands of his government, which he had served so faithfully and so well."

We know what his best was at Little Round Top where the 358 men of the 20th Maine regiment engaged, in spite of 38 killed and 92 wounded, held this most important position against the attack of three times their number, charging with the bayonet when their ammunition was exhausted; capturing 302 prisoners; and then, without pausing for rest, advanced to drive the enemy from Big Round Top; and so saved the day at Gettysburg.

We know too how nobly he received the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox. Morris Schaff in his recent "Sunset of the Confederacy," has told it so well that I quote his words. "I believe," he says, "the selection of Chamberlain to represent the Army of the Potomac was providential in this, that he, in the way he discharged his duty, represented the spiritually-real of this world. And by this I mean the lofty conceptions of what in human conduct is manly and merciful, showing in daily life consideration for others, and on the battle-field linking courage with magnanimity and sharing an honorable enemy's woes.

"Chamberlain's troops, facing west, and in single-rank formation, having gained their position, were brought to an 'order arms.' The Confederates, in plain view, then began to strike their few weather-worn scattered tents, seize their muskets, and for the last time fall into line. Pretty soon, along Chamberlain's ranks, the word passed: 'Here they come!' On they come, and Gordon is riding at the head of the column. On he leads the men who had stood with him and whose voices had more than once screamed like the voices of swooping eagles as victory showed her smile; but now he and all are dumb. They are gaining the right of Chamberlain's line; now Gordon is abreast of it, his eyes are down and he is drinking the very lees, for he thinks that all those men in blue, standing within a few feet of him at 'order arms' are gloating over the spectacle. Heavy lies his grief as on before the line he rides, and now he is almost opposite Chamberlain, who sits there mounted, the Maltese cross, the badge of the Fifth corps, and the Stars and Stripes displayed behind him; lo! a bugle peals and instantly the whole Federal line from right to left comes to a ‘carry,’ the marching salute.

General Chamberlain has said: ‘Gordon catches the sound of shifting arms, looks up and, taking the meaning, wheels superbly, making with himself and his horse one uplifted figure, with profound saluteation as he drops the point of his sword to the boot-toe; then, facing to his own command, gives word for his successive brigades to pass us with the same position of the manual,—honor answering honor. On our part not a sound of trumpet more, nor roll of drum; not a cheer, nor word nor whisper of vaingloring, nor motion of man standing again at the order; but an awed stillness rather, and breath-holding, as if it were the passing of the dead!’

Great, in the broad and high sense, was the cause battled for, and spontaneous and knightly was this act of Chamberlain’s, leading a permanent glow to the close of the war like that of banded evening clouds at the end of an all-day beating rain. It came from the heart, and it went to the heart; and when ‘taps’ shall sound for Chamberlain, I wish that I could be in hearing, hear Maine’s granite coast with its green islands and moonlight-reflecting coves taking them up in succession from Portland to Eastport, and as the ocean’s voice dies away, hear her vast wildernesses of hemlock, spruce, and pine repeating them with majestic pride for her beloved son.

It was not mere chance that Chamberlain was selected, and that he called on the famous corps to salute their old intrepid enemy at this last solemn ceremonial. Chance, mere chance! No, for God, whenever men plough the fields of great deeds in this world, sows seed broadcast for the food of the creative powers of the mind. What glorified tenderness that courtly act has added to the scene! How it, and the courage of both armies, Lee’s character and tragic lot, Grant’s magnanimity and Chamberlain’s chivalry, have lifted the historic event up to a lofty, hallowed summits for all people. I firmly believe that Heaven ordained that the end of that epoch-making struggle should not be characterized by the sapless, dreary commonplace; for with pity, through four long years, she had looked down on those high-minded battling armies, and out of love for them both, saw to it that deeds of enduring color should flush the end.”

It did not happen: it was not accident or chance: it was the Bowdoin College scholar and the Bangor Seminary Christian that did so graciously that crowning deed in which at once the soldier-father’s fond ambition and the Huguenot mother’s fervent prayers were fulfilled in an act in which military glory and Christian Magnanimity were fused in one sublime attitude.

In all our words and deeds there are two elements—the element of fact given by the world outside, and the element of imagination contributed from the mind within. The great difference between men is in the proportion in which these two elements are combined. In most of us the element of outward fact predominates. We are plain, prosaic, giving back by a slightly altered reflection of the present facts. We run little risk of error or inconsistency; but we do no great deeds, we win and deserve no fame. In the rare man, the hero and leader; the child of genius and the heir of fame, imagination colors fact with a light that never was on sea or land, and reflects it back transformed into words that cannot be forgotten, and deeds the world will not willingly let die. To the microscopic matter-of-fact critic of detail, much that such a man says and does seems exaggerated, disproportioned; and is easily mistaken for inconsistency or even insincerity. Whoever whether as patriot or Christian dares to plant his standards far in advance of present and sustained achievement, runs the risk of such misinterpretation. General Chamberlain never hauled down his flag to the low level of what he or any man could easily do or habitually be. All he said and did was bright and burning with an ardor of idealism which in the home was devotion; in the college was loyalty; in state and nation was patriotism; toward humanity and God was religion. In every great crisis his idealism not only held him true: but became a contagious inspiration to lesser men. And when a battle had been well fought he never forgot thoughtfully to care for the living, tenderly to succor the wounded, and reverently to bury the dead. However heavy his own burdens might be, whether in military or civil life, and his were of the heaviest, he always was mindful of the privilege of helping a comrade, a neighbor or a friend.

To daughter, son and grandchildren; to comrades in arms who honor his memory with their presence here today; to fellow-citizens of his beloved town; to students of the college for which he labored and which he dearly loved,—to all he leaves a precious heritage of serving heroism and enduring fortitude; of high devotion and deep self-sacrifice. Of his character and deeds we may say in his own words at the dedication of the Maine Monuments at Gettysburg: “In great deeds something abides. On great fields something stays. Forms change and pass; bodies disappear; but spirits linger, to consecrate ground for the vision-place of souls. And reverent men and women from afar, and generations that know us not and that we know not of, heart-drawn to see where and by whom great things were suffered and done for them, shall come to this deathless field, to ponder and dream; and lo! the shadow of a mighty presence shall wrap them in its bosom, and the power of the vision pass into their souls. This is the great reward of service. To live, far out and on, in the life of others; this is the mystery of the Christ,—to give life's best for such high sake that it shall be found again unto life eternal."

Plain prose, however, though it be cast in the mould of his own eloquence, is inadequate to express that red core of devoted idealism which was the warm true heart beneath a soldier's superficial fondness for the pomp and circumstance, the trappings and insignia of war. Lines by Richard Watson Gilder, originally written of General Sherman, so penetrate through the military surface manifest to all, to the patriotic heart that beat within his breast, that no words could more fittingly express the admiration, the gratitude, and the affection with which we today bid farewell to what is mortal in this noble and immortal man.

"Glory and honor and fame and everlasting laudation
For our captains who loved not war, but fought for the life of the nation;
Who knew that, in all the land, one slave meant strife, not peace;
Who fought for freedom, not glory; made war that war might cease.

Glory and honor and fame; the beating of muffled drums;
The wailing funeral dirge, as the flag-wrapped coffin comes.
Fame and honor and glory, and joy for a noble soul;
For a full and splendid life, and laureled rest at the goal.

Glory and honor and fame; the pomp that a soldier prizes;
The league-long waving line as the marching falls and rises;
Rumbling of caissons and guns; the clatter of horses' feet,
And a million awe-struck faces far down the waiting street.

But better than martial woe, and the pageant of civic sorrow;
Better than praise of today, or the statue we build tomorrow:

Better than honor and glory, and History's iron pen,
Was the thought of duty done and the love of his fellowmen."

THE BRADBURY PRIZE DEBATES

The Bradbury debates, instituted by Hon. James Ware Bradbury, LL.D., of the class of 1825, were held last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in Memorial Hall. The subject for the debate was: Resolved, That a Federal Commission be established for the regulation of Trusts. The affirmative was upheld on Tuesday evening by Garland '16, Hescock '16, Tackaberry '15, and on Wednesday evening by Edwards '16, Leigh '14, Parsons '16. The negative was supported on Tuesday by Bacon '15, Coffin '15, McKenney '15, and on Wednesday by Gage '14, Simpson '14, Talbot '15. On both occasions the debate was won by the team upholding the negative. The first prize of forty dollars was given to the team comprised of Gage '14, Simpson '14 and Talbot '15, while the twenty-dollar reward went to Edwards '16, Leigh '14 and Parsons '16. This debate being a trial for the intercollegiate debating team, the following men were selected to represent Bowdoin in the intercollegiate debate between Bowdoin, Wesleyan, Hamilton on March 25: Bacon '15, Gage '14, Leigh '14, Parsons '16, Tackaberry '15, Talbot '15; alternates, Edwards '16, McKenney '15.

At the first debate the negative side was awarded the decision, on account of supporting its statements with more convincing proofs.

At the second debate the negative again was awarded the decision, through driving the affirmative to support price regulation and then by showing that price regulation is unpractical. This debate was very closely contested and was won and lost only in the refutation. Gage '14 and Leigh '14 were notably effective for their respective teams. The judges were Professor Elliott, Professor McClean, Professor Mitchell, Professor Davis. The debates were well attended.

SECOND INDOOR INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The second annual Bowdoin Indoor Interscholastic Meet was held last Saturday in the Hyde Athletic Building and was highly successful from every standpoint. Much credit is due to Manager Koughan and his assistants for the smoothness with which the events were run off.

Hebron was the winner, having scored 28 points over Brunswick, her nearest competitor. In nine events, but two of last year's records stand. Only the half mile, and the high jump withstood the efforts of the contestants. Weybrant of Brunswick was caught doing the 40 in 4 2-5 seconds. If this record is allowed by authorities it will stand as a new world's interscholastic record for the event. In all the running events except the half-mile, which Allen of Westbrook cleaned up with ease, competition was fierce and close. The quarter was the most exciting race of the day. McPherson of Brunswick won it; Allen of Westbrook was the second place winner, although he fell on a corner. In the 220, all of the place winners finished within 5 yards of each other. Hebron's relay team made the best time of the afternoon, 1 min., 46 sec. flat. Brunswick was only 2-5 sec. behind them.

The final score was:—Hebron, 43; Brunswick, 13; Westbrook, 9 1/2; M. C. I., 8; Portland, 4; Lewison, 1; Deering, 1/2.

The other schools were unable to score any points.

The new records were in the:—40-yard dash, new record, 4 2-5 sec.; 45-yard hurdles, 6 2-5 sec.; 220-yard dash, 26 1-5 sec.; 440-yard run, 61 1-5 sec.; running broad jump, 19 ft., 7 in.; shot put (12-lb.), 49 ft., 5 1-4 in.; pole vault, 10 ft., 6 in.; relay race, 1 min., 2-6 sec.

MacDONALD ELECTED FOOTBALL MANAGER

Joseph C. MacDonald '15, of Bangor, was elected Manager of the 1914 football team, Tuesday afternoon. Edward T. Garland '16, also of Bangor, was elected assistant Manager. MacDonald was assistant Manager of the team last year.

BOWDOIN FENCERS MEET DEFEAT

On Friday evening the fencing team was defeated by Springfield Training School by the score of 8 to 1. Leadbetter '16 won one of his bouts. On Saturday evening the team was again defeated in a close match with Williams by the score of 5 to 4. Leadbetter '16 won two bouts, Floyd '15 one, and Payson '14 one.

KENNEBEC ALUMNI MEET

The Kennebec Alumni Association held its 16th Annual Banquet Thursday evening at the new University Club, formerly the home of Senator Bradbury '25 and where the first meeting of the association was held 16 years ago. Dean Sills and Professor Elliott were the special guests of the evening. Before the banquet a short business session was held and the following officers re-elected: President, Weston Lewis '72 of Gardiner; Vice-Presidents, A. M. Goddard '82 and Rev. H. E. Dunnack '97; Secretary and Treasurer, E. Macomber '11; Executive Committee, F. J. C. Little '89, J. R. Gould '85, and R. H. Bodwell '01.

Judge Sanford L. Fogg '89 of Hallowell acted as toastmaster and speeches were heard from President Lewis, Professor Sills, W. G. Hunton '75, Charles Knight '96, Professor Elliott, E. F. Merrill '03, Judge Fogg and H. W. Cobb '00. In his opening remarks Hon. Weston Lewis spoke of the splendid service rendered the college by Judge Putnam, for many years chairman of the finance committee, and said he knew of no institution whose funds were more carefully and effectually invested than are those of Bowdoin College. He also spoke of the fact that when he was on the Governor's Council, two years ago, he was sent by Governor Plaisted to offer President Hyde an appointment as Senator from Maine to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Frye, and that he did not believe there were many men in Maine who had refused the offer of a United States Senatorship.

Dean Sills' remarks were concerning the aims and present needs of the college. Professor Elliott, in his first appearance before Bowdoin alumni, spoke of the function of poetry in life today and paid a fine tribute to the Quill as one of the most admirable literary papers published by undergraduates that he knew of. In connection with this, he read some verses by Kenneth Robinson '14. Mr. Knight and Mr. Cobb both spoke of the high standard of scholarship at Bowdoin and said that nine out of ten of the alumni believe in maintaining it. Mr. Hunton took up the various ways of inducing new men to come to Bowdoin. College songs were interspersed between the speeches and splendid feeling was shown between the older and younger alumni.

BOWDOIN NIGHT AFTER MEET

A Bowdoin Night was held Saturday evening after the Interscholastic Meet. Entertainment was furnished by a quartet consisting of West '15, McKenney '15, Woodman '16 and Eaton '14, by Shumway '17 with readings, and by Morrill '16 in clever impersonations. His make-up elicited great applause. At the close of the evening the trophy was awarded to Hebron for the second time as winner of the meet. Captain Donegan of Hebron responded for the team. Apples and ice-cream furnished the inward entertainment.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday evening the smooth floor of the New Gym will be the meeting place of ardent devotees of Terpsichore. The occasion is the two Junior Assemblies rolled into one big dance, which it is hoped will rival the Ivy Hop. It is planned to decorate the hall by a system of fraternity booths at the same time making it easier to find one's partner. Since the idea is mainly the latter one, elaborate decoration will not be allowed. A rug, a few chairs, and a fraternity banner will comprise the decorations. After each dance the young lady should be taken to the booth of the fraternity to which the fellow who brought her to the Assembly belongs.

Those attending the dance will remember that the use of the Gym was granted by the faculty only on condition that the dance stop at 1 o'clock and that there be no dancing in the fraternity houses after that hour. A non-observance of this provision will undoubtedly close the way for further opportunities to use the Gym for class dances.

First College Tea Friday

Owing to the fact that the Junior class has decided to hold one assembly during the present year, it has been deemed advisable by the faculty to have but two College Teas. The first will be held on the afternoon of March 6, 1914, in connection with the Junior Assembly and to this will be invited the student body, with guests and friends, members of the governing boards and benefactors of the college and the alumni and friends of the college from neighboring cities. The second tea will be held on April 17; invitations will be limited to members of the student body and friends, the members of the governing boards and the alumni and friends of the college residing in Brunswick.

Club and Council Meetings

A special meeting of the Student Council was held last Thursday evening in the Classical room. Plans were arranged for the funeral services of the late General Chamberlain. The date for the big Spring Rally was changed from March 13 to 14. The date for the Bowdoin Night, scheduled for April 10, is very liable to be changed owing to the fact that Good Friday comes on this date.

On the Campus

There will be a Freshman Class sing at 5 o'clock Wednesday in the Y.M.C.A. Room.

Keene '17 is home on account of illness.

There will be adjourns in Gym Friday afternoon.

Ramsdell '16 has been substituting at Deering High School in Portland.

Tom McCann was on the campus Saturday.

Edward Stanwood '61 was on the campus last week, attending the funeral of General Chamberlain.

Friday evening, March 6, at 6:30 p.m., the New England Convention of Beta Theta Pi will be held at the Boston City Club, Boston.

Weatherill '14 and Thompson '14 were delegates to the eighty-second annual convention of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity in Pittsfield, Mass.

The Masque and Gown makes its first appearance of the year at Camden tonight. Tomorrow night the club will present its production, "The Marriage of Kitty," at Rockland.

Among the alumni who were at the Interscholastic Meet were: Gardner '00, White '05, Harris '09, Wilson '12, Warren '12, Smith '12, Chapman '12, Kern '12 and Haskell '13.

Students who desire friends to receive invitations to the college tea Friday are requested to leave their names at Miss Boardman's office in the Library.

Herb Foster '16 underwent, last week, an operation on his right arm for injuries received in football last fall. A six-inch incision was necessary.

It is imperative that every man who wishes to be eligible for competition in the Interclass Meet March 20 come out for practice every afternoon. Coach Magee will be on hand to coach all men.

Monday, Feb. 23, the Kappa Sigma fraternity of New England held its district conclave in Boston. The local chapter sent a sufficiently large delegation to win for the second successive time and permanently the attendance cup offered.

With the Faculty

Mr. Alvord was chairman at the Progressive caucus last Monday evening in the Court Room, and Professor Mitchell was nominated for School Committee. Mr. Alvord was chosen as delegate to State Convention at Bangor.

At the annual meeting of the Interdenomination Commission of Maine held in Augusta last Tuesday, President Hyde was elected president and member of the executive committee.

Professor Ham attended the meeting of the Aroostook County Alumni Association last week.

Dr. Alfred O. Gross lectured last night before the Saturday Club on the Birds of the Bermuda Islands.

At the caucus of the Brunswick Democrats Saturday night, Professor Ham was chosen chairman and Dr. Burnett clerk. Dean Sills was elected candidate for member of the school committee.
PROVISIONAL APPOINTMENTS

The list contains the names of those who have obtained three-fourths A's and B's.

THE BRADBURY DEBATES

On February 24 and 25 in Memorial Hall were held the trials for the 'varsity debating teams to compete in the triangular debate with Hamilton and Wesleyan on March 25. The subject was: Resolved, That a Federal Commission be established for regulation of Trusts." The contestants were: February 24 (affirmative), Garland '16, Hescock '16, Tackaberry '15; (negative), Edwards '16, Leigh '14, Parsons '16; February 25 (affirmative), Bacon '15, Coffin '15, McKenney '15; (negative), Gage '14, Simpson '14, Talbot '15. In each case the negative was awarded decision, and the judges, Professor Elliott, Professor McLean, Professor Mitchell and Professor Davis, appointed Bacon '15, Gage '14, Leigh '14, Parsons '16, Tackaberry '15 and Talbot '15 to represent Bowdoin in the coming debate, with Edwards '16 and McKenney '15 alternates. Gage '14, Bacon '15 and Parsons '16 will compete against Hamilton at Hamilton, while Tackaberry '15, Talbot '15 and Leigh '14 will contend against the representatives from Wesleyan at Brunswick. In both cases the home team will support the affirmative side of the question. The topic to be debated on will be the same as that at the trials.

THE JUNIOR ASSEMBLY

In spite of a severe snow-storm on Friday evening, which made traveling difficult, the Junior Assembly, held in the New Gymnasium, was one of the most successful dances which the College has ever known. Over one hundred couples were present to enjoy the occasion. Around the hall were booths of the eight fraternities of the college, and these not only helped to decorate the hall, but assisted the students in finding their partners. Potted palms added to the beauty of the decorations. This year the customary two assemblies were combined into one, and the hard-working committee received great praise for their success. West '15, chairman, Smith '15, McKenney '15, L. N. Stetson '15 and Verrill '15 were the committee. The dancing started shortly after 8 o'clock. Lovell's Orchestra of Brunswick furnished music for an order of twenty dances and two extras, and Given of Brunswick did the catering.

The patronesses of the evening were Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. Roscoe J. Ham, Mrs. Manton Copeland and Mrs. Alfred O. Gross.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Chapman of Portland, Miss May Potter of Brunswick, Misses Ruth Little, Katherine Hall, Elizabeth Hall, Alberta Robinson, Dorothy Laughlin, Helen York, Dorothy True, Louise Dunham, Ruth Morrill, Marion Starbird, Elizabeth Barton, Fidelia Woodbury, Florence Leighton, Miriam Burke, Marion Corey, Elizabeth Hobbs, Ina Nelson, Irene Woodbury, Ethel Frothingham, Mildred Russell, Marie Hieber, all of Portland; Misses Evelyn Swett, Lorette Lapointe, Ruth Nearing, Helen Fisk, Mildred Johnson, Helen Colby, Ruth Andrews, Mary Elliott, Clare Ridley, Marion Strout, Mary Allen, Isabel Palmer, Florence Russell, Helene Blackwell, Margaret Day, Alfaretta Graves, Ruth Lovell, Isabel Pollard, Sue Williams, Isabel Forsaith, Mrs. Algeron G. Chandler, Mrs. Thomas H. Riley, Jr., Mrs. Robert K. Eaton, Miss Grace Crawford, Mrs. Willis E. Roberts, all of Brunswick; Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson, Topsham; Misses Matilda Lightbody, Belle Cornish, Margaret Torrey, Florence Dunton, Vivian Lemont, Corinne Jackson, Frances Southard, Della Merril, Isabelle Olm, all of Bath; Misses Dorothy Boyd, Gertrude Heath, Marion Fisher, Ruth Capen, Rena Blanchard, Doris Wilder, all of Augusta; Misses Ethel Leslie, Mona McWilliams, Bangor; Miss Vertie Edwards, Auburn; Misses Helen Nye, Ethel Parlin, Hallowell; Misses Marion Weymouth, Mabelle Haines, Dexter; Mrs. Paul G. Robbins, Miss Gertrude Hartwell, Lawrence, Mass.; Miss Hazel Lane, Lewiston; Miss Elizabeth Edwards, Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Geraldine Duplin, Stoneham, Mass.; Miss Marion Abbe, Springfield, Mass.; Misses Katherine Drummond, Mildred McFadden, Waterville; Misses Evelyn Plummer, Madelyn Plummer, Lisbon Falls; Miss Mary Blethen, Dover; Miss Muriel Stevens, Boston; Miss Dorothy Tubbs, Norway; Miss Gladys Mcloone, Lowell, Mass.; Miss Sydney Trow, Northampton, Mass.; Miss Genevieve Cathart, Wellesley, Mass.; Miss Marie Fogg, Westbrook; Miss Madeline Winter, Kingfield; Miss Theo Wilson, Gorham; Miss Lucy Beal, Haverhill, Mass.; Miss Levon Payson, Southport; Miss Louise Marson, Boothbay Harbor; Miss Helen Richardson, Medford, Mass.; Miss Lucy Jacobs, Thomaston; Miss Marjorie Howard, Whitman, Mass.; Miss Evelyn Pike, Lubec; Miss Roxie Nye, Hallowell; Miss Winefred Repp, Kansas City, Mo.

PSI UPSILON DANCE

Psi Upsilon entertained at a dance at their chapter hall last Thursday evening. The fraternity house was decorated with evergreen. The patronesses of the evening were Mrs. Gilbert M. Elliott of Brunswick and Mrs. Walter L. Head of Bangor. The committee in charge was composed of Wilson '14, Eaton '15, Head '16 and Ross '17. Music was furnished by Lovell's Orchestra of Brunswick.

Among the guests were the Misses Marion Starbird, Ruth Morrill and Esther Sayward, all of Portland; Corrine Jackson of Bath, Louise Harriman of Bath, Mary Elliott of Brunswick, Helen Mitchell of Brunswick, Lucy Jacobs of Thomaston, Marjorie Howard of Whitman, Mass., Eleanor Kelley of Gardiner, and Evelyn Pike of Lubec.

THE FIRST COLLEGE TEA

Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, Mrs. William DeWitt Hyde, Mrs. William A. Moody, Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins, Mrs. George T. Files, Mrs. Manton Copeland, Mrs. Orren C. Hornell, Mrs. Gerald G. Wilder, Mrs. Henry B. Alvord and Mrs. Edward H. Wass were the committee in charge of the College Tea given Friday afternoon in the alumni room of Hubbard Hall by the wives of members of the faculty.

Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff, Mrs. William A. Moody, Mrs. Charles C. Hutchins and Mrs. George T. Files received. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Manton Copeland, who was assisted by Mrs. Leon E. Lippincott, Miss Ruth Little, Miss Helen Mitchell and Miss Laura Snow. Mrs. Edward H. Wass presided at the tea table and was assisted by Miss Helen Fisk, Miss Alice Lincoln and Miss Marjorie Strout. At one punch table Mrs. Gerald G. Wilder was assisted by Miss Ruth Blackwell, Miss Dorothy Chaney and Miss Olive Nutter, while at the other Mrs. Henry B. Alvord had as assistants Miss Margaret Day, Miss Frances Little and Miss Frances Rideout.

The general assistants were Miss Edith J. Boardman, Mrs. Alice C. Little, Mrs. Samuel B. Furbish and Miss Affie Cook. Mrs. George T. Files was in charge of the decorations.

The ushers from the different fraternities were as follows: Lynch '15, from Alpha Delta Phi; Wilson '14, from Psi Upsilon; Porritt '15, from Delta Kappa Epsilon; Livingston '15, from Theta Delta Chi; Gage '14, from Zeta Psi; Perkins '15, from Delta Upsilon; Sylvester '14, from Kappa Sigma; Austin '15, from Beta Theta Pi, and Mornill '16, from the Bowdoin Club.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT SOPHOMORES

The Freshmen were winners of the informal meet with the Sophomores, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 39 to 33. Balfe '17 was the individual star, scoring 16 points for his team. Irving lead the Sophomores with 10 points. The results follow: 40-yard dash, heat 1, Dunn '16, Moran '17, Hargraves '16, Pierce '17, won by Pierce, time 44.5; heat 2, Skolfield '17, Rogers '17, Nickerson '16, Noyes '17, won by Nickerson, time 44.5; heat 3, Leadbetter '16, Cobett '17, Robinson '17, Mcconaughy '17, won by Leadbetter, time 44.5; heat 4, Weatherill '16, Little '16, Aehorn '17, Rickard '17, won by Weatherill, time 5 seconds; heat 5, Balfe '17, Chapman '17, Rawson '16, Little '17, won by Balfe, time 5 seconds; heat 6, Phillips '17, Irving '16, Eaton '17, Moulton '16, won by Moulton, time 5 seconds; heat 7, Fuller '16, Ginty '16, Humphrey '17, won by Fuller, time 44-5; heat 8, Jones '17, Hodgkins '16, Haseltine '17, Hagerman '16, won by Hodgkins, time 5 seconds; heat 9, Colbath '17, Goodkey '17, Ogle '17, Bowdoin '17, won by Colbath, time 5 seconds. Semi-finals: Heat 1, won by Pierce '17, Nickerson '16 second, time 44.5; heat 2, won by Balfe '17, Fuller '16 second, time 44.5. Finals: Won by Balfe '17, Pierce '17 second, Fuller '16 third, time 44.5 seconds.

45-yard low hurdles: Heat 1, Nickerson '16, Rogers '17, Weatherill '16, Eaton '17, won by Weatherill, time 6 seconds; heat 2, Hargraves '16, Rawson '16, Moran '17, Bowdoin '17, won by Moran, time 6 1/2; heat 3, Balfe '17, Phillips '17, Hodgkins '16, Goodskey '17, won by Balfe, time 6 seconds; heat 4, Ginty '16, Humphrey '17, Hagerman '16, Fuller '16, won by Fuller, time 6 seconds; heat 5, Colbath '17, Robinson '17, Ogle '17, Bamford '16, won by Ogle, time 6 seconds; heat 6, Little '16, Corbett '17, Rickard '17, Chapman '17, won by Little, time 6 seconds; heat 7, Little '17, Haseltine '17, Dunn '16, won by Haseltine, time 62-5 seconds. Semi-finals: Heat 1, won by Balfe '17 and Fuller '16, time 6 seconds; heat 2, won by Ogle '17, Weatherill '16 second, time 6 seconds. Finals: Won by Balfe '17, Ogle '17 second, Fuller '16 third, time 6 seconds.

440-yards: Balfe '17, Little '17, Ginty '16, Bamford '16, Chapman '17, Irving '16, Noyes '17, won by Balfe, Chapman second, Ginty third, time 61-3-5 seconds.

Half-mile: Won by Irving '16, Noyes '17 second, Stone '17 third, time 2 minutes, 28-2-5 seconds.

Three-quarters-mile: Won by Irving '16, Noyes '17 second, Bowdoin '17 third, time 3 minutes, 51-2-5 seconds.

Broad jump: Won by Wood '16, 19 feet, 9 inches; Nickerson '16 second, 18 feet, 91-2 inches; Balfe '17 third, 18 feet, 61-2 inches.

High jump: Won by White '17, 5 feet, 61-2 inches; Wood '16 second, 5 feet, 51-2 inches; Nickerson '16 third, 5 feet, 41-2 inches.

Shot put: Won by Leadbetter '16, 38 feet, 6 inches; Moulton '16 second, 32 feet, 10 inches; Chapman '17 third, 31 feet, 6 inches.

Another meet will be held next Saturday at 3:30 between the Juniors and Seniors and the regular list of events will be carried out. There are still a few men the coach feels should be out and he is ready to meet anybody, every afternoon after 2 o'clock. Since the class relay distance has been increased from one lap to two, it is imperative that the relay men shall be in splendid condition at the time of the meet.

FRESHMEN RELAY MEN OUT

A dirt track 75 yards long has been laid out in the baseball cage. This is the same length as that in the Lewiston City Hall and is designed to give the Freshmen relay men practice for their race with Bates '17, Saturday. Coach Magee addressed the Freshman gym class last week and a large number responded immediately and he is much gratified to have so much new material out. Among those who have appeared faithfully each day for practice are: Robinson, Humphrey, Cormack, Noyes, Brown, Pierce, McConaughy, Achorn, Pike, Phillips, Crosby, Ogle and F illmore. The coach states that the class is showing added interest in track and with a little training, should be well heard from at the interclass meet.

MUSICAL CLUBS GOING TO NEW YORK

E. S. Thompson '14, manager of the musical clubs, has made arrangements with the New York alumni to give a concert at Delmonico's on the evening of March 30. This concert completes the circuit which starts March 25 with a concert at Saco, Me.; Thursday a performance will be given at Peabody, Mass.; Friday the club appears at Reading, while on Saturday a concert will be given in Boston at Steinert Hall.

On Monday, March 23, a joint concert will be given with Bates, at Lewiston, in the Lewiston City Hall.

MEETING OF CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Representatives from every county met last Thursday evening in the debating room at Hubbard Hall and formed the Central Committee. George F. Eaton '14 was elected chairman. It was planned at the meeting to have each man be responsible for his own county, he himself to be a committee of one to get men of his own county interested in Bowdoin, this work to be carried on through sectional clubs or any other method deemed advisable. It was voted to hold meetings every two weeks, on Thursday evenings, at seven o'clock in the Library. It was voted to ask the Dean to address the committee at the next meeting. A committee chosen from Student Council, and comprised of G. F. Eaton '14 chairman, C. A. Brown '14 and Neal Tuttle '14, appointed the following to represent the different counties:

Cumberland, Callahan '14; York, Burns '14; Kennebec, Gage '14; Franklin and Oxford, Marr '14; Lincoln, MacCormick '15; Knox and Waldo, Hall '14; Hancock, Morrison '15; Washington, K. Eaton '14; Piscataquis, Hayes '14; Penobscot, G. F. Eaton '14; Aroostook, McElwee '16; Somerset, A. S. Merrill '14; trans-Mississippi, Leigh '14; Middle West, P. L. White '14; Sagadahoc, Thompson '14; Androscoggin, Keegan. Massachusetts was represented by P. S. Smith '15.

PROFESSOR EMMER TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Henry Crosby Emery, Ph.D., LL.D., '92 will speak next Friday evening in Memorial Hall on the tariff. Professor Emery was professor in Economics here from 1894 to 1900. Since then he has been professor of Economics in Yale with the exception of three years, when he was chairman of the United States Tariff Board. The lecture is held under the joint auspices of the Saturday Club and the College. It will be open to all students.

A Meeting Place

There has been a committee appointed by the Masque and Gown to attempt to secure a room in one of the college buildings for a permanent home for that and similar student organizations. Most all plans for a College Union include such accommodations for the musical and dramatic organizations of the college. But such a Bowdoin Union is not in sight. It is hoped that such a room for present use can be secured. There are rooms in the Chapel which might be utilized and, possibly, in some other college building. If there must be some alteration or inconvenience it should be borne in mind that the dramatic club and musical clubs are performing a very desirable and almost essential service in the educational facilities they offer and should be fostered in every way possible.

Next Saturday

The Bowdoin night planned for the coming Saturday evening is different from those held during the present college year. Its main purpose is to have the student body meet in an informal manner and talk over the questions and problems before it. The limitations scheme will be discussed and voted upon at that time and there will be brought up the very important matter of the relation of the college to the sub-freshmen. There will be speakers from the faculty on this question and the members of the faculty are cordially invited to attend. There will probably be other features provided and it is hoped that the college orchestra which made such a favorable impression at the last get-together may be secured. The purpose of the affair will be defeated if practically the entire student body does not attend.

A Dormitory Suggestion

To many who do not happen to live in the room formerly occupied by a Longfellow or a Haworthorne there has come the curious notion of finding out who occupied his room in years past. Why should not such a record be prepared and kept? Some modest provision might easily be made where each student could inscribe his name and satisfy his curiosity as to the shades hovering over his desk. We, as an institution, believe in the value of tradition and such a record while not over-emphasizing the importance of such things might well add a flavor to the occupancy of a room which it does not now possess.

Athletics for the Average Man

The Orient recently published an athletic census of the college in which it was shown that nearly one-half of the students here take part in some form of athletics aside from the required gymnasium work. This census was taken in order that some basis might be gained for the application here of the discussion in collegiate circles concerning the benefits and deficiencies of the American athletic system. Many other colleges have prepared similar statistics and with them Bowdoin's percentages is very favorable. Many of the evils chargeable to intercollegiate struggles which Trainer Moakley pointed out in his attack on the present system are emphasized in the larger universities and are not felt here. The remedy which attains the goal of democracy and inclusiveness of physical exercise by doing away entirely with intercollegiate contests and varsity teams is not practicable or desirable here. Nevertheless the results of a show of hands in a Senior recitation the other day, as well as the neglected 50 per cent., indicates plainly that we have not fully solved the problem of athletics for the average man. But it seems to us that with the proper viewpoint we can work out a solution along the existing lines. At present in our college the second rate and third rate man is welcomed on the various major sports squads and given training. Our various coaches have done well to encourage this spirit, because it means much to the men thus benefited as well as occasionally resulting in a find. What we need is merely a further development of teams and opportunities for competition for such men. This year, probably, the question of inter-fraternity baseball will come up. For the last year or two this has been dropped because it was felt that the fraternity games were injuring the second team material. If such is the actual condition, and it has been so in the past, it is much to be regretted. For such a system contains the possibilities of developing just the side of our college athletic system which most needs development. If this scheme cannot be revived some other intra-mural contest in baseball, track or court should be instituted whereby the average man and the raw recruit will be brought out in healthy competition and participation in our college sports.

INTERCLASS MEET MARCH 20

Features of the 19th annual Bowdoin Indoor Interclass Meet, which is scheduled for March 20 at 7:30, will be an athletic exhibition by the Brunswick Boys' Club under the direction of J. C. Kimball '17, a midget relay race of 110 yards between Brunswick boys, and a race for the interscholastic relay championship of Maine between Hebron, now holder of the title, and Brunswick High School, champion of the high schools of the state. Interclass relays will be run between 1915 and 1917, and 1914 and 1916, each team consisting of eight men, each of whom will run 220 yards. The usual track and field events will follow, and this is expected to be the biggest indoor meet ever held in Brunswick.

ORCHESTRAL CLUB FORMED

A new orchestra has been organized under Mason '14, and is to contain about eighteen pieces. It is intended that the organization will meet every Tuesday night in the Y.M.C.A. room at seven o'clock. The first appearance will be a week from Thursday evening at the Bowdoin-Wesleyan intercollegiate debate.

The following is the arrangement of pieces:—
First violins, Stratton '16, Dalrymple '17, Kelly '16, Demmons '15, Hayes '14; second violins, Mitchell '14, Knapp '17, Boardman '16; 'cello, Mason '14; flute, True '17; clarinets, J. Lewis '15, Wilson '14; cornets, Jones '15, Rawson '16; trombone, Haseltine '17; bells, A. Stetson '15; French horns, McKenney '15, C. Brown '14.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUE

The first in the series of debates in the Interscholastic Debating League were held Friday evening. Portland High School defeated the Cony High team, at the Portland High School building. Portland supported the affirmative and the decision in her favor was unanimous. The question for discussion was: Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine should be formally retracted.

Westbrook High School team defeated Edward Little High, the former supporting the negative of the same question as above.

Lewiston High School, supporting the negative side, defeated Lisbon Falls, and Biddeford High defeated Brunswick High at Biddeford, Brunswick supporting the negative.

Later debates will be held in Brunswick to decide the league championship.

PRESIDENT HYDE ON FRATERNITIES

Last Thursday at a meeting of the convention of the Religious Education Association held at New Haven, President Hyde was called upon to defend the college fraternity. The subject of his speech was: "The Socializing Value of Fraternity Life" and his treatment of it brought out clearly his attitude towards fraternities. He said in part: "The remedy for the evils of irresponsible fraternities is more fraternities and more responsibility. Have enough fraternities or clubs like them to include practically the entire student body, publish their relative rank and stimulate a wholesome rivalry in scholarship, in character, in contribution to the social, artistic, athletic and dramatic and literary life of the institution; admit freshmen early for better or for worse, and hold upper classmen to account for their influence over them; weed out upper classmen who fail to realize this responsibility for lower classmen in their group; and thus fraternities become a mighty influence for the intellectual, social and moral uplift of their members, far more potent than any force presidents and deans and faculties can bring to bear. Living happily with and working heartily for others as loyal members of a beloved group is the essence of righteousness, whether in the chapter-house or city-hall; whether in the home or the Kingdom of Heaven."
THE JANUARY QUILL

No short story! The pages usually occupied by narrative, here devoted to verse! These two features first strike the attention of a reader of the latest Quill. What the absence of a short story portends, who can say? The presence of so much verse indicates either that the editors have emptied into this issue the pouch containing the entire semester’s supply, or that the Quill has already begun to “come into its own”—so far as contributing is concerned. Moreover, the issue is noticeably larger than any in the recent past which my patience has permitted me to consult. That familiar wail in the Editorial, consequently, at the end of an issue so fat and so variously constituted, comes with a shock of inappropriateness.

What shall we say of these verses in turn? Mr. Robinson’s Each to His Own is tuneful as ever, but below his usual high standard in the integrity of its thought. The melody of the line, “And with stately tread, when all is said,” is not matched by its significance; the parallel of agriculture in the North with superstition in the South, also, seems like a refuge of despair. And does the Envoy exhibit sufficient reason for being?

To Browning and the Browningesque A Cup of Water may properly be considered together. Browningesque the verses by A.W.N. surely are not; indeed, phrases like “heaven’s gilded car,” “nightly host,” “grew pale at dawn’s approach,” and “full many an hour,” in a characterization of virile, direct Browning, are incongruous. And though Browning may perhaps be cited in justification of the obscurity in “the greater good” and “the noble hope,” so much cannot be said for the complexity, the redundancies, and the unconscionable length of the sentence—there is but one in the stanza. The title absent, it would be a neat conundrum to discover whom the writer is extolling.

In A Cup of Water, Mr. Achorn reveals a more lively impression of Browning. He has caught the most obvious mannerisms of his model—the strip diction, the interlocutor (here extraordinarily accommodating in his supposed queries), a connotation of satisfying curtness, of piercing cursoriness. And surely it is something to compose recognizably in the manner of Browning. There are in the poem, however, features inconsistent with the spirit which these mannerisms inevitably create. This rugged iconoclast and philosopher who accompanies his cup of cold water with advice on the whole as good as it is copious, this transparent soul would scorn the subterfuge of earth’s tin” (as something which leads to “sin”); no less the subterfuge (when a rhyme is needed for “creeks”) of “you who...—you seeks”; and the haunting incompleteness of pairing with “Dave”, who “barks”, “Pom’roy”, who—has “hoofs”! Most fundamental of all, this philosopher would long before have exploded that smug conventionality which finds in cities only gluttony and smut, and amid verdant fields alone the means to keep life “pure and free”; he would have learned “To see divinity in those that plod

In dirt and filth,” not only when the dirt and filth are rural. Yet it is little wonder, and surely no disgrace, that Mr. Achorn’s arrow has wavered in its flight; for he aimed high.

W. T. L.’s quatrain, The Greatest of These, except for the impossible construction in its third line, has a simplicity, a grace, and a completeness which qualify it to stand above that section of one’s library occupied by borrowed books.

The Demagogue is unconvincing: it portrays a composite, an anachronism, an over-horrible tyrant such as made morality-play audiences tremble, then mock. The utter incomprehensibleness of the final line is unpardonable. Has “phantom material” been pursued in this, and in some other cases, too relentlessly? True, the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table tells how, frequently, incomplete verses hang round a poet’s desk “in a ragged, forlorn, unrhythm condition... until you get sick of the sight of them, and end by thrusting some cold scrap of a final couplet upon them, and turning them out of doors.” But the Autocrat was forever joking.

The prose contributions are both noteworthy. Mr. Coffin in his Ski-Running momentarily confuses the reader by shifting from “you” meaning the skis, to “you” meaning the ski-runner; and again by momentarily calling the ski-runner “he.” The same careless technique makes rabbits seem for a moment to be noise-makers and causes Paganism to expire by having the ski-runner round a tree trunk. The ski journey, too, is long for all except the hardest. But it is buoyant, compelling, emancipating. (Yet, soberly speaking, to what strange adorations this insatiable romanticism of “nature” worship and ancestor worship does lead us?) It is plain that The Little Lights are visible at the turn in the trail, and that their call brings about the terrestrial reassurance of “warm room” and “savory supper.”

Judging by the analysis of Alfred Noyes, Mr. Robinson has not learned from his master, Stevenson, the modest magic which resides in colons and semicolons: nor from his other masters the means of securing effects of richness and melody without using duplicating expressions. His essay presents attractively a vigorous and well-poised criticism, however, a criticism which, in pleasing contrast to much that is printed, conveys more than it literally expresses.

The ambitions expressed in the Quill are laudable; few friends of the new editors can believe them visionary. But these editors must be circumspect: standards exist; and punctuation frequently faulty, spaces missing (five of them on pp. 14-15), "diguise", "criticizes", "Bodoin", "the" (they), "hearded swine", "centuries half", "cities smut", and "damming powers of Hell" are inconsistent with the standards which prevail "among the foremost of college monthlies."

On the Campus

Cressey '12 was on the campus recently.
Haines '07 was on the campus last week.
Lawrence McFarland '11 was at Chapel Sunday.
Evans '16 has returned to college after a recent illness.
Keene '17 has returned to college after a week's sickness.
There will be a rehearsal of the band at 7:30 Thursday night.
The Freshman relay team races the Bates Freshmen at Lewiston Friday night.
The musical clubs go to Portland Thursday night and Yarmouthville Friday night.
McIntyre '17 has returned to college, having recovered from an operation for appendicitis.
Littlefield '16 is slowly recovering from an operation for appendicitis but is still in Boothby Hospital, Boston.
Wednesday evening there is an eclipse of the moon scheduled to commence at 9:42. This may also be seen off the campus.

At the last meeting of the Maine Commandery of the Loyal Legion the exercises were devoted mainly to tributes to General Chamberlain.
The fencing team will compete in the intercollegiate matches which will be held in Boston March 28. The team has not yet been picked.
There will be a meeting of the Classical Club at the D. U. house Thursday afternoon. Dr. Burnett will talk about Greece and Southern Italy.

"Squanto" Wilson '13 has joined the Red Sox squad at Hot Springs. "Squanto" has refused to consider an offer from the Pittsburg team of the Federal League.
The college has received $3,000 for scholarships from Mrs. Ephraim C. Cummings of Portland. She is the widow of the Rev. Ephraim C. Cummings of the class of '53.

All men who plan to compete in the interclass track meet, and who have not yet taken a physical examination, are requested to make an appointment with A. L. Pratt '14 at once.

On Wednesday at 5 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the Freshman class in the Y.M.C.A. room for the class sings. The Juniors will rehearse Tuesday, March 17, at 5 o'clock.

At 7:15 o'clock last Tuesday evening Professor Files and twenty Deutschers attended a dinner at the Eagle. There were no speeches, but the after dinner hour was made very enjoyable.
The Senior and Sophomore classes held meetings yesterday to elect squad leaders and class captains and managers for the indoor meet. Both meetings were held after the Orient went to press.

The Bowdoin and Colby Chapters of Delta Upsilon held a joint banquet Saturday evening at the Elmwood Hotel, Waterville. All but one of the members of the Bowdoin chapter were present. Professor William Hawley Davis also attended the banquet.

Joe Finneran, last year's track coach, has perfected a starting barrier for scratch races on the track. According to Finneran's latest device, not only does the barrier prevent the runner from beating the pistol, but likewise assures a faster start. Finneran hopes to have it tried out in the big meets this season.

H. A. Lewis '15 was the delegate to the New England Convention of Beta Theta Pi held last Friday afternoon and evening with the Boston City Club. The other members of the local chapter who attended were Callahan '14, Ireland '16, Garland '14, Roberts '15, Dalrymple '17, Pope '14, Swift '17, Lovejoy '15, Bartlett '17, Hall '16 and Brown '14.

With the Faculty

Monday evening, March 2, Dr. Gross gave an illustrated lecture in the Unitarian Church. His subject was "The Birds of the Bermuda Islands" and was an interesting description of the bird life and their surroundings in the Bermudas.

Last Monday at the annual town meeting of Brunswick, as candidate for Member of Superintending School Committee for three years, Professor K. C. M. Sills was elected.

At the convention of the Religious Educational Association in New Haven last week, President Hyde spoke in favor of college fraternities and stoutly opposed the policy of deferred initiations.
“Admission should be in the earliest part of the freshman year,” said President Hyde, “although I know I go against the majority in saying so. When freshmen are identified early with a fraternity, not half as many are dropped. Upper class members work together with the college authorities in helping men that are down in their courses.” The president also stated that the proposal of devotion to the fraternity will weaken the devotion to the college, was fallacious.

Last Thursday Dean Sills gave an address at Westbrook Seminary and on Friday he spoke at Cony High on “What the College is Not.”

In the second play given by the Brunswick Dramatic Club, March 17, Professor Files will play the leading part. Professors Davis and Bell will also take part.

Professor Frederic W. Brown, who is traveling in Europe, recently gave a lecture before the British colony in Florence, Italy. The lecture was on Boccaccio and it was highly commended by London newspapers.

Last Friday the Maine section of the American Chemical Club held a meeting here. Professor Cram read a paper at the meeting.

Resolutions

Hall of Alpha Delta Phi
February 24, 1914.

It is with deepest sorrow that the Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi records the death of one of its most distinguished alumni, General Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain of the Class of 1852. His career was one of generous service, in which as scholar, teacher, soldier and statesman he brought distinction not only upon himself but also upon the Fraternity and the College.

The Chapter takes this opportunity to express its sympathy to his immediate family and to all those to whom he was endeared by the ties of friendship.

George Franklin Eaton,

Alumni Department

John G. Wight, Bowdoin '64, spent the junior year of his course as a landsman in the U. S. Navy. In that part of his Autobiography which deals with war times he says:

“The exciting war meetings, held almost daily in Brunswick and thronged by multitudes, were enthusiastically attended by the students and members of the college faculty, at which meetings some of the latter made their first attempts at stump oratory. There comes to mind in particular, and with striking vividness, a quiet, soft-voiced, and exceedingly urbane professor, who, to the surprise of everyone, became possessed by the common enthusiasm. His sudden transformation from a person of exceptional mildness to one of extreme military ardor presented an incongruity that provoked merriment among his acquaintances. His zeal brought him as an orator before these large, popular assemblies. At such times his vehemence occasionally got the better of his facility in extemporaneous speaking. Naturally he drew his figures from the experiences of the class room, some of which are remembered for their aptness and force. Appealing to the young men in his audience, many of whom he had instructed in rhetoric, he would say, 'The only gesture you have to learn now is, down in front,' indicating a sabre-thrust. One unpremeditated comparison which he made was this: 'The time has come,' said he, 'when we are to determine whether we are a nation or a—or a—or a basket of chips!' This man at length received a Colonel's commission and went to the front with the 20th Maine. After he had gone, but before his mettle had been put to the test, the boys, still doubting their professor's soldiership, gathered in groups about the campus, would jokingly picture to one another his probable conduct in battle. They imagined that his instinctive politeness would cause him to commence an engagement somewhat after the following manner. He would first cavalierly salute the enemy and then say: 'Gentlemen, if you please, we shall now proceed to fire.' But how completely his military record belies these predictions. No braver man or better soldier than Joshua L. Chamberlain served in either army. For heroic conduct on the field, for soldierly bearing and honorable, almost death-giving wounds, he rose to the rank of major-general. With his brave troops, in a critical hour at Gettysburg, he held 'Little Round Top.' For a gallant charge before Petersburg, Grant made him a brigadier on the field. And finally, when the collapse of the Confederacy came, and the great Lee was overmastered by the silent man of Galena, this modest professor was intrusted by his chief with the details of surrender at Appomattox.”
N. E. ORATORICAL LEAGUE TRIALS

The trials for the fifth New England Oratorical League Contest, which is to be held this year at Williams on May 7, will take place Monday, April 20, in Memorial Hall. Commencement parts or '68 parts or any original oration under 1800 words in length may be delivered and the competition is open to any student in college. One man is picked to represent Bowdoin. Those wishing to enter the competition should give their names to Professor Mitchell not later than March 27.

BOWDOIN FRESHMEN WIN RELAY

For the first time in several years, the Bowdoin Freshman relay team, composed of Pierce, Robinson, Humphrey and Crosby, won out from the Bates Freshman team in the annual Bates-Bowdoin Freshman race at Lewiston City Hall, Thursday evening.

Pierce, the first Bowdoin man, turned over a three-yard lead to Robinson who increased this amount to ten yards. Humphrey ran a very steady race and turned over twenty yards to Crosby, who finished the relay with speed to burn, coming within a yard of lapping his man. Trainer Magee attributes this splendid victory to the conscientious and consistent training of the Bowdoin men.

Time trials will be held this week for the three lap return race with Bates 1917 at the inter-class meet, March 20. Every Freshman on the squad is urged to try out.

OFFICIALS FOR INTERCLASS MEET

The officials for the Indoor Interclass Meet to be held March 20, are as follows: Referee, Burton C. Morrill; judges of drill, James L. McConaughy, Allan Woodcock '12 and third member not announced; judges of finish, Dr. Manton Copeland, Lawrence McFarland '11, Capt. Hazen R. Nevers of Bates; judges of field events, Professor Nixon, Professor Bell, W. F. Porter; timers, Dr. Whittier, F. W. Maroney, Frank Smith '12, Alan Cole '14; measurers, Cooley '14, Barrett '16, Dalrymple '17; starter, Coach J. J. Magee; scorers, Bacon '15, MacDonald '15; announcer, Callahan '14; clerk of course, H. L. Robinson '11; assistant clerks of course, Eddy '14, Loeffler '14; inspectors, A. L. Grant '12, Burns '14, P. K. Holmes, G. W. Twaddle; manager, P. J. Koughan '15; assistant manager, W. E. Chase '16.

SENIOR ELECTIONS

On March 9th the Senior class held elections in Memorial Hall. Philip R. Fox was elected captain of the Senior class track team, A. L. Pratt being elected manager. It was voted that the class should don the cap and gown on and after the first Sunday in May. It was also voted to abolish the class squad to compete at the annual indoor meet.

On Tuesday, March 10th, the class again met to reconsider their action taken in regard to the abolishing of the class squad, but on balloting the question their decision remained unchanged, and for the first time in twenty-five years the Senior class will not be represented in the drill competition at the indoor meet, to be held on March 20.

JUNIOR ELECTIONS

At a meeting of the Junior class Monday noon, G. P. Floyd was elected class track captain, H. M. Prescott, track manager, C. A. Robinson, squad leader, and G. W. Ricker, cheer leader. It was voted to assess each member of the class $1.00 for Ivy Day expenses and not to allow any Junior to march on Ivy Day unless his Ivy and Bugle assessments are paid. Later, G. A. McWilliams was appointed class pianist.

SOPHOMORE ELECTIONS

At their meeting last Monday, March 9, the Sophomores elected Leadbetter captain of track, Foster, manager, Nickerson, leader of the squad, and Evans, pianist. The class also voted to assess each member of the class $1.25. A committee was chosen to write a class yell.

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS

The class of 1917 held a meeting Monday night, Mar. 9th, and the following elections were held: Leigh D. Flynt, (re-elected); president; Edward
C. Moran, secretary and treasurer; Clarence H. Crosby, captain of track team; Rogers M. Crehore, manager of track team; James C. Oliver, leader of class squad.

NOMINATIONS FOR Y.M.C.A. OFFICERS

The following men have been nominated for the officers of the Y.M.C.A. for 1914-15:

- President: G. W. Bacon '15
- Vice-President: A. H. MacCormick '15
- Treasurer: H. H. Foster '16
- Corresponding Secretary: J. D. Churchill '16
- Recording Secretary: C. H. Crosby '17
- Alumni Advisory Commission: D. R. Porter '06

(Three to be elected)

H. E. Dunnack '97
W. A. MacCormick '12

The election of these officers will be held Thursday, March 26, in the Managers' Room of the Gymnasium from 1 to 4:30 p.m. All members of the Christian Association are entitled to vote. Printed ballots will be supplied.

FACULTY MAKES NEW RULINGS

At a meeting of the Faculty held the tenth of March, the following matters of general interest to the students were considered:

It was voted that the Faculty approve the regulations for a Committee on the Limitation of College Activities, as suggested by the Student Council.

It was voted that in intramural contests, first-year special students be allowed to compete with the Freshman class, and second-year special students with the Sophomore class, as though members of those classes. This regulation does not, however, permit specials to take part in the class teams in contrast with teams from other colleges.

It was voted that henceforth all courses that are described in the college catalogue, from time to time, as continuous through the year, shall be taken through the year if credit is to be had for either; provided, however, that the Dean shall have power to suspend the action of this rule if any student presents reasonable grounds for exemption. This means that no student will have credit for Course 1 unless he takes Course 2 in a continuous course, that is, if the course is of such a nature that it necessarily runs through the year: as, for example, the present courses in Biology 1-2, Psychology 1-2, Physics 1-2.

It was voted that in addition to those members of the Senior class who, by previous regulations, are required to write provisional commencement parts, others may write parts in competition for places as speakers on the commencement platform.

The Committee on Admission is soon to prepare a Bulletin dealing with the question of admission to college, for circulation among preparatory schools.

LIMITATIONS SCHEME ADOPTED

At a meeting of the Associated Students last Saturday evening the plan for a Limitations Board was unanimously adopted. As it has been adopted by the Faculty it will go into effect immediately. This comes as the result of the agitation started here one year ago for some system of regulations of individual participation in student activities and a plan drawn up by last year's Council was rejected by the students. The plan adopted differs from that of last year and also from the systems in force at other colleges. Its operation will be watched with interest by those interested in the problem of overloading of individuals with extra-curricular activities. The plan as worded in the amendment follows:

ARTICLE VII—LIMITATIONS BOARD.

Sec. 1. Two students elected by the Student Council, two Faculty members elected by the Faculty, together with the Dean of the College as chairman, shall constitute a Limitations Board. The four elective members shall be chosen in June and shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of this Board to investigate all cases of over-participation in undergraduate activities and to recommend to the individual concerned such limitation as may seem desirable. Where possible students shall be allowed their freedom in making the limitation. For the guidance of students, the Board may make general regulations in regard to limitation of participation in activities, subject to the ratification of the Student Council.

This by-law is an addition to the by-laws of the Associated Students and the provision regarding election of members was suspended in the motion for adoption, so that members are to be elected to serve from the present time until June.

The Student Council has been considering measures to further define the operation of the blanket tax and make the Associated Students more comprehensive of student interests. With this purpose two amendments were presented to the meeting Saturday evening for discussion. These amendments will probably be voted on at a rally or student meeting in April. The two amendments follow.

By addition of the phrase italicized in Article III, Sect. 3 of the Constitution of the A.S.B.C. “Sect. 3. Every organization included in this Association shall incorporate in its constitution a rule limiting its voting membership to the members of the A.S.B.C. and no person shall be allowed to participate in the activities of these organizations unless he is a member of the A.S.B.C. in good standing.”

By addition of the phrase italicized in Article VII of the same Constitution. “Article VII. Constituent Organizations. The athletic interests of the student body shall be under the control of the Athletic Council whose actions shall be ruled according to their own Constitution and By-Laws; the college publications shall be under the control of the Bowdoin Publishing Co. and their powers shall be such as defined by its Constitution; the debating interests of the student body shall be under the Debating Council and its powers shall be such as may be determined in its Constitution and By-Laws; the Y.M.C.A. shall represent the interests of the student body as defined by the Constitution of that organization; the dramatic interests of the student body shall be under the Masque and Gown and its powers shall be determined by its own Constitution and By-Laws; the musical interests of the student body shall be under the Musical Association and its powers shall be such as defined by its own rules and regulations; and the Band shall have functions under the direction of the Association.

There was a discussion of these two amendments by four or five speakers. The new orchestra under the leadership of Mason was present and made a very favorable impression. The matter of interesting sub-freshmen was to be discussed but on account of the small attendance it was decided to postpone consideration until a future meeting.

JUNIORS WIN DUAL MEET

In a dual meet held in the Hyde Athletic Building, Saturday, the Juniors easily defeated the Seniors, 52-33: A. B. Stetson ’15 won the half mile, and sprung the greatest surprise of the afternoon. Phil Smith ’15 lead in the scoring by piling up 18 points. Fox ’14 was second with 10.

The summary:

40-Yard Dash.—First heat: Sylvester ’14, Marr ’14, MacCormick ’15, Austin ’15; won by MacCormick ’15; second, Austin ’15; third heat: Fox ’14, Hall ’14, Somers ’15, McKenney ’15; won by Fox ’14; second Somers ’15; third heat: Garland ’14, A. Pratt ’14, Wing ’15, Mannix ’15; won by Mannix ’15; second, A. Pratt ’14; fourth heat: Tarbox ’14, Chase ’14, Smith ’15, Roberts ’15; won by Smith ’15; second, Roberts ’15; fifth heat: Floyd ’15, A. B. Stetson ’15, Merrill ’14, Weatherill ’14; won by Floyd ’15; second, Weatherill ’14; first semi-final: Mannix ’15, Somers ’15, A. Pratt ’14, Roberts ’15, Fox ’14; won by Fox ’14; second, Roberts ’15; second semi-final: Smith ’15, Weatherill ’14, Austin ’15, MacCormick ’15, Floyd ’15; won by Weatherill ’14; second, Smith ’15; final heat: Smith ’15, Weatherill ’14, Fox ’14, Roberts ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Smith ’15; third, Roberts ’15.

45-Yard Low Hurdles.—First heat: Pratt ’14, Donahue ’14, Garland ’14, Wing ’15; won by Wing ’15; second, Donahue ’14; second heat: Fox ’14, Smith ’15, Stetson ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Smith ’15; third heat: Roberts ’15, Weatherill ’14, Somers ’15; won by Roberts ’15; second, Weatherill ’14; fourth heat: A. Pratt ’14, Floyd ’15; won by Floyd ’15; second, A. Pratt ’14; first semi-final: Donahue ’14, Weatherill ’14, Smith ’15, Wing ’15; won by Weatherill ’14; second, Smith ’15; second semi-final: Floyd ’15, A. Pratt ’14, Fox ’14, Roberts ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Floyd ’15; final heat: Weatherill ’14, Smith ’15, Fox ’14, Floyd ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Floyd ’15; third, (disqualified).

45-Yard High Hurdles.—First heat: Floyd ’15, Garland ’14; won by Floyd ’15; second heat: Donahue ’14, Roberts ’15; won by Roberts ’15; third heat: Smith ’15, Wing ’15; won by Weatherill ’14; second, Smith ’15; second semi-final: Floyd ’15, A. Pratt ’14, Fox ’14, Roberts ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Floyd ’15; final heat: Weatherill ’14, Smith ’15, Fox ’14, Floyd ’15; won by Fox ’14; second, Floyd ’15; third, (disqualified).

440-Yard Dash.—Won by Smith ’15; second, MacCormick ’15; third, Marr ’14.

880-Yard Run.—Won by A. Stetson ’15, and Tarbox ’14; third, Cutler ’15.

Mile Run.—Won by Tarbox ’14; second, Cutler ’15; third, Sylvester ’14.

Shot-Put.—Won by Floyd ’15; second, A. Pratt ’14; third, Hall ’14.

Running Broad Jump.—Won by Smith ’15; second, Floyd ’15; third, Roberts ’15.

Pole Vault.—Won by McKenney ’15, A. Merrill ’14 and Chase ’14 tied for second.

880-Yard Relay Race.—1914 (A. Pratt, Garland, Marr, Fox), 1915 (Roberts, Floyd, Somers, Wing); won by 1914.

CLASS SINGS

There will be a class sing for the Junior class today at five-thirty in the Y.M.C.A. room. Tomorrow the Freshmen will have one at the same time and place.

Our Future Student Body

The organization of a permanent committee of undergraduates to consider methods of interesting sub-freshmen in Bowdoin brings up inevitably the question of the proper amount of advertising consonant with the dignity of such an institution as this. About this point we believe there has been a great deal of misunderstanding and unintelligent opinion. To presume that Bowdoin needs a greater quantity of students, that we must herd them to our doors in greater numbers, is a wrong attitude. To propose that we proselyte for athletes, they being a rather privileged class, is to attempt to tear down the foundations of Bowdoin's high traditions. But a recognition of the principle that we are not in search of more quantity or mere numbers is not to abandon the principle of legitimately bringing the college to the attention of preparatory school men. To go back to one's home town and seek among the younger students of greatest promise, to tell them of the College, its past, its present and future, to connect them with the college office and thus furnish them with continued avenues of information, to invite them to visit the campus, to aid them in every way to make their choice of a college with the fullest knowledge of this institution is not so much a duty as a pleasure. The sub-freshman will welcome all such information and the opportunity for renewing acquaintances with him, to be of help to him, perhaps, to shape his college career is a privilege which all should cherish.

There is another viewpoint, however, that should be understood. Bowdoin does not need more men, but it needs the best men. In contrast with many newer systems of higher education, the small college such as ours is highly selective. Its entrance requirements are intended to include only those who can successfully meet high standards of scholarship. But its requirements are necessarily limited, practically, to intellectual examination. It is necessary then if the institution is to fulfill its mission of training leaders that the boys of best character, of the best endowments, physically and socially, should be informed of its character and the advantages it offers. The effort of undergraduates, alumni and faculty to bring to our entrance gates the best among the college "timber" of the section and country should be unceasing. It is a task of eternal vigilance, this of securing the highest quality.

Every undergraduate, then, who feels his identity with the college and its success should take upon himself this individual responsibility to the men of his locality. The approaching Easter vacation offers an excellent opportunity for an acquaintance with prospective men. This is a good time to supply all information available, to give the prospective student an opportunity for further investigation of the College. April 25 is the occasion of the Bowdoin-Technology Track Meet and on the preceding evening will occur the annual Spring Rally. This is an excellent time to entertain the preparatory school man. What we need in this side of our activity as an undergraduate and institution is not organization but loyalty and intelligent service. Such a service can be performed by no other so well as the undergraduate; the college office can only cooperate. It is a part of the proper function of a Bowdoin man, this passing on to the best of those at home the privilege we enjoy.
New Amendments Proposed

The proposed amendments to the constitution of the Associated Students printed in this issue demand the attention of the student body. The changes contemplated are vital. Their general aim is two-fold; that of bringing under the Associated Student body the two remaining student activities, the musical clubs and dramatic club; also that of making all participation in these activities dependent upon membership in the A. S. B. C. From another point of view it may be said to be an effort to make the blanket tax have a more stable and real foundation. There will be time for discussion of these changes in the two clubs affected and in the Student Council before they come to a vote. There are several points to be borne in mind during such discussion. The amendments contemplate merely a nominal affiliation of the two clubs with the A.S.B.C. There is to be no representation on the Board of Managers, no appropriation to them, no free admission to their performances. This raises the question of the results of a further financial relationship and the possible results to the A.S.B.C. and clubs of a financial connection similar to that of the other organizations. This matter should be considered by the Board of Managers and the various clubs. In this connection there is the suggestion that this affiliation might result in a college production of a musical and dramatic nature with a financial purpose. The amendment which defines membership in the A. S. B. C. is the continuation of a policy which has been that of the Board of Managers since its formation and will result in giving them actual power to enforce their decisions. With the adoption of this amendment, however, they must accept the responsibility for more careful "extensions" and a strict adherence to the principles of the amendment. It will also necessitate a meeting of the problem already suggested in these columns, that of the student who, after receiving an extension, obtains the privileges of membership in the A. S. B. C. and then does not pay his tax when it falls due. In an incidental connection, also, there arises the defining of the Musical Association and the possible further organization of the musical activities of college into one association. The whole matter raised by the amendments deserves careful deliberation and discussion.

The Sideshow and the Main Tent

At a recent convention the question was put to undergraduates from various colleges of New England, if they spent an average of six hours per day on actual classroom work or preparation of lessons. The majority of answers were in the affirmative. We wonder whether the situation in Bowdoin agrees with that of these answers. While the arbitrary limit suggested is insignificant the question of the relative amount of time spent in study is of vital importance in every institution. We have an idea that if the facts were known there would be a greater amount of time spent by the Freshman than the other classes. Aside from this we can make no other generalizations other than from the result of individual observations. In each of three cases examined last week the time spent was more than six hours per day. But the presence among us of a large number who "major" in bid-whist and take regular hours at the "movies," of a large number who make serious pursuits out of proper relaxations and vocations out of extra-curricular activities, makes such an inquiry pertinent. We should suggest as a proper test of personal efficiency that those interested record their time for a week and discover their relation to the average.

PROFESSOR EMERY SPEAKS

Through the efforts, and under the auspices of the Saturday Club, Professor Henry Crosby Emery '92, the foremost authority on International Tariff in the country, gave a lecture on "The Tariff and the Ultimate Consumer" in Memorial Hall, last Friday, March 13, at eight o'clock. Professor Emery's lecture conveyed the opinion that the present high cost of living would not be materially affected no matter how the tariff may be regulated. A large audience listened intently to his lecture.

Professor Emery was born at Ellsworth, Me., in 1872. Graduated from Bowdoin with the class of 1892, he studied later at Harvard, Yale and Columbia Universities, gaining the degrees of Ph.D., and LL.D. He was instructor of Economics and Sociology here from 1894-1897; Professor from 1897-1900. In 1900 he was given the chair of Political Economy at Yale University. Under President Taft he was chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, his report being highly eulogized by the President.

ENTRIES FOR INTERCLASS MEET

The list of entries for the Interclass Meet, Friday, is as follows:

Pole Vault.—1914: A. S. Merrill; 1915: Smith, McKenney; 1917: Chapman, Fenning, Peacock, Sampson, Young.

The class captains are: 1914, P. R. Fox; 1915, G. P. Floyd; 1916, G. W. Leadbetter; 1917, C. H. Crosby.

Trials will be held early in the week to pick the teams.

THUS SAITH THE PROPHET

The following statements made expressly for the Orient sound a note of quiet confidence on the parts of the various captains. Here they are: Editor of the Orient—:

P. R. Fox,
Captain 1914 Team,
The other classes had better wear goggles, for all they will see is dust. The 5 in '15 means first place.

G. P. Floyd,
Captain 1915 Team.
Our men have been chasing jack-rabbits for the last three weeks and are game to run anything off its feet.

G. W. Leadbetter,
Captain 1916 Team.
We will wear our numbers on our backs where all our opponents can see them easily, if they can keep within sight.

C. A. Crosby,
Captain 1917 Team.
I wish I might be there to compete in the weight events but will wait at the Cumberland for the results.

JOHN BUNNY.
The mower I think of it, the mower I think 1915 will win. They've got push.

JOE BOYD.

KOUGHAH PRESIDENT M.I.C.A.A.

There was a meeting of the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association at the Elmwood Hotel, Waterville, March 9. Bowdoin was represented by ex-Track Manager A. R. Cole '14 and Manager Koughan '15. The officials for the annual field meeting to be held May 11 at Lewiston were chosen. The revision of the constitution was discussed during most of the meeting. Changes to be made in the constitution were laid on the table to be voted on by the new executive committee. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Paul J. Koughan; vice-president, Warren, University of Maine; secretary, Knowlton, Colby; treasurer, Greenau, Bates.

HIWALE IN FINANCIAL TROUBLE

A. S. Hiwale '10, Bowdoin’s missionary in India, has become seriously handicapped in his work by a cut of almost 50 per cent, in some of the funds which support that work. This makes it the more imperative that all men pay the amounts pledged for his support and that they pay promptly. Additional subscriptions from undergraduates or alumni will be greatly appreciated.

Club and Council Meetings

A meeting of the Bugle Board was held Tuesday evening in the Vereen room. Plans for the final work on the book were discussed.

There will be a meeting of the Classical Club at 8 o’clock Wednesday evening at the Delta Upsilon House. Professor Burnett will give a talk on his travels in Greece.

At a meeting of the Government Club, held last Wednesday evening at Professor Hormell’s house, the following officers were elected for the second semester: Burns ’14, president; Hyler ’15, vice-president; Bacon ’15, secretary and treasurer.

The Orient elections were held last night at 6.45, too late for the results to be recorded in this week’s issue. The elections to the Bowdoin Publishing Company will be held tonight. The candidates for manager are Porritt ’15 and McWilliams ’15, and for assistant manager, H. Foster ’16, Brackett ’16 and C. Hall ’16. Two assistant managers were elected.

The Penobscot County Club, founded in 1906, for the purpose of interesting young men to come to Bowdoin, met and reorganized last Wednesday evening, March 11, at the Alpha Delta Phi house. Elections were held with the following results: George F. Eaton ’14, president; John F. Rollins ’15, vice-president; and Alden F. Head, secretary and treasurer. The club is now in its eighth year.

Seniors’ last gym comes Wednesday. Fitzgerald ex-'16 was on the campus last week. It is expected that a number of alumni will be back for the interclass meet Friday.

Prescott ’15 has left college for a month. He has a position in Portland.

The spring vacation begins March 27 at 4.30 and recitations commence again April 7 at 8.30.

Farmer Kern and Bert Morrill were officials at a track meet held in Portland Saturday night. Smith ’12 took first in the shot put.

Among the alumni who have been on the campus last week are: Fogg ’02, Ryan ’05, Winslow ’06, Partridge ’11, Sanborn ’11 and Haskell ’13.

The April Cosmopolitan contains an interesting reference to Gen. Chamberlain in Mrs. Pickett’s account of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Frank Cummings has resigned as janitor of South Appleton and has been succeeded by Arthur Langdon. Frank has accepted a position as foreman on Lefty Heywood’s duck farm.

Ralph C. Parmenter ’16 slipped on the ice Friday afternoon and fractured his left leg just below the knee. He was taken to his home in Portland.

The students are reminded that competition for a "skit" to be produced by the Masque and Gown at the Spring Rally closes March 20. Manuscripts are to be submitted to Leigh, 7 So. Maine, or Callahan, Beta House.

The Freshman relay team will again race the Bates Freshman relay outfit at the indoor meet Saturday night. After defeating the Bates team on its own track, the Bowdoin Freshmen should have little difficulty in winning here.

There are still a large number of copies of the constitutions of student organizations for distribution among those of the student body or faculty to whom they may be of interest or aid. The amendment adopted Saturday and printed in this issue will fit into the book, if cut out of the Orient and pasted in.

Hebron and Brunswick High will not race at the indoor meet. Hebron has been training on a track like the one in the new gym, while Brunswick has been unable to secure permission to use the one here. Accordingly, Coach Magee feels unwilling to put on his charges under such a handicap.

With the Faculty

Professor W. B. Mitchell went to Providence last Thursday as a judge in an intercollegiate debate between Brown and Williams.

Dr. Cram intends to visit Bermuda during Easter recess.
Professor Files has a series of articles on "Motor Trips in Europe" in the Brunswick Record.

Professor McConaughy spoke at the Gorham Normal School last Thursday. While in Gorham he gave the Bowdoin lecture at the high school.

Professor Hormell was a judge in a debate between Hebron Academy and Oak Grove last Wednesday. Professor Woodruff was also one of the judges of the debate.

CHAMBERLAIN.
[For the Transcript.]

Heroic figure of the heroic past,
When war's loud thunder shook the battle plain,
When to the impetuous charge called bugle blast,
And legions strove again,

Then was it thine to lead thy veterans bold
To Honor's station on most dangerous post,
The crest of Little Round Top stoutly hold
Against the assaulting host.

And when at last on Fate's decisive field
The hostile ranks were to surrender driven,
The war-worn colors they were forced to yield
Into thy hands were given.

Yet later, in response to Duty's claim,
It was thy fortune still to serve the State,
To shed fresh lustre on her splendid name
As her chief magistrate.

But we who knew thee in scholastic chair,
Who felt the magic of thy skill to teach—
We saw the grace of learning was how fair
In beauty of thy speech.

We hold thy memory green through all the year,
Fadeless as Bowdoin's academic grove,
We lay our wreath of laurel on thy bier
With ivy interwove.

ISAAC BASSETT CHOATE '62.

'03.—Rev. Dr. Newman Smyth recently reported in a most interesting address at Center Church, New Haven, Conn., on his recent mission to England in behalf of the proposed World Conference as a first step toward church unity.

The commission was received heartily by the English prelates. Dr. Smyth had interviews with the Bishop of Oxford, the Archbishop of York and Canterbury, and the Bishop of Winchester. Concrete and definite plans were made and steps taken for greater church unity.

'69.—Maine friends will be interested in a banquet lately held at Pittsburg, Pa., in honor of Dr. Marshman Wadsworth, dean of the School of Mines, University of Pittsburg, on his retirement from active work as a university professor and dean.

Dr. Wadsworth's early life was passed on the home farm of his parents near Livermore Falls. His mother was nee Miss Nancy Eaton, daughter of the late Lowell Eaton of South Chesterville. At Bowdoin he was a classmate of D. H. Knowlton '69, the well known publisher of Farmington.

Subsequently he was instructor at Harvard University, and later was for many years director of the Michigan Mining School, Houghton, Mich.

Four years ago he took charge of the department of the school of mines at the University of Pittsburg and, as stated at the banquet, "developed it from an insignificant department into one of the best schools of its kind in the country." During the evening a handsome loving cup was presented to Dr. Wadsworth in an address expressing the highest appreciation of him as a teacher and a friend of the students. "A more popular or more successful dean," said the speaker, "the university has never seen." Over one hundred present and former students attended the banquet. Dr. Wadsworth will, we understand, retire with a Carnegie pension and will remain a dean emeritus of the university.

'85.—The U. S. Bureau of Fisheries has recently issued a monograph entitled Fishing and Fishes in Sunapee Lake by William O. Kendall, scientific assistant in the Bureau.

'91.—Rev. Henry H. Noyes of Island Falls has received a call to the pastorate of the Union Congregational Church of Fisherville. Mr. Noyes is a graduate of Andover Theological Seminary, a director of the State of Maine Conference on Congregational Churches, and is also corresponding secretary of the Conference.

'06.—The Rev. Elbert B. Holmes, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, Sanford, has announced his resignation, to take effect on April 30. Mr. Holmes has received and accepted a call to St. Anne's Church, at Richmond, Vt. He has been rector of St. George's Episcopal Church for three and a half years.

'03.—Dr. J. R. Ridlon, U. S. Public Health Service, has recently returned from a three months' course at the London School of Tropical Medicine, and is now stationed at Philadelphia, Pa.
INDOOR INTERCLASS MEET

The lowering of two records featured the twenty-eighth annual exhibition and the nineteenth annual indoor meet, held in the General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building last Friday night. The meet was won by the Junior class with forty-two points; the Freshmen were second with twenty-eight points, the Seniors third with twenty-two, the Sophomores fourth with seventeen, while Balfe, a special, running unattached, scored eight points. Records were broken in the pole vault, and in the mile. McKenney '15 vaulted ten feet, eleven and one-eighth inches, a height of eleven and one-eighth inches above the previous record held jointly by Smith '15 and McKenney '15. Crosby '17 cut off forty-one seconds in the mile, erasing the distance in four minutes, forty-two and three-fifths seconds. Capt. Smith '15 of the 'varsity track team was the individual star of the meet, scoring eighteen points. The class drill, for the first time since 1910, resulted in a win for the Freshmen; the Sophomore squad was second, and the Junior squad third.

Entertainment in the form of gymnastic exhibitions, relay and potato races was furnished by the boys of the Brunswick Grammar School, and was enthusiastically received. They were trained by J. C. Kimball.

The 1320 yard relay race between the Bates Freshmen and the Bowdoin Freshmen resulted in another easy win for our men. They won by thirty-five yards.

One of the most sensational features was the way McWilliams '15 ran the quarter mile. Although so severely spiked at the first corner that he could hardly stand and although he lost one of his shoes at the second corner, he ran a fast, plucky race and was barely beaten by Balfe. He had to be carried from the track.

Crosby's running of the mile was a splendid performance, the more so in view of the amount of running he had done through the evening.

The class relay races were hotly contested. The preliminaries were 110 yards per man and were pursuit races. The finals were 220 yards per man with the men running together.

RELAY RACE.—Bates '17 (Connors, Davis, House, Chamberlain) vs Bowdoin '17 (Pierce, Robinson, Humphrey, Crosby); won by Bowdoin '17. Time, 2:49.

RELAY RACE.—1914 (Fox, Weatherill, Marr, Tuttle, Hall, Pratt, Wright, Brown) vs. 1916, (Hall, Webber, Weatherill, Beal, Ramsdell, Hodgkins, Wood, Ireland); won by 1914; time, 1:44 1-5.

FORTY-FIVE-YARD LOW HURDLES.—First heat: Won by Smith '15; second, Donahue '14; time, 6 seconds. Second heat: Won by Weatherill '16; second, Ogle '17; time, 6 1-5 seconds. New Orient Board Elected

At the meeting of the old Orient Board Monday, March 16, the Board for Volume 44 was elected. Their duties will begin with the first issue after vacation. Austin H. MacCormick '15 was elected Editor-in-Chief, Dwight H. Sayward '16 was elected Managing Editor, and John F. Rollins '15 was elected Alumni Editor. The following new members were elected: Donald F. Philbrick '17, William S. Cormack '17 and Rogers M. Crehore '17. The men who retire from the Board are Leigh '14, Robinson '14 and Simpson '14.

Bowdoin Publishing Co. Elections

At a meeting of the Bowdoin Publishing Company last Tuesday, Philip W. Porritt '15 was elected Manager; Herbert H. Foster '16 and J. Scott Brackett '16 were elected assistant managers. Competition for assistant managers from the Freshman class begins at once.

Masque and Gown Contest

The date for the close of the contest for a skit to be produced April 24, at the Spring Rally, has been extended to March 27. A prize of five dollars was offered for the best skit received by the Masque and Gown, but none as yet has been handed in. Here is a golden opportunity for some amateur author to win fame and fortune by writing a short skit or finishing a would be masterpiece.

Reading of Twelfth Night

At the reading of the Dramatic Club held last Thursday in Memorial Hall for the presentation of "Twelfth Night," the following men were retained: D. White '16, Gibson '14, Robinson '14, Loeffler '14, Callahan '14, Fuller '16, Woodman '16, Churchill '16, Edwards '16, Stride '17, Perkins '15, Livingston '15 and Barton '14. The assignments have not been definitely decided yet. In all probability the parts will be assigned at the reading this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. A. F. Brown has resigned as coach of the Dramatic Club on account of ill health. It is thought that Professor Elliott will become the coach.

Second College Tea

The second and last college tea of the year will be held on Friday, April seventeenth. Invitations will be limited to members of the student body and friends, the members of the governing boards and the alumni and friends of the college residing in Brunswick. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Whittier, chairman, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Ham, Mrs. Elliott, who will be in the receiving line, and Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. McConaughy and Mrs. Gross, who will preside at the tables.

SUMMARY OF GYM WORK

During the winter three hundred and thirty-five men have taken gymnasium work. These were divided into the following squads under Instructors Maroney and Kimball:

Class Drills:
- 1914, fencing with foils, 40
- 1915, fencing with broadswords, 47
- 1916, boxing, wrestling and dumbbell drill, 66
- 1917, Indian club swinging, 82

Total in class squads, 235
Class drill assistants: Garland ’14, Pratt ’14, Mitchell ’14, Loeffler ’14, Melcher ’15.

During the winter the track squad of fifty men under the instruction of Coach J. J. Magee was divided into two sections.

Relay squad:
- 1914, 3
- 1915, 9
- 1916, 8
- 1917, 4

Total in relay work, 24

The general track squad has had setting-up drills, sprint work, and various track work, soccer and medicine ball.

General track squad:
- 1914, 4
- 1915, 12
- 1916, 4
- 1917, 6

Total in general track work, 26
Total in track squad, 50

The baseball work was under the instruction of A. L. Grant, Jr., ’12. The men were divided among the different classes as follows:
- 1914, 6
- 1915, 8
- 1916, 20
- 1917, 16

Baseball squad, 50
Total taking gymnasium work, 335

P. K. Holmes, the assistant director, assisted by N. S. Kupelian and Clarence Baker, had charge of the make-up work. Holmes, Maroney and Kimball were in charge of the heavy gymnastics. All classes have done work on the apparatus and tumbling.

MASSACHUSETTS CLUB MEETS

On March 16 the Massachusetts Club met for its first meeting this year at the Alpha Delta Phi house. The club was reorganized with the following officers elected: Samuel West ’15, president; Roger Eastman ’16, vice-president; Stuart I. Robinson ’17, secretary and treasurer. Professor McConaughy proposed that a banquet be held in Boston for the purpose of interesting men to come to Bowdoin. A committee consisting of West ’15, Eastman ’16, Irving ’15, Dalrymple ’15 and Robinson ’17 were appointed to arrange for such an entertainment. After the business meeting, refreshments were served.

CLASSICAL CLUB MEETING

Last Wednesday night Professor Burnett gave an especially interesting talk at the Delta Upsilon house before the Classical Club. His subject was "Adelphi."

At the meeting of the Classical Club the following men were elected for the ensuing year: President, Robert P. Coffin ’15; secretary, A. B. Schwartz ’16; member executive committee, Budrtha ’15. The club also decided to get the pictures of the clubs as far back as ’05, from Mr. Webber, the photographer, and to hang them on the wall of the Classical Club room in the Library. The names of those who have won the Sewall Latin and Greek prizes will be placed on a tablet in the Classical Club room.

MEETING OF TENNIS MANAGERS

The Maine Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association held its annual meeting at the Elmwood Hotel, Waterville, last Saturday afternoon. The following officers were elected: A. H. MacCormick of Bowdoin, president; R. P. Clark of Maine, vice-president; A. H. Knight of Colby, secretary; H. M. Wight of Bates, treasurer. The date of the spring tournament, to be held in Waterville, was set tentatively at May 25, 26 and 27.

CLASS SONG CONTEST REHEARSALS

The Freshmen have held the first rehearsal for the Class Song Contest. The Sophomores will hold theirs Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the Y.M.C.A. room. The Juniors were unable to hold their first rehearsal because of scant attendance but will have one at 5:30 the day College opens again.

The Orient Year

When the present Board assumed control one year ago it was stated that the single policy of the editorial department would not be to preach at or to criticise but to serve the College community. We have chosen to take our task seriously from that time to this, seeking always to serve. In serving we have often felt it necessary to criticise and often have found opportunity to praise. We have been confident that the best interests of the student body demanded a positive attitude on its questions and problems and have discarded many of the self-evident conditions which might serve for comment.

Almost imperceptibly our policy has taken shape in definite lines. Believing our province to be mainly concerned with that part of our life which is extra-curricular we have only occasionally dealt with the vital problems with which the Faculty has had to deal and the relations between the students and Faculty. The discussion for limitation of student activities emphasized, however, the relation of the outside activity to the curriculum. We have maintained from the first that there existed a need here for some sort of regulation which would cure over-participation by a few to their own detriment. We commend to our successors an observation of the system adopted with the idea of gaining by some means a solution of this problem. In this connection we might mention the essay in the current number of the Quill, which, although presenting a partial view, serves to remind us of the real place of these student activities. In the matter of athletics we have been pleased to comment on the good fortune of the college in obtaining expert instructors and coaches to fit into our new and greater gymnasium system. In this connection we have tried to point out that there is still need for more athletic activity for the average man, this to be obtained by development of minor sports and training facilities and competition for all. Although emphasizing this need we have tried to bring forward again and again the really normal and natural part that organized cheering may play in our college life, when rationally developed. In our celebrations for victories, in our observance of class customs, in our use of equipment we have endeavored to point to the actual value of the custom of celebration in light of new conditions, to a normal attitude toward such features of college life. In the matter of dramatic and musical interests we have endeavored to furnish all stimulation within our power, believing that a more general interest on the part of the students will result from sufficient impetus. Our relations with alumni and sub-freshmen have been discussed and a more active attitude on the part of the Faculty and undergraduates is being worked out. Our successors will record great improvements in these matters. We have dealt often with our perennial financial question, the blanket tax, and that question of the future, the Bowdoin Union.

In conclusion we feel that the solution of our campus problems lies in the increasing recognition of the value of serious and earnest application to college studies, of a proper evaluation of the really subordinate undergraduate activities, with a like appreciation of the immense benefits from such activities if taken seriously. There should be more and more the spirit that the student office is an opportunity for self-expression.
and training, not an honor or occasion for mere routine activity. Despite the shadow of the past week we cannot but feel the greatest optimism in reviewing the Orient year. To the new Board we wish the best of success and feel only regret that our work is done.

The Facts

The campus situation produced by the Senior affair last Wednesday and consequent faculty action is such that we believe a simple statement of the facts as brought out in the Faculty-Senior committee conference last Saturday evening may help to replace much that is unfounded rumor and profitless criticism. That part of the celebration which was a breach of college discipline while unforeseen by the administrative committee of the Faculty has been the culmination of the traditional method of former classes in celebrating. The class by vote authorized that part of the celebration while participating in it actually in small part. The Faculty committee, realizing that it was a class affair and that it would be very difficult to place the actual responsibility on individuals, chose to deal with the class in the disciplinary measures. In putting the class on probation with the provision that there would be exemption for all those whom the officers of the class should vouch for as not having actively participated in the celebration, the committee realized the probable seriousness of results, not only to the class but the student body and college as a whole, but considered the occasion required the discipline chosen. The class on Saturday at a meeting after due deliberation decided that although it had been allowed the option of freeing some from probation by reason of non-participation, this was an impossible task. It felt that since it was an authorized class affair, in some measure each member was responsible and punishment should therefore, fall on all alike. The Faculty action was maintained.

These, as truly as our earnest desire to have fair treatment to all concerned has met with success, are the facts. While they are necessarily the opinions of undergraduates, it is hardly hoped that they will coincide with the opinions and prejudices of many students on the campus. We have received communications concerning the affair which we are withholding from publication because the least controversy possible in these columns will best serve the College. The results of the whole affair are serious, but the best judgment under the circumstances and not infallible decision is all that can be asked.

The Scope of our Publications

The experience of the year which has brought us into contact with the various publications of other colleges, the problems we have encountered in trying to use our limited space to the best advantage, has caused us to consider whether or not the Bowdoin publications are fulfilling the needs of the institution. The Orient with its present equipment is able, we believe, to meet the task of furnishing the news of the College. The Quill serves very well to furnish a medium for the expression of purely literary productions. The Bugle furnishes acceptably the statistical and pictorial record of the year as well as a compendium of undergraduate wit. There is, however, a real need for a medium to bring before our whole college community matter of another kind. It is that class of material which the Orient deals with in a fragmentary and superficial way in editorials and occasional communications. But these departments continually encroach on valuable news matter and are of necessity hurriedly prepared. It is the class of matter which is dealt with in an occasional essay in the Quill. But the present form and size of that magazine as well as a certain justifiable emphasis on intrinsic literary worth forbid its serving as this medium. In the Alumni Department of the Orient, too, there is at times material of a nature which could be handled better in a more comprehensive way. There is, if we may judge from our experience, material for a monthly or quarterly magazine dealing with articles of interest to undergraduates, faculty and alumni; open to contributions from these sources. The editorial department of the Orient is forced to discard because of length or publish, at great expense of other departments, valuable and interesting accounts of lives of alumni, speeches by the President or alumni, interesting articles on topics of student interest, essays on Bowdoin problems. Such a magazine, if properly begun, would have no problem in creating either a contributing board or an interested clientele.

There are, however, grave objections to a separate magazine of this kind and careful judgment would declare such a venture financially unwise. Two periodicals are all that our student body can well support. This objection may not, however, condemn the idea. There are two other plans suggested. One is the inauguration of a monthly Orient of augmented size, called the "Outlook idea," which would offer the necessary medium. The other is the extension of the size, form, and perhaps editorial policy of the Quill, to admit of such material as suggested. In other colleges the
Y.M.C.A. Notes

The annual election of Y.M.C.A. officers will take place Thursday, March 26, in the Managers’ room of the Gymnasium from 1 to 4.30 p. m. All members of the Christian Association are entitled to vote. The nominations are as given in last week’s Orient. Printed ballots will be supplied.

Last Sunday H. Foster ’16 and Churchill ’16 went on a deputation to Biddeford, speaking in two churches and to a union service. On April 5, Leadbetter ’16, Chapman ’17 and Merrill ’14 will go on a deputation to Farmington.

On the Campus

Nason ’14 has gone home on account of sickness.

Coach Magee was in Boston on business last week.

Haseltine ex-’16 has been on the campus recently.

Achorn ’17 has gone home on account of sickness.

Parsons ’16 is suffering from an attack of the mumps.

D. K. Merrill ’15 has returned to College after an operation on his hand.

All contributions to the Bugle must be handed in to MacCormick ’15 before vacation begins.

Coach Magee gave the candidates for the track team a little talk in the gym yesterday afternoon.

The list of Government Club officers in last week’s Orient should contain the name of Keegan ’15 as treasurer.

The Central Committee held a meeting Thursday evening and made plans for a definite vacation campaign for next year’s class.

McWilliams ’15, who was spiked in the meet Friday night, is already off of crutches and it is thought that the injury will not prove serious.

The outdoor interclass track meet scheduled for May 2 will be an exhibition affair. Maine plays Bowdoin here earlier in the afternoon.

Manager Porritt of the Bowdoin Publishing Company has issued a call for Freshmen candidates for assistant manager to report to him immediately.

Among the alumni who have been on the campus during the last week are: Stubbs ’09, Robinson ’11, McFarland ’11, Kern ’12, Wish ’13, Savage ’13 and Eberhardt ’13.

The debates with Wesleyan have been indefinitely postponed owing to the illness of Parsons ’16, and to the inability of Leigh ’14 and Gage ’14 to participate owing to probation.

Following the probation of the Bowdoin Seniors, the report comes from Lewiston that half the members of the Bates Sophomore class have been placed on probation for kidnapping four of the Freshmen.

At the meeting of the Student Council March 17, in the Library, Leigh ’14 and Eaton ’14 were elected members of the Limitation Board. The speakers for the Spring Rally and also suitable souvenirs were discussed.

Owing to the Faculty ruling regarding the probation of Seniors, the trip of the Musical Clubs to Boston and New York has been indefinitely postponed. The concert in Brunswick, scheduled for tonight, has also been postponed.

Plans are being made for the formation of a track club, similar to the Monday Night Club and B.B.B. Club. “B” men, manager, assistant manager and trainer are eligible for membership. Meetings will probably be held Thursday nights.

The Bowdoin Chapter of Delta Upsilon will hold a dance in their dance hall Friday evening, March 27. The committee in charge is composed of Perkins ’15, Knowlton ’15 and Stride ’17. The patronesses will be Mrs. S. B. Furbish and Mrs. A. O. Gross.

With the Faculty

Professor McConaughy spoke last Thursday at the Kennebec County Teachers’ Convention at Gardiner.

President Hyde recently spoke on “The Larger Righteousness” at the Central Congregational Church Vespers in Boston.

Professor Catlin will give a lecture on “Women in Industry” at the Burnham Gymnasium, Portland, on Friday, March 27, at 3 p. m.

Professor Loomis has accepted a professorship at Purdue College, Lafayette, Indiana. He will take up his duties there, as professor of physical chemistry, next fall. Professor Loomis intends to spend the spring vacation in Baltimore and Washington.

The Other Colleges

Statistics recently compiled by the Pennsylvanian, the daily paper of the University of Pennsylvania, show that practically all colleges in the country, except state institutions, are named in honor of their founders, or someone who has been liberal in endowments:

"Harvard was named after John Harvard, who in 1638 left £779 and his private library of 300 books to the school.

"Dartmouth was named for Lord Dartmouth, a subscriber of large sums of money toward its support and president of the first Board of Trustees.

"Williams was named after Colonel Ephraim Williams, a soldier of the old French wars and a loyal supporter of the school.

"Hon. Nicholas Brown, a graduate of Brown University, is responsible for its name. He became very wealthy and gave his school much money and a large library.

"Bowdoin was named in honor of Governor Bowdoin of Maine.

"The name Colby was caused by the fact that Mr. Colby, of Boston, a man who had lived in Maine and was much interested in the welfare of what was then called Waterville College. He donated large sums of money and practically put the college on a working basis.

"Yale is accountable for its name to Elihu Yale, a donor of many valuable gifts.

"Cornell was founded by Ezra Cornell.

"Dickinson College was the recipient of the generosity of Hon. John Dickinson, one of the presidents of the Board of Trustees, who gave very liberally toward the support of the college.

"Leland Stanford has a unique story of its name origin. A small boy, the only son of a rich California railroad man, has this honor. Before his death he had many times expressed the wish to do something great when he grew up, toward giving an education to boys who could not afford to go away to college.

"Pennsylvania is named after the state, from Thomas Penn and Richard Penn, the proprietaries and governors-in-chief of what was then known as the provinces of Pennsylvania."

There has been recently a great deal of discussion in the collegiate press on the summer baseball question. In response to a request by the Yale Daily News, several replies have been received from leading college captains, the consensus of which seems to be in favor of summer baseball. The substance of the letters of Captains Blossom, of Yale; Roades, of Princeton; Porter, of Johns Hopkins; Vaiden, of the Navy; and several others was that any man who had extraordinary baseball ability and was trying to get through college should be allowed to play summer baseball without rendering himself ineligible to play on the college nine. Captain Dana Wingate of Harvard, and Emlin Hare, chairman of the faculty baseball committee at the University of Pennsylvania, took a still stronger stand, contending that even a professional, provided he were a bona fide student, should be allowed to play on a college team.

The Williams Record has made a radical departure in the rules governing competition for the editorial staff. For the past two years election to the board of editors has been based primarily upon the quantity of material submitted by the candidates rather than upon the form. While initiative and energy will still be encouraged under the new system, by which unassigned work will count 40 per cent. instead of 75 per cent. as under the old system, more time will be given for the "write-ups," and quality will be the prime essential.

An anarchist club has been organized at the University of Wisconsin. The noted Emma Goldman and other prominent anarchists have been secured for speaking engagements.

Alumni Department

'50.—On February 23, Rev. John J. Bulfinch, A.M., of Waldoboro, Maine, died at the age of 84 years after a busy life of ministerial and educational work. He was born in Waldoboro on May 1, 1830. At Yarmouth Academy he fitted for Bowdoin, graduating with honors in the class of 1850 of which he was one of the last three surviving members. After graduation he prepared for the Christian ministry at Bangor Theological Seminary, graduating in 1856, and held pastorates in Perry, Boothbay, Newcastle, Freeport, Washington and Bremen, Maine. In 1870 he married Emeline D. Thurlow, who died in 1872. Since 1886 he has made his home at Waldoboro, preaching on alternate Sundays in neighboring towns.

As a preacher his sermons were characterized by very careful preparation both from a religious and literary point of view. He accumulated a large library on theology and general literature and was throughout his life deeply interested in all important social questions. In him was worthily maintained the tradition of the Congregational denomination that its ministers should unite scholarship with practice. Believing that the influence of good schools cannot be overestimated, he never failed to labor consistently for their advancement.

He early associated himself with the Prohibition party, believing that national prohibition would be effective where state laws failed. At the cost of much self-denial and some misrepresentation he upheld the principles of the new party for many years; and remained faithful to it to the end of his life, holding that though it might be of little significance politically it yet served as a protest against the lax enforcement of the temperance laws.

'59.—Major John D. Anderson of Gray, Maine, is a candidate for the office of surveyor of the port of Portland, the office held for many years by the late General Joshua L. Chamberlain. He has the unanimous backing of the Grand Army, the Union Veterans' Union, and the Loyal Legion of Maine.

'61.—An interesting article on Reciprocity with Canada by Dr. Edward Stanwood has recently appeared in the form of a reprint from the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

'75.—Rev. George Grosbwell Cressey, Ph.D., D.D., who returned to the United States last September after a pastorate of six years in the Effre Road Unitarian Church, London, England, is now minister of the Unitarian Society, New Brighton, Greater New York. Dr. Cressey will give a series of lectures at Meadville Theological Seminary in April on "The Preparation and Delivery of the Unwritten Sermon."

'83.—Dr. F. M. Fling, of the University of Nebraska, is giving a popular course of lectures on six European statesmen, Turgot, Mirabeau, Napoleon, Maeterlinck, Cavour, and Bismarck. Their lives cover the century (1774-1871) during which constitutional life and nationality rose in Western Europe. The proceeds from the course will go to the Social Settlement. Dr. Fling gave a course of lectures last year that were a success in every way. When the course was first proposed this year the committee received the names of 100 persons who signified their intention of attending.

Prof. F. M. Fling recently scored the anti-suffragists, or those who claim that "woman's sphere is in the home," very heavily at a meeting of the social science department of the Omaha Woman's Club, when he declared that it was no longer a question of woman's right to vote, but very plainly her duty to participate in the solution of all social problems. He advocated the adoption of the motto, "Nothing that concerns humanity is a matter of indifference to me," for those women who were content with the evil conditions of the day so long as their immediate happiness was not threatened. "There is no truth in the statement that women unsex themselves when they participate in the public welfare movements. They don't become real women until they have reached these heights," he said.

Touching on the question from a historical point of view, Dr. Fling characterized the suffrage movement as a class struggle—the struggle of the one-half to emancipate itself from man rule. He stated that a surprising change, amounting almost to a revolution, had taken place in the lifetime of the women in the audience. He put aside the much-vaunted argument of woman's inferiority to man as being only a masculine interpretation, or that of the dominating group. "It is a loss to society when but one-half of its members participate in the work for the good of society. Only by an equal participation will we attain to the highest degree of perfection."

In dwelling briefly on the peace problem, Dr. Fling stated that public opinion would change over night and that something could actually be accomplished in its behalf, if women would concern themselves sufficiently in the question.
