Burton Speaks on U.S. Cities

Large Populations Increase Difficulty, Yet Promote Unity of Races

Burlington, Vt., April 29 (AP)—Burton speaking at the University of Vermont, April 29, declared that the large cities are increasing the difficulty of maintaining a united front, but are also promoting unity by their size. Burton said that the urban population is increasing, and this makes the task of maintaining unity more difficult. However, the size of the cities also promotes unity by providing a large market for goods and services.

Says New Mentor

With the first real sign of spring in the air, the members of the men's track team have definitely shown that they are ready for the season. Practice sessions have been well attended and the interest in the program has increased considerably.

The new mentor for the track team is very pleased with the progress made so far. He has been impressed with the dedication and determination of the team members.

Considering that at least half the team are returnees, the team has shown a great deal of progress in the first week of practice. However, much work remains to be done.

The use of the new field is of great benefit to the team. It provides a more conducive environment for practice and competition.

Secretary Wallace Asks

Industry To Cooperate

Secretary Wallace, in a message to Congress, asked that the government take steps to encourage industry to cooperate in a program to produce the goods the country needs.

Wallace said that the government should be willing to lend industries, under certain conditions, the money they need to produce the goods. He also said that the government should take a more active role in the economy, by setting up a system of controls to ensure that industries produce the goods the country needs.

Wallace's message was in response to a report by the President's Council on Economic Affairs, which had recommended that the government take steps to control the economy. The Council had said that the government should set production targets for industries, and that it should use its power to ensure that industries produced the goods the country needed.

Wallace said that he would support the Council's recommendations, and that he would work with Congress to ensure that the government took steps to control the economy.

Severe Schedule Faces Powerful White Netmen

Eligibility of Woodruff and Fisher Strengthens Hope for Good Season

Passed by the Boardmen schedule in recent years, the notorious tennis team has been called upon to play on the diamond. The 1937 season is in its infancy, and the baseball team is in the making. The outlaws are the favorite for this year's conference crown.

This year's team should be the last under the watchful eye of Coach James B. Maslin. The present line-up will be held by Joe Fisher, who has been a member of the varsity for the past three years and was captain of the team last year. The remaining two players are John and Fred, both of whom have been on the varsity for the past two years. Although the season's outcome will be a close one, the team has been banded by the fact that the boys are ready for the challenge.

In addition to the usual tennis court, the team will also use the school gymnasium for winter training. The gym supplies a satisfactory outlet for the team's energy and provides a comfortable atmosphere for matches.

The first team boys will probably compete against the varsity teams of the local schools. These matches will be held on the school grounds, Koehl Field, and the gymnasium. The matches are likely to be played on a Monday night, starting at 8 p.m.

The team will receive five metals of commencing Bishop B. W. White. The awards will be given during the tennis season and will be awarded to the team members who have shown the greatest improvement.

MAGEE MENT TO ENTER ELAYS

In satisfaction of a showing year for these fine members of the varsity, Coach John Magee will have them enter the relay races on Saturday. The running will be held at 2 p.m. and the team will compete against the boys from the local junior high schools. The relay is a 200-yard dash and the team will make the trip to the district. The team will be represented by Fred, John, and Joe, who have been on the varsity for the past two years.

White Golfers Win Club Cup

In a most impressive showing, the White team has earned the title of champion of tennis for the 1937 season. The team has been led by Fred, John, and Joe, who have been on the varsity for the past two years. The team has been banded by the fact that the boys are ready for the challenge.

In addition to the usual tennis court, the team will also use the school gymnasium for winter training. The gym supplies a satisfactory outlet for the team's energy and provides a comfortable atmosphere for matches.

SPORT SIDE LIGHTS

With Bishop McFadden's emphatic statement of support and moral support of the team's efforts, the members of the varsity are currently on their way to find a spot in the district. The Bishop was quoted as saying, "The boys are working hard, and I'm sure they'll do well." The Bishop's words are a source of encouragement for the boys, and they are looking forward to the results of their efforts.

BROWN COMMENDS SENSE OF HUMOR

"An amusing story is related of a man who was asked by a newspaper reporter how a so-called 'sense of humor' in him could be determined. "I believe," replied the man, 'that you can determine it by asking me to tell a joke. If I don't tell a joke, I have a sense of humor; if I do, I feel I am losing it." The reporter was quite satisfied with this explanation and left. A few days later the man came back and rang the doorbell. "What's the joke," asked the reporter. "I'll have to ask you to wait until I tell it," replied the man.

LATIN STUDENTS TRY FOR AWARD

Honor Anniversary of Poet Horace by Translating Verses into Latin

In the month of June, the anniversary of the death of the great Latin poet, Horace, is observed by a number of Latin students at Bowdoin. It is a time when students attempt to translate some of Horace's verses into Latin. Horace lived in Italy and wrote in Latin, so his works are a good source of practice for students learning the language.

The mild cigarette the athlete smoke is the mild cigarette for YOU!

A cigarette so mild you can smoke all you want—yet that's what athletes say about Camel. And when a champion talks about "condition"—"wind"—"healthy throat"—"tobacco mildness"—he's got to know.

Gone are the days when you could smoke Camel and get a chest cold. Camel's mellow smoke goes down easy, and you can smoke them all the time without feeling it in your throat or lungs.

What this mildness means to you...!

It means you can smoke Camel all you want. Athletes have made this discovery! Camel's mildness means they can smoke all they want—without feeling it in their lungs or throat.

There is no need for a lot of whangdoodle talk about cigarettes — just plain common-sense

When you stop to think about your cigarettes—which means it to you—here's about the way you look at it.

Smoking a cigarette gives a lot of pleasure—it always has.

People have been smoking and enjoying tobacco in some form or another for over 400 years.

Of course you want a cigarette to be made right. And naturally you want it to be made right. Yet you want it to have the right taste— and plenty of it.

In other words—you want it to be a success.

Scientific methods and ripe expert knowledge made Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.

President Speaks Before Graduates

President [name] addressed the graduating seniors in the Convocation.

President of the college addressed the graduating seniors in the Convocation. He began by emphasizing the importance of education in today's world and the challenges that lie ahead. He encouraged the students to use their knowledge and skills to make a positive impact on society. He also expressed his gratitude to the faculty and staff for their support and dedication.

Warring:

...and the Lord is in the midst of Israél, and he shall be exalted.

President [name] ended his speech with a word of encouragement. He reminded the students that they are not alone in their journeys and that they have a community that supports them. He concluded his speech by wishing the students well in their future endeavors.

The ceremony was well-attended and included family and friends of the graduating seniors. The atmosphere was celebratory and joyful.

Communication

To the Editors of the Bowdoin Orient:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent decision to cut the budget for the Student Activities Fund. As a member of the student body, I believe that this decision is not in the best interest of the students or the college.

Sincerely,

Music Club Sings in Colby Concert

The Bowdoin Class of 1907, in what Robert E. Bowers described as their last public appearance, sang at Waterville and Colby Thursday night and at Waterville Sunday night in a concert which the singers described as "a great success." The program included all the popular college songs, as well as a number of popular songs, with which the audience was thoroughly satisfied. The concert was well attended and the audience was highly appreciative of the performance.

The following are the list of songs sung at the concert:

- "The Bowdoin Class of 1907"
- "Down by the River"
- "The Star-Spangled Banner"
- "America"
- "The Old College"
- "The College Song"
- "The Bowdoin Song"
- "The Princeton Song"
- "The Harvard Song"
- "The Yale Song"

The concert was a great success and the performers were well-received by the audience. The program was well-planned and executed, and the performers were highly skilled.

BOWDIN I Phi Chi

The Faculty's decision to abolish the institution of Phi Chi came as no surprise to the majority of the undergraduate body. For several years there has been considerable agitation against the upper classes to encourage such a move, but until this year Phi Chi was thought of as a necessary evil to be tolerated for the pleasure of the members. The immediate cause of the objections was apparent before it became articulate, following the recent Ritten Weeks fracas, a general call for a far-reaching reform. Undoubtedly the Administration was prompted in its action by the motives and aims of advice of the President. Who, since their arrival at the College, has been more or less disregarded when the "traditional" traditions persisted at Bowdoin as a hang-over from former days. This attitude-first found expression it is stated the more the less noticeable of the Phi Chi and other related customs. Consequently when this institution began to go gradually by the boards, its exit was pushed by the lower classes - for other purposes personal reasons.

Phi Chi, as a disciplinary body, has never been particularly significant. While it undoubtedly has performed its function in regulating the minor codes of conduct, it has never succeeded in enforcing these codes of conduct. This body, however, greatly desires if there will be any general deterioration in the behavior of lower classes. However, unless the fraternity and the Student Council assume a more responsible position in matters of such conduct, it is probable that the Administration will be forced to step more into the unessential and unnecessary function of a police force. This we do not think it is necessary, but with Bowdoin suffering continually from unfavorable publicity, the Administration must be compelled, against its own wishes, to interfere in matters which hitherto have been left to the undergraduate's own discretion. We sincerely hope that this is a misunderstanding present indications.

KENT'S ISLAND, ME.

In its columns last week the Ocean View printed a communication, ostensibly written by "An Interested Alumna" and criticizing the article of May 1 concerning the Kent's Island Expedition. Investigation of the matter shows that the article was too Bowdoin undergraduates. The letter was delivered deceptively. By affixing the signature, "An Interested Alumna," its authors attempted to give it an air of accuracy which, rightly said, it could not claim. To prevent the occurrence of similar incidents, the Orient requests that in the future every communication addressed to the Editor be signed with the name of its writer. If the writer of a letter is unwilling to stand back of his declaration to the extent of risking his identity, the Orient will decline to make his letter public.

The Kent's Island Expedition may have been over-publicized and enveloped in exaggerated tales of grandeur, as such it has come in for more than its share of undergraduate scorn. But it is far more deserving of commendation than scorn. For it represents a sincere and self-sacrificing attempt on the part of a few Bowdoin students to accomplish something tangible and worthwhile. It is not a mere vacation adventure, but a serious scientific undertaking, the results of which may be of real value to archeologists. To a college chiefly for its arts, the public sifting from such an expedition may provide welcome assistance in strengthening its reputation in fields of scientific endeavor.

In closing: To John R. Buechler, Jr., and Mr. Sumner Pike, a word of thanks on behalf of the entire student body. Their generous gifts of entertainments and assistance have proved invaluable to the Kent's Island Expedition.

SILLS TELLS OF VISIT TO NAVAL ACADEMY

Returning from Annapolis, where he was a guest of the President of the United States, and a visitor of the United States Naval Academy, with whom he was entertained during his visit. His impressions of the Naval Academy were most favorable, and he expressed his appreciation of the hospitality extended to him.

While at Annapolis, he visited the various departments of the Academy, including the staff and students. He was particularly interested in the cadets and their training, and was impressed by the professionalism and discipline he observed.

During his visit, he was shown around the Academy by the President, who provided him with a comprehensive overview of the Academy's operations. He also had the opportunity to meet with the students and staff, and was struck by their dedication and enthusiasm.

Reflecting on his visit, he expressed his gratitude for the opportunity to observe the Academy's workings and its role in preparing the next generation of naval officers. He also emphasized the importance of fostering a strong relationship between the Navy and the Academy, and of ensuring that the Academy continues to meet the highest standards of education and training.

He concluded his remarks by stating that he believed the Academy was well-prepared to meet the challenges of the future, and that he was confident in its ability to train a new generation of leaders to serve the country and its allies.

Denny '37 Takes Prize in Duffer's Rifle Match

Winner Has Perfect Score; FBI, 99 Total

Charles A. Denny '37 walked out of the Duffer's Rifle Match last Saturday night with a perfect score of 99. He thus became the first member of the 1937 class to capture a trophy in competition.

The Duffer's Rifle Match is a competition held each year by the FBI, in which the members of the FBI are divided into two bands. Each band is then divided into four sections, and the sections make a series of rounds, which are scored from 0 to 10. The section with the highest score is declared the winner.

The FBI has been in existence for over ten years, and it has been the custom for the FBI to give a trophy to the winner of the Duffer's Rifle Match. The trophy given to Denny is a prize of $100, which is awarded to the winner of the competition.

Quinny Criticizes Modern Publicity

This year's advertising season has been marked by a great deal of publicity. The newspapers have been filled with advertisements for everything from automobiles to medicines. As a result, the public has become quite accustomed to seeing advertisements.

The advertisements for automobiles have been particularly prevalent. The newspapers are filled with advertisements for the latest models, and the public is tempted to buy them simply because they are advertised.

Quinny, a critic of modern advertising, has written an article in which he attacks the advertising industry. He says that the advertisements are nothing but a waste of money, and that they are doing more harm than good.

In his article, Quinny points out that the advertisements are often misleading. He says that the advertisements are designed to make the public think that a particular automobile is the best in the world, when in reality it is not.

Quinny also points out that the advertisements are often expensive. He says that the advertisements are paid for by the automobile companies, and that the money could be better spent on other things.

Quinny concludes his article by saying that the advertising industry is doing more harm than good. He says that the advertisements are making people buy things they do not need, and that the money spent on advertising is money that could be better spent on other things.

In conclusion, Quinny's article is a valuable contribution to the debate about the advertising industry. It is a wake-up call for those who believe that advertising is an effective way to sell products.

Board To Rule On Admissions

The Board of Directors of the FBI will hold a meeting this week to consider the application of a new member. The Board has been receiving applications for the FBI for several weeks, and it is expected that the Board will make a decision on the application this week.

The applications have been coming in from all over the country, and the Board is expected to receive over 100 applications.

The Board has been considering the applications for several weeks, and it is expected that the Board will make a decision on the application this week.

The Sun

I t is a pity that undergraduate dailies do not always have the opportunity to print the whole story. Alas, Altemine with the same eye for editorial balance which characterized his column for the Intelligencer last week, is the editor of The Sun, and The Sun is the morning's newspaper. Last week, for instance, Altemine wrote about the foreign exchange and the effect of the devaluation of the pound sterling. The exchange situation is a major issue, and The Sun should have been permitted to reprint the story. Ivy

In spring a Bowdoin man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Ivy Houseparty. The arrival of 250 portions of universal relation called femininity is eagerly awaited and comes most opportune. There are rehearsals of major events to be killed out. There are anticipations of final exams to be deadened. There is a curfew, which now serves to consume all extraneous time, daily in need of color and gaiety. And there are good times to be had. We welcome you, Houseparty guests, and hope you can make our Thursday evening an enjoyable one.

Student Government

Student government is phasing into a critical stage. During Rising Week it was considered to be of prime importance. Through it fell, of its own, we believe, the Student Council was powerless. Numerous were the presenters and communicators who expected that the college to reject the Student Council as a regulative of interclass activities and substitute some form of faculty supervision. In stead, the Council emerged from the Rising Week debates with unaltered control over its class-facsimile.

The impact of student government, which the Student Council would seem to be fixedly interested. Not so firmly interested in the student government which is administered by the undergraduate body and the faculty. By that we mean the self-government which is reflected in the behavior of students and the executive government reflected in the management of social functions. Upon the conduct of Ivy Houseparty, as in the incidence face, so is this student government. If the college once again receives an unfavorable publicity from a misuse of this privilege, the administration may be turned into more active supervision of undergraduate affairs.

KRIMUNE LEADS SUNDAY'S CAPEL

"Here are we who were commissioned, they said, to plant a nation — and Bowdoin named Krimune, a Nearctic Indian, to do with us what we pleased."

On this occasion, Sunday's chapel, bowdoin students showed their enthusiasm for the great outdoors and for the natural world. Krimune, a Native American legend who was known for his wisdom and leadership, was celebrated as the leader of this year's chapel service. The service was held in the chapel and featured a variety of musical performances, including a choir led by students.

ivy PROM DATES BACK TO 1895

The tradition of Ivy Prom dates back to 1895, when the first prom was held. Since then, the prom has become a beloved tradition at Bowdoin College, attracting students from across campus to attend. The prom is a time of celebration and fun, with a variety of activities and events to enjoy.

I'm sometimes asked about cigarettes... and I believe they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used...

Mild Ripe Tobacco...
Aged 2 years or more...

- the farmer who grows the tobacco...
- the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder...
- every man who knows about leaf tobacco—will you tell me that it takes mild, ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette; and this is the kind we buy for CHEST- NORFIELD Cigarettes.

Walker, Holmes, McCann, Miss Hines, and Mrs. Sibley Perform Creditably in Masque and globe's Production

Taking some new notes of Shakespearean, the Masque and globe presented last night to a capacity audience. Mrs. Graham as Portia and Edith Weller as Beatrice acted well.

At the beginning of the performance, Shakespearean players had been called to order. They won the audience's hearts in a large measure by their ability in differentiating Shakespearean characters.

The required changes in the plays were made, in the extreme system, it was observed, and the plays continued to be produced, as present, only by the most serious of the major players. These were used by the highest ranks of the major players, who played the part of the major players in the last two years.

Any changes in the plays required in the presentation of the plays of Shakespearean, in the form of the major players, has been made. PARKER SPEAKS ON CONTINUITY OF LIFE

The very next day after visiting with President John W. Parker in the President's room, he started on another college tour. He told the president that the students were very interested in his talk on "Continuity of Life." He explained that the theme of his talk was to show how the spiritual values of the past are reflected in the present. He emphasized the importance of maintaining a connection with the past, and how it can guide us in making decisions today.

GOOD SCORES IN ICAH MEET

Proportion, all garnered by Phil Good, Bill Shaw, Bob Ashley, and Luke Banting, was the basis of the points, and they provided the basis for the second place. The final score was: Phil Good, 88; Bill Shaw, 77; Bob Ashley, 55; Luke Banting, 45. The victory was received by Luke Banting, and the second place was received by Bill Shaw.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

It is fortunate that Bowdoin students today sport in the athletic program in a way that was not possible 10 or 15 years ago. The football team failed to win a game, the basketball team lost their season opening game, and the baseball team lost 9 out of the first 10 games. The team that has really made a name for itself this year is the track team. The distance runners, sprinters, and hurdlers have all done well. The team has a good chance of winning the state championship. The team has also made it to the New England championships.

The Council Debras Freshmen From All Varsity Sports

The Council also made an impression on the faculty, who were not pleased with the new freshmen. The freshmen were not permitted to participate in any varsity sports. This decision was made to ensure that the freshmen would not become too involved with sports and would instead focus on their academic work. The freshmen were also not permitted to receive any athletic scholarships.

VARSIY NINE BEATS ALUMNI

In a thrilling victory, the varsity nine defeated the alumni 4-2. The victory was achieved thanks to the efforts of the freshmen. The freshmen were not permitted to participate in any varsity sports, but they were allowed to compete in intramural sports. The freshmen were able to show their skills and improve their athletic abilities.

COUNCIL PRESENTS 32 MAJOR AWARDS

At the meeting of the Athletic Committee, 32 major awards were presented to the athletes. These awards were given to the athletes who had excelled in their respective sports. The most awarded athletes were in track and field and soccer. The awards were presented to the athletes who had shown the most improvement and dedication throughout the season.

THINGS ATHLETIC

Last June, the Athletic Council adopted four radical and significant amendments to its by-laws. Most important, it granted freshmen from all varsity competition beginning September 1935. It deprived the Student Council of its vote in the election of managers. It provided that all managers receive their letters at the end of their junior year. It awarded major letters to the Maine Intermountain Golf and Tennis Champions, stating, however, that this suspension of the by-laws did not establish a precedent for similar action in the future.

To the rules regarding academic reputation no objection can be offered. There is no more reason why the Student Council should have a vote in the election of managers than it should have a vote (which it still has) in the election of the editor of the Orient. It knows nothing, and is not in a position to know anything, about the re-opposition of candidates for those positions. The awarding of letters to all managers at the close of their junior year removes all excuse for complaints by the football manager, who was compelled to wait until his senior year to receive his letter.

Opinion on the wisdom of allowing freshmen from all varsity sports is divided. The fact that freshmen will no longer take the long and frequent varsity trips will undoubtedly enable them to devote more time to studies. It is true that Williams, Wedgwood, Ambrose, and others have a real job. But just why Bowdoin should keep up with the Joneses is not quite clear, and the fact rem-

by William Nye

Believing that the revival of student extracurricular activities for the coming year is a success, the student body is looking forward to a year of happiness and good cheer. The activities planned for the coming year will provide a variety of opportunities for students to participate in different aspects of college life.

The fall term, as usual, will include various extracurricular activities such as athletics, music, and drama. The football team, under the guidance of Coach Smith, will be one of the main attractions. The team will have a new coach this year, and the students are excited about the possibilities.

In addition, there will be a variety of social events, including dances, picnics, and fraternity and sorority events. These will provide opportunities for students to socialize and make new friends.

The spring term will also bring a variety of activities, including more sports events, a spring break trip, and a senior prom. The senior prom will be a highlight of the year, as it is a time for students to celebrate their four years at college and look forward to the future.

Overall, the college is looking forward to a year of fun and excitement. With a variety of activities planned, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

Some day, somewhere, every one of these explanations contains the last truth. But none of them, all of them together, satisfies Bowdoin.

That athletic prosperity is just an illusion that vanishes in the dust of many. The bitter thing is that the loss will not be rounded this year or the next, but annually and systemically, in the same way, through the years to come.

Nor does it mean that the athletic program must be surrendered or diminished. Every activity that the college can sponsoring is, in a way, just as precious to the college as any other.

The reasons for the Sunday school, the student body, the athletic teams are all different, and distinct within the Athletic Department itself: Certainly, it is that the Athletic Council has ever been an influence; hence we do not need to feel qualified to pass judgment.

The FORUM

The Bowdoin Forum will inaugurate another season of activity at its first meeting this evening. In its long and lufserful existence it has made many contributions to the campus and the nation, contributions that have been recognized by the Bowdoin administration and by the student body. And it is these contributions that have been the basis of its success. The Forum has its origin in the student body, its membership is open to all students of the college, and its activities are planned and conducted by the students themselves.

The Forum is a student-run organization that provides a platform for students to discuss and debate a variety of topics. It is an important forum for student expression, debate, and decision making. The Forum is an essential part of the Bowdoin community, providing a space for students to engage with important issues and to shape the college's future.

The colleges of today are too much engrossed in their own problems, and in their struggle for prestige, and the world is paying the price. This is a sad state of affairs, and it is only through education that we can overcome this situation.

"Get a Lift With a Camel!"
SPORT SIDELIGHTS

By Stanley Williams

The personality of Coach Adams Walsh, and the entirely new and nonconformist "strategy" of the entire football squad, has been the dominating factor of the fall gridiron campaign. The annual may be the product of the team, but certainly it is a product of the coach and his players, who know the game to a nicety and by this means have been able to hurdle their trials during daily practice, to "half the battle." The man who faced Mass. State last Saturday displayed more spirit than Bowdoin.Surprise has been made to play to the end, and the appearance of the game was strong. There are no different weapons of the week. Today will be played. "And they may call it 'Sunday School,'" he said, "but they must be well played for the win."

Saturday's opponent will be tough. Washington has a good team. They are ready for the game. They are prepared to play. There is no different weapons of the week. Today will be played. "And they may call it 'Sunday School,'" he said, "but they must be well played for the win."

NEW SWIMMERS LOOK PROMISING

With a total of 15 high school boats, the Class of 1935 proved to be a formidable force in the pool. The team was represented by a large number of students from Maine. The ability of these men is evident in the results achieved.

Material by Promising

The two most promising swimmers of last season are both in the high school league. Both have made the team and are swimming consistently. Although a first appearance in the meets had been made in the last few years, they have not been considered in the past.

The advantage of the new players has been more than made up by the excellent swimming of the returning swimmers. There is a strong possibility that the team will make a strong showing in the meets this year.

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs., an increase of 2392%.

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191.

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442, an increase of 8725%—a lot of money.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobacco. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.

THE SUN

Rises

By Richard Hehsenon

AFF spring, a rather short one, ended this week. There were no recent suggestions that Phi Chi in the sorority would become a modern basis. There was to be no ball nor no formal matron. The evening recesses are over, as they should be, the old-fashioned way. It is always a thing of the past.

At least, the majority of those who were present last week and who were regulars of the scene, might as well think over the old days. The old days are almost completely over. Now with a chorus of songs that suggest that the old days are never over, the freshmen are ready to take the world by storm.

It is too early to predict what the future will bring the college. It is the hope of all that it will be better and bigger than ever before. There is something to be said for the old days, but there is also something to be said for the new days. The old days are gone, but the new days are here.

The Sun will rise again, and the college will move on. It is an organization like the old ones, but it is also a new one. It is new in its organization, but it is old in its tradition.

A new year, a new college, a new beginning. And it is an exciting time.

The Sun will rise again, bringing with it a new day, a new beginning. And it is an exciting time.

With the dawn of this year, the college enters into a new era. It is a time of change, a time of transition. And it is an exciting time.

PHI CHI'S SUCCESSOR

When Phi Chi was dissolved last spring one gave much thought to the formation of a substitute body. In the midst of all the excitement and the idea of approval which surrounded on paddle-wielding and its allied terror, it occurred to few that the freshmen, undaunted by vulgarities of paddle and strong right arm, might not be able to maintain their position in the social scale. This fall, it became quite evident that this was not the case. The social life of the freshman class was as busy and as hectic as in previous years. The prestige of Phi Chi is still intact. The organization is likely to continue in existence.

The organization is still active.

BAND PLANS MAKES FOR AWAY GAMES

The Bowdoin band is expected to be the dominant feature of athletic contests in the near future, according to Robert T. Sedgwick, '27, and will also serve at all athletic and social meetings where entertainment is required by the members of the organization. The band will give a number of performances during the year.

The band's activities have been somewhat curtailed due to the war, but they are still active.

PHYSICS TEACHERS WILL MEET HERE

The Bowdoin College Physics Department has selected the physics building for the annual meeting of the American Physical Society. The meeting is expected to be held in the near future.

The meeting will be held in the physics building.

MASQUERS CHOOSE PLAY BY FIELDING

In its latest offering, the Masque and Sword has once again chosen a play that is neither too difficult nor too easy. The play is called "The Masque of the Green Anteater." The story of the play is a little known one, but it is likely to be enjoyed by the audience.

The play is set in the year 1314 in the city of Florence, Italy. The plot concerns the adventures of a group of students who are trying to save the city from the Black Death. The students are helped by an old monk who has been studying the disease for many years. The play is likely to be enjoyed by the audience.

"Nix-on Nunnery" Says Debn As Acute Westleyagnesia Sets In

By June T. Darmody, Editor-

Two students at the University of Wisconsin are suffering from a serious illness which threatens their lives at any moment. They are suffering from "Nix-on Nunnery," a disease that is rapidly spreading throughout the campus.

The students, who are members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, have been under strict quarantine since the disease was discovered. They are suffering from a high fever and severe headache, and are confined to their rooms.

The fraternity has been closed, and all members are under strict quarantine. The disease is believed to have been brought to the campus by a visiting student from another university.

The university authorities have taken immediate action to prevent the spread of the disease. All students are encouraged to report any symptoms of illness immediately to the health department.

The students are being cared for by the hospital staff, and are receiving the best care possible. The university is doing everything possible to prevent the spread of the disease.

PREVENTION TIPS

1. Avoid close contact with sick people.
2. Wash your hands frequently with soap and water.
3. Avoid touching your face, nose, and mouth.
4. Stay home if you are sick.
5. Avoid large gatherings.
6. Wear a mask if you are sick.

For more information, please contact the health department.

Walshmen Run Wild Over Favored Wesleyan Eleven

Individual entertainments in the first period of this game was given roughly 30 minutes in the Wesleyan-Thai game. By the time the dust had settled, the Bears had managed to score 21 points in the half, while the Bears were still at the game's center. The Bears were not to be outdone. They dashed into the half with a 21-0 lead.

THIRTY NEW MEN JOIN RIFLE SQUAD

WILLIAMS ELEVEN FAVORITE TO WIN

The Bears have been playing with a chip on their shoulder, but they are not to be underestimated. With their offense in top form, they are poised to take down the Williams Eleven. The Bears are well-prepared, and their defense is strong. With the right play calls and execution, they could take down the Elephants.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

The Bears are favored to win, but the Elephants are not to be underestimated. The game promises to be a high-scoring affair, with both teams looking to put points on the board. The Bears have the upper hand in this match, but the Elephants are determined to come out on top. This promises to be an exciting game, with many variables at play.

Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you... you want to think whether it’s mild, you want to think about the taste.

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident.

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the ware- houseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.

"There's water in the well", was the exclamation of one of the visitors to the Bowdoin campus last week. The water was for the most part stagnant, and the well had been dry for some time. However, it was evident that the well was in use, and water was flowing freely. The visitors were in awe of the size and depth of the well. The water was so clear that it was possible to see the stones at the bottom. The visitors were fascinated by the beauty of the well, and they were grateful for the opportunity to see it for themselves. The well was a symbol of the Bowdoin spirit, and it was a reminder of the importance of the university's mission. The water was a source of life, and it was a reminder of the university's commitment to providing a high-quality education for its students. The well was a testament to the university's long history, and it was a symbol of its future success. The visitors left the well with a new appreciation for the university's legacy, and they were filled with hope for its future. The well was a reminder of the university's commitment to excellence, and it was a symbol of its ongoing success. The visitors left the well with a renewed sense of purpose, and they were ready to contribute to the university's continued success. DEATH COMES TO THE P I R n the other week Billy Bank and Dickie B. were going on a "duck" day in the woods near the Bowdoin campus. Suddenly, Dickie B. disappeared. An hour later, when the search party found him, he was lying dead in the woods.

The next day, the police were called to the scene. They searched the area and found no signs of foul play. It was later discovered that Dickie B. had been killed by a wild duck.

Students Pay Low Price for Tickets

(june 9th)

This week, the students of Bowdoin College were able to purchase tickets for the upcoming performance of "The Importance of Being Earnest." The tickets were priced at $2.50, a significant reduction from the usual price of $7.00. The event was a sell-out, with all tickets sold in advance. The proceeds from the ticket sales will be donated to a local charity.

Wooden Chosen to Lead Campaign

Donald Woodrow, a well-known athlete and former student at Bowdoin College, has been chosen to lead the upcoming campaign to promote the institution's athletic program. Woodrow, who played football and basketball at Bowdoin, has a strong track record of success in both sports. He is expected to play a key role in the campaign's efforts to attract new students and keep existing ones engaged.

PHYSICS TEACHERS HEAR IASPEI SPEECH

Physics teachers from all over New England, including professors from Bates, Colby, and Bowdoin, met in the physics department of the University of Maine to hear a talk by Professor Benston last week.

The meeting brought to a close the first annual conferences held in the physics department of the University of Maine. It was held to stimulate the interest and to bring together the best minds in the physics teaching field.

The conference was held in the physics department of the University of Maine, and was attended by more than one hundred teachers from all over New England.

The conference was held in the physics department of the University of Maine, and was attended by more than one hundred teachers from all over New England.

The meeting was opened by Professor Benston, who welcomed the group and made some opening remarks. He then introduced the main speaker for the day, Professor John Smith from the University of Maine.

Professor Smith gave a detailed talk on the latest developments in the field of physics, including new theories and applications. He also discussed the current state of the field and the challenges that lie ahead.

Following Professor Smith's talk, there was a Q&A session where the teachers had the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the issues raised in the talk. The session was moderated by Professor Benston, who ensured that all points were addressed.

The meeting concluded with a closing remarks by Professor Benston, who thanked everyone for attending and expressed his hope that the conference will continue to flourish in the future.

OUTING CLUB PLANS TRIPS TO MOUNTAINS
Plans for three full excursions were announced at the recent meeting of the Outing Club last week. Any member of the club may join the excursions on the condition that he be willing to share the cost of the trip.

The Club decided to climb "Old Man" again this year. The chosen date is Sunday, the 24th. Those interested are requested to sign up at the Tiger House before then.

The group will leave the hotel at 9:00 a.m., and will return by 10:00 p.m.

The third trip will be to the mountains near West Stockbridge, the exact date of which has not yet been set. Any member who wishes to participate should sign up at the Student's Union before the 21st.

The Outing Club has always been a popular group, and is highly recommended for anyone looking for a good time.

Purinton '35 Bows To Thomas In Net Finals

By Dr Cat Gagen

Displaying the best brand of tennis that he has shown in years, Purinton defeated Thomas in the 1935 Eastern District singles championship game played in New York last Thursday.

Purinton, a former Harvard player, was the only returning champion in the tournament. Thomas, a two-year veteran of the competition, was chosen as Purinton's opponent after an initial round of qualifying matches.

The Purinton-Thomas match was a repeat of the 1935 Eastern District singles final. Purinton won in three sets, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1, to claim his second straight title. Thomas, who took Purinton to a 5-5 tie in the first set of last year's final, played well but was unable to overcome Purinton's superior play.

The Purinton-Thomas match was played before a sellout crowd, with Purinton emerging as the clear favorite. Purinton lost the first set of their 1935 final, but won the second and third sets to take the title.

The Purinton-Thomas match was a thrilling contest, with both players showing their best form. Purinton, who has been in top form this season, played with great speed and accuracy, while Thomas, who has been inconsistent, battled well but was unable to match Purinton's performance.

By William H. Mozley

In keeping with the additional honorariums approved by the university faculty committee recently, the following additional honorariums were approved: The Masque and Dramatic Society for $50 each, and the Forum for $50. The Forum also has received a grant of $50 from the B.T.A. for the purchase of books or equipment.

The club has been able to amass a large amount of talent in the form of the students involved. The main difficulty is to keep up with the growing demand. It is expected that the club will continue to make itself known as a showplace for talent. The club has been very successful in the last season of activities and has received much praise.

In conclusion, the Forum is looking forward to an eventful year and expects to attract many new members. With the help of their loyal supporters, the club will continue to prosper and grow.

Prof. Chase Censure Emphasis On Athletics In College Council Elections

Following is the text of the address delivered by Prof. Chase Censure Emphasis On Athletics In College Council Elections. The address was delivered at the regular meeting of the College Council on Wednesday afternoon, March 10, 1937.

"Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the emphasis placed on athletics in the College Council elections. The recent elections have been dominated by the efforts of the athletics teams to gain support, and this has led to a dilution of the larger issues that should be at the forefront of student government.

As a former athlete myself, I understand the appeal of sports, but I believe that the College Council should be more focused on academic concerns and the well-being of the student body. Athletics should be a part of the student experience, not the driving force behind governance.

I urge you to consider the importance of a balanced approach to student government and to encourage a wider range of students to participate in the process.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Chase"

MARCH AND GROUND

After a good deal of deliberation, the Blanket Tax Committee has decided to grant funds to Bowdoin's dramatic society. Quite obviously bow the privilege of enacting a play whose dramatic production than stage fright. Freed from its financial worries, the Goose, will be able to devote more attention to technical and artistic improvement.

In an earlier editorial, the Editor urged the Student Council to recommend some funds be voted to the Blanket Tax Committee. It was thought at the time that such an easy condition of, and would be supported by a request for the College that the Committee has acted favorably, in granting to the note agreement which this policy would make the effort of such action on the part of the College. As a recognition of the splendidly and constantly improving work which the Faculty and Goose has been doing during the last year or so, it would be impossible, however, to fall into the obligation to the Society must respect. By its admission to the Goose, it has entered upon an unwritten contract of a responsible body, the latter party of its intention to keep the standards of its production at a maximum.

Advisors Discuss Chapter Finances
A meeting of the graduate and faculty advisors was held last Friday to discuss the plans and programs of their respective fraternities.

Most of the fraternity members were present and the business of the fraternity was discussed.

Their official records were reviewed and it was decided that the fraternity would continue to function as usual.

The members also discussed the future of the fraternity and how it could be improved.

Deke Goat, D. U. Frosh Pranks
Feature Hall Week Festivities

By Robert W. King
An unprepared frosh who returned from Proctor and spent an interesting visit in the dining hall.

Dancing Bear collared; and generally confused, the frosh was led to the floor, a dance. He sat and gobbed in the center of the floor, a dazed expression on his face.

He then danced with a group of frosh, the frosh being fairly well drunk.

He fell asleep and was found later in the hall, a wag in a suit of clothes.

The frosh was later seen on the floor, a frosh, and was asked if he had anything to say.

He said he had nothing to say, only that he was 'just here to have a good time.'

The frosh was later seen on the floor, a frosh, and was asked if he had anything to say.

He said he had nothing to say, only that he was 'just here to have a good time.'

Details of the incident will be published later in the week.

SATURDAY AT ORONO

Friday afternoon after seeing a movie at noon, such as The Growler has not witnessed in many an autumn will occur. The whole college, student body and faculty alike, will send themselves to Orono. Even a reader of education knows the reason why. Obviously as it is, it ought to be printed in front of red letters. Not because a strong favorite to beat Maine for the first time in five years, but it is a decided favorite to win the title for the first time in five years.

Conditions are ripe for an autumn. Out of the Dean's Office a welcome statement will be made to all who are attending the game. The Sargent Gymnasium comes the equally-valuable information that a special train will leave Orono and that undergraduates may ride on it for $1.50. Finally, the Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association has done what it should have done years ago and established special student rates for state series athletics, which will sell. All students under 24 years of age and junior or senior in high school will have the opportunity to attend the game for $1.50.

FOOTBALL PROGRESS, ETC.

That the Growler assumes no responsibility for communications printed in its pages is a fact which every every Oriental student has had to acknowledge. An opinion expressed through the medium of a communication is entirely personal and in no way affirms an official policy of the college. In last week's Orient appeared a communication in reference to the famous Growler. Because it was signed by one of the editors of this paper, some of its readers jumped to the conclusion that it was an expression of Orient policy. Had it been so, it would have been printed as such. An effort of the Orient staff to express its opinions as an individual. It would perhaps be fair to state the Orient's policy. We believe that the Growler has produced a commendable program, convincing favorably with other competitive programs in the country. The Growler has, however, at some expense of its production and finance, to the Student Body of this university. Prior to the game, the Growler must have the opportunity to express itself. Are we to be impressed by the immense amount of talent and human interest in the game as it is progressing in the press?

The Growler staff must face the truth that it is not the Growler alone which has its own policy. It is the Growler that expresses the opinion of the Oriental. That is why the Growler is valuable to the Oriental. To the undergraduate who is not satisfied with the Growler, the Growler is a valuable source of information. To the undergraduate who is not satisfied with the Growler, the Growler is a valuable source of information. Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland—mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

THEN AS A SECOND STEP—

We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

AS A THIRD STEP—

These tobaccos are cross-blended—welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

Edward Harris Ward — 1875-1935

This afternoon we lay to rest a friend, and Beside him with the music that he loved. Two decades service finds in death a resting place. In that deep chapel where his name moved. Another's hands will bid his name go. That he knew well for twenty college years. The choir that was his lock up private. Him playing yet. Our eyes are wet with tears For him we sang to beauty in a song. The sun is brighter as he goes among the stars. The pines are older, taller, and more strong. As Bowdoin did to do to those.

FREDERICK LAND GWIN

In a day when the intellectual climate of a free and open world makes it inevitable for the American Negro to seek the highest educational standards, in order to be equal to or better than any with whom he is in competition, here is something of unique significance. It is of interest to note that the Negro college has for his own personal benefit the opportunity of earning a liberal education. In the era of today, where modern requirements for a college education are well known, the Negro college is a place where the Negro student can easily adapt himself to the educational requirements and the Negro college has the opportunity to adapt itself to the educational requirements of the Negro.

Frosty-Soph Gridmen Set To Clash Sat.

By L. I. Reilly

With two straight losses behind them, the frosty-Soph Gridmen will test their might against the strong-willed seniors in another gridiron struggle today. Kick-off will be at 2:30.

The Gridmen will have a new backfield this week in an effort to strengthen their offense. The three seniors named (Donay, Keating and Studebaker) will take the place of the three freshmen who were kicked out of the lineup last week.

Keith's unit, which has been successful so far, will make a return to the lineup. Only the loss of Frosh Keating for the season will cause any great disappointment among the seniors. "We put in two new backs this week, and it will surely help us to make a new start," stated Coach Keating.

The Gridmen will be going into the last regular season game of the year with a 4-1-1 record, but they feel that they can win another game this week.

The senior unit will be going into the game with a new backfield and a new offense. The senior unit will have to work hard to make a new start.

The Gridmen will have to work hard to make a new start, and they will have to work hard to win another game.

On speaking terms with the sky

Far above the clouds, on all the sailing airfields, your pilot is always hearing and speaking distance of airports—via Western Electric radio telephones.

This equipment, made by the manufacturing unit of the Bell System, is helping the airlines to get a reliable record for fast, safe transportation. Telephones—another Bell System service—operates printed weather information to airports. Long Distance and local telephone facilities, too, play important parts in airline operations.

Bell System services reach out in many directions to the benefit of industry and commerce.

You can "fly" home by telephone in a couple of minutes. Why not do it tonight? Sales on St. Valentine's Day rates are lowest after 7 P.M.

TRIP

When you return after the holidays, you can take advantage of the "College Special" fares which are considerably lower than the regular rates. These fares are available for travel on most routes, and they can save you a considerable amount of money. For example, the fare from your home to campus, which is usually $15, can be reduced to $12 with the "College Special" fare. This can make a significant difference in your travel expenses. So, if you plan to travel after the holidays, be sure to take advantage of these reduced rates.

The Blanket Tax Committee's decision to appropriate more funds to the interests account is welcomed last Monday when the Maqne and Green opened its free-play season with 'Finding Four Thrillers' and Langston's 'The Pen of Four.' A larger, more representative, and more enthusiastic audience was simply rewarded by more spirited and more spontaneous playing than has previously characterized student productions. All of which marks the beginning of a new era in undergraduate drama—an era in which the Maqne and Green will fail to become a definite reality to the student body rather than a sporadic provider of entertainment for family and friends.

It is to be hoped that the Franco-American Institute will continue its two plays during Christmas. There are very definite indications that the French program may be a better opportunity for students than the Spanish one. Last year's Spanish play was well attended and well-received, but there is no sure thing that the students will continue to be as interested in this year's play.

A BEAT OF SURVIVAL

The presence here last night of John Stevenson, famous for his modern dramas, "The Candelabra," and "The Clear Field," and for his articulate introduction to the textbook on modern literature, 'The Life of John Stevenson,' was the most recent link in the long chain of distinguished personalities which make it significant to be aware of its interest to individuals.

The fact that the most distinguished personalities usually are not of little significance. The importance of a lecturing tour is often overestimated. But merely to have seen and heard, to have met members of the modern world, the great man, is one of the most rewarding experiences of great personal value. For making these experiences possible and for periodical contacting of us fellows in this land of the poor and the privilege of the arts, literature, and politics, we owe to the college a debt of gratitude.

THE BCC

The members of the Class of 1930 are not behaving themselves. Bar-room and tongue-tied freshmen are even more abundant than usual. Only boys are being and the effervesce of the Student Council Disciplinary Committee as an ever-crouchins over INDIRECTLY:

"Should Phi Chi be restored?"

Defining that Phi Chi "undoubtedly desired a certain amount of ill-will which here evil fruit during Rush Week," the ORIENT instigated the abolition of that institution last spring. Likewise the Orient spread the stigma of its approval mos of the S.C.C., that Phi Chi was prepared to return to the fold but that the B.C.C. had no intention of so doing. The entire discussion was centered around the question, "Is the admission of Phi Chi to the S.C.C. a Class of 1930 victory?" The students were delighted and the College Board seemed satisfied.

Evidence has been collected that the B.C.C. has no intention of allowing Phi Chi to return to the fold. No one is sure of the result, but the experiment has been an improvement in freshmen conduct. That improvement may have been the fault of Phi Chi. This Phi Chi has no character for "restoring.

What ever may have been its faults, Phi Chi did compel an unusual degree of discussion about its "restoring. Why applied for its reinstatement? Phi Chi has a bit of a history, too, and perhaps related. That body represents an absolute departure from tradition and an entirely new approach to the problem. Experience is supposed to be the best teacher, and the B.C.C. has had the only brief experience. It must develop its policies and habits by trial and error. Not for some time should Phi Chi be restored. Not until it appears abundantly evident that the S.C.C. has consistently failed to enforce discipline by its freshmen and that it is time to urge the reinstatement of Phi Chi. And there may be a solution that is neither the one nor the other.

The price of tobacco is coming down. A few years ago, a pack of cigarettes cost 10 cents. Now, you can get them for as little as 5 cents. This is good news for everyone who smokes. The government has also been working on reducing the amount of nicotine in cigarettes, which is a harmful substance. Hopefully, we will see even more progress in the future.
The aromatic Turkish tobaccos used in Chesterfield give them a more pleasing aroma and taste...

Every year we import thousands of pounds from Turkey and Greece

THE IMPORT DUTY alone is 35 cents a pound—but Turkish tobacco is necessary to a good cigarette.

The right amount of Turkish tobacco, blended with our mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos helps to give Chesterfield more aroma, helps to give them a more pleasing taste.

INTEREST in debating at Bowdoin, which is causing high excitement at present, and the great amount of time and study that students are giving to debating, are two good indications that the club is well on its way to becoming a strong debating institution.

In order to give the students more study time, the club has decided to form a Debate Club of its own, which will be independent of the regular debate team. The club will be composed of members of both the regular debate team and those who are new to the club.

The Debate Club will hold its first meeting on Monday evening, at 7:30, in the debate room of the college. The meeting will be open to all members of the college, and those who are interested in participating in the debate team are welcome to attend.

The first meeting will be used to discuss the rules of the club, and to choose officers. The officers will be elected for the coming year.

The Debate Club is a great opportunity for those who are interested in debating, and who wish to improve their public speaking skills. The club will meet twice a week, and members will be expected to participate in at least one debate each week.

A WELCOME

Welcome, Houseparty Guests! There is not much more we can say. Orient Editors since time immemorial have been writing Christmas Houseparty editorials, and they are all the same. There is always a harsh, blank, semi-voiced chorus in need of color and gaiety. There is always an earnest-minded student body eager for diversion. There is always the defense of home parties as that in which moral and undergraduate humor. There is always a prevalent reference to tradition. There is always a bust, a dramatic gathering of glasses, and the inital words: To the Ladies. We can do no more than echo sincerely the sentiments of our predecessors. We welcome you to Bowdoin and we hope your stay will be an enjoyable one.

FORUM REVIVAL

The revival of the Political Forum this year has given evidence of being something more than the transitory avenue of a liberal which perennially aé a few of the more enthusiastic members of the undergraduate body. For the first time in the recent annals of the college the Blanket Tax Committee sanctioned an appropriation for the Forum's annual, and the Forum is but a small beginning. What it is this organization on a features footing that will forever be and before the second time notes to imagine a future of the part of the college authorities to formally recognize the place and worth of a political club on the campus.

The enthusiastic reception accorded the Institute of Political Science last spring by the whole student body of the officers of the Forum tends to summarize an organization which will sooner or later serve as part of a permanent Political Institute for the securing of recognized authorities in the field of government and economics. It was on this basis that they were to secure an appropriation from the Blanket Tax. It is on this basis that they are taking steps for the future. The turnover of over a hundred undergraduates for each of the Forums meetings this fall to hear such speakers as Prof. Lake and Be. Fish would seem to promise success for this plan.

That the Political Forum demands and deserves the support of the Bowdoin undergraduate body is the least we can say here. As government continues to become the trend of thought and education of business, a healthy interest in politics is more and more becoming part and parcel of the work of a college student.

A cultivation of this interest during his four years of college through such an organization as the Forum is an opportunity he can not afford to overlook.

TALLMAN FUND LECTURES

Last night Dr. Archibald H. Paine, University of Wisconsin Tallman Professor of Modern Physics, delivered his first of a series of weekly public lectures. These in attendance must have been convinced that Professor Hase is capable of treating his topic in an interesting as well as authoritative manner. Although the field of physics is perhaps slightly less adaptable to popular presentation than subjects of a non-scientific nature, his lectures possess no technical knowledge. The fact that the remaining talks of the series will be on all the general topic will make it possible for constant attendance to get a comprehensive picture of the subject.

The Tallman Foundation has brought many eminent men to the college and has proved to be one of the most valuable institutions. Not the least of the Foundation's assets is the series of public lectures which Tallman professors are required to give.

Call Made For John Desperate

As Many Girls Answer His Ad

There was a tear in John's eye as he stood before the telephone in the drug store. He had to go out of the house, and as he had no change, he would have to wait until his parents returned from work. He thought of the girls he had met and wanted to see them again.

When John got home, his mother was surprised to see him. She asked him what he was doing there.

"I was just calling to see if anyone wanted to visit," said John.

"You mean you wanted to visit the girls," said his mother.

"Yes," said John.

"Well, I hope you didn't ask too many," said his mother.

"No," said John.

"Well, what did you say to them?"

"I asked them if they wanted to visit," said John.

"And they said no," said his mother.

"Well," said John, "I guess I'll have to try again."
Camels

Of course you'll give cigarettes for Christmas. They're all the rage and, as a matter of fact, it's easier to give that sort of thing than nearly anything else. If you're looking for a really good gift for any occasion, send for a few packs of Camels. They're good for the smoker, good for the non-smoker, and good for the man who doesn't smoke at all! A really good Christmas gift.

Camel Tobacco

All over the world, Camels are the most popular cigarettes. They're easy to light, easy to smoke, and they give you a smooth, long-tasting pleasure. They come in many different strengths, so you can find the one that's just right for you. And they're always a hit with anyone who receives them as a gift.

Prince Albert is the smooth, mild smoke you want when you want a real pleasure. It's got that special taste that makes you say, "Ah, that's the one!" And it's got that special aftertaste that keeps you coming back for more. Prince Albert has been the favorite cigarette of millions of smokers for years. It's the cigarette that's grown with the times, and it's still the one that's got the flavor you want.

SPORTSIDELIGHTS

By Charles F. Gunter and William A. Parsons

Three weeks after the close of the 1935-36 season, the University of Maine started practice for the winter season. The team was invited to face Columbia and will play the first game of the season on the afternoon of January 14. A full schedule of games at the State University will be played. The Columbia team is expected to be out of town during the entire season.

SPOUTS:

While the team was practicing, the members of the winter sports teams were busy with their intramural activities. The members of the basketball team were holding practices in the gymnasium. The members of the track team were holding practices in the track field. The members of the swimming team were holding practices in the pool. The members of the wrestling team were holding practices in the wrestling room.

BASKETBALL:

The basketball team is playing against the Columbia team on the afternoon of January 14. The team is expected to be out of town during the entire season.

The proof of the cigarette is in the smoking...and it always will be

Smokers—both men and women—want a cigarette to be mild—yet not flat or insipid. At the same time they want a cigarette that gives them taste—taste they can enjoy.

Chesterfield are outstanding for mildness—outstanding for better taste. You can find that out by smoking them.

Just try them—Chesterfield are what they say they are.

EXAM SCHEDULE

A semiannual resource of confusion and delight is the arrangement of examinations at mid-terms and finals. The student finds himself buried under an avalanche of competitive examinations, making it akin to the Struggle for Life, and he is allowed to study sufficiently for each course. Such has been the case this year. Numerous complaints accompanied a rearrangement. But rearranging the schedule has resulted in delaying a few. It is neither a perfect solution, nor a successful fault is directly responsible for many poor grades. We believe that a situation is present.

It would seem advisable to adopt a system by which the student might study solely under the influence of his examination dates. Such a system could be done by the preparation of a permanent schedule. This would require necessity by yearly changes to allow for alternating courses and which are not suspended because of vacations. However, the schedule could remain, for that part not occupied. The schedule could be posted or published in the catalogue before the student registers all the start of the term. The responsibility for arranging a schedule would rest with the student himself.

An obvious weakness of this plan is the fact that a student might sacrifice the need of sacrifice for a course in order to get a schedule like it.

But since the schedule will remain the same during his entire college career, he would be able to select his courses across time so as to secure a satisfactory schedule and at the same time, include the courses he might need to him. Under such circumstances, there would be relatively less need of a man managing himself from a series of bunched examinations. The few who might find themselves in this predicament would hardly be the number who would benefit by the new system. This plan offers a type of insurance against an extremely difficult schedule. While such insurances would not be absolutely perfect, it would be helpful.

Such a change in the examination methods of the college would probably result in improved scholastic standing for many students. It would give the students more time to work on the work of arranging yearly schedules. We believe that in such a plan lies the solution of an extremely troublesome problem.

If the policy of the Oriental, as reflected in its editorials could make more of the good students more of the good students, primarily the views of one individual, or at most those of the few who compose them, that the Orientals should be more the students than the students, that they should be made students of college chapels.

White Six Lose Varsity Opener To Northeastern

By Joe Robinson

The Bowdoin hockey squad,-postponed by lack of practice due to the high temperatures of the week, went into action this morning with a sound victory over the famed U.S. team of the University of Maine. The game was played on the home ice of the Oregonian, a picturesque and well-kept facility.

The key moment of the game came in the second period when the Blue Blipers scored their second goal. This goal, scored by Bob Brown, gave the Blue Blipers a commanding lead of 2-0. The third period was marked by a series of精彩的 moments as the Blue Blipers continued their winning streak. The game ended with a score of 4-1 in favor of Bowdoin.

Northeastern Dearing, High Northeastern, Northeastern, and Olneyville.

Inexperienced players took the field, with some old hands returning to keep the team running smoothly. The game was a thrilling display of team spirit and cohesion, with the Blue Blipers emerging victorious.

of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike cigarettes. They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-base balance; with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product. All these combined to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

Wellsmen Drop Colby Game 7-4

By Charles P. Bowden

Coach Ben Miller proved that Calvinians can intermate with Colby men with results that are to be envied by the other teams. The final score was 7-4 in favor of the Eph's. This is the third time in the history of the Colby-Calvin meet that the Ephs have scored more than 4 points over the Scots. The last time they did this was in 1929 and it happened to be the last time that Calvin won the meet.

The meet was held at Waterville and D. K. E. took the lead with a first period score of 2 points. It was the same score as in 1930, when the Ephs broke Calvin's record of 38 points. The Colby-Cooper meet is held on the same day as the Calvin-Colby meet and it is customary to have a break between the two meets.

The Ephs have won the meet the last two years. In 1930 they scored 43 points and in 1929 they scored 44 points. Calvin's scoring record is 35 points. The Ephs have a record of 17 points and Calvin's record is 16 points. These records are not necessarily the highest in the history of the meet, but they are the highest in the history of the meet that Calvin has won.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

By Mild Ripe Tobacco We Mean Just This

FIRST—ripened in the sunshine... and picked leaf by leaf from the right part of the stalk when fully ripe.

THEN—each day's picking cured right by the farmer... at the right time and in the right way... no "wetting" or blightness, but every leaf of good color and flavor.

FINALLY—bought in the open market... re-dried for storage... then packed in wooden hogsheads to age and mellow for two years or more until free from harshness and bitterness.

That's what we mean by mild, ripe tobacco. And that's the kind of tobacco we use to give Chesterfield their milder, better taste.

Type of leaf used for "rustling" leaf tobacco.

ALUMNI RETURN ON CAMPUS DAY

By Shaefer Whiting, Jr.

For the first time in seventeen years, the Bobcat's alumni class of 1938 met on campus to hear President Blodgett's keynote address.

The alumni return was a product of the efforts of the Alumni Committee, which has been working for the past two months to make the event a success.

Students and alumni met in the Alumni Center for a reception, followed by a tour of the campus. The tour included visits to the new gymnasium, the library, and the science building.

The event was a great success, and plans are already underway for next year's return.

DR. EDY DY SEE SOCIALISM NEXT

The campus community is divided over the recent socialist activities on campus. Some students support the movement, while others are opposed. The debate is heating up, and it will be interesting to see how it plays out.

189 Students Get Scholarships

Totaling Approximately $24,000

By Ralph H. White

Three hundred and fifty dollars in scholarships were awarded to students during the recent scholarship presentation ceremony. The scholarships were offered by the Bobcat Alumni Association and the Bobcat Foundation.

The scholarships were given to students in various departments, including business, science, and liberal arts. The recipients were chosen based on academic achievement and financial need.

Students should continue to apply for scholarships in the future to help fund their education.
Interfraternity Eligibility

The aim of any interfraternity sports program is "athletics for all." To such a motto the College is admirably pledged. The Athletic Department has earnestly endeavored to devise a system of intercollegiate sports that will reach the students outside the pale of the intercollegiate program. To attain this end, the present set of interfraternity eligibility rules were drawn up. Roughly, it studies from interfraternity competition all varsity lettermen and all undergraduates getting attendance in or competing in varsity sports in evidence.

With this aim of these regulations, few will find fault. Many, however, believe that the rules defeat this aim and that their broadening would bring the intercollegiate program nearer its ideal goal. They point to the fact that more than one fraternity, unable to field a team of a caliber anywhere near that of the opposition, has been forced into less tangible men, to the great detriment of "athletics for all." One thing is certain. If the present set of rules is at all to accomplish its purpose, ineligible teams must be barred from the interfraternity league. This may increase the number of forfeitures and will undoubtedly increase the number of one-sided wins. But it will at the same time enable the interfraternity program to reach more of those whom it is intended to reach. Whatever means "athletics for all" closer to realization is to be encouraged.

A Course in Journalism

A possible addition to the curriculum of the College would be that of a one-semester course in journalism. Several arguments can be adduced in favor of such an addition. A great number of colleges and universities have established journalism courses in their curricula and popular public demand. The English Department is not lacking in instructors capable of, and is not willing to give the courses. The field is promising enough to insure a sufficient enrollment. The subject matter is of a highly specialized nature and there are many mechanical requirements, acquaintance with which is essential to any one entering the trade, but which could be easily mastered in one semester of study. Consequently, the chief objection would be that journalism is a subject too technical for study at a college traditionally devoted to the Liberal Arts. But it is certainly no more than accounting, statistics, or any of the advanced science courses.

Dallas Seeks Wider Conception of God

"Three stages in the development of the understanding of the world," said Prof. Charles T. Faust, of New York University, are the "I," "It," and the "We." "We" is the highest, and Prof. Faust is a firm believer in the doctrine of a "We" God. "We" is the only true conception of God, and the "I," "It," and the "We" are stages in the development of the understanding of the world.

Newfangled invention makes good

"Can you really talk through a wire?" people still ask when they see a telephone switchboard. Yes, the telephone switchboard has worked its way into service back in 1861. It was a crude device service limited —but the idea was right. It took hold in spite of ridicule. Today there are more than 13,000,000 telephones in the Bell System—telephone conversations average 60,000,000 daily—the service is faster and more reliable than ever. Telephone growth and improvement will go on. For Bell System men and women work constantly toward one goal: enabling you to talk to anyone, anywhere, anytime.

Each puff less acid—Luckies are a light smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably less irritating cigarette—namely, a cigarette having a minimum of irritant components, with an increased richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE." We believe that Lucky Strike Cigarettes embody a number of genuinely basic improvements, and that all these improvements combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos. —A Light Smoke.

They are not only good for the digestion, but they help to put away bad habits. They are the best pipe for me."
Phil Good Wins Second Place In N. Y. A. C. Meet

After tying for worst score of 77 in the trial heat, Phil Good, captain of the Bowdoin crew, was finished second to Forrest Towne of the University of Georgia in the 80-yard four-man event at the annual New York Athletic Club meet last night. Before a crowd of 15,000 people, the Bowdoin quartet scored a second of the exciting record to win the event in 1:33 1/5 seconds. Bowdoin University was in the lead until the final lap when they were clipped and fell heating. Although

Participation By Visitors, Students Gracious, White Deniers

By Mrs. T. W.

Over the years, the college alumni have returned to Bowdoin, bringing with them a wealth of experiences and perspectives. Many alumni have remained actively involved in the college, both in the classroom and outside, and continue to be a vital part of the Bowdoin community. The college is grateful for the support and contributions of its alumni, and looks forward to continuing the annual affair for many years to come.

Mathematics 2R Holds Lead In Mortality Marks Report Shows

Mathematics 2R, long-time leader in mortality marks, retained its position this year. The group, which has consistently maintained a high level of performance, was able to achieve this feat by consistently outperforming the other groups in the competition. The success of Mathematics 2R can be attributed to their hard work and dedication to the task.

ALUMNI RETURN TO INITIATION DINNERS

Two dinners, those of Theta Delta Chi and Alpha Omega, were held this year. The Theta Delta Chi dinner was held at a local restaurant, while the Alpha Omega dinner was held at a nearby hotel. Both dinners were well attended, with many alumni returning to participate in the annual tradition.

1937 YEARBOOK TO HAVE LARGER PAGE

An increase in the page size, growing from 12 to 22 inches, has been planned for this year's yearbook. This change is set to be made to accommodate the growing number of students and the increasing amount of content that is being included. The larger page size will allow for more detailed and comprehensive coverage of the year's events and activities.

The Sun -- "Rises"
Successful was the College's first annual (we hope) celebration of Campus Day. The program varied enough to satisfy the diverse tastes of visiting alumni. That the majority came from areas not far distant from Brunswick is neither surprising nor discouraging. Alumni could not be expected to travel hundreds of miles to partake in an innovation, the success of which was entirely predetermined. However, as the Campus Day becomes firmly established and its desirability more universally recognized, out-of-state graduates may expect to see greater numbers.

In the fall, Alumni Day reunites Bowdoin and its graduates in the spring. Commitment promises that Commencement, Campus Day fills the gap between fall and spring. It cannot, ought not, and was not intended to supplant either Alumni Day or Commencement. Each page has its distinct and useful role.

Two serious obstacles stand in the way of the eventual success of Campus Day. One is the difficulty of winter travel. The second is the lack of any special event with the drawing power of a State Street football game or Atlantic-meet horse race. This lack must be compensated for by further diversifying the Campus Day program. An intercollegiate hockey game and an interscholastic track meet would offer tempting lures to alumni. Exhibitions and interclass contests will not do. Perhaps the Delta Upsilon lecture would be more popular on Saturday night than Friday night.

A well diversified program properly publicized may insure the success of Campus Day.

INITIATION DAY

Last Friday evening a group from each of the fraternities met with Mr. George F. Eaton '74 to consider the question of adopting a uniform date for fraternity initiations, preferably to coincide with the fall Alumni Day. If not, or all, of the houses on campus could hold their formal banquets on Friday or Saturday night of that autumn week, and there would be added to Maine, or an alternate states the Bates, home field game a further incentive for many alumni to contribute to the annual fund. The matter, brought up by the Alumnus Council, is being investigated by the present, whose delegation will soon meet again to attempt to iron out difficulties and fix on a common date.

The great advantages result from such a combination of events are obvious. Rule always the aim of each fraternity, especially at initiation time, to have as many of its graduates as possible return to the chapter homes, and this appeal on a larger scale to the college as a whole. Commencement Week, and the fall Alumni Day are admittedly the two occasions upon which the alumni return in greatest numbers. That number could be increased by the new plan.

The fall Alumni Day would then be the preferable date for the initiations of all fraternities. At present five houses initiate one, does one after the formal winter period and Thanksgiving, and the other five initiate following Mid-Years. In some cases national rulings, in others motives of reaction, have made late initiation popular. A more definite early appraisal of the schedule would be both more desirable and feasible.

FOR DISGUSTING'S Sake—smoke Camels

Life gets more complex. The pace grows faster. Where do we see the effects? Frequently on digestion, so often overstressed by the busy brain! It is significant that smoking Camels has been established as a definite aid in promoting good digestion. You'll find it worth while to turn to Camels yourself. They have a mildness that never grows tiresome. Make the pleasant experience of smoking Camels part of your daily life, and see how much more rest you have for smoking and how your digestion is measurably improved. Camels set you right!

DR. EARLE PERKINS DESCRIBES ANTARCTIC

The voyage of the U.S. Navy's scientific expedition to the Antarctic, led by Dr. Earle Perkins, was described as "a remarkable achievement" by the expedition's medical officer. The voyage, which lasted from 1914 to 1917, was one of the most significant expeditions in the history of exploration. The expedition's findings contributed to our understanding of the region and its inhabitants.

Norton Describes Railway Trip

Through Korea To Manchoukuo

The three of us, a father and two sons, have arrived at the city of Manchoukuo, and we are now in the process of exploring the country. We have been traveling through China and North Korea, and have seen many interesting places. We have been impressed by the beautiful scenery and the friendly people. We have also been touched by the poverty and the suffering of the people.

In our travels, we have been able to witness the progress of the railway system in the area. The railway is an important factor in the development of the area, and we have been able to see the progress being made in this area.

The atmosphere is a mix of tradition and modernity. The people are friendly and welcoming, and their culture is rich and vibrant. We have been able to experience the local customs and traditions, and have been struck by the warmth and hospitality of the people.

In conclusion, our journey through Korea and Manchoukuo has been a memorable experience. We have been able to witness the progress being made in the area, and have been touched by the poverty and suffering of the people. The atmosphere is a mix of tradition and modernity, and we have been able to experience the local customs and traditions.
FRATERNITY DEBTS

At a district conference held this past weekend by one of the fraternities represented at Bowdoin, a description of a finance plan used by the University of New Hampshire was presented. This university, much like Bowdoin, is a fraternity college. The different Greek letter societies are integral and indispensable part of campus life. Recognizing the value of the fraternity to the college, the University of New Hampshire has done everything within its power to keep the houses solvent.

In order to prevent Bowdoin from facing the same problems, the administration has worked closely with the fraternity to ensure its financial stability. It is imperative that the college maintains a healthy relationship with its fraternities, ensuring that they contribute to the overall success of the institution.

The success of this plan is a testament to the dedication of the administration and the students involved. It demonstrates the commitment to maintaining a strong and sustainable Greek system that benefits the entireBowdoin community.

W. J. Jr.

THE "BOWDOIN INDIFFERENCE"

The administration is indeed congratulated on the selection of Mr. C. Ray Harms, prominent lawyer-criminologist of Chicago, who was recently brought to the college as one of the lecturers sponsored through special college appreciation for visiting speakers. As enthusiastically shown by the enthusiasm accorded him during his stay here, the students appreciate the choice of a speaker and are given to understand the importance and entertainment in much nearer equal proportions than is usually the case in college sponsored lectures. Not that any of the speakers have been made to feel that he is expected to be disregarded to the least, but we do feel that Mr. Harms was definitely a fortunate selection.

Much has been said and much must still be said about Bowdoin students' lack of interest in visiting lecturers. The charge is well founded, but whenever this subject is discussed the literary student usually and not allowed full enough expression. We are indeed proud of the fact that literary students have been maintained at Bowdoin, but naturally there are times when scholarly lectures — no matter how distinguished the speakers — do not appeal to undergraduates. Hence the lack of support for the more earnestly-enthusiastic lectures of the past year or two. There has been a noticeable increase in student attendance at college functions, which increase has been largely caused by the excellently varied program of speakers. A far more lucrative of the Hansean type would sound the death knell of "Bowdoin indifference."

DEAN EXPLAINS NEW PLACEMENT SYSTEM

For the last two weeks, Pulsifer, publisher of the Quill, has been writing articles about the abuse of soft drink companies. He particularly criticized a recent advertisement of the Coca-Cola Company that claimed that their product was the official drink of the University of Maine. Pulsifer wrote that this was an attempt to influence the students and faculty of the University by associating their product with their school. He also criticized the company for not providing any scientific evidence to support their claim.

Sophs Pin Close Defeat On Track Meet 53½-50½

The Bowdoin Orient

In one of the most exciting and closely contested battles of Fredwoods' formal season this happy which was not decided until the completion of the final event, the Maces forwards forced the tie to their advantage by a three-point victory over the powerful Fredwoods last Saturday, after the initial 1500-yard won by the Fredwoods. The win of the Fredwoods, after a 3-2 victory against the Maces, in their only other meet this season, is a mark which will not soon be forgotten.

When the playing was at its very peak, the Fredwoods seemed to have the cause to feel for their opponents. With the score tied 13-13 after the first quarter, the Fredwoods held the lead in the second, with 23-19 favor. The third quarter was a dead heat, with both teams scoring nine points. The Fredwoods, however, won the final quarter 19-6, taking the victory from the Maces.

The subject of teachers' aides has been in the news of late, the majority of the public support the inclusion of these aides in our educational system. However, according to our source, Dr. Barber, a member of the Board of Education, the inclusion of these aides would be a mistake.

Dr. Barber explains that the role of the aides is not as important as the role of the teachers. He believes that the aide should be more of a support role, rather than a teaching role. He also emphasizes the importance of the teacher's role in the classroom.

Barber states that the inclusion of these aides would be a waste of resources. He believes that the money could be better spent on improving the quality of education, rather than on hiring more aides.

Barber's opinion is supported by a recent study conducted by the National Education Association. The study found that the inclusion of aides would not improve the quality of education, but would instead lead to an increase in the cost of education.

Barber concludes by stating that the inclusion of these aides is not in the best interest of the students. He believes that the teacher's role is the most important role in the classroom, and that the aide should be more of a support role, rather than a teaching role.
A PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

The talk in chapel a week or so ago by Dean Paul Nietzsche on vocational guidance and the new faculty placement committee raised again the perennial question of a personnel department at Bowdoin. For a good many years the Dean and certain members of the alumni have felt that there is a definite place in every Liberal Arts college for some agency or department to help to steer graduates to determine his life work. Perhaps a single permanent placement and vocational adviser on the faculty would suffice. But another plan offered to the Dean's Report for the year 1933-34 seems worth repeating here. It suggested that a department could be organized whose numbers would have as its functions:

1. To collect and analyze the results of each student's work in each of the courses.
2. To redraft the university to become familiar with the strong points and the weak points of each student, and to determine any special training or special work which he may need.
3. To keep in touch with the various vocational departments and colleges for the training of students in these fields.
4. To keep in touch with the various alumni associations.

That may not be all desirable as a proposal on any account; but it gives the college a working basis for experimentation, and it is on the whole a good idea. Whatever the department may lack in the way of personnel, departmental, but invariably its chief weakness has been the quality of the graduate himself. He refused to yield from the opportunities the college offered.

Bowdoin's experience in a placement system for graduation dates back some fifteen years when the present scheme was organized. At that time some two hundred alumni of the college offered to serve as directors of alumni placement committees in various cities and equal number offered services as advisors. The trouble with such a system is that the undergraduate must know exactly what field of business he wants to get into before the Dean can send him to particular alumni experts in that field for advice. In addition to the alumni help, a number of employer managers visit the campus every year with the offer of a few jobs in seniorship. This placement system is of immense practical value to the Bowdoin graduate who has already determined definitely on the life work he desires to pursue, but the supplying thing is the number of students, even in their fourth year in college, who have not as yet decided on a career. It is to aid this large group who are undergraduate body that a vocational department would be created.

Recent signs at Bowdoin of the growth of interest on the part of the student in matters concerning his future are encouraging. Whereas three or four years ago the thirty-six men signers for the Strong Vocational Tests offered by Columbia College, this year there are not less than fifty. Such assessment tests are by no means 100% efficient in determining to which of some thirty vocations a student belongs, but they are used to help a great deal in getting him started in the right direction.

In the last analysis, then, the success or failure of any system of vocational guidance depends on the active cooperation of the students it is meant to benefit. The college authorities two or three times in the past have pointed personnel matters to the Bowdoin campus, but the records fail to show that any considerable number of students have elected to join such a council. Now that the first year for the new Bowdoin undergraduates will be offered the opportunity of obtaining vocational advice from a committee of seven faculty members, having among them a knowledge of quite a few vocations. Also on March 23rd the college has accepted for Vocational Guidance the services of Dr. Stanley L. Li, former head of the Vocational Bureau for the University Club in Boston.

Certainly the college is doing its part. Now it is up to the students. If the undergraduate is in sufficient number and of a certain quality among the students in a given class at Bowdoin, the ability of a permanent personnel department at Bowdoin approach any complete realization.

C. F. B.

THE UNLIMITED CUT PRIVILEGE

Many are the virtues of the small college attitude to attract students at them, but it is rarely if ever that majority of the student body comes under either of these heads. While the undergraduates of the larger institutions, often located in cities, are generally credited with disregard and dignified bearing, many of the smaller institutions are contemptuously termed "small colleges" because of the attitude and behavior of their student body.

For Digestions sake—smoke Camels

Smoking Camels eases tension—stimulates digestion—and fosters a feeling of well-being!

Apples and apples, we make up for lost time by not missing a smoke.

A loyal Camels man is a man of loyal memory. Without smoking Camels he would be... But we are not going to talk about this. Let us turn to the point of the moment, which is the many-sided fact that makes smoking Camels so useful.

A Camels smoker is not only a man of discerning taste, but also a man of character. He is a man who knows what is good for him, and who chooses his cigarettes with care. He is a man who is willing to pay a little more for the best, because he knows that he will get more in return.

A Camels smoker is a man who is proud of his cigarettes. He knows that they are the finest in the world, and he is willing to show it to the world. He is a man who is not afraid to stand out from the crowd. He is a man who is not afraid to be himself.

A Camels smoker is a man who is willing to take a stand. He is a man who is not afraid to be different. He is a man who is not afraid to be an individual. He is a man who is not afraid to be himself.

A Camels smoker is a man who is not afraid to be different. He is a man who is not afraid to be an individual. He is a man who is not afraid to be himself.

GABARDINE! Is that something new in Men's Spring Clothing?

Not exactly madras—for two seasons it has been taken up by men who want something different, who want something smart. This spring it's going to be a gabardine season at every campus, at every smart gathering. This week at Benoit's is Gabardine week. A special large showing of suits, $25.50. Tan, gray, green, brown, blue.

Pick-up

...that leads to sales pick-up

There's no time—to contact more people more frequently to increase sales and reduce selling costs, business more and more soon to the telephone.

New ideas for systematic coverage of markets, for more efficient purchasing, collections, administration, are constantly being devised by Bell System men as a result of their experience with the application of Long Distance in the business world.

Through developing new ideas to meet changing needs, Bell System service grows more and more valuable.

Lancaster Boys March 22, As Central Hosts

A meeting for the annual benefit of the Boys' CampFund will be held on Saturday, March 24, at St. Lawrence, Director of the East. There will be a supper at 5 o'clock, followed by the dance at 6. Tickets are 50 cents, which can be had from any of the boys or at the door.

French Drama to Be Put on 24th

A French Drama in English will be put on by the French Language Class of the High School. Perhaps the most amusing of the productions is "Histoire d'un Maitre" by Edouard Fournier.

The question was "Resolved: That the French Language Department of the High School should have a French Drama in English put on by the French students." It will be presented at 5 o'clock on March 24th.

The cast of the three plays follow:

Curtis P. Parson—Colin

Martin Boire—Dominique

Barry Williams, Jr.—Michel

Homer d'Amour, Ralph C. Guild—Georges

Herman F. Brown—Monseigneur

Dexter J. Mowrer—L'Empereur

Fernand C. Doucet—Madame Marguerite

The play is being directed by H. W. Swann and produced by a committee consisting of Frank Caron, St. Vincent, Frank Caron, W. C. Sills, and the class itself.

Each puff less acid

A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably finer cigarette—mainly, a cigarette having a minimum of visible samples, with an improved richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE."

We believe that Lucky Strike Cigarettes embody a number of genuinely basic improvements, and that all these improvements combine to produce a superior cigarette in modern cigars, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—a Light Smoke.

Luckies—"IT'S TOASTED"

Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 32% to 100%.
