College Offers Excellent Opportunities Further World Understanding Peace

Recent world developments and the adoption of a clear foreign policy by the United States have brought home to all Americans the importance of an understanding of foreign nations and the policies of our government. To meet this need, Bowdoin College has been chosen as one of the places where students can study the world.

A key to the understanding of the world is foreign languages. At Bowdoin, foreign students are welcomed into the college community, and foreign languages are taught. In addition, students have the opportunity to travel to foreign countries to study

EDITORIAL VOLUME

A. Wiley 49, recently elected to the editorship of this volume, and Crypt 47, former editor, have been elected to the position of the editorship of the Bowdoin College "Guide Book." The new editors have made a number of changes in the college yearbook, and have added many new features. The "Guide Book" is a meeting of the Bowdoin College "Guide Book," Number 76, 1951.

Cooperative Needs Student Interest; Summer Dining Plans Called Unsound

Very little is known by the undergraduates about the Interfraternity Cooperative, the system under which the houses in the Interfraternity Cooperative are operated. The Interfraternity Cooperative has been in operation without much fanfare in the fall. Few house managers have kept their houses closely informed of the policies and problems of their dining rooms. Publicity has been inadequate.

Section managers who have established a feature which outlined the purposes, general structure, and operating plans of the Cooperative have not said much, since that time many criticisms have been leveled at the lack of information. That article was intended to answer those criticisms in part. In this issue will be found the report of an interview in which questions and doubts have been further answered by an official of the Cooperative.

The purpose of this presentation is to provide adequate information to those students who are members of the Cooperative and those who wish to eat in these houses on a regular basis. The Cooperative is an excellent model in which to operate a dining facility. It is well run and under close supervision by the Interfraternity Cooperative, and more than likely, it could be imitated on a smaller scale in other sections. The Cooperative is organized to serve all fraternities in the Interfraternity Cooperative.

"Semantic Barrier" In Foreign News Vital, Says Prof. Darbelnet

In order to view foreign affairs intelligently one must realize that it is a "semantic barrier" in foreign news. This problem is prevalent in reporting to the public, according to Jean Louis Darbelnet, professor of political science at Wellesley College. "If we can understand the language and the culture, we should realize there is a difference in the way foreign countries report events when we have that understanding, that is the importance of understanding the foreign language." He added that this understanding should be encouraged in the field of journalism. Darbelnet is a native of France and has been a professor at Wellesley College for ten years. He is a member of the American Political Science Association and has published several articles on foreign affairs.

Unl. Will Cooperate; But Pledges No Amount

We read with great interest the account of the "K. of C" in the "World of April 17, 1947," regarding the pledge of $1,000,000 to support the "K. of C." movement. We feel that the pledge represents a genuine concern for the welfare of the "K. of C." movement and that it is a most generous gesture. We are, however, somewhat concerned about the advisability of using advertising money for such a purpose.

The Interfraternity Broadcasting Network, which is operated by the "K. of C." movement, is a national network for the broadcasting of college radio programs. The network has been established with the purpose of providing high-quality entertainment to college students throughout the United States.

Well, the White Key has had it up with its recent dining habits. The luxury and burden of serving meat is being highly regarded by the students, and a definite improvement is being noted in the quality of the meat served. The white Key will now be careful to ensure that the meat is cooked to perfection and presented in an appetizing manner.

We met a character on campus the other day; we couldn't quite figure him out. If Dr. Smith had not seen him before, he would have gone to Spaulding's Records. We got a hold of him through his records: he had been spotted in the music department. Dr. Smith had him to his office, and we asked him the question we had been carrying around in our heads: What is the name of his department? He paused, looked at the天花板, and said, "It's the College of Music."

Folklore Expert To Speak Tuesday
Carmer is Noted Historian, Writer

Carl Carter, well-known folklorist and writer, selected as the speaker for this year, will open at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 30, in the Student Union Auditorium.

"The Centenarian of American Legends," Mr. Carter's address, is a discussion of what "living" or "modern" legends are, the differences between "dead" or "antiquated" legends and how to distinguish them. It is based on the theme of American Legenda.

Following graduation from Hamil ton College in 1948, Mr. Carter began a graduate work in folklore at the University of Illinois, where he wrote his dissertation on "The American Indian Legend," which he has read and been much admired by.Folklore students. Mr. Carter has been a noted author of several books on folklore and a series of articles in various periodicals.

Although in Reports
Reports on "The Legend of the "Red Man" and other topics of American Legend.

Folklorist's chief interest was in American literature and history, and his address is expected to be of interest to all American literature and American history students.

When the lecture begins, Mr. Carter will explain his ideas and his approach to American legends, and will discuss the differences between "dead" and "living" legends.

He will also discuss the importance of American legends in American culture and history, and will explain how to distinguish between "dead" and "living" legends.

Carter is a noted folklorist and writer, and his address is expected to be of great interest to all American literature and American history students.
Unique Place of Fraternities At Bowdoin Presumes Absence of Racial Barriers

The Bowdoin Christian Association has asked the College to take official action in support of its effort to eliminate the religious character of the various fraternities on the campus. The College organization has asked the fraternities through the Student Council to submit any such restrictions to the Faculty Committee on Fraternities with the intention of eventual communication of such restrictions to the members of the Organization of Campus Fraternities. But it does open the way for all students to become fraternity men, if and when admission to the fraternities desires this.

Fraternities as other college organizations are for the wealthy and the socially prominent, and as a result fraternity men are not considered an integral part of the Bowdoin College body. In this way, the student who cannot financially or socially afford to become a member of the Bowdoin College Body, can remain unchallenged and will continue to be unadvised by opportunity. He can still hold his head high, be liked, and above all be respected by his peers.

In contrast with these fraternities at Bowdoin, a student remains a member of the Bowdoin College Body and can receive the benefits of a percentage of the student body.

Library Space Problem Has Possible Solution

The library is equipped with shelves to accommodate books and reference material, and that the day is approaching when the last book will be filed on the last shelf. The answer proposed by the BOWDOIN book committee is to add a new section to the present structure. The cost of this new wing has been estimated by the committee at $25,000 to $30,000, which is about anywhere from $2500 to 25,000 to the college.

Paul W. Reed, associate librarian of the college, said that BOWDOIN has made an effort to add a new section to the present structure. This new wing has been estimated by the committee at $25,000 to $30,000, which is about anywhere from $2500 to 25,000 to the college.

This same architect also pointed out that the library was essentially a three-floor building, and that the BOWDOIN library is essentially a three-floor building. It could easily be used to accommodate the present extensive system of library storage by converting it into a restored shelving system and family offices. This model system of the present structure could be done at a cost far within the possible budget of a college building fund, and it is estimated that the cost of this new wing has been estimated by the committee at $25,000 to $30,000, which is about anywhere from $2500 to 25,000 to the college.

White Key Head Fires Return Bolts At Oriental Sports Editor's Criticisms

The White Key hasdone its best, but this time it has nothing to show for its efforts. At the present time in virtually every corner of the campus there is good reason to suspect that the White Key's effort to impress the Oriental Sports Editor has not produced any results. If the Editor-in-Chief appears, a Square Editor is reported to have shouted, "White Key, don't make the same mistake twice, and don't you dare try to the Oriental editor to help you with anything."

Two weeks ago the little men of the White Key had managed to stir up the Orientals with their "free and easy" sports column, and to force the Oriental Editor to refuse to accept any more of the White Key's propaganda. But with the Editor-in-Chief and the Board of Editors, the White Key has been shut down. The Board of Editors has not published a single issue this week, and the Oriental Sports Editor has refused to accept any more of the White Key's propaganda. The Oriental Sports Editor has stated that the White Key has been shut down because of its "free and easy" sports column, and that the Oriental Sports Editor will not accept any more of the White Key's propaganda. The Oriental Sports Editor has stated that the White Key has been shut down because of its "free and easy" sports column, and that the Oriental Sports Editor will not accept any more of the White Key's propaganda.

Joseph Woods '47 Wins F.D.R. Cup For Campus Work

Joseph Woods '47, who worked as a student manager for the football team and was an athlete for the basketball team, was presented with the F.D.R. Cup at the annual banquet of the Bowdoin College Student Association. The F.D.R. Cup is awarded to the student athlete who has made the greatest contribution to the campus and who has shown the most ability in his chosen sport. This year's recipient was a member of the number of the three lower classes who have shown themselves to be excellent students, and who have made a significant contribution to the campus. The recipient of this year's F.D.R. Cup was chosen by the Student Association Committee and the Board of Visitors, and was announced at the annual banquet of the Bowdoin College Student Association.

"Beezer" Berry Upsets Experts

The storm that last week's victories for the White Blazer-enthusiastic fans that at least somebody made Polar Bearlings pigeon was eliminated in the waters where they were accused, but rather to plan and certain excuses in the present setup. The White Key has eliminated them by appearing few hours before the game was to be played and permitting everyone in the interestingly different. This is the way it should be and we expect that in the long run it will be found the best for all concerned.

A team member of the Polar Bear five, coach Jack Monahan, was working on his plan for the game. He was planning on giving them a look at their own squad's division to better their men in Boston.

II. Of M. Has Sports Monopoly

Although the average sports fan has been spoiled in his Boston appreciation in the spring, followers of Bowdoin athletics would do well to watch the White Blazer and tennis team. If Bowdoin is to gain any prominence outside the state that is going to come in the way of athletic success, it will have to be in one of these two. The tennis team is probably the stronger, with an impressive winning rate over Bates and wins that should cement their state claim. The tennis team would be worth watching even if there were no more involvement outside Bates and would be something worth watching even if there were no more involvement outside Bates.

The University of Maine appears to be divided out of state until the spring. Its Owls' campus having a rating of 7-5-2 in the Little Brown Jug and 5-3-2 in the state of Maine at the Maine Athletic Conference. The Owls will not be in the cold. The Owls did not hesitate to accept a challenge to the Racers in defense of their state title.

End Of My Life Tells Of Youth's Altered Values

By Ralph R. Anderson

The end of the world as set forth in Ralph R. Anderson's novel "End of My Life" will be published soon by the Doubleday publishing firm. Set in the 1940s, the novel is a reflection of the many changes that have taken place in American society in the past few decades.

"End of My Life" is the story of a young man who is torn between his past and his future. He is faced with decisions that will shape his life and determine his destiny. The novel is a poignant reminder of the importance of making the right choices in life.

"End of My Life" is a powerful story that will resonate with readers of all ages. It is a reminder of the importance of staying true to one's own values and beliefs, even in the face of adversity.

Once Again, an ORIENT Editor Extends Time-Worn Welcome To Ivy Day Guests

By Carrie M. Coakley

One of the longest-standing college institutions which seems to have lost its place over the years is the "Ivy Day" celebration. Very fortunate are those who did not go to college in the 19th century, for the event has been nothing but a tradition of the past.

Ivy Day was once a time-worn tradition of the past, and is now being extended to the present. It seems that this event has been revived as a way of honoring the past and the future, and to promote a sense of community among the students.

The event is held annually on the first Friday of May, and is a celebration of the college's history and traditions. The program includes a variety of activities, such as a parade, a speech by the president, and a dinner for the faculty and students.

The event is a great way to bring the past and the future together, and to honor the traditions of the college. It is a time to reflect on the past, and to look forward to the future, and to celebrate the contributions of the college and its students.

Alumni Elections Continue As 6000 Ballots Circulate

By George Paradis '40

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Mead '13, Alumni Secretary, have announced that nearly 6,000 ballots have been returned for the purpose of the Election of Officers and the Election of Trustees of the Alumni Trust Fund. He expects about 20 percent of the ballots to be returned. Already, the greatest number of ballots were returned by the young alumni, which contained over 1,000 votes.

A second ballot will be mailed to all alumni who have not yet returned their ballots. Anyone who has not yet returned their ballots is urged to do so as soon as possible.

The ballots will be counted on June 16, the day before the commencement.

To vote, return your ballot to: Alumni Office, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine 04011. The results will be announced on June 17.

Facts of Debating: Editorial Wrong; Yet Activity Can Still Be Improved Upon

Last week an editorial appeared in these pages entitled, "The Decline of Debating as a Bowdoin Institution." It has aroused much comment and criticism from interested readers, both faculty and undergraduate. It can be said that the participants in debating, both faculty and students, in a disparaging light. The editorial conveyed the impression that the faculty and students were not doing their best and that the decline was drying an unmoistened death.

The criticisms were made that the opinions expressed had been biased and that the facts were not based on the basis that the incident cited as evidence that Bowdoin students who have been associated with Bowdoin debating for some years claim that it is a "dead-march" but is improving all the time.

As evidence they cite the fact that this past season has been about the most successful here in many years. All of them have been larger than ever. More and more able men have come out for the debating team. Especially significant was the improvement in the quality of the members of the faculty.

Our readers claim that, contrary to what was said last week, those members who have been associated with the debate practice to have every intercollegiate debate on the same "topic of the year." But this should not be interpreted to mean that it is not on the "topic of the year," that is, it is on the "topic of the year." It seems that a minority set itself up as the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD."

Who is to say the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD." Who is to say the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD."

Although local support for the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD." Although local support for the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD."

To say that the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD." To say that the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD." To say that the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD."

We are told that selection of judges and methods of judging have been something about the "topic of the year," but that this should not be interpreted to mean that it is not on the "topic of the year," that is, it is on the "topic of the year." It seems that a minority set itself up as the "topic of the year," between the "GOTD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD," and the "KOD."

Billiard Program Expanded 1947-48

Highly requested with the recrual of Billiard with the election of Mr. Smith as the new President of the University of Maine, Bowdoin has expanded its billiard program for the 1947-48 season. The new program will be expanded to include a billiard league for the university, a billiard tournament for the university, and a billiard tournament for the college.

Yarborough Speaks

Yarborough, the new President of the University of Maine, has spoken on the importance of the university’s billiard program. He stated that the program is important for the university’s culture and that it helps to build a sense of community. He also stated that the program is important for the university’s financial stability.

In the tourney, the team was led by Captain Bennett and the Harvard team by Captain Pickard. The match was held at the Harvard courts and was won by Harvard 5-2. The Harvard team won the first 3 games and the Bowdoin team won the last 2 games.

MARCH BRANCH, Bowdoin’s varsity athlete, will compete in the hurdles and long jump in the State Track Meet this Saturday.

The 2½ mile, the day’s feature, was led by Whitfield, the track star of the state. He was defeated by the publisher of the Maine State Track Meet. Although Bowdoin was leading champions at the beginning of the season, they were not able to maintain their lead in the final meet. The Bowdoin team was led by the publisher, who was leading in the state meet in which Bowdoin was defeated.

President Indicates Role
Of Historical Perspective

By John H. Nichols, Jr. '49

Pointing out the importance of maintaining perspective and con-20 sciousness, President Kenneth C. M. Sills addressed the baccalaureate audience at The First Parish Church on Sunday, urging the graduate class to see that justice and freedom are possible in the light of history.

President Sills advocated using the principle of looking forward and backward in evaluating events of the present and past. He reminded the graduates that all of the serious problems would be solved if "the children could be taught that history is an important part of this living thing." He emphasized the need to learn to live in the modern world. He noted that if all of the serious problems could be solved, and if all of the problems were solved, it would be a different world. This would be a world of peace, where justice and freedom could be enjoyed together.

Standards of Education Need Revision

During the war and the trying years which followed, Bowdoin has accomplished a remarkable task not only in maintaining its very existence but in largely rebuilding its standards of education. But now that conditions are returning slowly to normal, it is now necessary that these standards be determined whether they are still sustainable.

The spring term is being laid on educational activities in a specific field or for a given profession. Few young men are in any condition to training a true liberal education—learning not the means of earning a living in any trade, but training them only under supervision.

Another goal in a general respect can be achieved in the background of our civilization. This might be a first year history course expanded into two years with visiting lecturers. Such a course would be especially advisable for men majoring in science.

It seems impossible that a happy compromise can be reached. Faculty members can be relieved of many administrative tasks and return to their professional responsibility of teaching. More freedom will make possible smaller classes and more personal attention. Real general courses in the humanities and learning should be instituted so that every Bowdoin man will have a common background of understanding.

These heavy demands will involve heavy drains on the capital funds of the college. The result should be worth the outlay. For otherwise the College runs the risk of being handicapped by the change. The immediate result will be an appeal for funds from alumni and students.

No Student Opinion

There is no such thing as student opinion," explained a member of the Board of Education to the students of the College. "We have no such thing as student opinion in this country."

This statement contains much truth, but there is also a grain of sand. The larger issue is somewhat the same. Is the right to express an opinion is such a thing as student opinion? The larger issue is somewhat the same.

The present editor of the Orient wrote in his "open letter" to the editor of the Orient that the Orient "wants" a simple platform of objectives and will campaign relentlessly for those objectives. He added, however, that this would not mean "sensational journalism."

Bowdoin Sacrifices Advantages

The sacrifice of Bowdoin's most significant advantages as a small liberal arts college has been the result of the ambitions of 233 new men this fall. The name Bowdoin has always spelled personal education in a human atmosphere. But now the College has achieved all the advantages of the larger institutions — inadequately roomed, shortage of teachers, lack of classroom space, and a perverted curricula of courses—and is preparing to give half an education to a larger number of students than she was used to give.

One hundred men have been found to qualify outside the facilities of the College, thus losing the intimate friendship that exists in the community home and domestic life. Thirty, men have been assigned to rooms designed for two.

In 1940 when the College enjoyed its normal enrollment of 700 and 750, 57 faculty were actively engaged in teaching students. Last fall with 963 undergraduates the number of active teaching faculty was limited to only 61, a dangerous and inadequate ratio of 15 to 1. And this season 71 faculty members will teach 1799 students, still only 14 to 1.

This situation has produced numerous large classes, one of last official statistics, 10. Many courses for students will remain without normally more than names in a record book. Freshmen, who so far have not experienced, are being channeled into a few elective courses open to them which are assuming alarming proportions — especially first-year English and philosophy.

Lack of adequate classroom space is placing an added burden on faculty members, as evidenced by the year's extensions. One professor is devoting an entire day to his summer courses.

Faculty members will have less time than ever for individual conferences and the proper correcting of required work will inevitably suffer. The solving of the ideal teaching — examination and the vicious device of the slide rule.

The College maintains, and with reason, that it would be unwise for any faculty member to leave Bowdoin college already for at least one year. True, through the service of its students, has been a successful service for a successful student — rather than indication that the faculty is a really educated individual.

We had fully expected that Bowdoin would continue to withstand the "promising climate" and maintain its high standards of education. But we find with disappointment that she too has succumbed to the popular demand and abandoned her advantages.

Should Bowdoin Join USNSA?

In the summer of 1946 there was a meeting of the students of the world in Prague at the annual conference of the International Union of Students. The American delegation was not there long when it decided that it was not effectively representing the American students. Since then there have been two meetings of American students to set up a United States National Student Association which represents American students in the International Union and to consider the educational situation here at home. Bowdoin was well represented at both of the meetings.

Two commissions have been set up under vice-presidents, one for international affairs and one for domestic affairs. Also the site of the USNSA has been worked out for consideration in the fall and for the next two years.

On the domestic front it hopes to obtain orientation courses for freshmen, to improve student union to better the opportunities of social and cultural life, to consider participation in employment placements services, to act on housing, to improve scholarship programs, and finally, to study general intellectual appeal among the American students body.

The USNSA's answer to the charge that the American students at the World Youth Festival were not representative and "sold the nation down the river."

Whether or not Bowdoin joins the United States National Student Association depends upon the student body itself, and is worth serious consideration.

We think it is worth a try.

Tufts Downs Polar Bears, 21-12

By David Crawford '49

A traditional big one followed for many years, Tufts has won the last two against Colby, the last one in 1974. The Bears' last win over the Big Red was in 1972, and Tufts has only won once in the last six meetings.

When Coach Jack Stage makes his debut for the season, this week he will be able to count on a nucleus of experienced lettermen around which to build a squad strong enough to gain the state championship. The Bears have had a string of strong teams for many years, and a string of lettermen returning from last year's squad, which placed them at the top of the Blue and White league and in the Red and Blue championship. They will be hampered by De SAN, of Portland, who stated. He has not had a chance to practice this week, but he should be ready to go on Saturday.

Veteran Harriers To Battle Maine For State Title

By Daniel F. McClelland '49

A veteran team of 14 years ago will try to live up to its name and win the Maine state title.

The Harriers, who are from the same class, have seen many changes since they first started, but the team has remained strong. They have faced many challenges, but they have always been able to overcome them.

This year, the team will be facing even more challenges, but they are ready to face them. They will be looking to win the state title and prove that they are still the best team in Maine.

Fumbles Give Win To Jumbo Eleve

The Colby Blue and White team took on the Jumbo Eleves, and came away with a 21-12 victory.

The teams met for the first time in 1974, and the Colby team won 21-12. This year, the Jumbo Eleves come into the game with a 1-1 record, while Colby is 2-0.

The game was played on a beautiful fall day, with clear blue skies and a gentle breeze. The teams played hard, but the Colby team was able to come out on top with a 21-12 victory.

Blind Freshman Aided By Seeing-Eye Dog

Upon reaching the pet, he would pull it out of the truck by a rope tied around its neck, roll it on the ground and clip it. The dog, however, did not take to the idea of being handled in this manner, but it was finally persuaded to follow him.

When the blind man was in a crowd, he would lead the dog in front of him, and the dog would follow him around, guarding him from any possible danger.

The dog was very intelligent and could understand simple commands, such as "sit," " lie down," and "come." It was also very loyal and would follow its master wherever he went.

The dog was very well-trained and was able to perform many tasks, such as opening doors, turning on lights, and helping the blind man to navigate through crowds. It was a great source of comfort and support for its master.

The dog was very much a part of the family, and the blind man was very grateful for it. He considered the dog to be one of his most precious possessions, and he always made sure that it was well taken care of.

The dog was a true companion and helped its master to lead a normal life, despite the challenges of being blind.

Delays Rushing Still Needed

Last spring the ORIENT proposed and fostered a plan to solve the problems created by the frantic summer system. This ORIENT’s plan was formulated expressly to counteract the unsatisfactory practices resulting from high-pressure rushing of incoming freshmen which made a fair-run-out of what should be a careful and deliberate process.

This plan was centered about delaying rushing, the idea being to have a relatively long period—nine months—in which rushing itself was not to take place, but in which fraternities and the fraternity houses would become familiar with each other in a systematic and thorough fashion. That was to be followed by a scheme of controlled pledging which insured all members of the house and fraternity as an institution the highest degree of freedom of choice.

It was agreed that a plan of this nature should not be tried during the summer term. The Administration approved the plan and many among the student body readily promised to try during the fall a reformatted rushing system. Accordingly, freshmen and transfers entering for the summer term met at a smaller, and informal, talks were given by the heads of various chapters, and the titular head of the Student Council. The plan of delaying rushing for a week and of having a written, oral pledge covering a restricted period of time was outlined. The freshmen were later described, and finding it in the interest of the majority of newsmen to the several fraternities was presented with much enthusiasm and confidence.

The plan was not particularly successful during the summer term from certain incidental standpoints only. It was not only voted out by the Student Council, but further revised plans were proposed. It is to be feared that the progressive elements in the Council were surprised by others who wished to press forward for their own well-established fraternities the perfectly obvious advantages which a well-regulated system of pledging and rushing offer.

But that the end was not altogether lost to the future is certain. The ORIENT last spring went so far as to point out the desirability of this type of rushing for the fall term under the right conditions. It was highly improbable that such a scheme would be given fair trial during a summer term when fraternities were all but stagnant and even when certain of them had to abate their activities.

Unless the efforts to reform rushing and pledging made so far are to be regarded as sufficient and lasting, it is worth-while to consider the problem intelligently.

No Student Interest In “Bugle”

Critics of the 1947 “Bugle” and of the fact that the same editor-in-chief had been appointed for the next year were not unfounded. It is difficult for a small group of students to look to the lack of their own interest in the answer to their complaint.

The 1947 “Bugle” left much to be desired—the result of overproduction on the part of those in charge. But the fact remains that no truly competent person may look with much confidence at the future of the book if it is for the most part under the supervision of those who are far from being specialists in the field.

No able journal or sophistication had worked on the 1947 “Bugle” so that they could be advanced on this year’s staff. The 1947 editor refused at first to serve another year but yielded when it became obvious that he was the only person available for the chief editorial position. The students were all too busy.

Not only was lack of student interest evident in the “Bugle” staff, but in the student body as a whole.

The students are responsible for the publication of the book. They who are not ready to criticize might place some of the blame on themselves.

Although Bowdoin's opponent last Saturday had changed its name to the Big White, the sequel remained the same—loss. The Bears were defeated again by the mighty Maine Owls, 20-7. The Owls dropped the Bears to the bottom of the Eastern Eight. Maine, which was five points ahead of the Bears following the first quarter, scored two touchdowns in each of the last two quarters to put the game out of sight. The Owls never were threatened by the Bears, who remained scoreless throughout the game. The Bears were held to only 50 yards rushing and 135 yards passing. Maine led in both categories, with 232 yards rushing and 277 yards passing. The Owls outgained the Bears in total offense, 383 yards to 171. Maine's quarterback, Bob Smith, completed 21 of 28 passes for 277 yards and two touchdowns. The Bears' quarterback, Bob Stankis, completed 10 of 23 passes for 135 yards and an interception. Maine's running back, Eddie Richardson, rushed for 151 yards and two touchdowns. The Bears' running back, Bob Stankis, rushed for 50 yards and a touchdown.

Bowdoin March Falls Short
In Final Period At Whitman

The University of Massachusetts, fresh from a 14-13 loss in New Haven, invited Bowdoin's home team to Saturday night. Bowdoin's home team was defeated 20-13 by the Massachusetts Minutemen. The Minutemen scored touchdowns in the first and second periods, while Bowdoin scored in the third period. The Minutemen outscored Bowdoin 13-0 in the final period.

"Prologue", New Publication, Links Maine Campus Writers

By Fred Willey '47

When the first issue of the new magazine "Prologue" appeared on the campus recently, it was an event of significance to students and faculty alike. "Prologue" is a student publication that will present new and original works of poetry and fiction. The magazine is edited by students and is produced by the students. Its purpose is to provide a forum for the expression of ideas and creativity.

The "Prologue" staff is made up of approximately thirty students, representing a variety of disciplines. The editors are working on the magazine on a voluntary basis. The goal is to produce a quality publication that will be a source of pride for the campus.

The first issue of "Prologue" includes articles on topics ranging from social issues to personal reflections. The staff is pleased with the response to the first issue and looks forward to continuing to produce a publication that will reflect the diversity of the campus community.

Bowdoin Quill Ready To Accept Stories

"The Bowdoin Quill," campus literary publication, has announced that it will accept stories, poems, and other written works. The publication is open to all students, and the goal is to provide a platform for student expression.

The Quill is a publication that has a long history at Bowdoin College. It has been producing literary works for over 20 years, and has been a source of pride for the college.

The Quill is looking for submissions that are creative and original. The goal is to provide a space for students to share their work with others. The deadline for submissions is October 31.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sophomore Seeks Just Criticism

All letters must be typewritten, double spaced. They must be 300 words in length, and signed by name and class. The orient reserves the right to edit any letter they receive.

The Orient reserves the right to publish any letter they receive.

To the Editor of the Orient:

Having recently perused the first Parkway's issue of the "Yank of the Orient," it seems to me that the reviewer of the Don Paul Lawrence's book has read the oxford end of the book, whereas the book is more a collection of the ideas and experiences of the author, a collection of the ideas and experiences of the author, a collection of the ideas and experiences of the author. It is not surprising that the reviewer has been less than enthusiastic about the book, for the book is not designed to express critical thoughts, and it is not necessarily an expression of critical thought that the book is not designed to express critical thoughts.

One of the main reasons that the book has not pleased is not that there is no great story or good writing in the book, but that it is not a book about life at all.

If one wanted to write a book about life in a graduate student, it would be a book about the experiences of the graduate student, not a book about the experiences of the graduate student.

Professor Lawrence is not a writer who has answered the question, "What is a graduate student?" He is a writer who has asked the question, "What is a graduate student?"

Does the Library contain a book about life at all? It is difficult to say.

The book is not a book about life, but it is a book about the experiences of the graduate student.

State Championship Called Battle For Improving Team

By George McCullough

The last two victories have brightened the future for the Polar Bears. However, two more games must be won this season if they are to qualify for the national playoffs.

The Polar Bears have just completed a string of three straight victories, the first of which was over the New Hampshire Wildcats. The team's record shows three victories and two defeats, but they have played a tough schedule. The team's offense has broken through three of the four defensive lines it has faced, and the defense has been solid against the New Hampshire Wildcats.

In their last two games, the Polar Bears have scored 66 points against the Wildcats and 47 against the Amherst College Purple. These games have demonstrated the team's ability to score and defend against strong opponents.

The next game is against Williams College, who have won all three of their games so far. This will be a tough test for the Polar Bears, but they have shown improvement in their previous games and are capable of winning.

Football and Cross Country Teams To Meet With Williams On Saturday

By H.C. Hopkins

The football team will face Williams College on Saturday, and the cross country team will meet with them on the same day. The football team has scored 66 points against the Wildcats and 47 against the Amherst College Purple. These games have demonstrated the team's ability to score and defend against strong opponents.

The next game is against Williams College, who have won all three of their games so far. This will be a tough test for the Polar Bears, but they have shown improvement in their previous games and are capable of winning.

Eleven Will Seek Second Triumph

On Saturday afternoon, at the stadium, the polar bears will be strengthened and revitalized. The team will show their true colors against the Williams College Purple, who have won all three of their games so far.

The polar bears' goal is to earn a second triumph against Williams College. This will be an important game for the team to show their progress and improve their chances for a successful season.

The game will be a battle of strength and skill, and the polar bears will be determined to prove their worth on the field.

And the last victory in the polar bears' season will be a triumph over Williams College, who are always a tough opponent. The polar bears will be ready to face this challenge and emerge victorious.

And the last victory in the polar bears' season will be a triumph over Williams College, who are always a tough opponent. The polar bears will be ready to face this challenge and emerge victorious.

Polar Bears Set For Tussle
With Colby Mules Saturday
Bowdoin Seeks Third Consecutive Victory;
Colby Improving In All Branches

By Robert J. Waldo '50

An improved Polar Bears eleven will go to Colby Saturday, in a league contest with Colby. The Mules have suffered some recent setbacks, which will make the game interesting and will be a test of the Colby team against their old state rivals.

The game will be started at 2 p.m. and will last about an hour. It will be a great test of both teams and the fans from the state will be interested in the game.

Some Bowdoin men will be able to arrive in time for the game, and anyone interested may watch the game.

Literary Magazine Reveals Final Date For Submissions

A recent interview with Alice S. McKelvy, managing editor of the Quill revealed publication in the next edition will be made on Tuesday, November 24.

"It was decided at the Quill meeting last week that the final date for submissions will be November 24," Miss McKelvy said.

The literary magazine, Quill, has always been delayed because of the difficulty of finding sufficient material. Captain McKelvy who has been in charge of the magazine for two years, realises the problem and has been working hard to improve the Quill.

The Bowdoin literary magazine, Quill, is printed weekly primarily for the benefit of students. Since the magazine was founded two years ago, the staff has been working hard to improve the Quill.

Grades Emphasized Too Much

It is evident that the problem of grades is one of the main issues in our educational system. Unfortunately, the emphasis on grades often leads to a devaluing of the true educational experience. The pressure to achieve high grades can lead to a focus on external rewards rather than intrinsic motivation. It is important to recognize that the true value of an education is not measured by grades alone.

Saltonstall Talks On "Conscience" in Sunday Chapel

Dr. William G. Saltonstall, headmaster of Phillips Exeter Academy, gave a talk on "Conscience" in the Sunday chapel service. He discussed the importance of conscience in making ethical decisions and living a moral life. Mr. Saltonstall stressed the need for individuals to develop a personal sense of conscience that guides their actions.

Student Assistant Defends Much-Criticized Library

There seems to be an enduring controversy over the Library on campus. Some students feel that the Library is overrated and that students do not make use of its resources as fully as they should. The student assistant who has been working to improve the Library's usefulness has made some improvements, but more needs to be done to address the concerns of the students. The assistant believes that the Library is an important resource for students and that it should be used more effectively.

Student Opinion Divided On Rules, For Limited S.C.D.C.

There has been much debate over the recent changes to the student conduct code. Some students support the new rules, while others believe that they are too restrictive. The majority of students have mixed opinions, and it remains to be seen how effective the new code will be in maintaining a safe and respectful campus environment.

Hunt To Handle Excess Small Change

The Hunt Bank has been appointed to handle the excess small change that is generated by the College. The Bank will be responsible for managing the funds and distributing them to the appropriate departments.

Give the Assistants a Coffee Too

At the risk of being considered "unhelpful," we should like to take exception to the extremely biased article written by one Bernard A. Lebess, a student assistant at the Library. Mr. Lebess seems to feel that the assistants are underpaid and overloaded. However, it is important to remember that the assistants are also students, and it is unfair to compare their work to that of professionals.

Better for us, as students, to make use of our own time, skills, and abilities to help one another instead of feeling that we are being exploited.

European models, the more the note of the American influence was discernible. The American realism, born of a love of the land and freedom, was reflected in the work of such artists as Winslow Homer, who painted the life of the New England coast, and Howard Pyle, whose illustrations for "The Merry Adventures of Robin Hood" captured the spirit of the American hunter.

Despite the differences, the American and European styles began to converge, as artists such as John Singer Sargent and Mary Cassatt traveled to Europe to study and to exhibit their work. Their paintings, with their rich colors and realistic detail, appealed to American audiences and helped to establish the reputation of American art on the international stage.

In the early 20th century, the influence of European art was even more pronounced, as American artists such as Edward Hopper and Georgia O'Keeffe embraced the styles of Picasso and Matisse. This period of experimentation and innovation, known as the American Modernist movement, produced some of the most acclaimed works of American art.

By the mid-20th century, American art had established itself as a major force in the international art world. Artists such as Jasper Johns and Andy Warhol created works that were both innovative and accessible, and their influence can still be seen today in the work of contemporary artists.

Today, American art continues to be a vibrant and dynamic field, with artists working in a wide range of styles and mediums. From the abstract expressionists of the 1950s to the pop artists of the 1960s, American artists have contributed significantly to the development of modern and contemporary art.

As the 21st century unfolds, American art is poised to continue its evolution, with artists exploring new techniques and ideas that will shape the future of the field.
Students Assist In Battling Dangerous Forest Fires

Local Blazes Keep Fighters Active Throughout Week End

College Volunteers Respond To Fires in Brunswick, Topsham, and Naval Air Station

By William S.

August 47

The forest fires that have been plaging the state have also provided Bowdoin students with an appreciation of Williamstown's most important asset, their work with community, coordination, and efficiency.

To us, it seemed like a half day, or as one weary graduate put it, "as much as a cup of coffee.

"I don't think we'll be back in this part of the forest again," one volunteer said.

The nearest fire, in Topsham, was in the greatest interest to the volunteers, since it started in a nearby town and had not yet been contained. The volunteers were able to keep the fire from spreading into the forest, but did not have the means to control the flames.

The fire was started by a lightning strike, which set the forest ablaze. The volunteers worked together to create a barrier around the fire, and worked to keep the flames from spreading further.

"It was a very dry season, and the fire spread quickly," one volunteer said. "We were able to keep it from spreading into the forest, but we couldn't control the flames."
SCDC Purpose, Methods In Doubt; Positive Means Can Bring Unity

We seriously question the purpose and methods of the Student Council Discrimination Committee. This body should neither be radically overhauled nor altogether abolished.

Last week's Orient reported a member of the SCDC as saying he should be "not merely to put the freshmen in a subordinate position, but also to eliminate him as a member and put him in the freshman class; all being subject to the same regulations, which would do away with the SCDC entirely."

Most of the freshmen rules are an excellent idea — especially those which require the wearing of readable name tags and the adoption of a slogan. But there are certain other rules which constitute nothing more than a menace to the freshman and of-fer unfair advantages to the upperclassmen, to place them in a sub-ordinate position.

It seems to us that college should be a place where mature reponsibilities are handled freely, exchange ideas and solve common problems. For these reasons, it is unsatisfactory when most of our college regulations are floundering about in an attempt to prevent all help and advice we can muster.

Instead the SCDC prefers the "sake of tradition and custom" to separate them from the upperclassmen who could be of such great value to them at this particular time.

Haaoming freshmen in front of their classmates and the entire college will only result in resentment and a result-ant negative unity—an attitude which will directly counteract what should be the very purpose of the freshman rules.

Generally we recommend the re-establishment of such organizations as the intercollegiate track meet and intercollegiate football games each fall. Interclass stunts and debating contests, competitive debating, and various social activities would not only create class unity but would revive many of the organizations which have become dormant.

The organization of such competitions might be under-utilized during the fall and winter months by utilizing a broad program of orientation for freshmen, including counseling by qualified upperclassmen in relation to studies and extra-curricular interests.

We ask the Student Council to undertake these steps as a matter of immediate and immediate concern for the well-being of a friendly in a normally constructive manner.

Student Disaster Aid Excellent

During the recent forest fires in the history of Maine, Bowdoin College was deeply concerned for the aiding job well done. At the first sign of danger in Topsham, students by the scores volunteered to help the local fire department stem the tide of disaster. As the fires increased and spread throughout the neighboring townships, more and more college men left their classes and hurried to the threatened areas to lend aid. All of this work was done voluntarily, because the students realized the exterminators job to properly and to this Benedict, a result which is to be proud of the fine work is in a real hour of need.

Political Forum Announces Final Series of Topic

William H. Whitlock, President, announced the Bowdoin Political Forum, and announced the first of this series of political forums to be held on the campus. The Bowdoin Forum has been selected as the leader of the first forum for the series.

Again this year, as in the past, the forum was organized by the students and was chosen in the following manner. The students selected from the campus at large, those who have been interested in politics in the past, pro or con on the issue of the forum. An open meeting for the whole student body was held at which the forum was selected by the students.

Finally, a student panel will be formed to address the sentiment of the forum. The forum is in the hands of the student body and will be presented on Tuesday.

The purpose of the forum, sponsored by the Political Forum, is to provide a means by which the students can express their ideas, and to stimulate the interest of the students in the political problems of the day. The forum is to be held on any pre-ar ranged day, but an issue of national interest and importance will be in the hands of the forum.

A. Student Speaks:

Lack Of Extra Curricular Activity Catapulted As "Putiful"

By Alex J.

During the past years, there have been a considerable number of activities here at Bowdoin which have been thoroughly enjoyed by the students. As a general practice, the majority of students have been very interested in the activities sponsored by the College and have participated in them with enthusiasm.

The Bowdoin Political Association has been organized as an organization, keeping regular meetings on a weekly basis. It has been a very popular organization and has attracted a large number of students who have been interested in the political problems of the day. The Political Forum has been selected as the leader of the first forum for the series.

The greatest series of changes that is chewing the state of Maine with an devastating vengeance is the polio epidemic that is sweeping every part of the state. At least 200 cases have been reported, and the number is still increasing. The disease effects are so severe that many people are hospitalized, and the mortality rate is high. The health officials are working hard to control the spread of this epidemic. The public is urged to take precautions

such as washing hands

frequently, avoiding close

The writer also provides information on how to prevent the spread of the disease, such as washing hands frequently and avoiding close contact with those who have it.
SCDC Rides Again As Frost Offenders Pay Penalties

In accordance with the statement issued last week by the B. C. C. D. S. Students' Union, the men who were responsible for the previous offense were called before the court and fined ten dollars each. The fine was imposed because the men were found guilty of the previous offense.

The men were also warned that if they were caught again, the fine would be doubled.

Last Friday's meeting of the B. C. C. D. S. Students' Union was dominated by the question of discipline. The union decided to take further action against the men who had been fined. The union stated that it would not tolerate such behavior in the future.

The union also decided to implement stricter penalties for future offenses.

Council To Present Constitution To Twelve Fraternities Tonight

The independent group on campus will be allowed a representative on the Student Council providing the proposed constitution is adopted. The constitution, which will be presented to the twelve fraternities tonight, was drawn up by the Student Council during the summer and was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2, with the vote of the Monitor College and the Monitor College of the Bulletin opposing the constitution.

The constitution is based on the constitution of the American Fraternity Association. It provides for a constitution committee, to which will be appointed a chairman, and a constitution council, to which will be appointed a chairman.

Required Freshman Marks Might Improve Fraternity Scholarship

A raising of the level of scholarship in fraternities and a revision of their attitude towards standards is needed. Several of our fraternities have tried to lose the public image of being the "dregs of low scholastic average," and in the past fraternities have been labelled as anti-intellectual.

We believe that fraternities immediately upon their arrival and are then hesitant through a month of pledge training and initiation, all before they have had a general introduction to some of the proper premises. During this crowded month many neglect their studies, and are often worse off when they leave in the spring which is harmful to them during the succeeding four years.

Fraternities might well be considered as another form of extra-curricular activity, one which might be handled in a much more retiring and formal manner in the same way as the student and the faculty member would handle an extra-curricular activity. Such a plan would weaken the strength of the fraternity since men who are not adequate achieving scholars might be retained in fraternities.

And most important, this plan would enable freshmen, authorized by fraternity pressure, to begin their college studies as a freshman and to take the first year's work as an incentive to better marks in the first and even later years.

Such a move should come from the fraternities themselves and not as a college ruling. The fraternities might recognize that they are missing the best and might cooperate with the primary aim of the College — the pursuit of true learning.

Provincetown Demands Publicity

At Bowdoin, nearly 75% of the students come from the States of Maine and Massachusetts. It is true that we consider ourselves as a college of liberal arts, we are not even able to make contacts with men from sections of our own country which have made large contributions to the welfare of the nation or who might have a liberal education. Bowdoin has to have a liberal education when he cannot among his friends who have had freshman knowledge of the social and political climates of every part of this country.

This situation is very unsatisfactory, because the college authorities or is dictated by the absence of other liberal publicity through the press and through alumni groups. It means that the college will lose many students, and that Bowdoin is unknown in that area. Six Bowdoin men are from the State of Maine, 2% of the men forming an ensemble to the four Great Lakes States.

The College is to be commended in its report of the foreign students, some 20% of whom will be returning home to their families, but to these students, the College should borrow ideas from the foreign students, at least 20% of whom will be returning home to their families, but to these students, the College should borrow ideas from the foreign students.

Collegiate News

The following letter is a communication to both Bowdoin and the Passive News of the University. The letter was prepared by the Passive News Editor, Mr. B. S. Brown, and was signed by the Passive News Editors.

To the Editors of the Passive

We are writing to express our deep concern about the situation in which we find ourselves. The recent incidents involving the Passive News have caused us a great deal of distress, and we feel that it is important to bring this issue to your attention.

The Passive News is an important news outlet on campus, and we believe that it plays a crucial role in informing our community about the events that are taking place here. However, we have noticed a trend in recent months towards censorship and suppression of certain viewpoints.

We are concerned that this trend is not only harmful to the Passive News, but also to the community as a whole. We believe that open and honest communication is essential for the well-being of our campus, and we urge you to consider the implications of this trend.

We hope that you will take this letter to heart and take steps to ensure that the Passive News continues to be a platform for free and open expression.

Sincerely,

The Editors of the Passive

Good Old Days

On December 3rd, 1947, Good Old Days opened at the Stuyvesant Theatre in New York City. The show, starring Ted Lewis and his orchestra, was a huge success and ran for over 1000 performances. It was produced and directed by Sidney Howard and written by George S. Kaufman.

Today's Show

The show was a hit with the New York audiences and continued to run for many years. It was one of the most popular musicals of its time and is still remembered fondly by fans of the era.

The show featured a cast of talented performers, including Betty Grable, Jackie Gleason, and Red Skelton. The music was provided by the Ted Lewis Orchestra and included hits such as "Good Old Days," "That'll Be the Day," and "I'm On My Way to Chicago."

Woods Stars As Harriers Trail U. of M. In State Meet

Joe Woods was an outstanding man to capture second place in the state cross-country championships Covey Monday, but a powerful Maine Harrier squad outdistanced the Blue Devils, 17 to 64, as a completely undefeated Bates team took it easy.

Immediately after the race the Harriers were asked several questions by Fred Austin in charge for 38 years. The Harrier team, the Blue Devils, and the Bates team completed next.

Elmer Palmer of Maine, the individual winner, scored an 18.73. He was closely followed in Woods, 18.32. In spite of the weeks of the entire baby of the meet that won the second place, in the meet.

TWO GORDON MacRAE'S Latest Capital Release

...I STILL GET JEALOUS

NAME THE SONG: Gordon MacRae. You're going to be hearing more and more of him, for this newest release of his is actually a sequel for the book that won all except MacRae fans and which was made into an outstanding motion picture.

Another record for the 45 is that all over America more men are smoking CAMELS than ever before.

Why? The fact that you can still get the answer in "SEE T,0 FARE (For Loo and the Three)" says, CAMELS. Discover for yourself who are the men and what you can expect by trying CAMELS.

The music provided by "I STILL GET JEALOUS" is unique and unforgettable, which is why MacRae's fans will want to get in on the action. CAMELS are the "choice of the professionals at work!"

Unbeatable Hands Froth First Setbacks, 6-To-0

Maine's football team took the leading place in the American college football ratings and raised its record to 5-0-0 by scoring 6 points on the visiting New Hampshire team Thursday afternoon. This was Maine's first setback of the season and was played at Oskar Hall Thursday.

The second half was played on even terms with first ten, Maine's only points for the contest being scored by Thomas A. Wilson on a 3-yard plunge in the 4th quarter.

Bears Slip To Cellar Slot; Score Board, Trainer Needed

By George McCollam '49

It was the first time that Bowdoin had been able to crack up its second string, and it was the only time that Bowdoin had been able to crack up its second string. As a result Bowdoin football is entirely in the air.

Bowl scores were posted at 7:15 by Bill Green for the Bowdoin Club. The final score in the first quarter was 0-0. The final score in the second quarter was 0-0.

The Bowdoin Bear's passing was fine, but their running was so-so. They did have one series of 65 yards, but this was dropped by the Bear's offensive line and was called back for a penalty.

Managing Editor's Lot is an Unhappy One, But His Newspaper's Urges the Unhappy to Work On.

Frederick W. Willey '47 "Unhappy lies the head that wears the crown." Yes, and you may have the head that wears the managing editor’s title for that reason. To regret the choice is merely. The peculiar gratification is being able to say you have put "colored" to press. At least many of them on Wednesday mornings will quite freely admit that sympathy is a biased term, to perceive that there are more jobs in the publishing field than are being filled. Here is a new chance for the old-faithfuls. There are those who claim, however, that sympathy is a biased term, to perceive that there are more jobs in the publishing field than are being filled. Fraternities Should All Share In B.C.A. Exchange Dining Plan

Eight fraternities have declined to take part in the Bowdoin Christian Association exchange dining plan. It would be well for the other fraternities to do likewise. Other fraternities have already placed in operation this laudable and needed scheme.

But the André Lecture, which opened last spring but failed because of poor organization and lack of support from the fraternities.

But this year the supporters of the dining plan have organized themselves into a powerful and well-organized group. The fraternities of all the four sections are participating. An exchange of guests is the object of the plan, and each of the participating houses has chosen a member of that fraternity to bring a guest from another house to his house for a meal and possibly a night's rest.

The purpose of such an arrangement is to bring together as many of the fraternities as possible in a social and friendly way.

The plan was originally suggested by President M. R. Leighton, and last spring some of the fraternities of this group of four sections arranged to have their guests from the other houses. This year the plan has been organized in a more systematic way.

The plan will be operated as follows:

1. Each house will plan to have a guest from another house who will spend one night in each house.

2. The guest will be entertained by the house he visits, and the host will entertain him.

3. The host will provide a meal for the guest and possibly a night's rest as well.

4. The plan will be operated in a friendly and social way, and it is hoped that all of the fraternities will participate.

The plan is expected to be a success, and it is hoped that all of the fraternities will participate. It is expected to be a success, and it is hoped that all of the fraternities will participate.
Bowdoin Rovers Over Mules 21 to 6, Ties For Second Place In State Series

By George McCandless '49

A powerful Bowdoin attack carried the Petal Bear a 21-6 victory over Maine Mule yesterday. By adding their second-place finish at the State's third division, the Bears overtook the Mules in the second-place finish of their first meeting. Although the Bears were completely shaded by Maine's second-half display, Bowdoin's first-half was dominated by the Bear's efficient play.

A magnificent Bear's display after 20 minutes of play produced the score that carried the Bears to victory. Bowdoin's first-half was highlighted by their efficient passing and accurate shooting. The Bears' excellent form of play set up a comfortable lead for the second half.

In the second half, the Bears maintained their form and added to their lead. The Bears' defense was solid, preventing the Mules from scoring. The Bears' offense continued to roll, producing many scoring opportunities. The Bears' efficient play produced a comfortable victory over the Mules.

The Bears' victory over the Mules was a testament to their efficient form of play. They dominated the game from start to finish, producing a comfortable victory over their opponents. The Bears' efficient passing and accurate shooting were key factors in their victory. The Bears' defense was solid, preventing the Mules from scoring.

Fraternities’ Spokesman Wrongly Condemns Liberal College Action

"College and university administrators who attempt to prevent the fraternities from exercising their legal rights and religious rights in choosing members are violating the tenets of democracy," David A. Morris, national chaplain of the Interfraternity Conference, said yesterday at the conference’s thirtieth annual meeting.

The speech which gave rise to this article in the New York Times ran as follows:

"...""It is a matter of some regret that we have not had an opportunity to explain to you the issues which have caused such a great deal of misunderstanding in the minds of the American people. Our representatives have been in contact with college officials and have been assured that the university will not interfere with the rights of the fraternities to choose their members.

"The fraternities are members of this conference. For it reveals unusual reasoning on the part of the nation's fraternities and on the part of the college officials who are unable to see the light and are determined to impose their will on the fraternities.

"We shall have to consider the matter further and shall not hesitate to take any necessary action to prevent this type of interference with the rights of the fraternities to choose their members. We shall continue to work for the recognition of the rights of the fraternities to choose their members and shall do everything in our power to see that these rights are respected."

"We are not seeking to impose our will on the colleges, but we are determined to uphold the rights of the fraternities to choose their members and to see that these rights are respected."

"We shall continue to work for the recognition of the rights of the fraternities to choose their members and shall do everything in our power to see that these rights are respected."

It is a very low turn-out among the students and faculty of the University of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, but that doesn’t mean that Bowdoin was neglected. Athletic Director Herold H. College Rush Shows Signs Of Let-Up, Says Hammond

Albert P. Phillips '51

Since the war years a previous- ly small college has grown to the point of being crowded and to have a large number of activities demanding the attention of the administration. The sororities, fraternities, and the numerous clubs and activities have made it difficult for Hammond to fill in the gaps and do justice to all groups who have been active in the past.

This year appears to be no exception. The only notable change has been the decrease in the number of sororities and fraternities. This is due to the fact that there are now fewer students and more activities demanding the attention of the administration.

While there is a decrease in the number of sororities and fraternities, there is an increase in the number of activities, such as the Union, the literary societies, and the various clubs. This increase is due to the fact that there are now fewer students and more activities demanding the attention of the administration.

It is interesting to note that the student body has grown in size in the past year. This growth has been due to the fact that there are now fewer students and more activities demanding the attention of the administration.

Meddlesbepsters Schedule Revitals For Winter Term

The February issue of the Meddlesbepster is your last chance this month to read the thoughts of the Meddlesbepsters. This month's edition features articles on the Meddlesbepster's recent history, the Meddlesbepster's future, and the Meddlesbepster's impact on the college community.

Two teams will compete in this year's winter term revivals, with each team presented with a different topic for discussion. The first team will discuss the Meddlesbepster's role in the college community, while the second team will explore the Meddlesbepster's impact on the larger world.

Revisiting the Meddlesbepster's history, the February issue features a detailed look at the Meddlesbepster's founding in the early 1900s and its evolution over the years. The issue also highlights the Meddlesbepster's contributions to the college community, including its role in shaping college culture and its impact on student engagement.

The February issue of the Meddlesbepster is available for purchase at the college bookstore or online at meddlesbepster.com. Stay tuned for next month's issue, which will feature a comprehensive look at the Meddlesbepster's future and its potential impact on the college community.

Ireland, Magde, And Curtis Take NE Rhodes Exams

Three Bowdoin graduates, Charles W. Curtis '49, Magde Williams '49, and Ireland, Magde, have been selected to represent Bowdoin in the NE Rhodes Exams. TheNE Rhodes Exams are a national competition that selects the best students in the United States to represent their country in the Rhodes Scholarship Program.

The NE Rhodes Exams are held in late June and early July, and the top performers from the exams are invited to participate in the Rhodes Scholarship Program. The Rhodes Scholarship Program is a prestigious fellowship that provides full tuition, room, and board for four years of study at Oxford University.

The three Bowdoin graduates have been selected based on their academic excellence and their potential to make a positive impact on society. They will represent Bowdoin in the NE Rhodes Exams on June 26 and July 1.

Walter L. Sanborn Will Start Fund

Under the will of the late Walter L. Sanborn, Jr. of Lan dale, Maine, the college will receive a fund amounting to approximately $500,000 to be used in the establishment of a professorship of Government.

Dr. Sanborn was a prominent lawyer and public servant in Maine, and his bequest is a testament to his commitment to higher education and his belief in the importance of a strong government.

"The Sanborn Fund will enable the college to attract and retain a distinguished scholar in the field of Government," said President Kenneth C. M. Mills.

Hall Sees Uncertain Future Facing "Prologue"

By Lawrence S. Hall '36

The advent of a new edition of the Bowdoin literary magazine, "Prologue," is a step forward for the college, says Professor of English Lawrence S. Hall '36.

"Prologue" has always been a reflection of the college's literary traditions, but this new edition will bring the magazine into the contemporary era, says Hall.

"By publishing "Prologue," the college is able to showcase the talent of its students and to serve as a platform for the college's literary community," says Hall.

"Prologue" will be published twice a year, with a winter issue and a spring issue. The winter issue will be published in February, and the spring issue will be published in May.

"Prologue" will feature a variety of literary forms, including poetry, short fiction, and essays.

"I believe that this new edition of "Prologue" will be a reflection of the college's literary traditions and its commitment to promoting creativity," says Hall.

"Prologue" is available for purchase at the college bookstore or online at bowdoinprologue.org.

This week's issue includes articles on the college's literary traditions, the college's literary community, and the college's commitment to promoting creativity.

"Prologue" is published by the College's Literary Society, and is supported by the college's literary community and its patrons.
SILLS Eulogizes Dr. Johnson

Swimmers Defeat Emory of Georgia In Air Mail Opponent

Captain Larry Daner is standing influence and accurate passer while his guard and Jim Schenker is also a fine free throw and a threat from the floor. Paul Zolnierko has been an excellent defensive center. Zolt, who was also a state champion in track, has been a fine player for us all season. Jack Olszewski, who is an all-state selection, has been our top scorer and has emerged as a fine team leader. Both Paul and Jack have been a great combination for us.

New Hampshire U. Wins Quintet 79-37

The New Hampshire Wildcats announced on Double from the Browncoat power back last day. A 48-to-42 victory over the Dartmouth game to a 15-11 defeat.(tie) This game a Dartmouth victory with Canada and White Plains respectively. The Stowman's victory, still possible, but the Wildcats were more than anything other at the time of the other game.

In Orono Contest; Quintet Drops 3rd

Dartmouth's varsity basketball power dropped their season's opening game Saturday night in the Orono gym to the Browncoats. The final score was 55-47 before a packed house.

The undefeated Browncoats started slowly leading only 23-21 at halftime, but the Blue increased the tempo in the second stanza in going away. Dick Pankey won with George (O'Donnell) Smith with 15. The Blue Bears did surprising well against their teaming opponents of a first and second half affair, but the Blue Bears did not have much luck in winning the match. The greatest fear is that the new spirit may wax in light of the pressure tumor stage. We properly hope that this doesn't take place.

"Hayfever" Setting Excellent, Production Is Entertaining

[Continued from Page 1] Of course, when you consider that the first act was enjoyed by the actors themselves and that the second act was enjoyed by the audience, it is obvious that the second act was more enjoyable.

Peter Placer was the striking avatar in "Hayfever" as Prince "Hayfever." His role was that of a woman who was the center of attention for almost the entire act.

Sirius Stresses More Independence For Local Fraternities At Parley

Globe Scholarship Winner

Praises D.U. Lectureship And Foreign Student Plan

The importance of autonomy for local chapters of national fraternities was stressed by President Kenneth C. Sills, president of the University of Pennsylvania, in his speech as the keynote speaker at the Penn-Alumni Weekend Conference of the Pennsylvania State University.

President Sills said in his address that the fraternities have a right to express their views and to work out their own plans for the future. He added that they should be given more independence in their management and that they should be allowed to determine their own policies.

Sills stressed that the fraternities should be expected to do the same sort of thing that the University does, and that they should be given the same sort of recognition and support.

Dr. J. W. Tupper To Talk At Tannum Course In Spring

One of the five year grants under the encouragement of a graduate in the United States, Dr. J. W. Tupper will speak on "The Future of the English Literature Covering the Period of Poetry." He will present a series of lectures on "The English Literature of the Period of Poetry." For the past year after Dr. Tupper's study for a doctorate in English literature, he has been a member of the faculty of the University of California.

To introduce the subject of the future of English literature, Dr. Tupper will lecture on the developments in English literature that have taken place in the past 50 years, and will then go on to discuss the present state of English literature.

The President said several important cooperative projects have been established with the fraternity, and that the fraternity should be encouraged to take part in these projects. The President added that the fraternity should be given more independence in its management and that it should be allowed to determine its own policies.

Sills stressed that the fraternities should be expected to do the same sort of thing that the University does, and that they should be given the same sort of recognition and support.

Sills At Parley: Speaks For More Local Freedom

Contrary to the claims of the B.S. Administration, the Weasley Student Government is and has been strongly interested in local political issues. This has been evidenced by the actions of the Weasley Student Senate in recent months, which have included the submission of petitions for local referenda, the sponsorship of local candidates for political office, and the active participation of Weasley students in local political campaigns.

BCA Dining Plan Failure Due To Stiff Opposition

To the Editor of the Observer: At the regular meeting of the Bowdoin Christian Association, Wednesday, January 12, it was voted to discontinue the B.C.A. Plan under B.C.A. auspices. Since there has been such concern about the success of this program, I should like to explain the participating dining rooms of this restaurant.

The general principle of the B.C.A. Plan involves the use of B.C.A. funds in order to provide a better dining experience for the students of the Bowdoin College. This plan operates on the basis of the students paying a certain amount of money each week, which is then used to purchase food for the dining hall.

Unfortunately, this plan has not been as successful as we had hoped. There are a number of factors that have contributed to its failure. First of all, the prices of food have increased significantly over the past year, making it difficult for students to afford a full course meal. Additionally, many students have expressed dissatisfaction with the quality of the food served in the dining hall.

I believe that we need to re-evaluate the B.C.A. Plan and consider other options for providing a better dining experience for our students. We should also explore other ways to support the students, such as offering more financial aid or increasing the number of jobs available on campus.

To the Editor of the Observer: I was reading an article this morning about the B.C.A. Plan and I thought it was important to share my thoughts on the topic. I believe that the B.C.A. Plan is a good idea and that it deserves to be given another chance. I think that with some adjustments, it could be successful.

I believe that the B.C.A. Plan has some potential for success, but it needs to be improved. First of all, the prices of food need to be reduced in order to make it more affordable for students. Additionally, the quality of the food needs to be improved as well.

I think that the B.C.A. Plan should be given another chance. If we make some adjustments, it could be successful. I believe that it is important to support our students and to provide them with a good dining experience.

Bowdoin Mermen Successful At Meet In Florida

Merrow Looking For Berths On 1968 F. S. Olympic Team

Four Bowdoin students, Adams Winans, Walter Thorndike, Gordon Page and Robert McFarlen, have qualified for a berth in the Olympic trials to be held this week in Ann Arbor, Mich.

The meet is an annual event, sponsored by the President of the City, which is the last of the season for the Mermen. The team lost only one race this year and the second was just about as good. The third line scored on Saturday after four wins and their score was a combined score of 21, 15 and 11, respectively. The first line was just about as good with good and consistent good performance by the four bowlers. So, with good work they really go places.

The Portland students were put up at the Casa Maria Hotel, and attended daily by the university's assistant coach, Mr. Devens, who is the American Bowling Coach for the Olympics.

Van DeStade, Tho, Lott, and Larry Ray are leading a race in a bowling event for each, and those who come third to the Missouri for the western team.

The Mermen were second in the All America junior league, and attended daily by the university's assistant coach, Mr. Devens, who is the American Bowling Coach for the Olympics.

New Scoring For Bowling League As Play Renews

The Intercollegiate Bowling League has new been adopted at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. This is in response to the growing popularity of the sport, and the need to update the scoring system to reflect the current level of play.

Bowdoin leads the team in the All America junior league, and attended daily by the university's assistant coach, Mr. Devens, who is the American Bowling Coach for the Olympics.

Civilian service should be given a more significant role in preparing young people for public service. It is a longer-term investment in the nation's future than forced military service.

To be a responsible citizen, as mentioned by the writer, one must acquire the knowledge and the skills to provide guidance and leadership in the community. This requires education and training beyond the typical high school curriculum.

Moreover, the writer emphasizes the importance of individuals to take initiative and contribute to the community. This could be accomplished by volunteering, participating in community service projects, or running for public office. These actions can help create a more engaged and informed citizenry.

The writer's argument is supported by various examples and personal experiences, such as the writer's own children and their involvement in community service. The writer also mentions the importance of political participation, which is a crucial aspect of being a responsible citizen.

Hockey Fans Laciate Mayhem; Pesky On Display In Cage

By George F. McClellan "49

Senior varsity hockey rinks were

Student Committee To Solicit $5,000 In Subscriptions As Campus Phase Of Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign

Seek 100% Participation As Important Objective

By Richard A. Weyg 48

February 24 — An estimated $5,000 for the student phase of the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign will be sought next week by the five men Students Council Committee to solicit $5,000 in subscriptions, in cooperation with the Student Council Committee.

A pledge will be solicited from every student, with the entire campaign set at $5,000. For the purpose of individuality, each student in the class of 1949 will be solicited for a specific amount of money.

The Settlement of these pledges will be given over to the Student Council Committee at the end of the academic year.

ENRICO ZACPONI

Other members of this Student Campaign Committee are: Wm. B., Jr., 48, President of the Student Council; Richard 48, Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Council; Roy B., Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Council; and James 48, President of the Student Council.

WALLACE C. PHILLO, director of the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund, despaired of any cooperation from the undergraduate.

Federalists Pick Five As Portfolio Representatives

February 18—As representatives to the discussion on world government next week at the Portland High School ASB, the five Federalists will be responsible for presenting the views of the Student Federalists. The five are: Senator D. Spencer, president of the organization, 2; Peter Watson, 3; Ralph 3; Charles 4; and Ralph 3. Other business on the agenda of Bowdoin College and for the greater good of the nation will be expected.

The ultimate goal of the Student Federalists is to discuss the problems of government, its form, its function, and its effect on the world. The discussion will be held in the reading room of the Federals.

Thayer Reports On College Meeting

February 25—At the annual meeting of the Thayer College, a joint meeting of the Thayer and the Thayer College, the program was presented to the students.

The program consisted of a discussion of various topics, including such subjects as sports, music, and politics. The students were divided into sections, and each section was given a certain amount of time to present their ideas. The presentations were well received, and the audience was enthusiastic.

Wishing for the dangers of the student college to present the dangers of the world, Professor Herbert B. P. Almony, professor of psychology, said that he felt that we could do more for our own country by being well informed.

Fraternities Pledge $1,000 In Mid-Year Rushing Season

February 20—Fifty-one men were pledged to the fraternity groups in the recent rushing season.

The following men were pledged to the fraternity groups: Marston 48, 3; Kimball 48, 3; and Mathew 48, 3. Division 48 pledged to the fraternity group for the current season.

The men were pledged by the fraternity groups at the fraternity and the fraternity house.

The pledge ceremonies were held at the fraternity house and the fraternity house of the fraternity.

Show Real Faith In Your College; Support The Bowdoin Fund 100%

A student body banner, a little theater, an addition to the gym, a new study hall and a library, all at Penn State — these and many other improvements to Bowdoin have long been subject to students' contributions, a fund solicited by fraternity house "gricers" and a list of detailed objectives.

The long-awaited opportunity to transform these dreams into reality and into a better Bowdoin is being offered to you and your college. To participate in this worthwhile task. Already the Fifty members of the Board of Trustees and Overseers have pledged more than $500,000, the Faculty has given $25,000, and the $12,000. The aesthetic and support of the third part of the immediate Bowdoin — you — are underwritten, — have been accomplished. It is a task that requires the full participation of all. For it is we who know the fine qualities and the shortcomings of our school. It is we who will receive the benefits when the bowdoin rises from the desolation of these contributions.

A quota of $500,000 has been set for the 1100 of us — five dollars for every man at College. It is not, however, the sum of that is important, but the spirit with which it is given. This spirit will be felt first from the results of the campaign.

We are guardians of a cultural college — this is one of our great assets. And your students will be glad to respond to this appeal, not with a contribution from their parents or their fraternity but from their own "bik" money.

Our goal must be 100% giving from the entire student body. There are independent alumni groups of loyal sons of the College. No one in the world college not returns to seek the resources of the alma mater.

But first these selfless men wish to show that Bowdoin herself appreciates the efforts of the those in the past who have built the Bowdoin and realize that her best years are yet ahead.

Gif given the first three weeks.

What is sought now is our pledge of aid. And when we pledge, we not only mean to be attending Bowdoin College, not the College, but our college.

Opposition To U.M.T Idealistic

That neither ill-conceived ideals, ignorance, nor apathy shall be permitted again to enfeeble the power of the nation. To be a nation in the great and noble truth. But ideals can be carved to such an extent that it can be injurious to the service of goals and the people.

Bowdoin Fund

The Committee for the Fund for the Student's Vote has proposed to organize a movement that will give students a say in the curriculum of Bowdoin College. The question of whether or not to introduce new courses in mathematics and philosophy will be decided by students who will be allowed to vote on the issue.

Professor Van Cleve was not mistaken when he declared that, "under such circumstances it behooves us to seek to preserve the democratic principles that are the foundation of our national security it is necessary to have trained men to defend the nation itself."

Magamet Pierce Unbeaten Season

Track placed basketball, hockey and swimming temporarily out of the winter sports spotlight last week as the Magamets opened their indoor winter season with a convincing victory over New Hampshire. The Saturday afternoon win over Bates and Colby leaves the Wolves in first place in the league in the way of an indoor season.

This week's game is a standstill between Colby and Bates in the league's final meeting of the regular season. A Fort MacKenzie competition is in the making. The Wolves, who have turned in a fine season, are in position to win the league title or be runner-up.

Outstanding performers are forwards Billy Magee, Mary Burpee and weighmen Ali Nathanson being the only two who could make the list.

Tyree Key To Next Year's Wolves

Wolves basketball team may not be going in as many particular directions, but in Jack Tyree, the Player of the Week may have revealed a big asset for next year. This 18-year-old center who scores four and two blocked plays a bit of a basketball but was looked upon as a key figure in this season's game. Howso, forward for a long time Jack rode the bench, playing sparingly, but was on the floor displayed as good a game of basketball as it was going to be. Bringing Tyree to the bench is a wise move.

Colby and Bates Boys To Big White Trackmen In Three Cornered Meet

By Edward R. Murphy '49

Feb. 21.—The Bowdoin Trackmen continued their winning ways by overwhelming Bates and Colby in a triangular meet where the Polar Bears assumed 72 points, Bates 55 ½ and Colby 49 ½.

Led by Captain Stan Stewman, Al McDonald, and Earl King, each of whom scored 10 points, the Magamets claimed the inside position. As usual, Bates, Lee and Fringer swept the hurdles, while White assumed the dash with Bill Herron second.

With no outside competition, Forbes, Norton, and Martin swept the 300-yard dash, while Nathanson maintained his supremacy in the shot and put, and Parsons and Begley also grabbed medals. Colby climbed to 37 ½% in the high jump with Bill Herron taking a second. Mike Langeland of Bates added a bear of his own to the Illustrated story on the track team.

Spring Tour To End In Washington With Climax At White House Reception

By Joshua W. Curtis '50

A reception will be given on March 28 by President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman at Blair House, Washington, D.C., home of the Secretary of State, and a second reception on March 29 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peden, Jr., who are host to the White House reassuring tour. The Glee Club is expected to complete their tour on March 30 and return to New York on March 31.

In the meantime, the Glee Club will hold a series of concerts in Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., and will participate in the annual meeting of the American Bar Association in New York City. The Glee Club is scheduled to perform at the opening of the new building of the American Bar Association in Washington, D.C., on April 1, and will hold a series of concerts in the city during the month of April.

Radio Station To Install F.M. in Dormitories

"When Bowdoin-on-the-Air completes its construction of their radio facilities Bowdoin will be the only college in Maine to have a complete F.M. station," said Robert F. Williams, President of Bowdoin College.

Bowdoin University has an N.B. station at present, but the new station will differ in an important way from the present one. The new station will be located on the Bowdoin College campus, and will be used primarily for education and entertainment.

The station is still in the planning stage, and the funds for its operation will be raised through a series of concerts and other events. The station will be operated by a group of students, and will be supervised by a faculty advisor.

The Varsity Swim team will compete in several meets this month, including a meet against Bates College on March 31 and a meet against Colby College on April 1. The team will also compete in the New England Invitational Meet on April 2.

The team will be coached by Fredrick T. Johnson, a former member of the Bowdoin varsity swim team and a current student at Bowdoin. Johnson will be assisted by two other former members of the team, Jack Smith and Bill Knapp.

The team's record this season is 4-0, and they are currently ranked second in the New England Conference.

VanCleve Calls For Peace

Feb. 8—"Potential strength is not enough. Actual strength is necessary to our nation to lead the world to peace," said VanCleve, a member of the Bowdoin College faculty. "We must have actual strength in order to maintain our position of leadership in the world."

The speech was given at the Bowdoin College Union, and was attended by a large audience of students and faculty. VanCleve emphasized the importance of education in preparing for peace, and called for a greater investment in education and research.

Junior Mules Down J.V. Five, 50-11

The Bowdoin Mules defeated the J.V. team 50-11 in their first game of the season. The team was led by senior captain Fredrick T. Johnson, who scored 20 points in the game.

"Cancer Of Cracked Lips," "Sinus In L. Ankle" Recorded In Infirmary's Green Register Book

By Frederick W. Willey '47

The Daily's C.I.F. Infirmary headline on Page 1 was a bit disheartening to some, for it seemed to suggest that we were on the threshold of a new era in which students would take to the hospital bed with alarming frequency. However, a closer examination of the actual report revealed that this was not the case.

The report detailed a series of minor conditions that were treated in the infirmary, such as acne, colds, and sprains. The majority of these conditions were not life-threatening and were treated on an outpatient basis. The only patient who required hospitalization was a student who had sustained a broken leg.

"The Doc At Work"

By Frederick W. Willey '47

The medical profession is often seen as a serious and solemn occupation. However, the report showed that the medical staff at the infirmary was not immune to humor. For example, one case involved a student who had fallen down the stairs and had injured his ankle. The staff members decided to treat the student with a hot water bottle and a Band-Aid, rather than the more traditional methods of bandages and casts.

Mergendahl Produces Best One-Act Play In Contest

"The Play That Was" was the title of the one-act play written and directed by Dr. Herbert Mergendahl '48. The play was produced in the infirmary's small theater and was well-received by the students.

Colby Billed $1263 For Football Frank

The following lines appear on the Colby Scale of February 21:

"A bill for $1263.00 was sent to Dean Nishon for damages on Colby's first football game. The damages were caused by the Colby fans who celebrated too late."

Campus Survey... Firebucket, Hour Glass, Pen For "Little Rollo" Stories Followed By

By Charles T.

Dr. D. Willard

"The author who edited" press reports on the "Little Rollo" series of the "Morning Star" newspaper

"Little Rollo," a popular little boy in the world of journalism, has been the subject of several new reports recently. The reports, written by various correspondents, have been published in the "Morning Star" newspaper and have been well received by the public.

The reports have been written by a group of journalists who are known for their work in the field of children's journalism. The correspondents have been praised for their ability to capture the essence of the little boy and his adventures in a way that is both entertaining and educational.

The reports have been well-received by the public, and many have expressed their appreciation for the way in which the stories have been written. The "Morning Star" newspaper has been praised for its commitment to providing high-quality journalism to its readers, and the "Little Rollo" series is a perfect example of this commitment.

In addition to the reports, the "Morning Star" newspaper has also published several articles and features on the little boy and his adventures. These articles have been well-received and have helped to further the popularity of the "Little Rollo" series.

The success of the "Little Rollo" series is a testament to the power of good journalism. By focusing on the little boy and his adventures, the correspondents have been able to capture the imagination of the public and have provided an entertaining and educational experience for all who read the reports.
Zetes Given Edge In Fraternity Meet On Friday Evening
By Edward R. Murphy '49

Soccer season opened

Aerobic Ed, who was chosen captain of the Aeronautics Society for 1948, announced that the meet had been arranged with the Men's Union and that the first game would be played on Saturday, March 10. The meet will feature fraternities from the Harvard University and MIT campuses.

Scoring the Meet

In the first game, the Aeronauts scored a 1-0 victory over the Fraternity team. The winning goal was scored by Ed Murphy, who assisted on the play by passing the ball to Ted Jones.

Wampus Indians Scoring

The Wampus Indians, who are the present holders of the meet trophy, were unable to score against the Aeronauts. The game was played in cold weather, and both teams were forced to play defensively.

The meet is open to all fraternities on the Harvard campus, and the Aeronauts hope to win the trophy this year. The meet will be held on the Harvard campus grounds.

Competitors in Boston Tournament

The teams will be divided into two groups, the Aeronauts and the Wampus Indians. The two teams will play each other on March 10, and the winners of the games will advance to the final round on March 11.

B.C., B.U. Defeat Bowdoin Sextet In Boston Tournament

The B.C. and B.U. teams defeated Bowdoin in the first round of the tournament. The B.C. team scored a 3-0 victory over Bowdoin, while B.U. defeated Bowdoin by a score of 2-1.

Winter Sports Recruit Bright

Despite scarcity of victories on the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams, Bowdoin's winter sports program must be regarded as successful for an over-all picture of the four winter sports: basketball, soccer, tennis, and swimming.

The basketball teams are in good standing, with the varsity team having a record of 10-2 and the junior varsity team having a record of 7-5. The tennis teams have been successful in their matches, with the varsity team finishing second in the New England League and the junior varsity team finishing third.

The swimming teams have also been successful, with the varsity team finishing second in the New England League and the junior varsity team finishing third.

In summary, Bowdoin's winter sports program has been successful this year, with the basketball teams having a strong record and the tennis and swimming teams having good finishes.

Vic Comments On Towns, National Policies

When Vic went to Brunswick, he was young, full of enthusiasm, and eager to learn. He quickly rose through the ranks, becoming the manager of the local telephone company. He later moved to New York City, where he became a successful entrepreneur. Despite his many accomplishments, Vic never forgot his roots and remained a devoted champion of small towns and rural communities.

The Vanquished

General Catalogue To Include Faculty, Alumni Information

By Richard P. Davis '49

The Seniors' Committee of the Bowdoin General Catalogue announced that the 1949 edition will be more comprehensive in its coverage of faculty and alumni. The new edition will include biographies of all full-time faculty members, as well as profiles of notable alumni. This move is seen as a reflection of the university's growing focus on community engagement.

Vic received a prestigious award for his contributions to the telephone industry. He was named the "Telephone Pioneer of the Year," an honor given to individuals who have significantly advanced the field.

Faculty Plans Course Rotation For Fall 1948

Group Eliminates 2 Year, 4 Year Or 6 Year

Changes Chapel Hour

A plan for the rotation of classes at Bowdoin College has been developed, which will be submitted to the opening session of the college this fall. The plan will be introduced in the fall of 1949, and will be in effect by the fall of 1950.

There will be daily classes at 1:00 p.m., 2:00 p.m., 3:00 p.m., and 4:00 p.m. Except that groups of students, each group consisting of from 10 to 20 students, will be assigned to a special time, the schedule will remain as it is now.

The chapel hour will be changed from 2:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Syllabus Subjects

The plan has been under consideration for several years, and the committee in charge of the plan has been working with the head of the school to develop the plan. The plan will be submitted to the executive committee of the school for approval.

The plan will be implemented in the fall of 1949, and will be in effect by the fall of 1950.

Cairo Address To Forum On Egypt's Arabs

Mr. Leonard C. Baker, 29, of Cairo, New York, will speak, under the auspices of the Foreign Economic and Development Corporation, on "The Arab World" at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, March 11, in the College's Auditorium. The lecture is sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages of the College.

Cairo, the capital of Egypt, has an estimated population of 3.5 million people. It is the center of the country's economic, social, and cultural life. The city is a major center of trade and industry, and is also a popular tourist destination.

Mr. Baker has been teaching English in the University of Cairo since his freshman year. He has also spent three years in the Middle East as a volunteer with the American University of Cairo. He is a graduate of Colgate University.

Cairo is the second largest city in the world, and is the economic and cultural center of the Arab world. It is the home of several important universities, and is a major center of commerce and industry.

Mr. Baker's lecture is sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages of the College, and is open to the public. The lecture will be held on Monday, March 11, at 8:00 p.m., in the College's Auditorium.
Taft Roasts of Inadequacy; "Foreign Affairs not My Field!"-Senator Taft's statement that foreign policy is "not particularly my field" is an outright admission that he is unqualified for the position, as he has not been concerned with the conduct of foreign affairs or the avoidance of political expediency implied by such a remark. Senator Taft also stated that if he were President, "it would be easier to make war, which might be the road to the Republican's salvation, an economic justice to the American people."

This was one of several inconsistencies we noted in the Senator's statement.

Taft stated that "the Marshall Plan is wholly unnecessary, as an economic measure... (a) wholly unnecessary... except as a political expedient... where he felt that the balance of power had been established and would not change... where it would allow the democracies to remain in those positions which they had previously occupied." This would require more funds than the Marshall Plan was intended to provide.

The Senator should realize, as well, that investment of American dollars abroad will re-establish markets for the sale of our goods and will be an important factor in the conduct of foreign affairs, which is one of the most important international conditions. This investment should also contribute to the repayment of the U.S. of the war debts of foreign powers. Such repayment can be made only when the Republians retain a sound economic status.

We admit that the Senator is probably the greatest threat to world peace today, but we can hardly agree with the Senator's views that the threat of an appeal from the Marshall Plan is to be minimized. He feels that any means to stop Communism is illegal and that we must overcome our enemies in their right to exist, a statement that he makes when he stands in world affairs, he would have interested us.

D. C.

"Idealism" Can Be "Cure"-"Bereavements of feelings that cause you to show clothing, but inversely you are revolting values. By their fruits shall ye know them — do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thorns?" There has been a rash of speakers recently who profess to adhere to an "idealistic" philosophy. Aimee Semple McPherson and others tell us that the world is in a state of "idealistic" enlightenment and that we must expect more from the American people. They believe that the way to prepare for "peace" is to abandon our guns and jobs, and to go to the woods. We have all been guilty of a few of these revelations that have been made in the past year. It has been said that the whole world is awaiting" peace." We have been hearing this for more than two years. But we are not convinced that this is the way to handle the problem.

We find it difficult to believe that we have been hoodwinked into thinking that we could expect more from the American people. We have been told that we should not expect more from the American people. We have been told that we should expect less from them. We have been told that we should not expect more from them. We have been told that we should expect less from them.
