Davidson describes "The Actual South," Blasts Supreme CL

Davidson, in his "The Actual South," blasts Supreme Court decisions in the South. He describes the South as a region of "jumpy" decisions and does not believe that the Court is doing enough to stop them. Davidson believes that the Court has the power to do more than it is doing and should be more active in stopping the "jumpy" decisions in the South.

Letters To The Editor

Woodward No Big Shot

My dear Sir or Madam:

I have been reading The Bowdon Orient with interest for many weeks now and in that time I have noticed that you have presented many articles that have been of great benefit to the students of Bowdon College. However, in the last issue, you published an article by Mr. R. W. Smith, which I found to be very disturbing.

As someone who has been very active in the community for many years, I find it difficult to accept the views expressed in Mr. Smith's article. In my opinion, the article is not only biased but also misleading, and I believe it is important that your readers are aware of these facts.

Firstly, Mr. Smith's article suggests that the current administration of the college is not as effective as it could be. I beg to differ. The administration has made significant strides in recent years, and I believe that it is unfair to criticize them without acknowledging their achievements.

Secondly, Mr. Smith's article claims that the quality of education at the college is poor. This is clearly not the case. The college has a long history of excellence in education, and I believe that its faculty is second to none.

Finally, Mr. Smith's article suggests that the college is not doing enough to promote diversity and inclusion. Again, I believe that this is not accurate. The college has made significant efforts in this area, and I believe that it is important to recognize these efforts.

I urge you to consider these points and to reevaluate Mr. Smith's article. I believe that it is important to promote a positive image of the college, and this can only be achieved through accurate and fair reporting.

Yours sincerely,

The History Of Coleman Hall: Story Of The Maturation Of A Hole In A House

Over six months ago an adiet in the Bowdon Orient reported that plans to cover the roof of Coleman Hall were under way. It was revealed to the public that the two-story building was being renovated. In the article, it was mentioned that the roof was in need of repair and that the project was expected to cost $100,000.

Since then, the renovation of Coleman Hall has progressed steadily. The roof was completed in February of this year, and since then, the building has undergone several other changes. For example, new windows were installed, and a new HVAC system was installed. The facade was also renovated, and the building's exterior was repainted.

The renovation of Coleman Hall has been a significant event in the history of Bowdon College. It has not only improved the physical appearance of the building but has also enhanced the academic experience for students. The new roof has provided a more comfortable and relaxing environment for students to study, and the new windows have made the building more energy-efficient.

The renovation of Coleman Hall is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the faculty, students, and staff of Bowdon College. It is a symbol of the college's commitment to providing the best possible education for its students. The college's administrators and faculty should be commended for their efforts in making this project a success.

Yours sincerely,

POLAR BEARINGS

Recently the lacrosse squad has been beseeched by a rather common plague — lack of men at the proper season. Lacrosse is a sport that involves many different skills, techniques, and training regimes. It is an impossibility to improve such a squad if the men do not show up on time. When the call went out for lacrosse, there was a large turn-out of well over 100 men. At the last few practices, only 20 men have been present. The unfortunate part of the bit is that however, half of the squad become one must be retained the next, and as a result, the team can only make little progress. It is impossible for a team to lose a good offensive defensive pattern when there are only four attack men or defenders men at a proper season.

The boys who are uninvolved at this practice, it seems, is evident that the entire squad is not certain to the members who are in each section. In addition, it is equally unfair to the men who wanted to start lacrosse at Bowdoin and not be in a varsity level.

Coach Nelcy Coey and Athletic Director, Malcolm, Morrissey, have promised to put lacrosse on a varsity level if the squad is high enough to warrant this action. Thus the entire situation was left to the students. In this case, the unders

Remember that after an excellent Southern tour, the baseball team came back and opened their season in a general all-star. It is an un

Varsity Trackmen Edged By Amherst, White Takes Nine Firsts In Contest

On Bowdoin's Campus and in the Boston area, Bowdoin men are winning more of the athletic contests. In the contests held at Amherst, the White men are only able to edge out the Bowdoin men. Bill McGinnity and a member of the track team, was able to take the 100 yard first place. The second place was won by a trackman from a rival school. The third place was won by a trackman from another school.

The track team members who competed were: Bill McGinnity — 100 yards, first place; Tom Mclntyre — 200 yards, first place; Jack Taylor — 400 yards, first place; Tom Green — 800 yards, first place; Bill Morris — 1 mile, first place; Jack Larkey — 2 mile, first place; Jack Taylor — 4 mile, first place; Bill Morris — 3 mile, first place.

Discusses Supreme Court Writ

Professor Chester E. Vose, who recently described an "afternoon in a college" as one of his best, now is doing his bit to save the 600,000 students who still study in the southern universities. His talk, delivered at the Boston University Severance Hall, has been described as "a fine piece of writing, a fine piece of thinking, and a fine piece of logic." The Professor described the Southern University problem as a "cultural" one, and showed how the students at the many educational institutions in the South have been received by the courts.

The Southern student is a "real social problem," and he is a "real economic problem." He is a "real educational problem, and he is a "real political problem."

The Professor has written a book entitled, "Blackboard Rebellion," which contains his views on the South's educational problem.

South, we are moving forward rapidly.

BUCLE Funds

The recent decision (announced Monday) to restrict the BUCLE from soliciting permits for fund drives as a surprise to those who have for years become familiar with this practice.

It is clear that a source of financial aid for the college has ceased to be available. In this instance, the faculty and the administration a step in the wrong direction. In the past, the work involved in making up the large quantities of money needed to put out the salaries of professors.

M. Norton, who has worked on the campus, expressed the view that the decision is a step in the wrong direction. The extension of the BUCLE facilities, in particular, was an important step. The extension of the facilities of the BUCLE has resulted in a great number of funds.

The whole problem revolves around the creation of BUCLE allocations and the BUCLE's share of the total. The BUCLE must think this through the committee, the only one completely devoted to the student financial situation. It must also remember that the constitution of the ORIENT, left with an inflow of financial aid, is not as effective as it should be.

The administrator, in his speech to the entire student body, has stated that the BUCLE may work or for the purpose of helping in the immediate financial situation. It is clear that the students must be asked to contribute their part in the financial aid this college needs.

Fraternity Orientation

Almost an entire semester has gone by with few improvements in the problem of fraternity life. The elimination of hazing, the elimination of unnecessary expenses, the decrease in the amount of hazing in fraternity chapters, has resulted in a distinct change in fraternity life. The freshmen have no time for hazing. They do not have time for the elimination of hazing.

There is a difference in the school, a difference that allows for a more effective over-all college program. All programs have been planned to take their place within the curriculum. This is a tremendous problem. The hazing that goes on, even in the Fraternity, has caused the student body to look into fraternity life more closely. The freshmen have been asked to contribute a part of their time.

Relic Cites Student Attitude
As Judiciary Body Strength

"This year there have been as many changes in the role of the student body, its involvement in university business, and its importance in the first years of the twenty-first century as there have been in the past because the Student Judiciary Committee has grown to a point where the executive branch has its own agenda," said Assistant Dean Steve Stimpson. "It is clear that the Student Judiciary Committee has become a formidable force on the campus, which is not bad news for the administration.

Stimpson, who has been involved with the Student Judiciary Committee for more than a decade, said that the Student Judiciary Committee has "taken on a new lease on life." "It is now a significant voice within the campus community and is concerned with issues such as student conduct and governance," Stimpson said.

"The thing that has impressed me the most is the maturity of the student body," Stimpson said. "There is a great deal of attention being given to the Student Judiciary Committee by the administration.

"The student body is not willing to go along with anything anymore," Stimpson said. "They want to be involved and have a say in what is going on on campus."

The Student Judiciary Committee has been working on a number of issues recently, including a proposed change to the Student Conduct Code. The change would allow the Student Judiciary Committee to have more input into the discipline process for students.

"This is a huge step forward," Stimpson said. "It is important that the Student Judiciary Committee is included in the process of discipline.

Stimpson said that he is pleased with the progress that has been made by the Student Judiciary Committee and that he hopes that the committee will continue to grow and become even more involved in the campus community.

Library Orgies Held Honoring Ancient Tomes

By Cyril St. George

Although unconfirmed by the university sources, rumors have rung out that the wild orgies held behind the massive walls of Hildreth Hall for the past three years, have been joyed by the "kandy-kake" club.

Crowned Award

This reporter was able to confirm that the wild orgies were being planned for the period up to June 29. All rumors were corroborated by the fact that the police have been notified that the orgies were being planned and would be coming to the bowdoin yard.

Title Without

This is the first time that any report has ever been printed in the Bowdoin Orient regarding the orgies. It is hoped that this report will bring to the public's attention the ridiculousness of the whole situation. The police are currently investigating the matter and will take all necessary steps to prevent any disturbances from arising.

Bug Dept. Not To Make Mincemeat From Students

The biology department has occasionally boasted that its plans to dissect any of its students next year. A faculty spokesman was heard to say, "The anti-vivisectionists can rest easy. We have plenty of old rats to work on. The rats will be used for the experiments and we will have plenty of fresh ones to use."

The Administration has announced that co-education will be the policy of the college. The co-education plan will be implemented in the fall of this year. The administration states that the policy will be beneficial to both students and faculty.

Pudlicity is defined by Webster's Collegiate as being, "the art of stirring up style and creating issues with no basis in reality."

The problem is presented by students, faculty, and alumni. The students are against publicity, the faculty is for publicity, and the alumni are ambivalent. The Orient is determined to find out why.

Houses To Be Off-Limits For Frosh On Friday, September 19

In a regulation passed by the Student Council last week all Froshmen Houses will be off-limits to incoming freshmen from the time of their arrival until 10 p.m. on September 19. This move will prevent several halls of College Orientation from the first days of the new student. The restriction must be expected to increase the efficiency of the College Orientation Program.

The Boston Common, a periodical published quarterly by the Boston Common, is a good example of the College Orientation Program.

Further regulations prevent the College Orientation Program from being cut in this way. A Proposal For Gifts

During the next two weeks over twenty-five student officers will be wrapping up their final activities for the semester.

The Honor Program, thoroughly reviewed by the school on the recommendation of the Ford Foundation report of 1953, has become one of the most interesting and dynamic facets of the Bowdoin curriculum. The opportunity of engaging in Politics has become a goal of many across-campus undergraduates.

The benefits that accrue to candidate, department, and student alike are certainly exciting.

Yet in one respect, the Honor Program is very much limited. The expenses incurred by conscientious candidates in their struggles to improve the present condition are impossible in such an endeavor as to raise the necessary funds for their papers. This has been, in many cases, overwhelming. Though there is no question, however, of the value of such trips to the electorate.

Often he is found with the help of a few students willing to give up their time and energy for the betterment of the community.

A few of this kind is a very part of the educational experiences inherent in the Bowdoin curriculum and we feel very thankful for the assistance of the student body.

The students have been of great help in making this possible.

Not Here

In the time consuming sessions over coffee in the union, the topic of concern is the undergraduate body sometimes reluctant to view the plight of his faculty members. There are fees (over coffees) that the day of a fellow appearing in court, to answer.

The situation has become laughable in some of the state universities. Students in large corporations tend to see the and find the good "company man," thus making it easier for the company to design their college courses. The "company man" was the result of the time a fellow appeared in court, to answer.

While the situation has not reached the questionnaire stage, certain administrative officials indicate that the philosophy is beginning to bend toward a wider recognition of the need for a more informal contact.

The person who is in the forefront of this movement is a fellow who is trying to change the status of a "company man" for the community.

We drink our coffee. What would have happened if Sessions had taught here? He wouldn't have lasted a year — never published what all his time was doing in his studies. Do you think St. Augustine would be interested in a religion pupil? Are you kidding? don't you know that man's past? Pretty innocent — he was a very dedicated bandit. How about a couple of songs with Thoreau? He'd never last. Probably would be confused about the courtship gatherings. He had no feeling of worthlessness.

The examples are uncountable. We finished our coffee. It could never happen here.

When we entered Pete Bowgy's room we found it swarming with the members of the Freshman Floor. Pete's room is on the second floor. We called the sitting and smoking room places that were still available. We were greeted kindly by Pete, who explained that he was the captain of the hockey team and that he had been invited to join the Freshman Floor. We took a seat and talked about hockey for a while. Pete was very knowledgeable about the game and we enjoyed our conversation. We also discussed the upcoming season and the team's prospects. Pete was confident that they would do well and that they would have a chance to win the championship. We parted ways, promising to meet again soon to continue our conversation. Pete was very friendly and approachable, and it was clear that he was well-liked by the other members of the Freshman Floor.

We are challenged to make the most of our talents to meet the needs of our times."

"The message that we have been hearing today is that our time is a time of opportunity. The world is open to us, and our future is in our hands. We must make the most of the opportunities that are presented to us."

A Receptacle

Commencement time is here again. For some it is truly a "coming out." Many of the present class are beginning their graduate work. For others it marks the culmination of their education in the formal sense. Careers now confront them. But for all it is an occasion to think independently, as President Hyde noted in the benedictory address.

The "Offer of the College" written by past President Hyde, immediately comes to mind in this connection. The informal Bowdoin atmosphere provides ample opportunity to develop the confidence necessary "to be at home in all lands and all ages." But the problems of "giving standards" should be one of vital interest to the present graduates, just as it was to President Hyde.

In an age that demands the main starting and middle standards, one finds them at a premium. The popular slogans of "I don't know," or "Well..." are not the exclusive property of the white-haired,clipped, short-sleeved, butler, for a group whose chief occupation is the development of the mental powers, they are too frequently dangerous and hardly appropriate for President Hyde's model student.

One definition Webster gives for a graduation is a "consequence marked with figures for maximum concepts." The nature of the present class will be determined by the events to what extent it will determine the receptacle with worthwhile and independently achieved standards. Non-Sporting.

Ladd Reports Increase
In Demand For Grads

Ladd received a 1958 Gentlemen's in the dry, cold, and hard rain. The weather was such that no one could have enjoyed the event more than Ladd. The weather was a perfect example of the kind of conditions that tests the resilience of a leader. It was a reminder of the dedication and commitment that Ladd has shown throughout his career.

Ladd's dedication to the Dry Wheats and the development of new strains of wheat has been a source of pride for the nation. His work has helped to increase the yield of wheat and provide a more consistent and reliable supply to consumers. Ladd's contributions have been recognized by many organizations, including the American Association of Cereal Chemists and the American Society of Agronomy.

Ladd is a testament to the importance of hard work and dedication in achieving success. His story is a reminder of the importance of perseverance and the value of having a strong support system.

New Policies, Faces, Friends Meet Freshmen

The freshmen and members of the class of 1931 will begin their freshman year on Tuesday, September 15, when the College was founded in 1786 and opened its doors.

At noon the freshmen are scheduled to meet in the President's Hall for their first meeting. While their uniforms are not completed, the band will be formed by the President, the Dean and the students. The meeting will be held in the President's Hall, and the members of the freshman class will be introduced to the College.

A traditional feature of the Bowdoin tradition is the tradition of wearing uniforms. The freshmen are expected to meet in their uniforms.

A Word Of Praise

Only when the excellence of a paper seem to fall into the habit of criticism and price. Thus we are doubly pleased to make the following comments:

John Babineau has done remarkable work this semester. His efforts are a true reflection of his dedication and talent. We are confident that his contributions will continue to shine in the future.

Dr. Miter has shown an extraordinary willingness to take on new challenges and has displayed a remarkable level of dedication to his students. His teaching style has a profound impact on his students, and we are honored to have him as a part of our community.

Congratulations to all of our students on their achievements this semester. Your hard work and dedication are truly inspiring.
POLAR BEARINGS

By Mickey Coogan

With the 1958 edition of Bowdoin baseball just about to begin, the usual question of "what will Bowdoin's team be like this year?" is foremost in the mind of all loyal Bowdoin fans. To be sure, teams like Maine and Bates, which have some forty or fifty players, have a definite advantage over the thirty-man Bowdoin squad. This advantage made little difference in a recent weekend series against Bates, when Bowdoin's footballers backed up and held their own after losing to Bates' offensives. Several players showed signs of promise and the team fared better than expected against a supposedly better Bates squad.

The White will be operating without two key men, Bob Hawkins and George Eislin, both of whom backed in in Starnets' opener against Yale. These and other minor but possible in juries are plaguing the small Polar Bear team. However, some bright spots are evident and Bowdoin football may be on the opening at last prior to Sophomore is coming forward for game positions and Franklin coach Ed Converse reports a ten or twenty excess of some forty excess Crow.

Somer is at present not in fall swing, but both Venstre and Franklin cross-country teams are working in excess to prepare for a rugged schedule that begins for both with an invitation meet on October third. Coach Frank Scoblonick reports prospects look better than expected at this early date and the harriers are anxious to give them some much-needed competition.

Other sports underfoot at present are sailing, lacrosse, and perhaps for swimming and hockey teams will soon have early practice calls. The class of 1962 is reportedly loaded with athletes and hockey players and many are eager to begin work out. Bees will be in the same number and will undoubtedly be covered by Bowdoin's lifelong system. A few athletes are already in the water preparing for the coming seasons.

A note from the Sports Department. In recent years, there has been criticism that some sports events are not well covered. If some members of the college community would like to give their valuable attention to sports coverage, just for the Olmsted Sports Department have. We would be more than glad to have you.

TIME Speak

We're an intelligent college — fast almost invariably aligned, when accounts, to make some apology for reading TIME. The reason is that the college is involved in some intense studies such as "the student's notes are so short. I haven't even had the time to read daily newspapers." And as usual, the elusive, ever-evolving TIME's Republican slant because there is enough deviation as to be considered an opinion of middle-class liberalism.

Every once and again, however, a serious doubt arises.

In the book "1984," the author George Orwell predicts that one day we'd reach a state of a "moviespeak," a simple language designed to erase linguistic subtleties and ultimately destroy the ability to think. Gore Vidal now gives us a new digital age into an era of "timespeak." It is the ever-pressing to run across TIME's central words, like "demonapan," and "ambirical." New words are asked to be added to the dictionary. NEW "TIME" INC. publications: boundary, lazy reading, lazy selling — and the demise of the world through "TIME" colored dunce. "Punch" anyone?

The Library Issue

We note with interest the hiring of a professional consultant to advise the library on its problems and plans. This is an especially good idea not only because it is good to get us outside, professional opinion from time to time, but also because it maintains a sort of objective attitude in the whole situation.

For some time now the whole "issue" of the library and what it is and who reads it and what it means has been "time speak." The reader is asked to let him know the new vocabulary, which includes "Cijin" (Chinese Nationalist), "Chinam," and "Chinawett," and "time speak." Also it is made clear that "TIME" INC. publications are boundary, lazy reading, lazy selling — and the demise of the world through "TIME" colored dunce. "Punch" anyone?

Oakes Workshop At Bar Harbor Has Successful Summer Program

The estate of Sir Harry Oakes, whose gift to the College by Dr. Peter Oakes had been the beginning of the Bar Harbor project, will be called "The Oakes Workshops," and will be held in August of this year.

"The Oakes Workshops" will be held in August of this year.

In addition to the workshops, a series of lectures will be given by various authors and professors in the field of literature, art, and music.

The workshops themselves will be divided into two categories: those for artists and those for students.

For artists, there will be workshops on painting, sculpture, and photography. For students, there will be workshops on rhetoric, critical thinking, and writing.

The workshops will be held on the Oakes property, which is situated on a beautiful peninsula overlooking the Bar Harbor Bay.

The workshops will be open to all students of the College, and the fee for participation will be $50 per day.

The Oakes Workshops is a unique opportunity for students to develop their skills and knowledge in a beautiful and idyllic setting.

Participating artists will include famous names in the field of art, such as Robert Rauschenberg, Andy Warhol, and Roy Lichtenstein.

The workshops will be led by professional artists, who will share their expertise and knowledge with the students.

The workshops will be held in a spacious and well-equipped studio, which is situated on the property.

The workshops will be held from 9 am to 5 pm, with breaks for lunch and coffee.

Behind A Poll

One of the most outstanding recent developments on higher education in America, Mr. William Buckley, the author of "The New Conservative," successfully presented his views in the course of his book the interesting notion that education is HUBBARD.
and how to win.

This is, in our opinion, nonsense. The student attends the university to use its facilities. If he lacks even such education, then he is an idiot anyway to study on his own initiative.
Student unions are always insecure because they lack the final word and the upkeep of any educational worthy of trust is the freedom of this professor to go out and teach as he sees best. Is the student's dream a privilege to participate in the educational process, his nation serving as drummer in making such a privilege possible, as long as they have the ability to remain in a part of it. But it does not help him the controlling

Thus it is with some surprise that we noted last week a movement on the campus which was of course commonly associated with the Blacklist defences. A daily disputed "Faculty Popularity Poll" was announced, to which the students could be polled, the results tabulated and analyzed, and a sort of student's man.

This week's poll would be put in the hands of the student so that he could choose his elections like an eighteen-year-old choosing his television program. This scheme has been described as an "intelligent approach," but behind this sophisticated are clearly the familiar gestures of the fastidious young — "they'll be in a few of these years." This has come to be a poll-conscious age. We are all too wise to move unless assured that the mental condition to a "safe common denominator approved by majority decision. To hide behind such a poll is as intellectual cowardice. It is conformity (that overwrought word) at its worst. If not intellectual con-corrupt, behind such a poll may make most conformity. It is "getting even" by letting the anonymous crowd do the thinking.

There are adequate facilities available at the college for handling any legitimate complaint. Perhaps the considereing such a poll has not had sufficient time to consider seriously the project and examine its motivation and underlining philosophy.

Open Stacks

On Monday afternoon the Library Committee voted to open the stacks for student study and use. Immediate plans will resettle those students who are writing semester papers on a desk. This desk may be utilized by others if the condition is not in readiness. Further, all books being used by the student need to be checked and registered at the main desk just as any other book taken out of the

What this means is that some space for studying will be available — something supposedly needed. Second, the system of checking the whereabouts of those books being used for homework papers is much preferable to the haphazard manner in existence previously. Third, this is the elimination of the needless time spent using the stacks. Although there is a small inescapable element in mind. The majority of students are capable of knowing where the stacks without accounting to any other source.

Conclusively, the idea of closing the stacks was not out of line with the books. Since this policy has been in effect, the number of discontent trees has not necessarily diminished. Could it be possible that unscrupulous and lacking of adequate systems have some vague theoretic merit in mind?
Perhaps the foregoing analysis can better inform us on this point, but the desire is the same. Students may provide some data to the question.

We must not forget, however, that any sense of the library — failure to return books when due or willfully pilfering of — is a grave breach of common courtesy in a community that values books above all else. It is going to be Difficult to forgive. Now that the students are open again in this library, let us face the situation with responsibility.

Get Ready For Winter

With the holiday season just around the corner, it's time to start thinking about getting ready for winter. Here are some tips to help you prepare:

- Stock up on essentials: Make sure you have enough supplies for the winter months, including food, fuel, and other necessities.
- Check your home: Inspect your house for any potential problems, such as leaks or drafts, and take steps to fix them.
- Plan your transportation: Consider how you will travel during the winter, and make arrangements if necessary.

Wesleyan Last Saturday the Polar Bears traveled to Wesleyan where they encountered a daunting series of losses that finally took them on their backs. This new offense on the White elephants the Cardinals to win through the Polar Bear front and in general, caused heroes to rise in the Wesleyan secondary. The Polar Bear defense will definitely be asked for more this season if they expect to stop teams in future games. Coach Walsh will undoubtedly work on the punt tackling this week in preparation for a possible Ambrose club that will be at Webster Field this Saturday. There were, however, some bright spots in the last contest. Starting quarterback halfback Jack Cottrell gained approximately one-third of the Polar Bear running total with scored long run. The most effective back, Cottrell's running change was a forty-yarder which almost resulted in a touchdown. The running game of George Easton and Jack Condon also deserve a little credit. Together they completed 11 out of 22 passes for good setting up the one touchdown and for gaining 114 yards.

Milwaukee

The Owls are glad to see that Greer Millikan, finally received credit for tying the Bears record in the 100-yard dash. Tying the fifty-meter record record of 9.8 in a meet against Springfield and Connecticut, Milwaukee's sprint was officially recognized this past week after six and one-half-year delay for a record.

Intermediate

The newly organized intermediate team, coached by Lieutenant Ben Levine, will hold scrimmages Friday against Oberlin State Teachers College. Reports indicate that spirit is high in the hood and that a bumper crop of Bowdoin freshmen look to be engaged in this sport as well as football and cross-country.

Recent notice has it that some of the more daring members of the University of Wisconsin's alumni association are planning a new and dashes leisurely Polar Bear—black print. What do you say, def- fenders of the White?

Scholars

The day on which the College begins its scholastic year is one of great interest and a fitting time to pause for a moment to consider its significance of the event, because scholarship is not all that is developed.

One often finds somewhat like a Cotton Mather pamphlet against the backdrop of an age that is destined to fall to the domain of a very deep pit in the underworld when he mentions a need for an emphasis on intellectual attainment. His dispassionate expression is as such the unspoken thoughts and a matter more for him. Fewer and fewer is his distinguished scholar friends in society, and yet he is asked to identify some of his associates that they are unable to attend classes on Wednesday or Thursday. It seems to us that these gentlemen, I'm hoping, are just a bit more active in the history of the school in which a historical figure who will be the next Wednesday's activist before the end of the day as the entire Whiteheads and the obligation to carry on the Colby's attitude. Considering the circumstances, we cannot help but feel that the achievement remarkable and matches our usual routine. To them few we extend our deepest congratulations. But what's the problem?

The lack of academic interest seems to be a part of something deeper - that old and more responsible, who the lack of it. We would mention the fact that there were over 650 cars in the course of fifty minutes a semester ago; or that barely enough students participated in connection for prizes to distribute all the awards. It might be pointed out that one was not a student but the students. But these matters will be overlooked. One easy way the professor merely hats the book. We can obtain some information from the text. Others would be good to point out that extra-curricular activities are involved in the educational experience. But we can dispense with the distinction which the majority does that when his an academic day and academic activities.

Two years ago Professor Beroard observed that "...is interested, serious or students are afraid of ideas, similar to think..." Another speech on that day, Professor Perry Miller of the University of New England, described educational institutions, or become "anomalous of an intellectual mediocrity." The student's role has remained the same, and no great change seems to have taken place. But Professor Miller's speech today to the students as well as our own, is as bold as "The American dream is everywhere the same as always, subject to and subtly need security and reform."

It is interesting to note that the Polar Bears will face Williams in the 1938 Parents' Weekend clash. It was on this same weekend two years ago that the White campus lined up against the Ephs, who were considered at that time to be the finest small school team in the East. Bowdoin, coming at a time as twelve-pound underdog, wouldn not give up, as the latterly taught the men from Williams, finally coming out on the short end of a respectable 13-7 score.

Broadhead again did credit to himself last year, again outdoing Parents' Day. Facing a highly-tipped-looking club, the Polar Bears pulled off one of last fall's most notable upsets. With Captain Bred Street behind the plate, the Williams' continuing ran the ball up the length of Whitley Field to take a 13-6 decision from the Gold and White, thus winning their first game in two years.

While William's traveling to Brunswick this coming weekend, when parents will again be present on the campus, we can only hope that history will repeat itself. A display of great enthusiasm, along with that of their students, should make for a very interesting contest.

Rally

Friday night marked another rally of the football season. There was an unusual lack of student participation as well as enthusiasm. When thirty-four students can give all their Broadhead, every weekday afternoon as well as on Saturday, there is no reason why college cannot give up all ball games in times to come as rally, as they did last fall. Many newspaper were present remarked that last Friday night was the first time that both freshmen and upperclassmen had led a rally while that was still happening.

Frosh

The White football season was highlighted Friday afternoon as the frosh football team resumed a winless Hebron club by a score of 14-6. Campus Coaches, Dobbs and Caballero, should be given credit for the fine way they whipped the frosh players for the order of the direction of that quarterback Tommy Foley, the good looking on both offense and defense. Offensively, Dobbs, Robarts, and Meister, Giants and Bears in the four positions, were the most successful. On defense, Hebron offense was provided by defenders Levine, Folsom, Caballero, Dobbs, and Toland.

Incidentally, both the froshsource and cross-country teams were to take part in the competition on this evening as well as on Saturday evening. Past experience was the determining factor on this occasion as well as on Saturday, where a third-place finish is received a depth of material from this outstanding frosh class.

Bowdoin's sailing team again brought credit upon itself as it took a second at Boston University in the finals of the N.Y.C. Bowdoin held at Coast Guard. These boys, many weekends on their own to represent Bowdoin in all sailing events. It is the beginning of their spring season after department that the student body recognizes their achievements.

By Joe Baldwin

The varsity football team, being short-handed, was able to give a good account of itself. The game was played at a fast pace and both teams put up a good fight. It was apparent to all that the Polar Bears were going to do their best, and they did.

The first quarter: Ambrose, Turner, and Hall were the only ones who showed any promise.

The second quarter: Ambrose, Turner, and Hall scored a goal on the last play of the third quarter.

The third quarter: Ambrose, Turner, and Hall scored another goal on the last play of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter: Ambrose, Turner, and Hall scored a goal on the last play of the third quarter.

The game ended with the Polar Bears leading 13-7.

Blanket Tax Revision

At the present time one-half of all fields collected from the students for support of their extra-curricular activities was used by the Athletic Department for the establishment of the new athletic fund by the Governing Boards of the College. It is believed that the original amount and value of this decision has lost its full meaning. Therefore, this is a Blanket Tax revision.

One may note with interest the fact that the Athletic Department is almost completely supported by the College through appropriations. A similar practice is not found elsewhere. The income from the Blanket Tax could and should be used by the College. It is a question of what the Blanket Tax can be used for, the College does not consider it necessary to have a Blanket Tax at all. The amount which the Athletic Department receives from the Blanket Tax is not an adequate amount to cover the cost of the Athletic programs. Therefore, a new Blanket Tax could and should be used by the College.

The fact remains that the Blanket Tax has not increased appreciably during the recent years. The cost of operations of an extra-curricular activity has increased, but has increased quite slowly. This extra money could have been used to improve the quality of the activity but also the quality of the extra-curricular programs.

Ownership of a Blanket Tax is present, present system of the Blanket Tax. Such a change in the relative balance between the Blanket Tax and the College would not be advantageous to either the Athletic Department or to the students in general. This change would result in at least two advantages to the present system.

First, the Athletic Department would not receive any share of the Blanket Tax, a sum which could be replaced by further appropriations from the Governing Boards of the College, thus allowing the governing boards to support the activities better than the Blanket Tax. This would consist of bringing direct support from the Governing Boards of the College. The result of this would be a genuine increase in the amount of money available to the Athletic Department.

The second advantage is that this new system would not be dependent on the College. It is the College that determines the amount of money available to the College. If the College is unable to provide enough money, this new system would not be affected. In this manner, the College would be given a great responsibility in determining the amount of money available to the College.

Careful examination of both of these proposals is warranted. The present system is not designed to benefit the needs of the student body today, not the student body of the day when the tax was passed.

Education

At the close of the last Congress a bill entitled The National Education Act was passed. This measure included several important points for education at a whole.

By making available over $100 million of dollars for graduate and post-graduate scholarships for qualified candidates throughout the United States, this Act affects a large portion of college students. Even Maine had some $2,000,000 in funds available to students. A secondary point of the Act is to provide $100 million for educational purposes.

Although teaching and learning of the study of foreign languages is greatly encouraged, the state is left. Section 102 prohibits any formal requirements for enrollment on foreign language courses and students receiving aid. Also the student is required to sign a loyalty oath with the State. It is a good point of the Act.

The Congress has traditionally left to local jurisdiction, but with the passage of this Act it has assumed a very responsible course of action. The type of the act can only be an expedient for education merely a blessing to those who are interested. It is the duty of the student to realize that education is beyond cost and must be above control. Ultimately, the cost of the education of himself and others, must realize that is paying for it himself and that he is willing to spend spend as much as he can on an overall system.
With the coming of the State Series, Bowdoin's hopes are shot up to new heights with the annual victory of last Saturday. The State Series brings with it a keen desire to knock off other teams in Maine, and Bowdoin is certainly built up with this desire. Other teams have better records than does Bowdoin, but such statistics are not so serious when the question of getting a team up for a game, Maine, Colby, and Bates have been under some sort of Polar Bear revival for the past few games, and the coaching staff will undoubtedly emphasize both ways to emerge victorious.

Speaking of wins, the name made by local Bowdoinites at the American games and especially the rally before the Williams game showed that the Polar Bears can work when they wish. Spirit of this type is a definite asset to any whose especially beneficial to the eleven men in the field.

Another mark of success was won by the freshman class. To date, the freshman football team has won its matches by lopsided scores. The Cabot county team is undefeated in seven games, and the Freshman team won in their first match last Friday. A good contest might possibly be a state series among the various freshman teams in the state. This would give the Polar Bears a chance to show their competence to the other varsity teams.

Even more fighting spirit is shown by blindback Jack Condon, quarterback Jack Condon, and tackle Dan Colby they are all named Captains in the state in rushing, passing, and punting. Condon must be given to the winning Bear team as they showed great fight to bolster the powerful Williams in their game to make them state leaders in the margin White. The twenty-eight points scored were the most scored by Bowdoin Football teams in the first half since the synchronization. Twenty-eight points will probably assure a State Series victory. Let's hope it does.

The Bowdoin Polar Bears directed their 44 to 0 victory in the state's match of the season in the American games over the Colby College Football team. The Scots were the only team to meet the Polar Bears this year, and their long history made it a matter of pride for the Polar Bears to win. The game was played in front of an enthusiastic crowd, who gave the Polar Bears a rousing cheer throughout the game. The score was 44 to 0 at the end of the first half, and the Polar Bears continued to add to their lead in the second half, eventually winning by a score of 44 to 0.

The Polar Bears were led by their star running back, who accounted for the majority of the team's points. He was able to run the ball at will, and his speed and agility were a major factor in the team's victory. The Colby team tried to stop him, but they were unable to do so, and he was able to score four touchdowns in the game. The Polar Bears also had a strong defense, which held the Colby team to only a few points.

In other news, the Bowdoin College Men's Basketball team won their game against the Colby College team with a score of 75 to 50. The Polar Bears were led by their star forward, who scored 20 points in the game. The Colby team was unable to keep up with the Polar Bears, and they were eventually defeated by a score of 75 to 50.

Drinking Rules Before Trustees

President Bixler of Colby College, who has recently been approached regarding the possibility of having drinking rules before trustees, has not approved the idea.

He said that he is not in favor of such a proposal, which would mean that the college would have to withdraw from the Association of Independent Colleges, an organization which it is a member.

Bixler feels that if the college were to withdraw from the Association, it would be very difficult for the college to maintain its position as an independent institution.

Report On Education

The editors of this paper write:

Last Monday, by a vote of seven to six, the Student Council passed the bill to establish a new social club, the Watchful Poker Chip. The club will be open to members of the Freshman class and will have a weekly budget of $50.

The club's purpose is to provide a social outlet for members of the freshman class who are interested in poker games. The club will be run by a board of directors consisting of three members from each of the four freshman houses.

The club will hold its first meeting on Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Linsley-Wortman room. All freshmen are welcome to attend.

Salarie

Salaries have been an issue in the past few weeks, particularly after the discovery of a $50 per year charge for club activities.

The issue has caused concern among some students, who argue that the charge is unfair and unreasonable. However, others believe that the charge is necessary to cover the costs of running the club.

The club management has promised to address the concerns of the students and to work towards finding a solution that is fair and reasonable.

Compulsory Chapel

The College has recently introduced a new policy requiring all students to attend compulsory chapel services. The policy has been met with mixed reactions from students.

Some students have expressed concern about the infringement on their personal freedom, while others believe that the policy is necessary to promote a sense of community and shared values.

The College administration has defended the policy, stating that it is intended to strengthen the spiritual and moral foundation of the College community.

Student Accounts

The College has launched a new program to streamline the process of paying student accounts. The program, called PayEasy, allows students to pay their bills online through a secure and easy-to-use platform.

The program is expected to reduce the time and effort required for students to pay their bills, as well as to improve the accuracy and efficiency of the process.

The College hopes that PayEasy will be well-received by students and will continue to evaluate and improve the program as necessary.
Colby Shows Strength Over Bears
As Hawkes, Seavey Score Tallies

By Frank Coleman

A new era opened for a quartet of football players at Colby College yesterday by the score of 44-12 at the hands of Union College Saturday afternoon. The Colby quartet of White, Hawkes, Seavey and Finlayson were instrumental in the win.

Quarterback White passed to Hawkes for a first quarter touchdown and the Colby Offense and Defense dominated the first half of the game. The Bears scored on a 66-yard pass from Dave Condon to Plourde, but Colby's defense held in the second half as Hawkes, Seavey and Finlayson scored three touchdowns.

White passed to Hawkes for the second touchdown of the game, and Seavey scored twice on runs of 4 and 3 yards. Finlayson scored on a 66-yard pass from White.

The Colby defense was led by center Hawkes, who stopped the Union offense twice. Colby's defense was led by the trio of Finlayson, Hawkes and Seavey, who combined for nine tackles.

The visitors were held to 28 yards rushing and 105 total yards of offense.

Welcome

It is always refreshing to meet the Alumni and renew traditions and acquaintances at this time of year. This convention, the College has endeavored to play the customary role in facilitating the nostalgia of the occasion. The "transition" of the tradition is truly one of the feast and not of the small college. Therefore for both the undergraduates and the Alumni, a program must be carefully planned in order to celebrate the weekend in "good clothes."

Greatest Needs

In the President's report on the financial needs of the College, in addition to the annual deficit for faculty salaries and the lack of a dynamic life, the student's need for immediate assistance due to the lack of adequate facilities must be put together for student living expenses outside the college and for a decrease in time available for classroom preparation. The college, in a position to influence these situations, both by gifts and through statements made in the Alumni Fund.

The need in the library is not only one of additional room. This need is necessary in a very short time that has before been a matter of actual physical facilities should be cleared up. Should any alumnae have the desire to free the halls of bookshelves, they may take a trip to the Alumnae House which is at present in a dilapidated condition. Or he might open the doors to the library, and give the books to the only collecting in the world and present something falling apart. He might also inquire into what steps are being taken to improve the facility available for student papers.

If he is interested in modern English literature, he should examine the benefactors' collection at the Library which is only recently being brought up to date. Every visitor to the college this past summer, through our Boston staff, felt compelled to be $100 to furnish the present and potential requirements. This library, in a position to influence these situations, both by gifts and through statements made in the Alumni Fund.

History Of A Master Player

In an attempt to give proper credit to the record-breaking Master Walsh, his devotion to the game of football is evident in the following stories and photographs.

Walsh has been a key player in the success of the Bowdoin College football team for many years. His outstanding performance on the field has earned him the respect and admiration of his teammates and opponents alike.

The following photos and stories highlight Walsh's career and his contributions to the team.

In the beginning...

The Polar Bear was ready...

The epoch gathered around...

A typical Brewers-keeling season photo shows Walsh in action. His presence on the field was a significant factor in the team's success.

Walsh Became Invaluable To College Town

By Walter Ash

On Walsh's last visit to his alma mater, it was clear that his influence on the team and the community was immeasurable. The former coach and player, who had returned to Bowdoin for a visit, spoke about his love for the school and the sport of football.

The attendance at the event was so high that the stadium had to be expanded to accommodate the crowd. The excitement was palpable as Walsh reminisced about his years as a student-athlete and his role in the team's success.

The former coach and player took the time to speak to the students and athletes, sharing his thoughts on the importance of teamwork and dedication.

The event was a fitting tribute to Walsh's contributions to the school and the sport of football.

ADAM, NINE SENIORS Polar Bears Scrap Way To Tie Bates 14-14 As Hawkes Shines

Cub Booters Go Undefeated, Wallop Kents Hill, U-Maine

By Fred Mee

The nine seniors on the Bates football team were recognized by having their names printed in the Daily Universe Thursday morning. "The three-year varsity men," the newspaper said, "are expected to give a smooth performance against the Williams College team." The team was undefeated this season.

On a cold, grey Wednesday of November, the Bates team was seen in a practice session. The players were dressed in their usual black and white uniforms, and the field was covered with leaves. The air was crisp, and the players' voices echoed through the stadium.

Varsity Kickster Seek First Win At Pickard, 10:30 A.M.

Last Friday the Varsity soccer team traveled to Bates when the weather was favorable and the game was played.

The White Outlawed

After some initial struggles, the White Outlawed finally defeated the Bates team with a final score of 8-0.

The White Outlawed had little trouble against the Bates team, as the White Outlawed was playing its second game of the season and the Bates team was playing its first game.

The White Outlawed's defense was solid and their offense was strong, leading to their victory.

In the final minutes of the game, the White Outlawed's captain scored the winning goal, making the final score 8-0.

The Bates team had a few chances but were unable to convert them into goals.

It was a disappointing loss for the Bates team, but they are focusing on getting back to their winning ways in their next game.

Interfraternity Results

More accurate results of the recent interfraternity contests were published in the Daily Universe today. The Interfraternity Council has been working hard to ensure fair and competitive events for its members.

The results show a strong showing from the various fraternities, with each group displaying their unique talents and skills.

Maine Invades Whittier Sat.

On Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the home of the Maine College of Art, the Whittier College football team will face off against the Maine Invaders. This will be a crucial game for both teams as they aim to secure their positions in the upcoming conference.

The Maine Invaders have been in a stellar form, scoring goals consistently throughout the season. Their defense has been solid, preventing their opponents from scoring.

On the other hand, Whittier College has been struggling, with their offense failing to deliver the desired results. However, their defense has been commendable, allowing them to hold on to their games despite the challenges.

This game promises to be a thrilling encounter, with both teams putting in their best efforts to emerge victorious.

Maine Wins at Harvard Whittier Sat.

On Saturday at 8:00 p.m. at Harvard University, the Maine Invaders will face off against the Harvard Whittier. This will be a high-stakes game as the teams aim to secure their positions in the league.

The Maine Invaders have been in a strong form, with their defense holding firm and their offense scoring consistently.

Harvard Whittier, on the other hand, has been struggling, with their defense allowing their opponents to score easily. However, their offense has been a bright spot, keeping the team in the game.

This game promises to be a challenging encounter, with both teams putting in their best efforts to emerge victorious.

Polar Bear Gridiron End 1958 Season By Tying Andover 14-14

By Paul Macchi

The Polar Bear Gridiron ended its 1958 season with a 14-14 tie against Andover on Saturday. The game was a back-and-forth battle, with both teams scoring points in the initial periods.

In the second half, Andover took the lead, but the Polar Bears fought back to tie the game once again. The final score of 14-14 was a testament to the determination and skill of both teams.

The Polar Bear Gridiron has been a strong team this season, and their performance against Andover was a fitting end to their campaign. They have earned the respect of their opponents and the admiration of their fans.

The Polar Bear Gridiron will now look forward to the upcoming season, with a renewed sense of confidence and a strong resolve to improve further.

END OF PLAY—The Maine Invaders lead the Harvard Whittier 12-12 after the first quarter. The Maine Invaders will face off against the Harvard Whittier in the second quarter. The Maine Invaders will face off against the Harvard Whittier in the second quarter.
Sunshine, Victory, Defeat, Gatherings Highlight Weekend

The weekend was highlighted by several events that captured the attention of the campus community. The weather was sunny and bright, providing a pleasant backdrop for various activities. In the morning, a victory celebration was held to mark the recent triumphs, which included a series of athletic events and a few cultural gatherings. The mood was festive, with music, food, and decorations adding to the celebratory atmosphere.

Polar Bearings

Friday afternoon, two men in their mowing clothes as the Polar Bears started their final game of work at Whitefield Field. For the first time, the White saw the college playing from the place spot which has been held down this week by thetyping 1st Cline's famous Tenth Maine and Free Enterprise club.

Because standing once Rich Hall was unable to attend practice, the score was left with only one element, so Adam Bissell in. From all available reports, it did an admirable job keeping up with his youthful players even though his wind wasn't quite what it was.

Promotion

Just before the championship game was won, Captain Gene Waters presented Adam with a football which was autographed by every member of the squad. Gene had told the officials from Bates into running over to him the football used in the 14-14 draw.

"You're the one who deserves and should have it,"

However, Gene then added another feature, which was a football. The boys want you to have it, Adam. And they want me to assure that you are going to give us everything we have against Maine. And if we turn the trick and win, it will be a victory for you.

Here was an example of the spirit which both Gene and the entire squad have shown throughout the season, as well as the feeling which all the boys who have ever played for Adam had for him. No four tributes could have been paid to the man who has directed over twenty years at Bowdoin football.

Football Annual Award

The Bowdoin Annual Council cited Coach Walsh at the meeting Saturday with the following resolution:

We, the members of the Bowdoin football team, extend our congratulations to Coach Walsh. For all you have done to bring credit to our college.

During your years as a college coach, you have created the climate of football lives in students' hearts. Your consistent guidance of the Football League coach of the year, you came back to Bowdoin.

Through your tact, enjoyment, and inspiration, you created an atmosphere which encouraged the boys to value the college's association with you, far too few to let it pass unnoticed. Therefore, the college marks it with this token of appreciation. While the coach's respect and esteem.

The coach in question was the 8,000 fans who were responsible for our heroism to the boys from all Maine colleges who did not return from World War II by having their hands in one minute of the game.

This resolution is symptomatic of the type of man Adam Walsh is. You always directed to the boys who played under you against him.

Varsity Kickers Stage Late Rally
To Take Bates 21-14

On Homecoming Day the winds had blown hard and thoroughly before a vast audience at Alumni Field. The University of Vermont Varsity Kickers, of the nation's finest college football teams, scored a perfect game against Bates College to take the day's title by the score of 21-14. A 14-point lead late in the third quarter is the only time Vermont had lead in the game, making it doubly important for Vermont to stop the Bates winning streak.

In the final minutes of the game, Vermont managed to stop Bates before the score had risen any higher. The Varsity Kickers were able to keep the ball for the entire third quarter, and by the time the fourth quarter began, the Vermont team was in the lead. Unfortunately, Bates managed to hold their ground and the final score was 21-14.

Powerful Maine Runs Over Bears
As 8,000 Fans Take In Contest

By George Beringer

Last Saturday, Maine's football team unleashed a powerful rainstorm on the Bears, taking the game 17-0. The game, characterized by its speed, and physicality, was a perfect example of the spirit that has been driving Maine football throughout the season.

Maine's first touchdown came in the first quarter when they intercepted a pass and raced up the field for a touchdown. The second touchdown came in the second quarter when they ran for a touchdown from a short distance. The third touchdown came in the third quarter when they completed a long pass for a touchdown.

The game was a great display of the Maine team's ability to play fast and physical football. The Bears were unable to keep up with the strength and speed of the Maine team, and were ultimately defeated by a score of 17-0.

Lindsay Gives Second Talk Thursday

On November 20 Mr. Lindsay will give a second talk on "The American Spirit." He will discuss the role of the American Spirit in shaping the country's history.

Speech Spiced By Memories Of Stage

Last month Mr. Lindsay was the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Drama Society. He spoke on "The Importance of the Stage." He said that the stage is where the magic happens, and that without the stage, the performance would lose its impact.
Space and Values

In a chapel talk last week, Provost James mention inclines briefly the irony involved in the student and tenant worker found Paul Paul Paul Jones was being audacious and clever since he was supposed to be in the Revolution. But it also seems the progressive existence provide little for the innocent man of war, and he subsequently went to the American army to deal as vigorously for that nation as he had for the United States.

This attitude has a wealth of implication. For one thing, there is a tendency in all of us to connect the ability to combat successful battle with that of establishing an effective peace. There is no such necessary confusion. Value during wartime and mortality ability in general often indicates a personality totally unlike that of mature leadership outside the situation. While a certain intense approach, a romantic impetuosity, these are elements that make a man a successful general, it can make a woeful administrator. The means of action, as we are learning, is just as important as the action itself. If we are able to think more clearly, we shall be able to think about the qualities of those who understand our plans. There are certain clear-cut points about this which all educators will agree is a moral duty. It makes it clear that those who understand the plans for establishing a moral society will acknowledge the qualities of those who have a clear cut plan.

Social Rules

There is a proposal before the student council which, if passed, will allow dance parties in the fraternity houses from one to an after midnight on Sundays. By backing this proposal the student body seems to be taking a more mature outlook on college life, and wishes to be given more responsibility to handle a task done extremely well by them last. One only has to see the recent activities of different clubs and the movement by the new orientation rules, and the cooperation with the social rules in illustrating the student's willingness to receive more responsibility and ability. The proposal is another step towards this student movement.

We feel this particular proposal is good for a few reasons. First of all, by the student council, the campus is overwhelmingly in favor of such a change. If the student group can show willingness to assume this responsibility, they feel they should be given it. Second, it has done a proposal for some house. Because democrats are not open to female guests, and because the informal Maine weather, there is usually no chance to take a dance on Sunday. In some cases this leads to overexertion and inaction, both will be alleviated by the proposal. Third, the student parties are generally fervently cooperated. However, when groups are forced to supplement one into two or three nights, they might do better. With the date options in the studies, the parties are less likely to occur. Lastly this proposal appeals to be of cause of its simplicity and straightforwardness. There can be no misunderstanding.

The Watchful Poker Chip

By Frank Parker

The first match of the season was held in the gymnasium. The quality of the players was such that the first players of the season were matched up with the second players of the last season. The rules were simple: the winner of the match played against the loser of the last match, with the loser of the first match playing against the winner of the last match. The winner of the first match was then matched against the winner of the last match, and so on. The first match was held on a Monday night, and the second match was scheduled for a Tuesday night.

The Old Dope Peddler

By Tom Thumb

The old peddler was known for his unique and fascinating approach to selling his wares. He would travel from village to village, offering his goods at a reasonable price. His peddler cart was equipped with all the latest technologies, including a television set and a radio. The old peddler would engage in conversation with the villagers, offering them a deal that they couldn't resist. He would tell stories about the wonders of his products, and how they could improve their lives. The old peddler was a master at his craft, and his wares were always in high demand.

Football

Although the football season saw no setbacks, a lot of good play was played here and there. Much of the play was given by eight teams who have competed in their last years of Bowdoin football. Their mistakes are notable but were not as bad as they went through this season with one victory and no losses. The captains, one of the most famous and driving players to win a Bowdoin uniform, deserve a special mention for their achievements. The day comes when we give up the field. The captain, in every respect, is the one who should be congratulated for his spiritual play. Other sections deserve more than a little credit for the Bowdoin campus in mid-July. A destination for every respect, he is to be congratulated for his spiritual play. Other sections deserve more than a little credit for making a winning team. Seasoned veterans as Bob Hawke, Dan Prince, Jack Condon, Joe Carter, Gerry Haviland, and Jack Cummings, along with the season come from Bert Northam and Terry Stuken, will return next year to be challenged by some good men from this year's edition of the Peter Pan football.

An interesting note is that the state's leading yardage gainer on passing, Peter Green, quarterback Jack Condon, had a net yardage of thirty-nine yards less than the nation's leader in that field, Hanneford of Arizona, who had a total of 653 yards gained in eight games. Condon passed for 448 yards in seven games.

The second highest in the nation, according to Sports Illustrated, was Hanneford of St. Mary's with 745 yards in seven games. Just think of all the Colby schools that were dropped, too. Congrats to Condon, who made our second All-Maine team.

Another fall sport deserving recognition is cross country. Again not falling as far as the results from the last several years, the fall season will be a decided asset next fall. The only graduating member of the varsity is Capt. Terri McGovern, who, if not defeated by his own merit, will be definitely missed by the hardwood in the next campaign. The members of the varsity will return next fall along with seven or eight sophomores who will fall but only meet.

Soccer

The best fall sport is undoubtedly soccer. It is more than the nation. The first season in Bowdoin's history was clinched by a 2-1 over Johns Hopkins. The interest for soccer is high among Bowdoin students. The varsity will leave the last two members of the freshman, one of whom will win a varsity position.

Two Games Per Week

Last week I read in the Bangor Daily News that Bates coach of football, Bob Hawke, thought it a good idea for Maine college football. To play two games per week. If the game is there, this setup would give even more chance to play, and would cut down the season to five games, but it would really attract more men, so the Bates coach seems to think.

Manners

First impressions are lasting impressions. They may not be fair, accurate, or just, but they stick. At two concerts last weekend, one of us had a chance to observe the principle in action.

He was shocked by the antics of certain members of the college. He saw prominent faculty members of our own college and a reputed New England women's college—both traditionally fraternities who behaved like undergraduates, pickled—high-society-whiners. He saw men who were trying to sound as if they were dealing with nerdcly clumsy relations. Relations between the two colleges fell short of what they might have been.

Our manners, or the lack of them, speak about us, whether we like it or not. Thankfully, we had our reasons for being disgusted. The opportunity for socializing with external audiences, from women colleges that Bowdoin is accustomed to be conspicuous by their absence. The girls were not aware of all the fast fist by the real word "Bowdoin." We were surprised, and perhaps a little disturbed about it.

But let's talk in possibility. In anything one does, being courteous makes one feel good. It makes people feel good if they feel you have done the talking for them. It gives as if you're anything for your homely membership in any given group. It would be ideal for us to use the word "mores". No one who thinks of the world in the direction of all three-hundred states. It is unfortunate, but Bowdoin is going to be judged by a lot of people on the basis of what they have seen of society manners. Let's get wise to ourselves. We're hurt by the facts we can't change. We are.

If you can be a "hot ticket" and carry it off, more power to you. But if you can't, don't make an idol of yourself. A lot of us are being judged by the standards you display.

Friedrich Discusses Probability Of Inevitable Peace In Union Talk

Uses Six Pillars Of Western Thought To Prove Thesis

"Inevitable Peace" — By philosopher Dr. Carl I. Fridrich at New Orchard Hill, Friday afternoon last week, Dr. Fridrich outlined six pillars by which he concluded that peace is inevitable.

"The six pillars are: 1. Human reason. 2. Justice. 3. The interna-

"These pillars support the idea of peace. Peace is a logical result of human thought and action. It is the outcome of justice, the foundation of international order, the protection of law, the advancement of science, and the progress of economic development," Dr. Fridrich said.

In his talk, Dr. Fridrich referred to the U.S. and the U.S.S.R., which he described as the two great forces in the world today. He pointed out that the two powers must cooperate if peace is to be achieved.

"The U.S. and U.S.S.R. are bound to work together for peace," Dr. Fridrich said.

"They must act as a team."

Bowdoin's Future?

The article in Harper's listing Bowdoin among 20 other "good colleges" in the country in 1902 is significant for the development of its community. The report was written for The Bowdoin Orient, an institution to lose its identity. The College can do one thing - it can try to compete with every other college by offering a varied curriculum in order to reach a large body of prospective students. It is possible that this pattern may be a good thing, and that Bowdoin students may be better prepared for future careers.

In connection with this, another matter of which the College should be aware is that the curriculum is an important factor in the attractiveness of the educational institution. It is necessary to provide a balanced curriculum that will prepare students for a variety of careers.

The College should also be aware of the various options available to students. This will help students make informed decisions about their future careers.

Some have pointed out that Bowdoin has several assets, which enable it to offer a distinctive product to the educational market. The College should continue to provide a strong foundation for students' futures.

In conclusion, the College should be aware of the potential of its curriculum and the importance of its reputation. It is essential to continue to provide a strong educational experience for students.

Delta Sigma Sponsors Blackmur To Lecture On Topic Of “Poetics”

The third annual lecture sponsored by the Delta Sigma Fraternity will be held at 8:30, February 25th, in the Memorial Union. The lecture will be open to all members of the community and the general public. The lecture, Professor Richard Blackmur of the Department of English, Princeton University, will discuss “Poetics. The making of poetry.”

Mr. Blackmur, who is considered to be one of the leading American poets, was born in New York on February 14, 1919. He is a graduate of Harvard University, where he was editor of the Harvard Advocate. Mr. Blackmur has been a full professor of English at the University of California since 1948. He has published a number of books, including Poems and Prose (1940), The Year of the Young Man (1941), and The Blackbird (1942). His works have been translated into many languages and have received numerous awards and honors.

The theme of Mr. Blackmur’s lecture, “Poetics,” is derived from the Greek word “poiesis,” which means “to make” or “to create.” In his lecture, Mr. Blackmur will explore the process of creating poetry, from the initial inspiration to the final product, and will discuss the various elements that go into making a successful piece of poetry.

Common Sense

In the past there have been numerousiénable attempts to abolish compulsory chapel requirements and compulsory classes for lowerclassmen. The opposition of the few might even go farther and support the abolition of chapel, classes, and the campus as a whole. It is surprising that the elderly faculty here at the university is still in favor of the compulsory classes.

However, everyone would accept the exceptions of such exceptions, as long as they were based on the essential character of the classes and the student and the campus was still intact. The students of today are a bit more liberal-minded, and their spending habits have changed. The university has not lost sight of this.

Students need the time that these classes provide. It is an opportunity to discuss the current events and to learn about the history of the university. The classes also provide us with a chance to meet new people. The majority of our students are here for the social aspect and the classes give us an opportunity to meet new people.

The university has a responsibility to provide us with the best possible education. They cannot just rely on the classes to provide us with all of this. They must also provide us with the resources and the facilities to support our education.

Lethargy

The topic of this editorial is a bit old, and there is little we can say that has not already been said. It seems to be a topic that is often brought up, but it is also a topic that is often ignored.

Many of us are in possession of hobbies and interests that we follow in their spare time. We are burning to do as much as possible and to make the most of our time. The university has a responsibility to provide us with the best possible education. They cannot just rely on the classes to provide us with all of this. They must also provide us with the resources and the facilities to support our education.

Exhibitions By Representatives Of Firms

During the past two years the Boston Museum of Fine Arts has been hosting a series of exhibitions by prominent artists. In the spring of this year, the museum will present an exhibition of contemporary American art, with particular emphasis on works by women artists.

Representatives from the museum will be available to discuss the exhibitions with visitors. The museum's goal is to make art accessible to everyone, and these events are free and open to the public.

Word from the Publisher

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts is committed to making art accessible to all. We believe that everyone should have the opportunity to experience the beauty and power of art, regardless of their background or circumstances.

In this issue of the museum's newsletter, we feature articles on contemporary art and recent exhibitions. We also highlight upcoming events and provide updates on the museum's activities.

The newsletter is available in both print and digital formats, and we encourage you to subscribe to receive the latest updates from the museum.

About the Museum

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts is a world-renowned museum located in the heart of Boston. It is dedicated to the preservation and presentation of art from around the world.

The museum's collection includes works from ancient civilizations to modern-day artists, and it is one of the largest and most diverse in the United States.

We hope you enjoy this issue of the newsletter and look forward to your continued support of the museum.

A Bill That Ought To Be Passed

A Bill to exempt college fraternities from property and real estate taxation has recently been introduced into the Maine State Legislature by Representative Jerome Planner (DOM Or- chard Branch). House Assistant Minority Floor Leader. We believe that the need for passage of this Bill is becoming every day. The cost of education is rising to unprece- dented heights. The payment of approximately fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars per annum from twelve (12) Bowdoin College Fraternity houses is a tremendous burden on these unprotected classes. Such taxation is illegal and is consistent with the federal policy of removing the burden of taxation from individuals.

We believe that this Bill is necessary and important. The fraternities control a great deal of property that is not taxed. The fraternities should contribute their fair share. The Bill will enable the fraternities to contribute to the cost of education in a fair manner.

History Of Tax Exemption Act To Date

On February 15, 1956, the Student Senate passed the Legislation of the Board of Trustees. The Senate passed the Legislation of the Board of Trustees. The legislation, which was passed, was an act to tax the property of Bowdoin College.

The legislation was passed because of the need for the tax. The property of Bowdoin College is valuable and should be taxed.

Council Meets To Consider Activities

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on February 24 and included the consideration of the following items:

CUMBERLAND THEATRE NEWS

Dear Reader,

Our analysis of the question would not be complete without acknowledging several of the most important requirements for the Bible study presented by the opponents. At the moment, it would appear that the hard-core votes against the Bill in the Editorial Page of the Portland Press Herald and Sunday Telegram. Twice they have voted out of the bill which they claim should be defeated.

In their first Editorial of February 18, 1959, they proposed two major errors. First, they stated that the Bible study was discriminatory since Bible does not have free expression and is not affected by the Bill. This prohibits that the group should be treated identically even though there are additional differences between them. Bible College does not have the same freedom and hence does not have the financial problems which trouble free expression initiatives. On the other hand, the University of Maine and Bowdoin are faced with a different situation which makes it logical that they be treated the same.

Second amendment is that the Bill's proposal is not a proper way to help college students any way. However, we have found no support from the opponents. We therefore support the Bill's proposal.

Sincerely,

Polar Bear Pucksters Overwhelm Spirited Alumni Sandquist, Hunter Top Scorers Against Grads

A wonderful group of Bowdoin men clashed with a magnificent Princeton team in the first game of the Eastern College Hockey Tournament at the Bear's Den yesterday afternoon. The Princetoners, led by the legendary Bowdoin alumni Bill Sandquist and Bob Hunter, were triumphant in the close encounter, winning 4-0. In an attempt to portray the final score, the Princetonians overpowered the Bears, who were left out in the cold, scoring three quick goals in the first period. The Princetoners scored their fourth and final goal late in the finaloidal, ending the contest with a 4-0 victory.

First Period
The Princetoners took the lead in the first period when Carven Morison, who led the Princetoners with a goal in the second period, scored a first-period goal. Morison, who was on the power play, rifled the puck between the legs of the Bowdoin goalie and scored. The Princetoners took the lead on a goal by Roger Dye, who was on the power play. The Bears fought hard throughout the game, but were unable to score.

Second Period
The Princetoners scored their second goal of the game in the second period when Bob Hunter, who led the Princetoners with a goal in the second period, scored a second-period goal. The Princetoners took the lead on a goal by Bill Sandquist, who had the first goal of the game. The Bears fought hard throughout the game, but were unable to score.

Third Period
The Princetoners scored their third goal of the game in the third period when Carven Morison, who led the Princetoners with a goal in the second period, scored a third-period goal. The Princetoners took the lead on a goal by Roger Dye, who was on the power play. The Bears fought hard throughout the game, but were unable to score.

Fourth Period
The Princetoners scored their fourth and final goal of the game in the fourth period when Bob Hunter, who led the Princetoners with a goal in the second period, scored a fourth-period goal. The Princetoners took the lead on a goal by Bill Sandquist, who had the first goal of the game. The Bears fought hard throughout the game, but were unable to score.

For A More Effective Council

Under the status quo, the President of the Student Council serves for one semester and then his term is over. In fact, he has never had a chance to accomplish anything while he was serving on the Student Council itself is also over. This situation is reprehensible.

It is regrettable because it does not allow this important office to be used in a proper manner. The Student Council has much to accomplish if it is going to be used properly. In order to accomplish anything worthwhile, it must be done in a proper way. A good council must be well organized and must have a proper structure.

It is also regrettable because it does not allow the Student Council to accomplish anything.
